Mr. Eames advised that the Records Section has stored on the 7th floor of the Identification Building one drawer containing Agents' work papers on audits of various Bureau funds. Mr. Eames made inquiry as to the possibility of destroying these records inasmuch as the drawer space is needed.

SA [redacted] examined this material and found that the material, referred to by Mr. Eames, consists of Special Agents' work papers on the audits of various Bureau funds. All of the work papers are being kept in one cabinet drawer and the Bureau files pertaining to these various funds contain memoranda concerning the results of these audits.

b6

The Agents' work papers stored on the 7th floor of the Identification Building consists of the following:

1. Agents' work papers on audits of the FBI Agents Insurance Fund - 1940 to 12/16/53.

2. Agents' work papers on audits of the Group Hospitalization Records - 12/17/52, 7/6/53, and 12/29/53.

3. Agents' work papers on audits of the FBIRA Funds - 2/11/48 to 6/30/49.

4. Agents' work papers on audits of the FBI Academy Mess Fund, Quantico, Virginia - 1/6/45 to 8/31/45.

5. Agents' work papers on audits of the claims paid by the Prudential Insurance Company for hospitalization and medical expense of the SAMBA.

8. Agents' work papers on audits of Mr. E. A. Tamm's Account - 6/30/42 to 5/7/46.

b7C

SA [redacted] conferred with Mr. Glavin concerning the retention of these audit work papers. Mr. Glavin advised that the Agents' audit work papers for the past three years should be retained and the rest should be destroyed with the exception of the Agents' work papers on audits of the Confidential Fund, the SIS Fund and Mr. E. A. Tamm's Account. Mr. Glavin advised that due to the confidential nature of these three funds and the fact that the General Accounting Office does not get copies of the blue slips, we should keep the work papers on these three audits indefinitely. Mr. Mason, Training and Inspection Division, Mr. D. J. Parsons of the Laboratory, and Mr. Hennrich, Domestic Intelligence Division, agreed with these views.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the Special Agents' work papers on audits of the Confidential Fund, SIS Fund and Mr. E. A. Tamm's account be retained indefinitely.

2. That the Agents' work papers on the other mentioned audits of various Bureau funds be retained for the past three years.

3. That this memorandum be referred to the Records Section and the Records Section should destroy all audit work papers that were not made within the last three years with the exception of the audits of the Confidential Fund, SIS Fund and Mr. Tamm's account which are to be retained indefinitely.

Conference of 4/12/54, composed of Messrs. Tolson, Boardman, Nichols, Glavin, Tracy, Tamm, Mohr, Belmont, Winterrowd and Harbo, unanimously concurred in the foregoing recommendations.

SUBJECT: OBSOLETE MATERIAL STORED ON 7th FLOOR, IDENTIFICATION BUILDING--RECORDS SECTION

There is stored on the 7th floor of the Identification Building, the following Training and Inspection Division material which has been turned over to the Records Section for storage purposes.

DESCRIPTION OF MATERIAL	NUMBER OF CABINETS	NUMBER OF DRAWERS
1. Air Force Manuals - Japan		1
2. National Academy Material	1
3. Foreign Language Material (Test books and Examinations)	1
4. Translated Lectures - Spanish	1
5. Civilian Defense Material		2
6. Introduction to Traffic Law Enforcement		1
7. Agent's work papers on Audits of Various Bureau Funds		1

This material is very rarely used and it is felt that all, or at least the majority of this material, could be destroyed, thus giving us additional file cabinets and additional space, both of which we can most advantageously use. It is being requested that a representative of the Training and Inspection Division review this material and render a decision as to its retention or disposition.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division and that a representative of the Training and Inspection Division be assigned to review the above described material and render a decision as to its retention or disposition.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #172-54
MADE BY SA JOSEPH V. BAKER NEWARK OFFICE

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that once initial summary reports are prepared in Security cases all but one copy of the previous investigative reports be destroyed.

CURRENT REGULATION

Manual of Instructions, Section 87C,7g(10)(b) requires the maintenance of three carbon copies of each Security report in the case file of the office of origin.

OBSERVATIONS

The suggesting employee has in mind that a more compact file would result which should reduce the need for repairs in files and allow easier filing in the cabinets. He pointed out this would conserve office space and reduce the need for purchasing additional floor space and filing cabinets. He felt an insignificant amount of clerical time would be necessary to remove the serials.

SAC D. S. Hostetter of Newark believes the suggestion has considerable merit and could in many instances reduce a two-volume file to one volume and reduce larger files correspondingly. It would improve physical maintenance of closed files by reduction in bulk and Mr. Hostetter recommends adoption of this idea.

Mr. H. B. Fletcher of Washington Field Office states that if the destruction of all but one copy of previous investigative reports is limited to those cases where a summary report is submitted in the future, there will be no real advantage gained. The value of the suggestion lies in that it will make possible cleaning out the files and reducing the space devoted to maintenance of files by reviewing the closed files and even the pending files group to destroy excess file material in those cases where a summary report has been

SPECIAL AGENTS' INSURANCE FUND -
TRANSMITTAL LETTER FROM FIELD OFFICES
FORWARDING CONTRIBUTIONS

Matters pertaining to the Special Agents' Insurance Fund are filed in Bureau file #66-4182. I recently had occasion to review this file and found that its 16 volumes are made up to a large degree of transmittal letters received from the various field offices covering contributions forwarded for each assessment. These letters are of no value for record purposes since each individual who contributes has the executed portion of the beneficiary form filed in his personnel file and the receipt portion returned to him. In addition, the Administrative Division maintains a card file of the members and each payment is recorded therein. Further, the general ledger for the Special Agents' Insurance Fund has the name of each contributor entered therein.

I feel that the filing of these letters in the Special Agents' Insurance Fund file serves no purpose and should be discontinued. This would cut down appreciably the space used and time consumed servicing this file.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that in future assessments the transmittal letter from the field be retained with other Special Agents' Insurance Fund books and records in the Administrative Division until the following assessment at which time the previous letters would be destroyed. Letters covering the last assessment only would be retained during the period intervening between assessments.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #168-55
Destruction of Bureau Property

The Training and Inspection Division has requested your views on the above suggestion which was submitted by [redacted] of the Cleveland Division. [redacted] suggests that copies of memoranda reporting information from informants be destroyed after a report is dictated. He suggests that a memorandum be prepared for subject's file listing in numerical order the serial numbers of the memoranda destroyed and desires that this be applied only when the documentation page indicates that the original is filed in a file other than the subject's file. He estimates that copies of these memoranda constitute in excess of 60 per cent of our security files. b6 b7C

Inasmuch as the original of these memoranda will be filed elsewhere, (probably in informant's control file) these copies could properly be considered as work papers and no Archival authority would be necessary for destruction. This appears to be a sound suggestion, the adoption of which will result in a substantial savings in file cabinets and floor space.

It should be pointed out that a second file will have to be pulled on occasion in connection with the documentation of a report which is being prepared on a subject who is cross-indexed into another report. In other words, a name check may reflect a "see" reference in a report on another subject. When the dictator reviews the file, he will find that the memoranda reporting information from the informant has been destroyed. If he is to document from the original source it will be necessary for him to refer to the informant's control file or some other file where a copy of the original information is still available.

RECOMMENDATION:

Favorable.

submitted. If this idea is adopted, Mr. Fletcher believes it would be advantageous to use clerical time and help in reviewing thousands of Security-type files in Washington Field Office to take advantage of the destruction of file material along the lines of this suggestion. He believes considerable filing space could be saved through adoption of this idea.

Mr. Belmont of the Domestic Intelligence Division advised the suggestion is premised upon the assumption that once a summary report is prepared there is little need for the investigative reports in Security Index cases. He advised this is not correct, that summary reports embody all pertinent data in the case files, but since they are but summarizations they obviously do not spell out the complete investigative histories of these cases. The submitting office must retain one copy of each prior investigative report at all times and a second copy must always be retained for transmittal to any subsequent office of origin under the basic Bureau requirement that the office of origin be in possession of all pertinent serials. Thus, two copies of prior reports may never be destroyed under any circumstances.

Mr. Belmont stated that many variables are to be considered with regard to the Detention Program. The possibility exists that files of certain of these subjects conceivably may have to be reconstituted in the field. Circumstances may preclude this from being done from Seat of Government files, necessitating recourse to field office files. With this in mind, it is felt that under only the most compelling circumstances should any of the reports in these particular cases be destroyed. Considering the Bureau's basic and long-range responsibility for these cases, Mr. Belmont of the Domestic Intelligence Division is categorically opposed to the destruction of any previous reports.

SUBJECT: DISPOSITION OF SOURCE OF INFORMATION INDEX CARDS CONTAINED IN GENERAL INDICES

The Denver Office by letter dated April 12, 1954, advised that their source of information cards are being brought up to date. Denver inquired as to what should be done with the index cards in the general indices at the time a source of information is discontinued and the card is removed from the source of information index and destroyed. The Manual of Rules and Regulations provides for destruction of the source of information index card but no mention is made of cards appearing in the general indices of the office.

ADVANTAGES OF DESTRUCTION OF GENERAL INDICES CARDS

(1) Purges the general indices of unnecessary index cards. (Source of information cards are generally not supported by a given file. They may or may not be supported by a memorandum in the office files.) In some offices the practice has been to destroy both the source of information card and the general indices index card.

(2) If the source of information is no longer available to the FBI, there appears to be no value in having an index card in the general indices any more than we would index people in the city directory.

DISADVANTAGES OF DESTRUCTION OF GENERAL INDICES CARDS

(1) There may be a memorandum somewhere in the files of the office furnishing some background on the source of information and if the index card is removed, then the memorandum may never be found.

(2) Time is required to proceed to the general index and remove the general index card on a source of information who has been discontinued.

(3) If a question ever is raised in the future as to whether a given person served as a source of information for the FBI, we would be unable to say yes or no if the index card has been destroyed.

POSSIBLE PROCEDURES:

(1) At the time the source of information card is destroyed,

BACKGROUND:

The Bureau has approved form letter WFO-28, which transmits to Liaison Section of the Identification Division copies of investigative reports which erroneously set forth leads for Washington Field Office to check records of Armed Services. Liaison Section, Identification Division, covers these leads and advises the Office of Origin by letter.

CURRENT PROCEDURE:

The Bureau receives two or more copies of each such report. The two copies sent to the Identification Division by WFO Form 28 are surplus to needs of the Seat of Government and serve only to take up valuable space.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF EXTRA COPIES OF INVESTIGATIVE REPORTS

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL

The Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Boardman, Mohr, Sizoo, Mason, Nichols, Rosen, and Tamm considered a suggestion submitted by the Records Section with regard to copies of reports in Bureau investigative cases which are erroneously forwarded to the Washington Field Division for a check of the records of the armed services.

The Identification Division through its Liaison Section covers record checks of the armed services, and the Washington Field Office forwards to the Identification Division by form letter copies of investigative reports which have erroneously been transmitted to the field division for such a search.

It is recommended and the Conference unanimously agrees that after the search has been made by the Identification Division, the copies of the investigative report be destroyed by the Identification Division and such destruction noted opposite the "Reference" to such report.

If you approve, there is attached hereto a memorandum to the Identification Division so instructing.

SYNOPSIS:

Attached report of the Investigations Division of the Senate Appropriations Committee prepared by Paul E. Kamerick, D.C. Principal purpose is to survey and apparently legislate if necessary to control the vast accumulation of record material in government. Of primary interest to Bureau is suggested exception "---in the case of the substantive files of investigative agencies having responsibilities under law for the detection of crime or subversive activity."

Memorandum to Mr. Nichols 5-19-54
Re: Destruction of Records
Bureau file 66-3286

DETAILS:

There is attached a report of the Investigations Division of the Senate Appropriations Committee prepared by Paul E. Kamerick, Chief, Investigations, entitled Records Management, United States Government. This report was presented to demonstrate the urgent need for immediate remedial action toward solution of complex and costly Federal Records Management problems.

Specifically, it points out that the annual cost of records management in government approximates four billion dollars; that government agencies generally consider 31% of records permanent as compared with private firms which consider 10% permanent; that unless percentage is reduced space must be secured in next few years for seven million cubic feet of records or enough to fill 7 additional buildings as large as the National Archives; and that although 4.2 million cubic feet of records were created in 1953 and 4.1 million cubic feet were either retired to records centers or destroyed, civilian agencies were able to destroy about as many records as created but Department of Defense destroyed little more than 50% created.

The report cites that the over-all problem of records management is aggravated by the lack of centralization of control. It points out that General Services Administration has attempted to synchronize management of records under its jurisdiction by the establishment of records centers and depositories. The principal agencies not using these centers are the Department of Defense, the General Accounting Office, the Selective Service System, and the Veterans Administration. (Neither is the FBI.)

The report points out the need for a government-wide survey of records management techniques to include the creation, maintenance, and disposal of records to be made by non-government records management specialists. It cites that GSA received many benefits from a survey conducted by Records Engineering, Incorporated, during the past year. As a result of the survey GSA received a complete analytical report on all phases of government microfilming along with suggested solution to all problems presenting themselves in this field.

The report further cites that the States of Maryland and Virginia recently engaged outside records management specialists to examine their records management procedures and as a result of the surveys, new records management procedures and techniques were established which would result in considerable monetary savings. The report also points out that an outside agency has been surveying the Post Office Department files since March 1, 1954. The report states that by July of this year the survey is expected to result in savings of approximately half a million dollars.

The report further states that many private firms, Radio Corporation of America, Montgomery Ward, Inc., B. F. Goodrich, Inc., etc., have effectively utilized reports of surveys made by records management specialists.

It is also brought out in the report that unless remedial action is taken in the near future the problem will become almost incapable of solution and that it has been estimated that about twenty to thirty-three per cent of the present cost of records management can be reduced by a records management survey conducted for the United States Government as a whole. Based on this estimate, savings could reach as high as $1,100 million. The report contains recommendations that (1) funds be made available to the Administrator of General Services Administration to arrange for surveys of records procedures in all government agencies, both civilian and military, by competent non-government specialists; that (2) responsibility for this activity be vested in the Director of the Records Management Division, Archives and Records Service, under supervision of the Administrator of GSA, to be assisted by the Director of Bureau of the Budget; that (3) copies of all reports together with estimates of savings be made available upon completion of each survey to the Director of Records Management Division, Archives and Records Service, the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, and to the Appropriations Committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives; that (4) an exception be made in the case of the substantive files of investigative agencies having responsibilities to law for the detection of criminal or subversive activities; that (5) each agency be required to refund any such savings to the United States Treasury; and that (6) vigorous action be taken to insure benefits from the surveys and to hold additional accumulation of records to a minimum.

Several agencies were suggested as starting places for any surveys to be undertaken: the Veterans Administration; the Securities Exchange Commission; the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare; the Railroad Retirement Board (Chicago); the Bureau of Reclamation (Department of Interior); FOA and the Maritime Commission (Department of Commerce).

CONCLUSIONS:

An appropriation to be used by GSA to hire non-government records management specialists to survey records management procedures on a government-wide basis is entirely possible. Two such surveys have been undertaken, one of government microfilming operations which was conducted for GSA by Records Engineering, Incorporated, a company headed by former Senator Gerald P. Nye, and the other a survey currently being conducted of the Post Office Department by an unnamed firm. It is believed that if such a survey is made it will be done by non-government personnel, as throughout the report statements are made that experience has shown that internal surveys are rarely successful; that personnel tend to form emotional attachments to records and regard them as a source of personal security, and thus are loathe to relinquish them for disposal; and that an outside agency provides the only really objective approach since such an agency has no personal relation to the creation of the records and is interested only in finding money saving methods for the client.

It is further believed that liaison with the Senate Appropriations Committee would be appropriate in connection with recommendation #5 contained on page 14 of the attached report which states "that an exception be made in the case of the substantive files of investigative agencies having responsibilities under law for the detection of crime and subversive activity."

UNITED STATES SENATE,
COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS,
May 7, 1954.

Hon. STYLES BRIDGES,
United States Senate, Washington, D. C.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: I am attaching hereto a report compiled in accordance with your directions by the Investigations Division on the subject of Federal Government records. The information contained herein was secured from the files of this office, and from staff investigative activity.

The report describes the staggering volume of 25 million cubic feet of records now in existence in the Federal Government and the prospects if corrective action is not taken soon. Your particular attention is directed to—

(1) The estimated cost of $4 billion annually necessary to maintain this mountain of records,

(2) The fact that efforts to date have served only to decrease the rate of accumulation,

(3) The desirability of a survey by competent and disinterested persons,

(4) The great savings possible from such a survey. According to our estimate from facts available, this may reach $900 million to $950 million. Some estimates reach as high as $1,100 million and higher.

(5) The fact that savings accomplished through this means will be immediately effective rather than brought about at some distant future date.

While it will be necessary, of course, to safeguard the documents of historical or permanent-records value, there is every indication that great economies can be brought about by the disposal of useless records and by the installation of a system whereby (1) useless records are not created, (2) records having only a temporary value are destroyed upon termination of their value, and (3) records having permanent value, but not actively in use, can be maintained in inexpensive quarters.

There is every indication that money spent on such a project will be money well spent.

With every good wish, I am,

Very truly yours,

PAUL E. KAMERICK,
Chief, Investigations.

RECORDS MANAGEMENT, UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

This report is presented by the Investigations Division to demonstrate the urgent need for immediate remedial action toward solution of the complex and costly Federal records management problems.

INTRODUCTION

The problem of records management in the Federal Government is one which has reached immense proportions over the years. The annual records management cost to the United States Government now is approximated at $4 billion. Through uneconomic practices in the creation, maintenance, and disposal of Federal records, the volume now threatens to become so cumbersome and expensive as to make beneficial use difficult.

The problem is one which cannot be approached with generalizations, but rather must be solved through a composite study of individual projects and methods of records management throughout the governmental structure. It is not an area, unfortunately, conducive to a pilot study of a small segment, thereafter enlarging the findings into general conclusions. It is a field in which the problems are peculiar to a particular portion of the program, and one incapable of mass solution, since the functions and problems of various Government agencies vary widely.

The enormity of the problem can be illustrated by the fact that Government agencies generally consider 31 percent of their records as permanent, or at least without definite disposal dates; private firms usually figure about 10 percent of their records as permanent. Unless this percentage can be reduced, it will mean that permanent quarters will have to be found in the next few years for 7 million cubic feet of records, enough to fill seven additional buildings as large as the National Archives. As the situation now stands, the quantity of Federal records is continuously growing, increasing in 1953 from 24 million cubic feet to 25.2 million, the equivalent of 7½ Pentagon buildings full of records.

The civilian agencies managed in 1953 to destroy about as many old records as they created; that is, about 1.4 million cubic feet were destroyed while an equal amount was being created. The Department of Defense created about 2.8 million cubic feet of records and destroyed only about 1.6 million. But, taking the Government as a whole, and all agencies, military as well as civilian, in the fiscal year 1953, the number of records that were either retired to a center or destroyed not quite equaled the quantity of new records created; that is, about 4.2 million cubic feet of records were created and about 4.1 million cubic feet were either destroyed or retired to records centers.

The very size of the United States Government itself, and the variety of its operations, makes the problem an enormous one. Without an orderly system of records management it will be quite impossible to put an end to cases such as one which arose last year in the files of the Department of Defense. Thousands of used laundry slips which had been utilized by WAVE personnel in the last war, turned up in the files, and were destroyed through legislative action only after having occupied file space for more than 5 years. To put an end to situations such as this, and to avoid the impending crisis in the keeping of Government records, it is indicated that a survey be made by a qualified group, which survey should undertake solution of the myriad problems arising within the various areas of records management.

THE PROBLEM

The overall problem of records management is aggravated by the lack of centralization of control. A good part of the Government records are administered by the General Services Administration, which has attempted to synchronize the management of records under its jurisdiction by the establishment of records centers and depositories. This affects retired records only—i. e., those not needed by the agencies for day-to-day operations.

At the end of fiscal year 1953, GSA had in operation 9 Federal records centers and 2 depositories, which facilities held 1,881,000 cubic feet. By the end of fiscal year 1955, it is expected that 2½ million cubic feet of records will be accommodated.

The principal agencies that are not using the centers are the Department of Defense, which has its own centers administering about 2,800,000 cubic feet of records, just slightly more than the GSA capacity; the General Accounting Office, which is a great records producing agency, having about 1,400,000 cubic feet of records in its centers; the Selective Service System, with its own system of records depots holding about 275,000 cubic feet of records; and the Veterans' Administration, whose records center at Columbus, Ohio, houses about 185,000 cubic feet of records.

It is expected that an outside survey would examine the possibility of economies to be effected through the inclusion of the above agencies under a centralized records-control jurisdiction, and would undertake to revamp and simplify the record-keeping procedures of various Government departments which have been described as particularly backward in proper records management. Several agencies are listed below as a suggested starting place for any survey to be undertaken: The Veterans' Administration, the Securities Exchange Commission, the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, the Railroad Retirement Board (Chicago), the Bureau of Reclamation (Department of Interior), FOA and the Maritime Commission (Department of Commerce).

THE COST

An estimate of the overall cost to the Government of records management is of necessity on a general basis. The best estimate, however, seems to be in the vicinity of $4 billion. The foregoing figure has been arrived at through two different means in collaboration with Mr. Herbert E. Angel, Director of Records Management Division, National Archives and Records Service, GSA:

A. In the first method, the three branches of records management are analyzed individually, and then added to arrive at a total. That operation is as follows:

Creation

It costs $638.40 to create 1 cubic foot of records. There is annually generated by the United States Government 4,200,000 cubic feet of records. Therefore, the cost of creation of those records is annually $2,681,280,000.

Maintenance

The Hoover report indicates that $29 is the cost of space and maintenance for a record cabinet. On this basis, space and maintenance for 2 million record cabinets of active records is $58 million. To this figure is added space and maintenance for the equivalent of 1 million cabinets of inactive records at $14, yielding a total of $14 million. Personnel required to maintain these records is approximated at $925 million (250, 000 people at an average salary of $3,700 per year). This establishes a grand total of $997 million for the maintenance of records. This figure probably is a little higher when there is added to it the cost of space and supplies used by the personnel referred to above.

Disposal

The estimated figure for disposal of records is approximately $30 million in total, of which something over $20 million is for salaries of personnel involved in this operation. This operation, as can be easily seen, is by far the least expensive part of overall records management.

Total

The sum of the above categories is $3,708,280,000, plus the cost of space and supplies used by the personnel as referred to above.

B. The second means of arriving at an overall figure is by working with figures submitted by the various civilian agencies plus a fair estimate of figures with regard to the military agencies. Based on 365,000 out of 900,000 workers, the results are as follows:

365,000 employees at an average annual salary of $3,700	$1, 354, 000, 000
Use of 3 million cabinets (or equivalent) at $50 each	150, 000, 000
18 million square feet of space (6 feet per cabinet, but some think should be 7) at $2.38 per foot	42, 000, 000
Supplies at $50 per person	18, 000, 000
Equipment, other than cabinets, at $700 to $800 per person (desks, chairs, rugs, tables, IBM equipment, computing machines, etc.)	[1] 275, 000, 000
Total	1, 839, 000, 000
Supervision and mail handling, transportation, postage, etc., at approximately 10 percent	161, 000, 000
Total	2, 000, 000, 000
Military operations account for more than one-half of paper creation and cost is at least equivalent to civilian creation	2, 000, 000, 000
Total	4, 000, 000, 000

[1] Estimated.

The fact that the two methods of computation coincide almost exactly (only 7 percent differential) is indicative that the $4 billion figure is about as accurate an estimate obtainable without a survey.

It has been illustrated by an outside survey of Government microfilming, that microfilming is not useful except for permanent records so far as space savings are concerned. On a strictly cost basis as between the use of records centers for records that have to be kept for varying periods of time up to 30 or 40 years, they can be held and administered more cheaply in a records center than by microfilming them. The expense of microfilming is considerably greater than keeping those records in the centers where the space and equipment are inexpensive, unless the records are to be maintained for more than the above period.

An outside survey is indicated in the field of records management in general, as well as in the field of microfilming, since both fields are rather controversial in nature, and any internal survey is apt to be unduly influenced by conflicts of interest, and clouded by years of established routine.

Results of surveys by GSA in fiscal year 1953 began to manifest themselves with the transfer to Federal records centers during the year of about 300,000 cubic feet of records from agencies that have been surveyed. At the same time, in the course of surveys conducted during the year, on-the-spot disposal resulted in destruction of more than 100,000 cubic feet of records.

This problem has received legislative attention as far back as 1943.

The legislative procedure with regard to the disposal of Federal papers is to be found in the Records Disposal Act approved July 7, 1943, as amended July 6, 1945 (57 Stat. 380–383; 59 Stat. 434). A copy of the act is attached as exhibit A.

The procedure under the act is as follows:

The agency desiring destruction of records notifies the National Archives of such desire. The Archives then prepares a list of the records to be disposed of and submits the list to the Joint Select Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives, which committee has been appointed in compliance with the provision of the above-mentioned act. The present committee is composed of C. W. Bishop and Edward A. Garmatz, members on the part of the House, and Frank Carlson and Olin D. Johnson, members on the part of the Senate. The clerk of the committee checks the lists as submitted by the Archives and certifies the list to the committee members for their signatures. When the signatures have been obtained, the list is sent back to the Archives where it is photostated and returned to the committee clerk. The committee clerk thereupon submits the list to the tally clerk of the House who assigns to it a report number. That number is then dispatched to the Archives and to the Senate where it is noted in the Senate records. The Archives officers next send notification to the requesting agency, citing the authority and the report number and authorizing disposal of the requested papers. The disposal thereof is thereupon entered into the records of both House and Senate. A sample House report, as described herein, is attached as exhibit B.

The problem has been further examined in 1949 by the (Hoover) Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government.

In its Task Force Report on Records Management (appendix C), the Commission cited the following objectives and general recommendations:

I. OBJECTIVES

Recordmaking and recordkeeping in the Federal Government represent (1) indispensable tools in the conduct of the Government's operation, (2) the greatest consumer of salaries, space and equipment of all the housekeeping activities of the Federal Government, (3) the sum of the recorded obligations of the Federal Government at home and abroad, (4) an invaluable store of hard-earned experience recorded in our national effort to sustain a system of democracy and private enterprise.

The objectives of this report with recommendations are balanced accordingly; (1) to sharpen the efficiency of these management tools, (2) to eliminate excessive costs in salaries, space and equipment, (3) to safeguard the essential records of our obligations, (4) to capitalize on our invaluable store of recorded experience.

II. GENERAL RECOMMENDATIONS

A. That a Federal records administration be established and that the existing National Archives establishment become an integral part thereof.

B. That a law be cited as the "Federal Records Management Act of 1949" be enacted to provide for the creation, preservation, management and disposal of records of the United States Government.

C. That a minimum program for records management be required in each department and agency of the United States Government.

As a result of the Hoover Commission survey, as well as of the obvious need for records management procedures, there was passed in 1949 the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949. The policy of the act is set forth in section 2 as follows:

It is the intent of the Congress in enacting this legislation to provide for the Government an economical and efficient system for (a) the procurement and supply of personal property and nonpersonal services, including related functions such as contracting, inspection, storage, issue, specifications, property identification and classification, transportation and traffic management, management of public utilities services, repairing and converting, establishment of inventory levels, establishment of forms and procedures, and representation before Federal and State regulatory bodies; (b) the utilization of available property; (c) the disposal of surplus property; (d) records management.

Title I, section 104, of the act sets forth a summary of the records management provisions:

The National Archives establishment and its functions, records, property, personnel, obligations, and commitments are hereby transferred to the General Services Administration. There are transferred to the Administrator (1) The functions of the Archivist of the United States, except that the Archivist shall continue to be a member or chairman, as the case may be, of the bodies referred to in subsection (d) of this section, and (2) the functions of the Director of the Division of the Federal Register of the National Archives establishment. The Archivist of the United States shall hereafter be appointed by the Administrator.

(b) There are also transferred to the General Services Administration the following bodies together with their respective functions and such funds as are derived from Federal sources: (1) The National Archives Council and the National Historical Publications Commission, established by the Act of June 19, 1934 (48 Stat. 1122); (2) the National Archives Trust Fund Board, established by the act of July 4, 1941 (55 Stat. 581); (3) the Board of Trustees of the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library, established by the joint resolution of July 18, 1939 (53 Stat. 1062); and (4) the Administrative Committee, established by section 6 of the act of July 26, 1935 (49 Stat. 501), which shall hereafter be known as the Administrative Committee of the Federal Register. The authority of the Administrator under section 106 hereof shall not extend to the bodies or functions effected by this subsection.

(c) The Administrator is authorized (1) to make surveys of Government records and records management and disposal practices and obtain reports thereon from Federal agencies; (2) to promote, in cooperation with the executive agencies, improved records management practices and controls in such agencies, including the central storage or disposition of records not needed by such agencies for their current use; and (3) to report to the Congress and the Director of the Bureau of the Budget from time to time the results of such activities.

The substantive provisions for the amalgamation and control of the governmental records are set forth in title V of the act. This title is attached as exhibit C, and is known as the Federal Records Act of 1950.

As can be seen from the act, the Administrator of General Services is vested with staff responsibility for coordinating and improving standards, procedures, and techniques with respect to all three areas of records management in the Federal Government: (1) The creation of records; (2) the maintenance of current records; and (3) the retirement and disposal of records when no longer needed for current operations. In each area, the Administrator is directed to develop improved practices and promote their adoption by all Federal agencies. He is required to establish standards for the guidance of Federal agencies in determining the classes and types of records that should be retained and those that should be disposed of; and he must assist agencies in the application of such standards. To the Administrator also goes responsibility for assisting agency heads in protecting the records of their agencies against unauthorized physical damage or removal. He is given power to inspect or survey each agency, in person or by a deputy, enabling him to obtain first-hand information concerning records management problems and programs. As can be further noted from the act, the Administrator has authority to establish, maintain, and operate records centers for the storage, processing, and servicing of records of Federal agencies. The economies made possible through the establishment of records centers have been amply proved by the experience of the Government agencies during the last few years. The need for centralized facilities was emphasized by the (Hoover) Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, and in this respect the instant act carries out the Commission's recommendations.

The central staff responsibility for records management placed with the Administrator by title V makes it entirely logical that, except to the extent otherwise provided by law, authority to issue regulations governing the interagency transfer of records should also be vested in the Administrator.

In carrying out his functions under the act, the Administrator of General Services is closely assisted by the Archivist of the United States and by the Director of the Records Management Division, National Archives and Records Service, GSA. However, in the annual report on the National Archives and Records Service by the Administrator of General Services for fiscal year 1953, it is recommended that "a more careful evaluation of the so-called permanent records would be profitable and should be undertaken as soon as possible." There is no evidence that substantial action ever has been taken on this recommendation.

The functions of the Records Management Division of the National Archives and Records Service are set forth in the United States Government Organization Manual, as follows:

> This Division is responsible for surveying records management and disposal practices of Federal agencies and obtaining reports thereon; for developing standards and methods for efficient records management and promoting their adoption by Federal agencies; for the management of central records centers established by GSA to serve as economical storage depositories for retired records of Federal agencies; and for compiling agency reports of records management activities for submission through the Administrator to the Bureau of the Budget and the Congress.

FUTURE ACTION

While there has been some governmental activity toward solution of the records problem, a more vigorous approach seems necessary.

As a possible guide to the solution of the records problem on a Federal level, there is presented herein, examples of what has been done along those lines on the State level. Two States, Maryland and Virginia, are singled out for this report as examples of successful attempts toward solution of State records management problems.

The State of Maryland has undertaken to effectuate a streamlining of its records management procedures. In order to accomplish this end, the State provided appropriate legislation as follows:

(Senate bill 441)

AN ACT To repeal section 156 of article 41 of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1951 edition), title "Governor—Executive and Administrative Departments," subtitle "Hall of Records Commission," and to enact in lieu thereof, a new section to said article to be known as section 156 and to stand in the place and stead of the section so repealed, providing that every State agency shall establish a continuing program for management of its records, and for the disposal of its records, and further providing that it shall be the duty of the Hall of Records Commission to supervise said management and disposal and to review and make recommendations concerning said management

Section 156 of article 41 of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1951 edition), title "Governor—Executive and Administrative Departments," subtitle "Hall of Records Commission," be and it is hereby repealed, and that a new section to be known as section 156 of said article, be and it is hereby enacted in lieu thereof and all to read as follows:

"(a) It shall be the duty of each State agency to develop a continuing program for the economical and efficient management of its records, including the establishment and/or revision of record retention schedules, in order to insure prompt and orderly disposal of records not required by the operations of the agency. Prior to becoming operative all such retention schedules must receive the approval of the Hall of Records Commission, but schedules providing for the destruction of records must also receive the written approval of the Board of Public Works.

"(b). It shall be the duty of the Hall of Records Commission to further the aforesaid program; to inspect the records and records management practices of all State agencies, boards and commissions; to review proposals for the purchase or rental of record equipment, storage space and services, including the microfilming and photocopying of records, and to make recommendations thereon to, the Department of Budget and Procurement or to the Board of Public Works as appropriate.

Approved April 11, 1953.

The State decided that an outside survey was necessary to accomplish the desired end. The story is best told in the 18th Annual Report of the Archivist of the State Hall of Records as follows:

SURVEY OF STATE RECORDS

Up to 1941 there was no general supervision over the records-management practices employed by the various State and county agencies. The records of a few agencies were controlled by statute; opinions of the Attorney General governed others, but for the most part, records problems were left to the custodian to solve. The creation of the hall of records commission (ch. 18, Acts of 1935) and the construction of an archives building were beneficial insofar as the older records were concerned but had little effect on the care of modern records.

A permissive law was enacted in 1941 (ch. 825, Acts of 1941) which provided that records no longer necessary to the operations of an agency could be offered to the hall of records commission for deposit. If the commission decided that the records were of no archival value, they were refused for deposit and the agency could then apply to the board of public works for permission to destroy them.

Legislation passed in 1945 (ch. 248, Acts of 1945) required that all records created prior to April 28, 1788, be deposited in the hall of records. An act of 1949 (ch. 518, Acts of 1949) required that microfilming done for the purpose of destroying the original records must meet standards established by the hall of records commission. A law (ch. 755, Acts of 1949) of the same year provided a means of establishing records-disposal schedules, and it also defined certain categories as nonrecord in nature and, therefore, subject to disposal by the record custodian. Working under these laws, the Archivist succeeded in assisting many agencies toward a solution of their records problems. At the same time, however, it was realized that the problems of proper records control were increasing rather than diminishing.

At this point, as records problems were approaching an acute stage, it was proposed to Governor Lane that a survey be made of all State records. Although Governor Lane favored the proposal, he left it to his successor in office to make the final decision. It was, therefore, Governor McKeldin who requested the general assembly to appropriate $48,000 for the survey (miscellaneous appropriations No. 2, item 45, 1953 budget).

The contract between the State, represented by the board of public works, and Records Engineering, Inc., was signed on April 28, 1952. Work on the survey began immediately.

Governor McKeldin appointed a "Special commission on records management" to maintain liaison between the State and Records Engineering, Inc. The commission members were: Joseph O'C. McCusker, chief deputy comptroller and secretary to the board of public works, James G. Rennie, director of the department of budget and procurement, Michael J. Potthast, assistant State auditor, and Morris L. Radoff, archivist, chairman.

The survey of records and recordkeeping practices of the State government, which was started by Records Engineering during the last quarter of fiscal year 1952, was completed in January 1953. On March 2, 1953, the Governor's special commission found that the terms of the contract had been met and recommended that the contractor be paid in full and released from any further obligation to the State. Records Engineering, on March 9, 1953, was notified that the contract had been completed.

The survey, which was conducted under the direction of Irving Zitmore, general manager, Records Engineering, Inc., and Albert Rosenfeld, field supervisor, covered 98 different State and county agencies and was presented in 35 separate reports. In addition, seven other reports were prepared consisting of a summary report and specialized reports on records-management practices. During the course of the survey, orientation conferences were held within the agencies being studied so that agency personnel were acquained with the purposes of the analysis as well as the methods used and the results desired. Following the conferences, the first step in the preparation of the report was an inventory of the principal files and records of the agency. Employees were then interviewed to ascertain the use made of the individual records. Drafts of the reports were submitted, with a request for comments, to the agency heads, the commission members and to Robert M. Thomas, assistant attorney general, assigned as legal consultant to the commission. All agencies surveyed received final copies of the reports.

The Governor's special commission at its March meeting proposed, subject to the approval of the Governor and the hall of records commission, that the hall of records commission assume the administration of the State records management program. The Governor's special commission, with the assistance of Records Engineering, Inc., drafted appropriate legislation. On March 19, 1953, Senators Della and Kimble introduced the bills in the general assembly which on passage became chapters 436 and 437 of the Acts of 1953 and which are reprinted under "Acts of Assembly" in this report.

The responsibilities of the hall of records commission under these acts required an increase in staff, and accordingly, an additional appropriation of $11,942 was asked for. This amount was included in the Governor's supplemental budget and was granted by the general assembly, April 1, 1953.

The records management division of the hall of records commission came into being on July 1, 1953. While the survey prepared by Records Engineering, Inc., afforded an excellent base for the beginning of such a program, there is much work that must be accomplished before it can become fully effective. It is too soon to know how much money can be saved but there is every reason to believe that, with the cooperation of the agencies, the total will be large. It is interesting to note that Records Engineering, Inc., estimated in their summary report that the accumulation of records inventoried at the time of the survey can be reduced from 25,000 to 12,500 linear feet, and that the net annual increment can be reduced from 1,750 to 250 linear feet. J. Millard Tawes, comptroller of the treasury, generalized the results of the survey cogently when he said for the press:

"For the first time in Maryland history we have a complete inventory of records held by the State, their volume, how fast they accumulate, and their value, need and use from a legal, archival, and business standpoint. This information together with the retirement schedules which have been carefully worked out with legal approval, will be of utmost value in making operations of all State agencies more efficient and economical."

An interview with the State archivist, Dr. Morris L. Radoff, elicited the information that the State was well satisfied with the results of the outside survey and now is taking steps to effectuate the procedures.

Members of the Maryland government staff under Dr. Radoff estimated that since the survey, the State has been able to destroy 40 or 50 tons, or 3,000 cubic feet of material, out of several hundreds of tons based on initial inventories, or approximately 17,000 cubic feet as a direct result of the survey, and is making great strides in furthering this record in conformance with survey recommendations.

Attached are some forms used by the Maryland government in its records management program as a result of the survey. Exhibit D is a form letter sent to all State agencies informing them of the records management program and individual agency responsibility thereunder.

Exhibit E is a form to be submitted by the State agency to the archivist requesting disposition of records described therein. The form then is kept as a permanent descriptive record of papers destroyed.

Exhibit F is a certificate which states that certain records have been destroyed. The certificate merely lists the records and references to descriptive material contained in a form such as exhibit E.

Exhibit G is a form used by the archivists in analyzing agency records in an attempt to aid the agency in setting up and managing its own records and in establishing a schedule of disposal for them.

The Commonwealth of Virginia also engaged an outside organization to undertake the survey and reorganization of State records management. In 1949 they undertook a records survey of all State agencies, institutions, and departments.

The initial benefits to the State from the survey included destruction of 25 years' accumulation of records at an estimated saving in space and equipment of $150,000 and a conservative estimate of savings to the Commonwealth is approximately $50,000 per year.

Former Gov. William M. Tuck, of Virginia, now a Member of Congress from that State, was the official who instituted the outside survey in Virginia. In his words, the survey resulted in a "very large savings of public funds." Furthermore, as a result of his experience on a State level, he has made the following observation:

In view of the tons of Federal records, involving millions of cubic feet of floorspace for their storage and the public funds necessary to be expended, it would seem to me that much savings could be accomplished and I would strongly recommend that provision be made for a study of this subject.

PRIVATE INDUSTRY

The results of large private industries' efforts to solve the problem of records management show promise of good results on the Federal Government level.

Radio Corporation of America, Inc., as a result of a highly satisfactory outside survey conducted for Montgomery Ward, Inc., contracted with an outside organization to survey the records of RCA.

It is indicated that RCA was extremely successful with its survey, which resulted in the destruction of some 25 to 30 tons of records and the saving of many thousands of square feet of space.

The outside firm was able to change antiquated company policies of records management by pointing out more satisfactory methods employed by other companies of comparable size. For example, the survey cut down the time for retaining certain employment records from 21 years to 2 years. This resulted in release of much filing equipment, space, and administrative cost.

RCA officials felt that an outside group had no personal feelings about the records under consideration and thus would be able to exercise considerably more objectivity of judgment in the destruction thereof.

When the project was under consideration, the survey organization was asked to submit an estimate of proposed time and expense to be involved in the survey. It was then undertaken to keep the survey within the proscribed limits.

Another example of the successful records-survey project in private industry is to be found in the one conducted for the B. F. Goodrich Co. of Akron, Ohio.

Company officials long were aware of the records-management problem but, until the outside surveyors took over, were unable to convince their various department officials that certain records should be retired or destroyed for economy purposes.

When the outside surveyors completed the job, they were able to show these officials on an objective basis that their records program was inefficient and uneconomic.

The survey was successful from a financial standpoint since it cost the company some $7,500 to $8,000 and has directly resulted in savings of some $60,000 annually since its completion, plus the elimination of several tons of records which took up valuable office and storage space and a great deal of administrative time and effort.

SURVEYS ON A FEDERAL GOVERNMENT LEVEL

Outside records surveys on a Government level seem also to have shown eminently satisfactory results to date.

As mentioned previously in the instant report, there has been an outside survey conducted on behalf of GSA in the field of Government microfilming activities.

As a result of that survey the agency now has a complete analytical report on all phases of Government microfilming, along with suggested solutions to all problems presenting themselves in this field. For example, the agency was shown that its microfilming equipment was operating at only 19 percent of capacity. Suggestions were made for improvement of this situation.

The survey referred to above became the subject of discussion in the hearings on the Independent Offices Appropriations for 1955 before a subcommittee of the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives. In that hearing the results were described in the following exchange between Congressman Yates and Mr. Wayne C. Grover, Archivist of the United States:

> Records Engineering, Inc., found that there are about 230 going projects in the Government. They examined several projects in detail, projects now in existence on which expenditures of around $800,000 are being made annually. They recommended the discontinuance of some of the microfilming, and changes in other projects, which amount to a saving of $400,000 on that $800,000 that is being expended right today.
> Mr. YATES. The summary in the survey itself, page 4, subparagraph (d), states:
> "Savings estimated at $2,400,000 in present operations were in view at the time of the survey and $6,600,000 of proposed projects were found unacceptable in the light of modern records-management standards."
> Mr. GROVER. As to the $6,600,000 of proposed projects, one of them was a proposal to microfilm X-ray, which is not feasible at all, and another one had to do with the proposed microfilming of some securities of public debt service at Chicago. I think the reports on those two projects killed them. I don't think there is any more to worry about those.
> The figure of $2.4 million represents a saving of 50 percent of the total expenditures the Government is making today on microfilming, which this firm found to be running at around $4,800,000.

Another executive agency of Government, the Post Office Department, presently is taking steps to combat the records problem through use of a private records-survey organization.

The outside agency has been at work on the Post Office Department files since March 1, 1954. The decision to hire an outside agency to do the job was made because experience has shown that internal surveys rarely are successful. Personnel tend to form emotional attachments to records and regard them as a source of personal security, thus are loathe to relinquish them for disposal. An outside agency provides the only really objective approach to economy in records management, since such an agency has no personal relationship to the creation of the records and only is interested in finding moneysaving methods for the client.

The work performed by the outside group to date has resulted in estimated savings to the Department of approximately $150,000 to $200,000, and by July 1 of this year it is expected that the savings will reach one-half million dollars.

Since the cost to the Government of the survey is $47,000, it is obvious that after only 2 months of operation the survey group has more than paid for itself.

CONCLUSIONS

1. There are at present more than 25 million cubic feet of Government records in existence.
2. The annual cost to the United States Government of records management approximates $4 billion. Under present conditions this figure must necessarily increase.
3. Unless some remedial action is taken with regard to records management in the near future, the problem will become almost incapable of solution.
4. Indications are that the existing means of dealing with the growing problem are inadequate.
5. It has been established through the experience of State governments and private industry, as well as some agencies of the United States Government, that private records surveys are successful in drastically reducing costs of records management.
6. It has been estimated that about 20 to 33 percent of the present cost of records management can be reduced by a records-management survey conducted for the United States Government as a whole. Based on this estimate it appears possible to save $900 million to $950 million. Some estimates reach as high as $1,100 million and higher.
7. An outside survey is preferable to an internal one for the reason that the subject is one requiring objectivity of judgment, which can only be exercised by a disinterested outside group whose main interest is savings on a dollar and cents basis, and whose trained personnel are free from departmental self-interest.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. It is recommended that funds be made available to the Administrator of General Services Administration to arrange for surveys of record procedures, to embrace creation of records, maintenance of records and disposal of records as well as the administrative procedures utilized in these functions. These surveys should eventually embrace all Government agencies, both civilian and military. The surveys should be conducted by competent, non-Government records management specialists.

2. It is recommended that responsibility for this activity be vested in the Director of the Records Management Division, Archives and Records Service under the supervision of the Administrator of the General Services Administration.

3. It is recommended that the Director of the Records Management Division of the Archives and Records Service be assisted by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget in implementing recommendations.

4. It is recommended that copies of all reports, together with an estimate of the savings to be effected, be made available upon completion of each survey to the Director of the Records Management Division, Archives and Records Service, the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, and to the Appropriations Committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

5. It is suggested that an exception be made in the case of the substantive files of investigative agencies having responsibilities under law for the detection of crime or subversive activity.

6. In order that savings effected by means of these surveys not be dissipated, it is recommended that each agency be required to refund any such savings to the United States Treasury.

7. It is recognized that surveys covering the vast and complex structure of government will require time to complete. However, it is recommended that immediate, continuous, and vigorous action be taken so as to assure the benefits of these surveys as soon as possible.

8. It is recommended that in each case the services to be rendered by the records management specialists include recommendations which will hold additional accumulation of records to a minimum so that economies effected will apply into the future.

Library and museum material made or acquired and preserved solely for reference or exhibition purposes, extra copies of documents preserved only for convenience of reference, and stocks of publications and of processed documents are not included within the definition of the word "records" as used in this Act.

SEC. 2. The National Archives Council shall promulgate regulations, not inconsistent with this Act, establishing (1) procedures for the compiling and submitting to the Archivist of the United States of lists and schedules of records proposed for disposal, (2) procedures for the disposal of records authorized for disposal, and (3) standards for the reproduction of records by photographic or microphotographic processes with a view to the disposal of the original records. Such regulations, when approved by the President, shall be binding on all agencies of the United States Government.

SEC. 3. The head of each agency of the United States Government shall submit to the Archivist of the United States, in accordance with regulations promulgated as provided in section 2 of this Act (1) lists of any records in the custody of the agency that have been photographed or microphotographed in accordance with the said regulations and that, as a consequence thereof, do not appear to have sufficient value to warrant their further preservation by the Government; (2) lists of any other records in the custody of the agency that are not needed by it in the transaction of its current business and that do not appear to have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their further preservation by the Government; and (3) schedules proposing the disposal after the lapse of specified periods of time of records of a specified form or character that either have accumulated in the custody of the agency or that may accumulate therein at any time after the submission of such schedules and that apparently will not after the lapse of the period specified have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their further preservation by the Government.

SEC. 4. The Archivist shall submit to Congress, at such times as he shall deem expedient, the lists or schedules submitted to him in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of this Act, or parts of such lists or schedules, and lists or schedules of any records in his legal custody, insofar as it shall appear to him that the records listed in such lists or schedules do not, or will not after the lapse of the period specified, have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their continued preservation by the United States Government: Provided, That the Archivist shall not submit to Congress lists or schedules of records of any existing agency of the Government in his legal custody without first having obtained the written consent of the head of such agency.

The Archivist may also submit to Congress, together with recommendations of the National Archives Council with respect thereto, and at such times as he may deem expedient, schedules proposing the disposal, after the lapse of specified periods of time, of records of a specified form or character common to several or all agencies that either have accumulated or may accumulate in such agencies and that apparently will not, after the lapse of the periods specified, have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their further preservation by the United States Government.

SEC. 5. Whenever the Archivist shall submit lists or schedules to Congress, it shall be the duty of the presiding officer of the Senate to appoint two Senators who, with the members of the Committee on the Disposition of Executive Papers of the House of Representatives, shall constitute a joint committee to which all such lists or schedules shall be referred, and the joint committee shall examine such lists or schedules and submit to the Senate and House of Representatives, respectively, a report of such examination and its recommendations.

SEC. 6. If the joint committee reports that any of the records listed in a list or schedule referred to it do not, or will not after the lapse of the period specified, have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their continued preservation by the Government, the Archivist shall notify the agency or agencies having such records in their custody of the action of the joint committee and such agency or agencies shall cause such records to be disposed of in accordance with regulations promulgated as provided in section 2 of this Act: Provided, That authorizations granted pursuant to schedules submitted under the last paragraph of section 4 of this Act shall be permissive and not mandatory.

SEC. 7. If the joint committee fails to make a report during any regular or special session of Congress on any list or schedule submitted to Congress by the Archivist not less than ten days prior to the adjournment of such session, the Archivist may empower the agency or agencies having in their custody records covered by such lists or schedules to cause such records to be disposed of in accordance with regulations promulgated as provided in section 2 of this Act.

SEC. 8. Whenever it shall appear to the Archivist that any agency has in its custody, or is accumulating, records of the same form or character as any records of the same agency previously authorized by Congress to be disposed of, he may empower the head of such agency to dispose of such records, after they have been in existence a specified period of time, in accordance with regulations promulgated as provided in section 2 of this Act and without listing or scheduling them.

SEC. 9. Records pertaining to claims and demands by the Government of the United States or against it, or to any accounts in which the Government of the United States is concerned, either as debtor or creditor, shall not be disposed of by the head of any agency under any authorizations granted pursuant to the provisions of sections 6, 7, and 8 of this Act, until such claims, demands, and accounts have been settled and adjusted in the General Accounting Office, except upon the written approval of the Comptroller General of the United States.

SEC. 10. Whenever the Archivist and the head of the agency that has custody of them shall jointly determine that any records in the custody of any agency of the United States Government are a continuing menace to human health or life or to property, the Archivist shall cause such menace to be eliminated immediately by whatever method he may deem necessary. If any records in the custody of the Archivist are disposed of under this section, the Archivist shall report the disposal thereof to the agency from which they were transferred.

SEC. 11. At any time during the existence of a state of war between the United States and any other nation or when hostile action by a foreign power appears imminent, the head of any agency of the United States Government may authorize the destruction of any records in his legal custody situated in any military or naval establishment, ship, or other depository outside the territorial limits of continental United States (1) the retention of which would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States or (2) which occupy space urgently needed for military purposes and are, in his opinion, without sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their continued preservation: Provided, That within six months after the disposal of any such records, the official who directed the disposal thereof shall submit a written report thereon to the Archivist in which he shall describe the character of such records and state when and where the disposal thereof was accomplished.

SEC. 12. The Archivist shall transmit to Congress at the beginning of each regular session reports as to the records authorized for disposal under the provisions of section 7 of this Act and as to the records disposed of under the provisions of sections 10 and 11 of this Act.

SEC. 13. Photographs or microphotographs of any records made in compliance with regulations promulgated as provided in section 2 of this Act shall have the same force and effect as the originals thereof would have and shall be treated as originals for the purpose of their admissibility in evidence. Duly certified or authenticated reproductions of such photographs or microphotographs shall be admitted in evidence equally with the original photographs or microphotographs.

SEC. 14. All moneys derived by agencies of the Government from the sale of records authorized for disposal under the provisions of this Act shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States unless otherwise required by existing law applicable to the agency.

SEC. 15. The procedures herein prescribed are exclusive and no records of the United States Government shall be alienated or destroyed except in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 16. The Act entitled "An Act to provide for the disposition of certain records of the United States Government," approved August 5, 1939 (53 Stat. 1219), the Act entitled "An Act to provide for the disposition of certain photographed records of the United States Government, and for other purposes," approved September 24, 1940 (54 Stat. 958), and all other Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed.

Such safeguards shall include making it known to all officials and employees of the agency (1) that no records in the custody of the agency are to be alienated or destroyed except in accordance with the provisions of the Act approved July 7, 1943 (57 Stat. 380–383), as amended July 6, 1945 (59 Stat. 434), and (2) the penalties provided by law for the unlawful removal or destruction of records.

"(f) The head of each Federal agency shall notify the Administrator of any actual, impending, or threatened unlawful removal, defacing, alteration, or destruction of records in the custody of the agency of which he is the head that shall come to his attention, and with the assistance of the Administrator shall initiate action through the Attorney General for the recovery of records he knows or has reason to believe have been unlawfully removed from his agency, or from any other Federal agency whose records have been transferred to his legal custody.

"(g) Nothing in this title shall be construed as limiting the authority of the Comptroller General of the United States with respect to prescribing accounting systems, forms, and procedures, or lessening the responsibility of collecting and disbursing officers for rendition of their accounts for settlement by the General Accounting Office.

"ARCHIVAL ADMINISTRATION

"SEC. 507. (a) The Administrator, whenever it appears to him to be in the public interest, is hereby authorized—

"(1) to accept for deposit with the National Archives of the United States the records of any Federal agency or of the Congress of the United States that are determined by the Archivist to have sufficient historical or other value to warrant their continued preservation by the United States Government;

"(2) to direct and effect, with the approval of the head of the originating agency (or if the existence of such agency shall have been terminated, then with the approval of his successor in function, if any), the transfer of records deposited (or approved for deposit) with the National Archives of the United States to public or educational institutions or associations: Provided, That the title to such records shall remain vested in the United States unless otherwise authorized by Congress; and

"(3) to direct and effect the transfer of materials from private sources authorized to be received by the Administrator by the provisions of subsection (e) of this section.

"(b) The Administrator shall be responsible for the custody, use, and withdrawal of records transferred to him: Provided, That whenever any records the use of which is subject to statutory limitations and restrictions are so transferred, permissive and restrictive statutory provisions with respect to the examination and use of such records applicable to the head of the agency from which the records were transferred or to the employees of that agency shall thereafter likewise be applicable to the Administrator, the Archivist, and to the employees of the General Services Administration, respectively: Provided further, That whenever the head of any agency shall specify in writing restrictions that appear to him to be necessary or desirable in the public interest, on the use or examination of records being considered for transfer from his custody to the Administrator, the Administrator shall impose such restrictions on the records so transferred, and shall not remove or relax such restrictions without the concurrence in writing of the head of the agency from which the material shall have been transferred (or if the existence of such agency shall have been terminated, then he shall not remove or relax such restrictions without the concurrence of the successor in function, if any, of such agency head): Provided, however, That statutory and other restrictions referred to in the provisos of this subsection shall not remain in force or effect after the records have been in existence for fifty years unless the Administrator by order shall determine with respect to specific bodies of records that such restrictions shall remain in force and effect for a longer period: And provided further, That restrictions on the use or examination of records deposited with the National Archives of the United States heretofore imposed and now in force and effect under the terms of section 3 of the National Archives Act, approved June 19, 1934, shall continue in force and effect regardless of the expiration of the tenure of office of the official who imposed them but may be removed or relaxed by the Administrator with the concurrence in writing of the head of the agency from which material has been transferred (or if the existence of such agency shall have been terminated, then with the concurrence in writing of his successor in function, if any).

"(c) The Administrator shall make provisions for the preservation, arrangement, repair and rehabilitation, duplication and reproduction (including microcopy publications), description, and exhibition of records transferred to him as may be needful or appropriate, including the preparation and publication of inventories, indexes, catalogs, and other finding aids or guides facilitating their use; and, when approved by the National Historical Publications Commission, he may also publish such historical works and collections of sources as seem appropriate for printing or otherwise recording at the public expense.

"(d) The Administrator shall make such provisions and maintain such facilities as he deems necessary or desirable for servicing records in his custody that are not exempt from examination by statutory provisions or other restrictions.

"(e) The Administrator may accept for deposit—

HALL OF RECORDS,
Annapolis, Md., July 29, 1953.

To All State Agencies:

The general assembly of 1953 enacted into law (acts of 1953, ch. 436) the requirement that each State agency shall establish a continuing program for the economical and efficient management of its records. Under the same act the responsibility for guiding and advancing the program was placed with the hall of records commission. A copy of the law is attached.

Recognizing the importance of the records management program, the hall of records commission has established the records management division under the general direction of the archivist and under the immediate supervision of the newly created position of assistant records administrator. On July 15, 1953, Mr. Edward N. Johnson was appointed to this post.

The recent survey by Records Engineering Inc., has highlighted the urgent need for immediate attention to records administration in the State and it is the desire of this office to render every possible assistance to the agencies of the State in solving their records problems. The staff of the records management division will visit personally each State office and discuss its program but, since the size of the staff is necessarily very small, it will require a little time before these discussions can be completed. Visits will be made as soon as possible. In the meantime each office is urged to develop, to the fullest extent possible, its own records management and disposal program, bearing in mind the need for prior approval before any record materials are destroyed.

From time to time, the records management division will issue instructions and recommendations to assist the agencies in the management of their records. Should questions arise while preparing and administering the agency records program, the records management division will be pleased to offer any needed assistance.

Sincerely yours,

MORRIS L. RADOFF, Archivist.

SUBJECT: SPANISH TEXTBOOKS
SPANISH LECTURE MATERIAL STORED ON THE SEVENTH FLOOR OF THE IDENTIFICATION BUILDING - RECORDS SECTION

Destruction of Bureau property - Gen. Inst. II

There are two cabinets containing spanish textbooks, examinations, National Academy lecture material translated into spanish and products used in South American countries that are stored on the seventh floor of the Identification Building by the Records Section. Mr. Eames of the Records Section has made inquiry as to the possibility of destroying this material for the cabinet space is needed.

This material was used during the early 1940's, when we were conducting spanish classes in connection with the SIS program. This material has not been used for approximately ten years and there is no indication that this program will be re-instituted; therefore, I believe that this material should be destroyed.

SA B. M. Suttler, Crime Records Section, advised that the spanish books are not needed in the Bureau Library, but he requested that the books be sent to the Bureau Library and the books will be used in exchange of books with the Library of Congress.

Mr. Parsons of the Laboratory and Mr. Heanrich, Domestic Intelligence Division, advised that they do not need any of the material.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That this memo be referred to the Records Section and the Records Section should send the spanish text books to the Bureau Library.

2. That the Bureau Library should use the text books in exchange of books with the Library of Congress.

3. That the Records Section should destroy the rest of the material.

Destruction of Bureau Property - Gen'l

MICROFILMING OF BUREAU RECORDS TO CONSERVE SPACE

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4 ELW/pte

The increasing interest of government officials in reducing the volume of records on hand, recent newspaper publicity and the call from Mr. Paul Kamerick, Senate Appropriations Committee, to Mr. Nichols on 5/8/54 advising that the Appropriations Committee is getting up a report calling for a survey of all government records by a private firm, indicates a need for consideration of the problem of conserving space now utilized by Bureau records.

The Records Section, SOG, since 7/1/53, has microfilmed a total of 17,798,969 images of various Bureau records representing a saving of 2,323.5 cubic feet by microfilming. An additional 350.3 cubic feet was saved since 7/1/53 by destruction of cards and serials. During the past four months 396 bulky exhibits have been destroyed, thus saving additional space.

There have been file consolidations in the field, and the field has also been granted authority to destroy certain types of files at various times in the past; however, the volume of records, both in the field and SOG, continues to grow. During the period from 7/1/52 to 6/30/53 the field increased its volume of records by approximately 9,781 cubic feet. The over-all increase of Bureau records during this period was 13,027.17 cubic feet, despite having saved in excess of 6,000 cubic feet by microfilming, destruction and consolidation. The following tabulation reflects the volume of records on hand as of 7/1/52 and 6/30/53:

Location of Records	7/1/52	6/30/53
Field	79,411.7 cu. ft.	89,268.22 cu. ft.
Legal Attaches	106.1 cu. ft.	120.90 cu. ft.
Seat of Government	164,233.1 cu. ft.	167,389.12 cu. ft.
Totals	243,750.9 cu. ft.	256,778.24 cu. ft.

In an effort to arrive at some workable means of keeping our records volume in the field at a minimum, and still have available all necessary records needed to carry out our responsibilities, authority is requested to make a sixty-day survey in the Norfolk, Miami and New York Offices to determine the number of times during the period it is necessary to refer to closed files by classification which are:

(1) Up to 5 years old

(2) 5 years one day to 10 years old

(3) 10 years one day to 15 years old

(4) 15 years one day to 20 years old

(5) 20 years one day to 25 years old

Age of file is to be determined by date of most recent serial in file.

If authority to conduct a survey is granted, the SACs at Norfolk, Miami and New York will be requested to advise as to the number of files in each classification referred to, by age group, the advantages and disadvantages of destruction or microfilming in each category. Memorandum to SACs, Miami, New York and Norfolk attached.

The findings of this survey will be presented to the Executives Conference with recommendations aimed at conservation of space in field offices.

ASAC MacLennan at New York has advised that such a survey would create no serious problem in New York and estimated that it would take not more than one day of clerical time to make the necessary recording for the sixty-day period. A correspondingly less time would be required in both Norfolk and Miami.

RECOMMENDATION:

That permission be granted to conduct the survey as outlined above.

SYNOPSIS:

General Services Administration, during the past year, has accelerated its program on retirement or destruction of records. In February, 1954, Records Engineering Incorporated, after completing survey of government microfilming operations at the request of GSA, recommended GSA be given authority to control all microfilming in government to more effectively utilize equipment, materials, space, etc. On March 26, 1954, Mr. C. L. Guthrie telephoned me to advise he had just been appointed Control Officer under National Archivist and that his office would assist agencies in microfilming, storing, and disposing of records, as well as approving requests to microfilm. Guthrie suggested Bureau consider storing block of inactive records in Federal Records Center on trial basis. He stated any type security could be afforded. Years ago we stored inactive records in Archives space. Facilities were deplorable and we reacquired records. On May 5, 1954, a Deputy Regional Director of Records Management Service, GSA, called at Little Rock Division to solicit cooperation of that Division in storing it's inactive records at GSA Records Center at Fort Worth, Texas. Little Rock advised the official its records were used on daily basis and such storage not feasible. Doubt exists as to whether GSA can afford adequate security. Obviously it would not be practical for Little Rock to store records at Fort Worth and request Dallas Office to make file checks for them through Resident Agent at Fort Worth. In view of apparent intention by GSA to take more aggressive stand in controlling microfilming, storing and disposings of records, it is felt the Field should be advised of Bureau's position in this matter. Recommended that attached SAC Letter be approved.

Memorandum to Mr. Nichols May 18, 1954
Re: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS

DETAILS:

General Services Administration, during the past year, has accelerated its program on destruction or retirement of obsolete or inactive records to Records Centers operated by GSA. In September of 1953, Records Engineering Inc., a private records management firm headed by former Senator Gerald P. Nye, completed a survey on Government microfilming operations at the request of GSA. Records Engineering Inc., in February, 1954, recommended that GSA be given authority to approve all Government microfilming in order to determine whether microfilming or storage of records in Records Centers is more economical to Government and in order to more effectively utilize equipment, materials, space, etc.

On March 26, 1954, a Mr. C. L. Guthrie called me concerning Bureau's request for Archival authority to microfilm Lab Work Sheets and Servicemen's Dependants Allowance Act files which we had recently requested. Mr. Guthrie stated he had just been appointed Control Officer under the National Archivist and that his office would assist various agencies in microfilming, storing, and disposing of records, as well as approve microfilming requests. Mr. Guthrie stated although question existed in his mind as to the advisability of microfilming Lab Reports twelve years old, because he thought storage in a GSA Records Center might be more economical, they would still approve the microfilming of the records. He suggested that as Bureau was not using any Government storage facilities we should consider storing block of inactive records in such storage on trial basis. He stated local facilities were available and that any type security could be afforded. From Guthrie's call, it appeared GSA intends to take more aggressive stand in controlling microfilming, storing, and disposing of records.

We previously stored inactive records in Archives space. Our experience was so disappointing that we reacquired the records. Records had been stored close together in poorly lighted area and it was always necessary to send two male employees to review records as they had to physically move cabinets to get into them and use flashlights to locate material.

On May 5, 1954, the Little Rock Office advised that a Deputy Regional Director of Records Management Service, GSA, Dallas, Texas, called at the Office to solicit cooperation in storing Little Rock Office's inactive records at GSA Records Center, Fort Worth, Conp.

Texas. Little Rock advised the GSA official all records were used on a daily basis and such storage could not be considered feasible.

It is extremely doubtful that GSA could guarantee us adequate facilities and security for our records. Obviously it would not be practical in the Little Rock instance, for example, for Little Rock to request the Dallas Office to have the Resident Agent at Fort Worth check its records. The cost would be prohibitive and the practice absurd. This same instance further illustrates the impracticality of removing records from confines of an office as regardless of distance time will be wasted in securing information.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF APPLICANT TYPE PERSONNEL FILES

[redacted] Supervisor of the Personnel Records Unit, recently conducted a survey and has determined that approximately 32,000 applicant type personnel files dated prior to 1945 contain only the application for employment and the results of the interview with the applicant. These files represent approximately 25 five-drawer cabinets and an estimated 65,000 index cards.

In order to provide critically needed expansion space in the Personnel Records Unit, it is believed that consideration should be given to the destruction of the above described applicant type files (samples attached). It is noted that in connection with the destruction of the files the index cards as well as abstract slips relating to the files would also be destroyed.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. That consideration be given to destroying applicant type personnel files dated prior to 1945 and containing only an application blank and an interview sheet, as well as the destruction of the index cards and abstracts relating to these files.

The Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Mohr, Tamm, Parson Sizoo, Belmont, Boardman, Winterrowd, Harbo, Holloman and Nichols were unanimously opposed to the destruction of the applicant personnel files inasmuch as information is obtained from time to time from these files in connection with our name checks. Since there appears to be some question whether Archives would grant authorization for microfilming these documents, it was the unanimous view of the conference that these documents be kept unless an informal inquiry of Archives would reflect that our request would be granted.

(B) RECORDS - DESTRUCTION OF -- Recently an official of the Records Management Service, General Services Administration, appeared in the Little Rock Office and solicited cooperation in retiring inactive records of that office to the Federal Records Center operated by GSA in Fort Worth, Texas. The official was advised that the records of the Little Rock Office were utilized on a day-to- day basis, and that such storage of records would not be possible or practical.

Field office records are too active to be placed in such dead storage.. Accordingly, you should advise any representative of the General Services Administration in the event such a request is made of you, that the activity afforded your records prohibits their retirement to Federal Records Center.

You should immediately inform the Bureau by letter if such a request is received.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF NOTES OF SPECIAL EMPLOYEES AND SPECIAL AGENTS HANDLING LIAISON AND RECORD CHECKS AFTER CONTENTS BEING INCORPORATED IN REPORTS

66-16263 GENERAL

Destruction of Bureau Property

Problem:

During the course of full-field loyalty investigation of [redacted] Mathematician, Department of the Air Force, Washington, D. C., Security of Government Employees, in 1951, New York Office erroneously reported that Board of Election Records in Brooklyn, New York, reflected [redacted] registered in 1945 as affiliated with the American Labor Party. This record check was made by SA (then a Special Employee) Edward J. Kirk and was reported by SA [redacted] in report dated 11/30/51. b6 b7C

At hearing before Air Force Security Board 3/31/54, [redacted] denied affiliation with American Labor Party in 1945. Supplemental investigation initiated 5/7/54 at request of Air Force. New York's supplemental report 5/20/54 reflected recheck. Board of Election records shows [redacted] in 1945 did not designate any party affiliation. In view of this discrepancy in New York's report, New York was requested to submit full explanation and recommendation for any administrative action.

New York letter of 5/27/54 explained these Board of Election records were checked in 1951 by SA (then a Special Employee) Kirk, who furnished results to Agent [redacted] by routing slip. Agent [redacted] in turn dictated that portion of his report from notes furnished him by Kirk and these notes were subsequently destroyed. New York advises that due to lapse of time (2½ years) and since Kirk's notes have been destroyed, responsibility cannot now be definitely fixed.

RECORDED COPY FILED IN 66-16263-1

UNRECORDED COPY FILED IN 66-16263-1

Proposed Procedure:

New York has suggested in order to fix responsibility for this type of error in the future, it institute a procedure whereby notes of Special Employees and Agents handling liaison and record checks will be preserved as part of case file whenever derogatory or unfavorable information is being reported.

Advantages of Proposal:

Responsibility could be fixed if there was a discrepancy between the Agents or Special Employees notes and the communication reporting that information.

Disadvantages of Proposal:

1. It would require the preparation of a great number of exhibit envelopes which would involve much clerical time.

2. These exhibit envelopes would occupy much filing space which is now at a premium in most offices.

Observations:

It is noted that New York's suggestion does not appear to limit the above procedure to Security of Government Employee cases.

The Investigative Division of the Bureau recommended that New York's suggestion be considered by the Bureau for adoption or non-adoption on a Bureau-wide basis.

Executives Conference Consideration: EDM:ATN 6/24/54

Present at the Executives Conference 6/24/54 were Messrs. Tolson, Callahan, Tamm, Parsons, Mohr, Boardman, Belmont, Rosen, McGuire, and Mason.

The Conference unanimously recommended no change in the present procedure.

The Conference considered whether it would be desirable to retain notes of Special Employees and Agents making record checks, but felt that the desirability would be offset by the amount of clerical work involved in preparing exhibit envelopes, labelling such envelopes, inserting such envelopes as the bottom serial in the field case file. The Conference recognized the disadvantages attendant to the additional space which would be required through the retention of such exhibit envelopes.

The Conference was aware that the retention of such notes would not prevent an error such as occurred in this case, but would assist in fixing responsibility as to whether the error was the fault of the Special Employee in that his notes were at variance with the actual record checks; or whether the notes of the Special Employee were correct but the dictating Agent who used the notes made an error; or whether such dictation was correct but the stenographer made an error.

There are already procedures in existence for recording the identity of an employee who makes record checks, even though his notes are not retained, and in this instance there was no question as to the identity of the employee, the only question being what did the employee find out and what did he tell the dictating Agent.

After weighing these factors, the Conference felt no change should be made in the current rule.

Attached hereto is a letter to the New York Office, advising that it should not require retention of notes of Special Employees and Agents handling liaison and record checks. New York said in its letter of May 27, 1954, that it would retain such notes unless advised to the contrary.

Bureau Property - Gen. Inf.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF INDEX CARDS, INTERSTATE TRANSPORTATION OF STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES

Sug. # 769-54

In accordance with instructions set forth in Bureau Bulletin #53-15, paragraph A, dated June 25, 1953, motor numbers in Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicles cases, where the subject is known, no longer are indexed at the Seat of Government.

[redacted] supervisor of the General Index Unit, has suggested that all such cards made up under the old rule and which would not be made up under present procedures, be destroyed. Specifically, she suggests that all index cards made up on the motor number, which have a subject listed on the index card, be destroyed.

Under present procedures, these cards would be destroyed eventually since authority has been given to destroy such cards as they become five years old. It would save clerical time to complete the project in one operation and there would be an immediate savings of approximately three index card cabinets.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. It is recommended that [redacted] suggestion to destroy all index cards on motor vehicle motor numbers which have a subject listed on the card be ~~destroyed~~ adopted.

b6
b7C

2. It is recommended that this suggestion be referred to the Criminal Section of the Investigative Division for its views.

3. That this be forwarded to the Training and Inspection Division for ~~its views~~ review.

4. That a copy of this suggestion be designated for [redacted] personnel file. No acknowledgment is necessary to her since the suggestion was made orally and the suggestion would fall within her normally assigned duties.

Re Destruction of Bureau Records - Genl.

1. SUGGESTION #712-54

I suggest that we discontinue destroying all but one copy of serials in the file after the file has been closed for six months and that that operation take place only after the file has been closed for a period of one year. Such destruction could be handled by using the assignment card as a tickler for when the assignment card is destroyed, then the serials could be stripped from the file.

2. PRESENT PROCEDURE

Closed files are stripped of all extra copies of serials after the file has been in a closed status for a period of six months.

3. ADVANTAGES

A. Under the present procedure where all but one copy is destroyed after six months, many files are reopened shortly thereafter, making only one copy of a serial available when two copies are desirable and most often needed both by the Agent personnel and the clerical staff. The chances of a file being reopened after it has been closed one year or more are of course more remote.

B. From a supervisory standpoint, this suggestion would make available to the Supervisor the entire file and eliminate the necessity of attempting to supervise an investigation or review the file without having the pertinent serials available to him. It would definitely afford the Supervisor a better opportunity to adequately and intelligently handle the file.

HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4ELW/rte

4. DISADVANTAGES

For a period of six months there would be a temporary loss of space occupied by the additional serials left in the files for that period of time.

5. RECOMMENDATION

I recommend that this suggestion be put into effect.

THE SUGGESTION:

That all enclosures, both in file and behind file, be checked for pamphlets, folders, booklets, and other forms of miscellaneous material for possible removal and destruction. The suggesting employee cites an instance wherein the file on the Florida Police Chiefs Association contains a 1937 calendar advertising the annual convention of the Florida Police Unit.

PRESENT PROCEDURE:

The Records and Communications Division is presently reviewing all bulky enclosures for destruction. They are also alert to identify and recommend for destruction obsolete and useless material in the files. This is accomplished during regular file consolidations, reviews, and purge programs.

ADVANTAGES OF THE SUGGESTION:

The employee feels adoption would result in a saving of space; would facilitate evacuation of files in case of an emergency; would eliminate repair of enclosures; and eliminate enclosure handling.

DISADVANTAGES OF THE SUGGESTION:

Mr. Nichols, Records and Communications Division, is opposed. He states that while it is true such a calendar as mentioned by the employee has no value at the present time, other pamphlets, folders, booklets, etc., are integral parts of the file and the letters or memoranda to which they are attached would be meaningless if they were removed or destroyed. It is believed it would be too difficult to determine which material is an integral part of the file and that material which is not. The Records Section is not able to make the final decision as to destruction of such material but it is necessary to secure the approval of the interested division. Too much time and lost effort would be involved in pulling every enclosure with the file and forwarding it to the interested division for its approval before its destruction.

SUGGESTION: I suggest that all enclosures both in file and behind file be checked for pamphlets, folders, booklets and other form of misc. material for possible removal and destroying. This material has originated from various outside sources and has no particular usage in the current indices of the Bureau. EXAMPLE: I cite this as an example of my suggestion and which motivated the idea.

Today I went thru a FLORIDA POLICE CHIEF ASSOCIATION file for de-indexing purposes. I checked an enclosure within file and found a 1937 calender denoting the annual convention of the Florida Police unit.

In my opinion, material like this represents a handicap to the effectiveness of the Bureau indices and would take up considerable time and space in evacuation.

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts):

By memoranda dated May 19, 1954, and August 13, 1954, I briefed and commented on a report made for the Senate Appropriations Committee prepared by Paul E. Kamerick, former Agent of the Bureau, entitled Records Management, U. S. Government, which had been presented illustrating need for solution to costly federal records management problems. Report also recommended remedial action which would involve surveys of records of various agencies by outside specialists. Report cited work done by Records Engineering, Incorporated, a firm headed by Former Senator Gerald P. Nye, in surveying records for States of Maryland and Virginia and of the Post Office Department. I advised in latter memorandum that Senator Bridges had proposed an amendment to the Appropriations Bill for fiscal year 1955 which would give GSA $500,000 to conduct surveys by outside specialists.

There are attached newspaper clippings which state the appropriation was whittled to $300,000. Both articles point out the outside specialists may be Nye's firm, Records Engineering, Inc. The article from the Washington Post and Times Herald is a rather critical one in that it states that Kamerick's report was not an Appropriations Committee report and received little circulation. The article was further critical in that it inferred that Records Engineering, Inc., would get the contract because Kamerick's report cited accomplishments by the company 16 times in the report and that no other private records management firms were mentioned in Kamerick's report. The article stated that the report "heaps enconiums" on Irving Zitmore, Vice President, and Albert Rosenfeld, Field Supervisor. The article points out that Nye, who was "America's leading prewar isolationist," is never mentioned in the report by name. The article stated that Kamerick's report recommended surveys be started in seven government agencies: Veterans Administration; Maritime Commission; Securities Exchange Commission; Department of Health, Education and Welfare; Railroad Retirement Board; Foreign Operations Administration; and the Bureau of Reclamation.

Firm Hailed as A-1 Cost Cutter Turns Out to Be Gerald Nye's

By Warren Unna
Staff Reporter

Included in the Supplemental Appropriations Bill before the Senate last night was a $500,000 item for surveying the management of Government records. The House, in a conference report, earlier decided the survey could be done for $300,000.

The survey has the noble objective of whittling down the estimated four billion dollars a year the Government spends for clerical help and preservation of old records.

The measure, however, has what some might consider a peculiar history.

It stems from an unnoticed 31-page Senate Appropriations Committee "print" prepared last May by Paul E. Kamerick, Committee investigations chief and a former FBI agent. Kamerick recommends an "outside" survey, claiming an inter-Government one would be "rather controversial in nature."

They print 16 times cites testimonials for Records Engineering, Inc., a private management survey group incorporated in Delaware with headquarters at 815 15th st. nw. in Washington. Records Engineering's president, although never mentioned in Kamerick's print, is Gerald P. Nye, former Republican Senator from North Dakota and known as America's leading prewar isolationist.

Kamerick's report mentions the Nye firm 16 times in connection with record management surveys it made for the State of Maryland, General Services Administration and the Post Office Department.

The Post Office testimonial is given by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

In addition to the above, the print mentions the State of Virginia, Radio Corporation of America, Montgomery Ward and the B. F. Goodrich Co. as "examples of the successful records-survey project." A check with Nye's office showed all four groups had employed Records Engineering, Inc.

The print heaps enconiums on Irving Zitmore, Records Engineering vice president and general manager, and Albert Rosenfeld, the firm's field supervisor. No reference is made to Nye's name nor position.

Questioned on why no other private management survey firms had been mentioned in his report, Kamerick replied: "There's nothing in our own narration mentioning anyone. We don't intend to sell any firm. Records Engineering is always in quotations. And we had quite a problem about that—deciding whether or not to cut it out of somebody else's quotation."

In Kamerick's report, although not specifically stated in the Supplemental Appropriations bill, is the recommendation that records surveys be started in seven Government agencies: Veterans Administration, Maritime Commission, Securities Exchange Commission, Department of Health Education and Welfare, Railroad Retirement Board, Foreign Operations Administration and the Bureau of Reclamation.

Kamerick's wording gives the impression his research was gained from Herbert E. Angel, director of the National Archives records management division.

Since the Kamerick report was only published in "print" and not as a Senate Appropriations Committee report, it only gained circulation when somebody, knowing of its existence, phoned for a copy.

Angel made it quite clear he had never even known of the print's existence, much less had a copy been sent to him. What's more, he declared, he would never publicly declare which agencies' records were in worst shape—"That would be revealing an inter-client relationship."

For his part, Nye said the seven Government agencies were the ones which "General Services Administration (Archive's parent organization) had referred to as being most in need of service."

As for why Kamerick's print failed to mention any competitors, Nye replied: "I don't know as to that. The Senate investigative staff did the whole job."

Study of Government Records May Be Assigned to Nye Firm

Congressional approval of the administration's supplemental appropriations bill for 1955 may mean more work for the Records Engineering, Inc., firm of former Senator Gerald P. Nye, Republican, of North Dakota.

The bill, now awaiting Senate approval, carries an appropriation of $300,000 for "surveys of Government records, and records creation, maintenance, management and disposal practices in Federal agencies." If the past pattern of Government activity continues, Mr. Nye's company is likely to get a major share of the business.

In a preliminary report on the problem of handling the Government's estimated 25 million cubic feet of records, which he filed with the Senate Appropriations Cohmmittee in July, Chief Committee Investigator Paul A. Kamerick noted that Records Engineering, Inc., had received high praise from the Post Office Department, the State of Maryland and several private firms for its activities in bringing about economies in Government record-keeping.

The report quoted a July 12, 1954, letter from Postmaster General Summerfield to Appropriations Chairman Bridges, Republican of New Hampshire, stating that the Nye company, in its first three months on the job, found ways to dispose of documents which would make 100 piles as high as the Washington Monument.

The Kamerick report recommended that an over-all survey of Government record-keeping, such as is contemplated in the supplemental appropriation, be carried forward by an "outside" agency. It also recommended a survey of Government microfilming.

Use of an "outside" agency, the report said, would be advisable because both these fields "are rather controversial in nature, and any internal survey is apt to be unduly influenced by conflicts of interest, and clouded by years of established routine."

UNITED STATES SENATE,
COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS,
May 7, 1954.

Hon. STYLES BRIDGES,
Chairman,
United States Senate, Washington, D. C.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: I am attaching hereto a report compiled in accordance with your directions by the Investigations Division on the subject of Federal Government records. The information contained herein was secured from the files of this office, and from staff investigative activity.

The report describes the staggering volume of 25 million cubic feet of records now in existence in the Federal Government and the prospects if corrective action is not taken soon. The problem presented is not only one of managing this great accumulation of records, but of the easy creation of records, much of it unnecessary and wasteful. Still another costly phase of the records problem is the creation of reports by Government agencies and departments, a phase lending itself to large savings through the elimination of much duplication of effort and paperwork.

Your attention is particularly directed to the recent experience of the Post Office Department, as related on page 11 of the report, where much economy has been effected through an objective study of both the creation and management of records by a disinterested group of specialists. Your further attention is directed to—

(1) The estimated cost of $4 billion annually necessary to maintain this mountain of records.

(2) The fact that efforts to date have served only to decrease the rate of accumulation.

(3) The desirability of a survey by competent and disinterested persons.

(4) The great savings possible from such a survey. According to our estimate from facts available, this may reach $850 million to $950 million. Some estimates reach as high as $1 billion and higher.

(5) The fact that savings accomplished through this means will be immediately effective rather than brought about at some distant future date.

While it will be necessary, of course, to safeguard the documents of historical or permanent-records value, there is every indication that great economies can be brought about by the disposal of useless records and by the installation of a system whereby (1) useless records are not created, (2) records having only a temporary value are destroyed upon termination of their value, and (3) records having permanent value, but not actively in use, can be maintained in inexpensive quarters.

There is every indication that money spent on such a project will be money well spent.

With every good wish, I am,
Very truly yours,

PAUL E. KAMERICK,
Chief, Investigations.

CREATION AND MANAGEMENT OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT RECORDS

This report is presented by the Investigations Division to demonstrate the urgent need for immediate remedial action toward solution of the complex and costly Federal records management problems.

INTRODUCTION

The problem of records management in the Federal Government is one which has reached immense proportions over the years. The annual records management cost to the United States Government now is approximated at $4 billion. Through uneconomic practices in the creation, maintenance, and disposal of Federal records, the volume now threatens to become so cumbersome and expensive as to make beneficial use difficult.

The problem is one which cannot be approached with generalizations, but rather must be solved through a composite study of individual projects and methods of records management throughout the governmental structure. It is not an area, unfortunately, conducive to a pilot study of a small segment, thereafter enlarging the findings into general conclusions. It is a field in which the problems are peculiar to a particular portion of the program, and one incapable of mass solution, since the functions and problems of various Government agencies vary widely.

The enormity of the problem can be illustrated by the fact that Government agencies generally consider 31 percent of their records as permanent, or at least without definite disposal dates; private firms usually figure about 10 percent of their records as permanent. Unless this percentage can be reduced, it will mean that permanent quarters will have to be found in the next few years for 7 million cubic feet of records, enough to fill seven additional buildings as large as the National Archives. As the situation now stands, the quantity of Federal records is continuously growing, increasing in 1953 from 24 million cubic feet to 25.2 million, the equivalent of 7½ Pentagon buildings full of records.

The civilian agencies managed in 1953 to destroy about as many old records as they created; that is, about 1.4 million cubic feet were destroyed while an equal amount was being created. The Department of Defense created about 2.8 million cubic feet of records and destroyed only about 1.6 million. But, taking the Government as a whole, and all agencies, military as well as civilian, in the fiscal year 1953, the number of records that were either retired to a center or destroyed not quite equaled the quantity of new records created; that is, about 4.2 million cubic feet of records were created and about 4.1 million cubic feet were either destroyed or retired to records centers.

The very size of the United States Government itself, and the variety of its operations, makes the problem an enormous one. Without an orderly system of records management it will be quite impossible to put an end to cases such as one which arose last year in the files of the Department of Defense. Thousands of used laundry slips which had been utilized by WAVE personnel in the last war, turned up in the files, and were destroyed through legislative action only after having occupied file space for more than 5 years. To put an end to situations such as this, and to avoid the impending crisis in the keeping of Government records, it is indicated that a survey be made by a qualified group, which survey should undertake solution of the myriad problems arising within the various areas of records management.

THE PROBLEM

The overall problem of records management is aggravated by the lack of centralization of control. A good part of the Government records are administered by the General Services Administration, which has attempted to synchronize the management of records under its jurisdiction by the establishment of records centers and depositories. This affects retired records only—i. e., those not needed by the agencies for day-to-day operations.

At the end of fiscal year 1953, GSA had in operation 9 Federal records centers and 2 depositories, which facilities held 1,881,000 cubic feet. By the end of fiscal year 1955, it is expected that 2½ million cubic feet of records will be accommodated.

The principal agencies that are not using the centers are the Department of Defense, which has its own centers administering about 2,800,000 cubic feet of records, just slightly more than the GSA capacity; the General Accounting Office, which is a great records producing agency, having about 1,400,000 cubic feet of records in its centers; the Selective Service System, with its own system of records depots holding about 275,000 cubic feet of records; and the Veterans' Administration, whose records center at Columbus, Ohio, houses about 185,000 cubic feet of records.

It is expected that an outside survey would examine the possibility of economies to be effected through the inclusion of the above agencies under a centralized records-control jurisdiction, and would undertake to revamp and simplify the record-keeping procedures of various Government departments which have been described as particularly backward in proper records management. Several agencies are listed below as a suggested starting place for any survey to be undertaken: The Veterans' Administration, the Securities Exchange Commission, the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, the Railroad Retirement Board (Chicago), the Bureau of Reclamation (Department of Interior), FOA and the Maritime Commission (Department of Commerce).

THE COST

An estimate of the overall cost to the Government of records management is of necessity on a general basis. The best estimate, however, seems to be in the vicinity of $4 billion. The foregoing figure has been arrived at through two different means in collaboration with Mr. Herbert E. Angel, Director of Records Management Division, National Archives and Records Service, GSA:

A. In the first method, the three branches of records management are analyzed individually, and then added to arrive at a total. That operation is as follows:

Creation

It costs $638.40 to create 1 cubic foot of records. There is annually generated by the United States Government 4,200,000 cubic feet of records. Therefore, the cost of creation of those records is annually $2,681,280,000.

Maintenance

The Hoover report indicates that $29 is the cost of space and maintenance for a record cabinet. On this basis, space and maintenance for 2 million record cabinets of active records is $58 million. To this figure is added space and maintenance for the equivalent of 1 million cabinets of inactive records at $14, yielding a total of $14 million. Personnel required to maintain these records is approximated at $925 million (250,000 people at an average salary of $3,700 per year). This establishes a grand total of $997 million for the maintenance of records. This figure probably is a little higher when there is added to it the cost of space and supplies used by the personnel referred to above.

Disposal

The estimated figure for disposal of records is approximately $30 million in total, of which something over $20 million is for salaries of personnel involved in this operation. This operation, as can be easily seen, is by far the least expensive part of overall records management.

Total

The sum of the above categories is $3,708,280,000, plus the cost of space and supplies used by the personnel as referred to above.

B. The second means of arriving at an overall figure is by working with figures submitted by the various civilian agencies plus a fair estimate of figures with regard to the military agencies. Based on 365,000 out of 900,000 workers, the results are as follows:

365,000 employees at an average annual salary of $3,700	$1,354,000,000
Use of 3 million cabinets (or equivalent) at $50 each	150,000,000
18 million square feet of space (6 feet per cabinet, but some think should be 7) at $2.38 per foot	42,000,000
Supplies at $50 per person	18,000,000
Equipment, other than cabinets, at $700 to $800 per person (desks, chairs, rugs, tables, IBM equipment, computing machines, etc.)	[1] 275,000,000
Total	1,839,000,000
Supervision and mail handling, transportation, postage, etc., at approximately 10 percent	161,000,000
Total	2,000,000,000
Military operations account for more than one-half of paper creation and cost is at least equivalent to civilian creation	2,000,000,000
Total	4,000,000,000

The fact that the two methods of computation coincide almost exactly (only 7 percent differential) is indicative that the $4 billion figure is about as accurate an estimate obtainable without a survey.

It has been illustrated by an outside survey of Government microfilming, that microfilming is not useful except for permanent records so far as space savings are concerned. On a strictly cost basis as between the use of records centers for records that have to be kept for varying periods of time up to 30 or 40 years, they can be held and administered more cheaply in a records center than by microfilming them. The expense of microfilming is considerably greater than keeping those records in the centers where the space and equipment are inexpensive, unless the records are to be maintained for more than the above period.

An outside survey is indicated in the field of records management in general, as well as in the field of microfilming, since both fields are rather controversial in nature, and any internal survey is apt to be unduly influenced by conflicts of interest, and clouded by years of established routine.

Results of surveys by GSA in fiscal year 1953 began to manifest themselves with the transfer to Federal records centers during the year of about 300,000 cubic feet of records from agencies that have been surveyed. At the same time, in the course of surveys conducted during the year, on-the-spot disposal resulted in destruction of more than 100,000 cubic feet of records.

This problem has received legislative attention as far back as 1943.

The legislative procedure with regard to the disposal of Federal papers is to be found in the Records Disposal Act approved July 7, 1943, as amended July 6, 1945 (57 Stat. 380–383; 59 Stat. 434). A copy of the act is attached as exhibit A.

The procedure under the act is as follows:

The agency desiring destruction of records notifies the National Archives of such desire. The Archives then prepares a list of the records to be disposed of and submits the list to the Joint Select Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives, which committee has been appointed in compliance with the provision of the above-mentioned act. The present committee is composed of C. W. Bishop and Edward A. Garmatz, members on the part of the House, and Frank Carlson and Olin D. Johnson, members on the part of the Senate. The clerk of the committee checks the lists as submitted by the Archives and certifies the list to the committee members for their signatures. When the signatures have been obtained, the list is sent back to the Archives where it is photostated and returned to the committee clerk. The committee clerk thereupon submits the list to the tally clerk of the House who assigns to it a report number. That number is then dispatched to the Archives and to the Senate where it is noted in the Senate records. The Archives officers next send notification to the requesting agency, citing the authority and the report number and authorizing disposal of the requested papers. The disposal thereof is thereupon entered into the records of both House and Senate. A sample House report, as described herein, is attached as exhibit B.

The problem has been further examined in 1949 by the (Hoover) Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government.

In its Task Force Report on Records Management (appendix C), the Commission cited the following objectives and general recommendations:

I. OBJECTIVES

Recordmaking and recordkeeping in the Federal Government represent (1) indispensable tools in the conduct of the Government's operation, (2) the greatest consumer of salaries, space and equipment of all the housekeeping activities of the Federal Government, (3) the sum of the recorded obligations of the Federal Government at home and abroad, (4) an invaluable store of hard-earned experience recorded in our national effort to sustain a system of democracy and private enterprise.

The objectives of this report with recommendations are balanced accordingly: (1) to sharpen the efficiency of these management tools, (2) to eliminate excessive costs in salaries, space and equipment, (3) to safeguard the essential records of our obligations, (4) to capitalize on our invaluable store of recorded experience.

II. GENERAL RECOMMENDATIONS

A. That a Federal records administration be established and that the existing National Archives establishment become an integral part thereof.

B. That a law be cited as the "Federal Records Management Act of 1949" be enacted to provide for the creation, preservation, management and disposal of records of the United States Government.

C. That a minimum program for records management be required in each department and agency of the United States Government.

As a result of the Hoover Commission survey, as well as of the obvious need for records management procedures, there was passed in 1949 the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949. The policy of the act is set forth in section 2 as follows:

It is the intent of the Congress in enacting this legislation to provide for the Government an economical and efficient system for (a) the procurement and supply of personal property and nonpersonal services, including related functions such as contracting, inspection, storage, issue, specifications, property identification and classification, transportation and traffic management, management of public utilities services, repairing and converting, establishment of inventory levels, establishment of forms and procedures, and representation before Federal and State regulatory bodies; (b) the utilization of available property; (c) the disposal of surplus property; (d) records management.

Title I, section 104, of the act sets forth a summary of the records management provisions:

The National Archives establishment and its functions, records, property, personnel, obligations, and commitments are hereby transferred to the General Services Administration. There are transferred to the Administrator (1) The functions of the Archivist of the United States, except that the Archivist shall continue to be a member or chairman, as the case may be, of the bodies referred to in subsection (d) of this section, and (2) the functions of the Director of the Division of the Federal Register of the National Archives establishment. The Archivist of the United States shall hereafter be appointed by the Administrator.

(b) There are also transferred to the General Services Administration the following bodies together with their respective functions and such funds as are derived from Federal sources: (1) The National Archives Council and the National Historical Publications Commission, established by the Act of June 19, 1934 (48 Stat. 1122); (2) the National Archives Trust Fund Board, established by the act of July 4, 1941 (55 Stat. 581); (3) the Board of Trustees of the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library, established by the joint resolution of July 18, 1939 (53 Stat. 1062); and (4) the Administrative Committee, established by section 6 of the act of July 26, 1935 (49 Stat. 501), which shall hereafter be known as the Administrative Committee of the Federal Register. The authority of the Administrator under section 106 hereof shall not extend to the bodies or functions effected by this subsection.

(c) The Administrator is authorized (1) to make surveys of Government records and records management and disposal practices and obtain reports thereon from Federal agencies; (2) to promote, in cooperation with the executive agencies, improved records management practices and controls in such agencies, including the central storage or disposition of records not needed by such agencies for their current use; and (3) to report to the Congress and the Director of the Bureau of the Budget from time to time the results of such activities.

The substantive provisions for the amalgamation and control of the governmental records are set forth in title V of the act. This title is attached as exhibit C, and is known as the Federal Records Act of 1950.

As can be seen from the act, the Administrator of General Services is vested with staff responsibility for coordinating and improving standards, procedures, and techniques with respect to all three areas of records management in the Federal Government: (1) The creation of records; (2) the maintenance of current records; and (3) the retirement and disposal of records when no longer needed for current operations. In each area, the Administrator is directed to develop improved practices and promote their adoption by all Federal agencies. He is required to establish standards for the guidance of Federal agencies in determining the classes and types of records that should be retained and those that should be disposed of; and he must assist agencies in the application of such standards. To the Administrator also goes responsibility for assisting agency heads in protecting the records of their agencies against unauthorized physical damage or removal. He is given power to inspect or survey each agency, in person or by a deputy, enabling him to obtain first-hand information concerning records management problems and programs. As can be further noted from the act, the Administrator has authority to establish, maintain, and operate records centers for the storage, processing, and servicing of records of Federal agencies. The economies made possible through the establishment of records centers have been amply proved by the experience of the Government agencies during the last few years. The need for centralized facilities was emphasized by the (Hoover) Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, and in this respect the instant act carries out the Commission's recommendations.

The central staff responsibility for records management placed with the Administrator by title V makes it entirely logical that, except to the extent otherwise provided by law, authority to issue regulations governing the interagency transfer of records should also be vested in the Administrator.

In carrying out his functions under the act, the Administrator of General Services is closely assisted by the Archivist of the United States and by the Director of the Records Management Division, National Archives and Records Service, GSA. However, in the annual report on the National Archives and Records Service by the Administrator of General Services for fiscal year 1953, it is recommended that "a more careful evaluation of the so-called permanent records would be profitable and should be undertaken as soon as possible." There is no evidence that substantial action ever has been taken on this recommendation.

The functions of the Records Management Division of the National Archives and Records Service are set forth in the United States Government Organization Manual, as follows:

> This Division is responsible for surveying records management and disposal practices of Federal agencies and obtaining reports thereon; for developing standards and methods for efficient records management and promoting their adoption by Federal agencies; for the management of central records centers established by GSA to serve as economical storage depositories for retired records of Federal agencies; and for compiling agency reports of records management activities for submission through the Administrator to the Bureau of the Budget and the Congress.

FUTURE ACTION

While there has been some governmental activity toward solution of the records problem, a more vigorous approach seems necessary.

As a possible guide to the solution of the records problem on a Federal level, there is presented herein, examples of what has been done along those lines on the State level. Two States, Maryland and Virginia, are singled out for this report as examples of successful attempts toward solution of State records management problems.

The State of Maryland has undertaken to effectuate a streamlining of its records management procedures. In order to accomplish this end, the State provided appropriate legislation as follows:

AN ACT To repeal section 156 of article 41 of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1951 edition), title "Governor—Executive and Administrative Departments," subtitle "Hall of Records Commission," and to enact in lieu thereof, a new section to said article to be known as section 156 and to stand in the place and stead of the section so repealed, providing that every State agency shall establish a continuing program for management of its records, and for the disposal of its records, and further providing that it shall be the duty of the Hall of Records Commission to supervise said management and disposal and to review and make recommendations concerning said management

Section 156 of article 41 of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1951 edition), title "Governor—Executive and Administrative Departments," subtitle "Hall of Records Commission," be and it is hereby repealed, and that a new section to be known as section 156 of said article, be and it is hereby enacted in lieu thereof and all to read as follows:

"(a) It shall be the duty of each State agency to develop a continuing program for the economical and efficient management of its records, including the establishment and/or revision of record retention schedules, in order to insure prompt and orderly disposal of records not required by the operations of the agency. Prior to becoming operative all such retention schedules must receive the approval of the Hall of Records Commission, but schedules providing for the destruction of records must also receive the written approval of the Board of Public Works.

"(b) It shall be the duty of the Hall of Records Commission to further the aforesaid program; to inspect the records and records management practices of all State agencies, boards and commissions; to review proposals for the purchase or rental of record equipment, storage space and services, including the microfilming and photocopying of records, and to make recommendations thereon to, the Department of Budget and Procurement or to the Board of Public Works as appropriate.

Approved April 11, 1953.

The State decided that an outside survey was necessary to accomplish the desired end. The story is best told in the 18th Annual Report of the Archivist of the State Hall of Records as follows:

SURVEY OF STATE RECORDS

Up to 1941 there was no general supervision over the records-management practices employed by the various State and county agencies. The records of a few agencies were controlled by statute; opinions of the Attorney General governed others, but for the most part, records problems were left to the custodian to solve. The creation of the hall of records commission (ch. 18, Acts of 1935) and the construction of an archives building were beneficial insofar as the older records were concerned but had little effect on the care of modern records.

A permissive law was enacted in 1941 (ch. 825, Acts of 1941) which provided that records no longer necessary to the operations of an agency could be offered to the hall of records commission for deposit. If the commission decided that the records were of no archival value, they were refused for deposit and the agency could then apply to the board of public works for permission to destroy them.

Legislation passed in 1945 (ch. 248, Acts of 1945) required that all records created prior to April 28, 1788, be deposited in the hall of records. An act of 1949 (ch. 518, Acts of 1949) required that microfilming done for the purpose of destroying the original records must meet standards established by the hall of records commission. A law (ch. 755, Acts of 1949) of the same year provided a means of establishing records-disposal schedules, and it also defined certain categories as nonrecord in nature and, therefore, subject to disposal by the record custodian. Working under these laws, the Archivist succeeded in assisting many agencies toward a solution of their records problems. At the same time, however, it was realized that the problems of proper records control were increasing rather than diminishing.

At this point, as records problems were approaching an acute stage, it was proposed to Governor Lane that a survey be made of all State records. Although Governor Lane favored the proposal, he left it to his successor in office to make the final decision. It was, therefore, Governor McKeldin who requested the general assembly to appropriate $48,000 for the survey (miscellaneous appropriations No. 2, item 45, 1953 budget).

The contract between the State, represented by the board of public works, and Records Engineering, Inc., was signed on April 28, 1952. Work on the survey began immediately.

Governor McKeldin appointed a "Special commission on records management" to maintain liaison between the State and Records Engineering, Inc. The commission members were: Joseph O'C. McCusker, chief deputy comptroller and secretary to the board of public works, James G. Rennie, director of the department of budget and procurement, Michael J. Potthast, assistant State auditor, and Morris L. Radoff, archivist, chairman.

The survey of records and recordkeeping practices of the State government, which was started by Records Engineering during the last quarter of fiscal year 1952, was completed in January 1953. On March 2, 1953, the Governor's special commission found that the terms of the contract had been met and recommended that the contractor be paid in full and released from any further obligation to the State. Records Engineering, on March 9, 1953, was notified that the contract had been completed.

The survey, which was conducted under the direction of Irving Zitmore, general manager, Records Engineering, Inc., and Albert Rosenfeld, field supervisor, covered 98 different State and county agencies and was presented in 35 separate reports. In addition, seven other reports were prepared consisting of a summary report and specialized reports on records-management practices. During the course of the survey, orientation conferences were held within the agencies being studied so that agency personnel were acquained with the purposes of the analysis as well as the methods used and the results desired. Following the conferences, the first step in the preparation of the report was an inventory of the principal files and records of the agency. Employees were then interviewed to ascertain the use made of the individual records. Drafts of the reports were submitted, with a request for comments, to the agency heads, the commission members and to Robert M. Thomas, assistant attorney general, assigned as legal consultant to the commission. All agencies surveyed received final copies of the reports.

The Governor's special commission at its March meeting proposed, subject to the approval of the Governor and the hall of records commission, that the hall of records commission assume the administration of the State records management program. The Governor's special commission, with the assistance of Records Engineering, Inc., drafted appropriate legislation. On March 19, 1953, Senators Della and Kimble introduced the bills in the general assembly which on passage became chapters 436 and 437 of the Acts of 1953 and which are reprinted under "Acts of Assembly" in this report.

The responsibilities of the hall of records commission under these acts required an increase in staff, and accordingly, an additional appropriation of $11,942 was asked for. This amount was included in the Governor's supplemental budget and was granted by the general assembly, April 1, 1953.

The records management division of the hall of records commission came into being on July 1, 1953. While the survey prepared by Records Engineering, Inc., afforded an excellent base for the beginning of such a program, there is much work that must be accomplished before it can become fully effective. It is too soon to know how much money can be saved but there is every reason to believe that, with the cooperation of the agencies, the total will be large. It is interesting to note that Records Engineering, Inc., estimated in their summary report that the accumulation of records inventoried at the time of the survey can be reduced from 25,000 to 12,500 linear feet, and that the net annual increment can be reduced from 1,750 to 250 linear feet. J. Millard Tawes, comptroller of the treasury, generalized the results of the survey cogently when he said for the press:

"For the first time in Maryland history we have a complete inventory of records held by the State, their volume, how fast they accumulate, and their value, need and use from a legal, archival, and business standpoint. This information together with the retirement schedules which have been carefully worked out with legal approval, will be of utmost value in making operations of all State agencies more efficient and economical."

An interview with the State archivist, Dr. Morris L. Radoff, elicited the information that the State was well satisfied with the results of the outside survey and now is taking steps to effectuate the procedures.

Members of the Maryland government staff under Dr. Radoff estimated that since the survey, the State has been able to destroy 40 or 50 tons, or 3,000 cubic feet of material, out of several hundreds of tons based on initial inventories, or approximately 17,000 cubic feet as a direct result of the survey, and is making great strides in furthering this record in conformance with survey recommendations.

Attached are some forms used by the Maryland government in its records management program as a result of the survey. Exhibit D is a form letter sent to all State agencies informing them of the records management program and individual agency responsibility thereunder.

Exhibit E is a form to be submitted by the State agency to the archivist requesting disposition of records described therein. The form then is kept as a permanent descriptive record of papers destroyed.

Exhibit F is a certificate which states that certain records have been destroyed. The certificate merely lists the records and references to descriptive material contained in a form such as exhibit E.

Exhibit G is a form used by the archivists in analyzing agency records in an attempt to aid the agency in setting up and managing its own records and in establishing a schedule of disposal for them.

The Commonwealth of Virginia also engaged an outside organization to undertake the survey and reorganization of State records management. In 1949 they undertook a records survey of all State agencies, institutions, and departments.

The initial benefits to the State from the survey included destruction of 25 years' accumulation of records at an estimated saving in space and equipment of $150,000 and a conservative estimate of savings to the Commonwealth is approximately $50,000 per year.

Former Gov. William M. Tuck, of Virginia, now a Member of Congress from that State, was the official who instituted the outside survey in Virginia. In his words, the survey resulted in a "very large savings of public funds." Furthermore, as a result of his experience on a State level, he has made the following observation:

In view of the tons of Federal records, involving millions of cubic feet of floor-space for their storage and the public funds necessary to be expended, it would seem to me that much savings could be accomplished and I would strongly recommend that provision be made for a study of this subject.

PRIVATE INDUSTRY

The results of large private industries' efforts to solve the problem of records management show promise of good results on the Federal Government level.

Radio Corporation of America, Inc., as a result of a highly satisfactory outside survey conducted for Montgomery Ward, Inc., contracted with an outside organization to survey the records of RCA.

It is indicated that RCA was extremely successful with its survey, which resulted in the destruction of some 25 to 30 tons of records and the saving of many thousands of square feet of space.

The outside firm was able to change antiquated company policies of records management by pointing out more satisfactory methods employed by other companies of comparable size. For example, the survey cut down the time for retaining certain employment records from 21 years to 2 years. This resulted in release of much filing equipment, space, and administrative cost.

RCA officials felt that an outside group had no personal feelings about the records under consideration and thus would be able to exercise considerably more objectivity of judgment in the destruction thereof.

When the project was under consideration, the survey organization was asked to submit an estimate of proposed time and expense to be involved in the survey. It was then undertaken to keep the survey within the proscribed limits.

Another example of the successful records-survey project in private industry is to be found in the one conducted for the B. F. Goodrich Co. of Akron, Ohio.

Company officials long were aware of the records-management problem but, until the outside surveyors took over, were unable to convince their various department officials that certain records should be retired or destroyed for economy purposes.

When the outside surveyors completed the job, they were able to show these officials on an objective basis that their records program was inefficient and uneconomic.

The survey was successful from a financial standpoint since it cost the company some $7,500 to $8,000 and has directly resulted in savings of some $60,000 annually since its completion, plus the elimination of several tons of records which took up valuable office and storage space and a great deal of administrative time and effort.

SURVEYS ON A FEDERAL GOVERNMENT LEVEL

Outside records surveys on a Government level seem also to have shown eminently satisfactory results to date.

As mentioned previously in the instant report, there has been an outside survey conducted on behalf of GSA in the field of Government microfilming activities.

As a result of that survey the agency now has a complete analytical report on all phases of Government microfilming, along with suggested solutions to all problems presenting themselves in this field. For example, the agency was shown that its microfilming equipment was operating at only 19 percent of capacity. Suggestions were made for improvement of this situation.

The survey referred to above became the subject of discussion in the hearings on the Independent Offices Appropriations for 1955 before a subcommittee of the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives. In that hearing the results were described in the following exchange between Congressman Yates and Mr. Wayne C. Grover, Archivist of the United States:

> Records Engineering, Inc., found that there are about 230 going projects in the Government. They examined several projects in detail, projects now in existence on which expenditures of around $800,000 are being made annually. They recommended the discontinuance of some of the microfilming, and changes in other projects, which amount to a saving of $400,000 on that $800,000 that is being expended right today.
> Mr. YATES. The summary in the survey itself, page 4, subparagraph (d), states:
> "Savings estimated at $2,400,000 in present operations were in view at the time of the survey and $6,600,000 of proposed projects were found unacceptable in the light of modern records-management standards."
> Mr. GROVER. As to the $6,600,000 of proposed projects, one of them was a proposal to microfilm X-ray, which is not feasible at all, and another one had to do with the proposed microfilming of some securities of public debt service at Chicago. I think the reports on those two projects killed them. I don't think there is any more to worry about those.
> The figure of $2.4 million represents a saving of 50 percent of the total expenditures the Government is making today on microfilming, which this firm found to be running at around $4,800,000.

Another executive agency of Government, the Post Office Department, presently is taking steps to combat the records problem through use of a private records-survey organization.

The outside agency has been at work on the Post Office Department files since March 1, 1954. The decision to hire an outside agency to do the job was made because experience has shown that internal surveys rarely are successful. Personnel tend to form emotional attachments to records and regard them as a source of personal security, thus are loathe to relinquish them for disposal. An outside agency provides the only really objective approach to economy in records management, since such an agency has no personal relationship to the creation of the records and only is interested in finding moneysaving methods for the client.

The survey undertaken in the Post Office Department, and which is being recommended in this report for other agencies, undertook to review not only practices relating to the filing of printed matter but, what is probably at least as important, the practices in creation of records. In addition, there was considered the necessity for various categories of agency reports. There appears to be a tendency in the executive branch of the Government when a temporary need is filled by the preparation of a report to have such a report prepared at regular intervals even long after the use for such information is ended. A disinterested survey can eliminate such practices.

Even with only a few weeks of operation and with the survey incomplete, the economies already effected are such that the cost of the survey represents only a fraction. These savings, in a great measure, can be duplicated every year.

The value of this type operation is amply demonstrated by the following letter which was sent to the chairman, Senator Styles Bridges, on this subject by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield:

OFFICE OF THE POSTMASTER GENERAL,
Washington, D. C., July 12, 1954.

HON. STYLES BRIDGES,
United States Senate:

DEAR SENATOR BRIDGES: This is in reply to an oral request from your office which we received on Saturday July 10, regarding our experience in dealing with the problem of records management. It is my understanding that you wish this information for your guidance in attacking the problem of records management throughout the Federal service.

On March 1, 1954, we instituted an aggressive program of eliminating our accumulations of unnecessary records and of undertaking procedural studies which would lead to the curtailment of unnecessary records creation for the future. We found it necessary to engage the services of an outside consultant in order to obtain outside objectivity. Apparently one of the most precious things for an office worker is his store of records. Consequently, someone with no emotional attachment for those records must make the independent evaluations which will lead to their removal.

We gave to Records Engineering, Inc., the task of assisting us in making substantial accomplishments in curtailing records both for the immediate and for the future. Also, we directed them to assist us in establishing a records management unit which will carry on this work on a continuing basis as part of the Post Office Department organization.

Although this firm has been on the job little more than 3 months, it has been able to remove from Washington headquarters alone an accumulation that would make over 100 piles, each as high as the Washington Monument. From our field installations they have also provided for the removal and disposal of additional personnel records that will add to the scrapheap another 32 stacks, each as high as the Washington Monument. It would require 22 miles of filing space to house the departmental and field records so far scheduled for disposal or removal.

The savings accomplished thus far may be identified in space, file cabinets, and personnel. In the departmental headquarters alone, 15,000 square feet has been recaptured which was formerly occupied by old and useless records. In the old Post Office Building across the street from us, we freed an additional 16,000 square feet of floor space. At the Post Office Department record center at Asheville, N. C., we saved over 20,000 square feet of floor space by closing down the center through the destruction or removal of record holdings.

The savings in filing equipment will be identified materially over a period of several years. For 1952 we impounded and did not spend $200,000 previously earmarked for the purchase of filing equipment. For fiscal year 1955 we had budgeted $325,000 for the purchase of filing equipment. This money is also now being impounded. The surplus filing equipment which will be made available should provide a storehouse to take care of future requirements over a period of years.

Identifiable savings will also be found in the elimination of personnel as a result of the elimination of the paper on which they had been working or the removal of the files they had been caring for. If we take our personnel record-keeping for example, we have eliminated the flow to Washington from field offices of over 1 million pieces of paper a year. We have had various estimates of the number of people which this should eliminate, and although I cannot give you a specific figure today, it will be substantial. The report of Records Engineering suggests the elimination of around 40 people on just this 1 activity. Similarly, in each of the surveys that are made the report includes the recapitulation of identifiable savings which can be made in space, filing equipment, and personnel. Simultaneously, the contractor is examining our paperwork practices throughout all of our operations. They are examining paperwork in the postal transportation service, in the procurement and supply, in accounting, in reporting, in postal savings, money orders, etc. Should you desire it, we will be glad to give you a subsequent report of accomplishments as our findings materialize and are translated into action and savings.

Our approach to records management through the medium of Records Engineering, Inc., is different from that of the orthodox records management programs which are found in Government agencies. We have not been content merely with cleaning out file drawers of existing accumulations. Nor have we been content with establishing or curtailing retention periods so that records may be on hand for a specific period. Rather, we would like to avoid all of the costs which precede the filing of unnecessary paper. Accordingly, the approach we have used is to examine the work performed and ask ourselves whether the work needs to be done at all, or whether it can be done more simply. In this way we are able to go beyond the mere cleaning out of file cabinets; we are able to eliminate the creation of a lot of unnecessary paperwork. Therein lies the real opportunity for substantial savings. I am sure that the experience we are having in the Post Office Department should be fully applicable throughout the Federal service. It is for this reason that we included in the contract of Records Engineering, Inc., the responsibility for dealing with the problem "records creation."

Last week representatives of the Bureau of the Budget called upon us also to inquire about our records management program and our experience with this particular consultant firm. These staff members wanted particularly to know what techniques were being used which could be extended to other areas of the Federal Government. Specifically, they were interested in the records creation aspect of the work.

We told them that in the first instance we insisted upon the assignment of a senior member of Records Engineering, Inc., to monitor the contract. We had canvassed available consultants and obtained clientele appraisals. While we found most satisfactory appraisals of Records Engineering, Inc., we also found that particular credit was given to the work of the vice president and general manager of the firm, Mr. Irving Zitmore. Because of the immense problems we have here in the Department, we required that this project be under his personal supervision.

Mr. Zitmore agreed to assign to the project not "records analysts" as such, but broad-gaged procedures analysts who could make thorough procedural surveys and see the creation and use of records in their larger operating framework. Then, we required—as we do with other consultants engaged by us—that the product of the contract not be an expensive report which might or might not be implemented. Instead, we required that the firm work with us in the actual implementation and follow through our approved recommendations. In many instances our operating officials put their recommendations into effect even before a formal report is filed. The final element in our working formula is executive follow through. A representative of our top management works with the consultant in removing barriers and in achieving execution of approved recommendations.

May I add that we assigned to this firm, also, the problem of formulating for us our records protection program to assure continuance of Post Office Department operations in case of war and following a war. They are well along on this project. Their approach here parallels that which they have used on other studies. They immediately obliged each of our bureaus to canvass our operating assumptions in times of emergency and to review both our minimum operating requirements and our requirements for historical recordkeeping. As you know, microfilming can be most expensive. This firm developed for us a very simple solution involving the use of existing Government facilities which will enable us to have the advantages of microfilm protection at least cost to the Government.

I am pleased that your attention should have been called to the work that we have been doing here at the Post Office Department. Should you desire any further information on this subject now or in the future, please do not hesitate to call upon us.

Sincerely yours,

ARTHUR E. SUMMERFIELD,
Postmaster General.

CONCLUSIONS

1. There are at present more than 25 million cubic feet of Government records in existence.
2. The annual cost to the United States Government of records management approximates $4 billion. Under present conditions this figure must necessarily increase.
3. Unless some remedial action is taken with regard to records management in the near future, the problem will become almost incapable of solution.
4. Indications are that the existing means of dealing with the growing problem are inadequate.
5. It has been established through the experience of State governments and private industry, as well as some agencies of the United States Government, that private records surveys are successful in drastically reducing costs of records management.
6. It has been estimated that about 20 to 33 percent of the present cost of records management can be reduced by a records-management survey conducted for the United States Government as a whole. Based on this estimate it appears possible to save $850 million to $950 million. Some estimates reach as high as $1 billion and higher.
7. An outside survey is preferable to an internal one for the reason that the subject is one requiring objectivity of judgment, which can only be exercised by a disinterested outside group whose main interest is savings on a dollar and cents basis, and whose trained personnel are free from departmental self-interest.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. It is recommended that funds be made available to the Administrator of General Services Administration to arrange for surveys of record procedures, to embrace creation of records, maintenance of records and disposal of records as well as the administrative procedures utilized in these functions, these surveys also to include a study of the need for and the practices utilized in the Government reporting practices, particularly interagency reports. These surveys should eventually embrace all Government agencies, both civilian and military. The surveys should be conducted by competent, non-Government records management specialists.

2. It is recommended that responsibility for this activity be vested in the Administrator of the General Services Administration.

3. It is recommended that the Administrator of the General Services Administration be assisted by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget in implementing recommendations.

4. It is recommended that copies of all reports, together with an estimate of the savings to be effected, be made available upon completion of each survey to the Director of the Records Management Division, Archives and Records Service, the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, and to the Appropriations Committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives, as well as to the Government Operations Committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

5. It is suggested that an exception be made in the case of the substantive files of investigative agencies having responsibilities under law for the detection of crime or subversive activity.

6. In order that savings effected by means of these surveys not be dissipated, it is recommended that each agency be required to refund any such savings to the United States Treasury.

7. It is recognized that surveys covering the vast and complex structure of government will require time to complete. However, it is recommended that immediate, continuous, and vigorous action be taken so as to assure the benefits of these surveys as soon as possible.

8. It is recommended that in each case the services to be rendered by the records management specialists include recommendations which will hold additional accumulation of records to a minimum so that economies effected will apply into the future.

[57 Stat. 380-383; 59 Stat. 434]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That when used in this Act, the word "records" includes all books, papers, maps, photographs, or other documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received by any agency of the United States Government in pursuance of Federal law or in connection with the transaction of public business and preserved or appropriate for preservation by that agency or its legitimate successor as evidence of the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities of the Government or because of the informational value of data contained therein. Library and museum material made or acquired and preserved solely for reference or exhibition purposes, extra copies of documents preserved only for convenience of reference, and stocks of publications and of processed documents are not included within the definition of the word "records" as used in this Act.

SEC. 2. The National Archives Council shall promulgate regulations, not inconsistent with this Act, establishing (1) procedures for the compiling and submitting to the Archivist of the United States of lists and schedules of records proposed for disposal, (2) procedures for the disposal of records authorized for disposal, and (3) standards for the reproduction of records by photographic or microphotographic processes with a view to the disposal of the original records. Such regulations, when approved by the President, shall be binding on all agencies of the United States Government.

SEC. 3. The head of each agency of the United States Government shall submit to the Archivist of the United States, in accordance with regulations promulgated as provided in section 2 of this Act (1) lists of any records in the custody of the agency that have been photographed or microphotographed in accordance with the said regulations and that, as a consequence thereof, do not appear to have sufficient value to warrant their further preservation by the Government; (2) lists of any other records in the custody of the agency that are not needed by it in the transaction of its current business and that do not appear to have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their further preservation by the Government; and (3) schedules proposing the disposal after the lapse of specified periods of time of records of a specified form or character that either have accumulated in the custody of the agency or that may accumulate therein at any time after the submission of such schedules and that apparently will not after the lapse of the period specified have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their further preservation by the Government.

SEC. 4. The Archivist shall submit to Congress, at such times as he shall deem expedient, the lists or schedules submitted to him in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of this Act, or parts of such lists or schedules, and lists or schedules of any records in his legal custody, insofar as it shall appear to him that the records listed in such lists or schedules do not, or will not after the lapse of the period specified, have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their continued preservation by the United States Government: Provided, That the Archivist shall not submit to Congress lists or schedules of records of any existing agency of the Government in his legal custody without first having obtained the written consent of the head of such agency.

The Archivist may also submit to Congress, together with recommendations of the National Archives Council with respect thereto, and at such times as he may deem expedient, schedules proposing the disposal, after the lapse of specified periods of time, of records of a specified form or character common to several or all agencies that either have accumulated or may accumulate in such agencies and that apparently will not, after the lapse of the periods specified, have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their further preservation by the United States Government.

SEC. 5. Whenever the Archivist shall submit lists or schedules to Congress, it shall be the duty of the presiding officer of the Senate to appoint two Senators who, with the members of the Committee on the Disposition of Executive Papers of the House of Representatives, shall constitute a joint committee to which all such lists or schedules shall be referred, and the joint committee shall examine such lists or schedules and submit to the Senate and House of Representatives, respectively, a report of such examination and its recommendations.

SEC. 6. If the joint committee reports that any of the records listed in a list or schedule referred to it do not, or will not after the lapse of the period specified, have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their continued preservation by the Government, the Archivist shall notify the agency or agencies having such records in their custody of the action of the joint committee and such agency or agencies shall cause such records to be disposed of in accordance with regulations promulgated as provided in section 2 of this Act: Provided, That authorizations granted pursuant to schedules submitted under the last paragraph of section 4 of this Act shall be permissive and not mandatory.

SEC. 7. If the joint committee fails to make a report during any regular or special session of Congress on any list or schedule submitted to Congress by the Archivist not less than ten days prior to the adjournment of such session, the Archivist may empower the agency or agencies having in their custody records covered by such lists or schedules to cause such records to be disposed of in accordance with regulations promulgated as provided in section 2 of this Act.

SEC. 8. Whenever it shall appear to the Archivist that any agency has in its custody, or is accumulating, records of the same form or character as any records of the same agency previously authorized by Congress to be disposed of, he may empower the head of such agency to dispose of such records, after they have been in existence a specified period of time, in accordance with regulations promulgated as provided in section 2 of this Act and without listing or scheduling them.

SEC. 9. Records pertaining to claims and demands by the Government of the United States or against it, or to any accounts in which the Government of the United States is concerned, either as debtor or creditor, shall not be disposed of by the head of any agency under any authorizations granted pursuant to the provisions of sections 6, 7, and 8 of this Act, until such claims, demands, and accounts have been settled and adjusted in the General Accounting Office, except upon the written approval of the Comptroller General of the United States.

SEC. 10. Whenever the Archivist and the head of the agency that has custody of them shall jointly determine that any records in the custody of any agency of the United States Government are a continuing menace to human health or life or to property, the Archivist shall cause such menace to be eliminated immediately by whatever method he may deem necessary. If any records in the custody of the Archivist are disposed of under this section, the Archivist shall report the disposal thereof to the agency from which they were transferred.

SEC. 11. At any time during the existence of a state of war between the United States and any other nation or when hostile action by a foreign power appears imminent, the head of any agency of the United States Government may authorize the destruction of any records in his legal custody situated in any military or naval establishment, ship, or other depository outside the territorial limits of continental United States (1) the retention of which would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States or (2) which occupy space urgently needed for military purposes and are, in his opinion, without sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their continued preservation: Provided, That within six months after the disposal of any such records, the official who directed the disposal thereof shall submit a written report thereon to the Archivist in which he shall describe the character of such records and state when and where the disposal thereof was accomplished.

SEC. 12. The Archivist shall transmit to Congress at the beginning of each regular session reports as to the records authorized for disposal under the provisions of section 7 of this Act and as to the records disposed of under the provisions of sections 10 and 11 of this Act.

SEC. 13. Photographs or microphotographs of any records made in compliance with regulations promulgated as provided in section 2 of this Act shall have the same force and effect as the originals thereof would have and shall be treated as originals for the purpose of their admissibility in evidence. Duly certified or authenticated reproductions of such photographs or microphotographs shall be admitted in evidence equally with the original photographs or microphotographs.

SEC. 14. All moneys derived by agencies of the Government from the sale of records authorized for disposal under the provisions of this Act shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States unless otherwise required by existing law applicable to the agency.

SEC. 15. The procedures herein prescribed are exclusive and no records of the United States Government shall be alienated or destroyed except in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 16. The Act entitled "An Act to provide for the disposition of certain records of the United States Government," approved August 5, 1939 (53 Stat. 1219), the Act entitled "An Act to provide for the disposition of certain photographed records of the United States Government, and for other purposes," approved September 24, 1940 (54 Stat. 958), and all other Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed.

"(b) The Administrator shall establish standards for the selective retention of records of continuing value, and assist Federal agencies in applying such standards to records in their custody; and he shall notify the head of any Federal agency of any actual, impending, or threatened unlawful removal, defacing, alteration, or destruction of records in the custody of such agency that shall come to his attention, and assist the head of such agency in initiating action through the Attorney General for the recovery of such records as shall have been unlawfully removed and for such other redress as may be provided by law.

"(c) The Administrator is authorized to inspect or survey personally or by deputy the records of any Federal agency, as well as to make surveys of records management and records disposal practices in such agencies, and shall be given the full cooperation of officials and employees of agencies in such inspections and surveys: Provided, That records, the use of which is restricted by or pursuant to law or for reasons of national security or the public interest, shall be inspected or surveyed in accordance with regulations promulgated by the Administrator, subject to the approval of the head of the custodial agency.

"(d) The Administrator is authorized to establish, maintain, and operate records centers for the storage, processing, and servicing of records for Federal agencies pending their deposit with the National Archives of the United States or their disposition in any other manner authorized by law; and to establish, maintain, and operate centralized microfilming services for Federal agencies.

"(e) Subject to applicable provisions of law, the Administrator shall promulgate regulations governing the transfer of records from the custody of one executive agency to that of another.

"(f) The Administrator may empower any Federal agency, upon the submission of evidence of need therefor, to retain records for a longer period than that specified in disposal schedules approved by Congress, and, in accordance with regulations promulgated by him, may withdraw disposal authorizations covering records listed in disposal schedules approved by Congress.

"RECORDS MANAGEMENT; AGENCY HEADS

"SEC. 506. (a) The head of each Federal agency shall cause to be made and preserved records containing adequate and proper documentation of the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, and essential transactions of the agency and designed to furnish the information necessary to protect the legal and financial rights of the Government and of persons directly affected by the agency's activities.

"(b) The head of each Federal agency shall establish and maintain an active, continuing program for the economical and efficient management of the records of the agency. Such program shall, among other things, provide for (1) effective controls over the creation, maintenance, and use of records in the conduct of current business; (2) cooperation with the Administrator in applying standards, procedures, and techniques designed to improve the management of records, promote the maintenance and security of records deemed appropriate for preservation, and facilitate the segregation and disposal of records of temporary value; and (3) compliance with the provisions of this title and the regulations issued thereunder.

"(c) Whenever the head of a Federal agency determines that substantial economies or increased operating efficiency can be effected thereby, he shall provide for the storage, processing, and servicing of records that are appropriate therefor in a records center maintained and operated by the Administrator or, when approved by the Administrator, in such a center maintained and operated by the head of such Federal agency.

"(d) Any official of the Government who is authorized to certify to facts on the basis of records in his custody, is hereby authorized to certify to facts on the basis of records that have been transferred by him or his predecessors to the Administrator.

"(e) The head of each Federal agency shall establish such safeguards against the removal or loss of records as he shall determine to be necessary and as may be required by regulations of the Administrator. Such safeguards shall include making it known to all officials and employees of the agency (1) that no records in the custody of the agency are to be alienated or destroyed except in accordance with the provisions of the Act approved July 7, 1943 (57 Stat. 380–383), as amended July 6, 1945 (59 Stat. 434), and (2) the penalties provided by law for the unlawful removal or destruction of records.

"(f) The head of each Federal agency shall notify the Administrator of any actual, impending, or threatened unlawful removal, defacing, alteration, or destruction of records in the custody of the agency of which he is the head that shall come to his attention, and with the assistance of the Administrator shall initiate action through the Attorney General for the recovery of records he knows or has reason to believe have been unlawfully removed from his agency, or from any other Federal agency whose records have been transferred to his legal custody.

"(g) Nothing in this title shall be construed as limiting the authority of the Comptroller General of the United States with respect to prescribing accounting systems, forms, and procedures, or lessening the responsibility of collecting and disbursing officers for rendition of their accounts for settlement by the General Accounting Office.

"ARCHIVAL ADMINISTRATION

"SEC. 507. (a) The Administrator, whenever it appears to him to be in the public interest, is hereby authorized—

"(1) to accept for deposit with the National Archives of the United States the records of any Federal agency or of the Congress of the United States that are determined by the Archivist to have sufficient historical or other value to warrant their continued preservation by the United States Government;

"(2) to direct and effect, with the approval of the head of the originating agency (or if the existence of such agency shall have been terminated, then with the approval of his successor in function, if any), the transfer of records deposited (or approved for deposit) with the National Archives of the United States to public or educational institutions or associations: Provided, That the title to such records shall remain vested in the United States unless otherwise authorized by Congress; and

"(3) to direct and effect the transfer of materials from private sources authorized to be received by the Administrator by the provisions of subsection (e) of this section.

"(b) The Administrator shall be responsible for the custody, use, and withdrawal of records transferred to him: Provided, That whenever any records the use of which is subject to statutory limitations and restrictions are so transferred, permissive and restrictive statutory provisions with respect to the examination and use of such records applicable to the head of the agency from which the records were transferred or to the employees of that agency shall thereafter likewise be applicable to the Administrator, the Archivist, and to the employees of the General Services Administration, respectively: Provided further, That whenever the head of any agency shall specify in writing restrictions that appear to him to be necessary or desirable in the public interest, on the use or examination of records being considered for transfer from his custody to the Administrator, the Administrator shall impose such restrictions on the records so transferred, and shall not remove or relax such restrictions without the concurrence in writing of the head of the agency from which the material shall have been transferred (or if the existence of such agency shall have been terminated, then he shall not remove or relax such restrictions without the concurrence of the successor in function, if any, of such agency head): Provided, however, That statutory and other restrictions referred to in the provisos of this subsection shall not remain in force or effect after the records have been in existence for fifty years unless the Administrator by order shall determine with respect to specific bodies of records that such restrictions shall remain in force and effect for a longer period: And provided further, That restrictions on the use or examination of records deposited with the National Archives of the United States heretofore imposed and now in force and effect under the terms of section 3 of the National Archives Act, approved June 19, 1934, shall continue in force and effect regardless of the expiration of the tenure of office of the official who imposed them but may be removed or relaxed by the Administrator with the concurrence in writing of the head of the agency from which material has been transferred (or if the existence of such agency shall have been terminated, then with the concurrence in writing of his successor in function, if any).

"(c) The Administrator shall make provisions for the preservation, arrangement, repair and rehabilitation, duplication and reproduction (including microcopy publications), description, and exhibition of records transferred to him as may be needful or appropriate, including the preparation and publication of inventories, indexes, catalogs, and other finding aids or guides facilitating their use; and, when approved by the National Historical Publications Commission, he may also publish such historical works and collections of sources as seem appropriate for printing or otherwise recording at the public expense.

"(d) The Administrator shall make such provisions and maintain such facilities as he deems necessary or desirable for servicing records in his custody that are not exempt from examination by statutory provisions or other restrictions.

"(e) The Administrator may accept for deposit—

"(1) the personal papers and other personal historical documentary materials of the present President of the United States, his successors, heads of executive departments, and such other officials of the Government as the President may designate, offered for deposit under restrictions respecting their use specified in writing by the prospective depositors: Provided, That restrictions so specified on such materials, or any portions thereof, accepted by the Administrator for such deposit shall have force and effect during the lifetime of the depositor or for a period not to exceed twenty-five years, whichever is longer, unless sooner terminated in writing by the depositor or his legal heirs: And provided further, That the Archivist determines that the materials accepted for such deposit will have continuing historical or other values;

"(2) motion-picture films, still pictures, and sound recordings from private sources that are appropriate for preservation by the Government as evidence of its organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, and transactions.

Title to materials so deposited under this subsection shall pass to and vest in the United States.

"(f) The Administrator is hereby authorized to make and preserve motion-picture films, still pictures, and sound recordings pertaining to and illustrative of the historical development of the United States Government and its activities, and to make provisions for preparing, editing, titling, scoring, processing, duplicating, reproducing, exhibiting, and releasing for nonprofit educational purposes, motion-picture films, still pictures, and sound recordings in his custody.

"REPORTS

"SEC. 508. (a) The Administrator is hereby authorized, whenever he deems it necessary, to obtain reports from Federal agencies on their activities under the provisions of this title and the Act approved July 7, 1943 (57 Stat. 380–383), as amended July 6, 1945 (59 Stat. 434).

"(b) The Administrator shall, whenever he finds that any provisions of this title have been or are being violated, inform in writing the head of the agency concerned of such violations and make recommendations regarding means of correcting them. Unless corrective measures satisfactory to the Administrator are inaugurated within a reasonable time, the Administrator shall submit a written report thereon to the President and the Congress.

"LEGAL STATUS OF REPRODUCTIONS

"SEC. 509. (a) Whenever any records that are required by statute to be retained indefinitely have been reproduced by photographic, microphotographic, or other processes, in accordance with standards established by the Administrator, the indefinite retention of such photographic, microphotographic, or other reproductions will be deemed to constitute compliance with the statutory requirement for the indefinite retention of such original records. Such reproductions, as well as reproductions made in compliance with regulations promulgated to carry out this title, shall have the same legal status as the originals thereof.

"(b) There shall be an official seal for the National Archives of the United States which shall be judicially noticed. When any copy or reproduction, furnished under the terms hereof, is authenticated by such official seal and certified by the Administrator, such copy or reproduction shall be admitted in evidence equally with the original from which it was made.

"(c) The Administrator may charge a fee not in excess of 10 per centum above the costs or expenses for making or authenticating copies or reproductions of materials transferred to his custody. All such fees shall be paid into, administered, and expended as a part of the National Archives Trust Fund provided for in section 5 of the Act approved July 9, 1941. There shall be no charge for making or authenticating copies or reproductions of such materials for official use by the United States Government: Provided, That reimbursement may be accepted to cover the cost of furnishing such copies or reproductions that could not otherwise be furnished.

"LIMITATION ON LIABILITY

"SEC. 510. With respect to letters and other intellectual productions (exclusive of material copyrighted or patented) after they come into the custody or possession of the Administrator, neither the United States nor its agents shall be liable for any infringement of literary property rights or analogous rights arising thereafter out of use of such materials for display, inspection, research, reproduction, or other purposes.

HALL OF RECORDS,
Annapolis, Md., July 29, 1953.

To All State Agencies:

The general assembly of 1953 enacted into law (acts of 1953, ch. 436) the requirement that each State agency shall establish a continuing program for the economical and efficient management of its records. Under the same act the responsibility for guiding and advancing the program was placed with the hall of records commission. A copy of the law is attached.

Recognizing the importance of the records management program, the hall of records commission has established the records management division under the general direction of the archivist and under the immediate supervision of the newly created position of assistant records administrator. On July 15, 1953, Mr. Edward N. Johnson was appointed to this post.

The recent survey by Records Engineering Inc., has highlighted the urgent need for immediate attention to records administration in the State and it is the desire of this office to render every possible assistance to the agencies of the State in solving their records problems. The staff of the records management division will visit personally each State office and discuss its program but, since the size of the staff is necessarily very small, it will require a little time before these discussions can be completed. Visits will be made as soon as possible. In the meantime each office is urged to develop, to the fullest extent possible, its own records management and disposal program, bearing in mind the need for prior approval before any record materials are destroyed.

From time to time, the records management division will issue instructions and recommendations to assist the agencies in the management of their records. Should questions arise while preparing and administering the agency records program, the records management division will be pleased to offer any needed assistance.

Sincerely yours,

MORRIS L. RADOFF, Archivist.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That Section 156 of Article 41 of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1951 Edition), title "Governor—Executive and Administrative Departments", subtitle "Hall of Records Commission", be and it is hereby repealed, and that a new section to be known as Section 156 of said Article, be and it is hereby enacted in lieu thereof and all to reads as follows:

(a) It shall be the duty of each State agency to develop a continuing program for the economical and efficient management of its records, including the establishment and/or revision of record retention schedules, in order to insure prompt and

Destruction of Records - Gen'l

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On May 12, 1954 I forwarded to you copies of a report entitled "Records Management." Subsequent to this date I also forwarded directly for the attention of Mr. Paul G. Travers additional copies.

This is to advise that the report has been revised and while the revisions do not effect the items in which I believe the Bureau has a particular interest, yet I am forwarding the copies of the revised report for your attention. The revised report bears the title, "Creation and Management of United States Government Records".

While it is not contemplated at the moment that there will be a public release of this report, it is now being made available to any government agency requesting a copy of it and, for that reason, my original request that its use be limited is hereby withdrawn.

With every good wish, I am

Sincerely,

Paul E. Kamerick,

Problem:

During loyalty investigation in 1951 of [redacted] employed by Air Force, New York Office erroneously reported 11-30-51 that check of records Board of Elections, Brooklyn, New York, revealed [redacted] registered American Labor Party (ALP) in 1945. [redacted] denied this. A recheck these records by New York, May, 1954, reflected its report dated 11-30-51 was in error and that [redacted] did not designate party affiliation in 1945. New York letter 5-27-54 explained this record check in 1951 was made by SA (then special employee) Edward J. Kirk who furnished results to SA [redacted] by routing slip who dictated the 11-30-51 report. Notes subsequently destroyed and responsibility could not be fixed. New York suggested it institute procedure to keep notes of special employees and agents making records checks in case file where derogatory or unfavorable information is being reported. This proposal considered by Executives Conference 6-24-54 which unanimously recommended no change in Bureau procedure. In August, 1954, [redacted] called at Washington Field Office and questioned accuracy of Board of Elections records checks concerning his mother, father, and brother. Recheck of these records by New York on [redacted] and his family revealed New York report 11-30-51 was in error in 7 instances. New York still advises it unable to fix responsibility due to lapse of time and since notes were destroyed.

Proposed Procedure:

New York previously suggested in order to fix responsibility for this type of error in future it institute a procedure whereby notes of special employees and agents handling liaison and record checks will be preserved as part of case file whenever derogatory or unfavorable information is being reported. New York did not limit its proposal to Security of Government Employees (SGE) cases only.

Advantages of Proposal:

Responsibility could be fixed if discrepancy occurred between agents or special employee's notes and communication reporting information, providing stenographer or typist correctly transcribed her notes or rough draft.

Disadvantages of Proposal:

(1) Considering volume of SGE and other cases requiring such records checks, if these notes were retained in case file it would require preparation and filing of a great number of exhibit envelopes requiring much clerical time. (2) Such large volume of exhibit envelopes would occupy much needed filing space now at a premium in most offices. (3) The proposal valueless if stenographer or typist errs in transcription of her notes or copying data from special employee's notes. To correct such error, dictating agent would have to compare final report with notes of special employee. (4) Proposal is not limited to SGE cases. In those rare instances when such errors as this occur, they might not be confined solely to SGE cases and, therefore, proposal valueless if adopted in SGE cases only and same type error occurred in any other type of Bureau investigation.

Observations:

Current Bureau instructions in SGE and other type cases are that dictating agents should be permitted to review their reports after transcription which would permit dictating agent to compare final report with notes given him by special employee or other agent.

Executive Conference Consideration: AR:je 9-8-54

This proposal was again considered on 9-8-54 by the Executives Conference. Those present were Messrs. Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Boardman, Rosen, Harbo, Holloman and McGuire. Mr. Mohr recommended adoption of New York's proposal in SGE cases only. All others in attendance recommended no change in the present procedure. The Conference after weighing the advantages and disadvantages previously enumerated above, felt no change should be made in the current rule.

Attached is a letter to New York Office furnishing the SAC with corrective measures he should take to assure thorough investigations, accurate reporting and transcription of reports, but making no change in present procedure.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

By memorandum dated 5/19/54, I summarized a report of the Investigative Division of the Senate Appropriations Committee prepared by Paul E. Kamerick, former Agent of the Bureau, entitled, Records Management, United States Government, which had been presented to demonstrate urgent need for immediate remedial action towards a solution of complex and costly Federal Records Management problems. Principal purpose was to survey and apparently legislate, if necessary, to control the vast accumulation of record material in Government.

In connection therewith, an exception was suggested, "---in the case of the substantive files of investigative agencies having responsibilities under law for the detection of crime or subversive activity." Mr. Kamerick on August 2, forwarded revised copies of this report to the Bureau. Review of attached revised report reflects report changed to include comments concerning survey of records in Post Office Department by outside specialists, Records Engineering, Inc. It includes letter to Senator Bridges from Postmaster General which points out savings accomplished from 3/1/54 through 7/12/54. Briefly, Post Office was able to reacquire approximately 51,000 square feet of floor space and approximately $525,000. in filing equipment. Approximately one million pieces of paper a year flowing to Post Office from its field offices have been eliminated. The elimination of about 40 people on one activity has been suggested. Postmaster General accentuated fact that survey had been successful because it was being conducted by outsiders who have no emotional attachments to the records. He further pointed out that Records Engineering Inc. developed for them a system for microfilming wherein existing Government facilities were used which gave them microfilming protection at less cost to the Government. No other pertinent changes are noted.

4 ENCL. ENCLO. ATTACHED

Major recommendation in report is that funds be made available to GSA to arrange for surveys by competent non-Government records management specialists, of records procedures in Government embracing creation, maintenance, and disposal of records. The recommendation that exceptions be made in the case of substantive files of investigative agencies remains.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF INDEX CARDS INTERSTATE TRANSPORTATION OF STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLE

Reference is made to memorandum dated August 18, 1954, from Mr. W. G. Eames to Mr. Nichols which suggests that all index cards on motor vehicle motor numbers which have a subject listed on the card be destroyed.

It is estimated that approximately once a week the Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle Desk has occasion to attempt to identify a case by checking the motor number which usually results from the receipt of a citizen's letter. On occasions in the past, it has been found advantageous in answering inquiries to promptly identify the case through the motor number of the automobile involved. However, it is usually necessary to contact the field in these matters anyway and it is felt that the advantage of retaining the index cards referred to above is not sufficient to counterbalance the advantages of destroying these cards as outlined in Mr. Eames' memorandum.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the suggestion to destroy these index cards as outlined in the referenced memorandum be adopted.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF NOTES OF SPECIAL EMPLOYEES AND SPECIAL AGENTS HANDLING LIAISON AND RECORD CHECKS AFTER CONTENTS BEING INCORPORATED IN REPORTS

Problem:

Prior to November 15, 1949, the Bureau required that work sheets and forms used by Special Employees reflecting the results of their records checks concerning credit, criminal, and similar matters be placed in the 1A exhibit envelope of the case file. The Joint Committee by memorandum for the Director dated October 18, 1949, recommended adoption of a procedure suggested by the St. Louis Office that no record check work sheets be filed, but that the name of the employee making the check be shown on the administrative page of the investigative report. This suggested procedure which would result in a saving of time and space was approved by the Director, and Bureau Bulletin #67 dated November 15, 1949, instructed the field that such work sheets or flimsies of Special Employees may be destroyed. These instructions have not changed. During a loyalty investigation of [redacted], employed by the Department of the Air Force, in April, the New York Office erroneously reported that Board of Election records, Brooklyn, New York, reflected that [redacted] registered in 1945 as affiliated with American Labor Party (ALP). This record check was made by SA (then a Special Employee) Edward J. Kirk and was reported by SA [redacted] in report dated November 30, 1951. At a hearing before the Air Force Security Board March 31, 1954, [redacted] denied affiliation with ALP in 1945. New York was instructed to recheck Board of Election records concerning [redacted] registration with Election Board for 1945 and this check reflected [redacted] in 1945 did not designate any party affiliation.

b7C

New York letter of May 27, 1954, explained that Board of Election records were checked in 1951 by SA (then a Special Employee) Kirk, who furnished results to Agent [redacted] by routing slip. Agent [redacted] dictated that portion of his report from notes furnished by Kirk and these notes were subsequently destroyed.

ORIGINAL FILED IN

New York advised that due to lapse of time (two and one-half years) and since notes have been destroyed, responsibility cannot now be definitely fixed.

New York suggested that in order to fix responsibility for this type of error in the future, it institute a procedure whereby notes of Special Employees and Agents handling liaison and record checks be preserved as part of the case file whenever derogatory or unfavorable information is being reported.

This proposal was considered by the Executives Conference on June 24, 1954, which unanimously recommended no change in present Bureau procedure. A letter was directed to the New York Office on June 25, 1954, advising it that no change should be made in current Bureau ruling to the effect that such notes may be destroyed.

[redacted] subsequently in August, 1954, called at the Washington Field Office and questioned the accuracy of the Board of Election records checks with respect to his mother, father, and brother as were furnished him by the Air Force in its letter of charges. b6 b7C

New York was then instructed to make a complete recheck of these Board of Election records and submit an up-to-date report for dissemination. New York report dated August 20, 1954, reflects the results of a recheck of Board of Election records which is at variance with the data set forth in its previous report of November 30, 1951, in seven instances.

New York now advises it is still unable to fix responsibility due to lapse of time involved and since SA Kirk's notes have been destroyed.

Present Procedure:

Concerning retention of notes, work sheets and flimsies of Special Employees conducting routine investigations such as credit, criminal, and Government agencies checks, Bureau Bulletin #57 dated November 15, 1949, instructed the field that they may be destroyed. These instructions have not been changed.

Proposed Procedure:

New York previously suggested in order to fix responsibility for this type of error in the future it institute a procedure whereby notes of Special Employees and Agents handling liaison and record checks will be preserved as part of the case file whenever derogatory or unfavorable information is being reported.

Advantages of Proposal:

Responsibility could be fixed if there were a discrepancy between the Agent's or Special Employee's notes and the communication reporting that information, providing the stenographer or typist correctly transcribes her notes or the rough draft report.

Disadvantages of Proposal:

1. It would require the preparation of a great number of exhibit envelopes which would involve much clerical time.

2. These exhibit envelopes would occupy much filing space which is now at a premium in most offices.

With respect to the above two listed items, the following should be noted:

Since the inception of the loyalty program (Executive Order 9835), the Bureau has conducted approximately 26,500 full-field investigations and approximately 26,800 preliminary inquiries (PI's).

Since the inception of the Security of Government Employees program (SGE) in May, 1953, the Bureau has as of July 31, 1954, conducted approximately 3,500 full-field investigations and 3,000 PI's. In most full-field and in the large majority of PI's of loyalty and SGE investigations such checks as credit, criminal, and other record checks were made by a Special Employee or Agent other than the Agent dictating the report.

As will be seen from the above, if this proposal is adopted a very great amount of clerical time would be taken up in filing these notes or flimsies and a great space problem would result over a period of a year or several years in keeping such notes or flimsies in the case file.

In addition to the above, during the last fiscal year (1954) the Bureau conducted approximately 800 investigations under Executive Order 10422, approximately 26,000 investigations under Public Law 298 (which includes Atomic Energy Act investigations), approximately 5,500 Departmental and other applicant-type investigations. All of the above investigations have required checks such as credit, criminal and other records checks which were made in the large majority of the cases by Special Employees.

The above figures do not account for the huge volume of investigations conducted by the Investigative Division in the field of criminal investigations or investigations handled by the Domestic Intelligence Division, which in the majority of cases require many such checks by Special Employees.

It should also be noted that in those rare instances when errors such as this occur, they might not be confined solely to Security of Government Employees cases. In view of this possibility, nothing would be gained if the proposal were adopted in SGE cases and the same type of error should occur in any other type of Bureau investigation.

3. The proposal has no value if the stenographer or typist makes an error in transcription of her notes or rough draft or in copying data from Special Employees notes. To correct an error such as this the Agent or Special Employee would have to compare the final report with the notes of the Special Employee.

Observations:

It is noted that New York's suggestion does not appear to limit the above procedure to Security of Government Employees cases.

Current Bureau instructions in SGE cases and other classifications instruct that dictating Agents should be permitted to review their reports in these cases after they have been transcribed. (Manual of Instructions, Section 69E(2) - for SGE cases only, and general instruction is in Manual of Rules and Regulations, Section 4, page 22.) It is felt that responsibility can be fixed in cases of this type if the Agent dictating the report utilizing notes or flimsies furnished him by other Agents or Special Employees reflecting results of their investigation, such as records checks, would carefully read the report upon transcription or as soon thereafter as possible to insure the information contained therein is accurate before he initials the file copy.

Executives Conference Consideration: AR:jh 9-8-54

Present at the Executives Conference on 9-8-54 were Messrs. Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Boardman, Rosen, Harbo, Holloman and McGuire.

Mr. Mohr recommended adoption of New York's proposal in SGE cases only.

All others in attendance recommended no change in the present procedure.

The Conference considered whether it would be desirable to retain notes of Special Employees and Agents making record checks, but felt that the desirability would be offset by the amount of clerical work involved in preparing exhibit envelopes, labeling such envelopes, inserting such envelopes as the bottom serial in the field case file. The Conference recognized the disadvantages attendant to the additional space which would be required through the retention of such exhibit envelopes.

The Conference was aware that the retention of such notes would not prevent an error such as occurred in this case, but would assist in fixing responsibility as to whether the error was the fault of the Special Employee in that his notes were at variance with the actual record checks; or whether the notes of the Special Employee were correct but the dictating Agent who used the notes made an error; or whether such dictation was correct but the stenographer made an error.

There are already procedures in existence for recording the identity of an employee who makes record checks, even though his notes are not retained, and in this instance there was no question as to the identity of the employee, the only question being what did the employee find out and what did he tell the dictating Agent.

Current Bureau instructions in SGE cases and other classifications instruct that the dictating Agents should be permitted to review their reports after transcription, which would permit the dictating Agent to compare the final report with the notes given him by the Special Employee or other Agent.

After weighing these factors and the disadvantages previously enumerated above, the Conference felt no change should be made in the current rule.

Attached hereto is a letter to the New York Office. This letter forcefully brings to the attention of the SAC the absolute need for accurate reporting and transcription of reports. The letter instructs the SAC to discuss with Special Agents and Special Employees, stenographers and typists handling similar cases the absolute necessity for accurate and thorough investigations and accurate reporting and transcribing of reports. It also calls his attention to Bureau instructions regarding the review of the reports upon transcription by the dictating Agents and points out the need for Agents who dictate reports, utilizing the notes of other Agents or Special Employees, to make certain that the report submitted to the Bureau contains accurate information as reflected from these notes. This will assist the SAC in fixing responsibility and assuring accurate reporting in the future.

SUGGESTION

Certain types of correspondence be removed from Bureau files and destroyed, as follows:

1. Requests for Pamphlets, books and tours

Records and Communications Division Views

Mr. L. B. Nichols, Records and Communications Division, states current requests received for pamphlets (including material on the FBI, Communism, Identification, et cetera) are presently handled in Crime Records Section to a great extent merely by sending the material to the correspondent in an envelope, without a cover letter. Incoming request is destroyed, not filed. Mr. Nichols states, inasmuch as current requests are handled in this manner, he does not see that any useful purpose can be served by maintaining in Bureau files similar requests handled in past years.

With regard to tours, Executives Conference memorandum of 9/23/52, approved the procedure for Crime Records Section to acknowledge letters requesting tours, without preparing a yellow file copy or abstract. Incoming letter is destroyed after acknowledgement is sent. Mr. Nichols stated, inasmuch as this procedure is currently in effect, no purpose appears to be served by retaining correspondence received in past years requesting tours.

2. Mail regarding violations not within the Bureau's jurisdiction

Records and Communications Division Views

Mr. Nichols believes mail of this nature should be retained in Bureau files, both incoming letter and acknowledgement. Executives Conference memorandum of 9/23/52, previously considered this matter and at that time it was felt, inasmuch as there were only 30 such letters received a week, the risk of not having the letter in file would outweigh any advantages to be gained by not handling the correspondence in the regular manner. Mr. Nichols feels that this correspondence should be retained in the Bureau files in order that there will be a record to indicate the correspondence was properly referred to other Government agencies interested in the information furnished.

3. Correspondence from mental cases

Records and Communications Division Views

Mr. Nichols advised that not too much mail from mental cases is presently being filed. At present the Bureau destroys incoming correspondence from mental cases if the correspondent does not indicate something of interest to another agency; does not indicate the correspondent believes his life is in danger, or if the incoming correspondence does not contain allegations against Bureau personnel or against the Bureau generally. Index of mental cases in Crime Records Section identifies the particular piece of correspondence upon which the "mental" card is based and the danger exists that a general destruction of old correspondence in Bureau files from mental cases would also include a destruction of the particular piece of correspondence upon which the "mental" card in Crime Records Section is based. Because of this, it is felt there should be retained in Bureau files that correspondence which already has been received from mental cases, but that correspondence currently being received should continue to be destroyed, based on the exercise of good judgment

4. Greeting cards

Records and Communications Division Views

Mr. Nichols states very little correspondence acknowledging greeting cards is presently maintained in the Bureau files proper. Christmas cards are acknowledged without a file copy yellow or abstract and the Christmas card is destroyed after it has been "logged in." Letters acknowledging birthday cards are not filed in the actual Bureau files, although some such acknowledgements are retained in the personal files of the Director. Acknowledgements to other greeting cards are retained in Bureau files and it is felt they should continue to be retained there, and not be removed or destroyed because they are a strong point in establishing the particular friendship of an individual with the Bureau.

5. Requests for recommendations of schools for study of law enforcement and crime detection

Records and Communications Division Views

Executives Conference memorandum 9/23/52, approved acknowledgement of such correspondence, without yellow file copy or abstract. Incoming letter is destroyed when acknowledgement is sent. Since this is the current procedure, Mr. Nichols believes it is logical that old correspondence of this nature, which is already in Bureau files, could be destroyed without any loss to the Bureau.

6. Requests for copies of Identification Orders received from persons who are not in law enforcement field and who have no legitimate reason for receiving Identification Order

Records and Communications Division Views

Such correspondence is presently acknowledged by advising the correspondent it is not possible to comply with the request. Occasionally copies of several canceled Identification Orders are sent to correspondent. No yellow file copy or abstract is prepared. Incoming letter is destroyed when acknowledgement is sent. Mr. Nichols sees no useful purpose in maintaining old correspondence of this type in Bureau files, inasmuch as Bureau is not now filing mail of this nature.

7. Requests for information regarding women in police work

Records and Communications Division Views

Executives Conference memorandum 9/23/52, approved acknowledgement of such communications by referring writer to Government Printing Office pamphlet entitled "The Outlook for Women in Police Work" and by furnishing appropriate Bureau publications, where indicated. No yellow file copy or abstract is prepared. Mr. Nichols advised such correspondence could be removed from Bureau files without any loss to the Bureau.

8. "Thank You" notes requiring no further action and containing no further information of interest

Records and Communications Division Views

Mr. Nichols is opposed to removal of this type of correspondence from Bureau files and states that anytime the Director signs a letter like this it should be kept.

9. Letters regarding bribery, graft, pay-offs, corruption, inefficiency, political squabbling in Federal, state or municipal organizations, et cetera

Records and Communications Division Views

Mr. Nichols advised it is incumbent upon the Bureau to make such information available to the appropriate agency concerned; this is done under present procedures. Mr. Nichols feels correspondence of this nature should be retained in Bureau files to show the FBI is carrying out its responsibilities along these lines in the event a question arises in the future. Therefore, he is opposed to removing correspondence of this type from Bureau files.

10. Mail not regarding a Bureau case.

Records and Communications Division Views

Mr. Nichols believes correspondence of this nature should be retained in Bureau files and is opposed to removing such communications from Bureau files, inasmuch as it shows the FBI has properly referred the information to the interested agency.

11. Letters from children who want to work for the FBI.

Records and Communications Division Views

At present such communications are acknowledged, but no yellow file copy is made and no abstract is prepared. The correspondent is advised of Bureau requirements for employment and appropriate Bureau publications are furnished. Incoming letter is destroyed when acknowledgement is sent. This procedure was approved by Executives Conference memorandum of 9/23/52. Mr. Nichols sees no useful purpose in retaining old correspondence of this type in Bureau files in view of the fact current letters of this nature are destroyed.

12. Requests for data not available in the Bureau, but on which Bureau has related material

Records and Communications Division Views

Correspondents are presently advised the specific data is not available, but that material of a related nature is enclosed. Acknowledgements are prepared without yellow file copy or abstract. Incoming letter is destroyed when acknowledgement is sent. Procedure approved by Executives Conference memorandum 9/23/52. In view of the fact that current correspondence of this nature is not filed, Mr. Nichols recommends that previous communications of this type be removed from Bureau files.

13. That all mail which has been marked for de-indexing be destroyed, as distinguished from the particular types of mail specifically set out above.

Records and Communications Division Views

Mr. F. Waikart, Supervisor in Charge of Administrative and Personnel Records, Records and Communications Division, states such a procedure is not practical inasmuch as a piece of mail is an integral part of a case file whether it bears indexing or not. Currently in file is much mail that does not contain any indexing whatsoever. He is opposed to the adoption of this proposal.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION EDM:mew

Present at the Executives Conference of 9/30/54 were Messrs. Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Hennrich, Belmont, Rosen, Holloman, Nichols and Mason. The Conference unanimously concurred in the views of Mr. Nichols in each instance regarding the destruction or retention of certain information contained in Bureau files as listed below:

1. Destroy requests for pamphlets, books or tours.

2. Retain letters to Bureau concerning violations not within FBI jurisdiction.

3. Retain correspondence from mentally disturbed individuals when such correspondence is already on file.

4. Retain the greeting cards and letters which are already on file.

5. Destroy requests for recommendations for schools in which individuals can study law enforcement and crime detection inasmuch as this data adds nothing to our files and we do not currently file incoming correspondence of this type.

6. destroy that data already in the files relating to requests for identification orders received from persons who are not in the law enforcement field and have no legitimate reason for receiving identification orders.

7. Destroy that data in file requesting information regarding women in police work.

8. Retain in the file "Thank you" notes.

9. Retain in file letters regarding bribery, graft, corruption, inefficiency or political squabbling on the local, state or Federal level.

10. Retain in file mail received which does not relate to a Bureau case.

11. Destroy that data in file which consists of letters from children who want to work for the FBI.

12. Destroy that data in file requesting material not available in the Bureau but pertaining to matters concerning which the Bureau has related material.

13. Retain in file mail which has been marked for de-indexing.

SUBJECT: OBSERVATIONS ON SUGGESTION RE DESTRUCTION OF CERTAIN CORRESPONDENCE IN BUFILES

Destructions of Bureau Records - Files C

PURPOSE: Destruction of mail requesting pamphlets, books, tours, etc.; mental cases; [illegible] and immigration; N.A.A.C.P. data.

To set forth the observations of this section with regard to the suggestion which has been made for the destruction of certain correspondence in Bufiles.

b6
b7C

DETAILS:

Employee [redacted] of the Records and Communications Division has made a suggestion to the effect that certain types of correspondence be removed from Bufiles and destroyed. There is being set forth below the suggestion with regard to each type of correspondence mentioned, as well as the comments of the Crime Records Section on each suggestion:

A. Requests for pamphlets, books, and tours.

Comments

It is believed that no purpose is served in retaining correspondence requesting pamphlets and tours in Bufiles. As you know, requests for pamphlets (including material on the Bureau, on Communism, on Identification, et cetera) are presently handled in the Crime Records Section, to a great extent, by merely sending the material to the correspondent in an envelope without a cover letter, and the incoming request is then destroyed and not filed. Since this procedure is followed with requests of this nature which are currently being received, it does not appear that any useful purpose can be served in maintaining in the Bureau files similar requests which were handled in past years. You will also recall that Executives Conference memorandum of September 23, 1952, approved the procedure for this section of acknowledging letters requesting tours by preparing a letter without a yellow file copy and without an abstract; the incoming letter is then destroyed after the acknowledging letter has been sent. Since this procedure is currently in effect, no purpose appears to be served in retaining correspondence requesting tours which were received in past years.

B. Mail regarding violations not in the Bureau's jurisdiction.

Comments

It is felt by this section that mail of this nature should be retained, both the incoming letter and the Bureau's acknowledgment to it. The above-mentioned Executives Conference memorandum refused to approve a proposed procedure of acknowledging these letters without a yellow file copy or an abstract since it was felt that the Bureau should have a record of some sort to indicate that it has properly referred to other Government agencies information received by the Bureau which is of interest to the other Government agency. The Crime Records Section concurs in this view.

C. Correspondence from mental cases.

Comments

The Crime Records Section is of the opinion that correspondence which is received from mental cases and which is presently filed should be retained. Under our present procedure, we destroy incoming correspondence from mental cases if the correspondent does not indicate something of interest to another agency, does not indicate that the correspondent believes his life is in danger, or if the incoming correspondence does not contain allegations against Bureau personnel or against the Bureau generally. Therefore, not too much mail received from mental cases is presently being filed. Our index of mental cases in the Crime Records Section identifies the particular piece of correspondence upon which the "mental" card is based, and the danger exists that a general destruction of old correspondence in Bufiles from mental cases would also include a destruction of the particular piece of correspondence upon which our "mental" card is based. Because of this danger, it is felt that we should retain in the Bureau files that correspondence which already has been received from mental cases but that we should continue our present practice of destroying correspondence currently being received from them, basing the decision on the exercise of good judgment.

D. Greeting Cards.

Comments

Under present procedure, very little correspondence acknowledging greeting cards is presently maintained in the Bureau files proper. As you know, Christmas cards which are received are acknowledged without a file copy yellow or an abstract, and the Christmas card is destroyed after it has been "logged in." Similarly, letters acknowledging birthday cards are not filed in the actual Bureau files although some such acknowledgments are retained in the personal files of the Director. Acknowledgments to other greeting cards are retained in the Bureau files, and it is felt that they should continue to be retained and not be removed from the files and destroyed because they are a strong point in establishing the particular friendship of an individual with the Bureau.

E. Requests for recommendations of schools for study of law enforcement and crime detection.

Comments

It is felt by the Crime Records Section that no useful purpose is served by retaining correspondence of this nature in the Bureau's files. Such letters are acknowledged by referring the correspondent to the Commissioner of Education and, under a procedure approved by the Executives Conference memorandum of September 23, 1952, current communications of this nature which are received are acknowledged without a yellow file copy or an abstract, and the incoming letter is destroyed when the acknowledgment is sent. Since this is the current procedure, it is believed logical that old correspondence of this nature which is already in the Bureau's files could be destroyed without any loss to the Bureau.

F. Requests for copies of Identification Orders received from persons who are not in the law enforcement field and who have no legitimate reason for receiving Identification Orders.

Comments

At the present time, we acknowledge such letters by advising the correspondent that it is not possible to comply with the request, and we occasionally send the correspondent copies of several canceled Identification Orders. Our acknowledgment is prepared without an abstract and without a yellow file copy, and the incoming letter is destroyed after the acknowledgment is sent. This procedure was approved by Executives Conference memorandum of September 23, 1952. In view of the fact, therefore, that we are not currently filing correspondence of this nature, it is not felt that any useful purpose would be served by retaining old correspondence of this type in the Bureau's files. The Crime Records Section feels that such old correspondence could be destroyed without any loss to the Bureau.

G. Requests for information regarding women in police work.

Comments

We currently acknowledge such communications by referring the writer to the Government Printing Office for a pamphlet entitled "The Outlook for Women in Police Work" and by furnishing appropriate Bureau publications where indicated. Our acknowledgments are prepared without an abstract or yellow file copy, and the incoming letter is destroyed when the acknowledgment is sent. This procedure was approved by Executives Conference memorandum of September 23, 1952. In view of our current procedure of handling this type of correspondence, there appears to be no useful purpose served in retaining in the Bureau's files old correspondence of this nature which was received in the past. The Crime Records Section, therefore, believes that such correspondence could be removed from the Bureau's files without any loss to the Bureau.

H. "Thank you" notes which require no further action or contain no further information of interest.

Comments

Under the present procedure, "thank you" notes which require no further action and contain no additional information are retained in the Bureau's files. They serve no useful purpose whatsoever and are merely acknowledgments of letters sent by the Bureau. It is believed by the Crime Records Section that "thank you" notes of this nature which have been received in the past and which are received in the future should not be filed. Accordingly, it is recommended that "thank you" notes which have been received in the past be removed from the files and destroyed and that notes of this nature which are received in the future be destroyed upon receipt. No. Anytime Dir signs letter he reads it should be kept

I. Letters regarding bribery, graft, pay-offs, corruption, inefficiency, political squabbling in Federal, state or municipal organizations, et cetera.

Comments

It is felt by the Crime Records Section that this type of correspondence falls in the same category as that set out above under "B." Data of this nature is of interest to other Government agencies, both Federal and local, and it is incumbent upon the Bureau to make such information available to the appropriate agency concerned. This we do under our present procedure. It is felt that we should retain correspondence of this nature in the Bureau's files in order to show that we are carrying out our responsibilities along these lines should a question ever arise in the future. The Crime Records Section, therefore, does not feel that correspondence of this nature should be removed from the Bureau's files.

J. Mail not regarding a Bureau case.

Comments

It is felt that mail of this nature falls under the same consideration as that set forth above under "B" and "I" and for the same reasons should be retained in the Bureau's files indefinitely.

K. Letters from children who want to work for the FBI.

Comments

Under present procedure, letters of this nature are acknowledged but no abstract or yellow file copy is prepared for the acknowledging letter. Our replies to such letters merely advise the correspondent of the requirements for Bureau employment and appropriate Bureau publications are sent. The incoming letter is then destroyed after the acknowledgment has been sent. This procedure was approved by Executives Conference memorandum of September 23, 1952. In view of our handling of current letters of this nature, it is not believed that any useful purpose is served by retaining in the Bureau's files old correspondence of the same type. Accordingly, the Crime Records Section recommends that correspondence of this nature which is presently in the Bureau's files should be removed and destroyed.

L. Requests for data not available in the Bureau but on which the Bureau has related material.

Comments

Under our present procedure, these letters are acknowledged by advising the correspondent that the specific data requested is not available but that material of a related nature is being enclosed. Our acknowledgments to these letters are prepared without an abstract or yellow file copy, and the incoming letter is destroyed after the letter has been acknowledged. This procedure was approved by Executives Conference memorandum of September 23, 1952. In view of our present procedure in handling correspondence of this nature, it is not felt that any useful purpose is served in retaining in the Bureau's files correspondence of the same type which was received in the past. The Crime Records Section, therefore, recommends that correspondence of this nature be removed from the Bureau's files and destroyed.

CONCLUSIONS:

It is recognized, of course, that before any steps can be taken toward removing data from the Bureau files the procedure must be agreed to by the Executives Conference and that, therefore, the proposals should be presented to the Executives Conference. It is requested, however, that you indicate on this memorandum whether you agree with any or all of the recommendations of the Crime Records Section with regard to the suggestions and that this memorandum then be returned to this section so that an appropriate memorandum can be prepared setting forth the suggestions and recommendations for presentation to the Executives Conference.

RECOMMENDATION:

That you indicate your views with regard to the above suggestions and recommendations, indicating those with which you agree and with which you disagree, and that you return this memorandum to the Crime Records Section so that an appropriate memorandum can be prepared presenting the suggestions and recommendations to the Executives Conference for its consideration.

THE SUGGESTION:

In accordance with instructions set forth in Bureau Bulletin #53-15, (A), dated 6/25/53, motor numbers in Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle cases, where the subject is known, no longer are indexed at the Seat of Government. It is suggested that all such cards made up under the old rule and which would not be made up under the present procedures be destroyed; that is, all index cards made up on the motor number which have a subject listed.

ADVANTAGES:

Under present procedures, these cards would be destroyed eventually, since authority has been given to destroy such cards as they become five years old. It would save clerical time to complete the project in one operation and there would be an immediate savings of approximately three index card cabinets.

DISADVANTAGES:

None apparent.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4ELW/rtc

RECOMMENDATIONS:

Mr. L. B. Nichols, Records and Communications Division, and Mr. A. Rosen, Investigative Division, recommend the suggestion be adopted. Mr. Rosen estimates that approximately once a week the Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle Desk has occasion to attempt to identify a case by checking the motor number which usually results from receipt of a citizen's letter. In the past it has been found advantageous in answering inquiries to promptly identify the case through the motor number of the automobile involved. It is, however, usually necessary to contact the field in these matters and it is felt the advantage of retaining the index cards referred to in the suggestion is not sufficient to counterbalance the advantages of destroying the cards.

SUGGESTION:

I suggest that the following mail be removed from the files in the 62, 63, and 94 classifications:

1. All mail that has been completely deindexed as a result of the Purge Program.

2. The mail which is received today would be sent directly to Crime Records and in most cases is never returned to the Records (continued page 2).

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts):

None in effect

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4ELW/RE

Advantages of suggestion:

1. Suggestion would save space in file as well as in General Index, which is evidently needed.

2. Time involved in expanding 62, 63, and 94 classifications.

3. Save time of searcher reviewes and file reviewers. Thus

Disadvantages of suggestion:

1. Time involved in Review of files to determine the mail or files which could be eliminated.

2. Time spent in the removal of mail and cards from files and index.

The use by the United States of my suggestion shall not form the basis of a further claim of any nature by me, my heirs, or assigns upon the United States.

The Training and Inspection Division has requested your views concerning the attached suggestion which was submitted by the Springfield Division. That Division has proposed that the Bureau discontinue destroying all but one copy of serials in the file after the file has been closed for six months, and that that period be extended to one year.

The Springfield Division points out that files are frequently reopened during the first year after they are closed and two copies are needed by the Agent personnel and Clerical staff.

Although the adoption of this suggestion would require additional space, it is believed that the advantages outweigh this disadvantage, and that this suggestion should be adopted.

1. SUGGESTION #712-34

I suggest that we discontinue destroying all but one copy of serials in the file after the file has been closed for six months and that that operation take place only after the file has been closed for a period of one year. Such destruction could be handled by using the assignment card as a tickler for when the assignment card is destroyed, then the serials could be stripped from the file.

2. PRESENT PROCEDURE

Closed files are stripped of all extra copies of serials after the file has been in a closed status for a period of six months.

3. ADVANTAGES

A. Under the present procedure where all but one copy is destroyed after six months, many files are reopened shortly thereafter, making only one copy of a serial available when two copies are desirable and most often needed both by the Agent personnel and the clerical staff. The chances of a file being reopened after it has been closed one year or more are of course more remote.

B. From a supervisory standpoint, this suggestion would make available to the Supervisor the entire file and eliminate the necessity of attempting to supervise an investigation or review the file without having the pertinent serials available to him. It would definitely afford the Supervisor a better opportunity to adequately and intelligently handle the file.

4. DISADVANTAGES

For a period of six months there would be a temporary loss of space occupied by the additional serials left in the files for that period of time.

5. RECOMMENDATION

I recommend that this suggestion be put into effect.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION # August 1954 b6 b7C
Destruction of Bureau Records - General

[redacted] a Records Section employee who has been assigned to the program of de-indexing names from files as a result of obsolete indexing rules, has submitted the attached suggestions.

SUGGESTION:

That all mail that has been completely de-indexed in the 62, 63, and 94 classifications, be destroyed.

COMMENT:

Such a procedure is not practical inasmuch as a piece of mail is an integral part of a case file whether it bears indexing or not. We currently file much mail that does not contain any indexing whatsoever. This suggestion should not be adopted.

SUGGESTION:

That miscellaneous mail received from the public such as requests for pamphlets, books, and tours; requests regarding violations not in the Bureau's jurisdiction; correspondence from mental cases; thank you notes, greeting cards, requests for recommendations of schools for study of law enforcement, etc., which are currently sent to the Crime Records Section immediately upon receipt without processing, be destroyed as they are found in the files.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4ELW/ltc

COMMENT:

2 ENCL 45

For the past several years, the above type of mail is not filed unless the supervisors or clerks in the Crime Records Section designate the mail to be filed; actually a great majority of this type of correspondence is destroyed and not filed. Accordingly, such mail in file could also be destroyed as [redacted] suggests. However, it should be noted that this type of mail which will be found in a few general files will likewise be found in many case files on individuals, organizations, etc. Before our employees could commence removing and destroying such mail from file, detailed instructions as to the type which should be retained should be secured from the Crime Records Section. It is accordingly felt this part of [redacted] suggestion should be adopted, and that the Crime Records Section should furnish us detailed instructions on that type of mail which can be purged from files.

In accordance with SAC Letter #54-36 (Q) dated 7/13/54 requesting the field to submit their thoughts relative to further streamlining the Bureau's work, the following was received:

SUGGESTION: Destruction of Closed Files

That we discontinue destroying all but one copy of serials in the file after the file has been closed for six months and this operation take place only after the file has been closed for a period of one year. This could be handled by using the assignment card as a tickler, for when the assignment card is destroyed, then the serials could be stripped from the file.

PRESENT PROCEDURE:

CERTAIN Closed files are stripped of all extra copies of serials after the file has been in a closed status for a period of six months.

ADVANTAGES:

(1) If a file is reopened within the period of one year after it is closed, all copies of the serials will be available. It is noted that under the present procedure, files are frequently reopened after stripping; however, there is less chance of a file being reopened after being closed for one year. OBSERVATIONS:

Mr. L. L. Laughlin, SAC, Washington Field Office, is opposed to the suggestion. He states in Washington Field extra copies of serials are destroyed and files consolidated as rapidly as clerical assistance permits after the six months' period. He states he cannot see where any purpose would be served in holding them for one year, as those instances where additional copies of reports are needed are relatively rare, and does not see where any harm is done where only one copy is available, even in those few instances.

Mr. L. B. Nichols, Records and Communications Division, is in favor of the suggestion, stating that although adoption would require some additional space, he believes the advantages would outweigh this disadvantage.

There are 102 sections of captioned file containing anonymous communications. Oftentimes the anonymous communicator mentioned individuals, organizations, etc., in the communication. These names have been indexed. It is felt that information contained in these communications is trash. In the event anything substantial was furnished individual cases were opened. Accordingly, it is felt that all mail in this file more than five years old should be de-indexed in order to reacquire space in the General Index. There are 5,600 serials over 5 years old.

RECOMMENDATION:

That all mail more than five years old in file "Anonymous Communications," 62-108, be de-indexed.

SUBJECT: RECOMMENDED HANDLING OF FORM LETTERS REQUESTING CHARITABLE CONTRIBUTIONS FROM THE DIRECTOR

As you are aware, the Director receives a great deal of form letters soliciting contributions from him for various charitable groups, organizations, causes, etc. In the past, we have handled these, when they were form letters, by writing a brief memorandum to you pointing out the form nature of the letter and recommending that the letter not be acknowledged. A similar memorandum was prepared on each individual request.

It is not believed necessary to prepare individual memos on form requests of this nature. In the future, this section proposes to handle such requests in the following manner:

(1) If it is felt that the request has no permanent value to the Bureau and should not be filed, it will be destroyed by this section without acknowledgment.

(2) If this section believes that the request may have some future value in our files, a notation will be placed on the incoming form letter to the effect that it is a form letter and no acknowledgment is necessary and then it will be sent to files without acknowledgment.

In the event, of course, a particular letter should be received which you or some other Bureau official feels should be individually acknowledged, it will be so handled.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this section be given authority to handle form letters requesting contributions from the Director for charitable causes in the above-indicated manner.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #1077-54

[redacted] and [redacted] have suggested that the Identification (Fingerprint Matters) classification 32 be reviewed for destruction. They point out that many of these files contain a single form letter which was sent to a law enforcement agency and contains negative information. They also propose that the file backs, indicating that numbers in this classification are skips or are not used, be consolidated or destroyed.

b7C

This suggestion has been discussed with Mr. Trotter who agrees that the form letters mentioned above can be destroyed. It is noted that the Identification Division destroys correspondence of this nature without sending it to file at the present time. We have Archival authority to destroy this type of correspondence.

This suggestion has merit and is being adopted.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter be directed to [redacted] is a member of the Streamlining Committee and her suggestions will be acknowledged at the conclusion of the program.

Philadelphia Office by letter dated 11-26-54, has advised local office of Office of Special Investigations (Air Force) contemplates disposition of Bureau reports in future in view of limited storage facilities. OSI states they will in certain instances prepare digest of information contained in reports and destroy reports. Philadelphia Office has requested instructions how to advise OSI if they make formal request in future.

Problems of destruction of reports by other Government Agencies has not arisen before, although storage of our reports in Federal Records Centers by other Agencies, and method of destruction of Bureau reports in possession of United States Attorneys and other Branch Offices of Department has. On 7-8-54, Executives Conference considered suggestion by Honolulu Office that standards be established for security in Federal Records Centers of Bureau reports retired by other Government Agency. Conference unanimously concurred responsibility for security of Bureau reports furnished other Government Agencies rested with Government Agency to which forwarded. (66-7225-890) As result of United States Attorney, Cincinnati, Ohio, disposing of old Bureau reports by delivery to GSA for sale as waste paper in January, 1954, Department requested to instruct all Branch Offices of Department that any files containing FBI correspondence being destroyed, be done by burning in presence of representative of that particular office. (66-3286-558)

Department also requested in August, 1954, to instruct all Branch Offices of Department that whenever Office retired files containing FBI correspondence to Federal Records Centers that Federal Records Centers be instructed to consider them confidential and afford them complete protection. (66-7225-925, 950, 951)

RECORDED

Executive Order 10501 establishing regulations relating to Defense information provides that material marked "Top Secret", "Secret", or "Confidential" shall be destroyed by burning or equally complete method of destruction. Of course, OSI will have copies of our reports not classified under Executive Order 10501. Accordingly, it is felt that in the event OSI, Philadelphia, should request method of disposition of Bureau reports, Philadelphia Office should advise OSI of provisions in E.O. 10501 pertaining to destruction of documents containing classified information and further advise them that it is the Bureau's desire that all Bureau reports be so destroyed.

A second question arises, that is one wherein OSI indicated they would prepare digest of information contained in our reports which would be suitable for their purposes. Again Executive Order 10501 provides that classified information shall not be reproduced in any form or by any method without consent of originating department or agency. Again, it is felt that Philadelphia Office should be permitted to tell OSI that such a practice would be permissible.

Reurlet dated 11-26-54.

In the event local office of OSI raises question as to means of disposition of copies of Bureau reports disseminated to them, you should advise OSI they should be guided by provisions of Executive Order 10501 regarding destruction of records containing classified information. The order provides that Defense information marked "Top Secret", "Secret", or "Confidential" shall be destroyed by burning or equally complete method of destruction. The Bureau desires in addition that all copies of Bureau records not falling under this Executive Order be destroyed in the same manner.

In the event OSI prepares digests of information contained in the reports, you should advise them that as required by provision of Executive Order 10501, the Bureau has no objection to this practice provided adequate security is afforded such digests.

You should advise the Bureau of any further developments in this matter.

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Subject: CAPTURED GERMAN DOCUMENTS

By memo dated 10-6-54 it was recommended that the bulky exhibit filed behind 65-48824-393 be reviewed to determine if it should be retained in Bureau files.

This exhibit was furnished to the Bureau by the Department of Army in July, 1946, and is a mimeographed copy. It is not an original document. This exhibit consists of 52 fragments of stenographic transcripts of conferences which took place in Hitler's headquarters during the period from 1942 to 1945. This material was salvaged from hastily burned documents near the end of World War II. The documents are in German and have not been translated or indexed. A review of the documents reflects that the information therein has to do with Hitler's conversations with members of his military and personal staff. There is no information of an intelligence nature in which the Bureau has or would have an interest other than historical.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this exhibit be destroyed.

File on captioned subject is quite voluminous, 7 sections with subs, and all requests for authority to destroy mail in Bureau files directed to Archives are filed in this file. We are continually reviewing our files in an effort to destroy inactive and obsolete material.

Because of the size of this file, it is difficult to readily refer to material that Archives has given us authority to destroy. RE: ~~X~~MAILING LIST

The file on "Mailing List", 62-21531, contains 11,000 serials, 10,520 of which are over five years old. The serials over five years old occupy approximately 1 1/3 filing cabinets. The mail consists of additions and deletions to the Bureau's mailing lists in the form of letters and memoranda. All names are indexed and it is estimated that there is one or more indexed names for each serial.

It is felt that correspondence in the file over five years old pertaining to additions and deletions to the mailing list has no contemporary value and that the names indexed should be de-indexed and destroyed. The mail itself likewise should be destroyed. Archival authority will not be necessary for its destruction inasmuch as the mail pertains to requests for library type documents which are considered non-records under the Records Disposal Act of 1943, as amended.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Crime Records Section authorize the de-indexing and destruction of mail five or more years old in the file on "Mailing List". Of course, history, policy, and related mail will not be destroyed.

RE: AIRPLANE TRANSPORTATION
File #62-21861

Sub-captioned file is a three-section file containing 153 serials concerning airplane transportation. The file was opened in 1929. It contains correspondence pertaining to passenger rates, contacts with airline officials by the various SACs and Officials at the Seat of Government, authority to use air travel, and thank-you notes to airline officials for courtesies rendered. The file also contains considerable literature, time schedules, and magazines published by airline companies. The last serial in file is dated 1947.

This file appears to have no contemporary value today. The miscellaneous material not pertaining to authority to use air travel and other policy material should be destroyed in order to conserve filing space.

RECOMMENDATION:

That authority be given to the Records Section to destroy all mail in 62-21861, subject Airplane Transportation, that is not of a policy nature.

Serials 43 and 92 of 100-30969 contain a large number of Japanese names which are indexed. This file is on the subject of "Seattle Japanese Chamber of Commerce and Japanese Association of North America - Seattle Field Division." The serials are dated in 1942 and 1943 respectively and pertain to translated minutes of the meetings of the organization prior to the entry of the United States into World War II. There is little or no identifying information concerning the individuals and in serial 92, page 32, the translator comments that owing to abbreviated nature of the writing and large number of variations in the reading of Japanese names, it is impossible to be certain of a large number of the spellings of the names.

Since there appears to be no identifying information on these names, it is not believed that they have sufficient record value to warrant their retention.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Domestic Intelligence Division authorize the deindexing of the names contained in serials 43 and 92 of 100-30969.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION NUMBER 932-54
Destruction of Surplus Material

Reference is made to the attached memorandum dated December 21, 1954, from W. G. Eames to Mr. Nichols concerning captioned suggestion which suggestion recommends destruction of index cards prepared under outdated indexing procedures on certain organizations which are listed in the attached memorandum. This same procedure was suggested regarding various other organizations under Suggestion Number 779-53 and was approved by the Executive Conference on February 15, 1954. This proposal appears to have merit provided the same safeguards are imposed to make sure that no pertinent information is lost in the elimination process as was done in connection with the suggestion which was approved by the Executive Conference on February 15, 1954.

RECOMMENDATION:

The Domestic Intelligence Division imposes no objection to the destruction of these index cards provided that the necessary safeguards are imposed to make certain that no pertinent information is lost in the elimination process.

[redacted] in presenting his suggestion, made reference to the previous suggestion number 779-53 by [redacted] and [redacted] (66-3286-557x)wherein it was suggested that similar index cards prepared on such organizations as the Communist Party, Communist Political Association, and Daily Worker be destroyed. It was noted at that time that outdated indexing procedures of several years ago we automatically indexed many of these organizations by name any time they appeared in mail or reports regardless of whether or not positive or worthwhile information concerning the organization also was set forth. b6 b7C

By memorandum from Mr. Baumgardner to Mr. Belmont, 1-22-54, (66-3286-560) it was noted that the suggestion appeared to have merit provided adequate safeguards were imposed to make certain that no pertinent information was lost in the elimination process. The memorandum noted that the suggestion undoubtedly could be extended to numerous other organizations.

Under the procedure suggested and approved by the Executives Conference (66-3286-561) employees familiar with the rules of indexing and general contents of the files went through the index cards and eliminated those which would not be indexed under present procedures. This was done without referring to the files except when necessary to make certain index cards of value were not destroyed. 39,937 index cards, or almost the equivalent of an entire index cabinet were eliminated as the result of the previous suggestion.

This suggestion should be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division for comment prior to adoption.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this suggestion be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review and acknowledgment.

Rememo from Mr. W. G. Eames to Mr. Nichols dated 12-17-54 which recommended that the names in serials 43 and 92 of 100-30969 be deindexed. This memorandum noted that the file in this matter is on the subject of "Seattle Japanese Chamber of Commerce and Japanese Association of North America - Seattle Field Division." The serials are dated in 1942 and 1943 respectively and pertain to translated minutes of the meetings of the organization prior to the entry of the United States into World War II. According to this memorandum there is little or no identifying information concerning the individuals, and in serial 92, page 32, the translator comments that owing to abbreviated nature of the writing and large number of variations in the reading of Japanese names, it is impossible to be certain of a large number of the spellings of the names.

OBSERVATION:

As you are aware the Japanese Government has re-established its Embassy and Consulates in this country, and the Japanese are again beginning to assume a prominent position in world affairs. It is to be expected that the Japanese will reactivate a number of organizations which were friendly to them prior to World War II. It is to be expected that a number of the individuals formerly active in these organizations will again assume positions of prominence in them.

13 JAN 4 1955

RECOMMENDATIONS:

That no deindexing of the above names be made even though it is noted that there is little identifying data concerning a number of these names. It is felt that the names should be retained in our indices so that the Bureau will be in a position to immediately follow the activities of the organizations and individuals who were connected with them in the event they again become active in this country.

Captioned file contains numerous mimeographed schedules of courses offered by the Department of Agriculture Graduate School. It also contains mimeographed statistical reports on farm products and crops. This material is dated in the thirties and early forties and consumes approximately two of the six sections of the file.

It is felt no useful purpose exists for retention of ~~indexed~~ This material, and that it should be destroyed. Archival authority for destruction is unnecessary as informative literature such as this does not fall within definition of "record material".

RE: BOYS CLUB AND JUNIOR G-MAN CLUBS
62-36610

Sub-captioned file opened in 1935 and contains approximately 3,000 serials. Just about every serial is from a young boy or girl inquiring about organizing or joining a "Junior G-Man Club", or asking for identification orders, wanted flyers, etc., so they could help capture criminals. This correspondence includes names of boy or girl friends also interested in joining clubs. Each incoming letter has a yellow, and all replies advise that Bureau has no authority to establish or endorse such clubs. Correspondent most always furnished pamphlets, etc., concerning Bureau's work.

File also contains correspondence as a result of inquiries to the Field concerning Junior G-Man Clubs that were highly organized and had widespread operations. File also contains material on Bureau policy concerning such activities.

This file has approximately 3,000 serials, occupies 1 1/3 file drawer and has approximately 4,000 names of boys and girls indexed in the General Index. It is felt that such incoming letters from boys and girls concerning clubs patterned after law enforcement activities have no current value after they are a year old. Accordingly, it is felt that correspondence to and from young boys and girls concerning Junior G-Man Clubs, etc., should be de-indexed and destroyed if they are over one year old. Of course, we should retain any mail concerning policy or inquiries concerning activities of organized clubs, etc.

FROM : The Executives Conference

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - FILING OF COPIES OF TELETYPES, AIRTELS, LETTERS AND MEMOS BY THE CHECKING UNIT OF THE RECORDS SECTION

general

The Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Rosen, Hennrich, Harbo, Holloman and Nichols considered the following matter which was presented by Mr. Nichols.

The Conference was advised that the Records Section over an extended period of time have been following the practice of destroying duplicates of teletypes, airtels, letters and memoranda of one page in length. When two pages in length, one copy would be kept. During the recent inspection of the Records Section it was recommended and approved that all extra copies of letters, memoranda, teletypes and airtels be destroyed rather than filed unless there was a notation thereon or unless there was some indication a copy would be needed. The Records Section will, of course, make a notation on the originals of such documents of the number of copies destroyed. If, however, a copy of a memorandum is kept or if the duplicate copy of a teletype is kept as a tickler by a Supervisor, which is permissible, no notation will be made on the original when it is filed inasmuch as it will be known, should it be necessary to account for documents, that where no notation appears thereon, copies would not have been destroyed by the Records Section and it would be known what Supervisor would have kept additional copies.

The Conference saw no problem involved in this.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #932-54
MADE BY [redacted] b6 b7C
RECORDS & COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION
INDEX CARDS

SUGGESTION

Index cards prepared under outdated indexing procedures be destroyed after removal from general indices of Bureau. Example: Cards prepared on Abraham Lincoln Brigade; Daily Worker Press Club; Black Dragon Society; Kyffhaeuser Bund, Kyffhaeuser Hilfswerk; International Workers Order; National Negro Congress; German Library of Information; Southern Conference for Human Welfare.

ADVANTAGES TO SUGGESTION

Saving of file drawer space; elimination of index cards prepared automatically on certain organizations whether or not positive or worth-while information concerning the organization was also set forth.

DISADVANTAGES TO SUGGESTION

None noted by suggesting employee.

PREVIOUS EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION

Executives Conference memorandum to Mr. Tolson 2/15/54, recommended favorably as to Suggestion #779-53, made by [redacted] and [redacted] who proposed destruction of index cards prepared on Communist Party (also several variations under this breakdown, such as, Communistic, Communism, Communist Party Plan, Communist Party Policy, et cetera); Young Communist League; Rueckwander Marine; Friends of New Germany; German American Bund; National Maritime Union; American Youth for Democracy; United Electrical and Radio and Machine Workers of America. These organizations had been indexed whenever they appeared in mail or reports, regardless of whether positive or worth-while information concerning the group or organization was also set forth. Most of these cards contained more than one reference; over 100,000 serials would have to be examined if files were to be checked prior to destruction of each index card. It was felt an employee familiar with indexing rules and general contents of files could go through the cards and eliminate those which would now be indexed under present rules, without referring to files. Files would be reviewed where necessary to insure no index card of value would be improperly destroyed.

ENCLOSURE FILED IN

The Domestic Intelligence Division stated the proposal had merit, provided adequate safeguards were imposed to make sure no pertinent information is lost in the elimination process. The Domestic Intelligence Division felt undoubtedly this elimination process could be extended to numerous other organizations as well.

Memorandum from the Director to Messrs. Tolson and Nichols 2/19/54, instructed that this suggestion be put into effect and that proper safeguards be imposed so that no pertinent information would be lost in the elimination process.

OBSERVATIONS

Mr. V. P. Keay, Domestic Intelligence Division, states there is no objection to the destruction of these index cards provided the necessary safeguards are imposed to make certain no pertinent information is lost in the elimination process.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION: RTH:cs

The Conference of 1/4/55, composed of Messrs. Tolson, Nichols, Boardman, Mohr, Sizoo, Tamm, Parsons, Hennrich, Holloman, Rosen and Harbo, unanimously recommended favorably with the understanding that the proper safeguards will be imposed by the Records Section in handling this project as indicated herein.

A memorandum dated December 21, 1954, (attached) advised of a brief case bearing the initials [redacted]" being held by the cashier at Rectors Restaurant on Connecticut Avenue. It was believed that the brief case contained Communist material and belonged to [redacted], Americans for Democratic Action (ADA). This matter was discussed with Assistant Attorney General Tompkins, who advised that he thought the contents of the brief case should be checked.

b7C

A discreet examination of the brief case revealed that the contents consisted of documents in two manila folders entitled "Rauh - Burnham, Town Meeting of the Air 10/12/54" and "On Removing McCarthy as Chairman of Government Operations Committee," as well as a few loose documents and notes. [redacted] was identified on several of the items in the brief case as the [redacted] for the ADA.

The folder on "Rauh - Burnham, Town Meeting of the Air 10/12/54" contained material which apparently was written for publication and concerned the debate between ADA Vice Chairman Joseph Rauh, Jr. and James Burnham on the subject "Is the Fear of Communism Endangering our Freedom?"

The moderator introduced Joseph L. Rauh, Jr., as a Washington attorney and Vice President of ADA. James Burnham was introduced as an authority on International Communists and Communism, whose latest book is "The Web of Subversion."

The second folder entitled "On Removing McCarthy as Chairman of the Government Operations Committee" contained press releases, letters to various members of Congress, as well as resolutions of the ADA on McCarthy and news clippings relating to the McCarthy question.

Also contained in the brief case was a financial statement for the month ending October, 1954, and for the first ten months of 1954, for the ADA. It is noted that the total income for the first ten months of 1954 was $104,191.78 and the total expenses were $115,632.0

The only piece of material found in the briefcase which was of a Communist nature was a copy of "The Worker," a Communist publication, dated April 4, 1954. This item was in the folder concerning McCarthy and contained articles on the McCarthy issue.

The contents of the brief case were photographed (102 photographs, 11 X 14) and furnished to the Bureau. A duplicate set of photographs, as well as the original film are being maintained in the files of the Washington Field Office.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) Inasmuch as there appears to be no pertinent subversive information of interest to the FBI at this time in the photographs of the data contained in the brief case and because of the bulky nature of these photographs it is recommended that the Bureau copy of these photographs be destroyed and no further action taken. A copy of the photographs is being retained by the Washington Field Office for any future reference necessary. The briefcase and the contents contained therein have been returned to the original source, the Rectors Restaurant on Connecticut Avenue.

SYNOPSIS:

This memorandum proposes consideration of the destruction annually by auxiliary field offices of all non-security type files over 15 years old; the complete file to be retained only by the Bureau and office of origin. Fifteen year age to be determined from most recent RUC serial in file. New index card to be prepared at time file destroyed to include date of destruction, office of origin and identifying data re principal subject. (Senate Appropriations Committee interest in reduction of volume of all government records evidenced by telephone call from Mr. Paul Kamerick, Investigative Staff, to Mr. Nichols, May 8, 1954, advising that committee contemplated survey by private firm. Previous proposal that problem be solved by microfilming certain field files rejected by Executives Conference on November 29, 1954.) Following factors favor proposed destruction: (1) A computation from Seat of Government administrative report as of November 30, 1954 reflects that on an average each field office acts as an auxiliary office in 68.5 per cent of its total cases, thus making possible considerable potential savings in cost of file cabinets and leased space. (2) Value of references to auxiliary office files is questionable inasmuch as only Bureau and office of origin files contain complete information. (3) In connection with microfilming proposal, New York office survey reflected relatively few referrals to files 15 years of age and older. (4) That survey also reflected destruction of files 15 years old would result in disposing of 16,188 files in first year and 87,297 files in 5th year resulting in savings of approximately $7,000 for these two years in the New York office (no estimated savings figures available for interviewing 2nd, 3rd and 4th year).

Inspectors B. C. Brown, J. E. Nugent and H. C. Van Pelt recommend proposal be adopted. Mr. F. L. Price, Investigative Division, ASAC H. B. Fletcher, WFO, Mr. Wendell Eames, Records and Communications Division, interposed no objections. Assistant Director Belmont and W. A. Branigan, Domestic Intelligence Division, opposed destruction of security type files. Assistant Director Mohr, Administrative Division, Inspector G. C. Callan, Special Inquiry Section, and Supervisor J. A. Reilly, Employee Security Section, recommend views of SACs in field be obtained with respect to applicant type cases (in which Bureau is office of origin) as to: (1) Whether proposal would result in considerably increased correspondence between field offices to check indices on applicants, relatives and references of applicants. (2) Whether such correspondence would result in some delay in meeting deadlines in these cases.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) a. The attached letters be sent to 10 selected field offices requesting each to conduct a survey for the week January 17 through January 21, 1955, to determine the number of references made to files of the non-security type over 15 years old in connection with applicant type cases as compared with references to files up to 15 years of age.

b. That SACs of these offices submit their recommendations by January 27, 1955, as to whether the proposal should be adopted and specifically as to whether it would result in delays in applicant type cases.

(2) That the proposal be submitted for consideration by the Executives Conference on receipt of replies from the Special Agents in Charge.

DETAILS:

Problem:

There is a need to develop a workable solution to the problem of reducing our records volume in the field without impairing the efficiency of field office operations.

Proposal:

That auxiliary offices destroy annually all files of non-security type which are more than 15 years old, date of destruction to be determined by top serial on RUC file; files in Bureau and offices of origin to be maintained as before.

Background:

Based upon a survey made in 3 field offices for 60 days for the purpose of determining whether certain field records should be microfilmed. The Executives Conference of 11/29/54, decided no further action should be taken in this regard.

The increasing interest of government officials in reducing the volume of records was evidenced by a call from Mr. Paul Kamerick, Senate Appropriations Committee, to Mr. Nichols on May 8, 1954, advising that the Appropriations Committee is getting up a report calling for a survey of all government records by a private firm.

Findings:

The New York office from June 10 to August 10, 1954, tabulated by classification the number of closed files in various age groups and the number of references to these files. Results are set out:

Category	Number of Closed Files in Category	Number of References to These Files During 60-Day Period
Up to five years old	202,068	25,250
Five years to 10 years	135,137	12,439
10 to 15 years	146,279	13,455
15 to 20 years	13,279	517
20 to 25 years	14,988	114

There were 28,267 files more than 15 years old. Of these, 16,188 were non-security type files which could be destroyed in the New York Office if this proposal is approved. This estimate is based upon a computation made from the Seat of Government monthly administrative report of 11/30/54, which reflects that, based upon averages, each office acts as an auxiliary office in 68.5% of its total cases. Similarly other offices could reduce non-security type files substantially. In the case of Bureau applicant investigations New York Office has 3080 more than 15 years old which can all be destroyed since the Bureau is origin. The New York Office survey reflects that there is a substantial decline in the number of references made to closed files (including RUC files) after they become 15 years old. The number of references in the 10 to 15 year old group was 13,465 or 9.1% of the total files in that age group; 15 to 20 year old group 517 or 3.9%; 20 to 25 year old group 114 or .8%. Inasmuch as files over 15 years old are referred to rarely, the question arises as to whether they are actually needed in auxiliary offices, particularly since an auxiliary office never has the complete "picture" of a Bureau case but only that which pertains to the particular phase of an investigation which it has conducted. An auxiliary office is dependent upon office of origin or Bureau for complete information in all cases regardless of age.

Inspectors B. C. Brown, H. C. Van Pelt and J. E. Nugent recommend the proposal be adopted.

At time of contact Mr. Rosen, Investigative Division, was not available; however, Mr. Frank Price offered no objection but pointed out the need for maintenance of the index card on each RUC case destroyed, the card to reflect the office of origin and file number, auxiliary office file number, date and place of birth, race, and name of principal subject and date of top RUC serial. It is observed that this could be accomplished without difficulty by preparing a new index card at the time the file is destroyed. The file number of the RUC file would be listed at the beginning of each classification in accordance with existing procedures.

Mr. Fletcher, ASAC, Washington Field Office, offered no objection but emphasized the fact that the destruction of such files would require the services of an experienced clerk (GS-3) to insure the work was done accurately. He estimated that one clerk could process about 275 cases or about 1½ file drawers daily. In the case of applicants' files over 15 years old, they could be destroyed since the Bureau is origin. He further raised the question as to the major cases such as the Matnap case, part of which is maintained in the closed section. He observed that more than 2/3 of each file drawer in cases other than applicants could be destroyed so that extra space would be gained on a daily basis as the work progressed. Concerning major cases, no difficulty should arise since the file would be destroyed after the top serial on each RUC file is 15 years old. Therefore, cases which are active from time to time cannot be destroyed.

Mr. Callan, Section Chief in charge of applicant type investigations (other than Bureau) advised that if this proposal were adopted he believed it would result in (1) additional traffic from one office to another based upon the need for checking out relatives and references of the applicant, and (2) delays in some instances since auxiliary offices would be setting out leads to the offices of origin entailing new deadlines. The Bureau makes an indices check on applicants only and relies on the field for indices checks on references and relatives on all applicant type cases (except Bureau). Mr. Callan stated that he would interpose no objection if the SACs in the field are in accord with the plan following a survey which indicated the advisability of adopting the proposal.

Mr. J. A. Reilly, Loyalty Section, stated that the Loyalty Section concurred with the observations made by Mr. Callan and would likewise be in accord with the proposal if the results of a field survey are favorable to the adoption of the proposal.

Mr. Wendell Eames, Records Section, offered no objection but stated that other government agencies sometimes request name checks in field offices. This could be overcome since the identity of the office of origin for each case and identifying data regarding the subject would appear on the index card. If the name being checked could not be eliminated field office could refer the inquiring agency to the office of origin.

Mr. Mohr, Administrative Division, stated he would have no objection to the destruction of Bureau applicant files over 15 years old in auxiliary offices if the SACs in the field felt that this plan should be adopted. He suggested that the views of the field be obtained.

ESTIMATED SAVINGS IN NEW YORK OFFICE

If the proposal is approved, based upon the survey in New York, 16,188 files in that office could be destroyed the first year; figures for the second, third and fourth years are not available from the survey; at the end of the fifth year 87,297 files could be destroyed. The resultant savings are set out below:

SAVINGS IN CABINET COST AND LEASED SPACE

Cabinets	4-drawer	5-drawer
1st. year	20 cabinets at $50 - $1000	16 cabinets at $58 - $928
5th. year	109 cabinets at $50 - $5450	87 cabinets at $58 - $5046
Space
1st. year	20 cabinets at 4.5 square feet or 90 square feet x $1.65 - $148.50	16 cabinets at 5.5 square feet or 88 square feet at $1.65 - $145.20
5th. year	109 cabinets at 4.5 square feet or 490.5 square feet at $1.65 - $809.32	87 cabinets at 5.5 square feet or 478.5 square feet at $1.65 - $789.52
Total Savings	$7407.82	$6,908.72

The savings for the first and fifth years alone would be either $6,908.72 or $7,407.82 depending upon whether 4- or 5-drawer cabinets are used.

(New York Office uses both types of cabinets, 4- and 5-drawer; pays $1.65 a foot for leased space; estimate of 200 files of the consolidated type to a drawer was used.)

In attempting to determine if any additional measures could be taken with regard to the destruction of files consideration was given to security type files. Mr. Belmont stated he does not believe security type files in auxiliary offices over 15 years old should be destroyed since this matter has been considered many times before and the cost of retyping copies needed is a disadvantage outweighing the advantage to be gained in saving space. Mr. Branigan, Espionage Section, pointed out with regard to World War II security cases relating to German, Italian and Japanese matters that many of these cases were opened for example under the caption "German" and later were found to involve individuals who were Communists.

Conclusion:

It is believed that files in auxiliary offices of the non-security type over 15 years old are rarely used, particularly since auxiliary offices do not have complete information on Bureau cases at any time; that the potential problem in connection with applicant and loyalty cases could be resolved by a survey in the field to determine whether there would be a substantial amount of additional traffic or any delays in investigations conducted in the handling of investigations in the field. Files of the security type in auxiliary offices over 15 years old should not be destroyed.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS

RE: ~~CLASSIFICATION OF FINGERPRINTS~~
62-19767

Since September 23, 1952, the Crime Records Section has handled requests for pamphlets (including material on FBI, Communism, Identification, etc.) merely by sending material to correspondents in envelopes without cover letters and by destroying the incoming requests.

The Bureau prepared a booklet on "Classification of Fingerprints" in 1935 which is more or less the bible of law enforcement officers and identification officers. File 62-19767 on this subject contains approximately 4,700 serials. It occupies 61 sections in 2/3 of a file cabinet. Although the file contains history of the creation of the booklet, restrictions on its publication and distribution, and other related policy data, a vast majority of the serials are requests from citizens and police officers for a copy of the booklet. Thousands of names of individuals who have received or requested the booklet have been indexed.

Since August 27, 1953, the Government Printing Office has been selling copies outright to individuals writing in on letterhead of law enforcement agencies in accordance with previous Bureau approval. GPO does refer all requests not on letterhead to the Bureau. The Crime Records Section does not keep these requests but returns letters of request to GPO with a rubber stamp notation authorizing GPO to sell or returns letters of request with a 5 by 3 form card advising requestor the booklet is available only to law enforcement personnel who submit requests on letterhead of the agency.

Accordingly, no record is kept of purchasers of booklet by the Bureau or GPO if request is sent directly to GPO. New requests now directed to GPO for this booklet as Bureau publicizes that booklets should be purchased at GPO. Some requests do come directly to the Bureau, however, and the request with yellow is filed whether or not a copy of the booklet is furnished. There appears to be no need to file such requests if addressed to the Bureau inasmuch as identical requests received at GPO (some of which are forwarded to the Bureau and returned by the Bureau to GPO) are not filed or made a matter of record. Now that the booklet has received such wide dissemination and is being distributed mainly by GPO, it is felt it falls in the category of other Bureau literature which is disseminated for which no incoming requests or yellows are filed. 66-3286-606

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That all requests for copies of the booklet "Classification of Fingerprints" prior to August 27, 1953, (date GPO commenced selling booklet to duly constituted law enforcement officers) be de-indexed and destroyed. Of course, all correspondence relating to policy, history, etc. would be retained.

2. That all requests subsequent to August 27, 1953, be likewise destroyed and that in the future requests for the booklet and yellows not be filed and that only mail relating to policy revisions, history, etc., be filed.

ADDENDUM: JJM:ptm 1-4-55

I agree. Past requests where copies of the booklet "Classification of Fingerprints" have no value and the Bureau's files can be de-indexed and destroyed We should, of course, keep all correspondence relating to policy, history, etc. As to keeping copies of incoming letters received in the future requesting this booklet, I feel there is no reason for preparing yellows or abstracts on outgoing letters answering requests of this nature. Therefore, I recommend we in the future answer such requests with a typed letter for which no yellow or abstract will be prepared and that the incoming communication be stamped "Return to Room 4236" (Crime Records Section). After the letter has gone out we can therefore destroy the incoming communication. Of course, any correspondence in the future relating to policy, revisions, etc., on this booklet will be retained and yellows and abstracts will be prepared for any outgoing letters on thi ssubject matter that do deal with policy.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS -- 66-3286

RE: LISTS OF LICENSED COMMERCIAL AND AMATEUR RADIO OPERATORS (FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION -- 62-40185)

Reference is made to the attached memorandum from W. G. Eames to Mr. Nichols dated 1/12/55 recommending that the Records Section de-index approximately 17,000 names appearing on lists which had been received by the Bureau from FCC between June, 1941, and April, 1945. A perusal of these lists reflects that the individuals identified thereon were either holders of FCC licenses or qualified to secure such licenses. There is no indication that these individuals were or might have been subversives.

Normally, the holders of FCC licenses are not of any interest to the Bureau unless they have subversive backgrounds. In that connection, it is pointed out that the Bureau has a program entitled "Clandestine Radio Communications -- Potential Operators," the purpose of which is to identify subversives, who by training and experience, could be utilized in clandestine radio activity. The identities of any FCC license holders uncovered under this program is brought to the attention of FCC periodically.

Inasmuch as the FCC lists referred to above merely identify a number of license holders of over ten years ago and there is no indication that these individuals were or might have been subversives, it is not foreseeable that the retention of these lists will serve any useful purpose or be of any value to any of our investigations.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Espionage Section interpose no objection to the de-indexing of names recommended in the attached memorandum.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS -- 66-3286

RE: LISTS OF LICENSED COMMERCIAL AND AMATEUR RADIO OPERATORS (FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION -- 62-40185)

In June, 1941, the Federal Communications Commission advised it had secured certain information concerning holders of both commercial and amateur radio licenses. This information included class of license; state of residence; year of birth; place of birth; past military service, and kind of discharge; present rank if in military service; whether operator born in axis country and whether operator had military service in axis country (62-40185-164X). Although the Federal Communications Commission said they had this information on approximately 130,000 licensed operators and that they would furnish same to Bureau in coded form by using IBM equipment, we only received approximately 27,000 names between June of 1941 and April 27, 1945. The latter date appears to be the last one on which the FCC submitted names of individuals. The later lists contained names of individuals who were qualified to receive operators licenses; however, none had been issued to them as operation of stations had been discontinued during the war. Lists received toward the end of period contained only home addresses of person qualified for a license.

It is believed that the type of information contained in these lists has no contemporary value to us today as lists merely identify holders of radio licenses over 10 years ago. Approximately 17,000 names were indexed and because there are so many common names amongst them the references are listed over and over again on name checks of persons with the same common names.

Accordingly, it is felt that the names of individuals holding radio operator licenses or qualified to receive licenses should be de-indexed in order to prevent unnecessary file reviews as well as to save space in the General Index.

We already have Archival Authority to destroy Name Checks and as these lists of names can be construed in this category further Archival Authority to destroy these lists in unnecessary.

SUBJECT: XDESTRUCTION OF ROUTINE INTELLIGENCE SUMMARIES RECEIVED FROM OTHER AGENCIES

Reference is made to the attached memorandum from Mr. [redacted] to Mr. Belmont entitled [redacted] INFORMATION CONCERNING (ESPIONAGE), referring to the efforts of the Office of Special Investigations to retrieve all copies of a Counterintelligence Summary prepared by OSI dated 3-17-53. A check of Bureau files for a copy of this document which was presumably furnished us has been negative for the obvious reason that it was destroyed pursuant to Bureau authority granted in October, 1950, to destroy all intelligence summaries from other Agencies in the event there was no reason for the Bureau to retain them. As indicated in the referenced memorandum this type of document is submitted to the Bureau by various Intelligence Agencies in large quantities for informational purposes. They are reviewed by Bureau Supervisors and if no information of value is developed, they are destroyed, usually by the Supervisor reviewing the summary. Mr. Boardman raises the question as to whether or not it would be feasible to make some kind of record of items such as this that are destroyed.

I do not feel that there is any feasible or practical method by which a worthwhile record could be retained except with the expenditure of much time and effort. A log or inventory over and above the administrative difficulties of maintenance would soon become extremely lengthy and unwieldy. This is particularly true with regard to instant case inasmuch as the document in question is almost 2 years old. During such a long lapse of time we would receive literally thousands of these summaries. Bearing in mind the end result, namely the fact that the Bureau's copy has in fact been destroyed, such an inventory would be a complete waste of time. We have every reason to believe the summary has been destroyed and an inventory record to reflect that fact seems to me to be completely unnecessary.

RECOMMENDATION:

That no changes be made in our present procedures concerning the destruction of routine intelligence summaries from other Agencies and, since in this case we obtained authority from OSI to destroy such data, that that Agency accordingly be advised through liaison of the Bureau's destruction of their publication dated 3-17-53.

On 11/4/54, the Bureau received an envelope postmarked November 3, 1954, at League City, Texas, containing the return address of [redacted] Texas. The envelope contained two photographs purporting to be photographs of the cover of a pamphlet entitled "Office of Special Investigations, Counter Intelligence Summary, United States Air Forces in Europe." The classification "Secret Security Information" appears thereon. There was no letter accompanying these photographs. b6 b7C

By memorandum dated 11/15/54, we instructed our Houston Office to locate and interview [redacted] to determine his purpose for sending these photographs to the Bureau and to conduct logical investigation as this may involve unlawful disclosure of classified matter. Since the full facts surrounding these photographs and the identity and occupation of [redacted] were not known, OSI was not advised at that time. It was felt more desirable to be able to furnish OSI with specific information since the identity of the sender of the photographs appeared to be readily available. By memorandum dated 12/7/54, our Houston Office set forth their logical investigation which had been conducted and which indicated that [redacted] was a fictitious name and that the individual transmitting these photographs to the Bureau had not been identified. Copies of the photographs together with a summary of the investigation conducted was turned over by our Houston Office to OSI locally. OSI advised our Houston Office it was conducting an investigation to determine if pamphlet is missing and also to determine the identity of the sender of instant photographs. OSI further advised instant photographs parallel other instances where airmen had photographed secret documents and sent them to friends and relatives in an effort to impress them with their importance. Based on this information it did not appear necessary for us to notify OSI Headquarters. Our Houston Office advised OSI that no further investigation was being conducted by the Bureau and if any information of interest to the Bureau was uncovered during its investigation, they should so advise us.

Subsequent inquiries were received regarding this matter from OSI Headquarters on 12/30/54. Upon request, the original photographs received by the Bureau through the mail were turned over to OSI on 1/4/55, together with the envelope in which the photographs were mailed. In an effort to trace the leak of the OSI document classified "Secret," OSI is attempting to retrieve all copies of the document which were disseminated to other Government agencies. They officially requested the Bureau on 1/3/55, to locate and return its copy to OSI. This is identified as a Counterintelligence Summary prepared by OSI in Europe dated March 17, 1953, issue number 37. A complete search has been made by our Records Section, and this document has not been located in Bureau files.

A memorandum in Bureau files dated October 12, 1950, entitled "Processing of Intelligence Summaries Received from Other Agencies" indicates that we obtained authority from other agencies, including OSI, to destroy intelligence summaries in the event there was no reason for us to retain them. This is the type of document which is submitted to the Bureau by various intelligence agencies in large quantity for information purposes. These documents are reviewed by Bureau supervisors and if we have no reason to retain them in Bureau files, they are destroyed. Nor is this type of summary furnished to the field by the Bureau. On rare occasions certain items are abstracted from the summaries and furnished to the field but the summary itself is never sent. Since this document has not been located in Bureau files, it is apparent that it was destroyed in line with our policy.

ACTION:

OSI is being advised by Liaison that this document was destroyed by the Bureau in accordance with authority granted by OSI in October, 1950.

RE: DESTRUCTION OF OBSOLETE MAIL IN THE ADMINISTRATIVE CLASSIFICATION (66 Classification)

As a result of a suggestion by Records Section employees, the Administrative Division commenced a review of the 66 classification for the purpose of removing and destroying obsolete mail of no value today. The 66 classification contains thousands of pieces of mail in files on Field Offices and other varied subject matters, which pertained to procurement of supplies, physical maintenance of space, and other miscellaneous housekeeping matters.

There are thousands of files that should be reviewed. The Administrative Division has been making good progress considering the limited personnel it has been able to assign to this work and the review of the files is being done on a part time basis by three employees in the Administrative Division.

You will recall about a year ago the Administrative Division furnished us with a set of standards to follow in destroying alphabetical administrative files on Agents and Clerks. We were able to gain badly needed space at that time and it is proposed that the same procedure be reinstituted in destroying the above mentioned material. As you know, we have received no additional space to house last years' order of file cabinets and it is imperative that we take immediate action or our files service will be seriously impaired. Upon receipt of an appropriate set of standards we will remove personnel from other work in order to expedite this project.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Administrative Division allow the Records Section to take over the destruction of obsolete mail in the 66 classification and further, furnish us with a set of standards with which to do so.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS -- 66-3286

RE: JAPANESE PASSENGERS
65-3046

Subcaptioned file is a file on the movement of Japanese passengers by air plane, train and other carriers within and without the United States prior to World War II. There are approximately 890 serials which pertain to travel by Japanese prior to December 7, 1941. Approximately 27 serials pertain to travel by Japanese through the end of December, 1941. There is absolutely nothing derogatory in the vast majority of serials concerning the Japanese whose movements are mentioned. In fact, there is nothing to indicate who the Japanese are, the mail merely states that an airlines office advised that a Japanese had secured a reservation.

It is felt that this information has no contemporary or even informational value today and that it should be de-indexed. The de-indexing will eliminate approximately 4,000 index cards from the General Index.

Archival Authority for destruction of mail completely de-indexed will be secured at a later date along with other types of mail.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records Section be authorized to de-index names of Japanese contained in 65-3046, who were moving in, out, and within the United States by airplane and other carriers if no derogatory information is shown concerning the Japanese.

RE: ~~JAPANESE~~ PASSENGERS
65-3046

Re memorandum 1/11/55 from W. G. Eames to Mr. Nichols which recommended that the Records Section be authorized to de-index names of Japanese contained in Bureau file 65-3046, who were moving in, out, and within the United States by airplane and other carriers if no derogatory information was shown concerning the Japanese. It was noted the information was obtained prior to January, 1942.

OBSERVATION:

In view of the fact that the referenced memorandum recommended that only the names of those Japanese in file 65-3046 concerning whom there is no derogatory information in the file be de-indexed it would appear advantageous to have the indices purged of these names since the travel information of itself would be of little value to the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Records Section be authorized to de-index the names of the Japanese in file 65-3046 providing no derogatory information is shown therein concerning the Japanese.

SUBJECT: "Y" FILES - RECORDS SECTION

We are presently maintaining in the Publications Section of the Filing Unit, three cabinets of documents known as the "Y" files. These documents consist of publications, newspaper clippings, etc., prepared during the World War I period. They are not indexed and we receive no requests for them.

In view of the inactiveness of these records, it is requested that they be reviewed by the Domestic Intelligence Division and a decision rendered as to whether they should be retained or whether they should be destroyed.

RECOMMENDATION:

This memorandum be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division in order that the "Y" files can be reviewed to determine if they should be retained or if they can be destroyed. Examples of these files are attached hereto.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES

Destruction of Field Files Destruction of Consideration is being given by the Bureau to a proposal that auxiliary offices destroy annually all non-security type files over 15 years of age; the complete file to be retained only by the Bureau and the office of origin.

The proposal contemplates that the 15 year age limit will be determined on the basis of the most recent RUC communication appearing in the auxiliary office file. A new index card would be prepared at the time of destruction reflecting the office of origin and file number, auxiliary office file number, Bureau file number, date and place of birth, race, and name of principal subject, date of most recent RUC serial and the date the auxiliary office file was destroyed. Auxiliary offices receiving leads requiring reference to a file which has been destroyed would send the incoming leads to the office of origin for handling. Files destroyed would be listed by number at the beginning of each classification as is currently done.

The New York office and offices receiving copies of this communication will submit the following information:

(1) Your observations and recommendations as to whether the proposal should be adopted for all non-security type cases.

(2) Your views as to the effect the plan would have on applicant type investigations in which the Bureau is origin, for example, classifications 67, 77, 116, 121, 123, 124, 128, 133, 138, and 140 (applicant type and Security of Government Employee cases). Specifically your comments are requested as to whether such a proposal would result in (a) considerable additional correspondence between field offices to check indices on applicant, relatives and references of the applicant (or employee) in applicant and Security of Government

Employee investigations and (b) delays in some instances in meeting deadlines as a result of auxiliary offices setting out leads to the offices of origin to check indices.

(3) In order to appraise the possible effect of items 2a and 2b (above) each office will conduct a survey for the work week January 17 through January 21, 1955. You will record the number of times it is necessary to refer to non-security type RUC files over 15 years old in connection with name checks of applicant (or employee), references and relatives in both applicant and Security of Government Employee cases as compared with the number of references of this kind to all files now maintained. The tabulation should be broken down according to the following age groups:

(a) All non-security type files up to 15 years of age.

(b) All non-security type files 15 to 20 years of age.

(c) All non-security type files in excess of 20 years of age.

The name checks involved in survey (3) above will, of course, include references to a variety of classifications. The age group is to be determined by the most recent serial in the file. In considering your recommendations as to the proposal with reference to applicant type cases, you will bear in mind that in these cases (except Bureau applicant) the Bureau makes an indices check on the applicant only and relies upon field offices to check indices on relatives and references of the applicant. Your reply as to the survey should be in the form similar to that attached.

Each Special Agent in Charge will submit his recommendations, together with the results of the survey, to reach the Bureau, Attention Training and Inspection Division, by January 27, 1955.

The following chart reflects the number of non-security type files in each classification by age group and the number of times to which each is referred in connection with name checks of applicants, references and relatives (include employees and their references and relatives in SGE cases). SUBJECT: "Y" FILES - RECORDS SECTION

Destroyed 3 cubic feet

Reference is made to the memorandum of Mr. W. G. Ward Eames to Assistant to the Director Nichols, dated January 21, 1955, captioned as above and referring to the maintenance of the "Y" files.

The "Y" files were reviewed by the Central Research Section. The files in almost every instance are paper pamphlets published within the first quarter of this century. They are maintained in manila envelopes and are in excellent condition.

The files were found to be original publications of subversive and radical individuals and organizations. Among the latter were publications of The Socialist Labor Party, The Communist Party of the Soviet Union, The Communist International, The Communist Party of America, and the Workers Party, which were noted to be irreplaceable source material. It is doubtful that much of this material could be readily found in even the best libraries, and is, therefore, a valuable reservoir for research.

RECOMMENDATION:

Since the "Y" files are largely irreplaceable and are valuable for research purposes, it is recommended that they be retained.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS BY AGENCY HEADS DUE TO IMMINENCE OF HOSTILE ACTION (S. 1005) o Destruction of Bureau Records

AWK

The Deputy Attorney General by letter dated February 16, 1955, received February 21, 1955, requested IIC comments on a proposed bill (S. 1005), which would authorize an agency head to destroy records under his jurisdiction outside the United States because of a state of war or the imminence of hostile action and would authorize the head of a Federal agency to destroy records under his jurisdiction in the United States due to imminence of hostile action.

Special Agent Edward S. Sanders has discussed this matter with the other members of the IIC, and they have noted they see no particular reason for this legislation in so far as they are concerned inasmuch as they can presently make such destruction of records due to imminence of hostile action. The Bureau in a separate communication to the Deputy Attorney General deferred to his judgment in this matter.

RECOMMENDATION:

Attached is a suggested IIC letter to the Deputy Attorney General advising that, while the IIC agencies have no particular need for this legislation, they have no objection.

Re: Destruction of Bureau Property

Rebulet 10/29/52 and Sallet 11/20/52 entitled, "Inspection of the Salzburg Liaison Office" (C) U.

Pursuant to Bureau instructions, all files in this office are destroyed 60 days after date of closing and the file covers are maintained in numerical sequence.

It is believed that the retention of file covers in closed cases in this office serves no useful purpose. It is requested that instead the Bureau permit this office to retain indefinitely all assignment cards and that those assignment cards bear in addition to the usual data the Bureau file number where known.

In the event Soviet hostilities are directed against Austria, it would be a simple matter to destroy assignment cards which is the reason why instant request is made. (C) U

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. NICHOLS
MR. BOARDMAN
MR. BELMONT

Last Friday evening the Attorney General called me and stated it was imperative for him to have a conference with me that night. By reason of the fact that he was going to his brother's for dinner, I met the Attorney General at his brother's home, 5015 Fulton Street, N. W.

The Attorney General stated that just before leaving the office that evening he had been advised by the Security Division of the Department that the FBI was making extensive changes in the files of the Department as pertained to the contents of the reports furnished to the Department in the Matusow Case. He stated it had been indicated to him, the Attorney General, that there were approximately 140 odd pages being inserted in the Department files and old pages being removed therefrom and being destroyed by the FBI. He stated this action had created quite some concern upon the part of the Security Division of the Department and it was for that reason that they had brought it to his attention.

I told the Attorney General that I did not know anything about any such action being taken by the FBI and I could not believe that the FBI was actually removing original pages and substituting them with other pages with changes thereon weeks, months, and even years after the original reports had been submitted. The Attorney General stated that he could not believe that any such procedure was being indulged in but that he had been advised as indicated above by the Security Division of the Department. He asked that I at once look into this matter to ascertain exactly what was being done and why.

Upon my return to my residence I immediately contacted Associate Director Tolson and related to him the story as given to me by the Attorney General and directed that there be immediately initiated that evening, under the supervision of Assistant to the Director Nichols, a complete and thorough inquiry into this situation to determine whether the information furnished by the Attorney General was correct.

Shortly thereafter I was advised by Mr. Tolson that he had been in touch with Mr. Nichols who himself had not been informed of the action being taken but who had ascertained that in substance the Attorney General's report to me was substantially correct. I then talked with Mr. Nichols and he confirmed what he had told Mr. Tolson. I ordered that the most complete and thorough inquiry be initiated to determine responsibility for the action which had been taken without the knowledge of myself, Mr. Tolson or Mr. Nichols.

I have since received the report upon this matter and, as indicated by my notations on that report, I am astounded at the initiation of such a procedure as was followed in the Matusow situation and as apparently has been the general practice of the Bureau for some time. It savors of dishonesty and deliberate misrepresentation and, as indicated by my notations on the report, henceforth there is to be no alteration of any document after it has left the FBI. There is to be no alteration of any document within the FBI once it has been incorporated in any file, either in the Field or at the Seat of Government. If a change is to be made it is only to be made in ink with the date of the alteration and the initials of the person making the same. No alteration is to be made other than by an Agent Supervisor. If it is necessary to correct or amend or alter in any way any document which has left the Bureau through dissemination, then that should be covered in the form of a memorandum to the persons receiving the original document with indication of what changes are to be effected.

Under no circumstances ever is a document in the files to be removed in whole or in part and destroyed.

The Training and Inspection Division has already been ordered by me to make a thorough check as to why the voluminous number of errors and changes which apparently have had to be made were never called to my attention and apparently no steps were taken by either the Intelligence or the Investigative Divisions to place the responsibility for such errors.

Henceforth there is to be submitted to me each week a report similar to that which I receive from the Reading Room indicating the number of changes or errors which it has been necessary to make in reports, letters, and memoranda received from the field. I am shocked at the complete indifference upon the part of executives of this Bureau in not sensing this growing tide of errors and placing the responsibility for the same and curtailing them at the source by proper administrative action.

I am also shocked at the failure of the executives of this Bureau to sense the implications involved in the procedure that was followed in the Matusow Case. The executives of this Bureau are presumed to be more than mere automatons and should, if they had the proper attitude and interest, be constantly considering the consequences and implications of any procedures,

RE: OFFICE OF NAVAL INTELLIGENCE FLIMSIES (NAVY DEPARTMENT FORM B-10)

It is estimated that the general file on Alien Enemy Employment, 96-0, contains approximately 25,000 ONI flimsies. No record can be found identifying why these flimsies have been retained through the years. There are no cover letters or memos attached. They were apparently all forwarded to the Bureau during World War II.

The form, which is a 5 X 3 flimsy slip of paper, merely lists the name of the individual, his address, his nationality, the name of the company by whom he is employed, a statement that the Navy Department does not object to employment as of a certain date, and other miscellaneous information. During this period Navy Department cleared all Aliens employed on certain defense contracts. Part of clearance involved a name check on Alien by Bureau. These flimsies are apparently forms used by ONI in submitting names for name checks. The forms all bear penciled notation "N.M.F.", (no main file) They are actually "No Record" forms.

Accordingly, inasmuch as we do not maintain no record name check forms, these flimsies should be destroyed. You will recall that we recently, with Executives Conference approval, purged the name check file of all no record serials. We have Archival authority (66-3286-192) to destroy no record name check forms. As stated previously, it is estimated that there are 25,000 such flimsies and the names of all have been indexed. The index cards on these names should be removed from the index and destroyed in order to conserve space and to prevent unnecessary file reviews.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records Section be given authority to destroy all no record ONI flimsies filed in 96-0.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #932-54

Reference is made to my memorandum dated 12-21-54 which set forth the above suggestion by [redacted] of the Records Section to destroy certain index cards on ten organizations (including American Peace Mobilization, Abraham Lincoln Brigade, Black Dragon Society, Kyffhaeuser Bund) prepared under outdated indexing procedures. The purpose of this memorandum is to set forth estimated cash savings. b6 b7C

The actual computable cash savings resulting from this suggestion is figured at $93.75. This is based on the cost of file cabinet space saved as a result of the destruction of the index cards. Estimated cost of employee time taken in the review and destruction of the index cards is $65.60, which is at the rate of 40 hours GS-5 time. There are, of course, additional advantages to be gained from any destruction of index cards. These include a more workable index and an alleviation of our continuing space problem resulting from our ever expanding index.

RECOMMENDATION:

That [redacted] be given a cash award commensurate with the net first year's savings of $28.15. b6 b7C

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS
Destruction of Bureau Records

Memo from W. G. Eames to Mr. Nichols, 2/18/55, proposes destruction of about 25,000 Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI) flimsies filed in 96-0. Mr. Eames' memo indicates as follows:

No record found why flimsies retained. No cover letters or memos attached. All apparently forwarded Bureau during World War II. Flimsy is ONI Form B-10, listing name of individual, address, nationality, name of company employing, miscellaneous data and statement Navy does not object to employment as of certain date. During this period Navy Department cleared all aliens employed on certain defense contracts. Part of clearance involved name check by Bureau. All forms bear notation "N.M.F." (no main file). Records Section concludes these are "No Record" forms, points out Bureau has archival authority to destroy no record name check forms and recommends their destruction and removal of related index cards to conserve space and prevent unnecessary file reviews. Your views were requested.

Research by this Division reveals these forms very probably received in connection with name checks and investigations conducted by Bureau for War and Navy Departments regarding alien employment in aircraft and munitions production. (66-2254-1961, 66-6200-96-28, 39, 88) It is not concluded, however, that these ONI forms are no record name check forms. Since the forms indicate Navy has no objection to employment of person named it is more likely they are merely forms showing final Navy action. It is believed the "N.M.F." (no main file) notation merely indicates the form was checked on receipt, filed in main file of person if one existed, and if none existed all "N.M.F." forms were filed and indexed in general file 96-0..

It is not believed these forms now serve any worthwhile purpose in Bureau files.

Destruction of Bureau Records

In the Personnel Records Unit, we have five general type files which contain various types of inquiries for employment with the Bureau. Occasional difficulty is experienced in locating correspondence because of the necessity for checking all possibilities. Mrs. Marie Vanable, Supervisor of Personnel Records Unit, has suggested that only one general applicant file be maintained and that the material in the general applicant file which is more than three years old be destroyed.

We have the "Applicants - General" file which material is destroyed after a period of three years. We have an "Informal Applications" file containing correspondence dated from 1947. We have an "Unnamed Applicants" file which material is destroyed after three years. We have a "Suggested Applicants" file containing material from 1945. Also, we have the file called "Personnel Inquiries" which material is destroyed after a period of five years.

Item 16, General Records Schedule, #1, covering all applications and related papers except "Successful Applications" allows destruction of this type material after two years of Civil Service Commission Audit whichever occurs first.

RECOMMENDATION:

That all general applicant material be contained in one file and that all such material be destroyed after a period of three years.

I am attaching hereto a sampling of files maintained in the Personnel Records Unit which contain correspondence from or to members of Congress. In all instances the material contained in these files reflects the request for application blanks of the Bureau or for current information concerning qualifications for various positions within the Bureau.

There are 984 such files in the Personnel Records Unit with all but 13 containing material dated prior to 1950. As reflected by the attached material, some of the correspondence dates back to 1918.

Material in these files is of no value in the Personnel Records Unit.

By memorandum dated 1/17/55 from Mr. Eames to Mr. Nichols it was recommended that all general applicant material be contained in one file and that all such material be destroyed after a period of three years. By memorandum dated 2/14/55 Mr. Eames further recommended that the file material relating to congressional inquiries be destroyed after a three year period in the same manner in which other general applicant material is presently destroyed. The material in this latter instance would merely pertain to requests from Congressmen for application blanks or current information concerning qualifications for various positions. There are 984 such files in the Personnel Records Unit, all but 13 containing material dated prior to 1950. They are contained in individual files on Congressmen which are no longer used since requests for such information are now filed in a general inquiry file. This material contains no names of applicants since in cases where Congressmen refer applicants, indiviaual files are made up on the applicants.

In connection with the first recommendation that all general applicant material be contained in one file it has been pointed out that presently there exists in the Personnel Records Unit five separate files containing general applicant material. They are: (1) "Applicants - General"; (2) "Informal Applications"; (3) "Unnamed Applicants"; (4) "Suggested Applicants"; (5) "Personnel Inquiries."

In the past authority was given to destroy the material contained in the Applicant - General and Unnamed Applicant files after three years. The material in the Personnel Inquiries file is destroyed after a period of five years. The Records Section has pointed out that Item 16, General Records Schedule, #1, covering all applications and related papers except "Successful Applications" allows destruction of this type material after two years or Civil Service Commission audit, whichever occurs first. The foregoing was primarily designed for the Competitive Service and is still applicable to the Bureau insofar as having records available in connection with veterans' preference is concerned. Therefore, the adoption of a three year waiting period before destruction would appear to be entirely ample.

SA Supervisor C. Ray Davidson personally looked into this matter, conferred with Mr. Short and [redacted] of the Records Section, as well as [redacted] and [redacted] of the Employee Procurement and Placement Unit to determine whether there appeared to be any objection to the recommended action of the Records Section. There was none since actually efforts to locate various types of correspondence that might be placed in the five aforementioned files would be facilitated if they were all placed in one general file. Should difficulty be encountered in locating a referenced communication through an inability to locate an abstract it would be necessary to review only the one general file rather than five.

In connection with the suggestion that authority be given to destroy this material after a period of three years there appears to be no objection to this since there is seldom any reference made to communications over three years old and in practically every instance such a reference would pertain to a person who had filed an application in which case individual files would have been made up.

SUGGESTION #1077-54

C - D - T

On December 9, 1954, I advised that [redacted] and [redacted] made a suggestion that Identification (Fingerprint Matters) Classification 32, be reviewed for destructionand that this suggestion had been adopted.

There are many old files in this classification containing miscellanious fingerprint records. This type of mail is now destroyed by the Identification Division after handling and for this reason these employees made this suggestion. It is estimated that there are 17,000 files, occupying 25 file drawers, and that 20,000 index cards are in the General Index as a result of this mail.

To review, de-index, and destroy files will cost approximately $3,045. while first year savings from reuse of five cabinets, reduction in number of file references to review, files to locate, time to search and list references, and reuse of space in General Index, amounts to approximately $1,066. It is impossible to measure savings in floor space that these files and index cards occupy. This savings, if calculable, would recur year after year. As can be seen it will cost, dollar wise, more to destroy this material than will be realized as afirst year savings, however, we are required by statutory and regulatory provisions to reduce our records holdings. Obviously, such effort will cost money. It should be noted that 3.9 years after destruction of these records, savings in an estimated amount of $683. will be accrued annually thereafter (reduction in searching, file reviewing and locate work).

As there are no net savings during first year, after adoption of this suggestion, it would appear that two employees making this joint suggestion would be entitled to joint receipt of minimum cash award for its adoption.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division.

There is attached hereto a suggestion by [redacted] the Assistant Supervisor of the General Index Unit, to destroy approximately 5,000 index cards made up under outdated indexing procedures under the words "Applicant," "Applicants," "Statement," and "Statements." Examples of the cards are attached. b6 b7C

In each case referred to, the individuals concerned were indexed by name. Indexing on the words "Statement" and "Statements" alone where an individual was involved has not been done since 1941. Indexing on the words "Applicant" and "Applicants" where an individual was involved was discontinued 10-31-38. Employees using the index advise they can recall no instance where they have referred to these cards.

Estimated cash savings based on drawer space alone amounts to $51.50. There are, of course, other advantages to be gained on any destruction of index cards which results in a more workable index.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. It is recommended that favorable consideration be given to [redacted] suggestion to destroy index cards made up under outdated indexing procedures on the words "Applicant," "Applicants," "Statement," and "Statements." If approved, care will be taken to make sure that other indexing exists pertaining to the particular file material.

I would like to suggest that the cards on APPLICANT and APPLICANTS be destroyed.

We have 1,500 mains and 100 sees on APPLICANTS and 500 mains and 15 sees on APPLICANT taking up space of 3 index drawers. Each reference has a subject on which we have a main file as the "Re" on the attached card shows. A few mains and the see references would need to be checked. These cards were made around 1941.

I also suggest that we destroy STATEMENT (1,200) cards and STATEMENTS (1,200) cards.

On these cards, the dropdown shows by whom the statement was made. We have cards in the index on the individuals mentioned. A card is attached to show how they are made. These cards are dated around 1941. ~~This is~~ no longer classified.

Dear Mr. Rogers:

Reference is made to your letter dated February 16, 1955, which requested the observations of the Interdepartmental Intelligence Conference concerning Senate Bill 1005. This Bill would authorize the head of any Federal agency to destroy records under his jurisdiction beyond the continental limits of the United States because of the existence of either a state of war or the imminence of hostile action at the place where records are located. The Bill would also authorize the head of any Federal agency to destroy records under his jurisdiction within the continental limits of the United States when their retention would imperil the security of the United States because of the imminence of hostile action at the place where the records are located.

The military members have advised that they have the authority to destroy such records under these conditions at the present time and, therefore, do not need the legislation proposed. The FBI has previously deferred to the judgment of the Attorney General in connection with this proposed legislation.

WAR PLANS - ~~AMENDED~~ PAGES

Destruction of Bureau Records.

Current Bureau instructions are to the effect that amended pages will not be submitted for investigative reports in the future.

Supervisory personnel in Records Section advised that Records Section is unable to accept amended pages for war plans. Prior Bureau instructions have been that any adjustments necessary to field war plans should be submitted in the form of amended pages. The field has been submitting amended pages to their war plans reflecting changes in their chain of command, changes in their proposed emergency relocation sites and any other changes which relate to essential phases of their emergency planning.

War plans are not disseminated outside the FBI; the amended pages are solely to keep Seat of Government records up to date. Economy of operation indicates that amended pages for war plans should be continued to be accepted and filed at SOG.

Filing procedures to date in the Records Section have been to insert the new or amended page in its appropriate place in the war plans of each field office and to cross out the old page and place it at the back of the existing plan.

There appears to be no useful purpose in keeping the old page to the war plans of any one office since we are interested only in the current and up-to-date plan at any given time and henceforth the Training and Inspection Division has not been retaining the old page when it has been superseded by a new page for that copy of the war plans maintained in the Training and Inspection Division.

Submitting changes to Bureau war plans by letter will make it very confusing and difficult over a period of time to ascertain the exact status of the war plans of each field office.

SYNOPSIS:

There is need to develop workable solution to problem of reducing records volume in field without impairing efficiency of field operations. Following survey in three office for 60 days, Executives Conference, 11/29/54, decided no further action should be taken with regard to suggestion that certain field files be microfilmed to conserve storage space.

Proposal made that auxiliary offices annually destroy all non-security files more than 15 years old, determined by date of top serial in file; files at Seat of Government and office of origin to be retained. Prior to destruction a new index card would be prepared on each file reflecting office of origin, file numbers of Bureau, office of origin and auxiliary office, name, race, date and place of birth of principal subject, date of most recent serial and date of file destruction.

Inspectors B. C. Brown, H. C. Van Pelt and J. E. Nugent favor adoption of proposal as do F. L. Price, Chief of Criminal Section, Wendell Eames of Records Section and ASAC Fletcher, WFO. Inspector G. C. Callan, Special Inquiry Section and J. A. Reilly, Loyalty Section, have no objection provided SACs in field approve, but pointed out possibility of extra correspondence between auxiliary offices and offices of origin regarding content of destroyed files in applicant and Security of Government Employee (SGE) cases, as well as possible delays in investigations.

With Director's approval, survey made in ten offices to determine frequency of references to files over 15 years old in Applicant and SGE cases, and to get views of field regarding proposal. New York, Louisville, Cincinnati, Detroit and Los Angeles offices favor adoption. Seattle favorable except in Kidnaping, Extortion and Bank Robbery cases. Boston approves but with regard to files 20 years of age only. Newark, Chicago and Knoxville offices opposed. Survey disclosed average of ten references per office in one week to files over 15 years old; Chicago reported 58 references, considerably more than other offices. Adoption of proposal would save ~~file storage~~ space in field. Opponents believe it would require additional correspondence and possibly cause delays in some cases as well as considerable work to place proposal into effect.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION: EDM:DMG 3/11/55

Present at the Executives Conference on 3/10/55, were Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Boardman, Rosen, Holloman, McGuire and Mason.

The Conference unanimously recommends that no steps be taken at this time to destroy field files in auxiliary offices where those files relate to nonsecurity types of cases and particularly Applicant and Security of Government Employees matters. The Conference felt that the objections cited and the frequent use to which these files are put necessitate their continuance; their destruction after they have reached the age of 15 years might result in additional correspondence and delays so that the Bureau would be worse off rather than better off.

The Conference suggests no change in the current requirements with regard to the retention of files. (It would be legal to destroy old files in auxiliary offices inasmuch as the original communications would be on hand at the Seat of Government and in the office of origin.)

DETAILS:

Problem:

There is a need to develop a workable solution to the problem of reducing our records volume in the field without impairing the efficiency of field office operations.

Background:

Based upon a survey in three field offices for 60 days for the purpose of determining whether certain field records should be microfilmed to conserve storage space, the Executives Conference on 11/29/54 decided no further action should be taken in this regard.

In view of the increasing interest of government officials in reducing the volume of records, the proposal was made that auxiliary offices annually destroy all files of nonsecurity type which are more than 15 years old, date of destruction to be determined by top serial in RUC file; files at Seat of Government and offices of origin to be maintained as before. (Memorandum from Mr. Harbo to Mr. Tolson, 1/10/55, captioned as above.) Prior to destruction, a new index card would be prepared on each file reflecting the office of origin and its file number, auxiliary office file number, Bureau file number, name and race of principal subject together with date and place of his birth, date of most recent RUC serial and the date the auxiliary office file was destroyed.

Views on Proposal:

This proposal was submitted to Inspectors B. C. Brown, H. C. Van Pelt and J. E. Nugent, all of whom recommended it be adopted. Mr. Mohr, Administrative Division, F. L. Price, Chief of Criminal Section, Investigative Division, Wendell Eames, Records Section and ASAC Howard Fletcher, WFO, advised they have no objection to the proposal being adopted. Inspector G. C. Callan, Special Inquiry Section and J. A. Reilly, Loyalty Section, stated they would interpose no objection to the proposal if the SACs in the field approve it, but Messrs. Callan and Reilly believe the adoption of the proposal would result in (1) additional traffic between offices based upon need for checking out relatives and references of applicants, and (2) delays in some instances due to necessity of setting out leads to offices of origin in applicant and Security of Government Employee cases.

Results of Survey:

With the Director's approval, a survey was conducted in ten field offices for a period of one week to determine the number of references made to non-security type files more than fifteen years old in connection with name checks of applicant (or employee) references and relatives in both applicant and Security of Government Employee cases. Each office was instructed to give its recommendation as to whether the proposal should be adopted for all non-security type cases and as to the effect the plan would have on applicant type investigations.

The New York, Louisville, Cincinnati, Detroit and Los Angeles offices advised they favor adoption of the proposal. In addition, the SAC at Seattle favors adoption except for Kidnaping, Extortion and Bank Robbery cases which, he points out, cover most of the Bureau's major cases and he feels these should not be destroyed. The Boston Office approved the proposal but suggested it apply only to files which are more than 20 years of age. SAC Malone at Los Angeles suggested the files be microfilmed before destruction as an added safeguard.

The Newark, Chicago, and Knoxville Offices were opposed to the proposal. SAC Hostetter, Chicago, recommended placing files over 15 years of age in cheap dead storage space instead of destroying them.

The ten offices making the survey reported a total of 100 references to files over 15 years of age during the week of the survey. Although this gives an average of ten such references per office, it should be noted that the Chicago Office reported 58 of the 100 references, Los Angeles 12, New York 4, Newark 9, Cincinnati 9, Boston 3, Louisvile 3, Detroit 1, Knoxville 1 and Seattle none.

Advantages of Proposal:

The Offices approving the proposal listed the following advantages and observations:

1. Considerable file storage space would be saved in most offices. (Some few Bureau Offices are not old enough to have many files over 15 years of age.)

2. From the small number of referrals to files over 15 years of age during the survey period, there is little reason to expect that destruction of such files in auxiliary offices would entail much additional correspondence between offices to obtain information from office of origin files.

3. The preparation of the new index card on files being destroyed would in many instances provide sufficient information to make it unnecessary to communicate with office of origin for more data.

4. Delays which might occur in some instances because of the necessity to write to office of origin could be avoided by requiring expedite handling of such requests made to the office of origin.

Disadvantages of Proposal:

The Newark, Chicago and Knoxville Offices listed the following disadvantages of the proposal:

1. Considerable correspondence might be necessary between offices to check indices not only in applicant and Security of Government Employee cases but in other cases also.

2. Delays could result in some instances in meeting deadlines due to necessity of setting out leads to offices of origin.

3. In some instances the auxiliary office file contains information not furnished to office of origin or Bureau; for example, an auxiliary office might conduct investigation and on authority of office of origin close the case administratively by memorandum for the file.

4. Considerable work would be necessary to place the program into effect and the cost of the additional work as well as the cost of extra correspondence between offices would exceed the saving on cost of file storage space.

SUGGESTION #105-55
MADE BY [redacted] b6 b7C
RECORDS AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

SUGGESTION:

It is suggested that cards on APPLICANT, APPLICANTS, STATEMENT, and STATEMENTS be destroyed. The suggester points out that there are 1,500 main cards and 100 "see" cards on APPLICANTS and 500main cards and 15 "see" cards on APPLICANT, taking up space of 3 index drawers. Each reference has a subject on which there is a main file as the "Re" on the attached card. There are 1,200 STATEMENT cards and 1,200 STATEMENTS cards. On these cards, the dropdown shows by whom the statement was made. There are cards in the index on the individuals mentioned. A card is attached to show how they are made. These cards are dated around 1941 and are no longer classified.

ADVANTAGES:

The adoption of this suggestion would result in savings of index space.

DISADVANTAGES:

None noted by suggester.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8/3/82 BY SP4ELW/ptc

OBSERVATIONS:

Mr. Eames of the Records Section states that employees using the indices are unable to recall any instance in which they referred to the cards which the suggestion would abolish. Mr. Walkart agrees.

Mr. Eames points out that this suggestion is considered to fall within [redacted] regularly assigned duties inasmuch as she is an Index Research Analyst. She is a grade GS-7 employee.

The new Incentive Awards Program allows cash awards for a suggestion either within or without the employee's job responsibility. In the "within" category, however, a higher degree of superior merit is essential to warrant special recognition. It is believed the suggestion made here is not sufficiently unusual or impressive in scope to be considered sufficiently meritorious for special recognition of any kind. b6 b7C

The file "APPOINTMENT NOTICES" (67-5800), consisting of 13 sections is maintained in the Personnel Records Unit. This file contains the yellow copies of memoranda listing the names of various employees and setting forth information concerning promotion from one grade to another or from one salary level to another. There has been no mail placed in this file since January 13, 1944. It appears therefore, that this material should be considered for destruction.

Accordingly, Section 1 of above-mentioned file is attached hereto. It is suggested that the Administrative Division review this material to determine if reasons exist for the retention of the appointment notices in the Personnel Records Unit.

RECOMMENDATION:

This be referred to the Administrative Division for appropriate action.

TO: Heads of Federal Agencies

SUBJECT: ~~Records Management Handbook:~~ Federal Records Centers HANDBOOK

1. General. The General Services Administration has developed and published the second in a series of Records Management Handbooks entitled "Federal Records Centers."

The handbook describes the steps in transferring records, from the initiation of the request for transfer to the making of the final arrangements for shipping, and explains how Government agencies can save money and protect their records by using the facilities of General Services Administration Federal Records Centers.

A few copies of the handbook are being transmitted to the liaison office in each agency as reported under subsection 102.06, Chapter I, Title 3, Federal Records, Regulations of the General Services Administration. It is suggested that agencies further bring the handbook to the attention of other employees who have staff responsibility for records management.

2. Availability of Additional Copies. The handbook is available as a General Services Administration stores stock item and will be stocked exclusively by General Services Administration Region 3, Federal Supply Service, Stores Depot, Washington 25, D. C., at the current price of $0.12 each. The General Services Administration Stores Stock Catalog number is 35-F-624-300.

The handbook also is available to the public from the Government Printing Office, Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C., at $0.20 per copy.

HOW CENTERS SAVE MONEY

I. WHY THE GOVERNMENT HAS RECORDS CENTERS

The Federal Government is producing records at the rate of 2.9 million cubic feet annually - enough to fill 9,000 four-drawer file cabinets every week in the year.

To handle this accumulation of files economically and efficiently Federal agencies are now required by law to establish and maintain effective records management programs.* Such programs include setting up controls over the creation, organization, maintenance, use, and disposition of records.

One of the major objectives of an agency's records management program is to keep noncurrent records moving out of high-cost space and filing equipment into low-cost records centers as rapidly as possible. Experience in a growing number of agencies proves that at least one-half of an agency's records can be moved from high-cost to low-cost space under a continuing and effective records transfer program. An agency can reach this goal, with the resultant benefits in annual savings, by transferring an average of 10 percent of its records to a Center each year.

As the chart on the opposite page shows, files can be kept in low-cost records centers at a saving to the Government of $2.50 a cubic foot of records. This saving is possible because:

Center storage space costs less. (Compare: $2.30 a cubic foot average for agency space with 55 cents a cubic foot for center space.)

Center storage equipment costs less. (Compare: $50 for an agency filing cabinet with 77 cents for 7 cardboard containers plus $3.90 for shelving.)

Center space is better utilized. (Compare: 3 cubic feet of records in each square foot of space at the center with 1 square foot for each cubic foot in the agency.)

Ten low-cost records centers, a specialized center for personnel records, and several annexes are now being operated by the General Services Administration. Federal agencies are legally authorized to transfer their noncurrent records to these facilities. This handbook tells how your agency can save money, protect its records, and get quick and valuable reference service by using the Federal Records Centers. The steps in transferring records, from initiating the request for transfer to making the final arrangements for shipping, are explained and illustrated on the following pages.

---

*Federal Records Act of 1950 (41 U. S. C. Supp. 280-290).

II. SELECTING FILES FOR TRANSFER

If the records of an agency are completely covered by General Records Schedules and comprehensive agency schedules, there is no problem in deciding what files to transfer to a Center. Comprehensive records control schedules specify what files to transfer and when to transfer them.

In an agency which has no specific instructions on transferring, the selection of files for transfer to Federal Records Centers normally is based on three considerations:

1. How often agency personnel actually need to refer to the file;

2. How much longer the files must be kept before they can be destroyed; and

3. How much it will cost to transport the records to the Center.

A criterion has been developed indicating that files which are referred to not more than once a month per file drawer should be transferred to a Center, provided transportation cost does not wipe out space savings.

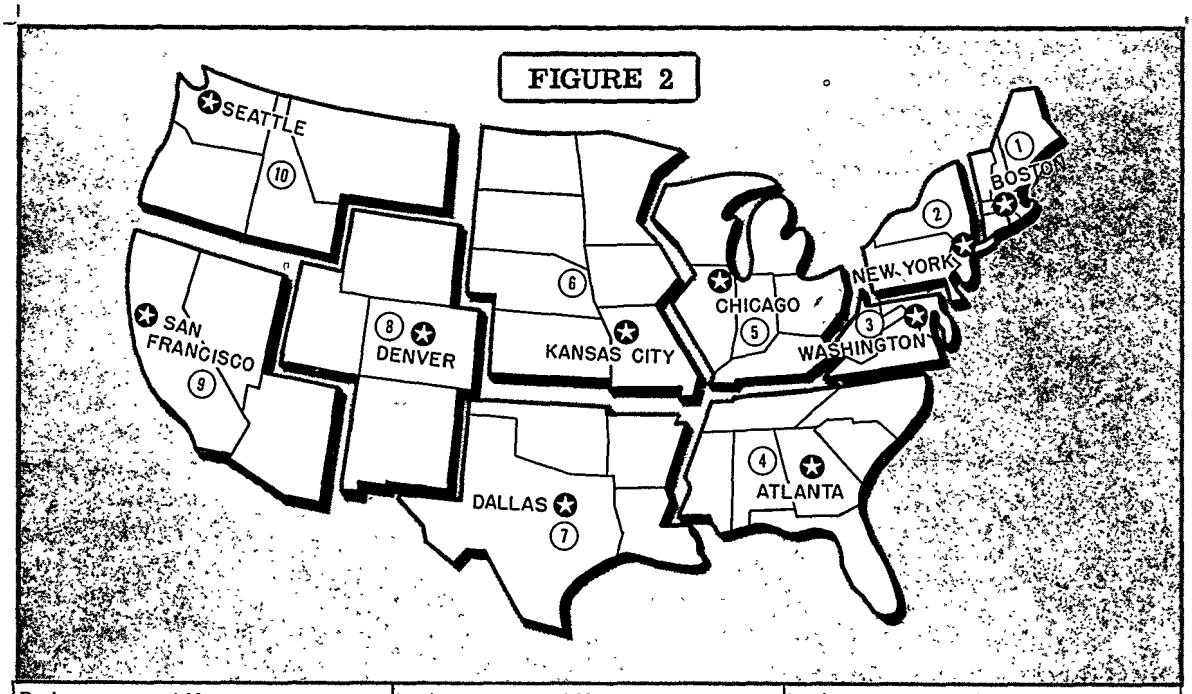
Files meeting the above criterion usually should be transferred to a Center:

1. Regardless of how few records are involved;

2. Regardless of how urgent the need for the infrequent references; and

3. Regardless of how important or how highly security-classified the records or how extensive the restrictions on their use.

Most records over 4 years old will be referred to less than once a month per file drawer. To distinguish their age, correspondence files should be maintained in blocks, according to calendar or fiscal year. This technique is called "breaking" the files, and simply means that on a given date a new set of files will be established for material dated after that time. Files can be "broken" every year, every two years, or every three years, depending on the rate with which the material gathers. Different colored labels can be used on folder tabs to distinguish one time period from another.



Closed out case files are seldom, if ever, referred to more than once a month per file drawer. Case files are usually closed out when a given event occurs - an employee separates from the Government, a claim is settled, a purchase order is paid, and so on.

Each agency has records officers who are available to inspect files and make recommendations as to transfers. Such recommendations may also be requested from GSA by the agency.

III. INITIATING THE TRANSFER REQUEST

To initiate a transfer of files to a Federal Records Center all an agency official needs to do is inform his records management officer. Under the usual procedure, the records management officer begins the transfer arrangements by telephoning or writing the Chief in charge of the nearest Federal Records Center or Annex. Figure 2 shows the 10 regions in which the General Services Administration operates Federal Records Centers. The mailing addresses of the Centers and Annexes are shown below.

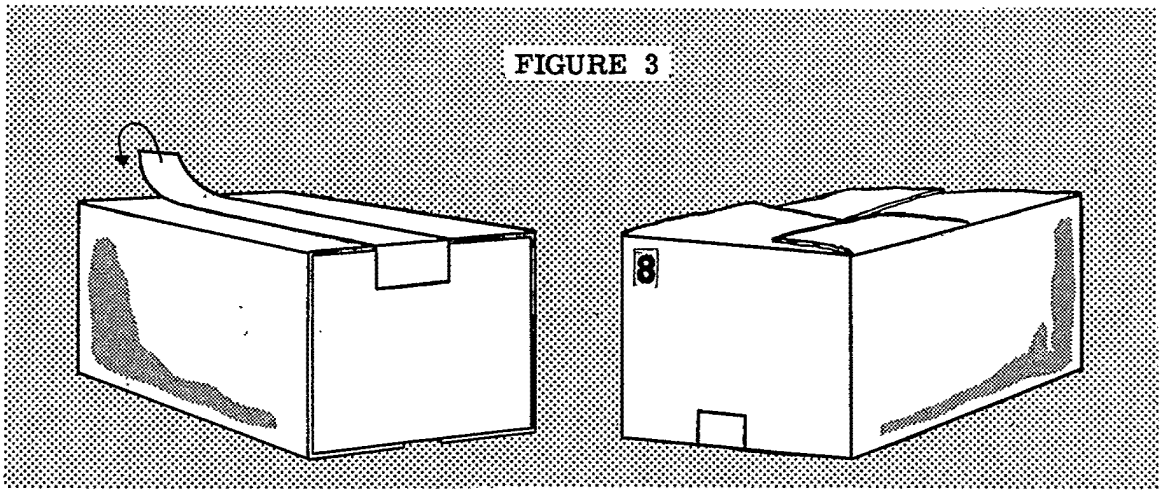
If on the other hand an agency wishes to transfer records from its central office and from its field offices on a nationwide basis, its records management officer deals with the Records Management Division, National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

IV. GETTING FILES READY FOR SHIPMENT

Federal Records Center standard cardboard containers are available for use in shipping files to the Records Centers. Unless an agency is being liquidated or urgently requires immediate removal of its records, it should ship records in these standard containers rather than in filing cabinets or similar equipment.

A standard cardboard container has inside dimensions of 15 by 12 by 10 inches and holds 1 cubic foot of records. Thus for each cubic foot of records to be transferred you will need 1 cardboard container.

A good rule to follow in estimating the total cubic feet of records is this:



Count each full letter-size file drawer as 1½ cubic feet of records; count each full legal-size file drawer as 2 cubic feet of records.

Standard containers may be obtained either from a Federal Records Center or from the Federal Supply Service (Stock No. 53-B-24992-128). The boxes cost about 11 cents apiece, but the Center usually supplies them without charge to an agency. Requests for boxes should be made far enough in advance to be sure they are on hand when packing is scheduled to begin.

Assembling the boxes. When an agency and a Records Center are located in the same general metropolitan area, the boxes may be delivered already assembled. Otherwise, they are delivered "knocked-down."

To assemble a "knocked-down" box, the bottom must be secured either by gummed kraft tape at least 2 inches wide or by machine-applied heavy-duty stitching. The tape should be placed longitudinally on the outside, after the flaps on both ends of the carton have been folded inside. (See Figure 3.) The tape should extend at least 2 inches up each end of the box for extra strength.

Screening. Before putting files in boxes, it is advisable to screen out all unnecessary nonrecord material and all record material clearly authorized for disposal. This screening usually results in a cost savings and should be omitted only:

1. If the need for the agency space occupied by the records is urgent;

2. If the agency office is being liquidated immediately; or

3. If the labor costs of screening or other cost factors outweigh the savings in transportation and storage costs.

In addition to screening before packing, an agency should downgrade security-classified records whenever such downgrading is warranted by changed circumstances, lapse of time, or other conditions affecting the classification.

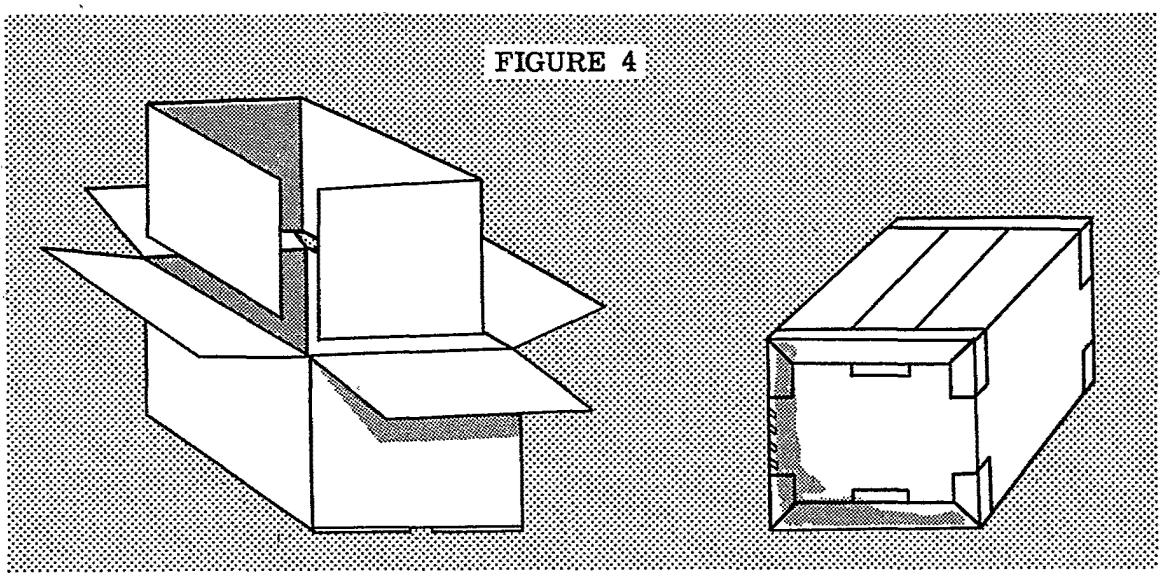
Packing the records. Without disturbing the existing filing arrangement, pack the records firmly in the box. Do not force them. To make future reference easier, fairly active files should be packed less tightly than files which are expected to be inactive. Place the file folders in an upright position, with letter-size folders the 12-inch way, and legal-size folders the 15-inch way. The folder labels may then be read while facing either the 12-inch or 15-inch side. Regardless of how the records are packed, the unstitched 12-inch side of the container is considered the front.

Insofar as is practical, records with widely different retention periods should not be placed in the same carton. And records from more than one bureau or office should never be packed in the same carton.

Numbering the boxes. Boxes should be numbered consecutively in heavy black crayon or its equivalent, starting with No. 1 for each transfer. Write the number on the box in the upper left corner of the front or unstitched side. Each transfer will be assigned a separate accession number by Center personnel after the records are received at the Center.

(Container labels showing the contents of each box are optional with the agency. They are not required, because Federal Records Centers use a permanent location number system. Labels are extremely useful at a Center, however, if the files are arranged in name or numerical sequence.)

Finding aids. The records should be accompanied, where possible, by any relevant finding aids, such as indexes. The Center should be notified of any finding aids retained by the agency.



Closing the boxes. To close the box, simply tuck the flaps alternately over and under each other. (See Figure 3.)

Reinforcing the cartons. If the boxes are to be shipped to the Records Center by freight, express, or parcel post, it may be desirable to reinforce them. As a general rule, boxes should be reinforced if they will be handled more than four times during shipment, as may happen in freight shipments of less than carload lots.

Two methods of reinforcement are equally satisfactory. The easier method is to place a cardboard liner inside the box before it is packed. By this method the sides of the box may be lined and the bottom and top padded with cardboard. Liners cost about 3 cents each; pads about a penny apiece. (Federal Supply Service Stock Nos. 53-L-2942-975 and 53-P-385 respectively.)

The second reinforcement method is to tape all corners and edges of the boxes, top and bottom, thoroughly and skillfully. In this way it is possible to secure all points where the box may come apart if mishandled during shipment.

Oversized records. Oversized records, such as ledgers and similar volumes, which will not fit into standard containers, should be tied in bundles with sturdy identification tags attached. Each bundle should be handled just as another box in the numbering sequence. The number should be written on the tag, along with any other necessary descriptive data. Just as in the case of cartons, bundles shipped out of the area should be prepared with extra care to protect them against rough handling.

Undersized records. Small records, such as cards or papers 3 by 5 inches, 5 by 8 inches, and 3 by 11 inches, may be shipped in standard cartons, but they should be arranged in small to medium length lots and bound with heavy rubber bands. Arrange them in as many rows as possible, using cardboard pads between layers.

Filing cabinets. As indicated in Part IV, records should be transferred to Centers in filing cabinets in exceptional cases only. In preparing records for shipment in filing cases, press the compressing devices inside each drawer tightly against the records. Then secure the drawers by ropes or metal bands regardless of whether they have locking devices. Finally number the cabinets in consecutive order.

V. PREPARING THE TRANSFER FORMS

The transfer of records to a Federal Records Center requires preparation of two simple forms. These forms serve:

1. To record the transfer of custody of the files to the Federal Records Center subject to any legally binding restrictions on use which an agency may impose; and

2. To provide an accession inventory sufficiently detailed to enable the Center to give an agency any reference service it may need.

The forms, known as Standard Form 134 and Standard Form 135, may be obtained from a Federal Records Center, or from the source that normally supplies your agency with standard forms.

Standard Form 135, Transmittal of Government Records (Figure 5), is the basic transfer document. It should be filled out carefully and in detail. An original and one copy are forwarded to the Center to which the records are being transferred. (Note: When transferring records to the Center in Washington, D. C., the agency should forward an original and two copies.) The Center returns one copy to the agency, signed by a Center official. This copy is the agency's receipt for the transfer.

When records that have been site-audited by the General Accounting Office are being transferred, an additional copy of Standard Form 135 should be prepared and forwarded to the Examination and Settlement Branch, Division of Audits, General Accounting Office, Washington 25, D. C.

Standard Form 134, Records Shelf List (Figure 6), is an accession or box-by-box inventory which enables the Center to provide reference service on the records. It should be prepared with the same number of copies and forwarded in the same manner as Standard Form 135. One copy will be returned to the appropriate agency official with his copy of Standard Form 135.

Standard Form 134 is not necessary when Standard Form 135 can be made to serve as an accession inventory. Standard Form 135 can serve as an accession inventory:

1. When the total volume involved is no more than 10 cubic feet; or

2. When the records are considered so inactive that no further reference demands are anticipated.

When the volume is small, a box-by-box inventory, if necessary, can be included on Standard Form 135 as part of the description of records. When need for reference service is not anticipated, a box-by-box inventory is unnecessary and only the inclusive box numbers for each type of record need be given on Standard Form 135.

Although transfer documentation may be prepared by Center personnel, usually it is better for agency officials to prepare it by use of these standard forms. The documentation may be as varied as common sense dictates. In preparing the descriptions of the records, use any special terminology or information which may make the transfer documents more meaningful for serving your future reference needs.

Most of the entries on Standard Forms 135 and 134 are self-explanatory, but a few require some explanation.

The accession number and the record group number, which distinguish the records of one agency or bureau from all others, are filled in by the Center on both forms.

STANDARD FORM 135, TRANSMITTAL OF GOVERNMENT RECORDS

Description of Records. The description of your records should provide enough information -

1. To clearly identify them;

2. To enable the Center to give reference service on them; and

3. To enable the Center to prepare schedules covering any records not covered by agency or general records control schedules. Such schedules specify which records are of continuing value and how long the other records need to be retained.

Normally, the description given on Standard Form 135 will be general, serving to identify and describe the total group of records being transferred. (Exception: Description should be broken down by individual records series if Standard Form 134 is not used.) The general description should include such information about the records as:

1. Their administrative origins, including past organizational changes when significant and relevant;

2. Their inclusive dates;

3. The purpose for which they were created, their relationship to the program activities of the organization creating or using them, and any other significant purpose or function they may or do serve;

4. Their general content; and

5. Their significant relationships with other records, including duplication.

The order of the information does not matter as long as the description is adequate. Figure 5 illustrates a sample general description.

If records are security-classified, the description must include the degree of classification. If the classified materials are not specifically named or described, or if no security-classified information is revealed, the standard forms documenting the transfer do not need to be classified. Whenever actual security-classified information is revealed, however, the agency should stamp the transfer document involved with the highest security classification borne by the information.

Restrictions on Use of Records. Particular attention should be given to this item. The specific restrictions an agency imposes on the use of transferred records should rest on legal considerations or considerations of the public interest. All restrictions dealing with access to the records will be rigidly enforced by the Center.

Coverage of Records by Disposal Schedules. To enable the Center to make proper and economical disposition of transferred records, you should specifically indicate what records are scheduled for disposal and the approved agency or general schedules which cover them. Even though such schedules authorize the disposal of your records after a specified date or the meeting of certain conditions, the Center will always secure your approval before it disposes of the records.

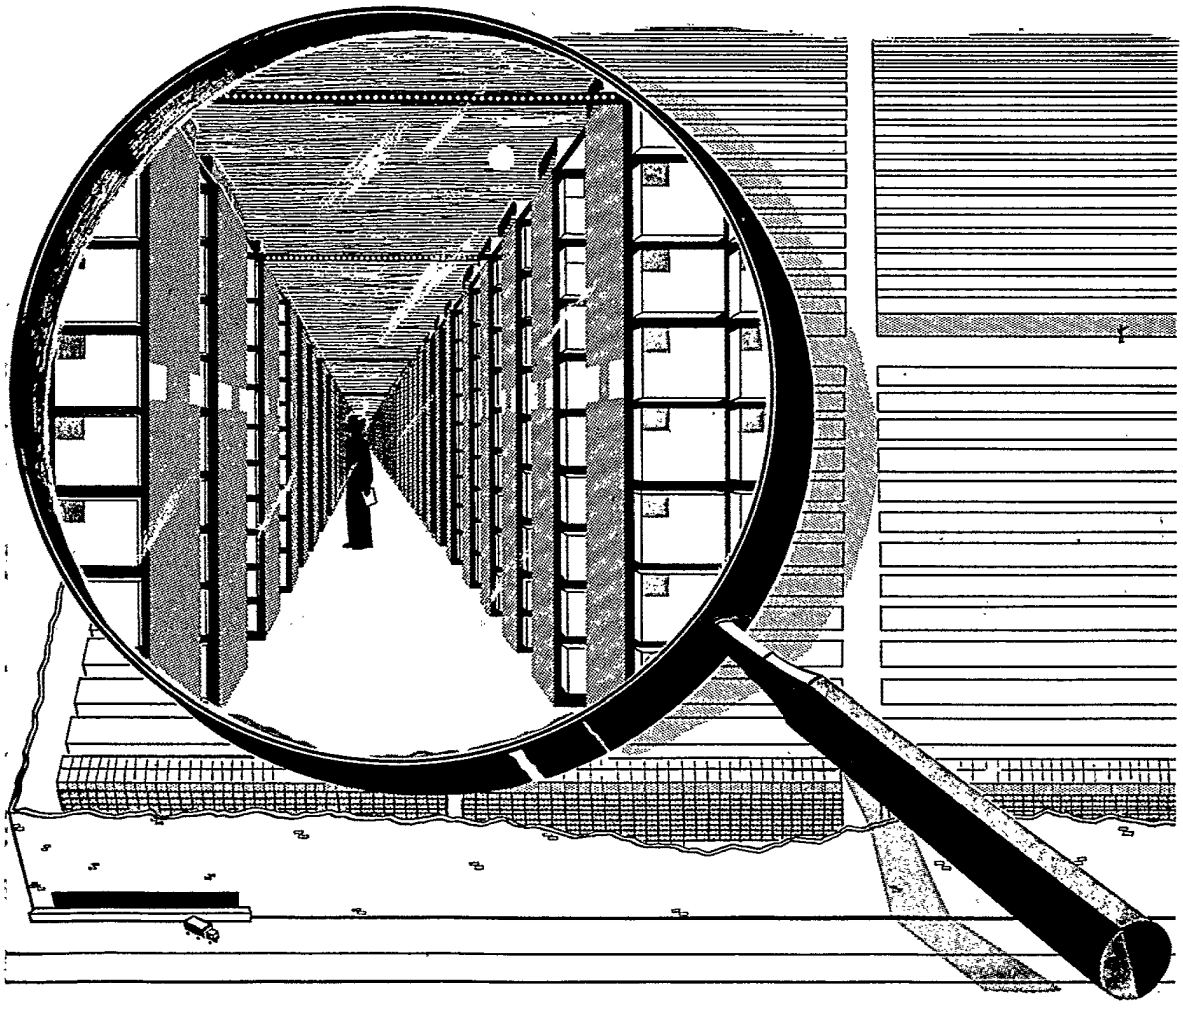
STANDARD FORM 134, RECORDS SHELF LIST

Description of Records. The description on this form should be broken down by individual records series. For each series the title and the inclusive dates should be given. If the title is not self-explanatory additional information must be included. Immediately following the title line or the explanatory paragraph, cite the disposition authority by schedule and item numbers.

A records series consists of documents, volumes, or folders that are arranged under a single filing system or are kept together as a unit because they relate to a particular subject, result from the same activity, or have a particular form. A series may consist of a single folder or of hundreds of feet of files; volume is not a factor. As a practical matter, single folders and similar small volumes of records may at times be lumped together into an artificially created series with a title indicating the general nature of the records, but such descriptions are much less useful for servicing records.

Each records series needs to be described only once. If a series fills several boxes, a breakdown of the chronological, numerical, or alphabetical coverage of each box should be given whenever necessary to facilitate future reference service on the records. In such breakdowns, the file designations (filing symbol, name, number, or date) of the first and last folders or documents within each box are usually sufficient. Any evident gaps in the series should be indicated.

The description of each series should include much the same kind of information that is included in the generalized description for the total transfer on Standard Form 135. In addition, information should be included on (a) the physical type and form, for example, sound recordings, maps, tabulating cards, correspondence, directives, estimates, reports, inquiries, instructions, memoranda, orders, summaries, or vouchers, and (b) internal organization or arrangement, for example, alphabetical, numerical, chronological, or classified system such as Dewey-decimal. Figure 6 shows a sample description of a series.



An index or other finding aid is itself a series and should be carefully described.

If the records are security-classified, the degree of classification must be given on Standard Form 134. The same principles of classification apply to this form as to Standard Form 135 (see above).

Agency Container Number. As has been indicated, boxes should be numbered consecutively. If a series description applies to the records in several boxes and there is no further box-by-box breakdown, the inclusive box numbers should be entered; for example, 29-41. If by chance a box number is skipped during packing, the agency should still enter that number on the Records Shelf List, with the statement "No box." It is essential that the container numbers on Standard Form 134 be accurate and correspond exactly with the numbers on the boxes.

FRC Container Number. This column on Standard Form 134 should be left blank. The Center will assign and fill in Center storage location space numbers. These numbers will be noted on the copy of the form the Center returns to an agency.

INTERIOR VIEW OF A TYPICAL RECORDS CENTER

VI. HOW TO SHIP THE RECORDS

Obviously, the most economical means available should be used to move files to Records Centers. If they are to be moved only a short distance, trucks owned by the Center will usually pick them up. In any case, if the agency so requests, the Center will assist in making the necessary transportation arrangements.

When Center trucks are not used, shipment may be made by parcel post, freight, or express.

Shipments by parcel post should be sent registered mail.

To get special tariff rates for Government records, shippers using commercial carriers should put the following statement on bills of lading and shipping orders:

> "The agreed or declared value of the property is hereby specifically stated by the shipper to be not exceeding 3-1/2 cents per pound."

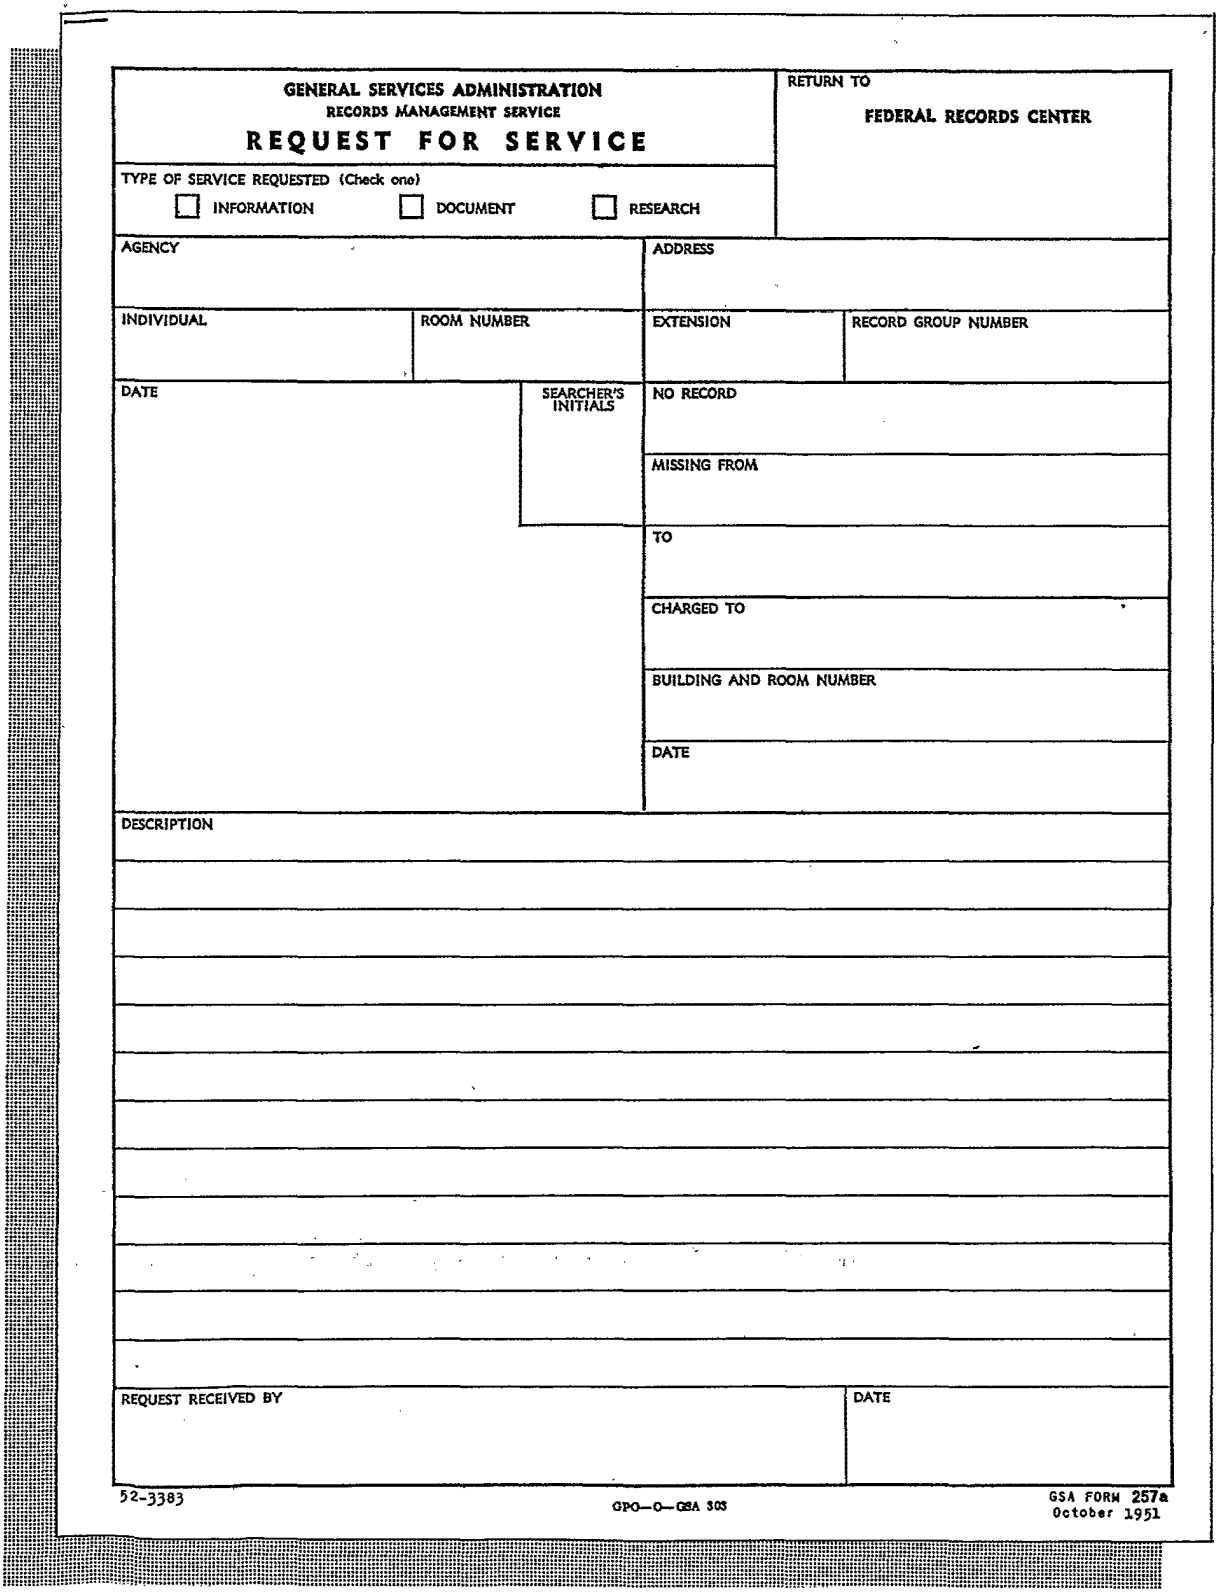
This statement entitles the shipper to special tariff rates for Government records.

When records are shipped by rail and there is sufficient weight for a carload, they should be loaded as heavily as possible. Railroads have two weight minimums: a 30,000-pound minimum for which 4th-class rates prevail, and a 40,000-pound minimum for which 5th-class rates prevail. Commercial trucks have a minimum weight of 20,000 pounds for special rates.

The following yardsticks may be useful in planning the movement of records:

One Center box holds 1 cubic foot of records and weighs 30 pounds.

One ton of records equals 70 cubic feet.



One empty filing cabinet weighs 150 pounds if steel; 105 pounds if wood.

One 40-foot tractor-trailer will transport 1,600 cubic feet of records.

One cubic foot equals 3,000 letter-size sheets of paper.

One cubic foot equals 10,000 tabulating punch cards.

If records are forwarded in file cabinets or transfer cases the agency must indicate in item 11 of Standard Form 135, Transmittal of Government Records, how many cabinets or cases, if any, it wants returned. The Center packs records received in file equipment in regular Center boxes and either returns the equipment to the transferring agency or turns it over to the Federal Supply Service, whichever the transferring agency desires. If the agency does not want the file equipment returned, it should prepare Standard Form 120, Report of Excess Personal Property, so that the Center can dispose of the equipment.

VII. HOW TO GET REFERENCE SERVICE

Agency officials can get quick and reliable reference service on records transferred to a Federal Records Center by requesting the service in whatever way is most convenient—by telephone, in writing (as by a letter or form), by messenger, or by personal call.

The requester may ask for information from the records, for photographs of them, for authenticated copies, or for the loan or return of the records themselves. No reference service will be honored, however, if it conflicts with restrictions established by the transferring agency. And no telephone information may be given on records with a security classification of confidential or higher.

In making a reference request specify:

1. The name of the agency and the name and location of the person for whom the request is being made;

2. The accession number of the particular transfer in which the records were included, as shown on the agency copy of Standard Form 135, Transmittal of Government Records;

3. A description of the information and/or records desired; and

4. The number of the Records Center box in which the records will probably be found, if it is possible to determine it from the copy of Standard Form 134, Records Shelf List, that was returned by the Center when the records were transferred.

By giving the Center the accession number and the Federal Records Center container number, the agency greatly facilitates the Center's search for the records.

When requests for service are received in writing or by telephone, the Center normally supplies the requested service within 24 hours.

No special form is needed to make written requests for Center reference service, although agencies wishing to do so may obtain and use GSA Form 257a, Request for Service. The Center will be glad to supply copies of this form, which is shown in Figure 7. The form is primarily designed for Center use; therefore an agency using it should ignore the irrelevant items.

Some agencies find it desirable to require all telephone or written requests to be made by, or channeled through, one or two persons in the agency. The names of such persons should be given to the Center.

The Center delivers requested records to "out-of-town customers" by regular United States mail, observing all necessary security requirements in doing so. If an office is in the same metropolitan area as the Center, however, the Center can deliver requested records or information by regular mail, by regular daily Center-operated "Archival Messenger Service," or by Center special delivery service. The last is used only if the need is urgent.

An agency should make general arrangements with the Center as to the normal type of delivery service to be provided. As a rule of thumb, when time is not important, it is more economical for the Center to send small amounts of records by regular mail. When deliveries are to be made by Archival Messenger Service, it is desirable for the agency to designate a single agency delivery point, such as the agency mail room, and to inform the Center of such delivery point.

Messengers sent to a Center to pick up requested records or information or agency officials who make personal visits to a Center for reference service purposes must always provide:

1. Clear identification;

2. Evidence of security clearance, if needed; and

3. Authorization to refer to records if their use is restricted.

Records may be requested for loan or permanent withdrawal. If on loan, the records may be retained as long as an agency desires. The Center exercises a limited follow-up control only if the agency requests such service, or if the records are of permanent value.

If information is sought rather than the records themselves, it is important to remember that Centers can only report findings of fact as stated in the records. Centers cannot provide interpretations and should not be requested to do so. If interpretations are needed, whenever practicable the relevant documents or copies of them will be furnished to permit the interpretation to be made by the requesting individual or agency.

Photo-reproductions of records can be furnished only if such reproduction is not contrary to agency restrictions, security requirements, or statutory restrictions. For example, there is a legal prohibition against the reproduction of naturalization papers. Centers will do microfilming only on a reimbursable basis. Charges also will be made for photo-reproductions involving an excessive expenditure of Center resources or unusual technical problems. A request involving more than 10 pages of photo-reproductions may be considered excessive if the agency concerned has its own reproduction facilities.

VIII. DISPOSAL OF RECORDS IN THE CENTERS

The transfer of records to Federal Records Centers is not a substitute for disposal. Rather it goes hand in hand with disposal. Experience has shown that Centers speed up disposal of records.

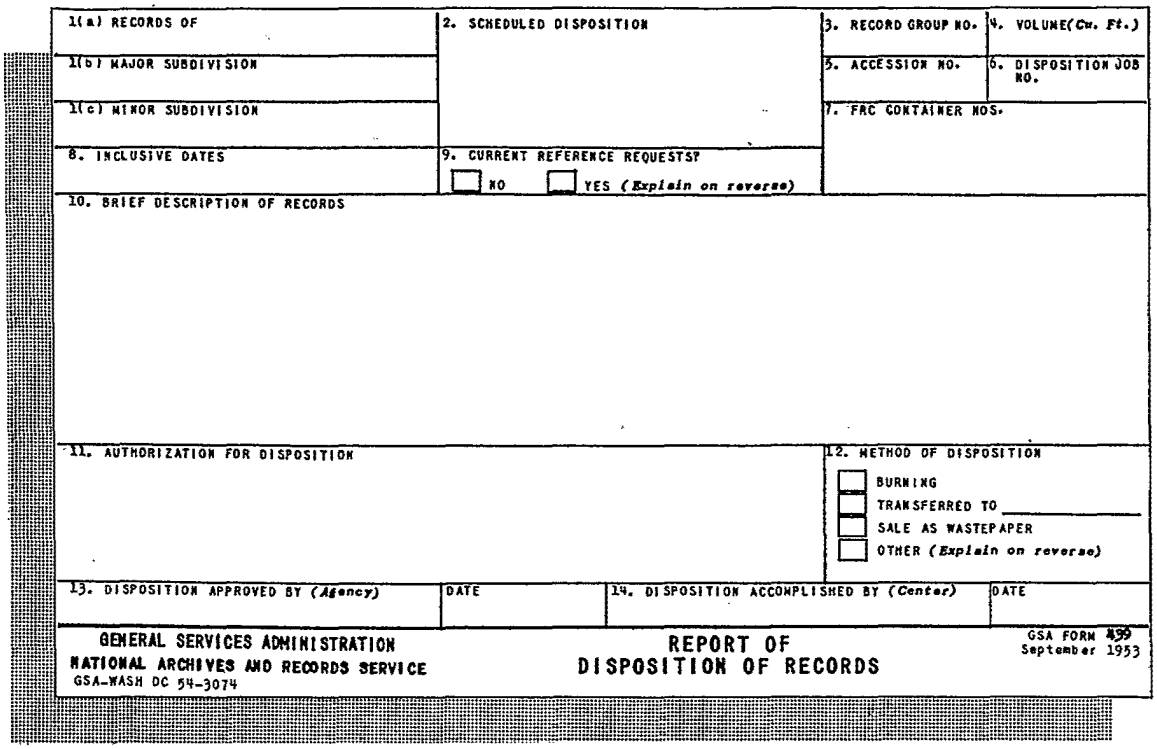
Disposition activities at Federal Records Centers have three major objectives:

1. To assist the National Archives and Records Service in identifying the records of enduring value of departmental and field activities of the Federal Government;

2. To assist Federal agencies in establishing retention periods for records that do not have enduring value; and

3. To remove from Federal Records Centers all disposable records promptly, always with agency concurrence, regardless of whether record or nonrecord material is involved.

If these three objectives are maintained, there will be few records in any Center marked "Disposal date not established," or "Retain indefinitely."



In accordance with GSA Regulations 3-IV-302.06, no record material can be disposed of without the agency's written concurrence, even though Congress has authorized the disposal. Such concurrence is received from the records-creating agency, the records-transferring agency, or any responsible successor agency, whichever is applicable.

If the records-creating or records-transferring agency is discontinued after the records are received in the Center and no agency succeeds to its functions or is entrusted with its liquidation, approval for the disposal of the records is obtained from the Records Management Division, National Archives and Records Service.

The Center likewise obtains agency approval for the disposal of nonrecord material in order that there will be no misunderstanding as to the record or nonrecord nature of particular files.

Before disposing of any records, the Center fills out and sends the agency concerned GSA Form 439, Report of Disposition of Records (See Figure 8). The agency then determines whether the authorization for disposal is still in effect, and whether the records are active enough to warrant keeping them longer. The relation between the volume of the records, shown in item 4 of Form 439, and the number of current requests for reference service has a direct bearing on the decision as to whether they should be kept. For example, 6 requests for service in 1 year on 6,000 cubic feet of records, would provide little justification for keeping them longer.

If the agency approves the disposition, it signs Form 439 and returns it to the center as authority for disposal action.

IX. THE ST. LOUIS FEDERAL RECORDS CENTER

The General Services Administration maintains at 1724 Locust Street, St. Louis 3, Missouri, a Federal Records Center for all personnel and pay records of former civilian employees of the Federal Government. Because of the specialized nature of this Center, transferring records to it and getting reference service from it require some special procedures.

Each Federal agency should transfer the following three types of records to the Center at St. Louis:

1. Official Personnel Folders of separated employees and comparable files accumulated before Official Personnel Folders were established;

2. Service Record Cards (Standard Form 7 or its equivalent) of separated or transferred employees; and

3. Individual Earnings and Service Cards (such as Standard Form 1127 or its equivalent) or Comprehensive Payrolls or Individual Pay Folders.

Personnel Folders. Civil Service Commission Regulations (Title 5, Administrative Personnel, Part 28, Code of Federal Regulations) require that Official Personnel Folders of persons who have been separated from the Federal service for 1 year be transferred to the Federal Records Center, St. Louis. Military agencies are required, however, to transfer similar records within 30 days after the separation of their civilian employees.

When an employee is separated from an agency, the agency should take these steps in regard to his Official Personnel Folder:

1. Remove it from the active file.

2. Examine all the documents in it to ensure that all the permanent ones are on the right-hand side.

3. Remove and destroy the temporary material on the left-hand side.

4. Record the date of separation in pencil on the face of the tab of the folder, for example: S-9/30/54.

5. File the folder alphabetically in an inactive file.

6. Once a month, in civil agencies, screen the file and remove, for transmittal to the St. Louis Center, the folders of employees who have been separated for a year.

To make the screening easier, metal signal tabs, marked with the name of the month, may be placed on the folder tab to indicate the month the folder should be transferred to the Federal Records Center. Each office may determine whether the use of the signal tabs is warranted—perhaps using a criterion of whether it has 50 or more inactive folders. After the folders have been pulled, the tabs may be removed and used again.

In the military agencies, the entire inactive file is transferred at the end of each month.

Unless the quantity of folders is too great, they may be placed in a penalty envelope for mailing to the St. Louis Center. Parcel post is recommended for larger quantities.

A transmittal memorandum similar to Figure 9 should be forwarded to the St. Louis Center with the records. The folders do not need to be listed by name, since their transfer is noted on the corresponding Service Record Cards. To avoid an unwarranted drain on its manpower the Center does not acknowledge receipt of records sent it.

Before sending the folders to the Center, the agency should make every effort to find and place in the folders any pertinent papers that are held elsewhere in its offices. If stray documents are found later, they should be sent to the Center with a separate copy of Standard Form 127, Request for Official Personnel Folder, for each individual involved. (See Figure 10.) When this form is used for transmitting loose papers, blocks 2, 4, 5, and 6c should be filled out. The date of the person's separation must be entered in block 5.

The personnel office can be of material assistance to medical offices holding industrial health records by informing them of a transfer of personnel records. The information, including the names of the individuals whose folders are being transferred, should be given to a medical office at least a week before shipment.

To request a folder from the St. Louis Center, use Standard Form 127, mentioned above. A separate form, in duplicate, should be completed for each individual whose personnel folder is desired. A memorandum in lieu of Standard Form 127 should be used to request information from the folders.

Service Record Cards. Standards governing the transfer of Service Record Cards, or their equivalent, are proposed in General Records Schedule No. 1, item 2.

Upon transfer or separation of an employee, an agency will remove his Service Record Card from the Service Control File, prescribed in the United States Civil Service Commission's Handbook S-812, and place it alphabetically in a vertical inactive file. This inactive file should be broken every 5 years, and by the time the second file is to be closed and a third one established, the first can be sent to the Federal Records Center, St. Louis. In this way Service Record Cards will be retained from 5 to 10 years after separation of an employee, and cards sent to the St. Louis Center in 5-year blocks.

The St. Louis Center will not lend Service Record Cards in its custody except to the transferring agency. Photocopies will be provided upon request, however.

Fiscal records relating to pay. The St. Louis Center will accept IER cards, comprehensive payrolls, or individual fiscal folders as outlined in General Records Schedule No. 2. Such records should be transferred 1 year after completion of the audit. They are used to provide service record data when the Official Personnel Folder is missing or incomplete.

Shipment should be made in standard Federal Records Center cardboard cartons, described in Part IV, obtainable from the nearest Center or Annex. Standard Forms 134 and 135 (see Part V) should be used to transmit fiscal records and to inventory them.

Fiscal records sent to the St. Louis Center will not be merged with the Official Personnel Folder nor transferred to another agency. Photocopies will be provided as needed, however.

SUGGESTION #1077-54
MADE JOINTLY BY [redacted]
AND [redacted]
RECORDS & COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

b6
b7C

SUGGESTION:

[redacted] and [redacted] jointly suggested that old files of the 32 Classification on Identification (Fingerprint Matters) be reviewed for destruction. The suggestion was adopted.

[redacted] made the suggestion as a GS-6 Clerk in the Correlation Unit and [redacted] as a GS-7 Co-ordinator in the Correlation Unit. Neither employee was a Supervisor. The suggestion is not within the purview of their normal duties. The Supervisor of these employees is Frank W. Waikart.

[redacted] was a member of the Streamlining Committee when this suggestion was made but [redacted] was not.

BACKGROUND:

When the suggestion was made, there were an estimated 17,000 files of the referenced type, occupying 25 file drawers, and 2,000 cards indexing these files in the General Index. A survey showed the files and cards to run from 1921 to 1926, inclusive. During recent years, the Identification Division has destroyed the type of mail found in these files after the mail has been handled. Because of this practice, the 2 employees above suggested that the Bureau also destroy the old files set up under the previous practice in which this mail was filed and kept.

ADVANTAGES:

Extra space will be made available in file cabinets and the General Index. There will be a reduction in the number of file references to review, files to locate and time required to search and list references previously found in the old files being destroyed.

DISADVANTAGES:

There is a cost involved in reviewing and destroying the old files.

SAVINGS:

Annual savings of $683.00 are estimated by the Records Section to accrue year after year from reuse of cabinets and other space and elimination of searching and reviewing these old file references. The cost of destroying these records offsets the savings for the first 3.9 years.

OBSERVATIONS:

Adoption of this suggestion will result in cash savings which begin to accrue in 3.9 years and intangible benefits through greater efficiency in the Records Section as a result of these excess records being gotten out of the way. It is noted that the Records Section made an actual survey and found that 270 useless references to these outdated files were made in a 4-week period. This indicates a saving of time, money and effort by eliminating the records.

The table of awards for suggestions having both tangible and intangible benefits shows that where the benefit is "minor" and the area of the application is "limited" the minimum award is $10 and the maximum award is $50.

RECOMMENDATION:

That an award of $20 be granted jointly to [redacted] and [redacted] to be shared in the amount of $10 each.

ADDENDUM OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISION EJI:ilw 3/22/55

It appears from the foregoing that [redacted] and [redacted] have met one of the standards for a cash award under the Incentive Awards Plan as follows: "Ideas which have resulted in improved operation."

It is believed advisable to process this suggestion under the above standard rather than on the basis of estimated saving since such saving will not accrue for a period of nearly four years. Accordingly, the Administrative Division concurs in the recommendation of the Training and Inspection Division that [redacted] and [redacted] be granted a joint cash award of $20.00, to be divided equally between them. If you approve, the appropriate letters and the authorization for the cash aware are attached.

At the present time, there is maintained in the Personnel Records Unit file number 67-03 captioned "Errors in the Field." The first piece of correspondence in this file is dated August 19, 1929 and the last piece of correspondence is dated February 21, 1942. Inasmuch as this file is no longer used, it is felt that consideration should be given to destroying the material contained in the file.

As you know, material relating to errors in the various Field Offices is now filed in the Field Office file of the particular office involved.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this be referred to the Administrative Division in order that consideration may be given to the destruction of material contained in file 67-03.

As the Bureau knows, information in security informant reports is disseminated to appropriate files as indicated in the attached sample memo. Copies of this memo go to all pertinent files. The original, along with the informant's report, goes into informant's file, being Serial [redacted] in sample case.

When an agent writes a report on a subject, all pertinent information in the serials in subject's file is incorporated into that report. Hence all pertinent information in 100-14899-460 (sample memo) would be in this report. It is seldom that the need ever arises to again review this serial (100-14899-460), but should such occasion arise, the documentation page of subject's report will show that the original of this memo can be located in [redacted] Consequently no justification appears to exist for retaining this serial (100-14899-460) in subject's file. b7D

It is recommended that when a report is written, the dictating agent submit a memo for the subject's file, listing in numerical order the serial numbers of the memoranda reviewed and incorporated into the report. This applies only to those memoranda where the documentation page shows the original to be in a file other than subject's file. This memo, to be directed to the Chief Clerk, would authorize the destruction of the serials listed. This memo will serve as an explanation for the missing serials.

Memoranda, such as the sample copy, are disseminated on an average to fifteen to eighteen files. They constitute in excess of 60% of the bulk of a security file. Their destruction would save approximately 60% of the filing space hereafter required for security files. To retain them actually amounts to maintaining duplicate records which serve no useful purpose.

In the Personnel Records Unit we have 8 sections of a file containing yellow copies of memoranda to the Department of Justice setting forth the names of individuals entering on duty with the Bureau. First memorandum is dated December 16, 1941, and the last memorandum is dated January 28, 1952. There has been no material added to this file since January, 1952.

Inasmuch as the individual files of employees contain oaths of office and other data reflecting their entrance on duty, it appears feasible to destroy the copies of the memoranda directed to the Department.

I am attaching hereto Section 1 of the file labeled "E. O. D. MEMOS FOR THE DEPARTMENT" (67-046). It is suggested that this file be reviewed by the Administrative Division to determine if any objection exists to the destruction of this material.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this be referred to the Administrative Division for appropriate action.

Information obtained from a security informant is incorporated into a memorandum, copies of which are designated for all pertinent files. SA [redacted] has suggested that copies of all such memoranda in an individual's case file be destroyed at the time the next report is written, which report would contain information secured from the copies of these memoranda. He suggests that the Agent dictating the report also prepare a memorandum listing the various memoranda by serial numbers which are used in the preparation of the report. This memorandum would be the basis for the destruction of copies of memoranda reflecting information from the informants and would also serve to explain the missing serials.

OBSERVATIONS:

1. The copies of the memoranda reflecting information secured from an informant if maintained in individual case files would eliminate the necessity of file reviews to locate this information. The information in these memoranda is normally paraphrased when including the data in a report and should be retained in order that an individual file will be complete in itself.

2. It should be noted that notations of an administrative nature are frequently made on such serials. The destruction of such serials may later result in extreme difficulty in fixing responsibility in the event a question arises as to the handling of a particular case.

3. It is also possible that the memoranda may contain information concerning a subject which is not presently pertinent to the investigation and, therefore, not included in the report. Such information pertaining to the subject of a case file should, of course, be retained in the individual case file.

ReBUlet to NY 4/1/55. "Destruction of Bureau Property"

This suggestion appears to have merit from standpoint of saving space. However, this is outweighed by amount of extra time consumed in referring to original source. Having informant's memo always available in subj's file saves considerable agent time when need arises for future file review in such cases as preparing prosecutive reports, SI reviews, contemplated interview with subj review for possible violations arising out of subj's appearance at Congressional hearings, possible changes in SI standards, etc.

Should this suggestion be adopted, demands made for informant's original rept would be such as to greatly impede the submission of subsequent reports as numerous SAs would have occasion to refer to it at same time.

Further, constant handling of informant's original rept by a large number of employees would eventually so deface the original report that its future value as evidence might be destroyed.

In addition, it would appear that the considerable amount of clerical time involved in destroying memoranda in the substantive case files would more than offset any financial saving gained.

ReBulet 4-1-55 enclosing a memorandum of 3-18-55 incorporating the suggestion of SA [redacted] (168-55). The memorandum and its attachment are returned herewith. The suggestion has been reviewed by and discussed with the security supervisors of this office, and based on their views, it is recommended it not be adopted.

The Bureau requests an estimate of the percentage of file space saved if the suggestion were adopted. Philadelphia estimates 50%. In Philadelphia it is estimated this would total about 41 four drawer file cabinets or 33 five drawer file cabinets.

The recommendation against the suggestion is based on the fact that the suggestion is believed to incorporate a false premise. A report written on a security subject, particularly one who is quite active, will normally incorporate a summary of the CP activity rather than all conceivably pertinent details. For intelligence purposes or for an evaluation of the dangerousness of the subject, the information contained in the report is adequate. If the point should be reached when the subject must be prosecuted, the U. S. Attorney will require the maximum possible detail regarding each meeting attended so that he can (1) prepare his case; (2) interview and prepare witnesses; and(3) be prepared for cross examination. For this purpose the U.S. Attorney is normally furnished with the original informant reports or the disseminating memoranda. Most of our security reports to which the suggestion would apply involve persons on security index, formerly on security index, or being considered for security index. Should the Detcom Program go into effect Government attorneys would require detailed information regarding many persons simultaneously. To the extent that the original information or copies thereof is available in the master file, the task of preparing and presenting the cases will be facilitated. If the Bureau places itself in a position where information needed for the preparation of many cases must be sought simultaneously from the file of a single informant it is feared that great confusion will result. It is felt that the principal purpose in these investigations is a determination of dangerousness and preparation of cases that can be presented to a Court or Hearing Board with the greatest facility under conditions that might prevail should the Detcom Program go into effect. Accordinglyy the possible saving in space must become a secondary consideration.

During latter part of 1945 and early part of 1946 the Bureau conducted name checks on employees being considered for transfer to the State Department from other Government Agencies. These name checks were submitted to the Bureau in list form. These lists are filed in 62-80335. Alongside the name is the symbol of the results of the name search. If an ident was made a blank memorandum was prepared. Yellows of these blank memoranda are filed on top of each list.

It is proposed that all names on which derogatory information was not developed be de-indexed in order to prevent unnecessary file reviews and to reacquire additional space in the General Index. These are merely name checks and we do not retain "no-record" name checks today.

RECOMMENDATION:

That all names in above captioned file on which derogatory information was not developed be de-indexed, and that the index cards on such names be destroyed.

Above captioned file was opened in 1933 after the Field was requested to submit to the Bureau a list of notorious criminals. The Field was advised that it was desired to assemble in the Identification Division full and complete data as to individuals who were members of well-known gangs. There are approximately 1,000 names indexed in this file. A review of the file reflects that all of the mail was forwarded to the Identification Division. The file merely contains the criminal records of various men and this information is duplicated in the Identification Division. Accordingly, inasmuch as this information is duplicated in the Identification Division, it is felt that these names should be de-indexed to prevent unnecessary file reviews.

SUGGESTION: That informative memoranda in subject files be taken from those files and destroyed after the pertinent information in each memorandum has been incorporated into a report written on that subject. When the Agent has dictated his report he would also dictate written notification to the Chief Clerk of the memoranda in the subject files which had been incorporated into this report and the Chief Clerk would then destroy those memoranda. Should the originals ever be needed they could be found in the files of the informants who gave the information.

This suggestion comes within the purview of Special Agent's duties. The suggestor's supervisor is SAC Hawkins.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: The informative memoranda appearing in the subject's file remain there as integral parts of the file even after a report has been written to incorporate the data shown in those memoranda in official report form.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Would save over half of the filing space for security files inasmuch as these memoranda constitute in excess of 60% of the bulk of a security file.

DISADVANTAGES STATED: The memoranda are not available in the subject file should it be desired to review them after the report has been written. The originals of those memoranda, however, can be found in the files of the informants who provided the information.

SAVINGS: None estimated in terms of dollars.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Hawkins, Cleveland, recommends adoption of the suggestion, stating that considerable filing space will be saved. Mr. Eames, Records Section, recommends adoption, stating that there would be a substantial savings against adoption citing the same conclusions as those shown immediately above. Mr. Cleveland, Domestic Intelligence Division, recommends against adoption, stating that each subject file should be complete in itself (it would not be if the memoranda were partially paraphrased in a report and then destroyed) and that if the memoranda were destroyed, the Bureau would lose the notations of an administrative nature which are frequently made on the subject memorandum. It would then be more difficult to fix responsibility. Also, memoranda often contain information which does not appear important now but becomes highly important later. This information should be in the subject's file.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion not be adopted.

(2) That if the suggestion is adopted no financial award be given because this suggestion comes within the purview of the suggestor's duties.

The Executives Conference on 4/20/55, with Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Boardman, Rosen, Mason and McGuire present, unanimously opposed to this suggestion. SUBJECT: SUGGESTION BY [redacted]
RECORDS SECTION EMPLOYEE

In the attached suggestion [redacted] suggests that employees reviewing files to remove obsolete index references be allowed to remove extra copies of correspondence in the files. He points out that out of 50 files surveyed that 634 pages of file copy material could be destroyed. b6 b7C

Space is at a premium. It is felt that [redacted] suggestion warrants consideration, and that we should extract extra copies of reports and letters in the files as they are reviewed, for a 30-day period to determine effectiveness, savings of space, and costs. We are limiting files to be reviewed under the purge program to those files dated prior to 1949. Subsequent to that date our indexing has been highly selective and little de-indexing is possible.

The removal of identical copies filed behind originals is legal and does not require archival authority, as identical copies so filed fall within the definition of "non-record material."

[redacted] is a File Clerk, GS-5, who is assigned to training and indoctrinating new employees assigned to de-indexing work. While he is required to make minor and limited improvements in de-indexing, it is felt this is a suggestion that is over and above normal duties required of him.

From: [redacted] Division of assignment: Four

SUGGESTION: That file copies in files being reviewed on the Purge Project be destroyed when the original copy is in file. This Project only handles files through 1949 and it is believed that on mail over 4 years old a file copy would only serve to take up valuable filing cabinet space and reviewing time. As an example of the volume of mail that could be destroyed, fifty files in consecutive order were taken from the 15 Classification (presently being de-indexed) and it was found that they contained 634 pages of file copy material that could be destroyed.

Since these files on the Purge Program are being reviewed page by page it would be relatively simple to extract these report copies from file with little loss of time. This practice could also be used in other units such as Repair and Consolidation.

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts):

File copies are retained in file even though original is filed.

Advantages of suggestion:

Save cabinet space and filing unit and file review time. My theory on the saving of filing unit and file review time is that these copies hinder the employee in finding a certain serial.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-10-82 BY SP4 CW/dmg

Reurmemo 4-1-55 requesting recommendation for or against adoption of captioned suggestion.

This office does not recommend adoption for the following reasons:

A. Investigative Reasons

1. On most occasions, all information in the dissemination memo may not be included in the investigative report. Nevertheless, the remaining information might still be valuable for future use and if the memo were destroyed, such information would not be available for review without going to the informant's file. For example, if the informant had given some information concerning subject's place of employment and we had the actual employment record from another source, we would not be reporting information concerning employment from both sources.

2. Cases involving organizations, particularly those which may be brought before the SACB or similar hearing body, require constant review looking towards the establishment of competent witnesses and development of evidence. In such cases, it is important that the dissemination memo be available for scrutiny by the Agent to whom the case is assigned, at a particular time, and it would be time consuming to expect him to be reviewing informant's reports not contained in the investigative file.

3. The informant's file would, of necessity, have to be made available to many more employees than is required under the present system. This would possibly jeopardize the security of the informant, and there would be a tremendous amount of handling of the informant's file.

4. The possibility of detecting an error committed in the investigative report would be lessened if the dissemination memoranda filed in the case files were destroyed.

NOT RECORDED
128 MAY 10 1955

B. Administrative Reasons

It is estimated that 15% of filing space in security cases would be saved if the suggestion were adopted. Nevertheless, it is felt that the grounds for objection outweigh the advantage of the saving of space. From an administrative standpoint, these grounds for objection are:

EWW:MRK

55 MAY 13 1955

ORIGINAL FILED IN 66-3286

1. It would increase the work in the serializing section approximately 20%, in that on receipt of the dictating agent's memo listing serial numbers of memoranda incorporated into the report, it would be necessary for the serializer to prepare individual charge-out slips indicating the serial destroyed, remove the serial in question, and insert charge-out in its place.

2. The addition of another step naturally increases the possibility of error along the line. For example, typist could make a typographical error resulting in the destruction of the wrong serial or serializer could inadvertently destroy the wrong serial. The frequent dissembling of the files will increase the possibility of misfiling serials.

ATTACHMENT #1

It is noted that the Manual of Rules and Regulations provides (Sec. 3. D,5) that when applicant, selective service, and criminal files are closed six months they must be consolidated and that only one copy of the serials in those files is to be retained.

It is suggested that the above and Sec. 3. D.7 relating to destruction of files and records be extended as follows:

(1) When any case is closed only 1 copy of each serial shall be retained except that in security cases (espionage, internal security, security matter) the office of origin shall retain two copies of reports.

(2) When all cases, except security cases, are closed 6 months, they must be consolidated.

(3) When security cases are closed 10 years, they must be consolidated at which time the office of origin shall retain only 1 copy of reports.

It is requested that the above suggestions be considered both separately and together.

A. While desirable to wait 6 months to consolidate files, there is no advantage in delaying the destroying of extra useless serials, as they are of no value if the case is re-opened.

B. The retaining by the office of origin of 2 copies of reports in security cases at the time they are closed is sufficient if future contingency requires dissemination by the field.

C. Consolidating applicant, selective service, and criminal files is a tremendous space-saverand maintains the files in better condition, while not diminishing utility. It would appear desirable to similarly handle all other cases, except security cases.

D. It is believed desirable to wait 10 years to consolidate security files due to their frequent handling after closing and the possibility that material may be added for several years after closing.

E. It would appear desirable and more efficient to keep the size of closed file sections to a minimum on a current basis rather than have a purge of such material every few years. Further, in the event of future emergency, field offices should have maximum mobility without delay.

Comments and recommendation of Supervisor, SAC, or Assistant Director:

SA [redacted] suggestion under sub-division (1)(A) is not believed desirable for the following reasons: b6 b7C

1. When cases are reopened it is essential that we have more than one copy of pertinent serials so that when serials are charged out to the Agent or Agents to whom the case is assigned, the file will not be stripped.

2. There is an advantage in delaying the destruction of the extra serials since to perform destruction and consolidation in two separate operations would involve a duplication of clerical time since the same review of the files would be necessary by clerical personnel to handle each operation.

SA [redacted] suggestion incorporated in Item (2) and in Item (B) is not recommended since this would, of course, include the LGE and SGE classifications. If these cases were consolidated, an adequate number of copies would not be on hand for dissemination later on in connection with name checks, and our experience has b6 b7C shown that these cases are reopened frequently. For example, during the past 30 days, 23 LGE cases have been reopened in this office. Then too, there is frequent reference to these files. In the SGE classification, during the 60 day period, such files were referred to in this office a total of 679 times. Had these files been consolidated, it is estimated that the clerical time involved in charging them out would be three times that experienced under present procedures.

SA [redacted] suggestion under heading (3) is not recommended since our experience indicates that there is constant reference to security cases which are more than ten years old. During a survey made by this office, covering 60 calendar days, it was determined that reference was made to security files ten years and one day old to 15 years old, a total of 9,164 times. Had these files been consolidated, the problem of charging them out upon request would have been tremendous, because of the additional clerical time required to charge out a file from a consolidated binder. b6 b7C

While SA [redacted] suggestions are sincerely appreciated, it does not appear that they can be favorably recommended at this time.

Re: Suggestions for Protection of Industrial Facilities (booklet) 94-3-6-7.

In 1940, Bureau prepared the above captioned booklet to be used as a plant protection manual for distribution to federal, state, and local officials, law enforcement agencies and officials of industrial establishments. File on this booklet currently consists of 176 sections which occupy 2 filing cabinets, and file consists of letters to and from individuals who have received this booklet. Names of all recipients have been indexed. It is estimated that 25,000 names are indexed in this file.

The Bureau no longer distributes this booklet and refers anyone who might request the booklet to the Facilities Protection Board, Department of Commerce, inasmuch as the Board is responsible for the formulating of the Facilities Protection program. The booklet at one time was classified confidential, which of course, would make the identity of the individual who had received this booklet necessary. However, on June 17, 1948, the Library of Congress was advised that this booklet was no longer classified as confidential, and that it could be made available as it saw fit. (94-3-6-7-23428)

This file has no useful purpose today and, accordingly, correspondence concerning distribution of the booklet should be deindexed and destroyed in order to conserve filing space and to prevent unnecessary file reviews. We already have archival authority to destroy correspondence of this type. Of course, all mail of a policy and history type will be retained.

RE: CUSTOMS BUREAU
(62-36000)

For Consult

Subcaptioned file on Customs Bureau, U. S. Treasury Department, opened in 1935 and contains reports of imported firearms received from Customs Bureau. File consists of 54 sections and occupies 2 file drawers. File reflects on August 18, 1948, Customs was advised that experience had failed to establish value of such reports to the FBI, and that it would no longer be necessary for Customs to submit such reports to the Bureau in the future. (62-36000-946)

No idents have been made in this file and it should be noted no lists have been received for past 7 years. Presumably, Customs Bureau maintains record of firearms imported into this country. In any event, the fact remains that in 1948 an evaluation of the receipt of these forms for previous 13 years was made, and a conclusion reached that they were of no value. Coupled with fact that no forms have been received during past 7 years, it appears these old reports are worthless and merely occupy valuable space.

Thousands of index cards were prepared on firearms, as well as on names of importers and shippers. Reports received from Customs should be de-indexed and destroyed in order to prevent unnecessary file reviews on names and to pick up space in the General Index and Filing Units. Of course, mail of historical and policy nature will be retained.

Archival authority will be necessary for destruction of these forms. Such approval will be secured at later date along with other material.

In March, 1946, the Senate Military Affairs Committee released a booklet in four parts containing world-wide Nazi Party Membership records. On June 29, 1949, the Executives Conference considered whether indexing should be continued on members of the Nazi party outside the United States (66-5084-~~35X1~~). The observation was made that it was not probable that the Bureau would attempt to index the world-wide membership of the Communist Party if such was available because of the magnitude of the job and the doubtful value to the Bureau. The Conference further believed that little benefit would be obtained by indexing the names of Nazi Party members outside the United States and that the project of indexing them should be discontinued. This was done.

There are thousands of index cards which were prepared prior to the time the Executives Conference approved discontinuing indexing of members outside the U. S.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Nazi Party members outside the U. S. whose names were indexed prior to date Executives Conference approved not indexing them be de-indexed.

A number of the agents in this division who have attended specialized schools in Sound Training, Informants, Security, Kidnapping and particularly Accounting, have inquired as to whether these notes might be retained indefinitely.

These notes represent information not found elsewhere in field division files and while utilized infrequently, are of invaluable assistance.

SUBJECT: ~~RETENTION OF NOTES TAKEN AT TRAINING SCHOOLS AND CONFERENCES~~ DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

The Conference of 5/12/55 was composed of Messrs. Boardman, Mohr, Trotter, Parsons, Sizoo, Hennrich, Winterrowd, DeLoach and Harbo. The Conference considered the possible desirability of a modification in the recently adopted regulation requiring that notes taken at all types of training schools and conferences be destroyed after a period of 90 days.

The Conference was advised that a check with one In-Service Class indicated no difficulty with the present rule. However, there were no sound men in the class. Accordingly, a check was made with the Washington, New York and Newark Field Offices as to whether agents who had received sound training, lock training and chamfering training felt that notes should be retained beyond the 90 days. After checking with such employees these offices advised that the present 90-day rule is adequate.

The Conference unanimously recommends continuance of the present rule requiring destruction of notes taken at all training schools and conferences after a period of 90 days. The Conference agreed that this would include any printed note guides or similar material which may be distributed by instructors for insertion in their notebooks.

If the foregoing is approved the attached letter should be sent to Kansas City.

Manual of Rules and Regulations (Section 3 D.5) provides that when applicant, selective service, and criminal files are closed six months they must be consolidated and only one copy of the serials of [illegible] is to be retained. It has been suggested as set out in the attached memorandum that this procedure be extended to other type cases [illegible] security cases in which the office of origin only would retain two copies of investigative reports. The recommendation of the Administrative Division has been requested by the Training and Inspection Division regarding this suggestion.

The Administrative Division is primarily interested in only two types of investigative reports: (1) Bureau applicant reports and (2) Bureau automobile accident reports. The present suggestion would not apply to Bureau applicant reports since they are already covered by the present rule set out in the Manual of Rules and Regulations referred to above. The suggestion would apply to automobile accident reports since most field offices presently prepare two copies of such reports for the field office file. The manual presently requires three copies for the Bureau but does not specify the number of copies for field offices since the number may vary according to the circumstances involved. Records Section has advised there is no rule at present regarding consolidation of files and destruction of extra copies of serials in automobile accident cases. With regard to automobile accident reports there appears to be no objection to adoption of the suggestion. However, there may be occasions from time to time when a suit will be filed in connection with an accident six months or more after the accident occurred. In such occasions it is necessary for the field office to furnish a copy of the report to the United States Attorney and this would entail preparing a copy of the report for that purpose. It is believed, however, that instances of this kind will be relatively few and that the other advantages of this suggestion would offset this one disadvantage.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTIONS - USE OF FORM 0-1
SUGGESTIONS #299-55, 300-55, 301-55, 302-55

Los Angeles Office (LA) submitted several suggestions regarding use of Form 0-1 which is form designed for routine follow-up action by Seat of Government Supervisors. Each suggestion being set forth with our comments and overall recommendations as to position of this Division appear at end of memo. Your comments desired by Training and Inspection Division.

1. No. 299-55 - Suggests field be allowed to note receipt of 0-1 and destroy it if action requested by Bureau has been or will be complied with in accordance with Bureau instructions.

Comment: LA points out regulations require 0-1 forms be returned to Bureau. In support of suggestion it cites fact that 0-1 forms often cross in mail with reports or letters which are responsive to the 0-1 inquiry. 0-1 form is designed to make four numbered inquiries: (1) deadline has passed and no report - asks when report was or will be submitted and reason for delay; (2) advise Bureau status of case; (3) advise when report may be expected; and (4) submit report immediately. First three directly ask for replies and 4 constitutes instruction. Definitely not believed we should authorize field to destroy 0-1 form and not return it simply on premise it will be complied with. Likewise, not believed any substantial benefits would accrue if we permit not returning form if action already taken. Very little effort required to mail it back and it has been of assistance in locating misrouted mail, mail sent in with title changed, location of mail which may be in process of recording, etc.

2. No. 300-55 - Suggests survey be made at Bureau to determine extent of problem where 0-1 form has been sent to field but information requested by 0-1 was already at Bureau prior to execution of 0-1 by Bureau Supervisor. LA suggests steps be taken at Bureau to reduce time lag between receipt of mail at Bureau and delivery to Supervisor initiating 0-1.

Comment: This time lag is essentially the lag between time mail received in Records Section and time mail received by Supervisor. It varies depending upon whether mail routed directly to Supervisor by stop desk or through expedite processing or whether mail goes through recording process which takes longer. No objection to such survey but not believed essential as not believed very large proportion of O-1's sent fall in this category. Supervisor, except in absolute deadline cases, will normally allow for time lag for mail to reach him before sending O-1.

3. No. 301-55 - Suggests consideration be given to elimination of O-1 form entirely.

Comment: This is not believed to have any merit. O-1 Form is economical follow-up system. As long as Bureau Supervisor is responsible for following cases there will have to be follow-up communications. Not believed we should abandon form which would mean we would have to substitute more costly, dictated correspondence.

4. No. 302-55 - Suggests, if form continued, that field be allowed to initiate O-1 form when purpose is to extend deadline or to advise when report will be forthcoming. States there should be no reason for O-1 form from Bureau if it is intended to set deadline which is "standard." Suggests field could be given standard instructions to include in its initial communication to Bureau date by which report will reach Bureau. Date would be within standard deadlines and, if not, field could offer reason why later date should be tolerable.

Comment: The basic idea that field should be allowed to initiate O-1 is not entirely new. Field has a comparable form available. Field Form FD-205 already exists and manual (Rules and Regulations, Section 3, Page 27) instructs it be used to advise Bureau deadline in case will not be met. As matter of practice it is believed form is used primarily in cases like applicant matters where specific date deadline exists. It is definitely believed this form could be more widely used if above rule reworded to require field use form to advise Bureau when deadline in case will not be met and when case, in which Bureau has received prior correspondence will be delinquent because report not being submitted (normal delinquency period is 45 days). By encouraging such usage it is believed we could achieve real economy and more effective field supervision. By requiring field to initiate form apprising Bureau of status we eliminate one step from a two-step operation as O-1 is now used. Present system requires Bureau Supervisor to send O-1 and field to return it. New system would mean field would merely send FD-205 to Bureau saving one step and eliminating considerable time lag. Not intended by advocating this system to eliminate any responsibility of Bureau Supervisor to follow case. O-1 would still be used but would not be sent unless report or other communication desired by Bureau or the FD-205 was not received from Field.

Second part of suggestion which advocates field could be given standard instructions to include in its initial communication to Bureau date by which report will reach Bureau not entirely clear. In great number of instances report itself is first communication to Bureau and in many other instances Bureau communication indicates case and report from field should be first communication of substance. No recommendation as to this part of suggestion in absence of more clarifying data as to what LA had in mind.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

Recommend Domestic Intelligence position on each suggestion be as follows:

1. (299-55) - Oppose allowing field to note receipt of Form O-1 and destroy it if requested action has been or will be complied with.

2. (300-55) - No objection to survey at Bureau to reduce time lag between time mail received at Bureau and time received by Supervisor but not believed problem warrants extensive survey.

3. (301-55) - Oppose elimination of O-1 Form.

4. (302-55) - Favor extending required use of FD-205, a form used by field to advise Bureau when deadline will not be met, to also require field initiate FD-205 to notify Bureau when cases, in which Bureau has received prior correspondence, will be delinquent.

While this would be ideal I doubt practical because of volume involved if applied to all cases

Form 0-1 Los Angeles

Bureau regulations require that the Field return all 0-1's. Very often, the matter about which inquiry by the SOG Supervisor is being made or the action requested has been met. It is apparent that reports and letters are often crossing in the mails for frequently an 0-1 will be received several days after the report requested by the 0-1 has been sent.

When it is apparent that the action requested in the 0-1 has been met or will be complied with, it is not believed that any worthwhile purpose is served in returning the 0-1 to theBureau.

It is suggested that consideration be given to allowing the Field to notereceipt of the 0-1 andto destroy it, if the action requested by the 0-1 has been or will be complied with in accordance with Bureau instructions.

It is further suggested that a survey be made at the Bureau to determine the extent to which these forms are being used by Bureau supervisors. If it is determined that 0-1's are being returned by the field denoting that the information requested by the 0-1 had been at the Bureau prior to execution of the 0-1, means should be taken to reduce the time lag between receipt at the Bureau and delivery to thesupervisor initiating the 0-1. It is believed possible to appreciably reduce the number of 0-1's and thereby reduce the extra handling of the file both in the field and at the Bureau.

It is suggested that consideration be given to elimination of this form entirely.

If the form is continued, it is suggested that the Field beallowed to initiate the 0-1 when the purpose is to extend a deadline or advise when the report will be forthcoming. There should be no reason for an 0-1 from the Bureau if it is intended to set a deadline which is considered "standard". The Field could be given standard instructions to include in its initial communication to the Bureau the date by which the report will reach the Bureau. The date would be within the standard deadlines now being utilized by the Bureau and if not, the Field could offer a reason why a later date should be tolerable.

SUGGESTION: The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Section 3, page 4,(6c) states that index cards on motor numbers, serial numbers, or license numbers are to be destroyed when they are five years old. It is suggested that if the index cards are to be destroyed after five years that the files on ITSMV cases be destroyed where it is an unknown subject case. The file would be of little value if the index cards are destroyed. Since this deals with the destruction of official records, it is suggested that the Bureau request authority to destroy these files.

FROM: The Executives Conferences

SUBJECT: RECORDING EQUIPMENT

On May 16, 1955, the Executives Conference, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Holloman, Nease, Boardman, Belmont, Sizoo, Tamm and Parsons, considered recording equipment used in the field, principally for microphone and telephone surveillances.

During the last war there were purchased for the field 323 disc type recording units. This type equipment recorded the intelligence on discs such as can be played back on the ordinary phonograph. All of this equipment was in use in the field during the war. In 1950, the Laboratory instituted a program of replacing this equipment with a more modern type of recorder which records the intelligence on magnetic tape.

Based on information as to the use and need of recording equipment in the field, the Laboratory proposed to buy 54 additional magnetic tape recorders to supplement 212 now in field and complete the replacement program. The Laboratory further proposed to recall all of the disc type recorders from the field and dispose of all of these units except 50 of the disc units to be retained in storage as a reserve supply for emergency purposes. The reason the Laboratory desired this reserve supply is because of the difficulty which was experienced during thelast war and which arises during any emergency period in obtaining electronic equipment.

During the recent inspection of the Laboratory, the Inspectors disagreed with the Laboratory's proposal and recommended that all of the disc type recorders be recalled and destroyed as the new equipment is received and place in the field. As a reserve for the emergencies, the Inspectors proposed a 20% increase in the Laboratory's proposed purchase or 11 more magnetic tape recorders for a total of 65. The Laboratory is opposed to the purchase of the additional 11 recorders because of the undesirability of purchasing new equipment to put in storage for emergency use when and if needed. The magnetic tape recorders costapproximately $1,000 each, which makes an increase of $11,000 in the purchase proposed by the Inspectors.

The Conference unanimously agreed with the Inspectors that disc type recording equipment not be put in storage or retained for an emergency supply and recommends that this equipment be destroyed. The Conference further unanimously recommends the purchase of 54 magnetic recorders as proposed by the Laboratory and that additional units not be purchased and put in storage for emergencies.

RE: NATIONAL BUREAU OF CASUALTY AND SURETY UNDERWRITERS
(62-41302)

Sub-captioned file contains two hundred and four "Claim Information Bulletins" furnished Bureau by this organization. Bulletins advise individuals had filed claims for faked injuries, or they solicited information concerning individuals who had submitted claims for various injuries sustained.

Bulletins for all practical purposes are police bulletins. We do not retain police bulletins unless pertinent information contained therein. These bulletins all dated prior to 1937 and have no continuing value.

Thousands of index cards have been prepared as a result of aliases of individuals. These cards should be pulled from the index and destroyed, and the bulletins themselves should likewise be destroyed.

We have Archival authority to destroy police bulletins and related material.

That authority be granted to de-index and destroy above described bulletins.

RE: NATIONAL STOLEN PROPERTY INDEX
87-290

Captioned file, with subs for Police Departments, occupies four file cabinets and contains police bulletins which have been filed because firearms and fraudulent check matters mentioned therein have been indexed. Average police bulletin consists of many pages and lists thefts, arrests, wanted notices, automobile thefts, etc. Policy over years has been that if no firearms or fraudulent check matters of interest contained in bulletin, bulletin is destroyed and not filed. Entire bulletin is filed if any of aforementioned matters are contained therein.

Generally, firearms stolen are all listed on one or two pages. Because entire bulletin is filed, upwards of 20 or more non-pertinent pages are filed. Accordingly, the following procedures are proposed.

If it is necessary to file the bulletin because of indexing, only first page of bulletin and pages containing indexing will be filed. All non-pertinent pages will be destroyed. Considerable filing space in the future will be saved as result of this procedure. Of course, any search slips with file reviewers notations pertaining to firearms will be likewise retained.

In view of great amount of space required to house accumulated bulletins, we will go through the files and pull out all non-pertinent pages leaving only the first page of the bulletin and pages with indexing, and search slips. Again, considerable space will be realized as a result of this purging.

Archival authority is not necessary for either procedure. We already have authority to destroy police bulletins.

RECOMMENDATION:

That prior to placing above procedure into effect, this memorandum be forwarded to the Investigative Division for their information.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION NUMBER 233-55
MADE BY SA [redacted]
NEW YORK OFFICE

Destruction of Bureau Records - Gen'l

SUGGESTION: The Manual of Rules and Regulations provides that when Applicant, Selective Service, and Criminal files are closed 6 months they must be consolidated and that only one copy of serials in those files be retained. SA [redacted] suggests that the following instructions be added:

b6

(1) When any case is closed retain only one copy of each serial except that in Security cases the office of origin shall retain two copies of reports.

(2) When all cases except Security cases are closed 6 months they must be consolidated.

(3) When Security cases are closed 10 years they must be consolidated and the office of origin shall retain only one copy.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Space required by closed files in field offices will be reduced approximately one fifth.

DISADVANTAGES STATED: None.

SAVINGS: Estimated at $5000 annually but computation not shown.

OBSERVATIONS: Suggestion Number One was recently considered and disapproved. SAC Kelly, New York City, recommends unfavorably, giving the following reasons:

(1) There is an advantage in destroying extra serials when files are consolidated rather than when they are closed because to perform destruction and consolidation in two separate operations involves a duplication of clerical time.

(2) When cases are reopened it is essential that the offices have more than one copy of pertinent serials so that the file will not be stripped when serials are charged out.

(3) The suggestion that all cases except Security cases be consolidated after they are closed 6 months would include those in the Security of Government Employees classification. There would not be sufficient copies on hand for dissemination later on in connection with name checks, and not enough copies for cases reopened (which happens frequently) and the one copy left would be insufficient for the frequent reference made to these cases.

(4) Security cases 10 years old should not be consolidated because there is constant reference to them and the problem of charging them out would be much greater if they were consolidated--it is harder to charge out a serial from a consolidated file. A survey made by New York over a period of 60 calendar days showed heavy use of Security files as much as 10 and 15 years old.

Assistant to the Director Boardman recommends unfavorably on Suggestion Number Three, giving reasons similar to those given by SAC Kelly and pointing out the necessity of dissemination of copies in old Security type reports even after they had been closed for a long time, as in the case where a subject accepts employment at a key facility, requiring dissemination of reports to intelligence services. Mr. Boardman was not asked to comment on Suggestion Number One because this same suggestion had recently been rejected and he did not comment on Item Number Two because it does not apply to Security cases.

RECOMMENDATION: That the suggestion not be adopted.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTIONS RE COPIES OF REPORTS AND CONSOLIDATION OF FILES IN SECURITY CASES

Attached are three suggestions pertaining to copies of reports and consolidation of files in security cases. Mr. Mason's routing slip, attached, notes that suggestion (1) need not be commented upon since it has been received previously under a similar suggestion of the same nature. Item (2) is not being commented upon since it specifically exempts security cases.

Suggestion number (3) recommends that when security cases are closed ten years, they be consolidated at which time the office of origin retain only one copy of reports.

OBSERVATIONS:

It cannot be anticipated with any degree of accuracy that a security case which has remained in closed status for a period of ten years will not be reopened because of receipt of additional information. If consolidated, the reopening of the case would require that the serials regarding a subject be removed from the consolidated section and that the file be reopened. In each such instance considerable clerical time would be expended in reconstituting the individual case file.

Even though the case has been closed for an extended period, the possibility always remains that dissemination of reports may be required. For instance, the subject may subsequently accept employment at a key facility or defense plant, requiring dissemination of pertinent reports to intelligence services. It should be noted that in previous suggestions the decision of retaining three copies of security reports by the office of origin has extended to all individual cases without regard to Security Index status or to the length of time the case may have been in a closed status.

Numerous name searches are made through security files for various intelligence agencies of the Federal Government and consequently the proposed suggestion would impede and complicate work involved in conducting these name searches.

Files are consolidated in sequence. Frequently low-numbered 100 files are among the most active open files in the field. As an example, the Bureau file 100-39 is the main file on a key figure in the New York Office and is maintained constantly in a pending status.

RECOMMENDATION:

For the reasons set out above, it is recommended that this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division to indicate that the Internal Security Section recommends against adoption of the above suggestion.

CONFIDENTIAL

Under the Intensification Program, initial mail received is captioned something such as "UNKNOWN SUBJECT: Male, Observed Leaving USSR Delegation, NYC, on 5-6-54; Internal Security - R." On receipt in the Records Section, an index card to this case is prepared under the word "Male" together with the remainder of the descriptive information. In most cases, the individual subsequently is identified through investigation, and reports submitted will carry the individual's name and the title will be changed to delete the previous unknown subject title.

In view of the volume of this type case, the cards made prior to identification of the subject are becoming numerous and difficult to search. Mrs. [redacted] Assistant Supervisor of the General Index Unit, has suggested that we destroy the unknown subject card upon receipt of the communication identifying the individual. The only problem which may arise would be in those cases where other offices are conducting investigation. It appears, however, that most cases are confined to one office. The suggestion would materially assist the indexing and searching problem in this type case if adopted.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. That Mrs. [redacted] suggestion be adopted so that upon receipt of communications from all interested offices identifying the previously unknown subject in Intensification Program cases, the Records Section be permitted to destroy the old card made up from the unknown subject communications.

2. If the suggestion is adopted, it is recommended that an appropriate letter be directed to Mrs. [redacted] (Letter Enclosed)

Since the suggestion is considered to fall within Mrs. [redacted] regularly assigned duties, it is recommended that a cash award is necessary.

Re: Field Office Administrative Files

By letter dated 5-16-55, SAC Baltimore requested advice as to when certain administrative files could be destroyed. He stated Manual of Rules and Regulations required establishment of certain files, but gave no retention period for them.

Pages 8 and 9, Section 3, Manual of Rules and Regulations, requires opening of following files. Manual, while setting retention periods on pages 13 and 14 for other files, does not specifically provide for retention period for these files.

Administrative Files - Office: Manual requires opening of "Administrative - General" and "Administrative - Office" (confined to matters relating to individual office) files. Page 13, item 7, C (1) of the Manual, provides that "Administrative - General" files and records be destroyed on an annual basis when three years old if of no value. From Records SECTION standpoint these two files are the same and retention period for material contained in each should likewise be same.

1. Records Section Recommendation: Material in this file should be destroyed after it becomes three years old.

Space: General Records Schedule #11, Title 3, Regulations of General Services Administration, requires varying retention periods for records relating to allocation, utilization, and release of space under agency control, and related reports to GSA. Maximum period is two years after termination of assignment, or when lease cancelled, when plans are superceded or obsolete, or after date of certain documents. This file contains, among other miscellaneous matters, copies of leases, memoranda giving history and background information concerning efforts to secure better or more adequate space, memoranda concerning cooperation or lack of cooperation with GSA concerning space, etc. It is felt no iron-clad retention period can be determined for certain of this material as it is permanent until the matter is finally resolved.

2. Records Section Recommendation: That all material in this file be retained five years, or until matters contained therein have finally been resolved and are no longer of value.

Accomplishments - Statistical: Material in this file could be filed in "Administrative - Office" file but for convenience is filed separately under separate heading.

3. Records Section Recommendation: Material in this file should be destroyed after it is three years old.

Bill of Lading: General Records Schedule #9, Title 3, Regulations of GSA requires that files containing issuing office memorandum copies of Bills of Lading be retained 10 years.

4. Records Section Recommendation: That material in this file be destroyed after it is 10 years old.

? Law Enforcement Bulletins: Publications are "Library material" and as such are "non-record" material.

5. Records Section Recommendation: That Training and Inspection Division establish a retention period for this type of material.

Report Writing: This is policy material such as SAC Letters, etc. Manual provides that SAC Letters may be destroyed after three years old.

6. Records Section Recommendation: Material in this file should be destroyed after it is three years old unless instructions contained therein are still applicable and have further future value.

Resident Agency Files: A Resident Agency File would appear to be the same as a "Administrative - Office" file.

7. Records Section Recommendation: That material in this file should be destroyed after it is three years old.

SUGGESTION: Manual of Rules and Regulations, Section 3, page 4, (6c) states index cards on motor numbers, serial numbers, or license numbers are to be destroyed when they are five years old. Mr. [redacted] suggests that the files on Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle cases be destroyed after five years where it is an unknown subject case. Suggester points out that file would be of little value if the index cards are destroyed.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Savings of filing space.

DISADVANTAGES STATED: None.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Bryce, Albuquerque Office, believes the suggestion has merit and recommends that it be given further consideration. Assistant Director Rosen is opposed to the suggestion that these files be destroyed. Automobiles do not wear out in five years and one car may be stolen a second time at a later date, or subsequent information may be developed tieing an old stolen car into a ring case and these files could be of later value.

Mr. Eames, Records and Communications Division, recommends unfavorably, stating index cards on unknown subject cases in this category are not destroyed at the Seat of Government. Number cards are destroyed only when there is a known subject who is properly indexed. This card on the individual remains in the Bureau's index and is never destroyed. Motor numbers on unknown subject investigations are considered to be in the same category and are never destroyed. It is believed that, even though motor number cards have been destroyed in the past, the file should not be destroyed since it may contain other valuable information concerning individuals who are properly indexed. Mr. Eames proposes that the field be advised to discontinue destroying motor number cards on unknown subject cases.

EARLIER CONSIDERATION OF RELATED TOPIC: The Executives Conference of 11/3/49 considered the results of a survey of 14 offices during which survey 9 offices recommended that index cards on motor numbers, serial numbers and license numbers be destroyed when such cards become 5 years old. Five offices were opposed. Arguments in favor were: Saving of space; relieve indices congestion; the cards can be easily located for destruction; the index cards serve no useful purpose after becoming 5 years old. Arguments against destruction of index cards were: Cards should not be eliminated on active pending cases but no objection to eliminating index cards on closed cases; although license numbers are of little value after one year, motor and serial numbers should be retained because in some unknown subject cases the motor or serial number will appear in the title; most offices did not (in 1949 but they do now) put dates on index cards; cases are s ometimes pending over 5 years.

The Executives Conference of 11/3/49 unanimously recommended that the index cards be destroyed on license, motor and serial numbers after cards have become 5 years old.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION OF 6/14/55 RTH:gsr

The Training and Inspection Division has requested your views on the attached suggestion which was submitted by [redacted] of the Albuquerque Division. Mr. [redacted] proposes that the files on ITSMV cases be destroyed on unknown subject cases. He points out that the Manual of Rules and Regulations indicates that index cards on motor numbers, serial numbers, or license numbers are to be destroyed when they are five years old.

b6

We do not destroy index cards on unknown subject cases in this category at the Seat of Government. Number cards are destroyed only when there is a known subject who is properly indexed. This card on the individual remains in the Bureau's index and is never destroyed. Motor numbers on unknown subject investigations are considered to be in the same category and are never destroyed.

It is believed that the Field should be advised to discontinue destroying motor number cards on unknown subject cases. Even though this has been done in the past, the data should not be destroyed since it may contain other valuable information concerning individuals who are properly indexed.

That these views be furnished the Training and Inspection Division in accordance with the request of that Division.

[redacted], employee of the Albuquerque Division, has pointed out that Manual of Rules and Regulations presently provides that index cards on motor numbers, serial numbers or license numbers are to be destroyed when they are five years old. He suggests that files of unknown subject ITSMV cases also be destroyed after five years since they are of little value after the index cards are destroyed.

INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION RECOMMENDATIONS:

While it is true that since the index cards are destroyed after five years these files are of no value since it is impossible to locate them through the index, the Investigative Division is opposed to the suggestion that these files be destroyed.

Automobiles do not wear out in five years and one car may be stolen a second time at a later date, or subsequent information may be developed tieing an old stolen car into a ring case and these files could be of later value. The Investigative Division feels that those cards on motor, serial, and license numbers should not be destroyed after five years but should be retained so that any old files on unknown subject ITSMV cases may be located as the information in such files may be of value to an investigation at a subsequent date.

Administrative files - Office: Destroy after three years old.

Space files: Retain for five years or until matters contained therein have finally been resolved and are no longer of value.

Accomplishments - statistical: Destroy after three years old.

The second set, kept as "Library material" in the office need be kept for only five years back unless reference to the material indicates need for it. There is no objection to keeping a complete set in this instance also.

Report Writing files: May be destroyed after three years old.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF APPLICANT-TYPE PERSONNEL FILES

Records Section

By memorandum dated 5-24-54 the Records Section recommended that the Bureau consider the destruction of applicant-type personnel files dated prior to 1945 (older than 10 years) which contained only an application blank and an interview sheet. It was ascertained that some 32,000 files could be purged from our voluminous personnel records with a substantial savings in space.

The Executives Conference in considering this suggestion in 1954 opposed the destruction of these applicant-type personnel files on the theory that they might sometimes be used in connection with name check work. To our knowledge during the past year they have not been used for this purpose and have been of no value whatever except to occupy valuable space in 25 5-drawer file cabinets.

It is proposed that the destruction of these files again be considered, bearing in mind that we will not dispose of any applicant files where investigations have been conducted or any other derogatory information is reflected in the file. We have previously considered other methods of disposing of or storing these obsolete records but have rejected all of them in view of the expenses involved (microfilming) and the fact that we would be subject to severe criticism by General Services Administration, Archives, and possibly the Hoover Commission if we occupy even dead storage space with such notoriously valueless material. As you are aware, existing Government regulations provide for the ultimate destruction of personnel mail including applicant-type material after a reasonable period of time, on the theory that the data contained therein is only of temporary value.

While this material is valueless from a records standpoint, we could keep the Index cards in the Personnel Files indices, noting on each one "Destroyed--date." This would preserve a complete record of all persons who have applied for jobs with the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATION: RECORDED-35

That consideration again be given to the destruction of applicant personnel files over ten years old, where no information of value is contained therein. The Personnel Files index cards would be retained with the notation "Destroyed" and the date.

SUBJECT: FILES - DESTRUCTION OF OFFICE PERSONNEL FILE

ASAC Simon, New York Office, has raised the question as to how long the office personnel file should be kept in the field offices.

Memorandum to the Director 8/11/48 reflected that the Executives Conference considered and approved the recommendation that office personnel files should contain following types of material and be kept under lock and key under the personal supervision of the SAC:

A. Data reflecting favorably or unfavorably on the office or its personnel. Letters from the Bureau to SACs by name or title which comment or criticize with respect to the general operation of the office. This should include correspondence in connection with inspections when such correspondence relates to personnel matters in whole or part.

B. Recommendations concerning personnel for supervisory assignments and Bureau policy (copies to be placed in the appropriate individuals' personnel files).

C. Recommendations concerning the attendance of personnel at special schools (copies to be placed in the appropriate individuals' personnel files).

D. General or group recommendations of personnel for advancement in the service (copies to be placed in the appropriate individuals' personnel files).

E. Information relating to public officials or individuals with whom Bureau has official contacts and concerning whom no investigation contemplated when the information is of such a confidential nature that it should not be available to all office personnel. (This type of material has been maintained in what has been referred to as the "Personal and Confidential" file. This Personal and Confidential file as such is abolished under this recommendation and material previously maintained in such a file would in the future be consolidated with the office personnel file.)

The instructions concerning the office personnel file were incorporated in SAC Letter #124 - Series 1948.

Manual of Rules and Regulations Section III-D, page 10 presently sets forth items A through E mentioned above and also includes a sixth item "personal and confidential letters to the SAC."

Section III-D 7 of the Manual of Rules and Regulations provides that files and records in field divisions may be destroyed after they become 25 years old. This section further provides for the destruction of described administrative files and records which may be destroyed in some instances after 3 years and others after one year under specified conditions. There are no specific instructions as to the destruction of the office personnel file other than the general regulation pertaining to files that are 25 years old.

OBSERVATIONS:

On June 23 the destruction of office personnel files was discussed at the Inspectors' Conference and it was unanimously agreed among the Inspectors that office personnel files after a review by the SAC may be destroyed after 3 years unless there are essential items which the SAC considers desirable to be retained. A notation should be made by the SAC on those items he desires to retain after 3 years.

Executives Conference Consideration: EDM:DMG 7/5/55

Present at the Executives Conference on 7/5/55, were Messrs. Tolson, Callahan, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Rosen, Boardman, McGuire and Mason. The Conference considered how long the field should retain the office personnel file which contains information relating to the efficiency or lack thereof of the office, copies of communications recommending groups of people for advancement; communications recommending various individuals for supervisory assignments or for training, and related data. The office inspection file is destroyed after three years; various administrative files are destroyed after three years.

The Conference unanimously felt that the office personnel file may be destroyed after three years with the proviso that the SAC review the file prior to destruction and specify any pertinent documents which should be retained for longer than three years.

If you agree, there is attached an appropriate SAC Letter.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION BY [redacted]
ASSISTANT CHIEF CLERK - DALLAS DIVISION
Destruction of Property - General

Your views have been requested concerning the above suggestion by Miss [redacted] of the Dallas Division. Miss [redacted] refers to the current practice in the Field of pulling and destroying serials and index cards pertaining to no record checks on applicants and relatives in Atomic Energy Act Applicant Cases and suggests rather than searching for and pulling the index cards in each case, that the index cards be purged as they are found through regular index searching operations.

b6

Destruction of Index Cards in Atomic Energy Act Applicant Cases

This suggestion appears sound providing appropriate procedures are set up to insure that the cards are actually purged during the normal course of business. There is also the possibility that some of these cards might remain in the index over an extended period and cause needless work by being listed when name checks are made by employees who are not familiar with the fact that the cards are to be destroyed. One of the most effective safeguards against this is to require that these cards be removed from the indices when periodic checks for misfiles are made.

Favorable.

Bureau Bulletin Number 7 dated 2/28/55 instructed the field to periodically destroy old order letters and questionnaires received in Atomic Energy Applicant cases when the only lead for the field office was to check indices on relatives and references and the result of the check was negative. The index cards prepared in these cases were also to be destroyed by purging indices periodically. The purpose was to save space in the file cabinets and the office indices as the information contained on the questionnaire and the index card was of no value after the investigation had been completed. The index card and questionnaire were not destroyed upon completion of the investigation because the discontinuance of these cases was great during the years when we handled 90,000 cases per year and more and consequently, the field felt it necessary to have the questionnaire and index card for a reasonable period after the completion of the investigation. Therefore, it was decided that the questionnaires, enclosures and index cards should be destroyed periodically and no less than once a year.

The suggestion contemplates the continuance of destroying questionnaires and other enclosures per instructions in the above-referred-to Bureau Bulletin; however, it is stated that the index cards would be purged as they are observed during regular use. This suggestion has merit as it appears the purging of the indices during regular use will save considerable time. In view of the decrease in volume of these cases, space is not the problem it once was. The Special Inquiry Section has no objection to the suggestion.

EMPLOYEE SUGGESTION

"Destruction of" Property—General

Date: June 13, 1955

To: Director, FBI

From: [redacted] Asst. Chief Clerk / Division of assignment:

SUGGESTION:
That questionnaires and other attachments to transmittal letter be destroyed, but that it be no longer necessary to pull index cards pertaining to no record checks on applicants and relatives in AEAA inquiries; that index cards be purged as observed during regular use.

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts):
Pull and destroy serials and all index cards. BB 7(A), 2/28/52.
Advantages of suggestion:
Save employee time searching and pulling index cards; space saved by deletion of cards not commensurate with time expended; operation of general loyalty file under similar circumstances apparently entirely satisfactory.

Disadvantages of suggestion:

None known.

SUBJECT: Destruction of Property-General

SUGGESTION NUMBER 486-55
Made By Miss [redacted] b6 b7C
Dallas Office

Destruction of Index Cards

CARPENTER 5284
BUCHANAN 52443

BACKGROUND: In some Atomic Energy Act Applicant cases an auxiliary office will have nothing to do except to check its indices for information on certain relatives and references of the applicant as listed in the order letterfrom the Bureau. If the check is entirely negative a file is not opened on that case; the Bureau letter listing relatives and references is placed in a subfile such as 116-0-A (in WFO). In the meantime, an index card has been made on the applicant and placed in the indices. It is dated and it bears the subfile number (such as 116-0-A) in which the Bureau letter was placed after it was determined that the indices check on the applicant's relatives and references was negative. Bureau Bulletin 52-7 (A) directed the field to periodically destroy these letters and index cards on negative name checks in Atomic Energy Act Applicant cases and to do so not less than once a year.

SUGGESTION: That it not be mandatory to destroy the index cards mentioned above at the time negative name check letters are destroyed. These index cards can be noted and destroyed as the clerical employees come across them during regular use of the indices.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Would save space and save the time required for the special project of locating and pulling these cards at least once a year.

DISADVANTAGES STATED: None.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Murphy, Dallas, can see no reason why in this one instance it is necessary to search and pull index cards when there are other instances where cards are destroyed as they are encountered in general use.

Mr. Eames, Records Section, recommends favorably, providing that appropriate procedures are set up to make sure that these useless index cards are actually eliminated during the normal course of business (such a procedure has been followed in eliminating old index cards in the Records Section). One of the most effective means to make sure these obsolete index cards are removed would be to require that they are taken out of the indices at those times when periodic checks for misfiles are made.

R. T. Harbo memo for Mr. Tolson 7/14/55

Mr. Malley, General Investigative Division, advises that there is no objection to this suggestion. Considerable time would appear to be saved by eliminating obsolete index cards on Atomic Energy Act Applicant cases during regular use of the field indices. Space will also be saved but this is not so important as previously because of the lower volume of these cases.

Miss [redacted] Chief Clerk in the Washington Field Office, says the suggestion is feasible. The index cards and the letters on Atomic Energy Act Applicant checks are destroyed once every 6 months in the Washington Field Office. The index cards could be left alone and instructions given to clerical employees to check for and destroy all such cards 6 months old or older when they are checking index cards for misfiles. Miss [redacted] prefers the present system in order to get the whole job done at one time but states that the number of these cases will vary so widely from one office to another that no two offices would have exactly the same problem.

RECOMMENDATION: 1. That the suggestion be adopted on a permissive basis; field office to follow either the suggested system or present system, according to the volume of cards and indices.

2. That no cash award be given; no saving of money can be shown. Enclosed is suggested letter to Miss Dixon.

3. That the enclosed SAC Letter directing the field how to proceed with the removal of these cards under the new system be approved.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORD MATERIAL, PERSONNEL RECORDS UNIT

Records Section

There is maintained in the Personnel Records Unit a file captioned "Supervisors' Conference" which contains 60 serials dating from August 11, 1936, through December 19, 1940. The material contained in this file sets forth the names of personnel in attendance at Quarterly Conferences as well as the test grades and the list of absentees.

Inasmuch as this file is inactive, it appears that consideration should be given to the destruction of this material.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached file captioned "Supervisors' Conference" be reviewed in the Training and Inspection Division with a view toward authorizing destruction of the material contained in the file.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORD MATERIAL, PERSONNEL RECORDS UNIT

Attached memorandum Mr. Eames to Mr. Nichols dated 7/11/55 refers to a file maintained in the Personnel Records Unit entitled "Supervisors' Conference" which at this time is an inactive file and has been inactive since 12/19/40. The views of this Division were requested as to whether the material contained therein could be destroyed. 67-024

It is pointed out that the material referred to is concerned with the names of personnel in attendance at weekly, monthly and quarterly conferences as well as the grades the men received on examinations.

We no longer have quarterly conferences nor do we record the weekly or monthly conferences. The material relating to Semiannual Agents' Conferences goes in a different file. I feel we should interpose no objection to the destruction of the file.

ACTION:

The Training and Inspection Division interpose no objection to the destruction of the file. This memorandum should be referred to the Records and Communications Division.

RE: HOLY NAME SOCIETY - NEW YORK (94-1-123), DAUGHTERS OF AMERICAN REVOLUTION (94-1-135), SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS (94-1 General)

The above captioned files consist of yellows of letters transmitting copies of the Director's address entitled "Patriotism and the War Against Crime," and letters of thanks from individuals for a copy of the Director's address "True Cost of Crime." These files contain a number of sections and occupy considerable file space. This material is not indexed and in view of its age being the period 1936 it should be destroyed to conserve valuable filing space.

We already have Archival authority to destroy this type of correspondence with the public.

That authority be granted to destroy the above captioned files.

S. 2364 is bill which would amend the Federal Records Act of 1950 in two instances as follows: (changes are underlined)

> SEC. 505. (a) The Administrator shall, with due regard to the program activities of the agencies concerned, prescribe the policies and principles to be followed by Federal agencies in the conduct of their records management programs, and make provisions for the economical and efficient management of records of Federal agencies.....

Committee on Government Operations report #1183 states purpose of underlined portion is to broaden and clarify authority of Administrator of General Services with respect to establishing standards, policies, and principles designed to improve the management of Federal records. It is contended that Administrator of GSA at present has only authority to analyze and develop records management standards but not authority to prescribe policies and principles to be followed by other departments and agencies. GSA contends authority presently exists but not clearly defined in statute. Amendment designed to correct deficiency.

While this part of the amendment will broaden, clarify, and strengthen GSA's control of records management procedures, it can not be seen how we could object to this amendment as it does not appear to materially change the intent of original legislation.

The second amendment provides that the Administrator of GSA shall be authorized to direct the transfer of any records over 50 years of age to Archives unless agency heads certify in writing that records are necessary for day to day operations. This part of the amendment is identical to H.R. 6091 and S. 1928. We have already advised the Department that we have no objection to H.R. 6091 inasmuch as heads of agencies can retain records by certifying that they are necessary for day to day operations. National Archives Act of 1934 empowered Archives to define classes of material to be transferred to Archives. Federal Records Act which abolished National Archives Act did not contain

84TH CONGRESS, 1st Session | SENATE | REPORT No. 1183

AMENDING THE FEDERAL PROPERTY AND ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES ACT OF 1949, AS AMENDED

JULY 28, 1955.—Ordered to be printed

Mr. KENNEDY, from the Committee on Government Operations, submitted the following REPORT

[To accompany S. 2364]

The Committee on Government Operations, to whom was referred the bill (S. 2364) to amend the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended, and for other purposes, having considered the same, report favorably thereon, without amendment, and recommend that the bill do pass.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this bill is to amend section 505 (a) of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended, to clarify the authority of the Administrator of General Services with respect to establishing standards, policies, and principles designed to improve the management of Federal records.

Under the existing statutory authority, it is contended that the GSA has only the authority to analyze and develop records management standards whereas this bill would permit the Administrator to prescribe policies and principles to be followed by other departments and agencies of the Government.

Section 2 of the bill authorizes the Administrator of General Services to direct and effect the transfer to the National Archives of any Federal records that have been in existence for more than 50 years, the Archivist to determine whether they have sufficient historical value to warrant their continued preservation. The authority would not apply in those cases where the head of the agency certifies to the Administrator that the records must be retained in his possession for the conduct of current official business.

The proposed legislation was submitted to the committee by the Administrator of General Services as a part of his legislative program for 1955, with a request for favorable action.

Made By Miss [redacted]

Destruction 07

Property of Bureau - Destruction 07

BACKGROUND: In applicant-type cases the Bureau sends "delinquency letters" to the field, listing the cases becoming delinquent. Security of Government Employees Section is sending out about 15 a week, each listing from one to three cases, to remind the field of the Director's instructions that these cases must be completed within 45 days. These "delinquency letters" are marked for the personal attention of the SAC; they are not routine followups. After action is taken in the field these "delinquency letters" are filed in the zero file, owing to the fact they frequently list more than one case. They are not indexed.

The Bureau also sends "discontinue correspondence" when the agency for which investigation is being made countermands its request. If the field office has not yet opened a case on the request both the request and "discontinue" communication are filed in the zero file. In addition there are a few situations where a lead was erroneously sent to an office and it is necessary for the field to advise the Bureau of that fact. This communication and the document on which it was based are also filed in the zero file. The enclosed suggestion also mentions "status letters" but these have been discontinued in favor of "delinquency letters."

SUGGESTION: That "delinquency letters" and communications on "discontinue investigation" or on "no lead or misdirected lead" which are found in the zero file be destroyed when 3 years old and an appropriate charge-out slip placed in the file. Suggester wants this plan to apply to the following classifications:

138- Loyalty of Employees of the United Nations or other public International Organizations

ADVANTAGES STATED: Savings of space.

DISADVANTAGES STATED: None.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Kelly, New York, recommends favorably on destruction of delinquency letters; they serve no useful purpose in the field after 3 years. Recommends unfavorably on remainder of suggestion because in each case the original request for investigation should remain in the file as information on the applicant should another case ever be opened on him.

Inspector McGuire questions value of keeping any of this material in zero file after action taken on it. Original copy is always on file at SOG. Field copies to be destroyed when action taken and notation made in field to that effect. Recommends this system be followed.

Assistant Director Rosen recommends all material mentioned by suggester be destroyed at end of one year. Training and Inspection Division recommends as follows:

1. Destroy "delinquency letters" in field file when one year old. These letters should remain in field file for one year in order to make sure that all action has been taken on the case and to aid the inspectors in checking operations of the office for current year.

2. Do not destroy "discontinue" correspondence or "no lead or misdirected lead" correspondence and the serials on which they are based This correspondence occurs infrequently and to destroy it would require more employee time and cost in going through the zero files than is justified by the extremely small amount of filing space that would be saved. Additional work would be required to remove the index cards. (Note that these files are indexed whereas "delinquency letters" are not). Miss [redacted] Chief Clerk in the Washington Field Office, agrees with this observation.

b6

3. That an SAC Letter be sent out, directing SACs that they may destroy these "delinquency letters" when those letters are one year old but not making it mandatory that they do so. The reason for this is as follows: In the Washington Field Office the 118 (Applicant - Central Intelligence Agency) zero file is still in its first volume whereas the 121 zero file (Security of Government Employees) is in volume 639. Valuable space could be saved by destroying delinquency letters in the latter files but not in the former. SAC should be allowed to destroy these delinquency letters where they are a problem but should not be forced to search out each and every one where they are not a problem.

RECOMMENDATION: 1. That one part of the suggestion be adopted; namely, that field offices be authorized to destroy "delinquency letters" in those files in which a significant space savings can be had.

SAC LETTER NO. 55-49

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

JULY 26, 1955 Washington 25, D. C.

(A) DELINQUENCY LETTERS -- You are familiar with "delinquency letters" sent by the Bureau to field offices to list certain types of cases which are becoming delinquent and to require, through personal attention of the Special Agent in Charge, that action be taken immediately to remove the delinquencies. When action has been completed, these letters are filed in the zero file. Effective immediately, you are authorized to institute the practice of destroying these letters when they are one year old and to place a charge-out slip in the zero file showing such destruction. You are not required, however, to search out every "delinquency letter" and destroy it when it is one year old. The purpose of these instructions is to permit you to destroy these letters in those classifications in which they are taking up considerable space in the file but not to require you to search out every letter in those files in which they occupy only a negligible amount of space. These instructions apply to the following classifications: 77, 116, 118, 121, 123, 124, 126, 127, 128, 130, 132, 133, 138, 140.

SUGGESTION: X Destruction of delinquent letters filed in Zero Files - General Destruction of Bureau Property

It is suggested that all delinquent letters be destroyed in the zero files of applicant-type and employee security-type classifications when they are three years old and an appropriate charge-out inserted. These classifications are:

77, 116, 118, 123, 124, 126, 127, 128, 130, 132, 133, 121, 138, 140.

These letters are merely long lists from the Bureau to various field divisions--usually WFO, NY, Baltimore, and others--setting forth the titles and order letter numbers of delinquent cases. The titles are listed in alphabetical order and the appropriate field division is indicated. All of the titles on the letters do not pertain to all offices receiving the letter. Because of the length of the letters, they are filed in the zero file even though there are case files on the individuals.

The titles of the cases on these letters are not indexed (since there are case files on the individuals), so there is no necessity to destroy index cards. Since there are no cards in the Indices, reference is not made to the letters.

It is also suggested that "discontinue" and "status" letters and "no lead" correspondence filed in the zero files of the above classifications be destroyed when three years old. It is also suggested that the corresponding index cards be destroyed.

"Discontinue" correspondence--instructions received to discontinue investigation before case was opened.

"Status" letters-- list of cases set forth in letter and status of case requested.

"No Lead" correspondence--correspondence and Personnel Security Questionnaire forwarded to incorrect division.

If permission cannot be granted to destroy all of the above correspondence--and the index cards, it is suggested that the files be stripped of the PSQ forms and the forms be destroyed.

Suggestion to Bureau 6/21/55

Following are results of survey of two sections of zero files in the NYO:

123-0 (95 serials in this section)

33 delinquent letters (3 over 9 pages long)
2 status letters
12 "no lead" letters - misdirected correspondence
3 discontinue

116-0 (44 serials in this file)

12 "no lead" letters
2 "discontinue" letters
8 delinquent letters--(all photostats)--averaging 11 pages each
9 delinquent letters--(onionskin)--consisting of total number of pages as follows: 43, 22, 7, 5 (3 letters), 3, 2 (2 letters).

Comments and recommendation of Supervisor, SAC or Assistant Director:

It is recommended that this suggestion be adopted since the purpose of the letters in question is for the Bureau to follow up with various field offices on delinquent cases. When the investigations have been completed, these follow-up letters actually serve no useful purpose by remaining in the file.

The portion of the suggestion recommending that "Discontinue," "Status," and "No Lead" correspondence be destroyed when three years old is not recommended at this time since, although usually no positive information of an investigative nature would be contained in such correspondence, we would be destroying evidence of the fact that the particular individuals concerned were applicants at one time, and it is likely that should investigations be ordered with respect to such individuals, investigative leads could be developed on the basis of the information now on file. Unless the Bureau indices were checked, the field office would have no information as to the existence of personnel security questionnaires, etc., if these "Status," "Discontinue" or "No Lead" correspondence and relating index cards were destroyed.

H. R. 6091 amends Title V, known as Federal Records Act of 1950, of the Federal Property and Administration Services Act of 1949 as amended.

Act presently authorizes Administrator of General Services Administration to: (1) accept for deposit in National Archives records of any Federal Agency having historical or other value; (2) transfer, with approval of originating agency, records in National Archives to public educational institutions or associations; and (3) to accept for deposit in National Archives material from private sources. Amendment will give Administrator additional authority to require all records over 50 years old to be transferred to National Archives unless head of the agency which has custody of them shall certify in writing to Administrator that they must be retained in his custody for use in conduct of regular current business of agency.

Inasmuch as agency can retain records over 50 years old by certifying in writing that records are necessary for current operations, no adverse effects can be seen to the operation of this Bureau by H. R. 6091.

Honorable William L. Dawson
Chairman, Committee on Government Operations
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Chairman:

This is in response to your request for the views of the Department of Justice concerning the bill (H.R. 6091) "To amend the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended, and for other purposes."

Section 507 of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended (44 U.S.C. 397), authorizes the Administrator of General Services to accept the deposit of the historical records of any agency, but it does not require them to be deposited. The bill would amend section 507 so as to authorize the Administrator to require the deposit of such records if they have been in existence for more than fifty years unless the head of the agency which has custody of them certifies in writing to the effect that their retention is necessary in the conduct of the regular current business of the agency.

Whether the bill should be enacted involves a question of policy concerning which this Department prefers to make no recommendation.

The Bureau of the Budget has advised that there is no objection to the submission of this report.

Sincerely,

WILLIAM P. ROGERS

The Training and Inspection Division has requested your views on the attached suggestion which was submitted by Supervisory Clerk [redacted] of the New York Division. Miss [redacted] has suggested that all "delinquent" letters be destroyed in zero files of applicant-type and employee-type classifications (which she lists) when such letters are 3 years old and that appropriate charge-outs be inserted. She also proposes that "discontinue," "status," and "no-record" correspondence filed in zero files of the same classifications be destroyed when it is 3 years old. In addition, she suggests that the index cards referring to this correspondence be destroyed.

b6 b7C

There is some question as to whether the space saved by the adoption of this suggestion would justify the use of the employee time necessary to destroy this correspondence, particularly since the suggestion is made that each item of correspondence be replaced by a charge-out. Since the file copy of such correspondence is on file at the Seat of Government, it is believed that consideration should be given to making a penciled notation in the individual case files when letters in the above categories are received and thereafter destroying them without indexing or processing and filing. This would result in an immediate savings of space, a savings in processing and indexing time, and would not require that the file be reviewed or the index checked at a later date to destroy the correspondence and the index cards.

RECOMMENDATION:

That "delinquent" "discontinue" and "status" letters be destroyed after receipt by the Divisional Offices after notations are made in the files.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION NUMBER 496255
"DELINQUENT," "DISCONTINUE," "STATUS" AND "NO LEAD" CORRESPONDENCE

The New York Office has suggested that correspondence emanating from the Bureau in applicant-type and Security of Government Employees classifications, which has to do with "delinquent cases pending in a field office," "discontinuance of investigations," "status lists" and "no lead or misdirected correspondence," be destroyed when three years old and an appropriate charge out slip inserted in the file.

The delinquency letters are those directed to the field periodically by the Special Inquiry and Security of Government Employees Sections for the purpose of advising a field office of its most delinquent cases. These letters list the delinquent cases setting forth titles and order letter numbers. Because of the length of the letters, they are filed in the zero file even though there are case files on the individuals. The titles of the cases on these letters are not indexed (since there are case files on the individuals), so index cards are not destroyed.

The "discontinue" correspondence referred to is that which is received by the field prior to the opening of the case in the field. It is not uncommon to receive notification of a termination from the requesting agency shortly after receipt of the request to order the investigation. Bureau immediately advises the field to discontinue and consequently, the correspondence is received before any active investigation has been started.

The status letters referred to are no longer in use having been replaced by the "delinquent letters."

The "no lead" correspondence referred to is that received in one field office which was either inadvertently misdirected or sent believing the receiving office could handle the lead.

RECORDED-16 INDEXED-16 62-3286-68

SAC, New York, recommends that the delinquent letters be destroyed as they serve no useful purpose remaining in the files.

16 AUG 31 1955

SAC recommends with reference to ~~discontinue,~~ "status" and "no lead" correspondence that such not be destroyed as it may serve a useful purpose in the future by presenting investigative leads in the event investigations are subsequently opened.

2 Destruction of Government Property Memo

Memorandum to Mr. Rosen

OBSERVATIONS OF THE SPECIAL INQUIRY AND SECURITY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES SECTIONS:

The Special Inquiry and Security of Government Employees Sections recommend that the correspondence in question relating to delinquent cases, discontinued cases and the status of cases be destroyed at the end of one year and a notation reflecting such action be made in the file. There appears to be no reason to extend the period to three years. Such correspondence will not serve any useful purpose by retaining it in the files. The Bureau is origin in these cases and a review of the files at the Bureau will reflect the administrative handling of the cases.

The "no lead" correspondence can be destroyed as soon as appropriate action has been taken to get the lead covered. Such action is taken by immediately notifying the Bureau and the interested field offices. Incidents of this kind are infrequent and usually involve one field division sending a lead to an office in a State in which several offices exist not knowing that the records to be reviewed are not located within the territory of the office receiving the lead.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be forwarded to the Training and Inspection Division pursuant to its request for the views of this division concerning this matter.

SUBJECT: IWO INDEX - CONSOLIDATION UNIT
RECORDS SECTION
Destruction of Bureau Property - General

Since inception Security Government Employees Program, it has been Bureau's responsibility to search membership lists of subversive organizations against all Loyalty Forms received to determine if member past or present Government employee. The Bureau received International Workers Order membership lists containing names of several hundred thousand members which were so searched. Membership lists were in form of monthly copies of insurance premium payments by Lodge. Much duplication of names existed because same names would appear month after month and, accordingly, procedure placed in effect in Records Section whereby 5 X 3 card prepared on each member first time name received and searched against Loyalty Forms. As subsequent lists received, names searched first against these cards. If card already prepared, no search of Loyalty Forms necessary. However, if name not previously received, card prepared and name searched against Loyalty Forms. These 5 X 3 cards maintained in what was called "IWO Index," which was maintained in Consolidation Unit. Name of each member is indexed in the General Index and these cards are merely duplicates made to facilitate searching. They are filed alphabetically by Lodge Number. Thousands of searching hours were saved by this procedure.

You will recall that the International Workers Order was phohibited by Court Order from continuing in the insurance field. All policies issued by the IWO were taken over by private insurance companies.

Accordingly, we no longer receive names of members of IWO who appeared as members because they held insurance policies. The above IWO Index has no further use to us and accordingly it should be destroyed.

RECOMMENDATION: INDEXED - RECORDED 66-3286-6681

That if the Domestic Intelligence Division approves, the IWO Index described above be destroyed.

RE: FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
FOREIGN BROADCAST INTELLIGENCE SERVICE
62-40185-3

There are 167 sections of captioned file, occupying 1½ file cabinets. File consists entirely of mimeographed daily reports on foreign radio broadcasts prepared by Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service, Federal Communications Commission. Reports are for period September, 1942, through April, 1946. Contents are not indexed; however, there is spotty indexing of captions.

This file does not appear to have any contemporary value and it should be de-indexed and destroyed in order to re-acquire valuable filing equipment and space.

Archival authority for the destruction of this type material is not required as it is a mimeographed publication of another Governmental Agency and such is "library type" material which is "no-record" in nature.

That authority be granted to de-index and destroy above captioned file.

RE: NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS (66-1897)

Above captioned file was opened in 1925 and contains newspaper clippings and letters transmitting newspaper clippings which are for most part obsolete and which should be destroyed. File consists of 17 sections plus 87 Sub A Sections which occupy two file cabinets. In the past each Field Office regularly forwarded clippings from their territory. The Sub A of this file contains clippings only, no correspondence.

These clippings contain miscellaneous information concerning items which were of possible interest to the Bureau - current events, crime in general, etc., plus editorials and items either commending or criticizing the Bureau. No clippings have been filed in the Sub A File since ~~1951~~ 1943.

The majority of these clippings are not indexed. However, some indexing was done on the cover letters transmitting the clippings and on some of the clippings. The vast majority of these clippings have no contemporary value today, and they are occupying premimum filing space. The present policy is to file only those clippings marked "File" and these are filed in a case file or a general file on the subject matter.

Archival authority is not necessary for destruction of this type of material as it is "Library-type" material which is non-record in nature.

By memorandum May 4, 1955, you were advised that controls concerning corrective action in captioned case were being retained by Supervisor J. Harold Glascock in Room 1264. These controls consist of carbon copies of letters from the field identifying instances where corrective action was necessary in order to characterize Matusow as being of "known unreliability." Attached to these controls in some instances are carbon copies of field correspondence reflecting that such corrective action has been completed in individual cases. Also attached in some instances are amended pages which were submitted by the field but were not inserted in the original reports under current regulations for handling such corrections. In some instances tickler copies of outgoing Bureau correspondence relative to these corrections are also attached.

These controls were originally set up to follow necessary corrective action and to insure its completion. This project has been completed for sometime and appropriate copies of all correspondence has, of course, been filed in proper files.

These controls have proved to be of no value since the completion of the project correcting Bureau files and no future use for them can be foreseen.

RECOMMENDATION: That these controls be destroyed inasmuch as there appears to be no future need for them. In this connection it is noted that copies of correspondence included in these controls would not be filed in the pertinent case files in the regular course of business under existing filing regulations, that is, if this material were furnished to the Records Section now it would be cc Belmont against their regulations to file it.

SUBJECT: COMPROS
(BUFILE 100-3-74)
Destruction of Duplicate Material

There are approximately 202 Smith Act Subjects who have either been indicted, convicted and awaiting appeal, or to be indicted on whom field reports whereabouts on monthly basis. Approximately 40 to 45 offices submit Air-tels captioned "LOCOM" (Location of Communists) reporting whereabouts of subjects in their Divisions. Each month after all Air-tels for month are received, substantive desk in Domestic Intelligence Division prepares memorandum summarizing by office number of subjects whose whereabouts are known or unknown.

These Air-tels are merely status type letters to show number of subjects whose whereabouts are known and unknown which become obsolete upon receipt of next monthly Air-tel from the Field. They are presently filed in the Compros General File and are not indexed. Approximately 500 are received and filed annually.

As these Air-tels are not indexed, have no bearing on the individual case, (they are not filed in case file) are merely status type letters, and are obsolete after next monthly one received, it is felt they should not be filed but rather be retained by the substantive desk 30 or 60 days after summary memorandum prepared on them and then destroyed. This will save classifying, numbering and recording of mail as well as filing mail and abstracts in Records Section. It will also keep approximately 500 pieces of mail annually out of the Compros File which itself is large and voluminous. No purpose can be served by cluttering file up with these Air-tels.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. That Air-tels from the Field reporting whereabouts of past, present and future Smith Act Subjects not be processed or filed in the Records Section but rather be retained by substantive desk in Domestic Intelligence Division for 30 to 60 days after they have been combined into a summary memorandum.

2. That inasmuch as this program has been in effect for several years, Records Section be authorized to go through the Compros File and remove such Air-tels that are now obsolete. These Air-tels have not been indexed.

DATE STAMPED BLOCKS STAMPED

AIR-TELS WILL BE RECEIVED IN ROUTING UNIT. THEY UPON RECEIPT THEREAFTER IN 5266 WILL BE KEPT UNTIL DESTROYED.

RE: ALIEN NON-ENEMY NATIONALITY (100-540)

Sub-captioned file was opened in 1943 and contains over 1,200 two page forms which are copies of applications submitted to Immigration and Naturalization Service, on individuals attempting to change their World War Two alien status from that of enemy to non-enemy. File consists of 23 sections and occupies 3/4 drawer of file space.

This file was opened when the Immigration and Naturalization Service requested the Bureau to conduct a name check on these individuals for any political or subversive activities. File contains only those forms on individuals where no record could be found in Bureau indices. If a main file was found on an individual the form was filed in the main file. Over 1,200 cards were prepared on these applications.

Since this file actually contains "No Record" name check forms and we have Archival authority to destroy such forms (66-3286-192) these forms be deindexed and destroyed.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records Section be authorized to deindex and destroy no-record name check forms contained in above file.

Memo from Mr. Nichols to you 8-8-55 requested that bulky exhibit 97-2956-45 in captioned case be reviewed and decision made as to retention or disposition of this exhibit. Exhibit consists of 5 Chinese pictorial magazines furnished the San Francisco office on 9-12-51 by an informant who purchased these magazines from captioned firm.

Four of these magazines are the March, April, May and June, 1951, issues of "The Liberation Army Pictorial." The fifth magazine is dated July, 1951, captioned "Chinese CP--30th Anniversary." These magazines are made up principally of Photographs with descriptive comments which generally laud the exploits of the Chinese Communist regime. San Francisco letter 11-13-51, with which above were enclosed, advised they were submitted as of interest to the Bureau and need not be returned. Captioned firm is known to be an outlet for Chinese Communist propaganda. There appears to be no need to retain these exhibits.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records and Communications Division be advised that these exhibits may be destroyed.

We are presently in the process of reviewing all bulky exhibits presently on hand, in order that we may weed out those which will serve no useful purpose by being retained. Inasmuch as a great many of these bulky exhibits pertain to inactive cases and are occupying badly needed space, it is requested that you have the appropriate substantive supervisor review the above-listed bulky exhibit and render a decision as to the retention or disposition of the material contained therein. A notation as to the decision rendered should be placed on this memorandum, and it should be returned to the Filing Unit of the Records Section, room 1113, Identification Building. SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS
Destruction of Bureau Records-General
RE: WAR DUTY SUGGESTIONS FOR POLICE EXECUTIVES (BOOKLET) (94-3-6-12)

In 1942 the Bureau prepared the above captioned booklet for distribution to police executives throughout the United States. File on this booklet currently consists of 9 sections which accupy 1/3 of a file drawer. This file consists of letters to and from police officers and individuals in Civilian Defense who received booklet. Names of recipients have been indexed. Approximately 1000 names are indexed in this file.

Bureau no longer distributes this booklet and no correspondence has been placed in this file since 1944. It appears this file has no useful purpose today and, accordingly correspondence concerning distribution of the booklet should be deindexed and destroyed in order to conserve filing space and to prevent unnecessary file reviews. Since this booklet is similiar in nature to "Suggestions for Protection of Industrial Facilities" booklet and authority was granted to deindex and destroy that material, it is believed the same authority should be extended to captioned file.

We have archival authority to destroy this type material. (66-3286-443, Item 6.)

RECOMMENDATION:

That Records Section be authorized to deindex and destroy mail in above captioned file. Mail relating to action and history, of course, will be retained.

RE: ALIEN APPLICANTS FOR PROFESSIONAL LICENSES IN NEW YORK STATE (65-19176)

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Above captioned file was opened in 1940 and contains over 2,000 application forms for professional licenses in the state of New York sent in by the State Education Department at Albany, New York during period 1940 - 1942. File consists of 6 sections and occupies ½ drawer of a file cabinet.

This file was opened when the Director of Professional Education of the New York State Department of Education requested an agent to contact him in connection with possible "Fifth Column" activities. As a result of this interview this Department started sending these application forms to the Bureau. The forms have a limited amount of background information and nothing of a derogatory nature. Over 2,000 index cards were prepared on these forms.

Since the information in this file is no longer of any contemporary value, it is suggested that it be deindexed and the application forms destroyed. Of course, all mail of a policy and history type will be retained.

We have Archival authority to destroy name check forms. (66-3286-192)

RE: FREE PASSAGES FURNISHED BY HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE; REGISTRATION ACT; INTERNAL SECURITY; ESPIONAGE - G.

65-1730-50 is voluminous four section serial containing photostatic copies of free and reduced passage granted by Hamburg-American Steamship Line and North German Lloyd Line during period 1935 to 1939. These lines, as members of Trans-Atlantic Passengers' Conference, agreed to give reduced passenger rates only under certain conditions and to report identities of persons receiving reduced rates periodically to Conference. Approximately 11,000 names are indexed in this serial. List only shows a name, the amount of reduction and reason for reduced rate. Only reasons shown are that person was "principal" conductor of tour and in a few instances word counselor or diplomatic employee, or child of such employee.

This list has no contemporary value whatsoever and it should be deindexed in order to reduce file reviews and to make available additional space.

That the Domestic Intelligence Division authorize deindexing of this serial.

Attached is the memorandum dated 8/26/55 to Mr. Nichols recommending that the Domestic Intelligence Division authorizes the deindexing of Serial 50. This Serial contains approximately 11,000 names of individuals who were granted free, reduced, or special transportation by the subject company during the 1930's. These names were obtained by the New York office from an official of the Trans-Atlantic Passenger Conference. The names as such have no intelligence or security significance. The information would be useful only in showing travel of some person in whom the Bureau is interested if that person obtained special considerations in traveling from the United States to Europe or return and if that person book his transportation with captioned subject. Only names are listed with no other identifying data except occasional references to an individual's profession. It is not believed that this Serial has any value for the Domestic Intelligence Division.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the above Serial be deindexed in order to reduce the number of unproductive references in file reviews and to make space available.

Re: Economy Suggestions

Destruction of Bureau Property
GEM.

SUGGESTION #20: That the Bureau destroy Bureau reports which are returned after they once have been disseminated to another agency.

Advantages: Under existing procedure, several Government Agencies return numerous FBI reports with a cover letter setting out caption of each. These are filed in individual files and appropriate notations made. In order to do this, it is frequently necessary to search reports since file number is not on copy of report or has been obliterated. The adoption of this suggestion would result in savings in filing space as well as employee time.

Savings: Cannot be estimated.

Disadvantages and Risks: Bureau would not have record in individual file that report was returned. This information could be obtained by checking incoming letters from agencies and reviewing cover letters which could be filed in general file.

SUGGESTION:

It is suggested that all copies of letters initiating preliminary inquiry which are furnished to all offices having possible leads in the event conversion to a full field investigation occurs, that are filed in the 140-0 file, be destroyed after a period of one year.

SUBJECT: MICROFILMING - SIS VOUCHERS

Destruction of Bureau Property

Ten four-drawer cabinets of SIS Vouchers (Blue Slips for confidential information and services) are being retained in Personnel Records Unit of the Records Section.

These vouchers are completely inactive and accordingly it would appear that they should be either destroyed or microfilmed in order to make available the ten file cabinets and space for other material.

We have archival authority to microfilm "Blue Slips" over five years old. Phraseology describing material for which we have authority to microfilm is broad--"Forms five or more years old which support charges for confidential information furnished and services rendered in connection with official investigations of the Federal Bureau of Investigation." Our request to the Department for this authority instructed the Department to forward our request for approval to General Accounting Office. Accordingly no further authority to microfilm this material is necessary.

RECOMMENDATION:

(1) That consideration be given to destroying SIS Vouchers for confidential information, etc. maintained in the Personnel Records Unit.

(2) That in event this material must be retained that it be microfilmed. It should be remembered that in event paper copies are ever needed that they can be made by the Photo Laboratory. These paper reproductions would be the same size as the original document.

These offices should conduct no investigation until notified that identification has been effected or substantive pertinent information has been developed. The copies of the letter and employee security form should be placed in the 140-0 file pending such notification and if notification is not received within one year from the date of the letter the employee security form, all copies of the letter except one, and the index card are to be destroyed."

When these letters are received in the NYO, they are filed in a subfile of the zero classification--140-0B. Prior to SAC Letter 69, 7/17/51, all copies of correspondence of this nature were destroyed. Since that time the rule set out above is followed.

Since there is no index card in the Indices, reference is never made to these files. Since all letters are filed in a separate section, it would not be necessary to insert chargeouts showing the destruction of these serials. A notation could be made on the file cover.

At present time in the NYO Sections 1 through 35 of 121-0B have been destroyed. (These were destroyed prior to 7/17/51.) There are 9 more sections of this file which could be destroyed, if this suggestion is adopted.

There are presently 19 sections of 140-0B on file, ten of which could be destroyed, if this suggestion is adopted.

On August 4, 1955, the Conference, consisting of Messrs. Mohr, Tamm, Sizoo, Belmont, Boardman, Rosen, Harbo, Nichols and Parsons, considered the destruction of evidence by the Laboratory.

The question arose as a result of inquiry by an investigator of the Kefauver Committee on Juvenile Delinquency as to whether the Bureau could furnish testimony in a possible perjury case on an obscene matter dealer, Louis Shomer. Shomer testified that he had not dealt in obscene matter since 1947, and did not know Edgar Levy. In 1953, an obscene film was recovered from Levy by the Connecticut State Police. This film was turned over to our New Haven Division by the Connecticut State's Attorney who did not desire its return and advised that it might be destroyed if it was of no value to the Bureau. Laboratory examination of this film disclosed that it was a very common one which had been reproduced to the extent that it was not possible to determine its source. The film was thereafter destroyed.

As a general rule evidence is not destroyed by the Laboratory but is returned to the field after examination. There are two exceptions to this policy, namely, firearms and obscene material. These two types of evidence are disposed of by the Laboratory in view of the obvious need for controlling their disposition and to avoid the embarrassment that would result if evidence of this nature was later again recovered and found to have been at one time in the Bureau's possession. Firearms are disposed of by the Laboratory only after the field obtains (1) a court order or (2) a signed waiver from the owner. Military weapons are returned to the military and non-military weapons are disposed of by turning them over to the Naval Gun Factory for melting up.

Very little obscene material is received directly from local law enforcement agencies and returned to those agencies if requested. If its return is not desired by the local agency, it will be destroyed upon specific authorization from that agency. obscene material received from Bureau field divisions is returned to the field if needed for prosecution, but after prosecution the field must return the obscene material to the Laboratory for destruction. The obscene material is held in the Laboratory until specific authorization is received from the field that it may be destroyed. In the Laboratory the obscene material is searched in the reference file and if it is not identified in the file, a specimen adequate for further comparisons is retained in that collection. If it is identified in the file, the Laboratory report will reflect the results of the comparison and examination and is, of course, retained as a permanent record and therefore, the same information is available at any future time even after the material is destroyed. In the absence of specific authorization from the field, the obscene material is retained and a tickler is set up to follow the field until such authority is received.

On the basis of these standards, approximately eight legal-size file cabinet drawers of obscene material are destroyed in a year and to retain all such material would obviously create both a space problem and a problem of protecting this material from getting out of our possession.

In view of the fact that the policy and practice stated above have been followed for more than ten years and there has been no instance in which material has been destroyed and the report would not suffice for any future consideration, the Conference unanimously recommends that the above policy and practice be continued.

SUBJECT: PRISONERS OF WAR CORRESPONDENCE (100-2555)

Destruction of Bureau Records - Gen'l

Captioned file consists of 81 Sections and approximately 1600 serials. It is estimated that over 100,000 names of persons corresponding with Prisoners of War are indexed. By and large, the vast majority of the names were submitted in list form by the Office of Censorship, by the Office of Canadian Censorship, and by the [redacted] b7D The correspondence in the file falls into two general types. One type is that which has a cover letter from the U. S. Office of Censorship, [redacted], or other government agency, enclosing names of correspondents with comments that persons so corresponding had indicated pro-Nazi sentiments or that writers were suspect in some manner.

The other general type consists of lists received from U. S. Office of Censorship listing the name and address of the POW, the name and address of the correspondent, the date of the communication, and the relationship between the two. Many of these lists are entitled, "U. S. Residents Corresponding With Enemy Prisoners of War or Internees, (Harmless)." Many other lists are captioned in the same manner, yet the word "harmless" is not included in the caption. This type of list is the same as above, yet, under the names of certain correspondents a comment has been inserted as to the general contents of the letter. These comments in most instances appear to be all miscellaneous in nature and purely social chit-chat concerning personal problems of the internee or correspondent. Internees and correspondents are in most instances relatives.

It is felt that all names indexed in lists which do not have the contents of the communications paraphrased should be deindexed. It is further felt that if contents of a communication have been paraphrased beneath the names of the list that it should likewise be deindexed unless anti-allies or Pro-Russian or Satellite sentiment is shown by the correspondent.

INDEXED - RECORDED - 66-3286-667

Lists of names transmitted by cover letter with a notation that correspondents may have pro-Nazi sentiments, etc., should not be deindexed at this time. Nor should names be deindexed in any correspondence which were referred to State Department, G-2, [redacted] or any other organization. In some instances as a

SUBJECT: PRISONERS OF WAR CORRESPONDENCE
Destruction of Bureau Records-Gen

Enclosed herewith is the memorandum to Mr. Nichols dated 8-17-55 recommending that certain names listed in captioned file be deindexed. The names being recommended for deindexing are those which were received from the United States Office of Censorship during World War II. Other serials in this file, which were received from foreign intelligence agencies and other government agencies, are not being considered for deindexing. It was recommended (1) that all names furnished in lists captioned "Harmless," and which do not have contents of the communication paraphrased be deindexed. There appears to be no objection to deindexing such names. It was also recommended (2) that all names not captioned "Harmless," but which do not have the contents of the communication paraphrased be likewise deindexed. There appears to be no reason why such names should not be deindexed. Recommendation (3) states "that all names appearing as correspondents on lists which have paraphrased version of communication underneath names be deindexed unless anti-allies, or pro-Russian or Satellite sentiments are expressed or indicated in communication." The deindexing of such names would have to be considered individually, and it would appear that this procedure would be uneconomical.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. It is recommended that the Domestic Intelligence Division concur in recommendations numbered 1 and 2 of enclosed memorandum.

2. The Domestic Intelligence Division does not concur in recommendation numbered 3 of enclosed memorandum since this procedure would appear to be uneconomical and take more time than the value of the deindexing would warrant.

RE: CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION APPLICANTS
(100-38679)

Sub-captioned file on name checks of Civil Service Applicants was opened in 1941. It consists of 8 sections, occupying 1/3 of a file drawer. Approximately 2500 names are indexed. File was opened as a result of the request of the Civil Service Commission to have the Bureau check not only the criminal files but the subversive index of the Bureau for each person C.S.C was investigating. The Bureau complied with their request for such name checks. (62-17890-211X).

File consists mainly of form letters, one name to a letter. These requests were submitted in duplicate and a notation was made on the copy indicating the results of the search. One reply was sent covering numerous names. If information was available, a Bureau memorandum was attached to the duplicate and a yellow copy retained for Bureau files.

It is proposed that all names on which derogatory information was not developed be de-indexed and destroyed in order to prevent unnecessary file reviews and to reacquire additional space in the General Index Unit. These are merely name check forms and we do not retain "no record" name check forms today.

Bureau approval was previously given for deindexing thousands of no record forms filed in the "Name Check" file. We have Archival authority to destroy "no record" name check forms (66-3286-192).

RECOMMENDATION:

That all "no record" name check forms in above captioned file be de-indexed and destroyed.

DESTRUCTION OF Bureau RECORDS - General

The SAC San Francisco, in the light of the acute situation regarding space for storing closed files in his office, makes the following suggestions: (a) that the Bureau authorize the destruction of all closed Selective Service Act (SSA) (1940) files over 10 years old; or (b) authorize the destruction of all closed SSA (1940) files over 10 years old with the exception of those in which prosecution was had; or (c) authorize destruction of all serials in closed SSA (1940) files with the exception of the closing reports. It was his opinion that the closing reports in these cases contain all pertinent information for the Bureau's purpose in the field. It has been pointed out that the Selective Service System has destroyed or is in process of destroying all files in this category. Present Bureau regulations permit destruction of these files after 25 years.

It is desired that you submit your recommendations with respect to the proposals made, together with the reasons for your recommendations. In the event you agree with one of the 3 propositions, you are requested to advise as to what you would suggest with reference to the index cards on these cases. Your reply should be forwarded to the Bureau so as to arrive not later than September 15 (all SACs receiving a copy of this letter), attention Training and Inspection Division.

Reference is made to your letter of 8/25/55 suggesting destruction of closed Selective Service Act (1940) files over 10 years old. You are requested to advise what you suggest with reference to the index cards on these cases in the event this destruction is authorized by the Bureau. ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-2-82 BY SP4 EW/dly

Destruction of Bureau Re Dates

Reference is made to attached letter from SAC Whalen, San Francisco Office dated 8/25/55. SAC Whalen points out that space situation for storing closed files is acute in his office and he recommends consideration be given to destroying files in selected classifications prior to the time they become 25 years old. Bureau regulations presently permit destruction of files when they become 25 years old.

SAC Whalen points out that storage alone for one file cabinet is $24.50 per year. He further points out that even though the consolidation of files project is receiving continuous attention and that they have stacked cabinets so that one aisle is used for opening drawers of cabinets from either side of the aisle, that expansion limit of present facilities and crowded conditions of cabinets makes it extremely difficult to maintain closed files in accordance with Bureau standards.

While proposing that consideration be given to considering destroying, for example, the "7", "26" and "42" classification cases, SAC Whalen specifically suggests the following:

(A) That the Bureau authorize this office to destroy closed SSA ('40) files over ten years old, or

(B) Authorize the destruction of all closed SSA ('40) files over ten years old with the exception of those in which prosecution was had, or

2 ENCLOSURES

(C) Authorize destruction of all serials in closed SSA ('40) files with the exception of the closing report.

In recommending above, he states closing report in these cases in his opinion contains all pertinent information for the Bureau's purpose in the field. He further states that Selective Service System has destroyed or is in the process of destroying all their files in this category.

He further estimated that a minimum of 35 filecabinets out of 43 now containing SSA ('40) closed files or 81% will be made available immediately for use in his office. He felt proportionate savings would be felt throughout the field.

Records Section in May 1953 pointed out the average field division had 500 to 1000 cubic feet of files and that the six largest divisions had 3,570 to 8,476 cubic feet of files. (As of July 1, 1955, the six largest offices had 4,133 to 12,607 cubic feet of records.) As existing Bureau regulations require retention of all records for a minimum period of 25 years, Records Section proposed that consideration be given to microfilming field division files 5 or more years old or reducing period of retention of files in selected categories to 10 years. The Training and Inspection Division subsequently studied this matter throughout the field and concluded that circumstances at time would not warrant change of policy. Executives Conference unanimously felt no further action should be taken in regard to microfilming files at the time. SAC Whalen is voicing a problem that is common to all field offices. ~~Files~~ For all practical purposes all Bureau files and all field files were created after and including 1940. Retention of these files for 25 years under existing Bureau regulations means that no appreciable volume of files can be destroyed until 1965. There is no question but that space problems are going to be more acute every year between now and then. Much labor, time and money will be lost in order to shift these cabinets of closed files around in order to find space and cabinets to file current material needed on day to day basis. General Services Administration furnishes all Bureau space. It pays from its appropriation for leased space provided the Bureau. GSA likewise is responsible for promoting improved current records management and disposal practices in federal agencies for federal records. Annually we report to GSA through the Department our volume of records in cubic feet, both in the field and at the Seat of Government. GSA is taking aggressive steps to cause agencies to destroy or retire old inactive files to federal records centers. Sooner or later we are going to feel pressure from GSA to destroy or retire our older records. Many old closed files in the field are not felt to be necessary. We should destroy these older files in selected classifications after 10 years or even 5 years, not only to furnish our field offices with more working space and better working conditions but to show GSA that we are taking positive steps to efficiently manage our records. All field offices together destroyed 4,311 cubic feet of records during the last fiscal year. Records and Communications

Division destroyed 5,570 cubic feet. Originals or at least summaries of all investigative matters are retained at Bureau and accordingly, it is felt field should naturally be destroying a much greater volume of records.

Either one of SAC Whalen's suggestions concerning destruction of SSA ('40) files is a step in the right direction.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That consideration be given to authorizing the destruction of SSA ('40) files as suggested by SAC Whalen.

(2) That serious consideration be given to SAC Whalen's suggestion that other closed criminal classifications be likewise studied with the same purpose in mind.

I agree F.W.C.

Endeavoring to anticipate a situation which is rapidly becoming acute in this office and probably in other offices, I have had a survey conducted of the closed Selective Service files in this office and, in connection therewith, I am submitting the following observations and suggestions for the Bureau's consideration:

GSA allows 7 square feet of space for each filing cabinet, which at the present estimated leased rate on outside space amounts to $24.50 per year for each cabinet. These cabinets cost $59.00 each. This office has been successful in securing 300 five-drawer letter-size cabinets for our closed files and by arranging them in double rows, back to back, and utilizing the same drawer opening space for opposite cabinets a considerable saving in space has been effected.

At the present time this office has 491 cabinets of closed files located on the 4th floor and 97 located on the 6th floor, or a total of 588 cabinets occupying approximately 3300 square feet of space, at a cost of approximately $11,000 per year. For the same number of cabinets GSA allows 4,116 square feet, which amounts to $14,396. This office is closing approixmately 2,000 cases per month and these files require approximately four additional cabinets a month.

We are rapidly approaching the expansion limit of our present facilities and the crowded condition of our cabinets makes it extremely difficult to maintain the closed files in accordance with Bureau standards.

The consolidation of files project is receiving continuous attention and at present is approximately one-quarter completed in the criminal files. So far, this project has made available five cabinets which were immediately utilized to alleviate the crowded condition in the "100" classification cabinets. It is now apparent that this project will not make available sufficient cabinets to handle the voluminous incoming material in this office on a month-to-month basis.

SEP 2 1955

This office has 43 filing cabinets, after consolidation, of closed SSA ('40) files. These files are maintained on the 6th floor of the Federal Office Building, together with closed files in the oldest "7," "26" and "42" classification cases, which experience has shown to be least active on a day-to-day basis for name checks and reference purposes.

Director, FBI

Attention: J. J. Maguire

Re: Records, Destruction of

A review of approximately 300 of these SSA ('40) files reveals complete inactivity in the past ten years. Further, that the bulk of these files is composed of non-pertinent and space-consuming serials such as reports from auxiliary offices endeavoring to locate subject, criminal records of possibly identical individuals, form letters from the Selective Service Local Board and 1-A exhibit envelopes containing, for the most part, bulky returned Selective Service form letters.

It is questionable that the purpose served in retaining these files is commensurate with the cost of maintaining them and, accordingly, with the view of making available critical cabinet space and effecting a considerable savings to the Government, I desire to submit the following suggestions, in the alternative, in connection with these particular files:

(A) That the Bureau authorize this office to destroy all closed SSA ('40) files over ten years old, or

(B) Authorize the destruction of all closed SSA ('40) files over ten years old with the exception of those in which prosecution was had, or

(C) Authorize destruction of all serials in closed SSA ('40) files with the exception of the closing report.

In my opinion, the closing report in these cases contains all pertinent information for the Bureau's purpose in the field.

In connection with suggestion (A), the Bureau is aware that the Selective Service System has destroyed, or is in the process of destroying, all their files in this category.

In the event the Bureau adopts any one of the above suggestions, it is estimated that a minimum of 35 filing cabinets out of 43 now filled with SSA ('40) closed files, or 81 per cent, will be made available immediately for use in this office, and it is believed that a proportionate number will be made available in all field offices.

Director, FBI

Attention: J. J. Maguire

Re: Records, Destruction of

If the Bureau would approve this suggestion, I would like to recommend that, based on the experience obtained from this program, we study other closed criminal classifications with the same purpose in view.

That files and records in field divisions be destroyed after they become twenty years old. Destruction of files and records after twenty years

Destruction of Files of Bureau Property

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts):
(Section 3, Page 13, Paragraph 7, Manual of Rules and Regulations)
"Files and records in field divisions may be destroyed after they become twenty five years old"

Advantages of suggestion:

1. ECONOMY - In the event this suggestion could be adopted, it is estimated that an office the size of the Oklahoma City Office could clear 10 four drawer, file cabinets. It is further estimated that at least 1,000 four drawer, file cabinets, could be cleared by all field divisions. According to the current GSA Catalogue the price of one four drawer file cabinet is $49.32.
2. It would not be necessary for the Bureau to purchase any file cabinets in the field divisions for at least 3 years.

Disadvantages of suggestion:

1. The provisions of Section # 369, Title 44, USCA are not known, and therefore it may be impossible for this suggestion to be adopted.

Although the information in this serial is of no positive value for a security report, there is recorded the membership book and ship assignment of each member listed along with the Departmental assignment of a number of them. This information could be of considerable investigative value in attempting to identify an individual from a name only as it would give us a reference to union records and shipping company records.

100-120818-X144 is list of approximately 1400 names. List is captioned "National Maritime Union," bears date March 15, 1941, and was dictated by former Special Agent K. R. McIntire. List is preferenced with following statement. "The following individuals are reported to be secretaries, chairmen, couriers, and Agents of the National Maritime Union": Along side each name is a series of numbers which is possibly a serial number of some sort and ship to which individual apparently assigned.

From condition of this serial, it is apparent that many references are ~~received to~~ REVIEWED ON it. However, there is nothing apparent in the serial that requires its retention. There is nothing on which to make an ident, and the mere fact that an individual was a member of the National Maritime Union does not appear to be of value today. It is accordingly felt that this serial should be de-indexed to prevent unnecessary listing of this reference for review and in order to remove index cards of no value from the General Index.

SUGGESTION: That files and records in field divisions be destroyed after they become 20 years old.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: Section 3, page 13, Manual of Rules and Regulations, instructs that files and records in field divisions may be destroyed after they become 25 years old.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Saving of file space. Suggester estimates 1000 four-drawer file cabinets could be cleared by adopting suggestion.

DISADVANTAGES STATED: None known.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Johnson, Oklahoma City, believes suggestion worthy of study. To adopt suggestion would result in considerable savings in file space.

Training and Inspection notes that on 3/13/46 the Executives Conference unanimously approved the suggestion by [redacted] that closed files be destroyed when 25 years old. The subject has come up recurrently since that time, with suggestions that destruction be made at the end of a shorter period of time, but the Bureau has not seen fit to change its rule. On 8/14/53 the Executives Conference considered the question again following a suggestion that the field be surveyed to get the opinions of SACs on destroying field criminal and applicant files after 10 to 15 years. The majority of the Executives Conference opposed the survey and the Director concurred.

This is to advise that Major George A. McCaffrey, Mail and Records Branch Management Division, OSI, called Agent Medler to determine whether or not he could destroy copies of certain reports previously disseminated by the Bureau to OSI. Major McCaffrey stated that the reports in question had served their purpose and unless the Bureau advised otherwise they will be destroyed.

There appears to be no objection to the destruction of these reports as the Bureau of course has retained the originals with appropriate notations as to dissemination. They would serve no useful purpose in the Bureau's files and by not returning and filing these extra copies we avoid further aggravating our space problem. It is therefore requested that permission be granted to advise Major McCaffrey that he may through proper maceration and burning dispose of the reports in question or reports of a similar nature without further reference to the FBI.

RECOMMENDED ACTION:

Unless advised to the contrary the Major will be telephonically advised that the Bureau has no objections to the destruction or disposal of Bureau reports that are of no further use to his agency.

Memorandum Mr. Eames to Mr. Nichols, August 31, 1955, enclosed, reports that OSI had asked whether they could destroy copies of certain reports previously disseminated by the Bureau to OSI. That memorandum recommended that unless advised to the contrary OSI would be telephonically advised that the Bureau had no objection to the destruction of the reports. Mr. Belmont noted by routing slip that we should check with OSI to see just what reports they had in mind and to determine whether there is any possibility that OSI would rerequest the reports in the future.

Major George A. McCaffrey, Mail and Records Branch, Management Division, OSI, advised on September 7, 1955, that OSI desired to destroy reports that have been furnished them by the Bureau and for which they have no further use. He explained that frequently OSI disseminated a copy of a Bureau report to one of the Air Force Field Commands. At the same time OSI retains one copy of the report in their central files. They desire permission to destroy the copy furnished to the field as it is of no further use to that Command. The copy kept in OSI Central Files will not be destroyed. Therefore, OSI will not in the future request additional copies of such reports from the Bureau.

Authority was previously granted OSI to destroy FBI correspondence on December 3, 1954, at a local level provided the destruction of records was done under provision of Executive Order 10501. The order provides that Defense information marked "Top Secret," "Secret," or "Confidential" shall be destroyed by burning or equally complete method of destruction. The Bureau desires in addition that all copies of Bureau records not falling under this Executive Order be destroyed in the same manner.

Att: Training and Inspection Division

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS

Re Bureau letter dated September 2, 1955, addressed to Newark.

It is suggested that favorable consideration be given to Section C for the reason indicated, namely, sufficient information will appear in closing reports to satisfy the needs of a Field Office for future reference.

This will entail a review of each file and the purging of index cards other than those appearing in the title of the closed report. Otherwise, a considerable number of index cards will be retained and a future check against them will lead only to speculation as to the identity of the name. It is conceivable that the name thus indexed could be an additional alias of the subject or a name appearing in the body of one of the destroyed reports or serials of an individual. For example, - a complainant or an individual whose name appeared to be relevant at the time the investigation was conducted. It is for this reason that the file should be reviewed and the cards obviously prepared during the course of the investigation, as noted in the file review, removed from the indices.

To destroy the serials and the index cards in the manner described above constitutes considerable clerical work and the question arises whether the result in the saving of space is overcome by the cost of accomplishing this purpose, bearing in mind that the great bulk of selective service cases are not voluminous.

SUBJECT: BOOKLET ENTITLED "FEDERAL ESPIONAGE AND SABOTAGE STATUTES" PROPOSED CANCELLATION

As you are aware, captioned booklet, copy of which is attached, was first prepared during World War II, primarily for use in connection with the Bureau's plant protection and related work. In 1951, the booklet was brought up to date.

Inasmuch as extensive changes have been made since 1951 in the espionage and sabotage statutes, the booklet is no longer current. The preparation of a new, revised edition would entail considerable expense, which does not appear warranted in view of the fact that the Bureau is not out of plant protection work and we have been receiving very few requests for the booklet.

There are several hundred copies of the booklet presently on hand, but we have not been distributing it recently because it is not current.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That this booklet be cancelled.

(2) That the copies presently on hand be destroyed, with the exception of the usual reference copies.

CORRECTED COPY

BACKGROUND: On initiating preliminary inquiry in Security of Government Employee cases the Bureau sends photostatic copies of the basic document to all offices which might have leads to cover if the preliminary inquiry is later converted to a full field investigation which occurs in from 35 to 50 per cent of cases. This has been found to be the most economical system. Field offices getting these copies prepare an index card and file the photostatic copies, conducting no investigation until further notification from the Bureau, if any. Manual of Instructions, Section 60 E-4, Page 9, states "One copies of the letter and employee security form should be placed in the 140-0 file pending such notification and if notification is not received within one year from date of the letter, the employee security form, all copies of the letter except one, and the index card are to be destroyed." Prior to SAC Letter 68 on 7/17/51, which initiated above practice, all copies of correspondence of this nature were destroyed. Referenced SAC Letter changed this practice because it was considered cheaper to leave one copy in the file than to make a charge-out for each serial destroyed and the amount of file space required would be the same either way.

SUGGESTION: It is suggested that all copies of letters initiating preliminary inquiry which are furnished to all offices having possible leads in the event conversion to a full field investigation occurs, that are filed in the 140-0 file, be destroyed after one year. Since there is no index card in the indices, reference is never made to these files. Since in New York all letters are filed in a separate section, it would not be necessary to insert charge-outs showing the destruction of these serials. A notation could be made on the file cover.

New York has 19 sections of the 140-0 files, 10 of which could be destroyed if this suggestion is adopted. It could also destroy 9 sections of the 161-0 file under same circumstances (under Executive Order 9835 these Security of Government Employee cases were handled under a 121 classification. When Executive Order 9835 was superseded by 10450 Bureau changed classification to 140 for statistical purposes).

OBSERVATIONS: Assistant Director Rosen states the Employees Security Section has no objection to the adoption of this suggestion. The necessity for placing charge-outs in the file to cover each serial destroyed, which initiated present practice as set out in SAC Letter mentioned under "background" above, can be obviated by noting on the file cover the serials destroyed. Mr. Rosen requests that necessary Manual changes be prepared in the Employees Security Section.

SAC Brown, Baltimore, recommends that favorable consideration be given this suggestion, stating further that the current practice of destroying the index cards and all copies of the letter except one means that we have material in the file which will never be referred to and therefore serves no useful purpose whatever.

SAC Laughlin, Washington Field, believes this is a good suggestion and would result in space saving. Washington Field Office has no 140-0 subfiles. All 140-0 material is filed together and all material is indexed. When eliminating this information from the files, it would be necessary also to destroy the cards in the indices. SAC Laughlin advises that this suggestion, if adopted, would result in the saving of approximately 2½ file drawers a year.

Training and Inspection notes that New York files this material in a 140-0 subfile whereas Washington Field Office files it in the regular 140-0 file. The difference in procedure is believed to be of no significance. In either case each serial must be taken out and checked individually against the office index in order that index cards may be removed. When New York has finished this work its files are empty whereas the 140-0 file in Washington Field Office will contain a few serials on matters such as complaints, estimated to be about 1% of the material in the 140-0 file.

The problem is not of much significance in most offices. A review made by Security of Government Employees Section in 104 cases shows that photostatic copies of the material on which the case was opened went to New York in 12 cases, to St. Louis in 59 cases, to Baltimore in 60 cases and to Washington Field Office in 82 cases. Sixteen offices received nothing at all and the other 32 offices received material in an average of 2.3 cases out of a total of 104. This shows that for the great majority of offices there is no problem, even on a basis of approximately 3000 cases annually.

RECOMMENDATION: Training and Inspection Division makes the following recommendations:

1. That the suggestion be adopted.

b6
b7C

2. That Miss [redacted] be granted the minimum cash award of $10 for suggestion on which there is definite saving in file space, amount not clear.

3. That the Security of Government Employees Section prepare necessary SAC Letter and Manual Changes as requested by Assistant Director Rosen.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION PROGRAM - DESTRUCTION OF CORRESPONDENCE SETTING FORTH VIEWS OF VARIOUS SACs AND BUREAU OFFICIALS AS TO MERITS OF SUGGESTION

Dalbey
Lee
~~Carpenter~~
~~Beck~~

BACKGROUND:

Upon receipt of a suggestion the views of various Bureau officials and SACs are solicited as to the advantages and disadvantages of the suggestion. These views are then summarized in a memorandum prepared for your approval.

PRESENT PROCEDURE:

Routing slips are used to solicit the views of Bureau officials and SACs who sometimes reply by routing slips. The great majority of replies, however, are by memorandum. These memoranda and routing slips are presently filed.

PROPOSED PROCEDURE:

The memoranda and routing slips from the Bureau officials and SACs to be destroyed after the views expressed therein as to the merits of the suggestion have been summarized in the memorandum prepared for your approval.

DISCUSSION:

The memoranda and routing slips from SACs and Bureau officials regarding the merits of suggestions merely concern viewpoints as to the internal administration of the Bureau and no reason exists for maintaining them as a part of the Bureau's records since the views expressed therein have been incorporated into the memorandum proposed for your consideration.

Vote: For--Messrs. Mason and DeLoach. Against--Messrs. Nichols, Mohr and Nease.

(✓) Suggestion: That X salary changes and X test grades be posted in personnel files in ink at the file cabinets.

ADVANTAGES: Eliminate charging file out and refiling. Two employees are required to handle this work at the present time and the Personnel Records Unit estimates that it could be handled by one GS-2 employee if the suggestion were adopted.

Savings: $2960.00, salary of one GS-2 employee.

Disadvantages and Risks: Posting on cover sheet might not be as legible, if written in ink as it would be if typed. However, it should be noted that new cover sheet has adequate space for legible penned figures.

(3) SUGGESTION: Prepare only top sheet Form FD-185 of Annual Performance Rating. Prepare top sheet only.

Advantages: Supervisory and clerical time would be saved in preparing check sheets. Adoption of suggestion would also result in savings in paper and filing space.

Savings: Cannot be estimated.

Disadvantages and Risks: Performance Ratings would not reflect differences in employees receiving same adjective rating.

(4) SUGGESTION: That we discontinue preparation and distribution of efficiency floaters.

Advantages: Saving in preparation, printing, and distribution cost.

Savings: Not known.

(5) SUGGESTION: That the Bureau destroy Bureau reports which are returned after they once have been disseminated to another agency.

Suggested above be destroyed

Advantages: Under existing procedure, several Government Agencies return numerous FBI reports with a cover letter setting out caption of each. These are filed in individual files and appropriate notations made. In order to do this, it is frequently necessary to search reports since file number is not on copy of report or has been obliterated. The adoption of this suggestion would result in savings in filing space as well as employee time.

Savings: Cannot be estimated.

Disadvantages and Risks: Bureau would not have record in individual file that report was returned. This information could be obtained by checking incoming letters from agencies and reviewing cover letters which could be filed in general file.

Vote: For--Messrs. Mohr, Nease, Mason, and DeLoach.
Against--Mr. Nichols.

Refer to Inspector's Division

(6) SUGGESTION: Discontinue filing fanfold on all new employees which reads "Excepted Indefinite Appointment." This fanfold apparently indicates that employee is excepted from usual Civil Service status and requirements.

Advantages: Savings in processing, filing, and space.

Savings: Not known.

Disadvantages and Risks: None known.

Vote: For--Messrs. DeLoach and Mason. Against--Messrs. Nease, Nichols, and Mohr. Mr. Mohr notes, "This is an official form and must be made a part of the file."

No

(7) SUGGESTION: X Look files up to date in Personnel Records only upon specific request.

Advantages: Surveys reflect 90% of personnel files are up to date at the time they are taken from the cabinets. Unless requestor advises it is not necessary to look file up to date, this is automatically done. Only four or five requests a day specify not necessary to look file up to date. 18 hours employee time required daily to look files up to date. It is believed that adoption of suggestion would save full time of one grade GS-3 employee.

Savings: $3175.00

Disadvantages and Risks: Employee requesting files will be required to advise if they desire file looked up to date. It should be noted that this is the present procedure in requesting investigative files.

Vote: For--Messrs. DeLoach and Mason. Against--Messrs. Nichols, Mohr, and Nease.

(8) SUGGESTION: Discontinue recording (preparing abstracts) on all Bureau forms.

Advantages: Although the savings cannot be accurately estimated, the adoption of this suggestion would result in a very substantial savings in personnel in the Records Section. Although it is realized that form-type correspondence makes up an important portion of our files, abstracts contain little if any identifying data not already placed on index cards. Many of the abstracts on form correspondence simply set out the number of form.

Savings: Cannot be estimated but would be substantial.

Disadvantages and Risks: There would be no numerical control by abstracts in the Numbering Unit of these forms. Many forms are not abstracted at the present time, and we are recording only those which are most important. It would appear that this type of correspondence more than any other could be not recorded with the least risk. Recording mail is our most expensive process since it requires the typing of abstracts, sequencing and filing of two abstracts in separate files, and serializing. In the event this suggestion merits further consideration, each Division should be requested to evaluate all Bureau forms used in that Division which are placed on record.

Vote: For--Messrs. DeLoach, Mason, Mohr, and Nease.
Against--Mr. Nichols.

FROM : INSPECTOR H. C. VAN PELT

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS

Property - Gen.

BACKGROUND: Bulet to Newark, 9/2/55, requested recommendations concerning following proposals by SAC, San Francisco:

(a) that the Bureau authorize the destruction of all closed SSA (1940) files over ten years old; or

(b) authorize destruction of closed SSA (1940) files over ten years old, except those in which prosecution resulted; or

(c) authorize destruction of all serials in closed SSA (1940) files, except closing reports.

SAC, San Francisco, with reference to (c), above, expressed opinion that closing reports in these cases contain all pertinent information for the Bureau's purpose in the field. He also called attention to the fact that Selective Service System has, or is in the process of destroying all 1940 Selective Service files.

You instructed that I submit my recommendations regarding above proposals and in the event I agree with one, a recommendation should be made concerning index cards on such cases.

ACTION: Analysis made of SSA (1940) files, Chicago Office. Chicago file 25-16938 contains correspondence, all of which is more than ten years old. This would indicate that destruction of cases over ten years old would result in the destruction of approximately 16,938 cases. Not all of these could be destroyed under the proposed ten year rule since some undoubtedly have been re-opened and would contain correspondence less than ten years old. The approximate 16,938 cases, from 25-1 through 25-16938, are presently filed in 58 file drawers, or more than 14 4-drawer cabinets. Destruction, therefore, would make this space available.

4. I feel that some record should be retained of the investigation conducted since in many instances these individuals are the subject of additional investigation and background data and descriptions concerning them is of value.

FINDINGS: It appears the primary purpose of proposals is to alleviate space problem. The primary objection is that information contained in the files that are destroyed would be lost to the field office. It is felt that information in SSA (1940) files over ten years old is of very little, if any, value to the field office in facilitating current investigations or answering inquiries from outside agencies. It appears there would be only infrequent occasions requiring the re-opening of these cases. It also seems there would be only infrequent occasions to refer to information in the old files, and in matters of considerable importance, such information could be obtained from the Bureau.

It might be undesirable to destroy all SSA (1940) cases over ten years old for the reason that the subjects of some cases might develop into security subjects, e.g., numerous cases over ten years old in the Chicago Office contain information regarding individual members of the Muslim Cult, some of whom were prosecuted as Conscientious Objectors, and some of whom are now of interest from a security standpoint. Therefore, information in the old files is of value for research and investigative purposes. This, of course, leads to the suggestion that the SAC be allowed to exercise discretion in maintaining certain files over ten years old.

In the event authority is granted to destroy these cases over ten years old, it will be necessary to review each case in that category and retain those which have been re-opened or contain correspondence less than ten years old, e.g., Chicago file 25-938 although opened under the 1940 Act, much longer than ten years ago, was not closed until January 27, 1954.

ADVANTAGES: (a) that all SSA (1940) files over ten years old be destroyed:

1. Alleviate space problem.

(b) that SSA (1940) files over ten years old, except prosecutive files be destroyed:

1. Alleviate space problem.

2. Retain information re subjects who have been prosecuted.

(c) Retain only closing report in SSA (1940) files:

1. Alleviate space problem.

2. Retain limited information regarding cases in which Chicago was origin. Generally, this would consist of name of subject, Local Board with which delinquent, nature of delinquency, and manner in which delinquency cleared.

3. Automatically result in destruction of files in which Chicago was auxiliary office.

DISADVANTAGES: (a) that all cases over ten years old be destroyed:

1. Loss to field office of information in destroyed files.

(b) that SSA (1940) files over ten years old be destroyed, except prosecutive cases:

1. Loss to field office of information in destroyed files.

2. Time necessary to review cases and compile list of cases destroyed.

(c) retain closing reports:

1. Loss to field office of information in destroyed files.

2. Closing reports in many instances did not contain descriptive data, therefore, making it impossible to determine if reference identical to name being searched.

3. Time necessary to review cases and compile list of cases destroyed.

4. Considerable time necessary in removing and re-filing closing reports.

CONSIDERATION OF PROCEDURE
RE INDEX CARDS: Considering advisability of preparing index cards for General Indices on subject of file destroyed, it might be desirable to prepare such a card on each subject, recording on the card brief descriptive data, identity of Local Board, and a notation that file destroyed. This, however, would require a considerable amount of work and it does not appear the results would be commensurate. To obviate this work, it would appear desirable to leave the index cards in the General Indices without making any notation either that the file has been destroyed or descriptive and other information. If the index card is destroyed and an inquiry is received concerning the subject of a destroyed file, the office would report no information when, in fact, it may have had a complete investigative file.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That the field be authorized to destroy all closed SSA (1940) cases over ten years old, except those files which, in the discretion of the SAC, should be retained.

2. That index cards on such destroyed files be retained as is.

3. That the files be destroyed on an annual basis and a list of those destroyed furnished Bureau.

Re Bureau letter to SAC, Newark dated 9-2-55.

This matter has been discussed. We do not agree with any of the three suggestions, but as an alternative suggest the following:

1. That each office be permitted to destroy in its entirety the Selective Service Act (1940) files over 10 years old where it was the auxiliary office.

2. That each office retain the opening and closing report in those cases where it was the office of origin.

3. That each office destroy the index cards on those files which are destroyed in its entirety.

The reasons for the above are:

1. More than likely the individual was from the area which was carried as the office of origin and the auxiliary office more than likely only had an incidental part of the investigation such as contacting relatives, former employers, or acquaintances.

2. By keeping the opening report a description of the individual would be available sparse as it would be in some instance it nevertheless would be better than none. By keeping only the closing report such information would more than likely not be available.

3. Ultimately it will be necessary to reduce our indices on some logical basis and it would appear appropriate to do so at the time the files are destroyed, as suggested above.

Reference is made to the Bureau's memorandum to the Newar Division dated 9/2/55.

In analyzing the destruction of Selective Service Act (SSA) 1940 files over ten years old, it is my opinion that suggestion "B" outlined in the referenced memorandum should be adopted. The reason for this destruction is that these investigations, in most instances, were administrative in nature.

The more aggravated type of case which brought about a criminal prosecution contains the type of information which might possibly be of value to the field office during a period exceeding ten years.

With regard to index cards, it is suggested that each index card be stamped with the words "File Destroyed" at the time the case files are removed from the cabinets for destruction. In most instances, the Selective Service subject has no aliases, so the project of stamping these cards would not be as great as it would be in the normal criminal-type violation.

Should the Bureau adopt the suggestion of destroying SSA of 1940 files over ten years old, with the exception of those in which prosecution was had, it is estimated this would make available approximately 32 file drawers in this office.

Rebulet to Newark 9/2/55.

Rebulet to Newark 9/2/55, requested recommendations on proposals by the SAC, San Francisco concerning the destruction of closed SSA (1940) files.

After due consideration and evaluation of each of these plans, it is my conclusion that Plan (a), that all closed SSA (1940) files over ten years old be destroyed, would best achieve the purpose of alleviating the space shortage with the least expenditure of employee time to accomplish this purpose.

Adoption of this plan by the Bureau would effect a savings to the Chicago Office of approximately 50 square feet of floor space and the use of approximately 17 four-drawer file cabinets for other purposes.

It is felt, however, that there should be certain exceptions to this plan, as it would appear undesirable to destroy those files in which the subjects may develop into security subjects. Numerous SSA (1940) cases over ten years old in the Chicago Office contain information concerning individual members of the Muslin Cult of Islam, an organization which is the subject of a security investigation. Certain other exceptions should also be made, as in those cases containing a dual character or where exclusion proceedings were authorized. It is therefore suggested that the SAC be permitted to exercise discretion in maintaining certain files over ten years old.

It is believed that while the other plans would also effect a savings of space, Plan (a) offers the greatest savings of space with the lowest cost in employee time of achieving this purpose. It is recognized that the destruction of these files will result in the loss of the information contained therein, but it is believed that in view of the nature of the information contained therein, and the further fact same will be available at the Bureau, if needed, that these files can be dispensed with. It is therefore suggested that the Bureau authorize the destruction of all closed SSA (1940) cases over ten years old, except those files which, in the discretion of the SAC, should be retained.

It is also suggested that closed SSA (1940) files be destroyed on an annual basis as they become ten years old and a list of the destroyed files be furnished the Bureau and also retained in the field office.

With reference to the index cards of these cases, it is felt that these cards should be maintained in the general indices of the Chicago Office, but that any effort to record on these cards, descriptive data concerning the subject or the case or a notation that the file was destroyed, would require more time than the results would warrant. It is therefore suggested that the index cards pertaining to the destroyed SSA (1940) files be maintained in the general indices as is.

Rebulet 9/2/55 concerning suggestions with respect to destruction of closed Selective Service Act files

This matter has been thoroughly considered and it is felt that none of the suggestions should be adopted. It has been pointed out that since the Selective Service system has or will shortly destroy all its files with respect to the 1940 Act, the information contained in Bureau files will be available only from that source. These files contain a wealth of background information concerning associates, employments, addresses, etc. It is considered to be of extreme value in connection with any current investigation. The type of information contained in these files is valuable, whether the current investigation is of the applicant type, criminal type or security type.

It is not felt that the destruction of all serials in closed files, with the exception of closing reports, would be acceptable. While it is acknowledged closing reports in the files regarding the investigations conducted during the later years in which the Selective Service Act was in effect do contain all pertinent information for the Bureau purposes, it is felt that many of the closed files concerning earlier cases have considerable pertinent information in reports other than the closing one.

In view of the foregoing considerations, it is not felt that any of these files should be destroyed.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS

ReBulet to Newark dated 9/2/55.

It is recommended that in lieu of 3 suggestions set forth in referenced communication that each office be authorized to destroy all serials in those files of Selective Service Act Cases (1940) except the report or other communication RUCing the investigation where file is 10 or more years old.

Files of office of origin should be handled under the present regulations.

All indices cards should remain as they are.

In the event information is desired by an auxiliary office concerning a subject, it will only be necessary to obtain full details from the office of origin and it will not be necessary for every office to write the Bureau for such information.

In connection with suggestion C, the closing report would not always carry a description of the subject or other background information and would, therefore, be of little value in determining whether identical with a name being checked.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS
SELECTIVE SERVICE

This memorandum is being prepared to consider suggestion that Selective Service Act files over ten years of age be destroyed and to express opposition of Investigative Division to such a suggestion.

REASONS FOR DESTRUCTION OF SELECTIVE SERVICE FILES

Under the 1940 Act over 300,000 cases have been closed by reports. Thus the volume of these reports is very large. To eliminate these files would save money for the storage of these records.

The bulk of this information in the files would be available at the Seat of Government and could be secured by the field from that source.

REASONS FOR KEEPING FILES

A few Selective Service Act cases over ten years of age are still pending prosecution. Obviously those files could not be destroyed. In hundreds of cases, Public Law 431, 78th Congress, has been applied expatriating subjects if they are citizens and barring their re-entry if they are aliens. This action is based on the Selective Service violation, and in these cases the Selective Service reports would have to be maintained. To separate these cases from all other Selective Service cases would necessitate voluminous file reviews and would be an expensive project.

Signed statements and other items of evidentiary value must be preserved. Additional time and expense would be necessary to make certain this was done if the Selective Service files were destroyed.

RECORDED - 7 — 66-5-32-686

OCT 12 1955

All files would have to be reviewed for substance prior to destruction. Many files in the field bearing a 25 classification actually contain information in connection with other violations which were developed during the investigation. This file review would be voluminous and expensive.

Memorandum to Mr. Rosen

There is no more reason to destroy Selective Service files after ten years than any other files of the Bureau. Destruction of these files would set a dangerous precedent. The background information in such files is frequently used in criminal cases, applicant-type cases, security matters, and in name checks for ourselves and other Government agencies. Our files are a vast reservoir of information and thousands of dollars have gone into the securing of this information. These files contain information concerning thousands of men, many of whom will later be subjects of other types of investigations or inquiries.

It is not believed the index cards should be destroyed even if it is decided to destroy the Selective Service files after ten years. To do so would involve a great deal of work and an expensive project. By maintaining these cards it would be apparent in making a name check in the field that a previous case had existed. Thus, if necessary, the field could check with the Bureau for information about the case. Of course, this would be slow and expensive, but it might be cheaper and more satisfactory than not getting the information at all. By getting this background information the field might save much investigative time. Some of this information could be secured by investigative activity but some of it could never be secured except from our files since the Selective Service System has destroyed their records except in cases pending prosecution.

It was also suggested that if all the Selective Service Act files over ten years are not destroyed that only those be kept in which prosecution was had. This would not overcome the objections stated above against the destruction of the files.

It was further suggested that only closing report in Selective Service cases be maintained. This would be of little value. Each closing report would show original cause for Selective Service delinquency and how delinquency was cleared but in most cases would not contain description of subject so that subject could be fully identified. It also would not have the background information regarding subject and full information developed during the investigation.

In view of the economy program the field should keep their clerical employees to a minimum. The proposed destruction of Selective Service files would necessitate additional work in the Chief Clerk's Office at a time when we should be reluctant to start new programs causing additional expense.

Memorandum to Mr. Rosen

It is noted that information involving failure of registrants to have Selective Service cards in their possession is placed in field office 25-0 files. Under no circumstances could 25-0 files be destroyed inasmuch as information in these files is not available elsewhere.

RECOMMENDATION

The suggestion that Selective Service files over ten years of age be destroyed should not be adopted.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS

Property - Gen.

BACKGROUND:

SAC, San Francisco suggested (a) that Bureau authorize destruction of all closed Selective Service Act (SSA) (1940) files over ten years old; or (b) authorize destruction of all closed SSA (1940) files over ten years old with exception of those in which prosecution was had; or (c) authorize destruction of all serials in closed SSA (1940) files with exception of closing reports.

CONCLUSION:

INSPECTOR BUYS agrees with proposal (c) above, inasmuch as Bureau regulations covering necessary contents of such closing reports apparently insure sufficient pertinent information would be contained in such reports to satisfy any purpose which would arise in the field. It would appear that index cards on these cases should remain, inasmuch as any proposal benefits from removal would not appear to justify expense involved.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That Bureau authorize destruction of all serials in closed Selective Service Act (1940) files with exception of closing reports.

2. That index cards on these cases remain in field office index files.

SYNOPSIS-

Destruction of Bureau Property - Gen.

San Francisco Office, in an effort to save field filing space, proposed with regard to Selective Service files which have been closed 10 or more years that one of the alternatives below be employed: (1) Destroy; (2) Destroy all except those in which prosecution was had, or (3) Destroy all serials except closing reports.

SACs of the following offices recommended favorably: New Orleans and Albany. The following SACs recommended unfavorably: Newark, St. Louis, Omaha, Chicago.

A test in Washington Field Office showed that, out of 100 Selective Service files closed between 1941 and 1944 the same or similar names of 53 of the 100 individuals appeared in 53 Security and other types of cases distinct from Selective Service; a one-day check of work in the File Review Unit of Washington Field Office showed 75 Civil Service Commission forms on which 19 Selective Service references were checked, 20 reviews were G-2, involving 15 Selective Service references; 23 Applicant matters involving 4 Selective Service references.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE RECOMMENDATION:

Present at the Executives Conference on 9/26/55, were Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Hennrich, Winterrowd, McGuire, Holloman and Mason.

Conference unanimously opposed destruction of Selective Service files more than 10 years old in any of the three categories proposed by the San Francisco Office.

Records Section proposes that extra copies of reports in file be destroyed, that no extra copies of reports be filed in future, and that in future consideration be given to reproducing copies of reports to be disseminated from original in file by Bruning Copyflex method currently utilized in Identification Division, or similar method.

For Bureau needs original only of report is necessary, but because of Bureau's responsibilities, large volume of copies of reports must be disseminated. Dissemination can be handled in two ways--by retaining extra copies in file or by maintaining original of report only and photostating or otherwise reproducing copies of this original as needed.

RETAINING EXTRA COPIES:

Bureau has followed procedure of filing extra copies for future needs. As result, it is estimated that nearly 1/3 of cabinets in Filing Unit contain copies only. Cabinets valued at $75,000.00 and occupy 6,750 sq. ft. of floor space.

On May 17, 1955, I advised suggestion by Records Section employee, that extra copies of reports, letters, etc., in file be destroyed as file reviewed for obsolete indexing, had been successfully tried for 30 days. Approximately 39% savings in space was realized during trial period in 65 (Espionage) classification. Files in 3 cabinets after copies removed were filed in 2 cabinets. All copies of reports, etc., were 5 or more years old as purge of obsolete cards limited to period prior to 1950 inasmuch as indexing has been on highly selective basis since that time. Records Section has been removing extra copies of communications as files are reviewed for obsolete indexing.

Field by Bureau Bulletin #55-3 recently instructed to cut back on number of copies furnished Bureau in practically all investigative matters as Records Section had discontinued practice of immediately filing "file copy" of reports. Memorandum to Mr. Nichols
Re: Copies of Reports

9-16-55

It is estimated that currently 60 cabinets yearly are required for extra copies of reports being filed after above cutback. This means that 10 years from today 600 cabinets will contain copies and 20 years from now 1,200 cabinets will contain copies only. In addition, 5,500 sq. ft. of space for cabinets will be needed at end of 20 years.

Extra copies in file create great many disadvantages. Experience has shown extra copies have been a burden. At one period we were required to file one copy of an identical form letter sent to each office. In other words, if 40 offices received identical letter, we filed 40 identical copies. Following are major advantages of not filing extra copies.

1. Smaller, compact files.
2. Less filing equipment required.
3. Floor space saved.
4. Cost of file fronts, backs, and Acco fasteners reduced.
5. Files are lighter. At present upwards of 1/3 of every file pulled and delivered between buildings consists of extra superfluous copies.
6. Files can be reviewed more quickly. At present supervisors and file reviewers must wade through extra copies in file which take up almost 1/3 of file. (Numerous suggestions have been made in past that copies be filed apart in order to facilitate reviewing of file.)
7. Files are closer together. File reviewers and Filing Unit employees would not have to walk as far during day to do their work.
8. Mail easier to file.
9. Less file repairing required. Majority of file repairs are to thick, bulky files which are bulky because they contain extra copies.

10. Delivering files, reviewing files, returning files to cabinets, looking files up-to-date, etc., will be expedited because files are lighter and greater number can be physically carried by female employees.

11. More files can be transported between buildings in one container.

12. In criminal cases, preparation for microfilming will be faster.

13. Fewer file numbers on file fronts will be typed.

14. Fewer drawer labels will be typed and inserted.

Of course, at present time extra copies system still requires photostating to secure copies of reports, as many reports are disseminated after extra copies used up (applicant type cases). Approximately 50% of all reports disseminated are applicant type cases.

MAINTAINING OF ORIGINAL REPORT ONLY:

From efficient records management standpoint, original only of reports should be retained. All disadvantages of extra copies would be eliminated. Copies for dissemination would have to be made by photostat or other means. Of course, being selective as to type of reports to be disseminated would cut reproduction costs.

Recent survey of number of pages of copies disseminated by Name Check Section of Investigative Division reflected 6,148 pages of reports disseminated daily. If volume disseminated remained constant, cost to photostat pages if there were no copies in file would be $38,000.00 a year. (Mechanical Section estimates photostat cost at 12¢ per page.) Even though this cost high, it is believed savings in filing equipment, space, and facility in handling and maintaining files would be much higher. Actually, however, photostating is not best means of reproducing reports. It is too slow and too expensive.

Memorandum to Mr. Nichols 9-16-55
Re: Copies of Reports

CHEAPER, FASTER METHOD OF REPRODUCTION:

Identification Division now uses Bruning Copyflex method for reproducing copies of "rap" sheets (Identification records). This process can be easily used for reproducing our reports (it can possibly be used at a later date for all other type communications). Even now reports can be reproduced if typewriting is good and black on report. Attached is copy of report made from report recently received. Majority of reports in file can be satisfactorily reproduced on Copyflex today.

However, for best quality copies it would be necessary to prepare original pages of reports on better grade translucent paper (which might be used). Government Printing Office stocks such paper at 61¢ per thousand more than present cost for report paper. It is estimated 2,000,000 original report pages are received yearly. At 61¢ per thousand, paper cost would increase only $1,220.00 yearly. Including 10 year amortization of Copyflex machine, copy paper and chemicals, cost to reproduce volume of pages currently being disseminated annually by Name Check Section of Investigative Division would be $1,869.00 yearly. By adding annual cost of higher grade paper for original pages of reports cost would be approximately $3,319.00 per year. This is against $36,000.00 per year to photostat same number of copies.

CONCLUSIONS:

Filing of extra copies of reports undesirable practice. Requires too many extra cabinets and too much floor space. We no longer file extra copies of letters, air-tels, teletypes, memoranda, etc. In addition, we are delivering and handling a file which contains upwards of 1/3 extraneous copy material. Destruction of extra copies of reports in file and discontinuance of filing extra copies will make available approximately $75,000.00 worth of filing equipment and give Filing Unit expansion for several years. Lack of extra copies will mean all reports disseminated in future must be reproduced. Cost of photostat reproduction, while at first glance high, is still cheaper than purchasing extra filing equipment, space, materials, and services for extra copies. However, with use of Bruning Copyflex process or similar system, reproduction costs can be cut to mere fraction of photostating costs. Application of Bruning Copyflex process to reproduction of Bureau reports for dissemination warrants conclusive study.

Memorandum to Mr. Nichols
Re: Copies of Reports

9-16-55

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That present procedure of filing extra copies of reports, if received in Records Section, be immediately discontinued.

2. That a survey be made of number of copies presently being prepared by Field and that any copies which are prepared as an extra Bureau file copy be eliminated.

3. That all copies of all communications presently in Bureau files be destroyed.

4. That Records Section contact Charles Bruning Company, Incorporated, and discuss with representatives of this company the possibility of utilizing Bruning Copyflex method of reproduction for Bureau reports.

PRESENT RULE: Destruction of Bureau Property - Gen.

SAC Letter #40, Series 1952, 4/26/52, instructs that field may destroy after review by a Supervisor in the field office the Number Three Cards of resident Agents. Daily Reports are submitted by the Agents whose Number Three Cards are destroyed. All other Number Three Cards (which actually are attendance records) as well as Daily Reports are retained for period of three years.

PREVIOUS EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION:

On 4/8/52, a majority of the Executives Conference agreed with four SACs and Inspector Stein that Number Three Cards should continue to be used by resident Agents but should be destroyed in the field office after perusal by a supervisory official, since their Daily Reports would serve as a complete record the same as do Number Three Cards of headquarters city Agents.

RECOMMENDATION:

Inspector E. D. Mason recommends that Number Three Cards of resident Agents be destroyed by the Senior Resident Agent after they have been checked by him and that they not be forwarded to the field office for perusal and destruction. This would save some mailing costs, although such would be quite small, and also would save some time in the field office. The Daily Reports are forwarded to the field office on a daily basis and would provide the field office with full information for supervisory purposes.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION: BCB:DMG 10/6/55

Present at the Executives Conference on 10/6/55, were Messrs. Tolson, Belmont, Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Holloman, McGuire, Nease, Hennrich and B. C. Brown (for Training and Inspection Division) The Conference was unanimously in favor of the above recommendation.

If you approve, an appropriate revision for the Manual of Rules and Regulations is attached hereto.

Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) letter, October 21, 1955, requested return of the unclassified description of fusion (hydrogen) weapons which had been furnished to the IIC and ICIS on January 6, 1955. This unclassified description was disseminated to all SACs by attachment to No Number SAC Letter 55-B and was disseminated by Navy to its major commands together with authorization for further internal distribution.

Since return of SAC Letter attachments and of Naval communications was believed undesirable, IIC letter, October 31, 1955, asked AEC if destruction would be equally satisfactory.

AEC letter, November 23, 1955, attached, states "we shall be entirely satisfied with your statement that you have ordered the destruction of the material in question."

ACTION:

FOR INSTRUCTIONS AS TO DISSEMINATION SEE FILE 117-268-(8-1-55)

1. Attached for approval is a No Number SAC Letter instructing that the unclassified description furnished as an attachment to No Number SAC Letter 55-B be destroyed.

2. Also attached for approval is a letter for the Director's signature as IIC chairman informing AEC that the IIC members ordered the destruction of the material in question. Copies of AEC letter, November 23, 1955, are being furnished to the IIC members, who have advised that they have ordered destruction of the unclassified description within their own Departments.

Re: Destruction of Copies of "This Is Your FBI" Radio Scripts
Bufile 94-33002

SUGGESTION: Miss [redacted] suggests that 94-33002 sub 2 and 94-33002 sub 3, which contain copies of radio scripts of the radio program "This Is Your FBI" be destroyed inasmuch as the radio series has been discontinued and a complete set of the scripts is stored on the seventh floor of the Identification Building. Suggestion does not come within the purview of employee's duties. b6 b7C

BACKGROUND: File 94-33002 is the main file concerning the radio program "This Is Your FBI" and contains all background, policy, etc., concerning the program since its inception in 1945. As you are aware the program was discontinued in December, 1952. File 94-33002 sub 2 contains the preliminary and revised radio scripts for this program and correspondence to Jerry Devine, Producer, concerning script revisions, and approval. File 94-33002 sub 3 contains the scripts as they were actually broadcast. In addition, a complete set of "As broadcast" scripts are stored on the seventh floor of the Identification Building, per memorandum from Jones to you dated 9/3/54 (94-33002-1585).

ADVANTAGES: Some savings in space would be realized.

DISADVANTAGES: None from the Records Section's standpoint.

SAVINGS: Some small savings in space. Not possible to convert to monetary savings.

OBSERVATIONS: Radio series discontinued in 1952. Two complete sets of "as broadcast" radio scripts presently being maintained, one in file and one stored on the seventh floor of Identification Building. It is felt that if it is decided not to destroy such files as suggested

SUGGESTION:

Mrs. [redacted] suggests: (1) Destroy cross reference index cards which are five years of age or more which are made up solely on addresses. (2) Destroy address cards which are main subject matter cards but which were made up initially on an address prior to the identification of the subject but where the subject has now been identified. If necessary, first review the file.

ADVANTAGES:

Would save cabinet space occupied by approximately 30,000 index cards or essentially one index file cabinet. Possible savings, $337.32 which is the cost of one Shaw-Walker steel 54-drawer index cabinet.

COMMENTS:

Mr. Winterrowd, Investigative Division, has no objection to adoption of these suggestions but notes this is matter not closely related to work of his Division.

Messrs. Boardman and Belmont recommend:
1. Address index cards based on World War II censorship material should be destroyed where the individual's name is also indexed.

2. Address cards relating to Communist Party mailing lists or mail drops should not be destroyed.

3. Main index cards on addresses should not be destroyed in 105 classification cases (security matter - N cases) where the subject is later identified. Bureau coverage may later bring up another case involving same address and a quick check of the address in the indices may eliminate needless investigation.

Destruction of Bureau Property

There is attached hereto a suggestion submitted by the above captioned employee wherein she suggests that all incorrect pages in the Detcom file (100-356062) be destroyed. Mrs. [redacted] points out that the adoption of her suggestion would save considerable space in the Confidential Room where this file is maintained and would save time on the part of Consolidation Unit employees when making substitutions.

As you know, the Detcom file contains Departmental authority and the Bureau's plans concerning the detention of Communists during a period of emergency. These plans are reviewed periodically and the pages containing obsolete instructions or plans are filed at the back of the serial to which they relate.

The adoption of this suggestion would save a relatively small amount of space and employee time, neither of which can be accurately estimated, and would make the Detcom files less bulky. It is pointed out that obsolete pages in the Bureau War Plans file, which is comparable to the Detcom file, are destroyed when substitutions or revisions are made.

The Records Section feels it would be advantageous to adopt this suggestion since we would derive some benefits; however, the views of the Domestic Intelligence Division should be solicited before any decision is made as to adoption of this suggestion.

This suggestion does not come within the purview of Mrs. [redacted] duties. In view of the relatively minor savings which will accrue if this suggestion is adopted, it is felt that a letter of acknowledgment to the employee will suffice in this case.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for acknowledgment.

4. Opposed in principle to the setting up of a time element (5 years) for destruction of cross reference index cards on addresses. Time does not necessarily lessen value of security and intelligence data; we should consider destruction of categories on basis of merit, not strictly on time element.

Mr. W. G. Eames, Records Section, believes a provision for destruction of these address cards is desirable to remove outdated material and keep address portion of index concise and workable. He suggests that we destroy address cards 5 or more years old with the exception of those cards which indicate they represent Communist Party mailing lists or mail drops. In latter category, longer period of retention could be established (7 or 10 years) or a review of that portion of the index could be made to destroy all but latest reference to each particular Communist Party address. If this is not desirable, then individual lists relating to Communist Party addresses could be considered for discussion on individual basis; this would call for file review which is a costly procedure.

CONCLUSIONS: There appears to be agreement that address index cards based on World War II censorship material, where individual's name is also indexed, should be destroyed. Messrs. Boardman and Belmont believe address cards relating to Communist Party mailing lists or mail drops should not be destroyed. Observations of Messrs. Boardman and Belmont raise doubt as to advisability of destroying main index cards on addresses in 105 classification cases even though the subject is later identified. Investigative Division has no objection to suggestions.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That the Records Section be authorized to destroy address index cards based on World War II censorship material where the individual's name is also indexed.

2. That Records Section be authorized to destroy address cards in criminal cases only which are 5 or more years old and also address cards which are main subject matter cards, but which were made up initially on an address prior to identification of the subject but where subject has now been identified. (Investigative Division has no objection to doing this).

"Destruction of Obsolete Security-General"

Memo 10/10/55 Eames to Nichols propounded two suggestions relative to destruction of certain index cards on addresses. My memo 10/12/55 opposed one suggestion but recommended obtaining additional data regarding second suggestion. Additional data supplied in memo 10/24/55 Eames to Nichols. Training and Inspection Division desires your comments by 10/28/55.

Suggestion in point is that cross reference index cards made up solely on addresses be destroyed after 5 years. Records Section feels destruction is desirable after 5 years to remove outdated material and keep index concise. Examples of types of cards involved are: (1) cards derived from World War II censorship where address card made up as well as name card -- this type of indexing no longer done; (2) mail drop addresses; (3) address card made on White Slave Traffic Act survey; (4) address card on Communist Party mailing addresses. Records Section points out some indexing no doubt has continuing intelligence value and recommends no destruction of Communist Party address list or mail drop cards. Records Section observes we should not retain unnecessary index cards just on remote possibility of referring to them at some future date and cites Mr. Tolson's desire that we should keep after reduction of indices.

Records Section advises present de-indexing procedures permit destruction of cards which would not be prepared under current indexing rules which should require review of files in each case. One of purposes of suggestion is to arrive at means whereby we could destroy these cards on a time basis (5 years) and avoid costly file reviews.

MEMORANDUM FOR A. H. BELMONT

In 10/24/55 memo Records Section again brings up suggestion which we originally opposed that main cards on addresses be destroyed where subject later identified. They cite 105 case as example. We opposed this. As result of investigations under Intensification Program we open number of cases initially involving unknown subjects with address as only identifying data. We may later identify subject. This is not the point. Our coverage may later bring up another case involving same address and quick check of address may eliminate needless investigation.

Investigative Division by routing slip interposes no objection to either of the suggestions.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Recommend this Division agree with destruction of address index cards based on World War II censorship material where individuals name is also indexed. Bureau does not follow this indexing procedure now anyway. Address cards of this type are believed to have outlived their usefulness.

2. Recommend address cards relating to Communist Party mailing lists or mail drops not be destroyed. Records Section apparently shares this view.

3. Recommend this Division continue to oppose suggestion that main cards on addresses be destroyed when subject later identified in 105 cases for reasons cited.

MEMORANDUM FOR A. H. BELMONT

4. Recommend this Division oppose in principle the setting up of a time element (5 years) for destruction of cross reference index cards on addresses. It does not seem that this is a solution to the problem of when to destroy. If there was a reason to index, then conversely there should be a reason to destroy. Records Section already has procedure to destroy index cards which would not be prepared under present indexing rules. Our changed indexing rules are evidently based on reappraisal of value. Time does not necessarily lessen value of security and intelligence data and it is believed we should consider destruction of categories on basis of merit primarily and not strictly on a time element.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION BY [redacted] GENERAL INDEX UNIT
RECORDS SECTION

4/ Destruction of Duplicate Address Index Cards

By memorandum to you, 10/10/55, suggestion of Mrs. [redacted] set forth to destroy certain index cards made on addresses. By memorandum to Mr. Belmont, 10/12/55, Mr. Branigan has stated an opinion cannot be expressed without further details on that portion of the suggestion to destroy cross reference index cards five years or more old made up solely on addresses. His memorandum has been referred by the Training and Inspection Division for further comment.

Samples of some of the index cards referred to are attached for information. Example (1) is of the type which were prepared automatically on addresses even though the individuals' names also were indexed. Preparation of such cards on World War II censorship matters was discontinued 6/19/43 (62-62736-1688) except where the address related to a mail drop. Example (2) shows a card prepared after that date on a mail drop contained in a list. Example (3) is of the type made from an address in a White Slave Traffic Act Survey made in 1944. Example (4) refers to a Communist Party mailing address, which in this case is Post Office Box 1132, Old Post Office Building, Chicago, Illinois, a post office box rented by District 8 Communist Party. In this instance, as in many others, there are a number of index cards relating to the same address.

As pointed out in my memorandum, 10/10/55, some of the indexing to Communist Party address and mailing lists no doubt has a continuing intelligence value. Present de-indexing procedures permit destruction of cards which would not be prepared under current indexing rules. However, this should require a review of the file in each case. One of the purposes of the suggestion is to arrive at a means whereby we could destroy these cards on a time basis (five years suggested) to avoid the more costly file review. In addition, we cannot de-index address cards made on such items as the mail drop cards from censorship matters without authority, since these cards would continue to be made under today's procedures.

Memo W.G. Eames to Mr. Nichols 10/24/55
RE: SUGGESTION BY [redacted] GI UNIT, RECORDS SECTION

The Records Section suggests the following as a possible answer: Destroy address cards five or more years old with the exception of those cards which indicate they represent Communist Party mailing list or mail drops. In the latter category a longer period of retention could be established such as seven or ten years, or a review of that portion of the Index could be made to destroy all but the latest reference to each particular Communist Party address. If this is not believed desirable, then individual lists relating to Communist Party addresses could be considered for destruction on an individual basis. This would call for file review, which is a more costly procedure.

As to the second portion of the suggestion, to destroy main subject matter cards made up initially on addresses where subject later identified, there is attached as Example (5) a card, showing a 105 case opened on "Unknown Subject Box X, Talmage, California." Washington Field identified the subject as [redacted], and San Francisco determined that Box X, Talmage, California, is the Mendocino State Hospital, a mental institution. We, therefore, have the two cards in file relating to the case. In this case, as in virtually all such cases, the address card was made solely as a means of identifying the case until the subject was identified, at which time the title of the case was changed to the known subject. It should be noted that if the individual's name was known in the first instance, the address would not have been indexed.

A review of telephone requests received by the Service Unit for address checks for the period 9/1/55 through 10/14/55 reflects three checks for addresses. In each case the check was for a main file on a specific unknown subject case, and in each case the 105 main file was identified and furnished the requestor. In two other cases, address cards were checked since the subject matter given contained addresses. However, no specific request was made for an address check and no record was found in that portion of the index.

We shouldn't retain unnecessary index cards merely because by some remote stretch of the imagination there is a possibility of referring to them at some future date. In order to maintain our records as an economical and workable mechanism, we must constantly thin out the deadwood. As reported in Mr. Waikart's memorandum, 9/28/55, through purging the index of obsolete reference, we were able, during the months of July and August, to destroy over 22 per cent more cards than were filed during the same period. Mr. Tolson noted, "We should keep after this."

RECOMMENDATION:

That this be forwarded to Training and Inspection Division for appropriate action.

(B) CENTRAL RESEARCH MONOGRAPHS -- SAC Letter No. 55-46 (E), dated July 12, 1955, advised the number of copies forwarded to each field office would be increased so that sufficient copies would be available for immediate circularization and study by field office Agents.

To conserve space in the field offices after the monographs have served their purpose, a minimum of two copies should be retained; the excess may be destroyed.

You will be responsible for maintaining a record of the serial numbers of all monographs destroyed by your office. It will be unnecessary to report these serial numbers to the Bureau but the records should be available in the event the Bureau desires to check the disposition of specific copies.

SUBJECT: COPIES OF REPORTS ~~O~~ Destruction of Bureau Property

By memorandum dated 9-16-55 the Records Section pointed out that nearly 1/3 of all the file cabinets in the Records Section contained copy material. In order to recoup some of this space and make our files more efficient, it was proposed that we no longer file extra copies of reports and that we purge existing files of all copies of original material contained therein. For a number of years we have been destroying extra copies of letter mail before the originals go to file. However, no action has ever been taken in connection with destroying extra copies of reports. The principal objection has been the use of copies of reports for dissemination to other agencies. It was anticipated that this dissemination problem could be solved by a cheap and quick means of reproducing copies such as the Bruning Copyflex method.

The opinions of other Divisions were solicited concerning the merits of this recommendation. Both the Domestic Intelligence Division and Investigative Division are opposed to the destruction of all extra copies of reports at this time. In connection with the problem of dissemination, the principal objections appear to be the difficulties of reproducing from the original in view of notations, corrections, Records Section symbols, etc., most of which should not be reflected on disseminated copies. As a result, in order to handle dissemination, a good deal of typing of extra copies would be necessary. In order to overcome this, the Investigative Division suggests that all extra copies except the original and one clear, unmarked, correct copy be retained. This unmarked copy would also afford a method of checking since it would normally be an exact replica of any copies that were disseminated to other agencies.

CONCLUSIONS:

The Records Section still feels that serious consideration must be given to the disposal of the tremendous volume of paper in the nature of copies that have accumulated in our files over the years. As pointed out, it is estimated that they occupy almost 1/3 of the total volume of our files. It is not believed that 1/3 of our records should consist of a "stock room" of extra copies for possible dissemination to other agencies. The great majority of these copies will never be disseminated, and as a matter of fact, it will take years to purge them from our files.

While the objection to disposing of extra copies of reports has merit, it is my firm opinion that some method must be devised to overcome this problem of unnecessarily accumulating extra copies of correspondence. It is estimated that we are still accumulating copies of reports at the rate of 60 file cabinets each year. This has always been one of the great criticisms of Government, their penchant for making so many copies of everything that is prepared. I think that the Records Section should be authorized when personnel is available to go ahead on a selective basis reviewing our oldest files to destroy extra copies of all types of mail. It has been pretty well established that most of the copies currently used for dissemination are taken from files that have developed in the last 5 years. Accordingly, if we were authorized to proceed with this program we would start many years before this 5-year period with little effect on our current dissemination program, while at the same time gaining valuable space in our records.

Meanwhile, research will be continued to determine efficient methods of reproduction and to so mark original reports that reproductions of them will not be handicapped because of notations and other markings thereon. Concerning reproduction of copies from original reports in file, it is anticipated that the Records Section would take over this responsibility from the Mechanical Section in order to confine the operations of removal and reproduction in the shortest period of time possible.

RECOMMENDATION:

That these observations be furnished to the Training and Inspection Division for their consideration in resolving this problem.

Memo Waikart to Nichols 10/18/55

10/25/55
ADDENDUM:

You raised two questions as follows:

(1) What would be the difference in space savings if the original and one copy of investigative reports were kept?

Same as above but only if original and one copy kept five years.

Concerning question #1, it is estimated that if we destroy surplus copies of all kinds in our case files, we would save the equivalent of 1,500 five-drawer file cabinets. If, in addition to the original of investigative reports, we would keep one copy, it is estimated this savings would be reduced by almost two-thirds. In other words, we would only net 535 file cabinets. This is a rough estimate based on a quick survey of copies in five different classifications.

(2) Question #2 appears to be based on the theory that we would go through our files and destroy everything except the original and one copy of investigative reports. After a five-year period has elapsed, we would go through them again and destroy the extra copy. I think the cost is prohibitive to go through our files twice. However, if we would not touch files for the purpose of purging extra copies unless they are at least five years old and once the five-year period has elapsed all copies could be destroyed in a single purge, then it would be worthwhile. It has been determined that approximately two-thirds of copy dissemination to other agencies occurs during the first five years.

The difficulty in setting a time limit on the age of reports or mail in the file is complicated by the fact that any given file may cover a span of many years, requiring that each report be evaluated as to its particular age.

As indicated, I think the Records Section should be authorized to begin purging all copies in our oldest files. Bear in mind that it would probably take several years before we even begin to approach the current files (five years old) in any given classification.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION BY [redacted]
GENERAL INDEX UNIT, RECORDS SECTION

Your comments requested on suggestion incorporated in memorandum from W. G. Eames to Mr. Nichols dated 10/10/55. Views of Investigative Division likewise requested. Suggestion is divided into two parts. (1) Suggestion is made we destroy cross reference index cards 5 years or more old made up solely on addresses. Savings in storage space cited as advantage. Records Section points out some address cards made under old procedures of automatic indexing, some made up on basis of censorship material during World War II, considerable number prepared from criminal surveys, and others from Communist mailing lists. Records Section points out some may have intelligence value. Person making suggestion found that in most cases names and addresses both indexed which we do not do today.

COMMENT: History and mechanics of indexing procedures for addresses not clear and not believed opinion can be expressed at this time on this part of suggestion. Apparently we followed certain practices in address indexing in past which are not followed now, although these changes not set forth nor reasons indicated why changes effected. More data needed as to what cross reference index cards are on addresses. Records Section estimates suggestion would save 1 file cabinet. Believed desirable to have more data as to whether cost involved in reviewing all such cards to select those which could be suitably destroyed would represent worthwhile savings in long run.

(2) Suggestion is made that we destroy main subject matter cards made up initially on addresses where subject later identified. Cites fact this occurs mostly in 65 and 105 cases.

COMMENT: Believe this Division should oppose this. We continually open such cases based on data received where address only is known. Where address card exists quick check may reveal we have previously checked out address and made identification. This enables us to eliminate needless investigative effort.

If no specific leads received and case not converted, the employee security form, all copies of the PI letter, except one, and the index card are to be destroyed within one year from date of Bureau letter initiating PI.

Effective immediately, you are instructed to destroy all copies of the PI letter, enclosures, and index card if no specific leads received within one year from the date of such letter. Other offices, especially those offices receiving a large volume of SGE - PI letters, should determine the practicability of utilizing a 140-0 subfile and adopt same where a saving of space can be effected. SUBJECT: SUGGESTION BY [redacted] GENERAL INDEX UNIT, RECORDS SECTION

Optional Action Memorandum

There is submitted herewith a suggestion by Mrs. [redacted] File Supervisor, GS-7, General Index Unit, Records Section.

SUGGESTION: 1. To destroy cross reference index cards five years or more old made up solely on addresses.

2. On main subject matter cards she suggests destroying those address cards which were made up initially on an address prior to the identification of the subject. If the subject has been identified she suggests destroying the card, after review of the file if necessary.

ADVANTAGES: Would save index cabinet space occupied by approximately 25,000 to 30,000 index cards or essentially one index file cabinet.

DISADVANTAGES: None noted by the suggestor.

POTENTIAL SAVINGS: $337.32, the cost of one Shaw-Walker steel 54-drawer index cabinet.

VIEWS OF RECORDS SECTION: Since searches of the address cards primarily are requested by supervisors of the Domestic Intelligence Division, their views should be obtained. From our standpoint a provision for destruction of such cards after five years is desirable to remove outdated material and to keep the address portion of the index concise and workable. As pointed out in the suggestion some of the old address cards were made at a time when addresses under certain circumstances automatically were indexed along with the names. Many of the cards were made up from censorship matter received during World War II. Also a considerable number were prepared from White Slave Traffic Act surveys and general Crime Surveys. There are, of course, many cards made up which contain the subject "Communist Party U. S. A. Confidential Mailing List". Many of these, no doubt, have a continuous intelligence value.

As to the main subject matter cards, many of these were made up from the first piece of mail in an unknown subject 65 or 105 classification case. Most of these, no doubt, could well be destroyed once the subject has been identified.

SUBJECT: COPIES OF REPORTS
Destruction of Bureau Property

Memorandum from W.G. Eames to Mr. Nichols, 9/16/55, made suggestions on which comments of Investigative Division are desired by Training and Inspection Division. Suggestions concern saving of space by not filing extra copies of reports and other communications. As a result of consideration by Accounting and Fraud, Criminal, Name Check, Security of Government Employees and Special Inquiry Sections, following comments are offered in summarization of the views of the Investigative Division:

Suggestion #1 - That present procedure of filing extra copies of reports, if received in Records Section, be immediately discontinued.

Investigative Division Comment - Favorable only if suggestion modified to indicate retention in file of original and one clear, unmarked, correct copy where available. Any additional copies of reports may be destroyed. Retention of one copy in addition to original is only means of providing exact replica of what has been disseminated. This is particularly important in applicant and security of Government employees cases, which constitute over 50 per cent of our dissemination. The original report contains handwritten notations as to changes and corrections, but a copy of the report provides the only proof that the changes were properly made.

The bulk of the applicants we handle these days occupy important positions since the Civil Service Commission handles routine applicant checks. Individuals we investigate frequently reappear as applicants for other Government posts and we Photostat old reports for transmittal with new reports of investigation bringing matter up to date. When we need copies for Attorney General or White House, we must have excellent copies from which to make positive Photostats. Original reports are marked up considerably by time stamps, routing stamps and marks, names and initials of supervisory personnel, classification, searching, indexing, checking, recording and filing marks, handwritten, dated and initialed changes and corrections, et cetera, all of which make original undesirable for reproduction purposes.

At such time as this can be accomplished it is suggested recommendations again be presented accompanied by detailed study of costs and problems involved and savings to be gained.

2. Recommend this Division favor recommendation 4 which calls for study of Bruning Copyflex method of reproduction of Bureau reports, which method might be more economical.

3. Recommend this Division not favor another survey for reduction of number of copies of reports required as this was recently done and Supervisors have been authorized to reduce required copies where possible.

4. Recommend this memo be routed to Investigative Division since comments of that Division have likewise been requested.

recording and indexing steps, etc. Majority of these notations can be blocked out in mechanically reproducing but it takes time and it detracts from appearance. Deserving of even more consideration is fact that present rules required any corrections not accomplished by amended pages be made in ink on the original with notations as to initials of Supervisor and date of corrections. These corrections are now made on all other copies by typing where inked corrections would damage legibility or presentability to any extent. Mechanical reproduction of such report, and subsequent dissemination, might reflect unfavorably on quality of Bureau reports and rather than do this undoubtedly from time to time we will actually have to prepare typed copies for subsequent dissemination. This will obviously require additional typing personnel and be an expensive proposition. While all copies of security reports are not always disseminated at time of receipt, the extensive demands on Bureau as a clearing house for security data and the vast volume of name checks handled annually creates a considerable demand for copies of our reports. If we reduce our files to the original only we must anticipate longer periods of time in answering requests, and handling matters where copies of communications are needed because experience has shown mechanical reproduction takes time.

The recommendation that a survey be made of copies presently being prepared by field and that any copies which are prepared as extra Bureau file copies be eliminated is not believed necessary from standpoint of this Division. Required copies were recently reduced where possible to meet needs of immediate and foreseeable future dissemination and extra Bureau file copy not considered in estimated needs. Each Supervisor is authorized to reduce the number of copies required of field according to needs of individual case.

The recommendation that "all copies of all communications presently in Bureau files be destroyed" is a rather broad one and it is believed some safeguard should be set up to transpose to the original any action notations or comments of Bureau officials appearing on copies and not appearing on originals in order to preserve the necessary record. We should likewise recognize, too, that we utilize "copy routing" in the Bureau whereby supervisors or officials may receive informative copies of incoming material. Destruction of all copies therefore may not preserve a complete record of all persons who reviewed the material.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. Recommend this Division go on record as not in favor at this time of recommendations 1 and 3 (discontinue present procedure of filing extra

Memorandum from W. G. Eames to Mr. Nichols, 9/16/55, make suggestions on which your comments are desired by Training and Inspection Division.

Essentially, suggestion is made that (1) extra copies of reports now in Bureau files be destroyed; (2) in future only original report be filed; (3) consideration be given to utilization of Bruning Copyflex method, or similar method, to reproduce original report in file for dissemination. To implement these suggestions memo recommends (1) present procedure of filing extra copies of reports received in Records Section be discontinued; (2) a survey be made of number of copies presently being prepared by field and any copies which are prepared as an extra Bureau file copy be eliminated; (3) that copies of all communications presently in Bureau files be destroyed; (4) that discussions be entered into by Bureau to explore utilization of Bruning Copyflex method of reproduction of Bureau reports.

Elimination of filing of copies in future and destruction of those on hand is aimed primarily at savings of space. Records Section estimates about 1/3 savings in number of cabinets could be accomplished, citing savings in space, less filing equipment needed, files would be lighter and closer together, files easier to review, mail easier to file, less file repairs needed, easier transportation of files and reduced typing operations attendant to filing. Records Section recognizes if only original report retained costs of Photostats would materially rise but they believe savings accrued from advantages cited would more than outweigh expense. To offset cost of increased Photostats they propose exploring Bruning Copyflex method which according to their estimates would only cost about 9% of what Photostats would cost.

COMMENT: No serious disagreement with factors cited is perceived but there are other factors which should be considered. If we reduce our filing of reports to the original only, we must anticipate that presentability of copies subsequently mechanically reproduced will be of lesser quality. This is occasioned by several factors. Original copy of report acts as its own record as to what is done with report - handwritten notations are placed thereon as to action taken, dissemination made, follow-up record, various

The experience of the Name Check Unit is that the Bruning Copyflex method will not produce acceptable copies except where a light or translucent paper is used. Accordingly, reports in file on heavy paper could not be reproduced by this method. In addition, it is the observation of the Name Check Unit that the Bruning Copyflex does not reproduce copies as sharp and clear as Photostats.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be routed to the Training and Inspection Division for its consideration of the suggestions by the Records and Communications Division.

Suggestion #2 - That a survey be made of number of copies presently being prepared by field and that any copies which are prepared as an extra Bureau file copy be eliminated.

Investigative Division Comment - Unfavorable. Such a survey was made last April and all reports in investigations handled by this Division were reduced to the absolute minimum consistent with the fulfillment of our responsibilities. Most violations were reduced one or more copies at that time. This matter is watched continuously and further reductions are made as developments permit; e.g., a recommendation that we reduce the number of copies in Fraud Against the Government - Dependents Assistance Act of 1950 cases and several Veterans Administration Matters subcategories is now being prepared based on receipt of word from the Department that they no longer need copies of such reports.

Suggestion #3 - That all copies of all communications presently in Bureau files be destroyed.

Investigative Division Comment - It is understood that reports are included in this suggestion. Favorable as to extra copies of airtels, letters, memoranda and other correspondence in file but unfavorable as to reports to the same extent and for the same reasons as set out concerning Suggestion #1 above.

Suggestion #4 - That Records Section contact Charles Bruning Company, Incorporated, and discuss with representatives of this company the possibility of utilizing Bruning Copyflex method of reproduction for Bureau reports.

Investigative Division Comment - Favorable. This study should not necessarily be limited to the Bruning Copyflex method of reproduction since it is believed that some less expensive and more rapid copying procedure is essential before consideration can be given to destruction of extra copies of reports on any greater scale than is now permitted.

Photostating of reports in any volume would seriously affect the work of the Name Check Unit and add approximately two days to the time required for a name check. The clerical work of taking reports from file, ordering Photostats, transmitting material between buildings, reproducing it, checking Photostats and reassembling files is all time consuming as well as costly.

As you know it has always been the policy of the Bureau to retain in an active file, inventory control cards on guns, typewriters, handcuffs and automobiles which have been sold or traded-in.

General Records Schedule 3 of Regulations of the General Services Administration Title 3, Federal Records, authorizes disposition of this type records two years after the equipment is removed from the agencies control. I would like to point out that it is permissive and not mandatory that these records be destroyed.

Recommendation: In view of the fact these records are seldom referred to, I recommend they be disposed of as authorized by General Services Administration Regulations.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF Bureau RECORDS - General
66-3286

RE: MERCHANT MARINE CASUALTY LISTS
62-72674

Sub-captioned file opened in 1943 and contents consist mainly of lists of dead and missing Merchant Marine Seamen, which lists were prepared by the Navy Department during World War II. File contains 26 sections and occupies one file cabinet. This information was apparently obtained so that the listed names could be checked against the Bureau indices as an aid in clearing up Selective Service cases inasmuch as a large number of Seamen were reported delinquent during this period. No correspondence has gone into this file since 1945 and the last list was received in July, 1945.

While not all of the lists were indexed, it is estimated that approximately 2,500 names were indexed from these lists. Inasmuch as it does not appear that this information is of any value to the Bureau today, in accordance with our Records Management Program, it is felt that these lists should be de-indexed and destroyed to prevent unnecessary file reviews and to gain filing space in both the General Index and Filing Units.

Archival authority will be necessary for the destruction of these lists. Such authority will be secured at a later date along with other material.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records Section be authorized to de-index and destroy all Merchant Marine Casualty Lists maintained in file 62-72674. (Destruction of lists will take place after necessary Archival authority is secured.)

The above captioned file opened in 1944 and contains lists of Americans who made payments to Mussolini during years 1935 and 1936. These lists were made available to the Bureau by the Intelligence Officer of the Allied Control Commission, Rome, Italy. This file contains only 6 serials but hundreds of names have been indexed. No material has been placed in the file since December of 1944.

In view of the nature of this information and the lack of identifying information concerning the names which appear on the lists, (majority of names contain only city and state of residence), it is felt that these lists are of no value to the Bureau today and in accordance with our records management program should be de-indexed to reduce file reviews and to make available additional space in the General Index Unit.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records Section be authorized to de-index the above described material.

I am in receipt of a letter dated November 28, 1955, from Lt. Colonel W. P. C. MUNOZ, Chief, Management and Records Division, Headquarters Second Army, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, attaching reports submitted in several Bureau cases during World War II, and stating that the Headquarters Second Army desires to return these reports to the office of origin in lieu of retiring them to the AG Records Center at Kansas City.

It is recommended that the Bureau authorize the Baltimore Office to contact Lt. Colonel MUNOZ and suggest that in the event these reports are no longer desired by the Army, they be destroyed, since the offices to which they are being returned already have copies of the reports in their files.

The reports returned by the Headquarters Second Army to the Philadelphia office are being destroyed UACB. A check has been made and we have determined that we already have copies in our files.

Memorandum dated 12-2-55 from Mr. W. G. Eames to Mr. Nichols captioned as above recommends that Merchant Marine Casualty Lists, file 62-72674, consisting of 26 sections be destroyed and de-indexed. It points out that the file, which was opened in 1943 and has not had any material added since July, 1945, contains lists of dead and missing World War II Merchant Marine servicemen compiled by the Navy Department and originally obtained by the Bureau as an aid in connection with Selective Service matters.

A review of the file does not indicate that the investigative responsibilities of the Domestic Intelligence Division would be adversely affected in any way by destruction of that file or de-indexing of names contained therein.

RECOMMENDATION:

Domestic Intelligence Division concurs with Mr. Eames' recommendation that the file be de-indexed and destroyed.

RE: MAILING LISTS

All correspondence pertaining to additions, deletions, corrections, etc., to the mailing lists is forwarded to the Crime Records Section for handling immediately upon receipt in Bureau. After being handled in Crime Records, all mail except additions to the lists is destroyed. Crime Records notifies Mechanical Section by memoranda of additions, corrections, deletions, etc. Yellow copies of memoranda are retained by Crime Records Section for one year and then sent to file. These memoranda are not indexed but require processing. Volume is approximately two to three inches per year of copies and Crime Records is only Section which has interest in them. It is accordingly felt that Crime Records should maintain these yellow copies of memoranda to the Mechanical Section for any period they deem necessary and not send them to the Records Section. If Crime Records has a need for them, a complicated search is necessary as they are only filed once a year in a large file. Time is also wasted in pulling file, delivering it to Crime Records, and returning it to file.

By memorandum 12-28-54 (see serial 599) I recommended that correspondence in 62-21531 (the general Mailing List file) concerning additions and deletions to Bureau's Mailing List be destroyed after correspondence became five years old. This recommendation was approved by the Crime Records Section.

Below files are also Mailing List files which were formerly maintained by subject matters. It is proposed that they likewise be purged of correspondence concerning additions, deletions, etc., which is five or more years old.

62-14854 MAILING LIST FOR IDENTIFICATION ORDERS

This file was opened in 1927. It was closed in 1953 and since that time correspondence on this subject has been filed in 62-21531, the general Mailing List file.

94-6 MAILING LIST FOR PUBLICATIONS SECTION

This file was opened in 1944 and closed in 1953. Correspondence formerly filed in this file is also filed in 62-21531, the general Mailing List file. 118 sections of mail five or more years old occupy five file drawers. An estimated 10,00 index cards could be removed and destroyed.

94-3-1 MAILING LIST - FBI LAW ENFORCEMENT BULLETIN

This file was opened in 1936. 166 sections containing mail five or more years old occupy six file drawers. An estimated 15,000 index cards could be removed and destroyed.

33-1 (with subs for each State) CRIME STATISTICS - GENERAL

This file occupies five cabinets and much of the mail pertains to additions, deletions, etc., to the uniform crime reports Mailing Lists. A considerable number of index cards can be removed and destroyed.

Archival authority is unnecessary for destruction of above correspondence. General records schedule 13, issued by National Archives and Records Service, which provides for disposal of printing, binding, duplication, and distribution records authorizes destruction of correspondence, request forms, and other records pertaining to changes in mailing lists after appropriate revision of mailing list or after three months, whichever is earlier. In addition, we previously secured authority to destroy requests from the public for publications and informative data. (66-3286-443)

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That yellow copies of memoranda prepared by Crime Records Section for the Mechanical Section concerning additions, deletions, and changes to Mailing Lists not be filed but retained by the Crime Records Section.

(2) That authority be granted to de-index and destroy correspondence five or more years old in the above files. Of course, all mail of a history, policy, or related nature will be retained.

BACKGROUND: Memorandum of Section Chief W. G. Eames to Mr. Nichols 11/9/55 proposed correspondence relating to additions, deletions and changes in Bureau mailing lists be eliminated from files and destroyed when it becomes 5 years old. Mail of a history, policy or related nature would be retained. The Bureau's general Mailing List file (62-21531) has been handled in this way by the Records Section since 12/28/54. Mr. Eames proposal would apply to the following additional mailing lists:

1. Mailing List for Identification Orders (62-14854); this file was closed in 1953, and pertinent correspondence has been filed since then in the general Mailing List file. Twenty-two sections of such mail five or more years old occupy 1 file drawer; estimated 1,500 index cards could be destroyed.

3. Mailing List-FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin (94-3-1); file opened in 1936; contains 166 sections containing mail 5 or more years old; occupies 6 file drawers. Estimated 15,000 index cards could be destroyed. Handled.

4. Crime Statistics-General (33-1); occupy 5 cabinet files, much of which pertain to additions, deletions, etc., to Uniform Crime Reports mailing list.

Mr. Eames memorandum also recommended that yellow file copies of memoranda of Crime Records Section to Mechanical Section concerning changes in Mailing Lists not be filed but be retained by Crime Records Section and destroyed after they have served their purpose. 2. Little or no use is made of correspondence relating to additions to Mailing Lists after filing. Both Crime Records Section and Files Section agree that there is no reason why this correspondence should be retained.

3. Correspondence already in above files listed serve no better purpose than that being currently received, that is, there is no sound reason to retain it - even for 5 years.

4. Yellow file copies of memoranda of Crime Records Section to Mechanical Section are used only by Crime Records Section; they are retained in that section for 1 year, and then forwarded to files where they are not indexed and are not used. After they have served their purpose in the Crime Records Section, they could be destroyed.

5. No special authority is needed for destruction of above-listed correspondence. General Records Schedule #13 issued by General Services Administration provides that correspondence, request forms and other records relating to changes in mailing lists are authorized for destruction after appropriate revision of mailing lists, or after 3 months, whichever is earlier.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That Files Section be authorized to de-index and destroy correspondence in above-listed categories relating to additions, deletions or changes in Bureau Mailing Lists for Identification Orders, Publications Section, FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, and Crime-Statistics-General and that such correspondence not be retained for five years.

BACKGROUND: Bufile 94-33002, which is the main file on the radio scripts "This Is Your FBI," was opened in July, 1944, after Director discussed with Mr. Paul Warwick the possibility of a radio series on the FBI. The first broadcast was on April 6, 1945 and the last broadcast (program number 402) was on December 19, 1952. Bufile 94-33002 contains all background, policy, etc., concerning the program, and is composed of 84 sections. In addition, there are two sub numbers of this file; 94-33002 sub 2, which contains 43 sections concerning the preliminary and revised radio scripts for this program and correspondence to Mr. Jerry Devine, Producer, relating to script revisions and approval; 94-33002 sub 3, contains 32 sections concerning scripts as they were actually broadcast. There is also a complete set of "as broadcast" scripts stored on the seventh floor of the Identification Building.

SUGGESTION: That Bufile 94-33002 sub 2 and sub 3 be destroyed inasmuch as the radio series has been discontinued and a complete set of scripts is stored on the seventh floor of the Identification Building. Miss [redacted] b6 b7C also suggests that since some of these same scripts are filed in the main file, that this file be reviewed and where mimeographed copies of the scripts are found, they be removed and destroyed.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Some savings in space would be realized.

OBSERVATIONS: Mr. F. W. Waikart, Records and Communications Division, states that if it is decided not to destroy such files as suggested, consideration should be given to destruction of duplicate copies of scripts maintained in the Identification Building.

Inspector McGuire, Records and Communications Division, recommends that those on the seventh floor of the Identification Building be disposed of. (ONE SET OF "AS BROADCAST" SCRIPTS.)

Training and Inspection Division feels that a considerable amount of extra work would be imposed upon the Records Section to review the 84 sections of the main file in search of mimeographed copies of the scripts, as suggested by Miss [redacted] b6 b7C This does not appear justified.

Date: November 10, 1955

From: SA [redacted] Division of assignment: DETROIT

b6

SUGGESTION: In order to provide needed space in the closed section of the Detroit Office for expansion, that there be a consolidation of closed security files by the following method:

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-2-89 BY SP4 LW/dcq

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts):
There has been no consolidation of closed security files in the Detroit Office. However, the Manual of Rules and Regulations and the Detroit file on consolidation do not specifically prohibit such consolidation.

Advantages of suggestion:
Space is at a premium in the closed section of the Detroit Office and there is no space available for expansion. This space will be necessary for the proper administration of the closed section.

Disadvantages of suggestion:
The matter has been discussed with the clerk in charge of the Closed Section, as well as with the Chief Clerk, and there appears to be no disadvantages to consolidation by the methods set out.

METHOD OF CONSOLIDATION OF SECURITY FILES IN CLOSED SECTION OF DETROIT OFFICE.

1. Reduction of 100-0 memos presently filed.

It is believed that under the authority of the SAC, a great number of copies of a particular memo, all designated for 100-0, can be destroyed when it is apparent they are not advantageous to retain. As an example, there were approximately 420 copies of a particular distribution memorandum, consisting of 14 pages, designated for 100-0. To hold these copies, approximately 18 volumes of 100-0 were necessary. At the time this memorandum was prepared, there was a purpose for preparing this number of copies as references on each individual mentioned had to be examined for any outgoing communication; however, upon completion of that project there was no need to retain these copies, and it is believed that the majority can be destroyed with no disadvantage.

2. In the latter part of 1945 the Grand Rapids Office of the FBI was closed and the files were transferred to Detroit. There are approximately 36 drawers of 100 files which if consolidated could be placed in approximately nine drawers. It is noted that no material has been filed in these files since the transfer of the files to Detroit, and in the great majority of cases, each file consists of only a very few serials. Hence, the space in these drawers is consumed by file backs. There is no apparent disadvantage in consolidating these ten-year old, dead files. In the event it is necessary to reopen a Grand Rapids file, the procedure in the Detroit Office has been to remove these serials from Grand Rapids file and open a new Detroit case.

3. There are approximately 60 drawers in the Closed Section, which are 100-G, I, and J cases. These cases, which in the main were closed in 1945 or before, consist of only a few serials and the drawer space is consumed largely by file backs. If these files were consolidated, it is believed they could be placed in approximately 20 drawers.

This proposal was rejected by Exec. Conf. 1/6/55 on Suggestion #676-54.

SUBJECT: "THIS IS YOUR F.B.I." (94-33002)

This file was opened in July, 1944 after the Director had discussed with Mr. Paul Warwick the possibility of a radio series on the F.B.I.

File 94-33002 has 84 sections. There are also two sub numbers of this file, 94-33002 sub 2 containing 43 sections and 94-33002 sub 3 containing 32 sections. These sub files consist of copies of the radio scripts. There are 28 volumes of these same radio scripts in storage on the seventh floor of the Ident. Building. (See 94-33002-1585 Memo Jones to Nichols, 9/3/54)

Since this radio series has been discontinued and since there is a complete set of the scripts available on the 7th floor, it is suggested that the sub 2 and sub 3 files be destroyed, thus making one complete filing cabinet available for the use of the Filing Unit. Also since copies of some of these same scripts are filed in the main file, it is suggested that this file be reviewed and where the mimeographed copies of the scripts are found, they be removed and destroyed. This would make additional space available since it would reduce the size of the main file.

RE: PRISONERS OF WAR CORRESPONDENCE (100-2555)

Reference is made to my memorandum to you dated 8/17/55 (66-3286-667) recommending the deindexing of lists received from the U. S. Office of Consorship, setting forth the names of persons corresponding with Prisoners of War during World War II. I recommended (1) that all names appearing as correspondents on lists which are captioned "Harmless" and which do not have contents of communication paraphrased be deindexed, (2) that all names appearing as correspondents on lists which are not captioned "Harmless" but which do not have contents of communication paraphrased underneath correspondents be likewise deindexed. By memorandum from Branigan to Belmont dated 8/24/55 (66-3286-668) these recommendations were approved.

Also contained in the Prisoners of War Correspondence file are many other similar lists received from foreign intelligence agencies and other government agencies. It is proposed that in accordance with our Records Management Program, these lists also be deindexed unless one of the following conditions exists: (1) an indication of subversive sentiment by a correspondent appears on the list; (2) the lists have been disseminated to other government agencies; (3) the Bureau conducted an investigation to identify correspondents.

The deindexing of these lists will result in the savings of space in our index and will prevent unnecessary file reviews concerning information which appears to be of no value to the Bureau today.

RECOMMENDATION:

That all Prisoners of War Correspondence lists received from foreign intelligence agencies and other government agencies be deindexed unless one of the above three cited conditions exists.

Reference is made to the attached memo dated 12-15-55 from Mr. Eames to Mr. Nichols, recommending that all Prisoners of War Correspondence lists received from foreign intelligence agencies and other Government agencies be deindexed unless one of the following conditions exists:

(1) An indication of subversive sentiment by a correspondent appears on the list.

(2) The lists have been disseminated to other Government agencies.

(3) The Bureau conducted an investigation to identify correspondents.

The lists referred to contain the names of individuals who corresponded with Axis prisoners who were in Allied custody. Furthermore part of the lists contain only names and addresses and no other identifying data. The lists, as such, are not now of intelligence interest to the Domestic Intelligence Division, and there appears to be no reason why they should not be deindexed as recommended above.

RECOMMENDATION: It is recommended that the Prisoners of War Correspondence lists be deindexed in accordance with the recommendation in referenced memo.

FILING MATTERS

You will recall that Special Agent [redacted] submitted a suggestion on November 10, 1955, relating to consolidation of certain files.

This has been carefully considered by the Bureau with the following results:

1. Where extra copies of the same document exist in 100-0 file, and where these copies can be put to no foreseeable use, the duplicate copies should be removed and destroyed.

2. You are authorized to consolidate the 100 classification files of the former Grand Rapids Office.

3. You are not authorized to consolidate the German, Japanese and Italian files in classification 100 inasmuch as Communist cases are numerically interspersed with them. The Bureau would not object to the consolidation of German, Japanese and Italian files if there were no Communist cases; however, it is felt that since such Communist cases do exist, gaps and confusion would result because only partial consolidation is possible.

SUGGESTION: SA [redacted] suggests:

(1) Where extra copies of memoranda were originally prepared and filed in 100-0 file for possible future dissemination, but never used, these extra copies should now be destroyed.

(2) That Detroit Office be permitted to consolidate approximately 36 file drawers of 100 classification files transferred to it in the latter part of 1945 when the Grand Rapids, Michigan, Office was closed. These are mostly thin files in which no material has been filed since transfer of the files to Detroit.

(3) The Detroit Office be permitted to consolidate approximately 60 file drawers of closed files in the 100-German, Italian and Japanese classification. Most of these cases were closed in 1945 or before and consist of only a few serials each.

ADVANTAGES: (1) Would save filing space; example given of where 420 copies were made of a 14-page memo which now take up 18 volumes of the 100-0 file in Detroit Office.

(2) It is believed adoption of this part of suggestion would reduce present 36 drawers of 100 classification files in Detroit Office to approximately 9 drawers OF GRAND RAPIDS FILES.

(3) Consolidation would reduce necessary drawer space for these files from 60 to approximately 20 drawers.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: Recent Detroit Inspection disclosed office follows practice of making numerous extra copies of channelizing memoranda where memorandum contains a number of names on whom no file has been opened. These copies are filed in 100-0 file for possible future use in event case is later opened on each person listed. One instance noted where over 400 copies of one memo prepared but never used. New York Office prepares only one extra copy and indexes names on whom files not opened. Washington Field Office makes extra copies for retention in 100-0 file only where appears warranted and only where two or three names involved; otherwise, list of names is indexed from one copy.

Field is now permitted to consolidate Applicant, Selective Service and Criminal files when closed six months; also certain other closed files (including three of Security type*) 96, 97*, 98*, 106*, 108, 121 and 140 classifications. Not permitted to consolidate most security type files including 100 classification files.

OBSERVATIONS: Inspector L. O. Teague, Training and Inspection Division, concluded Detroit Office had in several instances prepared and retained unreasonable number of copies of channelizing memoranda. Inspector called this to attention of SAC and believes Detroit should be authorized to destroy excess unneeded copies.

Inspector Teague also favors permitting Detroit to consolidate the 100 classification files obtained when Grand Rapids Office was closed.

PREVIOUS EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE ACTION: On 1/6/55, the Conference unanimously agreed that no effort should be made at that time to consolidate Italian, German and Japanese files throughout the field. This decision followed an experiment in the New Orleans Office where the SAC found uniform consolidation was not possible since Communist files were interspersed with the other 100 classification files and the large amount of manpower necessary to do the job was not justified.

CONCLUSIONS: (1) There appears to be no reason to retain numerous copies of the same memorandum in the Detroit 100-0 file where time has shown no need for the extra copies. The problem seems to be peculiar to Detroit Office.

(2) Since Detroit does not reopen any of the old Grand Rapids files but instead, where necessary, removes serials and opens a new Detroit file, there appears to be no objection to consolidation of the old Grand Rapids 100 classification files.

(3) Executives Conference action earlier this year decided after an extensive experiment that consolidation of 100 classification files on German, Japanese and Italian subjects is not practical at this time.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION: EDM:gsr

Present at the Executives Conference December 19, 1955, were Messrs. Nichols, Boardman, Parsons, Tamm, Mohr, Nease, McGuire,

Rosen, Belmont, Holloman and Mason. The Conference unanimously recommends that the Detroit Office be advised:

1. No reason to maintain numerous copies of the same memorandum in the Detroit 100-0 file when it is obvious those copies will not be needed.

2. Authority granted to Detroit to consolidate the old files of the former Grand Rapids Office now contained in classification 100 in Detroit.

3. Do not endeavor to consolidate the 100 classification files on Germans, Japanese and Italians inasmuch as Communist cases are numerically interspersed with the German, Japanese and Italian files; such consolidation would leave numerous gaps because the Communist cases should not be consolidated.

If you agree, the attached memorandum to Detroit, incorporating above views, should be sent.

RE: CRIME - GENERAL (62-954)

By memorandum dated 11/9/55 I proposed that correspondence relating to additions, deletions and changes in Bureau mailing list be deindexed and eliminated from files and destroyed when it becomes five years old. I listed four files to which this should apply: 62-14854, mailing list for Identification Orders, 94-6, mailing list for Publications Section, 94-3-1, mailing list for FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin and 33-1, Crime Statistics - General. By memorandum from Mason to Tolson dated 11/25/55 (66-3286-698), it was approved to deindex and destroy correspondence in this category up to the current period and that this type of correspondence not be retained in the future. Of course, correspondence relating to history, police or related matters will be retained.

File 62-954, entitled Crime - General, appears to fall in this general category. This file which was opened in 1921 and contains no correspondence since 1936, consists of 20 sections and occupies 1½ drawers of filing space. Approximately 2,200 names have been indexed. The file consists mainly of requests for information or booklets concerning crime conditions and requests to be placed on the Bureau mailing list for such information.

This material appears to be of no value today and is similar to material already approved for destruction per referenced memorandum Mason to Tolson dated 11/25/55. In accordance with our Records Management Program, it is recommended that this material be deindexed and destroyed to prevent unnecessary file reviews and to gain filing space in both the General Index and Filing Units.

Archival authority is unnecessary for the destruction of above correspondence. General Records Schedule 13, issued by National Archives and Records Services, authorizes destruction of correspondence, request forms and other records pertaining to changes in mailing lists after appropriate reviews of mailing list or after three months which ever is earliest. In addition, we previously secured authority to destroy requests from the public for publications and informative data (66-3286-443).

[redacted] a clerical employee of the New York Office, points out that registers #1 and #3 are destroyed on an annual basis when three years old if of no value. Register #1 is the sign-in-and-out register used in field offices. Register #3 is the card on which investigative employees indicate where they are going, when they leave the office, when they return, any leave they use, etc.

The suggestion of [redacted] #3 42-56, is that the regulations be changed to permit destruction of the #1 registers on an annual basis when three years old, or as each section of the file becomes three years old, whichever is more convenient. Because of the size of the New York Office, a new section of this file is made up every two or three days. She suggests that the regulations be changed also to permit destruction of the #3 registers on a monthly basis when three years old.

She points out that the registers for one entire year in the New York Office fill 10 file drawers, and she feels that permission to destroy the registers when three years old on a monthly basis (#3 register) or as each section of the file becomes three years old (#1 register) would save considerable space. She further feels the suggested change would require very little additional effort so far as the destruction process is concerned.

NOT RECORDED
103 JAN 23 1956

The SAC, New York, recommends adoption of the suggestion because he says it would not require expenditure of additional clerical time and would save space.

INITIALS ON ORIGINAL

Section 3, Manual of Rules and Regulations, was revised in 1948, to require destruction of various kinds of material on an annual basis. The purpose of the revision was to attain uniformity. Further, it is noted that when material is destroyed on an annual basis, the work need be done only once a year; whereas, destruction on a monthly basis means the work is done 12 times a year, instead of one. Of course, destruction on an annual basis means the material is retained up to 11-plus months longer than it would be on a monthly destruction basis.

The smaller offices probably have no acute space problem similar to that of New York. Saving of space is a valid objective, particularly where it can be done without appreciable extra effort.

By memorandum dated 11/25/55, I attached a letter to Mr. S. A. Andretta of the Department transmitting, in accordance with Archival regulations, a request for authority to dispose of records consisting of (1) forms and related correspondence listing firearms imported into the United States during years 1935--1948, which were furnished to the Bureau by the Customs Bureau of the Treasury Department (62-36000) and (2) letters and related correspondence to and from field offices concerning movement of Japanese individuals who were passengers on planes, trains, etc. within and out of the United States prior to World War II (65-3046). These had been approved for destruction by the Bureau.

Mr. Hardy Allen, Justice and Executive Section, National Archives telephonically contacted me last week and informed that in accordance with their standard procedure, prior to submitting any material to Congress for final authority to destroy, they are required to review samples of the material. He requested that we transmit appropriate samples of this material to the Archives for review. I informed him that we would make available at the Bureau samples of this material and he could come over and review them. Mr. Allen indicated that he could probably manage to handle in this manner.

b7C

Mr. Allen subsequently contacted SA [redacted] and stated that he had discussed the matter with his superior, Miss Bess Glenn, Chief, Justice and Executive Section of National Archives who indicated that she would like to see samples of this material and requested that we transmit samples to Archives in accordance with standard procedures. Mr. Allen indicated that based on our description of the material, there did not appear to be any reason, why our request for destruction would not be authorized.

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

In the interest of economy from both the standpoint of man hours necessary to handle and space, it is suggested that the Records Section not receive for processing and filing the "no-record" type name check forms from [redacted]. One sample attached shows the results of a productive search which should be filed while the other two are forms which resulted in negative information at the time they were processed through the Name Check Unit.

The Bureau gains nothing by adding to its records the results of a "no-record" name search. We have successfully over the years avoided filing literally millions of negative "no-record" name check requests. The only substantial exception has been Federal Employee Security forms which we have not processed but maintained separately by orders from a former Attorney General. We are about to recommend reconsideration of this program again.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this be referred to the Espionage Section for their consideration as to the advisability of retaining the "no-record" forms referred to above.

In the interest of economy, it is suggested that negative type material such as the attached not be forwarded to the Records Section for processing after it has been noted in the Translation Unit.

Present rules provide that the attached be forwarded to the Translation Unit immediately upon its receipt in the Bureau as it appears to have been submitted for information purposes only and has no permanent or lasting value. Thus the following recommendation that this type mail not be returned to the Records Section unless some special reason requires that it be filed.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the above it is recommended that the Translation Unit not return to the Records Section material such as the attached but instead destroy same after its contents have been noted.

By memorandum from Waikart to you dated 6-16-55 (67-800000-1823), it was recommended that consideration be given to the destruction of applicant personnel files over ten years old where no information of value was contained therein. I indicated personnel files' index cards would be retained with the notation "Destroyed" and the date. The Executive Conference approved this procedure on 6-16-55, and the Director concurred.

We have now completed this project, and the results are far beyond our wildest expectations. We originally estimated that we could destroy approximately 32,000 files which would occupy 25 five-drawer file cabinets. As we got into the project, we realized that our original estimate was extremely conservative; and upon the completion of the project we actually destroyed 119,480 files and gained approximately 100 five-drawer cabinets. Of course, the space in these cabinets will take care of our expansion needs for some time to come. In addition, we destroyed an estimated 477,920 abstracts thus saving 3½ index cabinets, and an estimated 120,000 index cards maintained in the General Index Unit saving an additional three index cabinets.

This destruction project was directly supervised by Mrs. [redacted] GS-5 File Clerk, from its inception—of course, under the indirect supervision of Mrs. [redacted], Clerical Supervisor of the Personnel Records Unit. This was a most difficult assignment since there were several phases of the destruction operating simultaneously (for example, review of files, pulling abstracts, pulling index cards, etc.), and Mrs. [redacted] did a highly satisfactory job. She was on top of all phases of the assignment at all times in an effort to complete the job as expeditiously as possible, and the finished results are most gratifying. It is felt that she should be commended by letter for her performance in this assignment.

X COPIES OF REPORTS
X [illegible]

To effect about one third saving in file cabinets utilized and make files more efficient, Records Section proposed: (1) Hereafter only original of reports be filed. (2) All copies, except original, be purged from existing files. Investigative and Domestic Intelligence Divisions opposed to (1) above because excessive time and expense involved in later reproduction by photostating or retyping of reports required for dissemination and opposed to (2) above because notations, routing stamps, handwritten changes placed on original make it unsuitable for subsequent photostating for dissemination purposes. Training and Inspection Division after inquiry notes regarding proposal (1) that, following survey to determine minimum number of copies required to meet normal dissemination, Bureau Bulletin #55-3 reducing number of copies in 119 types of cases was issued 6/9/55. This reduced to essential minimum number of copies being received by Bureau. Regarding proposal (2), it is noted Name Check Section now disseminating reports at 1,500 pages per day; 500 pages are Photostats and 1,000, extra copies of reports from files. If files purged of all extra copies, it would be necessary to reproduce full 1,500 pages. Additional photostating costs of $31,200 per annum would be incurred. Such costs would be direct, immediate, out-of-pocket expenses, as opposed to projected space saving for future file storage as contemplated by Records Section proposal.

Records Section is cognizant of increased costs which would result from additional photostating and proposes in lieu of photostating to reproduce by Bruning Copyflex method. This method not readily adaptable to reports already in file because to obtain legible copies requires use of a better grade translucent paper than is now being used for investigative reports.

CONCLUSIONS: (1) Because of dissemination requirements it appears minimum number of copies of reports are now being received at Bureau.

(2) Considering present operating deficit and in view of expense entailed in subsequent photostating for dissemination purposes, cabinets should not be purged of extra copies now in file.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #491-56
RECORDS SECTION STREAMLINING COMMITTEE
"Destruction of Bureau Records - General

SUGGESTION: Mrs. [redacted] GS-4, an employee of the Classifying Unit, has suggested through the Classifying Unit representative of the above committee that, in connection with the purge of references contained in the Nazi Party Membership file (100-25208), the employee pulling the index cards work directly from the membership lists which are in alphabetical order. Mrs. [redacted] feels that this method would be faster and more accurate. This suggestion does not come within the purview of Mrs. [redacted] duties.

b6

PRESENT PROCEDURE: By memorandum dated 5/10/55 (66-3286-631) authorization was obtained to deindex the Nazi Party Membership file. This file contains approximately 100,000 names and we have already purged over 50 percent of these.

Each individual name is written on a 3 x 5 card, the cards are sequenced alphabetically and the corresponding index cards are pulled from the General Index. It is pointed out that only some of the membership lists in this file are conducive to handling under the suggested procedure. Many of the lists are short, run from "A" to "Z" and obviously because of the size of our index it is more economical to handle these under the present procedure.

ADVANTAGES: (1) Eliminate the necessity of writing up 3 x 5 card on each individual name; (2) Expedite pulling of index cards.

DISADVANTAGES: (1) Necessary to disassemble and reassemble serials if assigned to more than one employee; (2) 3 x 5 cards will still have to be written up where employee pulling index cards cannot find reference card, in order that more exhaustive search can be conducted.

SAVINGS: Impossible to convert to monetary savings; however it is felt that savings will be relatively small when all factors are considered.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

MANUALS AND WORKING GUIDES

SYNOPSIS

PROPOSAL: That routine correspondence from Field and SOG covering status of their specialized local Manuals and Working Guides be destroyed after review by Manuals Control Desk of Training and Inspection Division, and that the Bureau's control file be purged of such communications.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: All Field and SOG divisions are required to submit memoranda on 5-15 and 11-15 of each year, advising that all specialized local Manuals and Working Guides authorized by the Bureau have been examined and are up-to-date and complete. These memoranda are reviewed at the Manuals Control Desk in the Training and Inspection Division. Postings are made in a register at said desk to facilitate any follow-ups required and insure compliance with above requirement. After approval, said memoranda are then filed by the Records Section in the SOG control file, 66-18942, which presently consists of three sections made up of 274 serials.

ADVANTAGES: These memoranda are merely for housekeeping purposes, and are of no permanent value. Their destruction after they have served their purpose will save time, money and effort through eliminating routing to Records Section and filing and maintenance by that Section. Purging of the control file will reduce number of serials now maintained, which are of no further value.

DISADVANTAGES: None.

RECOMMENDATIONS

(1) That Manuals Control Desk of Training and Inspection Division be authorized to destroy routine memoranda required from all Field and SOG Divisions on 5-15 and 11-15 of each year advising that all specialized local

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #449-56
RECORDS SECTION STREAMLINING COMMITTEE

SUGGESTION: Mrs. [redacted], Assistant Supervisor of the Routing Unit, has suggested through the Routing Unit representative of the above committee that when bids, leases or contracts are sent to the Records Section for filing, that the Administrative Division destroy all copies of these documents. Mrs. [redacted] points out that at the present time, all copies are sent to file, whether the bid is accepted or not. This suggestion does not come within the purview of Mrs. [redacted] duties. b6 b7C PRESENT PROCEDURE: Each bid, lease, or contract is recorded and copies are attached to original. According to the Administrative Division, approximately 3,750 bids are received each year, five copies of each bid are received.

ADVANTAGES: (1) Savings in employee time on part of routers.
(2) Savings in space.

DISADVANTAGES: None from Records Section standpoint.

SAVINGS: Impossible to convert to monetary savings unless a survey conducted. If this suggestion is adopted, efforts will be made to compute savings.

CONCLUSIONS: Suggestion has merit from Records Section standpoint, however, inasmuch as handling of bids, leases and contracts [redacted] the responsibility of the Administrative Division, it is recommended that comments of the Administrative Division be secured prior to considering the suggestion for adoption.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That this suggestion be referred to the Administrative Division for their consideration.

NOT RECORDED

(2) That this suggestion be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review and acknowledgment.

Supervisor J.W. Marshall advised Employee meant suggestion to apply only to bids. 2-20-56. b6 b7C

For this purpose, I am attaching to a copy of this memorandum a Government Property Receipt indicating the above disposition of this copy of Code B.

Destruction of Bureau Property

SUGGESTION: Miss [redacted] GS-6, an employee of the Correlation Unit, has suggested through the Correlation Unit representative of the above committee that one or possibly two destruction copies of the General Activities, Communist Party file (61-7559) be destroyed. She points out that the first 510 sections of this file consist of an original and photostatic copies marked copy A and copy B and occupy 19½ four drawer file cabinets. She feels that copies A and B should be destroyed and would be a savings of 13 four drawer cabinets. Miss [redacted] also suggests that the Filing Unit, File Review Unit, Correlation Unit and other units be alerted for similar file copies that might be destroyed. This suggestion does not come within the purview of Miss [redacted] duties. Destruction of OBSERVATIONS: As you know, the Records Section recently proposed that all copies except the original be purged from the existing files. The Bureau made an exhaustive study of this problem and by memorandum from Mason to Tolson dated 1/27/56 (66-2435-1817), it was concluded that because of dissemination requirements and cost entailed in reproduction for dissemination purposes, that the files should not be purged of extra copies already in file. Suggestion #540-56

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF REGISTERS AND DAILY REPORTS (Bureau Records - Records)

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-2-82 BY SP4 ELW/ca

In December, 1955, a field clerk suggested that #1 registers could be destroyed on an annual basis when three years old or when each section of the file became three years old, whichever is more convenient; and that #3 registers could be destroyed on a monthly basis when three years old.

Register #1 is the sign-in and -out register used in field offices and register #3 is the card on which investigative employees indicate what time they leave the office, where they are going, when they return, etc. The regulations had provided registers #1 and #3 should be destroyed on an annual basis when three years old if of no value. The purpose of the suggested change was to save filing space, the effect of the suggestion being that the registers in question would be kept for a shorter time. The Bureau approved the suggestion so that the various divisions could destroy #1 and #3 registers triennially on a monthly or other staggered basis rather than on an annual basis if they preferred.

Mrs. [redacted] GS-8 Clerical Supervisor of the Leave Unit, observes that the Agents' Daily reports, the field #2 registers, and the Seat of Government sign-in registers are destroyed on an annual basis when three years old. She feels that the various offices should be permitted to destroy these records under the same schedule as that approved for registers #1 and #3 if they prefer - namely, when three years old on a monthly or other staggered basis rather than on an annual basis.

Daily reports, the #2 registers, and the Seat of Government sign-in registers are the same kind of records as #1 and #3 registers, and no reason is seen why they should not be governed by the same kind of rules.

Training and Inspection Division agrees with the Administrative Division that Agents' Daily Reports, #2 Registers, and the Seat of Government sign-in and -out register be destroyed on a monthly or other staggered basis when same become three years old. It is noted that no mention was made with regard to the Seat of Government sign-in and -out registers at the time approval was granted for the field to destroy #1 and #3 registers on this basis.

If you approve, enclosed is a commendatory letter to Mrs. [redacted] advising that her suggestion has been adopted; Administrative Division will prepare the appropriate manual revisions for the Time and Attendance Manual and Training and Inspection Division will prepare the manual revisions for the Manual of Rules and Regulations.

Made by Mrs. [redacted]
Records and Communications Division

SUGGESTION: That when bids are sent to the Records Section for filing, the Administrative Division destroy all carbon copies of these documents, leaving only the original to be filed.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: Each unaccepted bid is recorded and copies are attached to original. According to Administrative Division, approximately 3,700 bids are received each year, five copies of each bid being received. Accepted bids are not sent to file.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Savings in employee time on part of Routers and savings in space.

OBSERVATIONS: Inspector McGuire, Records and Communications Division, states the suggestion has merit from the Records Section standpoint.

Inspector Callahan, Administrative Division, states in order to comply with current Government regulations regarding the disposal of records, he feels that one copy of each unaccepted bid should be retained in file with the letters from the field divisions forwarding the bids to the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That the suggestion be adopted in that the original unaccepted bids be retained in Bureau files along with the letters from the field forwarding same.

2. That the Administrative Division be authorized to destroy all copies of unaccepted bids except the original, which should be sent to file.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF "NO RECORD" LOYALTY AND SECURITY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES FORMS
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY-gml

In view of the period of economic stress currently facing the Bureau, I think this is a propitious time to again consider the possibility of the outright destruction of the "No Record" Loyalty and Security of Government Employees Forms. As you are aware, we have consistently opposed the retention of these forms and on several occasions since the inception of the Loyalty Program, have recommended they be destroyed.

VOLUME ON HAND:

121-4's on microfilm (This group of forms indexed at inception of Loyalty Program, indexing subsequently discontinued and forms filed in alphabetical sequence.)	802,589
Alphabetically sequenced forms on microfilm,	4,371,560
Forms maintained in cabinets in alphabetical sequence (Estimated)	1,500,000
Total estimated "no record" forms	6,674,149

BACKGROUND: RE: RETENTION AND CURRENT USE OF THESE FORMS

It appears that the principle reason these forms are being retained was the opinion of a former Attorney General at the beginning of the Loyalty Program that the Bureau should keep "no record" loyalty forms to facilitate rechecking if necessary when organizations were declared to be subversive by him. In this connection, at periodic intervals during the Loyalty Program, new organizations were added to the list of previously declared subversive organizations. This raised the question as to whether or not we should recheck loyalty forms of Government employees through our files to determine if they were members of the newly declared subversive organizations. To cover this contingency we have kept the "no record" loyalty forms; however, as a practical matter we never rechecked all of them on the basis of newly issued subversive lists of organizations.

Memorandum to Mr. Nichols
Re: Proposed Destruction of "No Record" Loyalty and Security of Government Employees Forms

1-4-56

From time to time we do refer to an old "no record" loyalty form because of some question raised concerning its original processing by the Bureau or upon the request of the Civil Service Commission in order to clarify their records. When a Loyalty investigation is opened, we occasionally pull an old "no record" form on the individual to place in the investigative file which is opened.

In addition, subversive membership lists received from informants or from other sources are searched through these forms to determine if individuals on membership lists can be identified as Government employees and if such an identification is made, a loyalty case is opened.

Because space and economic reasons forced us successively to discontinue indexing "no record" forms; to file them alphabetically and to microfilm them, at the present time we must make three searches for every name received, (1) in General Index, (2) through forms on microfilm, (3) through alphabetical sequence.

ESTIMATED SAVINGS FOR NEXT YEAR IF FORMS DESTROYED NOW:

Annual Cost to Handle - Employee's Salaries	$27,707.33
Equipment:
File Cabinets Currently Occupied (76 x $59.03, current replacement cost)	4,486.28
Index Cabinets (Forms indexed at beginning of Loyalty Program, index cards occupy 18 index cabinets)	6,082.00
File cabinets for next year (25 x $59.03)	1,475.75
Total Savings:	$39,751.36

Of course the above figures do not include many intangible cost items on which no monetary figure can be arrived at, for example, space used, handling and transportation of forms to Identification Building, etc.

Memorandum to Mr. Nichols 1-4-56
Re: Proposed Destruction of "No Record" Loyalty and Security of Government Employees Forms

ESTIMATED COST OF MAINTENANCE ANNUALLY:

EMPLOYEE SALARY:

Arranging Forms (Based on average monthly receipt of 33,088 forms x .0193 -- cost to arrange form as reflected on most recent Cost Survey)	$ 7,663.18
Filing Forms (Based on average monthly receipt of 33,088 forms x .0446--cost to file form as reflected on most recent Cost Survey)	17,708.70
Searching Forms
Alphabetical Sequence (Based on average monthly searches of 456 forms x .2642--cost to search form in alphabetical sequence)	1,445.70
Microfilm (Based on average monthly searches of 456 forms x .1626--cost to search form on film)	889.75
Estimated Annual Cost Employee Salaries:	$27,707.33

This represents approximately 9 GS-2 employees.

EQUIPMENT USED:
Estimated 25 file cabinets per year (Current cost $59.03)	1,475.75
TOTAL COST ANNUALLY:	$29,183.08

Projecting this figure for, say the next five years, the cost of maintaining the loyalty forms would be $145,915.40 assuming that cost factors and volume remain at the present level. Here again, this figure does not include many intangible cost items such as space, etc.

CONCLUSIONS:

If forms destroyed now, an estimated savings of $39,751.36 will be realized the first year and an additional estimated savings of $29,183.08 will be realized each year thereafter plus many intangible cost factors. In view of current and anticipated future periods of economic stress facing the Bureau, I do not feel that we can continue to justify the retention of these forms when we weigh the value received against the cost of maintaining the forms, cost of search, and space occupied. I strongly feel that our present policy of retaining no record loyalty forms should be thoroughly reconsidered and that consideration should be given to the outright destruction of these forms.

RECOMMENDATION:

That in this critical economic period, the Bureau reconsider its policy of maintaining "no record" loyalty forms and consider the outright destruction of these forms.

I agree

10/10/47

Memorandum from Cartwright to you in reference to above listed memorandum proposes that in the event the destruction of "no record" loyalty forms not approved, consideration should be given to microfilming these forms. (66-6200-121-148)

10/18/47

Executives Conference considered above proposals. Mr. Tracy and yourself recommended that the "no record" loyalty forms be destroyed with no index cards being made. Remaining members of the conference, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Nease, Ladd, McCabe, Rosen, E. A. Tamm, Harbo, Quinn Tamm, and Glavin, were opposed and recommended as an alternative that each form be indexed by name, date of birth and agency submitting and the date on which the form was stamped "No Record" and that all "no record" forms of that date be bundled up and placed in storage by date. A note appearing on this memorandum reflects the following: "No index, keep forms by days in storage." (66-6200-121-144)

~~ENCLOSURE~~

5/27/48

Memorandum to Attorney General referring to his memorandum of 5/19/48 pointing out that under the procedures devised by the Bureau for discharging its responsibilities under the loyalty program, there is no method whereby we could recheck any forms for the purpose of determining whether certain government employees are associated in any way with newly designated organizations. The Attorney General noted that Bureau should have devised different procedures, for the Executive Order provides for continual study and subsequent designations. (66-6200-121-756)

6/3/48

Memorandum to the Attorney General referring to the memorandum of 5/27/48 and his notation appearing thereon. This memorandum points out that in a case of a newly established organization coming within the purview of the loyalty order, the only way the Bureau could insure that a complete survey was made would be to conduct a recheck of the loyalty forms. Attorney General Clark noted on this memorandum as follows: "I think we should insist that an index be kept of government employees, then when a new organization is placed on list, you could check its membership--if you did not have membership list we could secure same through subpoena." (66-6200-121-805) (This is apparently basis for keeping no record loyalty forms.)

6/29/48

Executives Conference considered the matter of indexing the 2,000,000 "no record" loyalty forms in line with the Attorney General's notation appearing on the memorandum of 6/3/48. Conference unanimously recommended that each of these forms be indexed. The Director concurred on this recommendation. (66-6200-121-803)

7/7/48

Memorandum from Cartwright to you pointing out that in connection with the Executives Conference memorandum dated 6/29/48, that the "no record" loyalty forms would be indexed and thereafter be maintained in a file folder in numerical sequence. (66-6200-121-804)

6/29/49

Executives Conference considered a suggestion by the Inspection staff to the effect that a further survey should be made concerning the indexing of the loyalty forms. It was the unanimous opinion of the conference that we are required to index the loyalty forms since this program was initiated on a ruling of the Attorney General. (66-5084-325x1)

10/19/49

Memorandum from Waikart to you recommending that an opinion should be secured from the new Attorney General McGrath as to whether the Bureau must maintain an index of government employees in order to comply with Executive Order 9835. (66-6200-121-1303)

11/14/49

Memorandum from Waikart to you proposing that we not index the "no record" loyalty forms but maintain these forms in an alphabetical sequence. (66-6200-121-1240)

11/18/49

Executives Conference memorandum wherein it was decided that the forms should be sequenced alphabetically and as membership lists of new subversive organizations were secured, a search could be made through these forms. The Director concurred with this course of action. (66-6200-121-1239)

12/22/52

Memorandum from Eames to you recommending that, when personnel becomes available, those "no record" loyalty forms received prior to 1952 be placed on microfilm and then destroyed. This was approved by the Executives Conference on 12/31/52. (66-16304-103)

2/3/53

Memorandum from Keay to Belmont recommending that consideration be given to maintaining a copy of all no record Name Check forms in our files. (Only copies of "no record" loyalty forms are maintained in Bureau files, all other no record Name Check forms are returned to the submitting agency.) The Executives Conference considered this suggestion on 2/11/53 and unanimously recommended no change in the procedure of maintaining no record name checks. The Director noted "The suggestion is good but the cost prohibitive. (66-60527-32752x2)

5/27/53

Memorandum from Waikart to you recommending that consideration be given to destroying "no record" loyalty forms rather then microfilming them. Comments of the Domestic Intelligence Division were obtained and it was subsequently decided to microfilm the "no record" loyalty forms. (66-16304-109)

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #566-56
RECORDS SECTION STREAMLINING COMMITTEE b6 b7C
Destruction of SERB Records Property

SUGGESTION: Mrs. [redacted], GS-5, employee of the Consolidation Unit, has suggested through the Consolidation Unit representative of the above committee that (1) employees handling substitutions be permitted to destroy incorrect original pages of reports and letters after corrected pages have been inserted and (2) that the index cards made on the incorrect pages be pulled from the Index and destroyed when such indexing is not repeated on the corrected pages. At the present time, incorrect original pages are inserted at the back of the original report or letter and incorrect carbon copies are destroyed. The index cards prepared concerning indexing appearing on the incorrect pages are left in the index. Mrs. [redacted] points out that employee time will be saved in the Consolidation Unit and obsolete index references will be destroyed. This suggestion does not come within the purview of employee's duties.

OBSERVATIONS: In regard to part one of suggestion, it is pointed out that the report may have been disseminated to other agencies prior to the submission of corrected pages by the Field and the question might arise in the future as to what information was originally disseminated. This is obviously a major disadvantage and for this reason, part one of the suggestion is not practical and is recommended unfavorably for adoption.

In regard to part two, indexing done on incorrect pages should be deindexed if not repeated on corrected pages and this part of the suggestion is being adopted. It is felt that the volume of such indexing will be exceedingly small and the attached letter of acknowledgment is deemed sufficient in connection with this suggestion.

SUGGESTION: Miss [redacted] GS-5, employee of the Name Check Unit has suggested through the Name Check Unit representative of the above committee that when Visa forms are filed in the Visa name check file (105-16424), previous references in the file on the same subject be pulled and destroyed. She points out that references in this file are eliminated in all name check searches except Visa requests and then the supervisor is only interested in the most recent reference. Miss [redacted] states that this would result in a savings in space in the index and a saving in time on the part of the searchers. This suggestion does not come within the purview of the employee's duties.

OBSERVATIONS: A review of this material reflects that the contents of the files consist mainly of Visa name check requests where no identifiable information developed. The possibility exists that this type of material can be destroyed, however inasmuch as it relates to the work of the Domestic Intelligence Division, their view should be secured for consideration of this suggestion.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review and acknowledgment.

SUBJECT: ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISION MATERIAL STORED SEVENTH FLOOR
IDENTIFICATION BUILDING

Destruction of Surplus Property - Gen'l.

A review has been made of the various material stored in the seventh floor storage area of the Identification Building. This review was made in accordance with the Director's instructions following the review of the recent inspection findings of Inspector Tamm. Items listed below are recommended for destruction at this time.

1. Monthly Administrative Reports - Reports from the various field offices for the months June, 1950, through August, 1955, are on file. It is suggested we keep only the last two fiscal years and destroy those reports for the months of January, 1950, through June, 1953.

2. SIS Administrative Reports - These reports are on file for the months of August, 1943, through February, 1952. In following the same suggested policy as under Item One, it is believed that all of these reports should now be destroyed.

3. Administrative Reports from Legal Attaches - Reports from March, 1952, through March, 1953, are on file. In following the same suggested policy under Item One above, it is believed that all of these reports may now be destroyed.

4. Copies of Congressional Records - Copies of the Congressional Record are on file dating back to about January, 1951. The Legislative Unit believes we need only keep such records for two years after they go to file. In accordance with this suggestion, it is recommended that all [illegible] prior to January 1, 1954, be destroyed.

5. Copies of the Federal Register - Copies of the Federal Register are on file beginning from about January, 1952. The Legislative Unit believes it is only necessary to keep this item for two years after the copies go to file. It is, therefore, recommended that all copies of the Federal Register dated prior to January 1, 1954, be destroyed at this time.

6. Copies of House and Senate Bills - Copies of House and Senate bills of the 82nd and 83rd Congresses are on hand. The Legislative Unit suggests that only those from the 83rd Congress need be retained at this time, and in accordance with this suggestion, it is recommended that all of the copies of the House and Senate bills from the 82nd Congress be destroyed.

7. Copies of Various Public and Private Laws - Copies of various public and private laws of the 81st and 82nd Congresses are on file and since these no longer serve any purpose, it is recommended that they be destroyed.

8. Tickler Copies of Memoranda Regarding Legislation of Interest to FBI - These tickler copies pertain generally to items of legislation passed from the 1950 fiscal year through the 1954 fiscal year. These items are no longer needed and should be destroyed.

9. Copies of Printed Hearings Pertaining to Other Government Agencies - This item pertains to printed hearings for the fiscal years 1950 through 1955. Those for the years of 1950 through 1954 are no longer of any use and it is recommended they be disposed of at this time.

10. Copies of Supreme Court Decisions - These are copies of decisions for the 1951, 1952 and 1953 terms of court. They are no longer of value, and it is recommended they be destroyed.

11. Daily Synopsis of General Accounting Office Decisions - These decisions are on hand dating back to about November, 1951. It is recommended that all copies pertaining to 1954 and prior years be destroyed since after one year the decisions are placed in a bound volume by the General Accounting Office and are indexed.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #597-56
RECORDS SECTION STREAMLINING COMMITTEE
Destruction of Bureau Property

SUGGESTION: Mrs. [redacted] GS-6, employee of the Consolidation Unit, has suggested through that unit's representative of the above committee that when Consolidation Unit employees, in the performance of their regular duties, review files containing obsolete information, that these files be routed through the proper channels for authority to destroy them. She points out that this would save space and subsequent file reviews. This suggestion does not come within the purview of employee's duties.

b6

OBSERVATIONS: As you know, in connection with the destruction of files and records, we are bound by Congressional directives and need Congressional authority to destroy record material. In connection with our Records Management Program, requests concerning material of an obsolete nature which is of no value to the Bureau are forwarded to Archives to obtain Congressional authority for destruction, after securing Bureau approval. It is pointed out that it is impractical from an economy standpoint to attempt to obtain authority to destroy individual case files containing obsolete information as suggested by Mrs. [redacted]. Accordingly, this suggestion is not recommended for adoption.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Unfavorable.

There is maintained in the Personnel Records Unit a file captioned Administrative Promotions (67-044). This file consists of six sections containing 763 serials and occupies approximately one-half of a file drawer. This file contains a record of employees promoted under the Uniform Promotion Act. No mail has been placed in this file since March of 1951 inasmuch as uniform promotions are being handled under a different procedure.

It is pointed out that the information contained in this file is also contained in the individual employees' personnel files. Because of this fact and because the file has been inactive since 1951, due to the change in the method of handling uniform promotions, it is felt that consideration should be given to the destruction of this file. Inasmuch as the file relates to a matter handled by the Administrative Division, this memorandum is being referred to that Division for their consideration.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Administrative Division and that consideration be given to destroying the Administrative Promotions file maintained in the Personnel Records Unit.

The Administrative Promotions file (67-044) contains lists of agents recommended for promotion from one grade to a higher grade in addition to lists of employees being considered for uniform promotions. Inasmuch as the information appearing in this file is duplicated in the individual personnel files of the employees, there is no reason to continue the Administrative Promotions file. Mr. Hereford of the Agent Reallocation Unit, and Mr. Adams, of the Personnel Actions Unit (where uniform promotions are handled), concur in the recommendation that this file be destroyed.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Personnel Records Unit be authorized to destroy the six sections of the Administrative Promotions file (67-044). This file has been inactive since March of 1951 and the information is duplicated in permanent personnel files.

SUBJECT: CURRENT COMMUNIST SUBVERSION AND ESPIONAGE IN THE UNITED STATES

Reference is made to my memorandum of March 12, 1956, accounting for copies of the narrative statement, brief, and charts utilized by the Director in connection with his address before the National Security Council (NSC) meeting March 8, 1956, regarding captioned subject matter. It was pointed out in referenced memorandum that 20 sets of the charts had been passed out to members attending the NSC meeting and that 10 of these sets had been returned to the Bureau on March 9, 1956, by Mr. J. Patrick Coyne. It was further noted that these 10 sets of charts were being destroyed and the binders being forwarded to the Exhibits Section to be retained for possible future use.

On March 12, 1956, the Director's Office received one additional set of these charts in White House envelopes. The person transmitting this set did not identify himself.

ACTION:

This additional set of charts will also be destroyed and the binder forwarded to the Exhibits Section for possible future use.

EMPLOYEE SUGGESTION # 24-5-56

Date: 4-23-56

To: Director, FBI

From: [redacted] GS-9 Division of assignment: PITTSBURGH

SUGGESTION: In order to save additional filing space it is suggested that the Bureau consider the destruction of all duplicate serials in all security type cases and the consolidation of all security type files into a single file as they become five years old.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-2-82 BY SP-4 EW/dcg

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts): At the present time, after criminal and applicant cases have been closed for six months, duplicate serials are destroyed and as many as possible cases are consolidated into a single file. An auxiliary Office is to destroy all copies except one of each report before placing security type files on organizations or individuals in closed files section.

Advantages of suggestion: It is estimated that the consolidation of security type cases in the Pittsburgh Office, as well as many other Offices, would result in a 30% reduction in space occupied by these files. Security files occupy approximately 50% of the entire closed files section of this Office.

Disadvantages of suggestion: Occasionally, old reports in security type cases are needed for additional dissemination, although the reproduction of such reports could be performed with a minimum of [illegible] with an autostat machine available in most Field Divisions.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION # 641-56
RECORDS SECTION STREAMLINING COMMITTEE

Destruction of Records proposed by [redacted]

SUGGESTION: Miss [redacted] GS-6, employee of the Consolidation Unit, has suggested throughthat unit's representative of the above committee that the classifiers in the Consolidation Unit when consolidating files be permitted to destroy copies of the same correspondence contained in the consolidated files and delete the cross referencing on the original copies. For example, when a letter is received and it is determined that a copy should be placed in another file, if these two files are consolidated the copy would be destroyed inasmuch as the original copy will be contained in the consolidated file. This suggestion does not come within the purview of employee's duties.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: These copies are filed in the new file directly behind the original.

ADVANTAGES: (1) Elimination of duplicate copies, thus saving space.

(2) Save time of employee consolidating files in not having to refile copies.

DISADVANTAGES: None.

SAVINGS: Savings will be minor in view of the small volume of files consolidated where duplicate copies can be destroyed.

CONCLUSIONS: Suggestion has merit and is being adopted. Will result in minor savings, accordingly the attached letter of acknowledgment is deemed sufficient in connection with this suggestion.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) Favorable.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

SUGGESTION: [redacted], GS-5, employee of the Name Check Unit, has suggested through that unit's representative of the above committee that index cards prepared under out-dated indexing procedures on certain organizations be destroyed. Mr. [redacted] in presenting this suggestion makes reference to his previous suggestion #932-54 (66-5084-639) and to Suggestion #779-53 (66-3286-5574) by [redacted] and [redacted] which related to similarly prepared index cards concerning other organizations. Both of these suggestions were adopted. In considering the previous suggestion submitted by Mr. [redacted] the Domestic Intelligence Division felt the elimination process of index cards concerning organizations could be extended to numerous other organizations provided adequate safeguards were imposed to make sure no pertinent information was lost in the elimination process. The Executives Conference considered this matter and recommended favorably (66-5084-541).

In connection with Mr. [redacted] current suggestion, he listed the following organizations which he feels should be considered:

OBSERVATIONS: Suggestion is merely a continuation of the already existing approved procedure concerning the elimination of out-dated index cards pertaining to organizations. It is our desire, when personnel becomes available for research in the index to proceed further along the lines of eliminating index cards prepared under out-dated indexing procedures. In connection with this suggestion, when personnel becomes available, we will present the organizations cited by Mr. [redacted] as well as any other organizations applicable to the Bureau for authority to dispose of the index cards. SUGGESTION: That when Visa forms are filed in the Visa name check file (105-16424), previous references in the file on the same subject be pulled and destroyed.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Suggester points out that references in this file are eliminated in all name check searches except Visa requests and then the supervisor is only interested in the most recent reference. Suggester feels this would result in a savings in space in the index and a saving in time on the part of the searchers.

OBSERVATIONS: Mr. F. W. Waikart, Records Section, states that a review of this material reflects that the contents of the files consist mainly of Visa name check requests where no identifiable information developed. The possibility exists that this type of material can be destroyed.

Inspector Hennrich, Domestic Intelligence Division, recommends unfavorably. While each successive Visa form filed concerning a specific individual contains identical background data, each form reflects an entry into the United States and the date of that entry. For investigative purposes, it is frequently significant that we know the date of entry in a particular case and, in certain instances, the frequency of entry and the intervals thereof are of value. These Visa forms for the most part deal with the entry of Soviet and satellite officials in whom we have an investigative interest.

RECOMMENDATION: In view of the fact that these Visa forms serve a distinct purpose from an investigative standpoint, it is recommended that the suggestion not be adopted.

EMPLOYEE SUGGESTION #829-56

Date: 6/13/56 Destruction of Duplicate Records - General

To: Director, FBI

From: CARTER E. JONES, SA Division of assignment: Salt Lake City

SUGGESTION: In order to conserve a great deal of cabinet space in the various field offices, it is suggested consideration be given to the destruction of channelizing memoranda in security cases six months or one year after the information in the channelizing memoranda has been reported in an investigative report. It is felt this can be done as the original information will be retained in the informant's report and the vital information pertaining to each subject will be in the investigative report showing the location of the original information.

A charge-out slip could replace the destroyed serials accounting for the skipped serial numbers.

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts):

Section 107, Page 6, subsection G of the Manual of Instructions. The security files in each office at the present time are cluttered with channelizing memoranda which are frequently several pages in length. As a result of this practice, the security files have grown to several volumes.

Advantages of suggestion:

If the above suggestion is followed, the security file on each subject would consist of one or two volumes rather than several volumes, which would conserve a great deal of office and cabinet space. These channelizing memoranda at the present time are useless and have no real value after the information has been incorporated in an investigative report.

Disadvantages of suggestion:

None.

We are aware of our Purge Program to eliminate obsolete and unnecessary cards from our indices now totaling 46 million references.

For the past year ending 3-31-56 we have actually destroyed or marked for destruction 80% as many index cards as new cards filed (1,307,702 destroyed as against 1,633,424 filed).

During the last quarter of this period (1-1-56 to 3-31-56) we actually destroyed or marked for destruction 24% more than we filed (499,319 destroyed against 403,938 filed).

Although a difficult and tedious job, we hope to keep up with this program because the benefits are incalculable in reducing unnecessary work and improving efficiency.

Each field office maintains an index card system representing clerical applicants who contact the office and indicate interest in being employed only in that office. This index is so arranged as to assure that applicants who are veterans will receive the proper preference under the Veterans Preference Act.

The Federal Personnel Manual, page X-1-21 discusses destruction of applicant records in the competitive service. The instructions thus do not specifically apply to us and SA W. E. Clark telephonically contacted Inspector [redacted] of the Civil Service Commission on 7/2/56 to secure his opinion as to how long we had to maintain such records. b6 b7C

He referred to the portion of the instructions relative to the competitive service providing that an office which has not been inspected by the Civil Service Commission within two years can destroy all records more than two years old with prior approval of the appropriate office of the Commission. He said that he felt that we could apply a two-year rule; that anything we wanted to do which was uniform would be all right. He added that having inspected our procedures several years ago as part of a Civil Service Commission inspection of the Department of Justice he was sure that we would act equitably on this problem.

He also said that inasmuch as the Commission does not inspect our field offices and we have our own inspection service we could consider our inspectors to be like Commission inspectors and apply the rule that applicant records could be destroyed if they had been on file as long as one year prior to the date of inspection.

RECORDED - 79 66-3286-718

At the Seat of Government we apply a two-year destruction schedule. It is believed we ought to apply the same rule in the field offices.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the two-year destruction rule be applied in the field offices regarding records of applicants for clerical positions in those offices. A current suggested revision of the Manual of Instructions which is being sent through separately under its own cover memo incorporates this rule.

SUBJECT: EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE MEMORANDA -- RETENTION OF TICKLER COPIES BY TRAINING AND INSPECTION DIVISION

°Destruction of Bureau Property

We propose that the Training and Inspection Division limit the retention of tickler copies of Executives Conference memoranda to those for the current and prior calendar year. We now maintain a file of tickler copies of these memoranda dating back to July 1, 1945; retention authorized, memorandum H. H. Clegg to Mr. Tolson, 2/9/50, on basis of usefulness for ready reference in handling SAC Letters, Bureau Bulletins and Bureau Manuals.

We have had under consideration the reduction of this file, which now occupies two file drawers, in order to conserve both file space and clerical time devoted to maintenance. Because of relative infrequency of reference to the older memoranda, we feel that retention can be limited. It is suggested we be authorized: (1) to destroy the tickler copies for all years prior to January 1, 1955, at this time; (2) to destroy, as of December 31 each year, all of these ticklers for the prior calendar year; that is, as of December 31, 1956, we would destroy all copies for the calendar year 1955.

NOT RECORDED
141 SEP 7 1956

Because of relatively infrequent use of these older memoranda, we can utilize Records Section copies without unduly slowing down operations. Records Section maintains yellow copies of Executives Conference memoranda in date order (two separate files, one for personnel action, other for all other Executives Conference action); original copies filed as to subject matter. These memoranda are indexed by Records Section, both as to subject matter and as to serial number of yellow copy; Training and Inspection Division does not maintain separate index on tickler copies. We feel it is necessary to continue to retain a full prior year's copies because of frequent referral to the more recent memoranda primarily in connection with preparation of SAC Letters and Manual Revisions (questions frequently arise as to intent behind rules which have been decided by Executives Conference), and in considering suggestions under Bureau's suggestion program (many suggestions are of a recurring nature and have previously been presented to Executives Conference).

SUBJECT: WEEKLY INTELLIGENCE SUMMARIES
ARMED SERVICE FORCES

Memphis 8/16/56 requested Bureau authority to destroy Weekly Intelligence Summaries from the Armed Service Forces which are over three years old. Memphis pointed out material had never been indexed because pertinent portions covering Memphis Division summarized information already contained in the Memphis files.

This matter has been discussed with the Processing and Research Section of the Records Branch, Records and Communications Division. Archives approval is required for such destruction even though the material has not been indexed and even though the Military has printed on the documents in question permission to destroy them by burning.

The Records Branch regularly negotiates with Archives for permission to destroy unneccessary records.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. There is enclosed a letter to Memphis stating that its request is being referred to Archives and it will be advised of the results.

16 SEP 18 1956

2. Inasmuch as other field offices may have bulky collections of Weekly Intelligence Summaries from the Armed Services which are becoming obsolete and useless with the passage of time, it is respectfully suggested that the Records Branch obtain blanket authorization from Archives for the destruction of such material which is over three years old in the possession of any field office of the Bureau.

Espionage Section is running into cabinet space problem in retention of reference material. For that reason we are reviewing our reference material to retain that most applicable to work of this Section. At same time we desire to dispose of material to which we do not have need for regular reference, recognizing we can find such material in Bureau files. Similarly, we recognize necessity to record disposition of such material. Accordingly, we are returning such material to originating Sections so that it may be utilized there, maintained for future use or destroyed.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION 52-57
AMERICAN LEGION PROGRAM

Commencing in 1950, the Bureau initiated a program which required the contacting of a representative number of legionnaires in each American Legion Post throughout the country. A separate file was maintained on each American Legion Post in which were placed memoranda reflecting these contacts. In August, 1954, this program was discontinued; and since then, the SAC or ASAC has been required to contact only the National Officers, Departmental (State) Officers, and members of the American Legion Americanism Commission. A letter is submitted to the Bureau on March 15 of each year by each field office indicating these contacts have been made.

A suggestion was received from [redacted], a clerk in the Albany Office, that offices be given authority to destroy or consolidate these files in order to conserve file space. We requested the recommendations of 10 offices which included large, small, and average sized offices regarding the desirability of destruction, consolidation, or retention of these files and the amount of file space which could be conserved as a result. All offices reported these files have little, if any, potential value. Eight of the offices unequivocally recommended destruction of the files since they are not used, are not up to date, and serve no useful purpose. They pointed out that in the event the program should be reinstituted in the future, these files would not be of any value since they would not reflect the identity of the present members. Two offices recommended consolidation as they felt these files might be of a potential value at some future date in connection with development of anonymous sources in security cases, ascertaining reliable persons to contact in neighborhood or fugitive investigations, or in considering possible sources and potential security informants.

The savings in file space in the event the files are destroyed, based on the average of the above 10 offices, is 6 file drawers per office. In the event of consolidation the savings is estimated at about 2½ file drawers per office.

OBSERVATIONS:

NOT RECORDED
126 SEP 19 1956

It does not appear that the potential value of these files warrants their retention at this time. There have been no American Legion recontacts, except those mentioned above, since August, 1954.

and, therefore, the files do not reflect current information concerning present membership in the American Legion. If the program were reinstituted these files would be of little, if any, value. In the event an office desires to contact American Legion members in a particular area, it can ascertain their identities through a list of the current American Legion membership in the possession of each office.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. It is recommended that the field be authorized to destroy these files and remove the index cards based on these files from the general indices. If you agree, there is attached a proposed SAC Letter to the field authorizing their destruction. No manual or handbook changes are involved.

2. This memorandum should be furnished to the Training and Inspection Division for appropriate action on the suggestion of the Bureau employee of the Albany Office.

ADDENDUM BY RECORDS SECTION:

Records Section agrees that the Field be authorized to dispose of these American Legion files. However, Archival authority to actually destroy this material must be secured prior to issuing instructions to the Field to destroy these files. SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS
(66-3286)

Reference is made to my memorandum dated 9-4-56 attaching a memorandum to the Department transmitting the request for authority to dispose of records relating to (1) the American Legion Contact Program maintained in the Field Offices and (2) records relating to Weekly Intelligence Summaries maintained in the Field Offices. I recommended that this request be forwarded to the Department for subsequent referral to the National Archives Records Service.

Mr. Hardee Allen, National Archives Records Service, telephonically contacted me today and subsequently discussed our request with SA Marshall. He requested that we resubmit Item 2 of referenced request on a separate form. He stated that with regard to Item 1, we had indicated that all records would be destroyed whereas in connection with Item 2 we had indicated that the material would be retained for three years and then destroyed. He continued that from the Archival standpoint, these are two different categories of records to be destroyed and requested resubmission of Item 2 as a separate request.

There is attached hereto a memorandum to the Department transmitting a separate request in accordance with the request of the National Archives Records Service.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached memorandum be approved and forwarded to the Department.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF OBSOLETE MATERIAL PERSONNEL RECORDS UNIT

There is maintained in the Personnel Records Unit a file entitled "Administrative School" (67-026), consisting of 51 serials. These serials consist of reports submitted and observations concerning Agents in attendance at Administrative Schools held in the Bureau. Copies of the majority of this mail have been placed in individual personnel files of Agents in attendance at these schools. No mail has been placed in this file since 1939.

This file is not used and inasmuch as it appears to contain obsolete information which is duplicated elsewhere, it is felt that the file should be destroyed. Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of this file.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Administrative Division and the Training & Inspection Division for a decision as to the possible destruction of material contained in the file captioned "Administrative Schools."

RE: DUAL HEADQUARTERS FILE
(66-2596)

There is maintained in the Records Branch a file entitled "Dual Headquarters"(66-2596). This file, which was opened in 1929, consists of five sections of 416 serials. Serial 413 is dated in July 1938 and since that time only three recorded serials have been placed in this file. The majority of the file consists of lists containing the names of Bureau employees who have dual headquarters or have headquarters in a city other than a Field Division headquarters city. The fact that the employee has dual headquarters would also be reflected in the employee's personnel file.

This file is very rarely used and it appears that the majority of the information contained in the file is of no value to the Bureau today. Similar information is contained elsewhere in the Bureau's files. It is being recommended that the Records Branch be authorized to dispose of all lists and form letters contained in this file and retain only matters involving policy or matters which may be of historical interest. Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of this type of material.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Administrative Division and that the Records Branch be authorized to destroy all material in this file which is not of a policy nature or which may be of value from a historical standpoint.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FBI REPORTS
OFFICE OF THE PROVOST MARSHAL GENERAL DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

Bureau Records - General

On September 25, 1956, Miss [redacted], Administrative Officer, Office of the Provost Marshal General, through Bureau Liaison advised that that office had on file numerous FBI reports concerning officer personnel under the control of the Provost Marshal General. [redacted] explained that some years ago a name check had been made of FBI files concerning these officers. A great deal of the information reflected in the Bureau reports, according to [redacted], if of a derogatory nature at all is of a very minor nature and under current Army regulations is prohibited from being put in an individual's Army personnel file (201 file). [redacted] stated that her inquiry was to ascertain whether the Bureau desired these reports returned or whether permission could be granted to destroy same.

It was ascertained from [redacted] that copies of these reports are maintained in the files of the Central Records Facility (CRF), Fort Holabird, Maryland, on each of the individuals involved. Hoffman was advised by SA D. J. Sullivan, Liaison Section, that if assurances could be given that copies of these reports were maintained in the CRF files and that if the Office of the Provost Marshal maintained a record of the destruction of such reports, it would be within the discretion of that office whether they should be destroyed or not since the Bureau did not desire that they be returned to the Bureau. [redacted] gave assurances that copies of the reports in question were maintained at CRF.

In connection with our records management policy designed to eliminate valueless and obsolete material from the Bureau's records, Miss [redacted], Supervisor of the Consolidation Unit, has suggested that the files set forth below, all pertaining to the work of the Identification Division, be considered for destruction. This suggestion comes within the purview of Miss [redacted] duties and no acknowledgement is deemed necessary.

1. Criminal Fingerprints 66-1631-5. File contains statistics regarding the number of criminal fingerprints received from police departments of cities containing over 100,000 population. File was opened in 1925, consists of five sections, 409 serials and the last piece of mail in file is dated July 7, 1943. Serial 409, which is the last serial, contains these statistics for the fiscal years 1925 through 1943 inclusive and should be retained from a historical standpoint. The remainder of the material in file appears to be of no value to the Bureau and it is felt that the material should be destroyed. Of course, any material relating to historical or policy matters would be retained.

2. Visitors to the Identification Division 66-1631-10. File contains a record of visitors to the Identification Division and individuals desiring fingerprint data between the years 1929 and 1936. Consists of 16 sections, 2,586 serials and the last serial is dated July 21, 1936. The names of visitors were indexed as well as the individuals referring these people to the Bureau. It is estimated that there are approximately 7,000 names which have been indexed in this file. This material appears to be of no value to the Bureau today, and it is felt that all names indexed should be deindexed to eliminate unnecessary file reviews. Material in this file which is not of a historical or policy nature should be destroyed to gain space which can be more efficiently used.

The file was opened in 1942 and the last serial in file is dated in August 1952. File consists of one section and 40 serials. Material in file does not appear to be of any current value to Bureau and suitable for destruction. Material of a historical or policy nature will be retained.

Destruction of the above listed material will enable us to gain the space occupied by approximately ten index drawers and approximately one and one half file cabinet drawers. Archival authority not necessary for administrative type material of this nature.

Reference is made to the attached memorandum dated October 4, 1956, from Mr. Short to Mr. Nichols.

Prior to 1953, the names of facilities holding classified contracts were indexed in Bureau indices. This entailed the preparation of many thousands of index cards during a year which were seldom, if ever, referred to. We have not been indexing these names since 1953 and the identity of plants holding classified contracts are known only to the field offices. Under the Bureau's present plan of the Plant Informant Program we, of course, contact only the security officer of the plant. In reporting information affecting these plants, the field indicates that the plant holds a classified contract thus setting forth the reasons for the dissemination of the report to interested agencies.

The plants indexed in Bureau files prior to 1953 are completely out of date and are of no value to the Bureau at the present time. Many of these plants would no longer be engaged in contract work with the military forces and the continuation of indexed cards has no worthwhile purpose.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Records Section be granted authority to de-index the material referred to. If you approve, this memorandum should be routed to the Records Section.

ORIGINAL FILED IN 66-17380-

Letter to Legal Attache, Paris

All Other European and Far Eastern Offices -

"Criminal" and "applicant and other" when closed three years.
Security-type cases when closed five years.

When files are destroyed a record whould be made of such in the same manner as provided on page 13 of Section 3 of the Manual of Rules and Regulations. If portions only of a file are destroyed a brief memo should be placed in the file stating what has been done.

With the exception of informant files the breakdown appearing on page 25 of Section 3 of the Manual of Rules and Regulations may be used as a guide in determining what are "criminal", "security" and "applicant and other" files.

Where security information is included in criminal and other type files, however, it should be treated as security information and not destroyed except as provided for security information. Informant files hsould not be destroyed.

Index cards should not be destroyed; thus if reference is fould to an individual in your indices and if that particular file has been destroyed, it will be an immediate flag to have the Bureau indices checked if necessary.

If now or at any time in the future any office feels that the period for retaining closed files as previously outlined in this letter should be either lengthened or shortened, you should immediately submit your recommendations to the Bureau furnishing full facts.

Each office should survey the magnitude of this project and furnish an estimate to the Bureau as to the date when all files over the age limit will have been reviewed and those to be destroyed will have been destroyed. Ticklers should be set to review and destroy files reaching the age limit on a monthly basis. When the project is brought to a current basis each office should advise the Bureau and also state that considering the potential danger the volume of files on hand is manageable and could be destroyed in any foreseeable emergency, or furnish your further recommendations designed to meet this end. An annual tickler should also be set to reconsider this problem and you should advise the Bureau between August 1 and September 1 of each year that this has been done and that the files are manageable and that those on hand could be destroyed in the event of any foreseeable emergency.

II WESTERN HEMISPHERE OFFICES

The political situation in the host countries and the geographical location of these offices is such that the potential danger is appreciably less than in those countries outside the western hemisphere.

The possible disadvantages in destroying files when weighed against the potential danger indicate that no special instructions for destruction of files in these offices should be issued at this time. It will be incumbent upon you, however, to to call to the Bureau's attention any embryo threat whether due to changing political atmosphere in that country or otherwise and to furnish your recommendations relative to this matter as soon as detected. It is, of course, your responsiblity also to be informed of such a threat. You should also set up a tickler to report to the Bureau each year between August 1 and September 1 furnishing the same assurances, and recommendations of necessary, as do the offices outside the western hemisphere.

From a review of the survey material submitted by the Havana Office it appears that certain files are being retained unnecessarity. Havana should review pages 13 through 15 of Section 3 of the Manual of Rules and Regulations and take appropriate action relative to the destruction of these files.

Mexico City space problem will be made the subject of a separate communication.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #156-57
Made by SA Harry F. Clifford, Jr.
SA Warren W. Richmond
SA Leo A. Schon
San Francisco Division

Destruction of Bureau Property Rec'd

PRESENT PROCEDURE: When information is received from a security informant, either his report or a memo on information furnished is prepared and it is placed in a subfile relating to that informant. A memo is then prepared setting forth the various items of information furnished and copies of this memo are placed in each file to which the contents of the memo relate. The original memo furnished by the informant is placed in the subfile of the informant and also any memo prepared therefrom or any memo which is prepared on the basis of oral information is likewise placed in this file and referred to as a channelizing memo.

SUGGESTION: Channelizing memoranda now serialized be destroyed, after pertinent information has been received in report. A form memorandum could be prepared to be placed in each volume to show the serial numbers of the eliminated channelizing memoranda and the location of the original material on which the channelizing memoranda are based.

Those channelizing memoranda which are not yet serialized should be marked "DO NOT SERIALIZE" and treated as inserts in the file, but never serialized. When the report is written, the documentation on the administrative page of the report will show the location of the original information (in the informant's report file), and the copies of the channelizing memoranda in the case files can be destroyed.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Suggesters believe the suggestion will save literally hundreds of thousands of dollars per year in the salaries of serializers in pending and closed files, in the cost of file cabinets and in the cost of the ever-increasing space occupied by these millions of channelizing memoranda.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Whelan, San Francisco, believes the suggestion has merit and will save a tremendous amount of space. He notes that the three suggesters have a combined [illegible] over 40 years experience on security matters.

Domestic Intelligence Division recommends that the suggestion not be adopted. A security subject who merely attends a meeting of a subversive organization will often report the dates and places of these meetings. The names of other individuals present, and various circumstances surrounding such meetings will often not be included in the report. Agents preparing for interviews with such subjects should certainly have available every known fact surrounding the meetings attended by the subject and the activities engaged in by him in order to conduct a productive interview. Destruction of channelizing memoranda would necessitate time-consuming search for the original report concerning the various meetings and activities.

Security reports are prepared for future prosecution of one type or another which would, in the event of an emergency, be conducted on a wholesale basis involving many Security Index Subjects simultaneously. In such an event, it would be virtually impossible for the many Agents attempting to review original informant reports or original copies of channelizing memoranda contained in the informants' files, preparatory to either interview or cross-examination of the subjects, to find the informant files available due to the demand on the part of the number of Agents for the same file at the same time.

In destroying channelizing memoranda, often valuable intelligence information would be destroyed which is not incorporated into a report but is of real importance in subsequent investigations. If memoranda containing such information were destroyed, the information would then be located only in the informant's original reports, thus entailing expenditure of additional Agent time in locating and reviewing these reports.

Domestic Intelligence Division agrees that some savings would be realized in so far as filing cabinets and space are concerned. No appreciable amount of money would be saved in clerical duties.

With regard to that portion of the suggestion recommending that channelizing memoranda be treated in files as inserts, Mr. Belmont states it is dangerous to put information into a file without serialization as the element of accountability then is missing, leaving no assurance the information either gets to the file or will stay in the file until the report is dictated.

The Executives Conference of July 6, 1953, considered a similiar suggestion and was unanimously opposed to it as it would involve considerable additional work on the part of the Agents and clerks in removing the channelizing memoranda from the files and then destroying them; and these memoranda, usually one page in length, do not pose a problem of considerable bulk which would justify this additional work. The Conference felt that the channelizing memoranda should remain in the file for purposes of future reference.

RECOMMENDATION: That the suggestion not be adopted. No further action appears necessary as the suggesters have been thanked for expressing their observations.

PURGE OF INDEX CARDS

PROTECTION OF CLASSIFIED INFORMATION (PROCLI)
ESPIONAGE - R
File #100-349987

By SAC Letter dated April 14, 1947, the Bureau instituted a program whereby each Field Office was required to obtain from field establishments of the armed forces, the names of all companies and universities handling classified research projects. The Field Offices then were to establish liaison with all such organizations within their territories to insure proper coverage of our responsibilities in the espionage field. Numerous lists of these projects were received both from our Field Offices and from the intelligence services. These were completely indexed by the Records Branch until 1953 when the Domestic Intelligence Division advised that such indexing would no longer be necessary. This type of mail has not been indexed since. It appears that the names of all companies and universities indexed in this file can now be de-indexed.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Espionage Section, Domestic Intelligence Division for its opinion as to whether the material described above should be de-indexed.

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont

A 60-day survey conducted by the Legal Attaches' offices, tabulating the number of times their closed files were referred to, discloses that all types of files decrease in value with age. Closed security files are referred to with much greater frequency than are other type files. During the 60-day period Spain had no occasion to refer to a file closed more than 5 years old although space used to store these files is over twice the space used to store files closed less than 5 years. England, during the survey period, referred to security files closed over 5 years 28 times but referred to security files closed under 5 years 133 times during the same period.

Practically all information in both criminal and security files of the foreign offices is duplicated at the Seat of Government. In all instances the Bureau acts as office of origin in cases handled by foreign offices. A large volume of the work of the foreign offices is handling of specific leads at the direction of the Bureau.

Considering the foregoing, it is believed that the most satisfactory solution to this problem of disposing of files in an emergency is to destroy files closed for more than a certain period on a selective basis now. Indices cards will not be destroyed. This will entail some additional correspondence between the foreign offices and the Bureau where their indices cards indicate prior record on an individual. It is believed that this is preferable, however, to the risk of continued accumulation of files of such security importance in foreign countries where a possibility of falling into the hands of the enemy exists.

The advisability of delaying destruction of files on a selective basis until a critical phase when war appears imminent has been considered. It is not believed advisable to further delay this action.

From a review of the data submitted by the foreign offices, it appears that for all offices outside the western hemisphere with the exception of Bonn, Germany, the Legal Attaches should be authorized to destroy all security files on a selective basis after they have been closed 5 years and non security files after they have been closed 3 years. The Legal Attache must retain, however, any material which in his opinion should not be destroyed. This would include material of possible future value which has not been furnished to the Bureau, copies of correspondence with U.S. or foreign agencies not duplicated at the Bureau which might reasonably become the subject of controversy at a future date, cases in which future activity can be reasonably anticipated, informant files, or any other material which in the best judgment of the Legal Attache should not be destroyed.

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont

Bonn, Germany, is so close to Russian controlled territory (approximately 150 miles) that this office could almost be overrun and occupied during the evening hours if hostilities started. The problem, therefore, is more acute. For this reason it is recommended that this office be authorized to destroy security files closed more than 3 years and non security files when closed over one year.

The danger of sudden occupation of the offices in the western hemisphere is remote. In view of the possible disadvantages occasioned by destruction of files, it is believed that there should be no change in present policy with regard to these offices. These offices should, however, review their situations annually and assure the Bureau that considering any potential danger they are in a position to cope with the situation. They are also being placed on notice that should the situation change at any time, the Bureau should be promptly notified and their recommendation submitted.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter to the foreign offices be approved. This letter authorizes the Legal Attaches' offices outside the western hemisphere (Paris, London, Bonn, Madrid, Rome and Tokyo) to destroy their files as previously noted in this memorandum. Mexico, Havana and Rio are advised that they should submit assurances to the Bureau annually as previously noted in this memorandum. Ottawa being in no greater danger than domestic field offices has not been included in the survey.

ADDENDUM: (WFE:mls - 10/3/56) Archival authority granted to Bureau is sufficiently broad to cover destruction of files as recommended.

SUBJECT: BUPLANS - DESTRUCTION OF FILES IN LEGAL ATTACHES' OFFICES

In the event of hostilities the destruction of files by our foreign offices, particularly the European offices, to prevent capture by the enemy could present a serious problem. These files contain information not only relative to the contacts, sources and information in the foreign country, but also much specific information relative to double agents, espionage cases, Bureau operations and other information about the continental United States that would be highly detrimental to the interests of the United States if placed in the hands of the enemy.

Research still has developed no practical method for the destruction of a large volume of files other than by fire. Complete burning of voluminous material other than in a blast furnace or similar apparatus is slow. Embassy incinerator facilities are limited and will be overtaxed by their own file destruction problem. Other facilities in foreign countries cannot be relied upon. The situation is further complicated by inadequate facilities to remove voluminous files from the office buildings where located. Reduction of the volume of files to be destroyed would, of course, reduce the magnitude of the problem. While a priority system has been established for the destruction of files, even the criminal-type files contain information as to sources and Bureau operations which should not fall into the hands of the enemy.

Microfilming the files has been considered. Memorandum dated May 11, 1956, from L. E. Short to Assistant to the Director Nichols considered this problem. The foreign offices do not have the equipment for microfilming nor the viewers to review them if microfilmed. Preparation of the material for photographing, the actual photographing of the material, transportation of the film to the Seat of Government, its development here and return to the foreign office, and its eventual arrangement in file sequence would require a substantial expenditure in supplies and man hours. The records branch, based upon their experience with microfilming at the Seat of Government, does not consider the microfilming of files in foreign offices feasible.

RE: File Entitled "Number One Man"
(66-2460)

The above captioned file was opened in 1928 and contains information between the Bureau and the various Field Offices concerning Special Agents designated as Number One Men in the Field Offices, who would act as Agents in Charge in the absence of the SAC. The file consists of six sections and contains 1,207 serials. No material has been placed in this file since February, 1941.

When this file was set up, it apparently was the practice to place copies of this type of material in five different files: (1) the Agent's personnel file, (2) Field Office personnel file, (3) Agent's administrative file, (4) Field Office administrative file, and (5) the Number One Man file. This matter was considered by the Executives Conference on January 20, 1940, and it was concluded that it would only be necessary to file this type of material in the Agent's personnel and administrative files (66-2460-1205). As a result of this decision, the use of this file was discontinued.

In view of the fact that the majority of this material is duplicated in the individual personnel files, and in accordance with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is felt that the material in this file should be destroyed. Of course, any mail relating to policy or historical matters would be retained.

Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of administrative-type material of this nature.

SUBJECT: INDEX PURGE MATTERS
MOVEMENT OF NATIONALS

Rememo 10-30-56 from Mr. L. E. Short to Mr. Nichols concerning the captioned matter. Rememo proposed that the Domestic Intelligence Division submit its recommendations relative to indexing this file which contains lists of travelers of various nationalities to and from foreign countries, mainly those in South and Central America. It was suggested that such information, which is ten or more years old, has no further value and should be de-indexed.

This matter has been discussed with the appropriate supervisors in the Espionage Section handling the pertinent South and Central American countries and they are agreed that referenced material is not of sufficient value at this time to warrant its continued reference in the Bureau's indices.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be forwarded for appropriate consideration and action by the Records and Communications Division.

SUBJECT: INDEX PURGE MATTERS
MOVEMENT OF NATIONALS
File #64-5003

The above file contains numerous lists of persons of various nationalities traveling to and from foreign countries, mainly those in South and Central America. These lists were obtained from numerous sources including various United States and foreign government agencies and from various transportation companies. All of the thousands of names contained in them were indexed. The file consists of thirty-four sections, the first thirty of which cover the years from 1940 to 1946. It appears that none of this information ten or more years old has further value and it should be de-indexed. It is not proposed to destroy the mail at this time. Archival authority for destruction will be secured at a later date along with other material.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division for its evaluation of this material and its opinion as to whether it should be de-indexed. Sections fourteen and twenty-seven of this file which contain mail typifying this problem are attached.

On 2-6-51 the Bureau received authority to destroy extra copies of fingerprint cards of deceased individuals after notice of death was received. The authority was granted by the Joint Committee on the Disposition of Executive Papers (Bufile 66-3286-450). The authority to do this reads as follows:

"Fingerprint cards of persons who have died with the exception that one 'master' fingerprint card shall be retained. The fingerprint cards to be destroyed are sole record copies; however, a 'master record sheet (T-2)' bears a record of all fingerprint cards received on the individual. The cards to be destroyed include, but are not restricted to, criminal, non-criminal, military service, U. S. Civil Service, and alien registration fingerprints received from law enforcement agencies, other governmental agencies, and private industry. Retention period: Until proper notification of death of individual in whose file there is more than one fingerprint card."

At that time, it was decided by the Bureau that these fingerprint cards should be destroyed ten years after notice of death. This ten-year waiting period has more than adequately handled any situations.

This waiting period can be reduced. The fingerprint cards of deceased individuals can be destroyed five years after notice of death without any difficulty. This will help also to save space. The above is submitted for the Bureau's consideration.

FROM : The Executives Conference

SUBJECT: FINGERPRINTS OF DECEASED INDIVIDUALS
DESTRUCTION OF FINGERPRINT CARDS

Present at the Executives Conference on December 10, 1956, were Messrs. Nease, Tamm, Rosen, Nichols, Parsons, Holloman and Trotter. Trotter presented for consideration a proposal to destroy some of our fingerprint records of deceased individuals.

On February 6, 1951, the Bureau was granted authority by the Joint Committee on the Disposition of Executive Papers to destroy certain of the fingerprint cards of deceased individuals after they have been placed in our fingerprint dead file. Under the terms of this authority, one master fingerprint card shall be retained indefinitely along with the copy of the complete record of the individual. All other fingerprint cards in that particular individual's record could then be destroyed.

As a matter of policy, the Bureau has followed the practice of retaining for a period of ten years after the individual has died the complete fingerprint record. Thus, under our present practice we do not destroy those cards authorized for destruction until ten years after date of death. We now, therefore, will place a record in the dead file, leave it there for ten years, and then destroy all but one fingerprint card and a complete copy of the man's record.

Trotter proposed that this ten year period be reduced to five years. It was felt that we would pick up some space by doing this. Although the exact amount of space cannot be calculated if the decision to reduce the waiting period to five years is followed, this will affect 39,000 records in our files. It was pointed out that we have had no requests for a deceased individual's record which would require producing the fingerprint cards in the file which go beyond five years after death.

INDEXED - 96
16 DEC 17 1956

The Executives Conference was unanimously in favor of destroying all but one fingerprint card and complete copy of the record of deceased individuals five years from the date on which the individual was declared deceased. Should you agree this policy will be placed in effect immediately.

As you know, all administrative types of mail relating to Bureau employees is now filed in the individual personnel files. Previously it was the practice to file this mail alphabetically by employee in separate individual files referred to as "alphabetical administrative files," however since 1946, this particular type of mail has been filed in the personnel files of clerical employees and since July 1, 1951, in the personnel files of Special Agents.

In 1952, we had 104 file cabinets containing an estimated 38,000 administrative files of which approximately 30,000 related to out-of-service personnel. On 12-31-52 the Executives Conference approved the destruction of all correspondence in the out-of-service administrative files with the exception of those categories of correspondence shown on the attached list (67-80002-525). The correspondence retained was integrated into the out-of-service personnel file.

At the present time, we have 24, 4-drawer cabinets maintained in the Personnel Records Unit containing administrative types of mail dated prior to July 1, 1951, concerning in-service personnel. These files are very infrequently used, occupy valuable space and equipment which could be utilized to better advantage and in conformance with good records management procedures, it is proposed that consideration be given to the destruction of all material in these files with the exception of those categories shown on the attached list. The material which should be retained will be integrated into the employee's personnel file.

Archival authority is not necessary to destroy this type of material.

Personnel are not available at the present time to perform this operation; however, if the recommendation is approved, it will be done as soon as personnel are available.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS
66-3286

Re: Files entitled
"Salaries and Expenses (66-2613)"
"Salaries and Expenses (66-1986)"

In connection with our records management program designed to eliminate valueless and obsolete material from the Bureau's records, there is set forth below information concerning the above captioned files which appear to contain information of no current value to the Bureau.

1. Salaries and Expenses (66-2613). File opened in 1929, consists of six sections, 182 serials and the last serial is dated in 1942. This serial contains a notation, "See file 66-1986 for subsequent memos re these matters." This file contains information concerning supplies used by Bureau field offices and the appropriation to be used in connection with such expenditures. The majority of the information contained therein consists of memoranda attaching schedules of shipments and invoices. It does not appear that this material is of any current value to the Bureau and it is felt that the material should be destroyed. Of course, any material relating to policy or historical matters would be retained. Archival authority not necessary for destruction of ~~the~~ administrative type ~~of~~ material of this nature.

2. Salaries and Expenses (66-1986). File was opened in 1926, consists of five sections, 590 serials and contains information up to the current date. Approximately the first 490 serials consist of weekly reports to the Director entitled "Employees paid from 'Detection and Prosecution of Crimes.'" In November 1933 the title of this report was changed to "Employees paid from 'Salaries and Expenses, Division of Investigation.'" These reports appear to be of no current value and should be destroyed. It appears that the majority of the material maintained in the first four sections of this file could be destroyed. Section 5 which is the last section contains information of a more current nature, contains some policy material and should be retained at the present time. Archival authority is not necessary for destruction of administrative type ~~of~~ material of this nature.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS --
FILES ENTITLED: "Salaries and Expenses (66-2613)"
"Salaries and Expenses (66-1986)"

Reference is made to the memorandum of Mr. Eames to Mr. Nichols dated December 4, 1956, on the above subject which recommended that the Administrative Division consider the possible destruction of the files involved.

The files in question have been reviewed and the following conclusions reached:

1. - Salaries and Expenses (66-2613)

Destroyed in Consolidation 1/25/57 mcw

All sections of this file should be destroyed except a few serials relating to policy matters which should be transferred to the appropriation files for the fiscal years involved. The various sections of this file have already been returned to Mr. Marshall in the Records Section with the serials to be retained appropriately marked.

2. - Salaries and Expenses (66-1986)

From a review of all sections of this file it is felt that they should all be retained because the weekly reports filed therein constitute our only record of the Bureau's personnel on the rolls from 1924 through June, 1941. From June, 1941 to the current time such information is contained on 3 x 5 cards maintained in the Budget Unit of this Division. It is necessary from time to time to refer to these old reports as the basis for making comparative tabulations of the Bureau's personnel and for preparing other budgetary information. During the review, it was found there were quite a few pieces of correspondence filed in this file which belonged in 66-2613. This correspondence can now be destroyed since it is on the same subject as that recommended above to be destroyed. There are certain other serials in this file which it is felt should be transferred to the regular "appropriation" files. The material left relates to the number of employees by classes (agents, clerks, etc.) paid from FBI funds. It is felt that the subject should be changed to reflect this fact.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that all of the material in 66-1986 except that relating to the number of employees on the Bureau's payrolls be transferred to the regular appropriation files for the fiscal years involved. Serials in all sections of this file that should be removed have been marked with 3 x 5 slips of paper. The title for the file that will be left should be revised to indicate something along the line of "Employees paid from FBI appropriations (Salaries and Expenses, FBI)." The file is being retained in my office and if recommendation is approved it will be turned over to the Files Section for appropriate action.

RE: MATERIAL MAINTAINED IN FILE ENTITLED " IN-SERVICE SCHOOL" (1-19)

There is maintained in the Records Branch a file entitled "In-Service School" (1-19) with a sub file for each field office. These sub files contain administrative memoranda concerning Special Agents attending In-Service Training, cancellations of In-Service Training, replacement due to cancellations, etc. At the present time, this type of material is not being filed unless it contains something of an unusual nature. It is retained in the Movement Unit of the Administrative Division for 60 days and then destroyed.

In line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate valueless and obsolete material from the Bureau's records, it does not appear that this material is of any current value to the Bureau and accordingly should be destroyed. This matter has been discussed with SA Clayton of the Administrative Division who agreed that this type of material should be destroyed; however, anything placed in the files within the past year should be retained. Of course, anything contained in these files of a historical or policy nature will be retained.

Archival authority not necessary for destruction of administrative type of material of this nature.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4 EJW/Cal

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records Branch be authorized to destroy all material maintained in the sub files of File 1-19 which is not of a historical or policy nature with the exception of material placed in these files in the past year. (This recommendation is in accordance with conversation with SA Clayton of the Administrative Division).

RE: SEMI-ANNUAL INVENTORY OF PROPERTY ACQUIRED AS EVIDENCE

Manual of Rules and Regulations, Section 8E, page 21, requires each field office to submit to the Bureau in triplicate, on August 1 and February 1, an inventory of property acquired during investigations. The originals of this inventory are detached, sent to the substantive supervisor handling the particular violation, and are subsequently filed in the individual case files to which they relate. The copies of this inventory are filed in the administrative (66) file for the submitting field office. Obviously, these inventories are extremely bulky, especially those received from the larger field offices, and occupy substantial filing space.

It appears that the most recent or current inventory submitted supercedes the previous inventory and renders the previous inventory valueless at the Seat of Government. Accordingly, in line with our records management program designed to eliminate valueless and obsolete material from the Bureau's records, it is proposed that in the field office administrative files maintained at the Bureau, we retain only the most recent inventory and destroy all prior inventories. This same procedure would be applied to all subsequent inventory submissions. Substantial space would be gained from this operation. It is pointed out that the individual case files would still contain copies of property acquired relating to the particular case.

RECORDED 66-3286-734

Archival authority is not necessary to destroy administrative-type material of this nature.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Investigative Division for consideration that only the most recent or current submission of the semi-annual inventory of property acquired as evidence be retained in the field office administrative files at the Bureau and all prior submissions be destroyed.

Consideration is being given to purging from the Bureau's general index some of the numerous names indexed in the captioned case which now appear to be no longer of value at the Seat of Government. Among the categories of names indexed are those of 17,000 owners of Model-A Fords, who were eliminated as suspects. Also under consideration are the names of 7,200 parolees from Washington State penal institutions which are set out in letter from your office to the Bureau dated August 18, 1937.

You are requested to determine by spot check if these names appear in the indices of your office and to advise the Bureau promptly of the results of this check.

NOTE: This letter written per request of Mr. Rosen to assist in his consideration of the problem of de-indexing the MATNAP file. See memorandum from L. E. Short to Mr. Nichols dated January 9, 1957, subject: INDEX - PURGE MATTERS, File #66-3286, Re: De-Indexing of Matnap File (7-1820).

SUBJECT: INDEX - PURGE MATTERS

RE: DE-INDEXING OF MATNAP FILE (7-1820)

The above file presently contains about 47,000 serials in which we have indexed an estimated 225,000 names. Ninety per cent of this mail is dated prior to 1950 at which time we adopted the policy of drastically reduced indexing. A portion of this mail has been de-indexed, but there still remains the possibility of de-indexing an estimated 33,000 cards. Since extreme care is necessary in the handling of this particular file it is contemplated that de-indexing should be considered only within the following categories:

1. Persons interviewed who furnished no information of value.

2. Mass checks in which no suspects were developed, such as:
   (a) Names of 17,775 owners of model A Ford automobiles which were checked through Bureau records for criminal information and photographs.
   (b) Names and prison numbers of 7,200 parolees from Washington State penal institutions which were submitted to the Identification Division for latent fingerprint comparisons.

3. Names of law enforcement officials, routinely contacted.

4. References in undeveloped [illegible]

5. Miscellaneous phrases and words of no particular value, such as: "tire tread prints", "footprints", etc.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the General Investigative Division for its views as to the desirability of de-indexing in accordance with the above.

RECOMMENDATION INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION:

This is a pending case and extreme care is necessary in any de-indexing. No index card should be destroyed on any individual on whom investigation has been conducted. This applies to 2(a) since sufficient investigation was conducted to eliminate each of these individuals. It appears reasonable to destroy the index cards in the other listed categories.

RE: "BUILDING PASSES"
(66-2659)

The above captioned file was opened in 1929 and contains correspondence relating to the issuance of Department of Justice building passes to Bureau employees. There are four sections of this file containing 986 recorded serials and thirteen sections containing non-recorded mail. These seventeen sections occupy approximately one file drawer.

The majority of the mail in this file consists of memoranda between the Bureau and the Department relating to passes requested or cancelled. In August of 1951, the use of the present type of badge was instituted thus eliminating the Department of Justice passes and identification badges utilized up to that time. (66-2659-986)

In accordance with our records management program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is felt the majority of the material in this file should be destroyed. Of course, any mail relating to policy or historical matters will be retained.

Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of material of this type. General Records Schedule number eleven, item four, issued by the General Services Administration relating to identification credentials, authorizes the destruction of this type of material after all credentials have been accounted for.

SUBJECT: DISPOSITION OF IDENTIFICATION DIVISION CORRESPONDENCE

Destruction + Disposal Program

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. Clegg to Mr. Tolson dated 3-15-49 (66-3286-371). This memorandum provided that Special Agent Supervisory personnel in the Identification Division be permitted to authorize, at their discretion, the destruction of pieces of mail falling within the six categories listed. These categories are set out as follows:

1. Letters received from law enforcement officials or others entitled to information asking if an individual's fingerprints are or are not identical with another.

2. Letters from individuals informing us of their change of legal name.

3. Letters received from those entitled to a record, either in this country, or in a foreign country, asking whether or not we have the record of an individual.

4. Letters from individuals asking for a copy of their criminal record, or for information to which they are not entitled, and we do not return the correspondence because Bureau stamps have been placed thereon.

Letters from Police Departments enclosing fingerprints and asking for a search of the fingerprints through our files, and that they be advised of the results. Sometimes, we do this by letter, or advise that all the fingerprint cards for which they requested a search were not enclosed.

6. Letters received from law enforcement officials informing us that a wanted man is now in custody, and that the wanted notice should be cancelled.

MEMO SHORT TO NICHOLS 3-5-57
RE: Disposition of Ident
Div. Correspondence

It is believed that the provisions for destroying such mail are sound and should be reiterated to personnel in both the Identification Division and the Records and Communications Division.

In order to minimize filing of worthless material and to cut down on indexing, the following additions should be made to the types of mail that may be destroyed.

Through the facilities of our San Diego radio station many requests for criminal records are received by way of teletype. It is believed that the mere fact that a Bureau field office is assisting on a police cooperation matter, which if handled by the police department directly with the Bureau would not result in mail being filed in this Division, that no good reason exists for filing and indexing that mail merely because Bureau communications are involved.

It should make no difference whether the request is a "no record" or a record is actually furnished. In either event, the filing and indexing of the mail in the Records Branch is unnecessary. This matter has been discussed with representatives of the Communications Section and the Identification Division, and they know of no reason why this mail need be filed.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this be referred to the Identification Division for their consideration and approval. If the new procedure is approved, steps will taken to purge material indexed under the old procedure. (Archival authority already secured to destroy all of the above described mail and such authority could be extended to include the new material recommended for disposal.)

SUGGESTION: When criminal fingerprint cards are received in the Identification Division and found to be duplicate of a print already answered with the exception of a disposition of a prior arrest added, that the duplicate prints be destroyed the same as disposition sheets. Disposition sheets (Form R-84) are submitted by law enforcement agencies to indicate disposition of a prior arrest; however, some agencies are submitting another fingerprint card to indicate the disposition.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: Duplicate fingerprint cards are returned to the contributor.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Would save time in returning fingerprint cards.

OBSERVATIONS: Mr. R. K. Moore, Identification Division, recommends unfavorably. The Identification Division feels that fingerprint cards should never be destroyed by employees as it is an unsound practice.

Mr. Moore advises in this particular instance, where a duplicate card is received wherein the only additional information given is the disposition of the prior arrest, the Identification Division is considering the preparation of a form to be used for the purpose of returning the card to the contributor. On the form, it is proposed that it be explained that the disposition information could have been forwarded to the FBI on a regular disposition sheet (Form R-84). Mr. Moore believes the proposed form, over a period of years, will eventually eliminate the forwarding of duplicate cards. (Proposed form will be the subject of a separate memorandum.)

RECOMMENDATION: 1. That the suggestion not be adopted.

2. That the enclosed letter be forwarded to Mr. [redacted] thanking him for his suggestion and advising that it is not being adopted.

The above-captioned file was opened during the early thirties to record information concerning police schools held throughout the country. In the beginning a different sub file number was assigned, in the order received, to each police school. The title of the file reflected the police department or law enforcement agency conducting the school. This procedure was continued until 1947, at which time 2,450 sub files had been opened concerning police training schools.

In February, 1947, in an effort to alleviate some of the difficulty being encountered in the maintenance of police training school files, general file, file #1-1152, was opened with a sub file for each field division. (Background data concerning change found in 1-1152, serials 9 and 10.) This general file and the sub files for each field division have been used since that time and the 1-16 file with subs was discontinued.

The 2,450 1-16 files which were opened contained approximately 98,000 serials and an estimated 25,000 names have been indexed. A spotcheck of some of these files indicates that the majority of the indexing which was done related to the following matters: (1) the names of police officers in connection with the organization conducting the police training school, (2) newspapers, (3) titles of pamphlets and bulletins, (4) titles of films, (5) names of organizations and clubs.

It appears that a great majority of this indexing in the 1-16 files is now obsolete and WNDSR the current indexing procedures is not indexed. In connection with our records management program designed to eliminate valueless and obsolete material from the Bureau's records, it appears that the majority of this material can be deindexed unless the indexing relates to something of an unusual or derogatory nature. Undoubtedly file 1-1152 and subs also contain obsolete indexing, and it is felt that material indexed which relates to the above types of indexing categories can also be deindexed unless the material is of an unusual or derogatory nature.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF CLOSED FILES - AFTER 25 YEARS OLD

b6

Destruction of Bureau Property -

SUGGESTION: Miss [redacted] New York Office submitted Suggestion #449-57 proposing that when 0 and general files over 25 years old are destroyed, that the index cards for these files also be destroyed.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Section 3 - D - 8 - a, page 13 provides for destruction of files and records. Files and records in Field Divisions may be destroyed after they become 25 years old. This section also provides for destruction of files and records under certain circumstances when they become 1, 3, and 5 years old respectively.

BACKGROUND: Bureau Bulletin #35 - Series 1946 issued on June 26, 1946, sets forth instructions concerning the destruction of closed files as follows: All Bureau files in Field Divisions may be destroyed after they become 25 years old; when files over 25 years old are destroyed, the index cards relating thereto shall be marked with a stamp stating "File destroyed - 1946." The instructions concerning the stamping of the index cards are not included in the Manual of Rules and Regulations. The Manual provides for the destruction of the files after they become 25 years old.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Suggester states that as index cards are not presently destroyed, time is wasted in listing references on search slips since Agent time is consumed by the Agent going to the file and determining the reference has been destroyed. Further, adoption of suggestion would result in saving of space in the general index. SAC New York considers suggestion to have considerable merit.

INDEXED - 33 RECORDED - 33 66-3286-741

OBSERVATIONS: It is indicated by the suggestion that the New York Office does not presently stamp the index cards on files which are destroyed after 25 years old or the searching employee does not show on the search slip, by notation, that the referenced material has been destroyed. It would appear that it is necessary to reiterate present instructions to the field, if the suggestion is not adopted, to the effect that as files are destroyed after 25 years the index cards should be appropriately marked destroyed and the year destroyed.

Washington Field Office has advised that the office stamps the index card as files over 25 years old are destroyed. Records Branch advised that no instance can be recalled where the field has written for information in the Bureau files because the field file was destroyed under the 25-year-old rule.

It is suggested that Executives Conference consider two propositions: (1) whether rule relating to the destruction of files and stamping of index cards should be amended to require the field to destroy the index cards when the file is destroyed under the 25-year rule; (2) if the first propostion does not receive approval of the Executives Conference, consideration should be given to reiterating the instructions as to stamping index cards destroyed and the year destroyed and appropriate manual changes be prepared for the Manual of Rules and Regulations. Training and Inspection Division, after Executives Conference consideration, will prepare necessary instructions and manual changes.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION:

The Executives Conference on 3/20/57 considered the suggestion of Miss [redacted] to destroy index cards for files which are destroyed after they are 25 years old and unanimously concluded that the suggestion should not be adopted. The Executives Conference stated that the Bureau instructions, that when files over 25 years old are destroyed the appropriate index cards should be stamped -- file destroyed and year destroyed, should be reiterated at this time and appropriate manual revisions prepared.

DESTRUCTION OF FILES OVER 25 YEARS OLD

Reurlet 4/18/57 and SAC Letter 57-19 (B) which sets forth instructions that files over 25 years old may be destroyed and that index cards relating thereto should be marked with a stamp indicating file destroyed and year destroyed.

It is noted that you refer to previous instructions in SAC Letter 112 (C), series 1951, in which the field was advised to maintain a list at the beginning of each classification in the closed files section on which the fact that a file has been destroyed should be noted. These instructions currently appear in the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Section 3, page 13. Further, you indicate that there will be certain disadvantages under the new procedure of stamping the index cards and you feel that the present requirement of listing the files destroyed in the closed section is adequate.

The Bureau considers the new procedure to serve a useful purpose in that an employee searching the general indices can at a glance determine that certain files have been destroyed and such a notation may be made on the search slip without going to the closed section of file. Therefore, it is desired that the new procedure be followed. However, in order to better evaluate your observations as to possible disadvantages, the Bureau desires you to conduct a 90-day survey and report the following at the completion of that period: (1) determine number of files destroyed which are over 25 years old; (2) determine number of index cards to be stamped; (3) estimate the amount of clerical time used in stamping such index cards; and (4) your observations and specific recommendations. You should submit the results of your survey by letter marked, "Attention: Training and Inspection Division."

SUBJECT: ADMINISTRATIVE - FILING SYSTEM
DESTRUCTION OF FILES OVER 25 YEARS OLD

Re SAC Letter 57-19, paragraph (B) Administrative - Filing System - Destruction of Files over 25 years old.

It is noted that the new procedure of stamping the index cards "File destroyed-Year destroyed" was established to insure uniformity. The original instructions issued in Bureau Bulletin 35, Series 1946, Section (B) and in SAC Letter 100, 9/17/46, stated that "It is unnecessary to stamp the index cards relating to the files destroyed, or to check the indices of the office to see that there was an index card as the absence of these files will be a clear indication that they have been destroyed."

In 1951, in SAC Letter 112, instructions were given to maintain in the front of each classification a list of the files destroyed. Since the index cards were not mentioned in this letter it was assumed that the listing of the files destroyed was intended as a device to provide a ready means at the files of knowing what files had been destroyed and that it in no way nullified the previous instructions of not marking the index cards.

No index cards in this office have been marked in any way since the inception of the destruction of the 25 year old files program. It is felt that the present procedure will create problems in the index rather than establish uniformity.

With the consolidation of index cards many file numbers may be listed on the same card. There is the possibility of the stamping being done in such a way as to be misleading or as to create the impression that all the files so listed had been destroyed.

Further, with the economy program and the interest of the Bureau in streamlining and in the elimination of unnecessary steps it appears that this procedure will be time-consuming and will add nothing that is not already available thru the lists maintained in the front of each classification. There is not frequent reference made to files that are 25 years old but there is extensive indexing in many of these files from 1931 on as well as a considerably greater volume of files to be destroyed.

RECORDED - 1 66-3286-742

It is suggested that consideration be given to the continuance of the original procedures as outlined in the SAC Letters noted above.

EMPLOYEE SUGGESTION # 551-57

Date: April 16, 1957

To: Director, FBI

From: SA [redacted] Division of assignment: Detroit

SUGGESTION:

That Informant Distribution Memoranda in each case file on a security subject be destroyed when the pertinent information contained in that memorandum has been incorporated into a report on the subject of that file.

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts):

Informant Distribution Memoranda are retained indefinitely even after pertinent information has been incorporated into a report.

Advantages of suggestion:

Conservation of Space: The floor space taken up by closed security cases constitutes a very large area in those offices having a large number of security cases. This area taken up by closed security files increases every year, thereby decreasing floor space available for other functions. This necessitates the eventual leasing of additional floor area, thereby appreciably increasing the operational expenses of that office.

Advantages of suggestion (continued)

By destroying the "useless" Informant Distribution Memoranda after the pertinent information has been incorporated into a report, the Detroit Office could decrease the floor space taken up by closed security files by at least fifty per cent. As an example, the case file on one particular Detroit subject, which consists of seven volumes, was reviewed. If the "useless" Informant Distribution Memoranda were destroyed, this file would consist of less than three volumes.

Also, it is felt that a second advantage would be achieved, and that is that pertinent information in a particular file would not be buried under a volume of useless paper.

How Can This Be Achieved: When an Agent reviews a file in preparation for dictating a security report, he will note those distribution memoranda which can be logically destroyed as the pertinent information will appear in the report which he is preparing. Naturally, this information will be documented on the administrative page of the report. When the Agent completes the dictation of the report, he will dictate an office memorandum directing that the Chief Clerk destroy certain designated serials. The Agent will also indicate in this office memorandum the location of the original copy of that serial in the event that it ever became necessary to know the information which any one particular destroyed distribution memorandum contained. (It is noted that as an established practice, when an Agent dictates an Informant Distribution Memorandum, he places a copy of that distribution memorandum as an A serial of the Informant report itself. As an example, if the Informant report is serialized [redacted], then the Informant Distribution Memorandum dictated regarding that Informant report will be serialized [redacted]) In view of this practice, a copy of each destroyed distribution memorandum will always be available and easily accessible. b7D

This procedure is intended to apply only to the destruction of memoranda containing information which will be incorporated in future reports. It would not require the review of existing files to identify for purposes of destruction those memoranda which have already been included in past reports.

The adoption of this suggestion will not cause any additional work on the part of an Agent as all the information necessary for preparing the office memoranda will be available to that Agent during the file review for the report. Nor is it believed that any information will be "lost" by the adoption of this suggestion as the office memoranda will always point to a carbon copy of the destroyed serial.

It is felt that this suggestion may be extended to all closed security files if deemed desirable by the Bureau.

basis of a written report from an informant, it would thus provide for permanent retention of at least one copy which would be available for future reference. It appears it would be necessary in order to avoid any possibility of confusing in further paraphrasing for the Agent to always refer to the original source whenever he had occasion to use the information in a summary report. This should not contribute to any undue delay and it is recommended that this suggestion be afforded favorable consideration since it would result in a material savings of file space.

A year ago on April 12, 1956, I advised by memorandum to you that the CW Network account had been closed and that in view of the bulky nature of the account files we were having them stored in the Records Section for future reference. In the intervening year, we have had no occasion to have any recourse to the old check books, memoranda, etc., in this file, and accordingly, I recommend at this time that the Records Section destroy the material in the CW Network account file. Inspector N. P. Callahan agrees.

DESTRUCTION OF CLASSIFIED DOCUMENTS

Bureau Records - General

By letter 3/28/57, Legat, Paris, called the Bureau's attention to NATO Document AC/35-D/167, a memorandum produced by the NATO Security Committee regarding the various methods of destroying classified documents. This document was obtained from the Central U.S. Registry for NATO Documents at the Pentagon. A Photostat was made, and the original document was returned on 4/5/57. The Photostat is enclosed.

A review of this document indicates that it is a summary prepared by the Secretary of the NATO Security Committee based on information supplied by seven NATO countries regarding the various methods of destroying classified documents. It discusses the following methods:

(1) Burning
(2) Reducing to pulp
(3) Shredding
(4) Pulverizing

The problem of the destruction of Bureau records in the event of an invasion of the United States has been under consideration for sometime. It appears that this document contains nothing which we have not already considered; however, it is being referred to the Laboratory and the Records Section for information.

DESTRUCTION OF OBSOLETE MATERIAL (66-3286)

During World War II in connection with the Foreign Travel Control Program, all passengers entering the United States by boat from foreign ports were interviewed. Passenger lists were obtained from the steamship companies and all names on the passenger lists were searched through the Bureau's indices. A summary of the information obtained as a result of this search, even though in many cases an ident could not definitely be established, was furnished by blind memorandum to the field office where the ship was docking.

Separate individual 100 (Internal Security) files were opened on the subject of these summaries and the summary was filed therein, (Several files attached to illustrate this procedure.) From all indications there were a large number of files opened during this program which contained only the summary. These files do not appear to be of any value to the Bureau today, and in connection with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is felt that files of this type should be destroyed. The information contained therein is duplicated elsewhere in Bureau files and in many cases is not definitely established as being identical with the subject of the file.

Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of these files inasmuch as they are merely summaries of information contained elsewhere in other Bureau files.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division and the Investigative Division for consideration as to the destruction of files containing summaries of information concerning individuals entering the United States by ship during World War II unless the file contains information of an unusual nature or contains other material in addition to the summary. If this recommendation is approved, these files will be destroyed whenever uncovered incidental to other file reviews being conducted.

DESTRUCTION OF OBSOLETE MATERIAL

ADDENDUM - DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION, 5/3/57 (SBD:hmm):
Based on premise these summaries consist of data found elsewhere in Bureau files there appears to be no justifiable reason for their retention. Absence of any serial in file other than summary would indicate individual was probably not identical with passenger arriving under Foreign Travel Control program. If the passenger were of subversive interest additional data would have been received. Recommend concurrence with destruction of such files containing only this summary serial.

Re: Destruction of Records

The majority of the material contained in the above listed files appears to be outdated and of no value to the Bureau today. Accordingly, it is felt that this material should be destroyed in line with sound records management and in the interests of making space available for the housing of current records. Of course, any material contained in these files which appears to be of a historical or policy nature will be retained. Archival authority not necessary for destruction of administrative-type material of this nature.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Identification Division for consideration as to the possible destruction of the above material in line with the Bureau's Records Management Program designed to eliminate valueless and obsolete material from the Bureau's records.

SUGGESTION: Mrs. [redacted] GS-7 in the Classifying Unit, has suggested through her representative on the Streamlining Committee that correspondence with firms for the purpose of ordering supplies or returning equipment for repairing for the Bureau at the Seat of Government be held in the Chief Clerk's Office and then destroyed. She states her suggestion would also be applicable to letters from the Justice Department reporting excess property.

CURRENT PROCEDURE: Correspondence as indicated above is now filed in the Chief Clerk file (66-1855-E) or into the administrative file on the type of equipment.

ADVANTAGES: Employee states that her suggestion would save the expense of processing mail which is later destroyed by the Consolidation Unit.

CONCLUSIONS: From the Records Branch's point of view, this suggestion would save work and space in the Records Branch.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That this memorandum be referred to the Administrative Division for consideration of this suggestion.

Referred 5/31/57-cal

(2) That this suggestion be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for acknowledgment.

[redacted], Clerical Supervisor, Physical Examination Unit, has suggested that index cards (sample attached) maintained in Physical Examination Unit on Special Agents and Special Employees be destroyed except in cases where examining physician indicates some physical defect and that the typing of such cards upon receipt of physical examination reports be discontinued except in "physical defect" cases. These index cards contain a summary of the employee's last physical examination and reflect such information as employee's name and position, date of last physical examination, date of birth, blood type, and any defects disclosed by examination.

Present Procedure: Physical Examination Unit maintains index card on each of approximately 6,300 SAs and SEs, as well as medical folder on each of these employees which contains copy of his physical examination reports. Upon receipt of physical examination reports, index card is prepared and copy of physical examination report is placed in employee's medical folder. In cases where physical defect is noted, tickler is set up to follow with SAC or Assistant Director to insure employee is taking action to correct physical defect. Each time employee receives new physical examination (normally once a year) old index card is destroyed and new one prepared. Procedure of maintaining index cards established several years ago for purpose of (1) providing ready reference to results of latest physical examinations since copies of physical examination reports were then maintained at National Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Maryland, (2) serving as ticklers to reschedule employees for physical examinations when they came to SOG for In-Service, etc. Reasons for maintaining index cards in cases other than "physical defect" cases no longer exist since (1) copies of physical examination reports are now kept in Physical Examination Unit where they are available for ready reference, and (2) field now schedules examinations for SAs and SEs in field, obviating necessity of this being done and followed at SOG in case of field employees (separate tickler system is maintained to schedule examinations for employees in Washington area.)

Suggested Procedure: Eliminate all index cards except those of approximately 800 employees with physical defects which require following to insure corrective action is being taken. (Cards in these 800 cases would be retained so cases could be followed.) This would eliminate typing and maintaining of approximately 5,500 cards per year. Information now reflected on these 5,500 cards can be readily obtained from physical examination folder of employee.

Advantages: Elimination of duties involved in preparing, processing and maintaining these 5,500 cards would enable Physical Examination Unit to operate with one less employee as these duties presently require equivalent of full-time services of one employee to handle following steps necessary upon receipt of physical examination report: (1) pull old index card, (2) prepare new card, (3) stamp and initial physical examination report to indicate card prepared, (4) recheck information on new card against physical report for accuracy, (5) file new card. Minimum of 15 to 20 minutes per card is now required to completely handle and process each of the 5,500 cards which are proposed to be eliminated. Over the period of a year this would amount to practically the full-time of one employee.

Disadvantages: None

Savings: $3175 per year based on eliminating necessity for one GS-3 clerk typist.

Observations: Streamlining Committee of Administrative Division feels maintenance of these 5,500 index cards no longer serves useful purpose since information reflected thereon can be readily obtained from employee's medical folder. Committee feels suggestion has merit, would eliminate index which is no longer necessary and should be adopted. b6 b7C

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That this suggestion be adopted.

2. If approved, that the Physical Examination Unit release a GS-3 clerk typist for assignment elsewhere.

b6
b7C

3. That if the above is approved, Mr. [redacted] be commended and afforded a cash award of $105 based on the annual savings of $3175 which would result from the elimination of one employee in the Physical Examination Unit through adoption of his suggestion. While it is noted Mr. [redacted] is Clerical Supervisor of the Physical Examination Unit, we have previously afforded cash awards to key clerical supervisors in comparable cases where substantial cash savings have resulted from suggestions they submitted regarding operations in their own units.

ADDENDUM BY TRAINING AND INSPECTION DIVISION: 5/21/57 - WWW:ceh

Training and Inspection Division believes that supervisory personnel, in the course of carrying out their assigned duties and responsibilities, should be alert to make suggestions for improving the efficiency of Bureau's operations. The procedure suggested in this instance is one which is considered to represent a part of the normal requirements of the duties of employee's position as supervisor. Therefore, Training and Inspection Division recommends a letter of commendation to the employee and that no award be granted. If approved, attached letter will suffice.

SUGGESTION: That correspondence with firms for the purpose of ordering supplies or returning equipment for repairing for Seat of Government be held in the Property Management Unit of the Administrative Division and then destroyed. Suggested that this procedure also be applicable to letters from the Department of Justice regarding our excess property.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: Records Branch advises that the material mentioned above is filed in the Chief Clerk file (66-1855-E) or in the administrative file on the type of equipment involved.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Would save expense of processing mail which is later destroyed by the Consolidation Unit of the Records Branch.

OBSERVATIONS: From Records Branch's point of view, the suggestion would save work and space.

Administrative Division advises that at the present time no letters with firms for the purpose of ordering supplies are sent to the Records Branch for filing. Purchase orders are issued when ordering material, and letters regarding quotations are held in Property Management Unit and then destroyed.

Copies of correspondence with firms returning equipment for repairing and all correspondence pertaining to surplus property with the exception of the final memoranda from the Department of Justice and the release papers which have been signed indicating that the property has been turned over to a particular agency can be held in the Property Management Unit of the Administrative Division and then destroyed. Correspondence regarding the final disposition of surplus property should be filed.

That suggestion be adopted to the extent that copies of correspondence with firms returning equipment for repairing and all correspondence pertaining to surplus property with the exception of the final memoranda from the Department of Justice and the release papers which have been signed indicating that the property has been turned over to a particular agency be retained in Property Management Unit of Administrative Division and then destroyed.

SUBJECT: PUBLICATIONS MATERIAL - HANDLING UNDER EXECUTIVE ORDER 10501

In September, 1950, procedures set up for review, routing and filing or destruction of intelligence publications, summaries, and similar material received from other agencies. Proper screening and selective filing of such material is essential to prevent voluminous accumulation of such records which are primarily of temporal value keyed to the times. Authority secured via Liaison in October, 1950, for destruction of those items not needed for filing from Central Intelligence Agency, Army Intelligence, Air Force Intelligence, Naval Intelligence and State Department (66-3665-2050, 2065).

Under above procedure we have followed practice of reviewing, filing and indexing such material as is of direct or foreseeable reference value to Bureau. Where material is of no filing interest we have destroyed material in accordance with Bureau disposal system for highly confidential trash and without recording receipt and destruction of each item. We have re-examined this procedure to be certain we are on sound ground in our handling of it in relation to Executive Order 10501 (The Safeguarding of Official Information in the Interests of the Defense of the United States.)

Title 44, Section 366, U. S. Code deals with matter of preserving records material and specifies that library or museum material acquired solely for reference or exhibition purposes, extra copies of documents preserved only for convenience or reference and stocks or publications of processed documents are not included with definition of records material for which there are prescribed methods for recording receipt and disposal as well as for actual disposal itself. It is believed very definitely that the material we receive such as intelligence publications, research documents, etc., falls within meaning of library-type material which is not record material. Sections 1202 and 1203 of Departmental regulations regarding the Executive Order specifically state that non-record material containing classified data shall be destroyed by burning or by equally complete methods of destruction, which is done. Section 1204 of these regulations requires that records of destruction shall be maintained for record material. SAC Letter 53-79 dated 12/9/53 states the Attorney General had informed Bureau that we were authorized to follow procedure for destruction of classified material then followed by FBI. It is believed, therefore, we are on sound ground in destroying classified publications material where we have no need for filing based on above analysis.

This position was more recently affirmed when Bureau prepared proposed response for Attorney General to questions set forth in letter 10/15/56 from Commission on Government Security regarding operations of this Executive Order. Commission inquired as to procedure followed for keeping records of destruction of classified documents. Bureau's proposed reply was that classified documents from other agencies are destroyed with permission of the agency and a record is made of recorded material so destroyed (Memo Tamm to Tolson 10/31/56, 66-7225-1108).

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Recommend our liaison representatives with Central Intelligence Agency, State Department, Army Intelligence, Naval Intelligence and Air Force Intelligence reaffirm with those agencies our prior agreement that we can destroy publications, research studies and similar non-record (library and reference) material received by us when no longer needed. If special handling and retention of some particular regularly or irregularly issued publication (classified or unclassified) is required by an agency, it should be specified. This will bring our policy up to date.

(E) MANUAL OF RULES AND REGULATIONS -- Revision #48 for the Manual of Rules and Regulations will be forwarded to your office in the near future. This revision consolidates the Manual of Rules and Regulations and the Operations and Procedures Manual on Personnel Matters. The combined manuals will hereafter be known as the Manual of Rules and Regulations.

The material formerly contained in the Operations and Procedures Manual on Personnel Matters and the present Section 1 of the Manual of Rules and Regulations have been made Part I of the Manual of Rules and Regulations. Except for Section 1, the material now contained in the Manual of Rules and Regulations will be Part II. Sections 1, 2, and 7 of Part II of the Manual of Rules and Regulations have been revised to remove duplicate material. Except for those pages requiring revision, the remaining material in Part II is not being reprinted at this time to show "Part II" on each page, as this part number will be added as pages are reprinted due to revisions. Dividers to separate the parts will be furnished your office in the future.

Upon receipt of Revision #48, the Operations and Procedures Manual on Personnel Matters should be destroyed. The old inventory cards for this manual should be returned to the Bureau. If additional manuals are required, the Bureau should be advised.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #779-57
SUBMITTED BY MRS. [redacted]
RECORDS AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

SUGGESTION: That serial 3 of file 87-300 be reviewed to determine whether the index cards on the jewelry listed in report can be destroyed. There are approximately 1,000 such index cards.

ADVANTAGES STATED: National Stolen Property Index now consists of nearly 500 index drawers. It is imperative to eliminate all unnecessary cards so as to minimize the cost of searching and maintenance.

OBSERVATIONS: Records and Communications Division states that the above-described serial is a report from Cincinnati in the case entitled "Alfred Brady, was. etal; Robbery of the Sol Partner Jewelry Store, Dayton, Ohio; National Stolen Property Act. Report sets out entire inventory of items taken in robbery which vary in value from $4.50 to $1,000; of $72,000 worth of stolen property, $5,000 worth was recovered. There was no Federal prosecution in this case. Case is over 20 years old.

Records Branch states that it appears that retaining the cards in question can serve no useful purpose and they should be eliminated in the interest of the sound records management. Approval of the Archives Department is not necessary.

Investigative Division commented that duly reduction of the number of index cards will, of course, reduce the possibility of effecting an identification in this file. However, it is believed that a determination that certain cards in this file have become obsolete and should be destroyed is a matter for the consideration of Records and Communications Division. Investigative Division interposes no objection in the event it is decided that these index cards should be destroyed.

Records Branch reviewed comments of Investigative Division and is still of the opinion that the index cards should be destroyed.

This jewelry was stolen over twenty years ago and a good part of it consisted of rings valued at less than $20.00 at that time.

These cards are filed in the National Stolen Property Index by scratch number.

SUBJECT: PUBLICATIONS MATERIAL - HANDLING UNDER EXECUTIVE ORDER 10501

By memorandum in captioned matter dated June 12, 1957 from Mr. Branigan to you, it was pointed out that the Bureau by agreement with the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), State Department and the Intelligence Divisions of the respective services, could destroy publications, research studies and similar nonrecord materials received by us when no longer needed. In this memorandum it was recommended that Liaison recontact these respective agencies to reaffirm the prior agreement.

On June 17, 1957, this matter was discussed with Mrs. [redacted] of CIA by Supervisor S. J. Papich. Mrs. [redacted] advised that the prior agreement was satisfactory to CIA and that the Bureau could continue handling the material received from CIA as it has in the past.

Mr. [redacted], Office of Naval Intelligence, on June 18, 1957, advised SA B. A. Wells that the prior agreement had with the Bureau by the Navy concerning this matter was satisfactory and as far as the Navy was concerned was still in effect.

On June 18, 1957, Mr. [redacted], State Department, advised SA O. H. Bartlett that the agreement was satisfactory with the Department of State and that the Bureau had State's authority to destroy any such material if it was of no further value to the Bureau.

On June 18, 1957, Brigadier General Royal Reynolds, Jr., Director of Plans, Programs and Security, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, Intelligence (ACSI), Department of the Army, advised SA D. J. Sullivan, Liaison Section, that the Bureau could set its own criteria for the destruction of the publications, intelligence summaries, research studies, etc., received from ACSI and that anything decided upon by the Bureau would be satisfactory with ACSI.

[redacted], Special Assistant, Office of Special Investigations, U. S. Air Force, on June 20, 1957, advised SA W. T. Whaley that the prior arrangement was satisfactory with that office. In connection with our Records Management Program, designed to eliminate obsolete material from the Bureau's records, it is proposed that the following files, which are no longer used and which contain information which does not appear to be of any current value to the Bureau, be destroyed.

(1) File entitled "FBI National Academy - Questions and Answers" - 94-3-6-5. This file consists of one section and contains 88 serials. The file was opened in 1939 and has not been used since 1945. The file relates to a booklet prepared concerning the FBI National Academy and contains letters requesting and acknowledging ~~the~~ booklet and letters from the field offices requesting additional copies of the booklet.

(2) File entitled "Training in the FBI" - 94-3-6-2. This file which was opened in 1939 and has not been used since 1945 consists of two sections, 97 serials. The file relates to a booklet prepared on the FBI's training activities and the majority of the information in the file relates to requests for copies of the booklet and acknowledgments concerning the receipt of the booklet.

(3) File entitled "The Federal Bureau of Investigation" - 62-21440. This file which was opened in 1929 and has not been used since 1946 consists of 19 sections, 1,615 serials. This file concerns a booklet relating to the work of the Bureau, published for the information of peace officers and law enforcement officials in the United States. The great majority of the file consists of incoming letters requesting copies of the booklet, replies thereto, acknowledgments of the booklet and letters from the field forwarding surplus copies of the booklet back to the Bureau. The file contains some indexing and it is felt that this material could be de-indexed and destroyed.

SUBJECT: PHOTOGRAPHIC PLATE FILE
Destruction of Bureau Property

It is believed necessary to reduce the size of the file of photographic plates which is maintained in the corridor opposite room 7309. This file contains the photographic plates taken in the Laboratory in connection with cases received for examination. Each year considerable time is consumed in consolidating this file to maintain it in as small a space as possible. It is the consensus of the examiners in the P & C Section that rather than reviewing the old photographic plates and consolidating several cases together as has been done in the past, it would be better to destroy all plates ten years old or older.

Need for older plates has been extremely limited, and it is felt that the destruction of these plates would have no ill effect.

Consideration was given to microfilming the plates. Obtaining suitable microfilms of plates is extremely difficult and, it is believed, unwarranted because of the expense involved. There are approximately 2000 plates in the 95 classification alone which are ten years old or older.

The Domestic Intelligence and Investigative Divisions have been contacted about this matter and they have no objections to disposing of the plates as indicated.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the plates in the Photographic Plate File which are more than ten years old in those file classifications which contain the majority of the cases, such as the 95 classification (outside contributor) and the 98 classification (sabotage), be destroyed on a yearly basis.

...SUGGESTION

It is recommended that all channelized memoranda emanating from security informants' reports be purged from Security Index subjects' case files following the submission of a summary type or annual type report which contains the necessary information concerning the particular subject and the reported event.

(See Addendum)

...ation, rule (include manual citation as well as facts): Manual of Instructions, Vol. IV, Section 107 G - Reporting By Informants. 1. "All information furnished by informant orally or in writing must be made a matter of record, properly indexed, evaluated and channelized."

Advantages of suggestion

The principal and the prime reason for this suggestion is to keep the individual case files from becoming bulky and voluminous and thereby resulting in an enormous saving in file drawer space.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4EW/KAT

Disadvantages of suggestion: The only disadvantage in purging the files in the above-described method is that "ready" reference to other persons attending a certain function with the particular subject is not readily available in the subject's case file. Need for this information arises only on rare occasions, such as when a subject is interviewed and it is desired to question the subject about persons he should know. It is believed that this disadvantage is greatly outweighed by the savings possible.

ADDENDUM

It is believed that this purging of channelized memoranda should be limited, at first at least to SI subject case files since these cases all have had summary reports prepared. On the other hand, it is believed that channelized memoranda should not be purged from security-type cases of individuals not now in the Security Index, inasmuch as the possibility exists that these channelized memoranda would be necessary for the preparation of a summary-type report in the future. It is our opinion that once the channelized memoranda have been properly utilized and included in a subsequent report, the channelized memoranda then lose their value to the particular case as compared to the excessive drawer space utilized by these voluminous case files. Purging the case file of these memoranda does not deprive the particular case file of any of the information originally contained therein, inasmuch as each report by cover letter carries the administrative information as to the location of the original informant report in the office files of the informant. Further, the "A" file of the security informant will continue to maintain an identical copy of the purged channelized memoranda. To illustrate this space problem, suppose six different security informants report information concerning a "People's World" fund-raising function at which fifty S.I. subjects were in attendance. Each channelized memorandum of each informant's report would probably require at least two pages, and therefore each case file would contain twelve pages of channelized memoranda. Once this event and the subject's participation thereat has been reported in a report, these channelized memoranda could be destroyed without depriving the case file of any of the information previously contained therein.

Inasmuch as security-type reports were prepared with the location of the original informant's report in the administrative section at the time of the inauguration of the summary report project on all Security Index subjects in 1954, it is believed that all channelized memoranda which contained information already and subsequently incorporated in a subsequent report could be purged as far back in the S.I. subject's case files as the summary report. Again, this purge should be limited to only those channelized memoranda used in the preparation of a report.

This purging system should not include channelized memoranda based on information from Misur, Tesur, Fisur, or other sources, but should be limited to only live security informants and their reports.

This purging system would not raise any problem with reference to serializing, since at the time of purging a charge-out slip could be placed on the top serial of the volume indicating which serials had been destroyed.

By such a system of purging, it is believed that vast amounts of drawer and cabinet space could be saved throughout the field offices and would improve the efficiency of security-type investigations. Estimates of space savings are set out below.

Channelized memoranda normally are not used for indexing and they are practically never referred to after the information contained therein has been included in a report in the individual case file. If reference to a particular destroyed channelized memorandum is needed, the administrative section of the report immediately indicates the location of the original informant notes. Further, the exhibit envelope containing the informant's notes also contains a notation indicating the serial number of the channelized memorandum in the informant's "A" file.

An examination of some individual case files reveals that by such a purging system the case files could be reduced to one-third their present size.

1. A review was made of only the last five volumes of the multi-volume case file entitled "MILFORD ADOLF SUTHERLA was.; IS-C," Seattle file 100-12883, who is carried as a Key Figure in the Seattle S.I. The following observations were noted:

   A. In its present form, the last five volumes of this case file alone measures 6½ inches in depth, including file covers.

   B. If channelized memoranda used in the preparation of reports in this case file were purged, 717 pages of paper would be eliminated. These 717 pages measure approximately 3 3/4 inches, which would amount to a saving of 3 3/4 inches of space in five volumes.

   C. A cabinet drawer permits 24 inches of usable space and, conservatively estimating, it is believed that a cabinet drawer normally accommodates 21 volumes of security-type case files. Therefore, it is estimated that in a full drawer approximately 15 1/2 inches of space would be saved if such specialized files were purged of channelized memoranda as described above.

2. A review was made of only the last 7 volumes of the case entitled "[redacted], was.; SM-SWP," Seattle file 100-22579, and the following observations were noted:

b6

A. In its present form, the last 7 volumes of this case file measure 8 inches in depth, including file covers.

B. If channelized memoranda used in the preparation of reports in this case file were purged, 1,166 pages of paper would be eliminated. These 1,166 pages measure approximately 5 1/2 inches, which would amount to 5 1/2 inches of space saved in only 7 volumes.

C. Again, a cabinet drawer permits 24 inches of usable space, and conservatively estimating, it is believed that a full drawer of similar type case files with the same type of purging would eliminate 16 1/2 inches of space now used. Thus, a saving of 16 1/2 inches of space would be saved in each drawer. It is noted that the savings in this review compare most favorably with the estimate made in example No. 1 above.

At the present time, the Seattle Office has 384 S.I. subjects, and it is estimated that each case file would average about four volumes per subject. With 384 S.I. subjects, it is then estimated that S.I. subject's case files number 1,536 volumes. Considering 21 volumes per cabinet drawer, it is estimated that S.I. subject case files take up 73 cabinet drawers, or 14.5 cabinets. If 16 inches or 2/3 of each cabinet drawer space could be saved through this purging system, it is estimated that in the Seattle Office alone 9.5 cabinets could be saved now. Since each cabinet costs about $66.30, it is believed that $629.85 could be saved if this purging system were put into effect. Considerable other savings would result as this purging system is put on a continuing basis after the submission of a report on each S.I. subject. On a Bureau-wide basis this savings would be considerable, not only from a monetary standpoint but from a space standpoint.

As time progresses, space allotted for case files becomes more critical when considered with the rapid growth of security-type case files, as compared with other classifications. At the present time in the Seattle Office there are 530 cabinet drawers being used in the closed section for 100-classification only, while 860 cabinet drawers are presently being used in the closed section for all other classifications. The 100-classification files now occupy 38 per cent of the closed file space, and this 38 per cent is the most rapid-growing section of the entire closed file section.

As far as the Seattle Office is concerned, the cost of office space is $3.10 per square foot per year, and 2,287 square feet of space is alloted to cabinet space consumption at the cost of $7,089.70 per year. It is estimated that each cabinet plus sufficient space for opening the drawers consumes nearly 4 square feet of space, and therefore each cabinet saved could save about $12.00 per year. Saving cabinet space does not immediately bring about a savings to the office involved, but it could have a bearing in the long run when an office outgrows its present space and requires an additional floor or rooms. The acquisition of new floor space costs large sums of money, and at the same time increases additional security problems, etc.

Generally speaking, it is estimated that the Seattle Office security file situation ranks about 8th or 9th in size within the Bureau, and therefore there is bound to be more savings in the larger offices in the Bureau.

Other Administrative Matters to be Considered

Channelized memoranda meeting all other purging qualifications should not be purged if one of the following exists:

A. Containing a notation indicating an O-1 form has been received, etc.

B. Containing notation for opening and assigning case, or other administrative notation.

C. Containing any indexing.

It is believed that purging should be the responsibility of the reporting agent, who could make notations of serials to be purged on the indices search slip which must be filed in the case file when a report is submitted. The CCO could then purge the file as indicated, and make proper notation on a green charge-out slip for each file from which channelized memoranda were purged.

This suggestion is being submitted in the interest of economy to the Bureau and with the thought of possible streamlining of a Bureau procedure.

Recommendations and Comments of Division Head

With the ever-increasing problem of file drawer space and the similarly increasing cost not only for cabinets but also for floor area, I feel that the Bureau should consider the suggestion of these two agents very, very carefully. Both of these agents have been handling in this field for a considerable period of time, and it appears that this is a very sensible, economical, actual money-saving idea. It is recommended that it be adopted. Should there be any problem in connection with this, it is suggested that the Bureau "sample" the situation in the larger-sized security working offices.

Feeling that the program in the Bureau Bulletin may saddle the files for years with an unlimited amount of cumbersone exhibits most of which will never be used, we thought

Re: REPORT WRITING

Reference is made to Bureau Bulletin no. 57-1 which outlines future procedures in recording interviews and writing reports.

This letter is being submitted to offer most respectfully a counter proposal which it is humbly believed will save a great deal of the administrative work and other problems, which the system outlined in the Bureau Bulletin will inevitably engender, and will still satisfy the requirements of the Jenck's decision.

It is respectfully suggested that rather than utilize the interview form propounded in the Bureau Bulletin that pertinent interviews which would go on the interview form simply be started at the top of a separate page in the usual report form, and if necessary to go to a subsequent page that nothing else be recorded on the last page of this recorded pertinent interview. The same practice could be used with signed statements, and signed statements combined with additional oral pertinent information.

The agent preparing the report would initial each page on which was reported a pertinent interview in the original of the report, thus certifying it and identifying it for permanent record in the original report.

It would then be necessary in furtherance of our proposal that henceforth the original report written by any office in a case be forwarded to the office of origin rather than the Bureau, so the office of origin will have assembled at one place all the original reports which can be produced if necessary in court, and the pertinent parts of this or these reports can be turned over to the court or the defendant as the case may be, having been disassembled from the non-pertinent parts of the report.

It is further suggested that administrative pages be utilized as they are now rather than be discontinued, but that these pages not be attached to the original report, but only to copies thereof.

Reliability and identity of informants can be put on the administrative page, but of course when necessary this information would have to be submitted to the U. S. Attorney in a separate letter as already proposed.

ENCLOSURE

ENCLOSURE 62-32826-1

ADVANTAGES: This proposal will save considerable time on the part of agents in learning and executing a new system by preserving so much of the old system; will save considerable time of stenographers who will be spared typing several separate types of communications to satisfy one reporting project; and will save immeasurable time and space in the Chief Clerk's office who will not have to sustain the tremendous bulky exhibit problem entailed in the proposed system by the Bureau Bulletin. This will, it is believed also satisfy the requirements propounded by the Jenck's decision.

Further, the office of origin will have in one place all the record needed to satisfy a demand by the court. If several offices under the proposed system in the Bureau Bulletin investigate a master check case for example, or any other case calling for widespread investigation, there would be interview report forms all over the country in bulky exhibits the assembling of which in one place would be a major undertaking in the event of a demand, whereas under the system being proposed here, the office of origin would have all the necessary material without further correspondence or the necessity of forwarding interview forms, utilizing merely the original reports.

This will prevent errors in the handling of the several interview forms and prevent the inefficiency of cover memoranda involving the labor of detachments, extra serialization, filing, extra abstracts, and all the other work that cover letters entail.

This will simplify the continued efficiency of the destruction of files program as the original report will always be available in the office of origin and bulky exhibits containing interview forms will not have to be permanently maintained.

This will certainly save considerable filing space in the future.

This proposed system would entail very little if any, additional administrative handling on the part of supervising personnel and agents; would not increase costs of typing and stenographic assistance, nor increase costs through the transmittal and filing of extra communications.

DISADVANTAGES: It is realized that the problem of numbered pages should be considered, but it is believed that this can be counteracted by an explanation of the system to the court, explaining that we have designed this very system for the purpose of producing the necessary material in court when called upon and for the purpose of dividing pertinent from non-pertinent material. It may be possible in the alternative to either not number the pages of the original report or number only the first and last pages neither of which would have pertinent material on them.

The question might come up as to the administrative pages in the file destruction program. This can be overcome by retaining the administrative pages of the copy in the office of origin as a separate serial or as an "a" supplement to the original report serial number, thus retaining the integrity of the original intact.

It is fully realized that this writer who collaborated on this letter with SA [redacted] who originally thought of this proposal, as well as [redacted] are not as fully cognizant of all the problems involved in the Jenck's decision as is the Bureau, but as we see it now this suggestion is humbly submitted for the Bureau's consideration in any further deliberations in this matter.

SUBJECT: DISPOSITION OF OLD INVENTORY RECORDS
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS Genl

In 1954 the new inventory system was put into effect on the new form FD-222. We presently have the old inventories of all the field offices on form CC-103 which is now obsolete.

It is suggested that these old inventory records be destroyed as they are of no further use and are presently over the 3 year period for holding old records of this nature.

SUBJECT: RETENTION OR DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS
LOCKBOURNE AIR FORCE BASE
COLUMBUS, OHIO

Cincinnati by letter dated June 27, 1957, informs that the Provost Marshal at the Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, Ohio, states that his office has numerous copies of FBI reports dated in 1953, 1954 and 1955, which are no longer of value to the Air Force and the Provost Marshal proposes to destroy these reports by burning. Provost Marshal also proposes to furnish a certificate of destruction identifying each item to the FBI.

SAC Cincinnati requests advice as to whether it is permissible for the Provost Marshal to so destroy Air Force copies of Bureau reports or whether the reports should be returned to the FBI and an entry made in FBI records.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the SAC be advised that these reports were furnished to the Air Force by the FBI under the terms of the Delimitation Agreement - what the Air Force does with these reports is their responsibility. We should not approve their proposed action or raise any objection to it and we need have no record of what reports they destroy.

If the situation arises in the future and it is found that the Air Force has destroyed information it should have kept, we should in no way be a party to it. Once we have furnished information to the Air Force, we should be in a position to assume for all time that they have that information. Under no circumstances should we go to the expense of making appropriate entries in various files that the Air Force has destroyed their copy of the report.

There is attached a proposed letter to Cincinnati advising them of these instructions.

PROPOSED SAC LETTER

Reference is made to my memorandum dated June 14, 1957, which in part recommended that copies of all vouchers and invoices maintained by the field should be destroyed when they are one year old, except those records and copies of vouchers pertaining to payments from the confidential fund, which should be retained indefinitely.

On June 19, 1957, this matter was considered by the Executives Conference and the recommendation was approved. In view of this, the field should be advised and proper changes made in the Manual of Rules and Regulations.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the attached proposed SAC Letter go forward.

In line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, there is set forth below information concerning two files relating to the work of the Identification Division which appear to contain obsolete information and could be destroyed:

1. File 94-3-6-3 entitled "Identification Facilities of the FBI"--This file which consists of five sections, 397 serials, was opened in 1939 and has not been used since 1945. The file relates to a booklet prepared on the work of the Identification Division and consists mainly of letters requesting this booklet, the outgoing replies and subsequent acknowledgments. The file contains some indexing, and it is proposed that the file be deindexed and destroyed.

2. File 62-22684 entitled "Criminal Identification"--File consists of five sections, 372 serials, was opened in 1929 and has not been used since 1942. The file relates to a booklet entitled "Criminal Identification" and the majority of the material in file relates to incoming and outgoing correspondence concerning this booklet. The names of the individuals requesting the booklet were indexed. It is proposed that this file be deindexed and subsequently destroyed.

We have previously secured Archival authority to destroy correspondence relating to requests for publications and informative data (66-3286-443).

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Identification Division and that consideration be given to the deindexing and destruction of file 94-3-6-3 entitled "Identification Facilities of the FBI" and file 62-22684 entitled "Criminal Identification" in view of the obsolete nature of these files and in line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate such material from the Bureau's records.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #93-58
Made by SA [redacted]
and SA H. EDWARD McNULTY
Seattle Division

SUGGESTION: That all channelized memoranda emanating from Security informants' reports be purged from Security Index subjects' case files following the submission of a summary type or annual type report which contains the necessary information concerning the particular subject and the reported event.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: Section 107G, Manual of Instructions, requires that all information reported by an informant, orally or written, must be made a matter of record, properly indexed, evaluated and channelized.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Will keep individual case files from becoming bulky and voluminous and thereby resulting in considerable savings in filing space.

DISADVANTAGES STATED: Information concerning other persons attending a certain function with the particular subject is not readily available in the subject's case file. The suggesters believe that this information is needed only on rare occasions, such as when a subject is interviewed and it is desired to question him about persons he should know.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Auerbach, Seattle, recommends that the Bureau consider this suggestion in light of the ever-increasing problem of filing space and the similarly increasing cost of file cabinets and floor space.

Domestic Intelligence and Training and Inspection Divisions recommend unfavorably. Variations of this suggestion have been considered unfavorably on several occasions in the past. The Executives Conference on 7/6/53 considered Suggestion #272-53 which called for the removal and destruction of channelizing memoranda after the reports had been prepared incorporating pertinent contents thereof. The Conference was unanimously opposed, pointing out that this suggestion, if adopted, would involve considerable additional work on the part of agents and clerks in

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS - JUN. (66-3286)

There is maintained in the Records Branch a file entitled "Technical Laboratory" (94-3-6-1) which appears to be suitable for destruction in line with our records management program designed to eliminate valueless and obsolete material from the Bureau's records. This file consisting of two sections, 107 serials, was opened in 1938 and has not been used since 1945. The file relates to a booklet published by the Bureau entitled "Technical Laboratory" and the majority of the material in the file relates to requests for copies of the booklet and acknowledgments of these requests. The names of the individuals corresponding with the Bureau were indexed.

Inasmuch as the material contained in this file appears to be of no current value to the Bureau, it is recommended that the file be deindexed and subsequently destroyed. Archival authority has previously been secured permitting us to destroy correspondence relating to requests for publications and informative data (66-3286-443). 66-19087-14

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Laboratory for consideration as to the destruction of file 94-3-6-1 entitled "Technical Laboratory" in line with our efforts to eliminate valueless and obsolete material from the Bureau's records in accordance with a sound records management program.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS - SEN. (66-3286)

Re memorandum from Mr. Eames to Mr. Nichols 8/19/57, recommending that file 94-3-6-1 be destroyed if Laboratory concurs.

Laboratory has no objection to destroying file 94-3-6-1 entitled "Technical Laboratory." This memorandum is written for record purposes to summarize information in the file which is to be destroyed.

Most of the serials in 94-3-6-1 consist of requests for copy of publication "Technical Laboratory" and acknowledgements of these requests, dated between March, 1940, and December, 1944. The file reflects that the booklet "Technical Laboratory" was prepared pursuant to instructions in the Director's memorandum to Mr. Ladd and Mr. Coffey dated December 20, 1939. Mr. Ladd's memorandum to the Director dated February 1, 1940, enclosed a draft of the proposed booklet. This draft had been reviewed and approved by Mr. Coffey of the Laboratory and by all members of the Executive's Conference. Mr. Tolson and the Director approved the printing of the booklet by Mechanical Section, February 2, 1940.

Mr. Hendon's memorandum to Mr. Nichols dated 11/27/41, reflects the booklet was revised and another 15,000 copies were printed by Mechanical Section.

The Director approved Executive Conference's memorandum dated May 24, 1945, recommending that the publication "Technical Laboratory of the FBI" be reprinted in Spanish for distribution in South America in connection with the Bureau's SIS and police liaison work. The publication was translated into Spanish by the police liaison agent in Caracas, Venezuela, and reviewed by Dr. Antonio Fernandez Martinez, who had held an official position with the Bureau of Prisons of the Spanish Republic and who had an excellent grammatical knowledge of the Spanish language. The Translation Section of the Bureau then translated the publication and it was printed in Spanish in August or September, 1945.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF Bureau RECORDS - Gen
(66-3286)

In connection with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is proposed that consideration be given to the deindexing and destruction of file 66-3701 entitled "Personnel Selection and Training in the FBI." This file which consists of five sections, 625 serials, was opened in 1932 and has not been used since 1943. The file relates to a pamphlet which was prepared concerning the selection of personnel and training in the FBI. The majority of the material in file relates to letters requesting this pamphlet, outgoing answers to these letters and acknowledgments of the pamphlet.

The last serial in the file which was dated in 1943 indicates that the pamphlet was out of print. This file contains some indexing, and it is felt that the file could be deindexed and destroyed in view of the obsolete information contained therein.

We have previously secured Archival authority to destroy correspondence relating to requests for publications and informative data (66-3286-443).

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Administrative Division and that consideration be given to the deindexing and destruction of file 66-3701 entitled "Personnel Selection and Training in the FBI" in line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records.

By memorandum 8/21/57 the Records and Communications Division requested the views of the Administrative Division regarding the possible de indexing and destruction of file number 66-3701 entitled "Personnel Selection and Training in the FBI."

This file has been reviewed and it consists basically of copies of a mimeographed publication which was gotten out by the Bureau during the period from about 1932 to about 1942 pertaining to the training and selection of personnel in the FBI. Much of the material in this document was similar to that now contained in the qualification sheets which we put out for the agent and clerical positions in the Bureau. The document was revised periodically and there are copies in this file of a number of different revisions over a period of years. The file also contains a number of memoranda prepared periodically over a period of years from about 1932 to 1940 showing in synopsis form how many agents were on duty at that time, percentage having law degrees or accounting degrees, and the various occupational backgrounds of the agents in service.

Although this material is, of course, similar to that maintained now in Vocation Records and although we could compile such information readily from our present records concerning our present agent staff it would seem that the information pertaining to the number of agents on duty at various times during the 1930's, the percentage of agents having law or accounting degrees during that period, and the training afforded agents at that time as set out in the mimeographed publication might be of some historical interest. It is recalled that during the very early stages of assembling material for Mr. Don Whitehead's book and even before that when it was thought that the Bureau itself might compile some publication of the Bureau's history a search was made for historical material pertaining to the chronological development of various divisions and procedures at various stages of the Bureau's development and it was found that historical material was in some cases difficult to locate because a great deal of administrative material had been destroyed as being obsolete.

The instant file also contains a large number of requests from various outside individuals for copies of the mimeographed pamphlet and letters acknowledging receipt of same and of course these are of no value whatsoever. The file also contains some mention of speeches delivered by Bureau personnel during which the publication was mentioned.

It is felt that certainly all of the material in this file consisting of correspondence concerning the distribution of the pamphlet could be destroyed. However, it is felt that before destruction of copies of the mimeographed pamphlet itself or the material concerning the number of agents on duty at various times and their educational or occupational background or material relating to speeches which Bureau personnel have delivered should be examined by the Crime Records Section and the Training and Inspection Division for their comment.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. It is recommended that this file be examined by the Crime Records Section and the Training and Inspection Division prior to destruction of any material.

2. Administrative Division recommends that all material concerning the distribution of the mimeographed pamphlet on training and selection of personnel in the FBI be destroyed.

3. That at least one copy of the mimeographed pamphlet and the memoranda showing the number of Special Agents on duty and the educational and occupational background be retained in file as of possible historical interest in the future unless, of course, this data is available elsewhere in the Records Section.

I scanned the contents of Sections 1 to 5 of 66-3701. Most of the files consist of incoming and outgoing correspondence relating to requests for material dealing with the training and selection of personnel during the period 1932 to and through 1942. Throughout the file are various drafts and copies of releases and memoranda relating to the training and selection of personnel. It is quite clear that there is not a copy of each and every revision made throughout the years and there is not a copy of all booklets or pamphlets which were prepared and distributed from time to time on this subject matter. Since the file is not complete in that respect it seems that no purpose would be served in retention of any of the memoranda, releases or pamphlets. I noted several items which I believe should not be destroyed - serials 533, 534, 557 and 559 which relate to background investigations conducted as to individuals who have requested copies of pamphlets dealing with training and selection of personnel.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Records Section be authorized to destroy all the material in this file with the exception of serials 533, 534, 537 and 539 and any other similar material which might be found in the file.

Bufile 66-3701 has been previously reviewed by the Administrative Division and the Training and Inspection Division to determine if any of the serials in this file which relates to a pamphlet prepared concerning the selection of personnel and training in the FBI can be destroyed. It was recommended and approved that this file be reviewed by Crime Records for any data of possible value for retention.

It is felt that the following serials should be retained: Serials 1, 8, 11, 18, 24, 199X, 533, 534, 557, 559 and 624. They include data concerning the initial preparation of the pamphlet; the date it was no longer available; statistics concerning the educational background of Special Agents for a period prior to the time such data was compiled by Vocational Records in the Administrative Division; research on specific individuals and a memorandum personally prepared by former Assistant Director H. H. Clegg dated 3-3-36 concerning the preparation of such pamphlets which contains a humorous but nevertheless penetrating analysis of Bureau publications. His observations could well be reviewed periodically by all those charged with the preparation of such documents.

RECOMMENDATION:

That all serials in Bufile 66-3701 except those listed above be destroyed.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #310-58
Made by SA W. Donald Stewart
Domestic Intelligence Division

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4AU

SYNOPSIS

SUGGESTION:

PART I - That all copies of reports (except originals) prepared on active cases which have been succeeded by a summary report be destroyed. Domestic Intelligence Division recommends unfavorably. Summary reports are not as detailed as the investigative reports and in many instances when disseminating information to other agencies we would have to give the results of all of our investigation - not just a summary. In these instances, copies of the actual investigative reports are necessary.

PART II - That all files, active and inactive, be reviewed and additional copies of reports destroyed whether or not a summary report has been prepared. Domestic Intelligence Division recommends unfavorably. The value of destroying copies as a space-saving device has long been recognized. Extensive Bureau study in 1955 revealed that we could not do this until we get a less expensive copying method than photostat. Records Branch advises that extensive research is currently being conducted to achieve copy-destruction aims of the 1955 survey.

PART III - That substantive supervisors handling the particular cases review all active cases and advise the field of the actual number of copies of reports that are needed. Domestic Intelligence Division recommends unfavorably. The problem of determining the number of copies needed in various cases has been the subject of extensive study. Present Bureau instructions have been based on the normal need recognizing the high cost of subsequent reproduction if the initial requirements are set too low. Supervisors presently control copy requirements in unusual cases; however, to follow this in all cases would result in useless confusion in the field.

Further details concerning this suggestion can be found in attached memo from SA W. Donald Stewart to Director dated 10/25/57.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the suggestion not be adopted.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION: 10-30-58
Reduction of Bureau Files and Number of Report Copies, Effecting a Savings in File Cabinets, Floor Space, Office Material and Stenographic and Clerical Time.

During reviews of Bureau files, it has been noted that many files are large and bulky due to several additional copies of reports bearing the same date. These reports are retained until such future time when they may be disseminated; however, there may never be a reason to disseminate these reports and, if so, probably only one copy is disseminated and the other copies remain in file. The individual files grow, necessitating additional cabinets and floor space.

It is, therefore, suggested that the following items be considered in an effort to reduce volume of Bureau files, thereby, effecting an annual saving to the Bureau in the number of file cabinets necessary and their necessary floor space needed.

1. In cases which have been active for an extended period of time, a great many reports have been written and finally a Summary Report has been prepared. When disseminating, we would normally only furnish a Summary Report to the interested agency; therefore, all preceding copies of reports other than the original prepared prior to the Summary Report are just unnecessary space and cabinet tenants. These unwanted copies could then be destroyed. Multivolume Criminal, Espionage, and Security cases could be greatly reduced by this method.

2. All files, active and inactive cases, should be reviewed and additional copies of reports destroyed whether a Summary Report exists or not.

3. A review of all active cases should be made by the supervisor handling cases on his desk. The number of copies actually needed by him should be determined by him and the field advised. Typical examples of additional unnecessary copies are in contact type cases where State and CIA are frequently the only interested agencies. Five copies are now required. If more than three copies are necessary, the field would be advised that in the future other copies will be necessary. The field has knowledge of the Bureau's dissemination responsibilities and the field could furnish additional copies, if or example, contact case type reports when it is obvious from the contents of the report that G-2, OSI, or ONI, might be interested. The Bureau would then advise the field if the additional copies were not needed. Changes in number of copies could be handled readily by use of a small form comparable to the form used by the field requesting the Bureau file number, or by a letter directed to the field.

The particular advantages in #3 to the Bureau would be a savings field wise in materials, stenographic time utilized in correcting additional unnecessary copies and clerical time handling same. Bureau wise the saving would appear in unnecessary handling of unwanted copies and filing of same.

The only possible disadvantage of destroying additional copies of reports would be that at some later date it may be necessary to disseminate some reports. A Photostat of the original report would have to be made and furnished to the interested agency; however, this cost would be negligible compared to the annual savings earned in each cabinet conserved and its associated floor space. In the past, the Bureau has "housed" additional copies of reports for several years before it became necessary to disseminate one of the retained copies of each report; In the event a situation develops in the field which necessiates a particular office being furnished a copy of a report, a short letter or form could be directed to the appropriate field office instructing them to furnish the necessary copies to the particular field office needing same; hence, it would not be necessary for the Bureau to Photostat the originals in this situation.

ADDENDUM (SBD:hmm) 10/29/57; Espionage Section: Following comments submitted regarding numbered suggestions:

1. Destroy all copies, except original, of all reports preceding a summary report. This is based on assumption by Agent Stewart that we would only disseminate summary report when need for further dissemination arose. This assumption is not necessarily correct since summaries are generally written for a specific purpose, are not as detailed as the investigative reports, and in many instances we would have to give another agency results of all of our investigation - not just the summary. Idea of destroying copies is treated in No. 2 below.

2. Review all files and destroy all copies of all reports now in file. Value of destruction of copies as space saving device has long been recognized. It was subject of extensive Bureau study in 1955 (65-2435-1807, 1808, 1809, 1810 and 1817) when conclusion reached we could not do this until we could get a less expensive copying method than Photostat. Check with Records Branch reveals considerable research currently being done on copying methods in order to achieve copy-destruction aims of 1955.

MEMO TO: DIRECTOR
RE: SUGGESTION: Reduction of Bureau Files and Number of Report Copies, Effecting a Savings in File Cabinets, Floor Space, Office Material and Stenographic and Clerical Time.

3. Review of all pending cases by each Bureau Supervisor to instruct field as to number of copies needed in each case. Number of copies of reports for Bureau needed in each classification has been subject of extensive study. Requirements set have been based on normal need recognizing high cost of subsequent reproduction if initial requirements set too low. Supervisors already control copy requirements in individual cases of unusual nature by issuing necessary instructions to field. It is believed that following this practice in each and every case, however, would result in useless confusion in field and for this reason it is definitely felt that we must have the set pattern of copy requirements that we do have. Question of reducing copies required of Inpro contact cases being studied separately in Espionage Section.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. Recommend that Domestic Intelligence Division not favor adoption of these suggestions. Although there is definite merit to principle involved, any systematic purge of report copies must be considered in conjunction with a speedy, economical copy production method which is under study.

2. Recommend this memo be routed to Training and Inspection Division for acknowledgment and consideration.

On October 25, 1957, [redacted], Security Officer, INS, advised the Liaison Agent that his Service plans to destroy certain FBI reports which are not believed necessary for retention in INS records. [redacted] stated that the foregoing would not be done unless it met with the Bureau's approval.

This matter was discussed with the Records and Communications Division and inasmuch as INS is maintaining a record identifying the reports received and further recording the date of the destruction, that agency is complying with procedures heretofore followed by other agencies which have received our reports and have found a reason to destroy some documents.

Mr. John Mang, Section Chief, Investigative Division, Civil Service Commission, telephonically contacted the writer on 10-2-57 concerning the possible destruction of copies of Bureau investigative reports in the possession of the Civil Service Commission.

Mr. Mang recalled that several years ago he had been informed by the Bureau that we were not interested in getting back copies of FBI investigative reports that have been forwarded to the Civil Service Commission by the Bureau in cases in which they are interested. He wondered what our policy currently was inasmuch as they were considering the disposal of old record material, some of which included copies of Bureau investigative reports. The Commission has not finalized any plans in this regard; however, he was looking for general information in the event they proceed with tentative plans to dispose of their records. He was advised that we, of course, would like to know specifically what he had in mind in connection with disposal of copies of the Bureau's reports but that generally we were not asking that they be returned to the Bureau. He was reminded of the necessity for complying with the provisions of Executive Order #10501, if and when he did dispose of any record material originating from us. This order provides that such material should either be disposed of by burning or maceration and that a record of the destruction should be maintained by the destroying agency. For your information, we have been advising other Government departments along this line when they have raised the question of disposing of copies of Bureau reports.

Mr. Mang was also advised that if and when the Civil Service Commission decided on material that they were going to dispose of, he should contact us again concerning the specific reports in question and the Bureau could give him a definite answer. He stated that at the present time they did not contemplate destroying any reports under the old Loyalty Program or the new Security of Government Employees Program.

RE: DUPLICATION OF COPIES

You are generally familiar with the data set forth in the attached memorandum concerning our efforts to secure a machine that will quickly and effectively reproduce copies of reports.

As outlined in the attached, current developments indicate that we could get this machine rent-free for a 3-week period, 9-30 through 10-21-57, (machine ordinarily rents for $1850). In order to perform our experiments and research there would be a cost to the Bureau of approximately $250 for supplies.

We would very much like to get this machine, and if you talk to Mr. Mohr, we would also desire that Mr. Renneberger look over the machine and evaluate its effectiveness with us. The big question, of course, is does the Bureau have several hundred dollars available for this very worthwhile experiment?

Please note that I should notify the sales representative by Friday of this week.

OBJECTIVE: As you are aware, for sometime the Records Branch has been conducting extensive research in an effort to find an inexpensive and rapid method of copy reproduction which would make economical and feasible the destruction of extra copies of reports now in file.

The Bureau has followed the procedure of filing extra copies of reports for future needs. As a result, it is estimated that nearly one-third of the 7500 cabinets that house the Bureau files or approximately 2500 cabinets contain copies only. For Bureau needs, original only of reports is necessary, however, because of Name Check and Security of Employees programs and other dissemination responsibilities, large volume of copies of reports must be disseminated. At the present time, copies are disseminated if available; if no copies are in file, original is Photostated and Photostat is disseminated. According to a recent survey, approximately 50,000 pages of reports are disseminated monthly. Approximately 40[illegible] of these pages required Photostating and the remaining 60 per cent were extra copies of reports already in file.

Records Branch feels that from efficient records management standpoint, original only of report should be retained and all copies of reports presently filed should be purged. (As a practical matter, the purging of copies of reports presently in file would take some period of time and would depend on the availability of personnel. Obviously we would start with the older files first and inasmuch as the majority of reports disseminated are reports prepared within the past five years, the purging of copies would have little effect on our current dissemination program for sometime to come.) This would eventually mean, however, that we would have to reproduce all copies of reports to be disseminated and the research conducted by the Records Branch has been directed along the line of finding a suitable reproduction method which would be more economical than the present photostat operation. It is our contention that with such a reproduction method which could possibly be operated in and by the Records Branch, certain other economies could be effected in connection with the removal of serials, elimination of the transportation of material between buildings for photostating purposes, speed up in reproduction of copies for dissemination, decrease number of locates, return of files to cabinets faster, etc.

BACKGROUND:

This problem of excessive copies of investigative reports in our files was presented for consideration by the Records Branch in September of 1953. (The problem is more critical now because of continued expansion of our records and space to put them in.)

Opinions were obtained from the Domestic Intelligence Division and the Investigative Division, and the Training and Inspection Division, after obtaining these facts, also looked into the problem (66-2435-1807, 1808, 1809, 1810, and 1817). Predicated on the objections that the disposal of extra copies would hamper dissemination to other agencies, it was recommended and approved that we would not purge extra copies of reports in file at that time but the Records Branch should continue research to find an inexpensive method of reproduction which would make destruction economically feasible.

RESEARCH CONDUCTED:

In connection with our research, we secured data concerning and experimented with a number of reproduction processes. For possible future use, information concerning each of these processes and its applicability to our needs are set out in the attached blind memorandum listed as Item #1.

PROCESS WHICH APPEARS TO BEST SUIT OUR NEEDS:

HALOID - COPYFLO

Haloid Copyflo - Manufactured by Haloid Co., Rochester 3, N. Y. Local distributor - Haloid Co., 3306 Reservoir Rd., N. W., Washington, D. C. Cost - varies depending upon machine utilized. Can be rented on a monthly rental basis. Cost data and additional details set forth below.

PROCESS:

Dry process similar to Haloid - Zerox process described in the attached blind memorandum. Machine is automatic printer and reproduces copies of either opaque or translucent originals at a very rapid speed. With special type of head can also reproduce microfilm copies. Cost of reproduction of copies approximately 3 3/4 cents a copy (based on our volume); however, as volume of copies reproduced increases, cost to reproduce each copy decreases.

OBSERVATIONS:

Excellent process for economical mass reproduction of copies. Copies reproduced are permanent reproductions because dry process used. Cost of reproduction of copies includes machine rental and all supplies necessary. Additional data set forth below.

Based on the data obtained to date, this process appears to be the process which would most suitably fit our needs both from the standpoint of economy and quality. (Literature concerning process and sample copies reproduced attached as Item #2.)

Our reproduction problems and ultimate objectives have been discussed in some detail with Mr. [redacted], local representative of the Haloid Company. Mr. [redacted] informs that the Haloid Company manufactures three models of the Copyflo machine, model #1 with microfilm head, cost $72,000, monthly rental $1,250, reproduces positive single copies from 16 mm or 35 mm microfilm; model #2 with opaque head, cost $80,000, monthly rental $1,550, reproduces single copies of opaque or translucent originals; model #3 with dual heads, cost $85,000, monthly rental $1,850, reproduces either from microfilm or original documents. Mr. [redacted] informed that model #3 with dual heads will not be available for sale or rental until later this year.

Mr. [redacted] has informed that based on our anticipated volume of copy reproductions (copies reproduced for dissemination if all copies now in file destroyed, approximately 50,000 reproductions monthly), a copy could be reproduced for approximately 3 3/4 cents per page which cost includes machine rental and necessary supplies. According to the Administrative Division, a Photostatic reproduction costs approximately 12 cents which cost includes labor, supplies, etc.

Based on these figures it would appear that there would be a substantial savings in the reproduction of copies, however it is pointed out that these figures are not conclusive and it would be impossible to set forth a definite cost figure or savings unless an actual experiment is conducted. It is pointed out that in addition to a possible savings in reproduction costs, the Records Branch feels that many additional economies would be realized in connection with such intangible items as the removal of serials, elimination of the transportation of material between buildings for photostatic purposes, speed up the reproduction for dissemination, decrease in the number of locates, return of files to cabinets, etc., which would effect further savings and streamline procedures. It is possible that additional avenues of use would be uncovered which would further justify the use of this machine. b6 b7C

Through arrangements perfected by Mr. [redacted], Messrs. Waikart and Marshall observed one of these machines in operation and the attached copies of Bureau correspondence were reproduced (copy attached as Item #3). They were extremely impressed with the speed of reproduction, the quality of the copies reproduced, and the versatility of the machine. They feel that the machine offers unlimited possibilities for streamlining some of the work presently performed in and by the Records Branch. For our purpose model #2 which reproduces copy from the original documents or model #3 which reproduces both microfilm and the original document could be very effectively utilized. However model #3 is not commercially available at this time.

While we strongly feel that this machine offers excellent possibilities as far as our reproduction problem is concerned, we have purposely not recommended the rental of one of these machines up to this time because of the Bureau's stringent economy program and because the company ordinarily will not rent the machine for a period less than one year.

On 9-16-57, Mr. [redacted] contacted SA Marshall and informed that a model #2 machine is being delivered to the Washington area for two demonstrations during September and October. He stated that between these two demonstrations, there will be a three-week period when the machine will be idle. Mr. [redacted] informed that his company was willing to make this machine available to the Bureau rent free for the three-week period, September 30 through October 21, for experimental purposes. The only expense to the Bureau would be the cost of supplies necessary for this experiment. It is anticipated that this cost would be no more than $250 and of course the copies reproduced during this period would be suitable for dissemination.

Records Branch feels that this is a golden opportunity to experiment with this machine, with very little cost to the Bureau, to actually determine if any economies can be realized by the use of this type of equipment. We are confident that the use of this equipment will enable us to effect many economies and will result in a substantial savings to the Bureau. Mr. [redacted] has informed that his company would like to know by the end of this week if such an arrangement is satisfactory.

It is our plan that this machine would be installed in the Identification Building near the Name Check Section of the Investigative Division where the majority of reports are disseminated.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the Records Branch be authorized to negotiate with ~~through~~ Mr. [redacted], Haloid, Company Representative, 3306 Reservoir Rd., N.W., Washington, 6, D. C., for the installation of a model #2, Copyflo machine in the Identification Building for a three-week period, September 30 through October 21st, for experimental purposes on a rent-free basis. The only expense to the Bureau would be the supplies necessary which would probably cost no more than $250 depending upon how much we use the machine. Extensive experiments will be conducted during this period to determine the machines applicability to our needs. (Mr. [redacted] has requested that he be informed by the end of this week if the Bureau would like the machine installed). b6 b7C

9/19 [redacted] agreeable also to go ahead with machine in Mechanical section
F.C.W.

9/20 [redacted] advised.

(2) If the machine during the experimental period does the job anticipated, further recommendations will be made at a later date regarding the rental of the machine and the destruction of extra copies of reports now in file.

RESEARCH CONDUCTED AND INFORMATION OBTAINED CONCERNING REPRODUCTION PROCESSES

In connection with our research, we have secured data concerning and experimented with a number of other reproduction processes. For possible future use, information concerning each of these processes and its applicability to our needs are set out below.

VERIFAX

Verifax Copying Machine - Manufactured by Recordak Corporation - 415 Madison Ave., New York 17, N. Y. Local distributor - Recordak Corporation, 705 12th St., N. W., Washington 5, D. C. Cost $360.00

PROCESS:

Material to be copied placed face to face with matrix (sensitized paper) and inserted in machine. Light produces copy on matrix. Copy paper then attached to matrix, inserted in machine and copy is made. At least 3 to 6 copies can be made from matrix, however, printing on each one becomes noticeably lighter.

OBSERVATIONS:

Single copies more expensive than Autostat (reproduction process presently used to reproduce copies for filing purposes) copies. Additional copies made from same matrix become noticeably lighter. Good process but too slow for mass reproduction of copies.

THERMOFAX

Thermofax Duplicating Process - Manufactured by Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., St. Paul, Minnesota. Cost $425.00

PROCESS:

Dry process wherein infra red rays burn image on special thermofax paper. Process requires approximately 15 seconds. Copies cost approximately 5 cents each. Paper is light in weight, resembles carbon paper in appearance and texture.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4 ENCLOSURE
ELW Cal 66-3286 V

OBSERVATIONS:

Not suitable for our use. Good for temporary copies but paper too flimsy, susceptible to tearing and not satisfactory for permanent copies. Can be reinforced with a lamination process which takes additional time.

COPEASE

Copease Duplex Photocopier - Manufactured by Copease Corporation, New York, N. Y. Local distributor - Haloid Co., 3306 Reservoir Rd., N. W., Washington, D. C.

PROCESS:

Operates similar to autostat process. Copy takes approximately 40 seconds to make.

OBSERVATIONS:

Similar to autostat process. Good for small number of copies but too slow for mass reproduction of copies. No particular advantage over autostat machine presently being used.

SMOKEPRINTER

Electronic Developing Process - Developed by Standard Register Co., Albany and Campbell Sts., Dayton, Ohio. No cost data available, still in process of development.

PROCESS:

Copy made by use of electronic principle. Information received from Standard Register Co. that machine still in research stages, not available commercially.

OBSERVATIONS:

Copies supposedly can be made at a cost of a fraction of a cent. Machine still being developed. Development will be closely followed.

BRUNING COPYFLEX

Bruning Copyflex - Manufactured by Charles Bruning Co., Inc. Headquarters - Teterboro, N. J. Local Branch Office - 1025 Connecticut Ave., N. W., Washington 6, D. C. Cost - varies upon size of machine utilized.

PROCESS:

Original document and sensitized copyflex paper are exposed to light rays which deactivate the diazo coating wherever they pass through original. After exposure, the copyflex sheet passes through rolls which apply a thin film of developer which converts the latent image on the paper into sharp black lines thus making a positive reproduction.

OBSERVATIONS:

Good process (same process used by Identification Division to reproduce copies of identification records). Translucent paper necessary for best quality copies. We have experimented with this machine and while our reports can be reproduced, quality of some reproductions only fair and not suitable for dissemination because paper is not sufficiently translucent. Copies can be reproduced for a fraction of a cent per copy.

HALOID - ZEROX

Haloid Zerox - Manufactured by Haloid Co., Rochester 3, N. Y. Local distributor - Haloid Co., 3306 Reservoir Rd., N. W., Washington, D. C. Cost of equipment necessary $4,335.00. Same equipment can be rented for $90 per month.

PROCESS:

Dry, electrical copying process. Powders used instead of chemicals or water. Primary purpose of this process is to make master copy for use in preparing multiple copies. Takes 3 minutes to make master copy, then additional copies can be made very rapidly.

OBSERVATIONS:

Not suitable for mass reproduction of copies. Too slow and expensive. Only advantage would be where large number of copies of same document required.

SUGGESTION: Miss [redacted] GS 8 Assistant Supervisor in the Consolidation Unit, has suggested through the Streamlining Committee that the destruction of Japanese relocation files be indicated in the abstracts of the Numbering Unit as follows: remove tab card if one exists and all abstracts except serial 1. Destroy the abstracts and tab card. Stamp the abstract for serial 1 "Destroyed--See 66-3286-431X1."

CURRENT PROCEDURE: The Records Branch has received authority for the destruction of a number of files concerning the relocation of Japanese aliens. The abstracts for these files should also be destroyed. However, the Numbering Unit abstracts destroyed are replaced by forms in the numerical sequence currently filed in the abstracts indicating the file number destroyed and the file containing the authority for destruction.

ADVANTAGES: Employee states that her suggestion would eliminate filling in the forms replacing abstracts destroyed.

CONCLUSION: Adoption of this suggestion is recommended on a modified basis. In those instances where there is a series of numbers of files destroyed, the Records Branch will use a form to indicate the scope of file numbers so destroyed. When there appears to be only a single file which has been destroyed, the Records Branch will retain the abstract of serial 1 and stamp "Destroyed--See Serial 66-3286-431X1." A stamp has been ordered and the suggestion will be placed into effect immediately.

RECOMMENDATION:

(1) Favorable as modified.

By letter dated August 20, 1957, the Baltimore Office advised that according to information received from the G-2, Second Army, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, that G-2 had stated that the problem of filing FBI reports in general investigative matters (criminal cases) had become increasingly difficult because of space problems at Second Army. The G-2 requested Baltimore to advise whether or not in reports in the general investigative file, once they had served their purpose, could be destroyed. Baltimore suggested that possibly other Army areas were encountering the same difficulty and suggested that the Bureau endeavor to have the Department of the Army establish an over-all policy on this question.

This matter was taken up through Bureau Liaison with the Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, Intelligence (ACSI), Department of the Army. At that time advice was received from ACSI that the Department of the Army would, after taking the matter up with all continental Armies, establish a policy which would be submitted to the Bureau for approval prior to being issued formally. On November 29, 1957, Major [redacted], Plans and Policy Section, ACSI, advised SA D. J. Sullivan, Liaison Section, that after canvassing all continental U. S. Army areas, it had been determined that all the Armies were more or less encountering the same problem, that is a shortage of storage space. In order to alleviate this problem, Major [redacted] stated that if the Bureau approved, an order would be put out by the Department of the Army concerning the disposition of Bureau reports in criminal matters which would be substantially as follows:

b7C

In order to reduce the amount of files held in the commands and agencies, this headquarters proposes to establish a procedure to provide for final disposition of criminal-type FBI reports as follows:

(a) Upon completion of Army action or at the end of a one-year period, if the case is inactive, reports on members of the Army and Department of Army civilians containing loyalty or criminal-suitability type information will be forwarded to the Central Records Facility (CRF), Fort Holabird, Maryland. The reports will be incorporated into dossiers at CRF and maintained permanently.

(b) All other criminal-type reports not included in (a) above will be destroyed by burning by the command or agency concerned. This destruction will take place after the reports have been retained for a one-year period or upon receipt of notification from the Department of the Army that action has been completed.

Major [redacted] states that in order to avoid asking the FBI for duplicate reports at a later date, those reports other than those forwarded to CRF which, in the opinion of the command or agency concerned, might be of future value to the Army, should be retained beyond the one-year period. This would be discretionary with the respective commands. Major [redacted] further stated that it was proposed that criminal-type Bureau reports which had been included as exhibits in military police criminal investigative reports were being exempted from the destructive provisions of the proposed Army regulation. At the time of issuance of the new regulation, all commands would be advised that the new regulation would in no way alter procedures currently being followed with respect to the final disposition of intelligence-type FBI reports which are forwarded to CRF for permanent maintenance. b6 b7C

It is noted that when this question was first brought to the attention of the Baltimore Office by the G-2 of the Second Army he pointed out that correspondence from the Bureau always carried "a loan" provision, which the G-2 assumed to imply that the Bureau might sometime seek physical recovery of the documents at a later date. While the Bureau can always recall reports disseminated to other agencies, it is not deemed practical or desirable to have a wholesale return of these reports by the Department of the Army when the Army is of the opinion that the reports are no longer of current interest. The biggest objection to the destruction of Bureau reports in the hands of other agencies comes from the fact that at some future time that agency might request the Bureau for duplicate copies, thus adding an extra expense and burden on the Bureau. It is noted that in the proposed Army regulation they specifically propose mentioning that to avoid asking the Bureau for duplicate reports at a later date it is being left within the discretion of the command or agency concerned as to whether Bureau reports are or are not to be destroyed under specific circumstances.

Since the proposed regulation provides for the permanent retention of criminal-type Bureau reports in cases involving Army personnel and Department of the Army civilian personnel, it is thought that the bulk of the destruction would take place in cases involving fraud, bribery and related matters. In any event, all reports will be maintained for at least one year or until completion of the action.

Since the Bureau does not desire the return of these reports from the Army, it is not thought that the Bureau can object to the destruction by the Army.

ACTION:

If you approve, Liaison will advise ACSI that it is entirely within the discretion of the Department of the Army as to whether they initiate a procedure for the destruction of criminal-type Bureau reports. ACSI will further be requested to keep the Bureau advised if and when such a procedure is initiated.

By memo dated 11/4/57 from Mr. Andretta, Administrative Assistant Attorney General, there were attached four files containing copies of efficiency rating lists of Bureau employees dating from 1942 to 1945 which, according to Mr. Andretta, are of no further value to the Department. They were forwarded to the Bureau for whatever disposition was deemed appropriate.

These lists apparently were forwarded to the Department on an annual basis and were broken down by Seat of Government and Field Payroll. There was a further break down by grade and under the break down the employees were listed in their respective adjective rating categories.

All of the foregoing information is contained in the Bureau's personnel records and it is not felt these lists would be of any value to the Bureau. Accordingly, it is recommended that permission be given to destroy them.

SUBJECT: COPYING OF REPORTS IN BUREAU FILES RECORDS SECTION MEMORANDUM
SEPTEMBER 17, 1957

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

The Records Section of the Records and Communications Division is faced with the problem of files expansion and has made inquiry concerning a satisfactory and inexpensive method of reproducing copies of reports now in file when copies are necessary for dissemination. At the present time the files contain, in most cases, extra copies of reports. The Records Section estimates that one-third of the 7500 file cabinets now in use contain nothing but additional copies of reports. They contend that if the Records Section is only required to maintain one copy of each report that the space occupied by 2500 file cabinets could be saved.

Supervisor [redacted] of the Records Section made arrangements with Mr. [redacted] of the Haloid Company to furnish, rent free, a #2 Copyflo Machine for the Bureau to experiment with for a three week period beginning the first of October, 1957. The machine we experimented with rents for $1550.00 per month or sells for $80,000.00. b6 b7C

A Model #2 Copyflo Machine was placed in the Mechanical Section and used for a three week period during October, 1957. This machine reproduces, electro-statically, from the original material on to a roll of plain unsensitized paper. It makes a good permanent, positive reproduction and can be used for 90 per cent of our work. There are certain types of light blue ink which do not satisfactorily reproduce on this machine but this type of work can easily be screened and reproduced on the Photostat Machines. The Copyflo Machine is capable of reproducing 1200 8"x10½" sheets per hour under ideal conditions however, due to the type of work which we reproduce, (we have to block out Bureau notations and use the Bureau Property Stamp) we can average about 500 pieces per hour With further experience and planning on this machine we will be able to increase that average to between 700 and 800 pieces per hour.

The Foreman of our Photostat Unit [redacted] and the other Photostat operators were very much impressed with the machine. We have estimated the cost per 8"x10½" reproduction at $.05 per copy as against $.08 per copy for a Photostat.

The Haloid Company manufactures three models of the Copyflo Machine, Model #1 which reproduces from 16mm or 35mm film and rents for $1250.00 per month or sells for $72,000.00; Model #2 which reproduces directly from the original rents for $1550.00 per month or sells for $80,000.00; Model #3 which reproduces either from microfilm or directly from the original rents for $1850.00 monthly or sells for $85,000.00. We experimented with the Model #2 machine.

The Mechanical Section Photographic Laboratory does a good bit of reproduction work from microfilm and if we had a model #3 machine we could speed up our microfilm work.

Mr. [redacted] advises that if we desire to rent or purchase a Copyflo machine it will take from 60 to 90 days for delivery. Mr. [redacted] also stated that if we rent a machine for a six-month period and then desire to purchase a machine, the rental fee could be applied to its cost.

If the Bureau desires to eliminate extra copies of reports from the files and reproduce copies as necessary, I believe that our present force could easily keep up with the additional work we would receive.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

That this memorandum be referred to the Records and Communications Division for their information and further recommendation.

Attached memo October 30, 1957, from W. G. Eames to Mr. Nichols deals with proposed plan for destruction of copies of reports in file as space-saving device of considerable magnitude. Your comments are desired by Mr. Nease.

This over-all idea was presented in September, 1955. Basically the idea is a sound one since the Bureau cannot gear itself to copy storage based solely on possible future use. After considerable study the idea was rejected in January, 1956, until an inexpensive copy reproduction method could be assured which would meet vast needs of Bureau to disseminate data on a continuing basis.

Attached memo shows considerable research on copy reproduction with another method tested but new equipment not yet authorized, purchased or installed. Principal "bug" in this new equipment is that it is not susceptible to a large-scale blocking out of notations, names, and filing records noted on the original of the report. Records Branch, in effect, wants to go ahead with a copy destruction program, saving, with the original report, one unmarked copy of page one from one of the copies to be destroyed. While this is a partial solution to the problem of masking out data during copy reproduction it does not fully answer the question of whether, if we destroy copies now, our present reproduction facilities will be able to meet the daily needs of the Bureau. For example, Name Check Section uses report copies to handle name checks in a daily amount of about 1900 pages, of which about 700 pages are Photostat copies. Copy destruction could increase Photostat or other reproduction requirements around 1000 pages daily in this phase of Bureau work alone.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) This problem affects other divisions and it is believed views of other divisions should be secured. Recommend this Division favor a copy destruction program in principle providing the Bureau is simultaneously in a position to meet promptly all copy reproduction needs. Destruction without facilities to meet reproduction needs would be false economy.

SUBJECT: COPIES OF REPORTS

OBJECTIVE: As you know for sometime the Records Branch has been conducting extensive research in an effort to find an inexpensive and rapid method of copy reproduction which would make economically feasible the destruction of extra copies of reports now in file. The destruction of these copies, which we estimate occupy nearly 1/3 of our 7500 file cabinets housing Bureau files, would save a tremendous amount of space and equipment and would make our filing operation more efficient from the standpoint of maintenance and normal day-to-day use.

BACKGROUND: The Bureau has followed the practice of filing extra copies of reports for possible future needs. For Bureau needs only original copy of report is necessary, however, because of Bureau responsibilities, large volume of copies of reports must be disseminated. This dissemination can be handled in two ways: (1) by retaining extra copies of reports in file as is now done or (2) by maintaining only original copy of report in file and reproducing copies as needed. It has been the contention of the Records Branch for sometime that from an efficient records management standpoint, only the original copy of the report should be retained in file.

On 9-16-55, (66-2435-1807) I sent you a comprehensive memorandum setting forth the background concerning this problem and the advantages and disadvantages which would occur if only the original copy of the report was retained in file. I recommended that the procedure of filing extra copies of reports be discontinued and that all such copies in the Bureau files be destroyed.

ENCLOSURE

Referenced memorandum was referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division and the Investigative Division for comment and by memoranda from Branigan to Belmont dated 9-30-55 (66-2435-1808) and Evans to Rosen dated 10-6-55 (66-2435-1809) some pertinent and logical disadvantages were set forth concerning our proposal; the principal disadvantages having to do with: (1) the difficulty in reproducing acceptable copies from the original in view of notations, corrections, Records Branch symbols, etc. (Majority of these markings appear on first page of report and proposed solution to this problem set forth later in this memorandum.) (2) additional time required to reproduce copies (This can be overcome if faster method of reproduction used. Such a method presently under consideration by Mechanical Section).

The Training and Inspection Division considered this problem and by memorandum from Mason to Mr. Tolson dated 1-27-56 (66-2435-1817) recommended that the files not be purged of extra copies of reports in file but the Records Branch should continue to conduct research to find an inexpensive method of reproduction which would make destruction economically feasible.

Since that time, the Records Branch has conducted extensive research and experimented with a number of reproduction processes. By memorandum to you dated 9-17-57, I set forth the results of this research and in particular, information concerning the Haloid Copyflo reproduction process which process reproduces permanent copies very rapidly and economically. Arrangements were made with the Haloid Company to install a Copyflo machine in the Mechanical Section for experimental purposes at no cost to the Bureau. The Mechanical Section is currently analyzing the results of this experiment to determine if this process is suitable for the Bureau's use.

Main Problem In Mass Reproduction Of Copies: The main problem which would be encountered in the mass reproduction of copies and a problem which even now causes considerable work on the part of the Mechanical Section in the photostat operation, is the blocking out of certain information on our documents being reproduced for dissemination purposes. All Bureau markings, notations, symbols, etc. are blocked out and the character of some reports is blocked out (for example, Bureau, CIA or Departmental applicant investigations). The great majority of the material blocked out appears on the first page of the report. This blocking-out process is a time consuming yet necessary operation which would naturally be increased if all copies of reports were destroyed.

The blocking-out process is one of the main difficulties encountered in our experiment with the Haloid Copyflo reproduction system. This system is an extremely fast operation, reproduces permanent copies very rapidly and economically but is not susceptible to a large blocking-out operation because the material being reproduced is sent through the machine by rollers. While we can never completely overcome the blocking-out problem, we can substantially alleviate this difficulty by the proposed solutions set forth in the subsequent paragraphs.

Memo to Mr. Nichols 10-30-57
Re: Copies of Reports

Proposal by Records Branch to Alleviate Blocking-Out Problem: As previously set forth, the great majority of the notations, symbols, etc. which must be blocked out of a report being reproduced for dissemination purposes are located on the first page of the report. The remaining pages of the original report are normally free of any markings which require blocking out and thus can be reproduced very easily and rapidly. Since minor changes are made in ink and may appear on pages other than the first page of the report, the question of reproducing ink notations has been given careful attention. It was found that this machine does an excellent job of reproducing all ink notations with the exception of those which are very faint or in light pastel shades. In rare instances where such ink has been used, it would be advisable to use existing Photostat equipment. This could be done at the present cost of reproduction and since it would be necessary only on very infrequent occasions, it does not present a problem.

The Records Branch proposes that we go through our files at the present time, beginning with the older files, and destroy all copies of reports now in file. In addition to the original copy of the report, we would retain the first page of a copy of the report. This first page, which will normally be free of any markings, would be attached to the original report. Thus, when any future reproduction of the report is necessary, the first page of the copy could be used along with the remaining pages of the original report for reproduction purposes. This system would alleviate to a large extent the main difficulty in the reproduction of reports (the blocking out of markings) and we will be able to reap big dividends from the destruction of the remaining copies of reports in file.

This proposal will alleviate the problem encountered with the reports already in file. In connection with the reports presently being prepared, there are three alternatives which could alleviate or eliminate the blocking-out problem: (1) require Field to submit extra copy of first page of report (This could be done very easily at little expense.), (2) place all markings, symbols, notations, etc. on lower half of first page of report form, thus blocking out would be a simple proposition, (3) attach extra page to report for purpose of placing thereon notations, symbols, etc., thus original report would be free of any markings and could be reproduced very easily.

CONCLUSIONS: Large percentage of Bureau records consist of copies of reports and from efficient and sound records management standpoint should be destroyed. Destruction of these copies would save substantial space and equipment and make records more efficient. Because of dissemination program, to make this feasible requires economical and rapid reproduction method. Such a method currently being studied and experimented with. One of problems encountered to date is the necessity to block out Bureau markings, notations, symbols, etc. Since majority of these markings appear on first page of report, Records Branch proposes that duplicate copy of first page of report be retained for reproduction purposes and all other copies be destroyed, thus saving substantial space and equipment and making records more efficient for day-to-day use.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the Bureau again consider the destruction of copies of reports now in Bureau files in the interest of sound records management operations and more efficient utilization of space and equipment. If the Bureau authorizes the destruction of reports, the duplicate first page of a copy of the report will be retained and attached to original report for use for reproduction purposes.

(2) If Recommendation #1 is approved, further consideration will be given to possible revision in submission or processing of reports currently being prepared.

Exhibit I, Benefits for Special Agents Under Civil Service Retirement Legislation, and Exhibit II, Benefits of Working for the FBI, are the two most recently issued pamphlets furnished new Special Agents to advise them of such matters. In addition, we presently furnish new agents with Exhibit IV, Memorandum for All Special Agent Personnel, dated 9/28/55, and Exhibit V, Memorandum for All Special Agent Personnel, dated August 9, 1956, which brings the 9/28/55 memorandum up to date on revised retirement benefits. These latter memos are not maintained in stock and it is necessary to have them printed each time additional copies are needed. We continued distributing them after the pamphlet Benefits of Working for the FBI was prepared since they contained more detailed information on retirement benefits. Now, however, with the preparation of the pamphlet specifically covering retirement legislation, the two memos do not appear to be necessary and duplicate information contained in the two pamphlets.

We previously issued to new clerical employees, a Memorandum for all Non-Agent Personnel, dated August 13, 1956, Exhibit III, which summarized their employment benefits. We discontinued issuing this memorandum upon the preparation of the pamphlet entitled "Benefits of Working for the FBI" since this pamphlet covered their benefits as well as benefits of the Special Agent personnel.

We now have only a small supply of the two memos for Special Agent personnel and upon approval, they will no longer be issued new agents and the existing supply will be destroyed.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the existing supply of Exhibits IV and V, Memorandum for all Special Agent Personnel dated 9/28/55 and supplement dated 8/9/56, be destroyed since the information contained therein is now adequately covered by the two pamphlets entitled "Benefits of Working for the FBI" and "Benefits for Special Agents Under Civil Service Retirement Legislation," Exhibits I and II.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTIONS #421-58, 422-58, 423-58
SUBMITTED BY [redacted]
CHARLOTTE DIVISION

Destruction of Bureau Property - G-2

SUGGESTIONS: #421-58 -- that all serials in 67-0 (Applicant Matters) over 10 years old be destroyed; #422-58 that all serials in 25-0 (Selective Service cases) over 10 years old be destroyed; #423-58 -- that all 25 cases over 10 years old be destroyed except where office is the office of origin and prosecution was authorized.

CURRENT PROCEDURE: Files in the categories mentioned may be destroyed in the field when they become 25 years old.

ADVANTAGES STATED: If adopted, procedure would result in saving of filing space. For example, in the Charlotte Office in the 67-0 category 6 drawers could be saved, in the 25-0 three drawers, and in the 25 investigative cases 48 drawers.

OBSERVATIONS: As to suggestion #423-58 that all 25 cases over 10 years old be destroyed except where office is the office of origin and prosecution was authorized, the same suggestion was previously made (#204-56) and was considered by the Executives Conference on 9/26/55. The Conference unanimously opposed adoption of the suggestion. It is noted that in connection with this action, the Conference considered a survey made by the Washington Field Office which reflected that of 100 Selective Service Cases closed between 1941 - 1944, the same or similar names on 53 of 100 individuals appeared in 53 security or other type of cases than Selective Service. A one-day check showed that of 75 Civil Service Commission Forms, there were 19 Selective Service references checked; of 20 reviews made for G-2, 15 Selective Service references were involved; and of 23 applicant matters, 4 Selective Service references were involved. (66-3286-688)

In view of the action taken by the Executives Conference it is not felt that any further consideration should be given to #423-58 at this time.

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Comments have been requested as to the attached memorandum, dated 10/30/57, from W. G. Eames to Mr. Nichols, relating to the destruction of copies of reports in our files to save space. The Domestic Intelligence Division has considered and submitted its recommendations as to this memorandum. It has been the subject of several conferences with all the Section Chiefs in the Investigative Division as well as with representatives of the Records Section. This matter was previously considered in 1955 when it was recommended that the files not be purged and efforts be made to find an inexpensive method of reproduction.

Mr. Eames' memorandum indicates research has been made and that a Copyflo machine now in use on an experimental basis produces clear copies rapidly and economically. It was indicated, however, that the machine would not handle a large blocking out operation as is sometimes necessary due to notations on the first page of the original report. Mr. Eames stated that if and when all extra copies of reports now in file are destroyed an extra copy of the first page, clear of notations, would be retained and used for reproducing purposes. As to reports submitted in the future, suggestions were made that the Field submit an extra page for such markings or that the lower half of the first page be used for that purpose.

INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION COMMENTS

There is no objection within the division to a program which would reduce the number of extra copies of investigative reports in FBI files. The use of the Copyflo machine is satisfactory to us provided it reproduces everything which would normally appear in an investigative report and it produces clear, clean, attractive copies, rapidly and economically. The main problem involved relates to what should be retained in file for dissemination and for record purposes.

Memorandum to Mr. A. Rosen
Re: Copies of Reports

Information disseminated in Security of Government Employees, United Nations Loyalty and applicant-type cases is used in taking administrative action, such as dismissal from or denial of employment, against the individuals investigated. It is, therefore, essential that the Bureau retain an exact duplicate of the material disseminated so that in the event of any subsequent controversy, such as rehearings or court action, the Bureau's records will be infallible with respect to what information was disseminated.

It is often necessary to transmit to highly placed Government officials, such as the Attorney General or the President, copies of investigative reports from closed cases. This will require retyping, in order to provide copies, unless the files contain one report completely free on all pages of notations, changes, stamps and other marks, which make the original undesirable for reproduction purposes. This does not mean we should retain two complete reports in file. It is sufficient if one copy, free of markings, of each page of the report be retained. In most instances this will comprise one complete report plus one additional copy of the first page.

In connection with investigations supervised by both the Employees Security Section and the Special Inquiry Section, a stamp is sometimes impressed on a carbon copy of a report. The stamp reads that the amended copy should not be disseminated but that it may be used to reproduce a copy for dissemination purposes. It is desired that when such a stamp appears on a report that none of the pages of the stamped report be destroyed.

The recommendations of this division as outlined above have been discussed with Mr. F. W. Waikart of the Records Branch. He has advised that he is in agreement with these recommendations and that it is contemplated under the proposed program to handle such matters in the manner outlined above.

It is believed that the program as outlined is workable. There are, however, certain objections which should be considered with regard to this matter. The program will cause delay in the handling of name checks and other similar operations within the Bureau, the exact amount of which cannot be accurately estimated at this time. This is true as no matter what equipment is used or where it is placed, more time is required to reproduce copies of reports than is needed to merely remove them from our files. There will be a greater possibility of error as all reports will have to be reproduced. It will be further complicated by the fact that in most instances pages will have to be rearranged and substituted *for those pages on which markings appear. Experience has shown that there must be a substantial increase in the use of clerical help where Photostats or methods of reproducing reports are required. It would appear desirable, before this program is instituted, to have a survey made to determine whether it would be economically advantageous to the Bureau to change its present procedures in order to conserve space.

Some of the above suggestions were previously set out in memorandum from C. A. Evans to Mr. Rosen dated 10/6/55. (66-2435-1809)

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be forwarded to the Records and Communications Division for information purposes.

O Destruction of Bureau Records - General

PURPOSE: The purpose of this memorandum is to summarize information relating to our efforts to destroy copies of reports now in Bureau files and to make recommendations based on this information.

BACKGROUND: In the interest of sound records management operations and more efficient utilization of space and equipment, the Records Branch has been conducting extensive research for some period of time in an effort to find an inexpensive and rapid method of copy reproduction which would make economically feasible the destruction of extra copies of reports now in file. We estimate that nearly one-third of our 7,500 file cabinets housing Bureau files consists of extra copies of reports. Because of the Bureau's responsibilities, a large volume of reports must be disseminated. Thus, in order to make feasible the destruction of copies of reports, we need an inexpensive and rapid method of copy reproduction. By memorandums dated 9/17/57 and 10/30/57, I set forth information concerning the "Haloid Copyflo" reproduction process which appeared to be suitable for a large reproduction operation. Arrangements were made with the Haloid Company to conduct a 3-week experiment with this machine at no cost to the Bureau. This experiment was conducted by the Mechanical Section.

RESULTS OF EXPERIMENT WITH MACHINE: By memorandum from Renneberger to Mr. Mohr, dated 11/21/57, the Mechanical Section reported the results of their experiment with the Copyflo Machine. This memorandum indicated that the foreman of the Photostat Unit and the other Photostat operators were very much impressed with the machine. According to the Mechanical Section, the Copyflo makes a good permanent, positive reproduction and could be used for 90% of our reproduction work. They estimate that a copy can be reproduced at a cost of approximately $.05 per copy as compared to a cost of approximately $.08 per copy for a Photostat (reproduction process presently used) or a savings of approximately $.03 per copy. The memorandum further indicates that it was felt that the present complement of personnel in the Mechanical Section could handle the additional work received if the Bureau eliminated extra copies of reports in file and thus increase the reproduction of copies. Mr. Mohr indicated to you that he felt the program was good and the Mechanical Section would do the reproduction work if the program was approved.

COMMENTS OF DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION AND INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION: The memorandum from Donahoe to Branigan, dated 11/13/57, set forth the comments of the Domestic Intelligence Division. They agree that the program is a sound one and favorably recommend the program in principle, providing the Bureau is simultaneously in a position to ~~[illegible]~~ promptly all copy reproduction needs. Acquisition of Haloid Copyflo reproduction machine would adequately handle the additional reproduction needs.

A memorandum from Conroy to Mr. Rosen, dated 12/20/57, set forth the comments of the Investigative Division. They indicate no objection to a program which would reduce the number of extra copies of reports in file and indicated the use of the Copyflo reproduction process was satisfactory, providing it reproduces rapidly and economically the complete report in a clear, clean, attractive manner. The comments of the Mechanical Section set forth above answer this latter question. The Investigative Division raises certain problems and objections which should be taken into consideration. These problems and objections are set forth below, along with pertinent observations relating to them: (1) It is essential that the Bureau retain exact copy of material disseminated in Security of Government Employee, United Nations Loyalty and Applicant type cases in view of the possibility of a hearing or court action against the individuals investigated. This is done at the present time and, of course, will be continued. (2) It is often necessary to transmit reports to highly placed Government Officials, such as the President or the Attorney General and the report disseminated must be freed of all markings. Our proposal set forth in memorandum dated 10/30/57, that the first page of a copy of a report be retained to be used for reproduction purposes, would take care of this problem. If reproduction not satisfactory, report can be retyped. It is pointed out that the volume of reports disseminated to such offices is very small in ratio to the overall dissemination program. (3) In connection with investigations supervised by both the Employees' Security Section and the Special Inquiry Section, a stamp is sometimes impressed on a carbon copy of a report which reads that the amended copy should not be disseminated, but that it may be used to reproduce a copy for dissemination purposes. The Investigative Division desires that when such a stamp appears on a report that none of the pages of a stamped report be destroyed and, of course, these reports would be retained in accordance with their desires. (4) The program will cause delay in handling of Name Checks and other similar operations within the Bureau because of the additional administrative operations involved. While we cannot make any definite comment on this objection, the Records Branch feels there will be very little, if any delay, in the dissemination on an overall basis because of the many Records Branch operations which will be expedited. In addition, the Copyflo process reproduces copies much faster than the present Photostat equipment. (5) There will be a greater possibility of error, as all reports being disseminated will have to be reproduced. The institution of tight controls will greatly minimize this objection. (6) The Investigative Division feels that it will be desirable before the program is instituted, to have a survey made to determine whether it would be economically advantageous to the Bureau to change the present procedures in order to conserve space. The Mechanical Section advises that the present complement of personnel could handle the additional reproduction work. They further advise copies made on the Copyflo Machine can be reproduced for approximately $.05, as compared to $.08 by the Photostat method presently used. Based on the current estimated dissemination of 50,000 pages monthly, this would represent an outright money savings to the Bureau of approximately $1,500 per month or $18,000 a year. The Records Branch would possibly tie up ADDITIONAL employees in removing serials, but this would be more than compensated for by the many other economies the Records Branch would realize both from the standpoint of the servicing and maintenance of the Bureau's files.

Our surveys and experience have shown that a great majority of the reports disseminated are reports prepared within the past five years. Thus, as a practical matter and as we have previously pointed out, it will be some period of time before the destruction of copies has any material effect on the dissemination program, inasmuch as we would start first with the earlier files in each classification and destroy copies before destroying copies in the more current files.

Memorandum W. G. Eames to Mr. Nease 12/30/57
Re: Copies of Reports

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the Bureau approve destruction of extra copies of reports now in Bureau files in interest of sound records management operations and more efficient utilization of space and equipment. If program approved, the Records Branch will retain duplicate copy first page of report which will be attached to original report and used for reproduction purposes.

(2) That the Bureau rent the Haloid Copyflo Machine from the Haloid Company for use to produce copies of reports. The Mechanical Section prefers the Model #3 Machine, which reproduces either from the original or from microfilm. The Haloid Company advises it will take from sixty to ninety days for delivery of this equipment.

(3) If Recommendation #1 is approved, further consideration will be given to the possible revision in the submission or processing of reports currently being prepared.

ADVANTAGES IN NOT FILING EXTRA ~~FILES~~ COPIES

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4 ELW/ Cal

1. Smaller, compact files.

2. Less filing equipment required.

3. Floor space saved.

4. Cost of file fronts, backs, and Acco fasteners reduced.

5. Files are lighter. At present upwards of 1/3 of every file pulled and delivered between buildings consists of extra superfluous copies.

6. Files can be reviewed more quickly. At present supervisors and file reviewers must wade through extra copies in file which take up almost 1/3 of file. (Numerous suggestions have been made in past that copies be filed apart in order to facilitate reviewing of file.)

7. Files are closer together. File reviewers and Filing Unit employees would not have to walk as far during day to do their work.

8. Mail easier to file.

9. Less file repairing required. Majority of file repairs are to thick, bulky files which are bulky because they contain extra copies.

10. Delivering files, reviewing files, returning files to cabinets, looking files up-to-date, etc., will be expedited because files are lighter and greater number can be physically carried by female employees.

Files, with many sections can be consolidated into about half as many sections thus making fewer file sections to pull, deliver and return.
3/7/58
HB

11. More files can be transported between buildings in one container.

12. In criminal cases, preparation for microfilming will be faster.

13. Fewer file numbers on file fronts will be typed.

14. Fewer drawer labels will be typed and inserted.

ENCLOSURE

66-3286-1 UNRECORDED

There is attached a list of general advantages in not having extra copies in our files.

The preceding data relates to copies already accumulated in our files. We think this should be approved now as a separate program. When and if it is, we will then submit recommendations as to how current submissions of reports and extra copies should be modified to fit into the program. Briefly, this involves a slight change in the front page of reports to allow more room for all file stamps, numbers, routing, initials, dissemination stamps, etc. Copies could then be prepared from an original submission only on a need basis. You asked for a list of the number of copies required in the various classifications. An autostat copy from the pertinent section of the Manual of Rules and Regulations is attached. It has been estimated that even with the limited number of copies of reports currently received, they require 60 five-drawer file cabinets a year to house.

HALOID COPYFLO MACHINE
(Eliminating Extra Copies of Reports in File)

This machine was tried in our Mechanical Section for three weeks. It rapidly makes good, permanent, positive reproductions at 5 cents a copy compared to 8 cents a copy for present photostating."

The machine rents for $1850.00 a month. We could secure it on a trial rental basis at this price for six months and, if the machine proves itself, this rental could be applied to the total purchase price of $85,000.00. This is the best machine put out by the Haloid Company and reproduces not only original material but also microfilm. All of our criminal files over 10 years old are on microfilm.

It is estimated that 1/3 of our 7500 cabinets of file material consists of copies. After all copies now in file are destroyed, we would recoup 11,250 sq. ft. of floor space which would take care of normal expansion in our files for about five years. In addition, the approximately 2500 file cabinets saved are valued on the present market at over $150,000.00.

It is also estimated that copy reproduction after all copies now in file are destroyed would average about 50,000 pages monthly. (This figure related only to reproduction of reports. There is a great deal of other copy work handled by the Mechanical Section that could be done on the new machine.) On copy reproduction of reports alone, the new machine at 5 cents a copy would save $18,000.00 a year over the present cost of photostating at 8 cents a copy.

None of the above savings would accrue immediately. On a progressive basis, as fast as we could get into the files and destroy extra copies, we would save both cabinets and space. Nevertheless, savings would be just as effective because for many years we would no longer be asking for new cabinets and space to put them in. On the other hand, if we don't do this very soon we will be asking for more space and equipment each year. For approximately the last five years we have not asked for additional space (we have had to get a few new file cabinets), principally because of our microfilming program of criminal files. The bulk of this is accomplished and we are now microfilming only the single yearly increments each year. During the past year we accrued records at the rate of 17 file drawers a day (equal to 3 2/5 five-drawer file cabinets). We microfilmed at the rate of 2 1/3 drawers a day for a net accumulation of 14 2/3 drawers or about 3 file cabinets a day.

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that all 25-0 serials over 10 years old be destroyed and section II-3-15 of the Manual of Rules and Regulations be changed to have this done on an annual basis in the future. The majority of these serials were no-card cases and the others did not warrant investigation or a case would have been opened. These serials over 10 years old do not appear to be of any value in our files and their destruction would save 3 drawers of filing space in the Charlotte office.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENL

By letter dated August 20, 1957, the Baltimore Office advised that the G-2, Second Army Area, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, had stated that the problem of filing FBI reports in general investigative matters (criminal cases) had become increasingly difficult because of space problems in Second Army. G-2 requested Baltimore to advise whether or not Bureau reports in this category could be destroyed by G-2 once they had served their purpose. Since it was thought that this might be a country-wide problem, the matter was taken up through Bureau Liaison with Assistant Chief of Staff, Intelligence (ACSI). ACSI canvassed all continental U. S. Army areas and determined that the respective Armies were encountering the same problem, that is a shortage of storage space, as Second Army had. ACSI then drew up a proposed order which provided, with reference to criminal-type FBI reports, that they could be destroyed by the command or agency concerned after retention for a one-year period or upon receipt of notification from the Department of the Army that action on the case had been completed. However, in order to avoid asking the Bureau for duplicate reports at a later date, it was left to the discretion of the command or agency concerned within the Army to make a determination whether or not the reports might be of future value to the Army and if so a provision was made that they could be retained beyond the one-year period. (Reports on members of the Army itself and Department of the Army civilian employees containing loyalty or criminal-suitability information were excepted from this order and a provision made for these reports to be forwarded to the Central Records Facility, Fort Holabird, Maryland.) The proposed order was furnished to the Bureau prior to issuance and was not found objectionable.

INDEXED-30 RECORDED-30 66-32863

On January 13, 1958, Major [redacted] of the Plans and Policy Branch, ACSI, furnished the attached copy of an order dated January 7, 1958, which has now gone out to all interested commands providing for the disposition of criminal-type Bureau reports as outlined above. In order to preclude Bureau field offices from raising the question with the Bureau of whether this procedure is acceptable to the Bureau, it is thought that an SAC Letter notifying offices of the Army's procedure is in order.

1. In order to reduce the amount of files held by major commands and Department of the Army agencies the following procedure is announced for final disposition of criminal type FBI reports:

a. Upon completion of action, or at the end of a one-year period if the case is inactive, reports on members of the Army and Department of the Army civilians containing loyalty or criminal-suitability type information will be forwarded to the Central Records Facility.

b. All other reports will be destroyed by the command or agency concerned after retention for a one-year period or upon receipt of notification from the Department of the Army that action has been completed. However, to avoid asking the FBI for duplicate reports at a later date, those reports, other than in paragraph 1a, which the command or agency concerned believes may be of future value to the Army may be retained beyond the one-year period as deemed necessary.

2. Criminal type FBI reports included as exhibits in Military Police Criminal Investigation Reports are exempt from the provisions of this letter.

The Records Branch has a voluminous file 94-1-135 which contains correspondence concerning the Daughters of the American Revolution. In addition to the recorded material which is serialized and filed in numerical sequence, there are eight sections of material in the file containing correspondence relating to the Director's speech "Patriotism and the War Against Crime" made before the Daughters of the American Revolution April 23, 1936. This correspondence includes file copies of letters from the Bureau transmitting copies of the speech to various individuals through out the country as well as letters to the Director acknowledging receipt of the speech. Samples of this correspondence attached.

The material contained in the eight file folders is not recorded and was not indexed. It appears, therefore, that the correspondence serves no useful purpose and should be destroyed at this time.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the unrecorded correspondence relating to letters of transmittal and letters of acknowledgment of the Director's speech before the D. A. R. April 23, 1936, be destroyed. This material is contained in eight file folders and is not recorded.

On 1/15/58 the Executives Conference gave consideration to a suggestion by Mr. Nease that now might be the proper time to dispose of some 7,312,061 no-record loyalty of Government employees and security of Government employees forms which are maintained in the Records Branch. Mr. Nease pointed out that it is estimated there is an annual personnel cost of some $35,774, exclusive of filing cabinets and space to handle these forms and they appear to be of limited value to the Bureau. Likewise, it was pointed out that there is no legal requirement for the Bureau to maintain these no-record forms, but on the other hand there is no other central repository for such information in existence.

In June, 1948, Attorney General Tom Clark stated in an informal notation: "Edgar: I think we should insist that an index be kept of government employees. Then when a new organization is placed on list you could check its membership -- if you do not have membership lists we could secure same thru subpoena." The Attorney General had in mind checking membership lists of organizations put on the Attorney General's list. We have never, however, followed the procedure of checking these lists. To do so would be extremely time consuming and impractical at this point.

During the first 10 months of 1957, 5,415 names were searched through the no-record forms. Only one out of every 47 names was considered possibly identical with a no-record form, making a total of only 115 possible idents located out of the total names searched. In order to search a name through these forms now requires 3 searches. One is through the General Index, another through forms on microfilm, and again through forms filed alphabetically in file cabinets. Current procedure is to file these forms as received alphabetically. Nease was of the opinion that these forms serve very little useful purpose so far as the Bureau is concerned other than to be able to determine whether a loyalty form has been submitted on an individual.

This matter was last considered during the 1956 inspection of the Records Branch and Inspectors recommended that the entire matter be reconsidered after the Commission on Government Security had made its report.

The Conference at this time is of the opinion that we should continue to maintain these forms and that reconsideration be given to the possible destruction of the forms after the current session of Congress, having in mind that the Congress might conceivably pass another loyalty bill of some kind which would have a bearing upon the need for these forms. It was likewise recommended that close attention be given to reducing the number of requests for searches through no-record loyalty forms. Searches are now made only when there is a special request for such.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF "NO RECORD" (NR) LOYALTY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES (LGE) AND SECURITY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES (SGE) FORMS

NO INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS CLASSIFIED
DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4 ELW/cal

SYNOPSIS:

The need for continuing economy of operations requires consideration of previous decision to retain indefinitely No Record Security of Government Employee forms. Estimated annual cost of retaining such material $35,774.54. Under provisions of Executive Order 9835 3-21-47 superseded by Executive Order 10450 4-27-53 Bureau receives copies of Standard Form 85 for purpose of conducting name checks. One copy of all forms on which no disloyal data developed retained by Records Branch. Procedure resulted from an interpretation of E.O. 9835 by former Attorney General (AG) Tom C. Clark who in 1948 indicated that an index be kept of Government employees for the purpose of checking membership in organizations added to Attorney General's subversive list. 7,312,061 forms now on hand requiring three separate searches to check a name. Records Branch previously recommended destruction of forms and matter considered during 1956 inspection. Inspector recommended matter be reconsidered after Commission on Government Security (CGS) made report and pointed out that Bureau had never checked membership of organizations added to A.G. list. Review of CGS report failed to disclose new data which would be pertinent to Bureau's consideration of proposal to destroy forms. Review of E.O. 10450 indicates Bureau has no responsibility for maintaining index of Government employees. Order directs each Department or Agency to insure suitability of personnel. One factor in determining such suitability is membership in subversive organization. Other factors include dishonesty, immorality, habitual use of intoxicants, drug addiction, etc. Bureau does not assume responsibility of checking persons so accused against No Record forms. Accordingly, there appears to be little basis for contention that Bureau is responsible for maintaining forms to check membership lists. Retention of forms becoming more costly. In 1955 annual cost estimated at $29,183.08 against 1957 cost of $35,774.54. The accumulation of more than 7,000,000 forms provides reference material for current work and a history of accomplishments in Loyalty - Security Program. Although desirable these factors do not justify [illegible] forms.

1/9 F W.W

DETAILS:

NATURE AND PURPOSE: The need for continuing economy in Bureau operations requires that we again consider previous decisions to retain indefinitely No Record Loyalty of Government Employees and Security of Government Employees forms submitted to the Bureau for indices searches. The retention of this material costs the Bureau an estimated $35,774.54 annually plus intangible factors such as space.

BACKGROUND: Under provisions of Executive Order 9835, 3-21-47, superseded by Executive Order 10450, 4-27-53, the Bureau receives copies of Standard Form 85 "Security of Investigation Data" for the purpose of conducting name searches. One copy of all forms on which no disloyal data is developed is retained and filed by the Records Branch. The retention of this material is based upon an interpretation of Executive Order 9835 by former Attorney General Tom C. Clark who pointed out that the Executive Order provided for continual study and subsequent designation of new organizations on the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations. By notation on the Director's memorandum 6-3-48 (66-6200-121-805) former Attorney General Clark stated "Edgar: I think we should insist that an index be kept of government employees. Then when a new organization is placed on list you could check its membership -- if you do not have membership lists we could secure same thru subpoena."

ORIGINAL COPY FILED IN

As a result of this notation by former Attorney General Clark the Bureau began preparing an index of Government employees by taking the information from the forms submitted to the Bureau under the Loyalty of Government Employees Program. The first 802,589 forms were indexed and cards placed in the general indices of the Bureau. However, because of lack of personnel, workload, and for economy reasons the indexing was stopped in 1949. The Bureau then approved filing the No Record forms in alphabetical sequence in lieu of indexing. Space problems resulted in microfilming in 1953 of the No Record forms received during the first five years of the loyalty program. Of the 7,312,061 No Record forms now on hand 802,589 are in file 121-4 on microfilm according to numerical sequence, 4,371,560 are on microfilm in alphabetical sequence, and the remaining 2,137,912 are arranged alphabetically in cabinets. To search a name in the No Record forms now requires a search (1) through the general index, (2) through forms on microfilm, and (3) through forms filed alphabetically in file cabinets.

The Records Branch has recommended destruction of the No Record forms on numerous occasions since inception of the Loyalty Program in 1947. It was last considered during the 1956 inspection of the Records Branch. The inspector recommended that the entire matter be reconsidered after the Commission on Government Security made its report.

BUREAU RESPONSIBILITY UNDER EXECUTIVE ORDER 10450 AND RESULTS OF THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON GOVERNMENT SECURITY: Section two of Executive Order 10450 provides that "the head of each department and agency of the Government shall be responsible for establishing and maintaining within his department or agency an effective program to insure that the employment and retention in employment of any civilian officer or employee within the department or agency is clearly consistent with the interests of the national security."

The terminology in this section indicates that responsibility is definitely fixed with each department or agency to insure suitability of personnel for employment. A factor in determining such suitability is membership in a subversive organization. To comply with the provisions of Section two it appears that each department or agency should obtain from personnel, through periodic canvass or other means, current information concerning organization affiliation. This would provide the opportunity for checking questionable organization membership against the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations. As a matter of information, the Bureau requires each employee to submit a Personnel Status Form (FD-285) yearly which provides for the listing of present or former organization membership.

L. E. SHORT TO MR. NEASE 1-9-58
RE: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF NO RECORD LGE & SGE FORMS

Section eight of instant Executive Order provides that "The investigations conducted pursuant to this order shall be designed to develop information as to whether the employment or retention in employment in the Federal service of the person being investigated is clearly consistent with the interest of national security. Such information shall relate, but shall not be limited, to the following:" All of these factors are not being set forth in this memorandum, however, they include "(1) behavior, activities or associations which tend to show that the individual is not reliable or trustworthy, (2) any criminal, infamous, dishonest, immoral, or notoriously disgraceful conduct, habitual use of [illegible] to excess, drug addiction, or sexual perversion, (3) [illegible], or affiliation or sympathetic association with, any [illegible] domestic organization, association, movement, group, or combination of persons which is totalitarian, Fascist, Communist, or subversive, or which has adopted, or shows, a policy of advocating or approving the commission of acts of force or violence to deny other persons their rights under the Constitution of the United States, or which seeks to alter the form of government of the United States by unconstitutional means."

It is pointed out that the more than seven million No Record forms now in the possession of the Bureau are retained at the suggestion of former Attorney General Clark for the purpose of checking membership lists against such forms when a new organization is added to the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations. As reflected above, Executive Order 10450 encompasses a great deal more than membership in a subversive organization and includes such items as habitual use of intoxicants to excess, drug addiction, dishonesty, immorality and criminal conduct. It is obvious Executive Order 10450 does not intend that the Bureau assume responsibility for checking all persons accused of dishonesty, immorality, habitual use of intoxicants and drug addiction against an index of government employees. Accordingly, there appears to be little basis for the contention that the Bureau has responsibility for maintaining an index to check membership lists.

The report of the Commission on Government Security recommended that the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations be retained. A review of this report failed to disclose new data which would be pertinent to the Bureau's consideration of the proposal to destroy No Record forms.

L. E. SHORT TO MR. NEASE 1-9-58
RE: DESTRUCTION OF NO RECORD
LGE AND SGE FORMS

VALUE AND USE OF NO RECORD FORMS: As a practical matter, the Bureau has never rechecked all No Record forms on the basis of membership in organizations added to the Attorney General's subversive list. However, names appearing on miscellaneous lists indicating membership in subversive organizations obtained from informants and other Bureau sources are searched through the No Record forms with slight results due to the lack of identifying information concerning individuals on the lists. No Record forms are sometimes referred to for background information concerning some present or former government employee. The current volume of forms received averages 26,860 monthly. During the first 10 months [illegible] from miscellaneous lists were [illegible] forms. Only one out of every 47 [illegible] considered possibly identical with a No Record form, making a total of only 115 possible idents located out of the 5,415 names searched.

The average volume of No Record Loyalty and Security of Government Employees forms received in the Filing Unit is set forth as follows:

OBSERVATIONS OF THE TRAINING AND INSPECTION DIVISION:

During the 1956 inspection of the Records and Communications Division the inspector reviewed the background concerning the retention of No Record forms. The inspector observed that on several occasions organizations had been added to the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations but that, as a practical matter, the Bureau never rechecked all of the No Record loyalty forms on the basis of newly issued subversive lists. Further, it was indicated to recheck such a large number of forms (at that time approximately seven million) under existing conditions would take many months and be extremely costly. The inspector recommended that the Bureau retain these No Record forms until after the Commission on Government Security made its report and then consider the complete destruction of all No Record loyalty and security of government employees forms.

CONCLUSIONS:

It is the opinion of personnel in the Records Branch that the provisions of Executive Order 10450 do not require the maintenance of an index of government employees by the Bureau. The No Record forms have been kept as the result of an opinion of former Attorney General Tom C. Clark that membership lists of organizations added to the list of subversive organizations could be checked against the forms. The procedure of obtaining membership lists has not been implemented by the Department. The accumulation of forms is becoming more difficult and more costly to maintain with each passing year. In 1955 it was estimated that the forms cost $29,183.08 annually to keep. The estimated annual cost in 1957 is $35,774.54.

The more than 7,000,000 forms provide a source of information for Bureau personnel in handling current work and can be used for reference material. It has also been pointed out that the forms provide a record of Bureau accomplishments in the Loyalty - Security Program and permits a determination as to what was done with each form processed. These factors, although desirable, certainly do no justify the tremendous cost of keeping and maintaining the forms. Additionally, the Bureau processes thousands of other name check forms each year which if kept would provide reference data and a history of action taken. They are not retained because of the cost involved.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FILES
Bureau Property - General

ReBulet January 9, 1958, referring to the suggestions that 25-0 (Selective Service Matters) and 67-0 (Applicant Matters) files be destroyed when they become ten years old.

The merits of these suggestions have been carefully considered by the supervisory staff, including the Chief Clerk and other interested individuals in this office. It is the consensus of opinion that the use of the above-mentioned files is so limited that it does not warrant the use of the space to maintain these files in the excess of ten years. It is believed that the space saved would offset the clerical time necessary to purge the Indices of all Index cards prepared on the material contained in the files which would be destroyed under this program.

The matter of considering additional zero files has been considered, and it is believed that the only other classification worthy of serious consideration at this time is the 42-0 (Deserter) files. It is believed that the 42-0 files older than ten years could be destroyed without impairing the efficiency of the office; therefore, it is this office's recommendation that files older than ten years in the above classifications be destroyed.

FROM : The Executives Conference

SUBJECT: STAMPING OF INDEX CARDS IN FIELD OFFICES FOR FILES DESTROYED AFTER 25 YEARS OLD

PURPOSE: To consider proposals relative to the stamping of index cards -- files destroyed and year when destroyed -- for those files which may be destroyed when they are 25 years old.

CURRENT PROCEDURE: When files which are over 25 years old are destroyed the index cards relating thereto should be marked with a stamp -- file destroyed and year destroyed. When such files are destroyed a list of the files is maintained at the beginning of each classification.

BACKGROUND: On 3/20/57 the Executives Conference considered a suggestion (#449-57) that when 0 and general files over 25 years old are destroyed, the index cards for such files in the general index also be destroyed. Executives Conference recommended that the suggestion not be adopted and that the previous instructions issued by Bureau Bulletin No. 35, Series 1946 (6/26/46), be reinstituted. The field was advised by SAC Letter 57-19 that when files are destroyed after 25 years old the index cards relating thereto should be marked with a stamp - file destroyed and year destroyed. Appropriate manual instructions were placed in the Manual of Rules and Regulations.

OBSERVATIONS: As a result of numerous inquiries and proposals to reconsider the current instructions to stamp index cards when the files are destroyed after 25 years the Inspection Section of the Training and Inspection Division made an extensive study of the proposals, which study included detailed surveys made in seven field offices. The field offices concerned recommended the following with reference to handling index cards in the general index for files which are destroyed after 25 years: Los Angeles recommended destroying cards and not to stamp them as required; Dallas and Chicago recommended leaving such cards in index and not to stamp or destroy; New York recommended to discontinue stamping such index cards; San Francisco recommended, first, to destroy the cards and, second, to leave such cards in the index and not stamp them; Washington Field Office recommended that the cards not be stamped and leave them in index and Philadelphia recommended not to stamp such cards and to leave them in the index.

Recommendations, as cited above, were based on careful studies including time required to stamp such cards and it was the general opinion of these offices that the clerical time used in stamping the cards was not worthwhile when compared to the advantages of stamping same; that the time required to perform this operation was not justified. Inspection staff is of the opinion that the current procedure of stamping the index cards should be discontinued.

In view of the observations set forth above it is proposed that the Executives Conference consider the following relative to index cards in the general index for files which are destroyed after 25 years: (1) whether the present procedure should be continued to require stamping off such cards; (2) whether such index cards should be removed from the general index and destroyed; and (3) whether such cards should remain in the general index and not be stamped as now required.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION: On 1/22/58 the Executives Conference, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Belmont, Clayton, Holloman, Mohr, Nease, Parsons, Sizoo, Tamm and Trotter, considered the above matter. It was the unanimous opinion of the Conference that the current instructions requiring the stamping of index cards in the general index for those files which are destroyed after 25 years be rescinded. It was recommended that the field no longer be required to stamp such cards and that the field be required to show on the list, kept at the beginning of each classification, the date the file was destroyed in addition to the present requirement of listing the files destroyed.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That the present instructions in Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 13, requiring the stamping of index cards for files which are destroyed after 25 years old be rescinded.

continued

2. That field offices be required to show the date file is destroyed on the list presently kept at the beginning of each classification showing which files have been destroyed.

3. That the attached SAC Letter be approved.

4. That attached revision for the Manual of Rules and Regulations be approved.

January 22, 1958

PROPOSED CHANGE IN MANUAL OF RULES AND REGULATIONS

The following revision should be made in the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, 8a, page 13:

Files and records in field divisions may be destroyed after they become 25 years old. Keep at beginning each classification list of files destroyed and date destroyed. Do not retain file fronts.

The following should be deleted from the same cited item:

Mark the index cards relating thereto with a stamp -- "File Destroyed (year)."

There is maintained in the Records Branch 17 sections of a file entitled, "Selective Service System - General" (25-00-A). This file, which was opened on October 1, 1940, contains newspaper clippings relating to selective service matters. Only 8 pieces of mail have been placed in the file since 1949, and the last piece of mail is dated in March, 1956. The file contains some indexing.

It does not appear that this material is of any value to the Bureau today; and in line with our Records Management Program, designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is proposed that the material in this file be de-indexed, and subsequently destroyed. Sections of the file are attached for review.

Archival authority is not necessary for destruction of this type of material as it is "public source library type" material which is non-record in nature.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Investigative Division, and that consideration be given to the de-indexing and destruction of file 25-00-A entitled, "Selective Service System - General," in line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records.

In order to gain essential expansion and working space in the file room, it is necessary to purge from our 7,500 file cabinets all extra copies of investigative reports. It is estimated that 1/3 of the space in these cabinets is taken up with nonessential copies.

Through such destruction we would gain 11,250 sq. ft. of file room expansion space which would last for approximately five years plus the re-use of 2,500 file cabinets valued at over $150,000. Many other incidental advantages would also accrue such as easier review of files, handling, repair, etc.) For many years the Field has had a program of destroying extra copies of mail in specifically designated classifications such as the criminal- and applicant-type files after they have been in a closed status for six months. Only one copy of each serial is retained and groups of smaller files are combined together into a single file with the file scope indicated on the front cover. Because of the activity even in our old files at the Seat of Government, we do not plan initially to consolidate different subject matter files but will restrict our program to the elimination of extra copies. As we progress into a program of copy destruction and run across large numbers of small inactive files containing only a few pieces of mail, we will experiment with consolidating these into one file.

We propose to start with our older files where the greatest savings in space will occur. Surveys reflect this would be in the security classification beginning in the late 30's and continuing through the early 40's. For instance, in the 100 classification we can save 78.8% of the space contained in the files covering those years. In later years (1957) this decreases to 27.5%. In the 65 classification the ratio in space savings between the old files and the new ones is 35% down to 19% on current cases.

The reason for the disparity is that in recent years the number of copies of reports submitted to the Bureau has been reduced. The point here is that our savings in current copy material is not nearly as important as disposing of the older copies first. In addition to the marked difference in copy accumulation between older and newer material in the same classification, the same situation exists between different classifications. From our limited surveys up to this point, it appears that this is caused also by the difference in the number of copies submitted as well as the type of investigation, i.e., Internal Security, Espionage, Treason, etc.

We plan to integrate this program with our regular work and as personnel are available, assign them to the purging of non-essential copies. We will always keep one clear and legible copy substantially free of all markings. The Investigative Division has pointed out that in transmitting copies to highly placed Government officials, the President or the Attorney General, such copies must be free of all markings. We in Records do not believe that a photostated duplicate of originals showing file markings indicating indexing would be objectionable or offensive to other Agencies, including the top people in Government. A sample of a purged file is attached. Note the marked reduction in size and the sparcity of file markings on all pages except the first one.

The detailed mechanics of purging, which will vary somewhat in each classification, will encompass taking each file apart, carefully separating copies from originals, and saving one "clear" copy of the first page of each report for subsequent duplication if necessary. The single first page copy will be attached to the back of the original to which it relates. This will be done in order to avoid tearing apart each original report to insert first page copies. The top serial in each file will be currently stamped as to the date of purge and initialed by the person who did it. (The attached sample reflects longhand notation. A rubber stamp will be larger and more legible.) It is not believed necessary to stamp or note on each report the destruction of copies because it will be obvious from the stamp on the top serial what has occurred to file material beneath that serial and that the Records Branch has destroyed all copies not otherwise accounted for. This will comply with regulations relating to classified information (Executive Order 10501).

All work will then be checked by another employee before the extra copies are thrown away. We feel the result as illustrated by the attached sample will be a more compact and usable file susceptible to quick reproduction with minimum effort.

Reproduction of copies for the immediate future will be handled exactly as it is currently done. The Name Check Unit of the Investigative Division is by far the largest user of copies of reports for dissemination to other Agencies. After the Supervisor has marked the reports from which he needs copies prepared, Records Branch employees remove the serials and forward to the Mechanical Section for photostat reproduction. They are returned to us, appropriate notations as to dissemination are placed on the originals, the originals are refiled in the case file, and the photostat copies are turned over to the Supervisor for dispatch to the other Agencies.

Duplication of copies should present no immediate problem because we will be working on old material and past surveys reflect that copies from these files are rarely, if ever, needed for dissemination. We do not feel at this point that the problem of extra copies on current reports coming into the Bureau is too pressing. In addition to the fact that copies are kept to the minimum number believed necessary, some desks such as those in the Espionage Section have what might be referred to as delayed dissemination. In other words, of the five copies that are sent into the Bureau none would be immediately sent to the Department and other Agencies until the circumstances of the case warranted. This could extend into a period of months after receipt in the Bureau. If it is believed that current submissions of extra copies are excessive, another survey such as was done several years ago could be made in the various Divisions to see if the number could be reduced. This would further minimize the need at a later date to go through files presently active to purge copies.

As previously pointed out, the Investigative Division, while not opposed to the idea of destroying extra copies because of the compelling space need in this Division, is concerned with the need to have "clean" copies for dissemination with a minimum of markings which will be acceptable and not require excessive retyping and delay in clearing them to other Agencies. The Investigative Division is also concerned with the need for exact copies of everything disseminated being retained in the Bureau's file and certain specially designated extra copies in Employee Security and Special Inquiry cases being retained. The Records Branch will do this. They also point out that in direct ratio to our increased

1-28-58

Memorandum to Mr. Nease
Re: Disposal of Extra Copies of Investigative Reports

use of mechanically reproduced copies, there will be additional delay in handling Name Check operations and a greater possibility of error. We believe that efficient operating methods and tight controls will minimize these factors.

Accordingly, if approved, the Records Branch would like to proceed under the above plan as quickly as possible.

ADDENDUM:
2-13-58

On 2-12-58 members of the committee considering this matter viewed two groups of cabinets in the file room which had been stripped of all extra copies. One group consisted of 3 — 100-355653 to 100-356137 cabinets originally and now there is one totally empty and the other two are full but workable (33 1/3% saving). The other group consisted of 6 cabinets of which 3 or 50% are now empty and 3 are comfortably filled. 100-168789 to 100-172108

(E) DESTRUCTION OF CRIMINAL-TYPE FBI REPORTS BY DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY -- For your information, in order to reduce the amount of files held by major commands and Department of the Army agencies, the Department of the Army, under date of January 7, 1958, issued an order providing that Bureau reports in general investigative matters (criminal cases) could be destroyed by the command or agency concerned after retention for a one-year period or upon receipt of notification from the Department of the Army that action on the case has been completed. In order to avoid asking the Bureau for duplicate reports at a later date, those reports which the command or agency concerned believes may be of future value to the Army may be retained beyond the one-year period if deemed necessary.

This order further provides that upon completion of action or at the end of a one-year period, if the Army's case is inactive, reports on members of the Army and Department of the Army's civilians containing loyalty- or criminal-suitability-type information will be forwarded to the Army's Central Records Facility, Fort Holabird, Maryland. Criminal-type FBI reports included as exhibits in Military Police Criminal Investigation Reports are exempt from the provisions of the Army's order. Security- and intelligence-type Bureau reports are also exempt. The Army's program was discussed with the Bureau prior to being initiated.

RE: NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS (66-1897)

The above-captioned file was opened in 1925 and contains newspaper clippings and letters transmitting newspaper clippings which are for the most part obsolete and should be considered for destruction. The file consists of 17 sections plus 87 Sub-A sections containing newspaper clippings only. No clippings have been filed in the Sub-A file since 1943.

In the past each field office regularly transmitted to the Bureau clippings from their territory and up to 1943, these clippings were filed in the "newspaper clippings" file. The newspaper clippings relate to information of possible interest to the Bureau such as current events, crime in general, clippings commending or criticizing the Bureau, etc. The majority of these clippings were not indexed. The present policy requires the filing of all newspaper clippings marked "file" and these clippings are filed in a case file or a general file relating to the subject matter of the clipping.

The vast majority of these newspaper clippings are of no contemporary value today and in line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is felt that the destruction of this material should be considered.

Archival authority is not necessary for destruction of this type of material as it is "library type" material which is non-record in nature.

WORLD WAR I - SELECTIVE SERVICE ACT INVESTIGATIONS

We have approximately 11,950 investigative case files on World War I - Selective Service violations, which are filed in 8 five-drawer file cabinets. There is practically no activity in these files due to the age of the material contained therein. Practically all of this mail is dated 1923 or before.

The Records Branch believes that this 35-year-old material should be microfilmed.

On 2-19-58 the Executives Conference, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Trotter, Parsons, Clayton, Sizoo, Belmont, Tamm, and Nease, unanimously agreed with the recommendation of the Records Branch that extra copies of investigative reports now in file be destroyed. Through such destruction the Bureau will gain 11,250 sq. ft. of file room expansion space which will last for approximately five years plus the re-use of 2,500 file cabinets valued at over $150,000.00. Many other incidental advantages will also accrue such as easier review of files, handling, repair, etc.

Copies of reports in file are convenient to use for dissemination to authorized agencies; however, most of them will never be used for this or any other purpose. It is estimated that 1/3 of the space in the Bureau's investigative files consists of extra copies of reports, and in the immediate future the Records Branch will be faced with a critical space shortage. On the other hand, copies as needed for dissemination can be mechanically reproduced by the Mechanical Section as is done at present.

If copy destruction is approved, the Records Branch proposes to start with the older files where the greatest savings in space will result. (There is very little dissemination of copies from these files.) Surveys reflect this would be in the security classifications beginning in the late 30's and early 40's where we can save 78.8% of the space contained in these files. nonessential copies. One exact copy substantially free of all markings will be retained. Occasionally the copies retained, which ordinarily will be the originals, will bear certain file and index markings. Most of these will be on the first page. Accordingly, an extra "clean" copy of the first page where available will be retained. Other index markings that may appear on succeeding pages will appear on any mechanically reproduced copies which may be used for dissemination to other agencies. This situation has, however, occurred in the past where only the original is available for reproduction and is not deemed objectionable. Each report will be clearly stamped as to the date of the purge of extra copies and initialed by the person who removed them. All work will be finally checked by another employee before the extra copies are thrown away.

If the Director agrees, the Records Branch will be authorized as outlined above to proceed immediately with the disposal of extra copies of investigative reports now in our files.

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST PARTY, USA
UNDERGROUND OPERATIONS (UNDERGROUND PARTICIPANTS)
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GEN'L

At the time the underground became active, index cards were prepared on those individuals who were either known or suspected to be active in the underground. These cards have been maintained by the Underground Desk in the Internal Security Section. These cards are kept two ways, alphabetically and by field offices. This index served the purpose for which it was created, i. e., to readily determine the extent and areas of underground concentration.

Inasmuch as underground activities of the Party are non-existent at this time, it is felt that continuation of this card index, presently located in Room 1706, is no longer necessary and should be destroyed. It is believed, however, that the attached alphabetical list of names taken from these index cards, which represents those individuals determined to have had a connection with the underground, should be maintained in the general underground file for ready references in the future.

RECOMMENDATION:

(1) That the index cards referred to above be destroyed and that the attached list of former known or suspected underground participants be filed in the general underground file (100-3-94). No indexing of individual names in the attachment is necessary. However, the caption of this memorandum should be indexed for future reference.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS—
(66-3286)

By memo February 25, 1958, Mr. Eames of the Records and Communications Division pointed out that a file entitled "Training School" (67-022) contains serials relating to New Agents Training Classes, for the most part consisting of memoranda relating to the assignment and departure of these classes to the field. Copies of individual memoranda prepared on each agent trainee reflecting his progress in training school have been filed in the personnel file of each agent with the original going in to the 67-002 file prior to April 1951. Since May 1951, these have not been filed in the Training School file and Records and Communications Division recommends that these individual memoranda on the agents program in training school be deleted from the Training School file since duplicates of these memoranda are contained in the agents' personnel files. Records and Communications Division states that archival authority is not necessary for destruction of such material in view of its administrative nature.

RECOMMENDATION:

Since duplicates of the memoranda are contained in the agents' individual personnel files, the Administrative Division has no objection to the destruction of this material in the Training School file.

There is maintained in the Personnel Records Section a file entitled "Training School" (67-022). This file, which consists of 30 sections, contains 498 serials, relates to the New Agents' Training Classes which had been held over the years and for the most part consists of memoranda relating to the assignment and departure of these classes to the field.

Prior to April, 1951, ~~the~~ an individual memorandum was prepared on each Agent trainee reflecting his progress in the training school. This memorandum was filed in the training school file and a copy of the memorandum was filed in the Agent's personnel file. Beginning with the class which departed for the field on May 12, 1951, the practice was discontinued of filing in the training school file, the individual memorandum prepared on each Agent, and these memoranda are filed in the Agent's personnel file only.

In line with the Bureau's Record Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete, valueless and duplicate material from the Bureau's records, it is felt that the individual memorandum contained in the training school file concerning each Agent trainee can be destroyed in view of the fact that duplicates of these memoranda are contained in each individual Agent's personnel file.

Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of this type of material in view of the administrative nature of the material.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division and to the Administrative Division for consideration as to the destruction of the individual memorandum contained in the training school file relating to the progress of each Special Agent trainee during assignment to the New Agents' Training Classes. SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FILES IN FIELD
SUGGESTIONS #421-58 AND #422-58

Destruction of Bureau Property - Gen'l

Suggestions have been made that all serials in 67-0 and 25-0 files over ten years old be destroyed on an annual basis. The Training and Inspection Division has requested the observations and recommendations of the Administrative Division concerning these suggestions. 67-0 and 25-0 files are in field offices only.

The 67-0 and 25-0 files are nonsubstantive files in which serials reflecting information on which no action will be taken is filed. For instance, in the 67-0 file there may be placed letters from individuals requesting information regarding FBI positions, applications from unfavorably recommended clerical employees, and the like. No action is taken on information placed in this file. Likewise, much the same type information is placed in the 25-0 file which contains nonspecific or nonsubstantive information relating to selective service matters.

Training and Inspection Division advised that a survey was made of ten offices and all but two of these offices recommended the destruction of 67-0 files in the field as the serials are of little value after they are ten years old. If the suggestion is adopted, a saving in filing space would result. The other two offices were of the opinion that the 67-0 files should not be destroyed after they are ten years old as there is reference material available in these files which would be of assistance, that additional clerical and supervisory time to review serials before destroying them would be required. According to the Training and Inspection Division, present rules state that certain files may be destroyed in the field after they become 25 years old. This matter was discussed with Mr. Wendell G. Eames, Records Branch, Records and Communications Division, and he advised that the Bureau destroys files pertaining to nonsuccessful applicants after ten years. Also, we retain inquiries from correspondents seeking general information regarding Bureau employment and positions for only 90 days after which these letters are destroyed. These communications referred to immediately above compare substantially with the information placed in the 67-0 files in the field.

Applications and other communications over ten years old are of doubtful value as reference material. Since the Bureau destroys information of the type sought to be destroyed in the field and because such information is of doubtful reference value, it would appear that the advantages of destroying this material after ten years outweigh the disadvantages. Considerable space could be saved.

Destruction of Bureau Property Ltr.

SUGGESTIONS: #421-58 - that all serials in 67-0 (applicant matters) over 10 years old be destroyed. #422-58 - that all serials in 25-0 (Selective Service Cases) over 10 years old be destroyed.

CURRENT PROCEDURE: Files in the 67-0 and 25-0 classifications may be destroyed in the field when they become 25 years old.

ADVANTAGES STATED: If adopted, procedure would result in savings of filing space. For example, in the Charlotte Division in the 67-0 category 6 drawers could be saved and in the 25-0 category 3 drawers could be saved.

OBSERVATIONS: Per your approval a field survey was made of ten offices as to the two suggestions and the results are summarized as follows:

1. 25-0 - Albany, Chicago, Denver, Detroit, New Orleans, Richmond and San Francisco offices are in favor of adoption of suggestion relative to 25-0 files and in general commented that to adopt same would result in savings of filing space; that serials in the categories concerned are of little value after 10 years old. El Paso, Los Angeles and New York offices were opposed to adoption of the suggestion regarding 25-0 files and in general commented that a review of such files reflected that considerable amount of background data is available in those files which may be of assistance in subsequent investigations; that considerable clerical and supervisory time would be required to review such material before destroying; and that data would be destroyed which would be useful in future investigations. New York office specifically pointed out that data in 25-0 files generally pertains to matters concerning subjects who were in their teen age and who have later become subjects in other types of criminal violations. Therefore, the data is of use.

Investigative Division is opposed to destruction of the serials in 25-0 files as most of these serials relate to individuals under the Selective Service Act of 1940 and original Selective Service files of the 1940 Act have been destroyed by the Selective Service System. Background data in these files are of value in applicant, loyalty of Government employees, security and some criminal type investigations now being conducted or which will be conducted in the future.

2. 67-0 - Albany, Chicago, Los Angeles, Denver, Detroit, New Orleans, Richmond and San Francisco offices are in favor of adopting suggestion relative to 67-0 files over 10 years old and in general commented that to adopt same would result in savings of filing space; that serials in this category have little value after 10 years old. The El Paso and New York offices were opposed to adoption of the suggestion. El Paso pointed out that very little space would be saved, approximately one half of a drawer, if such files were destroyed. The New York office has noted that 67-0 files, although over 10 years old, have been very useful to that office in connection with Bureau applicants reapplying for positions in that office; that on numerous occasions applicants applied in early 1940s, and were recommended unfavorably, have subsequently reapplied and the information on file concerning them is of a great help in connection with future recommendations.

Administrative Division is of the opinion that applications and other communications over 10 years old which appear in 67-0 files are of doubtful value as reference material. Further, that the Bureau destroys data of the type referred to in 67-0 files in the field, and as such data is of doubtful reference value, it would appear the advantages of destroying such material outweighs the disadvantages as considerable space could be saved.

Training and Inspection Division has carefully studied the two suggestions and the comments of the SACs and Administrative and Investigative Divisions and has concluded that they should not be adopted. Training and Inspection Division feels that it is better to keep the rule uniform as to destruction of files in the investigative categories at 25 years rather than to make a few exceptions. Further, it is noted that the Investigative Division and El Paso, Los Angeles and New York are opposed to adoption of the suggestion as it relates to the 25-0 files and that the El Paso and New York offices are opposed to the adoption of the suggestion relating to destruction of the 67-0 files. Therefore, it is recommended that both suggestions not be adopted.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That suggestion #421-58 relating to 67-0 files not be adopted.

2. That suggestion #422-58 relating to 25-0 files not be adopted.

3. If recommendations approved, no further action is necessary as the suggester has been thanked for both suggestions.

RE: FILE ENTITLED "RECORDS SECTION" (67-80000)

There is maintained in the Personnel Records Unit a file entitled "Records Section"(67-80000). This file, which consists of 16 sections, 2,109 serials, contains policy and administrative material relating to the Records Branch from 1935 up to the present time. A large volume of the administrative-type material, particularly that placed in file during the early years of the Bureau, is obsolete and valueless to the Bureau or is duplicated in other files. Accordingly, in line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate such material from the Bureau's records, thus gaining needed space and making our records operation more efficient, we intend to review this file and "weed" out this type of material.*

Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of administrative-type material of this nature.

RE: FILE ENTITLED "HOLY NAMES SOCIETY"
(94-1-123)

There is maintained in the Records Branch a file entitled "Holy Names Society" (94-1-123). This file, which was opened on June 26, 1936, consists of 3 sections, 271 series. No mail has been placed in the file since June 20, 1942. The majority of the correspondence in the file consists of requests for copies of a speech entitled "True Costs of Crime" which was made by the Director on September 19, 1936, before the Third National Convention of the Holy Names Society at New York City.

It does not appear that this material is of any value to the Bureau today; accordingly, in line with our Records Branch Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is felt that this material should be destroyed.

Archival authority has previously been secured to destroy this type of correspondence (66-3286-443-Item 6).

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records Branch be authorized to destroy file 94-1-123 entitled "Holy Names Society" in accordance with a Records Branch Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records. Sections of the file are attached for review.

SCHEDULE A

Advantages and Substantiation of Suggestion

1. There are currently 35 CP,USA District case files, excluding the New York District, maintained by the NYO (32 Districts and 3 territories). In the past year, 4 new case files have been opened but these represent breakdowns of the above.

2. In most instances the District case files were opened in 1940 or 1941 (18 years ago).

3. The major portion of the CP District case files maintained by the NYO contain copies of reports and administrative memoranda pertaining to the reports. The original report has been forwarded to the Bureau and a copy has been maintained by the Division that prepared the report. Thus the copy furnished the NYO (origin of CP,USA) has information value when furnished, but after a year its value is limited. However, copies of these reports are maintained at both the Bureau and the office that prepared the report.

4. Such reports have not been extensively indexed.

5. The District #13 (California) is probably the largest District case file (88 volumes) maintained at the NYO, and the District #28 (Oklahoma) case file (15 volumes) is representative of one of the smallest.

6. As of 1/1/58, there were a total of 664 file volumes of CP,USA District files, exclusive of New York District and National files, maintained by the NYO. These files occupy 41½ file drawers and 8 3/10 five-drawer file cabinets.

7. Maintenance of the above reports and related administrative memoranda, that have been submitted to the NYO for information purposes, constitutes a duplication of records maintained at the Bureau and at least one other Field Division, necessitates additional storage space and clerical upkeep at the NYO, and after their contents have been noted at the NYO and a period of time lapses, their value is limited.

SCHEDULE B

Estimated Savings Resulting to the NYO as a Result of Suggestion

Cost of five-drawer, letter size, file cabinet (per GSA catalogue).....$ 59.75 ea.

Annual cost of building rental space per file cabinet:

Rental cost per sq. ft., annually at NYO	$3.08
Actual space occupied by file cabinet	2.6 sq. ft.
Allowance for drawer and aisle space	2.6 sq. ft.
Total space required per file cabinet	5.2 sq. ft.
Total annual cost for space occupied by file cabinet ($3.08 x 5.2 sq. ft.)	$ 16.016
Cost per cabinet and annual space rental per cabinet	$ 75.766

Volume of files that may be eliminated if suggestion adopted:

Number of volumes of CP,USA quarterly report, exclusive of NY District and National Reports, on hand as of 1/1/58 (actual)	664 volumes
Number of file drawers occupied by above volumes (16 volumes equal one file drawer per actual average count)	41½ drawers
Number of file cabinets occupied by above volumes (41½ divided by 5)	8 3/10 cabinets

Savings effective 1/1/59, if suggestion adopted and 8 3/10 file cabinets eliminated (8 3/10 x $75.766).....$628.86 *

* Although rental costs for NYO building space is a fixed charge, space rental has been used as a basis for calculating savings as the future may necessitate a reduction of space or the space may be required for other needs. The savings noted above would progressively increase annually as an estimated 37 file volumes are added annually to the present accumulated CP,USA District files maintained by the NYO.

The Training and Inspection Division has requested your views on the attached suggestion which was submitted by Special Agents [redacted] and [redacted] of the New York Office. Messrs. [redacted] and [redacted] have proposed that all Communist Party, USA District reports and administrative memoranda pertaining to them for districts other than those covered by the New York Office be destroyed after being retained one year. The suggesting Agents point out that the adoption of this suggestion will save 8 3/10 file cabinets. The Records Branch favors the adoption of this suggestion. It appears that there is no legal objection since it is assumed the offices where the report originated will retain a copy of the report. It is noted that the New York Office feels that the value of these reports is too limited to warrant retention and that copies are available at the Seat of Government and in the Division preparing the report.

It is current practice of a number of governmental agencies to return to the Bureau copies of FBI reports we have previously disseminated to them, after the need no longer exists in their agencies for the retention of these reports. Through Liaison some of the larger agencies (such as Army, Navy, and Air Force) have been informed that it is not necessary to return these reports provided they are destroyed in accordance with Executive Order 10501 (this order provides that classified information shall be destroyed by burning or an equally complete method of destruction).

Under the existing procedure, the copies of reports returned are filed in the individual files to which they relate, and a notation is made on the original report that the copy has been returned.

As you know, per Executives Conference memorandum dated February 21, 1958, (66-2435-2082), we received authority to destroy copies of reports currently being maintained in Bureau files. In view of this development, it is proposed that we also be authorized to destroy copies of Bureau reports returned to the Bureau by agencies to whom we have previously disseminated these reports. The reports will be destroyed when received. Of course we would make a notation on the original report that the disseminated copy has been returned and destroyed.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records Branch be permitted to destroy, when received, copies of Bureau reports returned to the Bureau by agencies to whom we previously disseminated the reports. Proper notation reflecting return and destruction of copy of report disseminated would be made on original of report.

The above captioned file was opened in 1926 and consists of 10 sections, 340 serials. This file, for the most part, consists of correspondence relating to requests of private individuals for information concerning matters handled by the Secret Service or requests for investigation of matters under the jurisdiction of the Secret Service. In accordance with established policy, these letters have been referred to Secret Service for necessary action.

The earlier sections of the file contain considerable correspondence relating to a nationwide educational program conducted by the Secret Service, entitled "KNOW YOUR MONEY," which was designed to enable citizens to recognize counterfeit money. This type of material does not appear to be of any value to the Bureau today. In line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is proposed that we destroy all correspondence received from the public over ten years old, requesting information about matters handled by Secret Service or requesting investigation of matters under Secret Service jurisdiction. It is also proposed that we destroy all correspondence relating to the Secret Service Program, entitled "KNOW YOUR MONEY."

We have previously secured Archival authority for the destruction of miscellaneous correspondence from outside individuals relating to data falling in the above categories.

SUGGESTION: That in security-type cases, Office of Origin be permitted to consolidate into volumes those files which have not had any work done on them or serials added within last 5 years; that where office is not Office of Origin, they be allowed to consolidate closed security cases when they have been closed 6 months.

PRESENT PRACTICE: Current instructions do not provide for consolidation of security files such as Espionage (65), Internal Security and Security Matters (100). Manual provides that auxiliary offices are to destroy all copies except one of each serial before placing file in closed section in categories of Espionage, Internal Security and Security Matters on organizations or individuals.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Suggester points out to adopt suggestion would result in considerable savings of space through consolidation of files in security-type categories.

BACKGROUND: The same or similar suggestions have been considered on several occasions in the past and were not adopted, the last suggestions being #272-56 and #745-56 which were considered on 11/7/55 and 5/4/56 respectively.

OBSERVATIONS: As to the current suggestion to consolidate security-type cases a survey was made by the Los Angeles, Minneapolis, San Francisco, New York and Washington Field Offices with the following results: Los Angeles, Minneapolis and San Francisco recommended in favor of the consolidation of security-type files; New York and Washington Field Office were strongly opposed to the adoption of the suggestion.

The Domestic Intelligence Division has consistently opposed consolidation of security-type files on the grounds it cannot be anticipated with any degree of accuracy that a security case which has remained in a closed status for any particular period of time would not be reopened because of additional data being received. That if files are consolidated, reopening of case would require that serials regarding a subject would be removed from consolidated section and file reopened, which requires considerable clerical time. Further, numerous name searches are made through security files for various intelligence agencies of the Government and the adoption of the suggestion would complicate the work involved in conducting such name searches. Domestic Intelligence Division is of the opinion that the advantages of consolidation would be greatly outweighed by the inconvenience and expense involved in reopening cases and making name checks. Therefore, it is recommended that the suggestion not be adopted. Training and Inspection Division concurs with the views of the Domestic Intelligence as to consolidation of security-type files.

COUNTERPROPOSAL: During the survey conducted relative to the consolidation of security-type files, the offices concerned were also requested to submit comments and recommendations as to the destruction of extra copies of serials in security-type files in lieu of consolidation of such files. Los Angeles, Minneapolis, New York, San Francisco, Washington Field Offices unanimously recommended that the serials in security-type files be destroyed. Washington Field Office recommended that the destruction of such serials be accomplished after the file has been closed for a period of 10 years.

Domestic Intelligence and Training and Inspection Divisions have studied the counterproposal and concur in the proposal to destroy all but one copy of serials in the Espionage (65), Internal Security and Security Matters (100) and Internal Security - Nationalistic Tendency (105) after the files have been closed for 10 years. It is felt that considerable savings of file cabinets could be accomplished by stripping these files, which constitutes the majority of the security-type cases, with a minimum amount of disadvantages. If approved, the field would be instructed to accomplish the stripping of the files at the earliest possible time with the present number of personnel assigned to the office.

ACTIONS TO BE CONSIDERED: 1. Whether the suggestion to consolidate security-type files after 5 years should be adopted. Domestic Intelligence and Training and Inspection Division recommend against adoption.

Continued

2. Whether or not the counterproposal to strip security-type files of all but one serial after 10 years in the 65, 100 and 105 classifications should be adopted. Domestic Intelligence and Training and Inspection Divisions recommend approval.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION:

On 4/28/58 the Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Belmont, Clayton, Mohr, Nease, Parsons, Rosen, Sizoo, Trotter and Tamm considered the suggestion to consolidate security-type files and the counterproposal of destroying all but one serial of security-type files after ten years in the 65, 100 and 105 classifications. The Executives Conference unanimously recommended that the suggestion to consolidate security-type files not be adopted and that the counterproposal be adopted with the provision that when copies of serials are destroyed that the date of destruction and the initials of the employee destroying the copies be placed on each serial for which copies are destroyed.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That suggestion to consolidate security-type files not be adopted. No further action required as Mr. [redacted] has been previously thanked by letter for his suggestion.

2. That counterproposal to permit office of origin to destroy all copies except one of each serial in the files which are over ten years old in classifications Espionage (65); Internal Security and Security Matter (100); Internal Security - Nationalisitic Tendency (105) be approved.

3. That attached SAC Letter be approved.

4. That attached revision for the Manual of Rules and Regulations be approved.

MISSING PERSONS CORRESPONDENCE
BUFILE 79-00

The Executives Conference on 3-1-55 considered the question of the retention of missing persons correspondence in the Identification Division. The Conference unanimously recommended that the material be forwarded from Identification to Records three years after the missing persons notice had been canceled and that Records retain this material. It was pointed out then that there might be photographs or other important documents which the original contributor might request the return of.

To the best of our knowledge, no use has been made of any of this material since this procedure has been in effect. There are presently eight boxes of this type of material filed in the bulky ramp in the Filing Unit of the Records Branch in the Identification Building. It is believed that we should destroy this material. Inspector R. K. Moore of the Identification Division has advised that his division has no objections to the destruction of this correspondence provided any important documents such as discharge papers are retained.

K

RECOMMENDATION:

That missing persons correspondence be destroyed three years after the missing persons notice has been canceled and that only that correspondence containing important documents be retained in the Records Branch. In the event this is approved, Archival authority will be obtained for permission to destroy this material.

Re memorandum from W. G. Eamos to Mr. Nease dated 5/15/58 referring to bulky exhibit file number 64-175-253-54 and requesting that this bulky exhibit be reviewed and a recommendation made as to whether it should be retained or destroyed.

A review of this serial, a memorandum dated 8/23/55 from Mr. Clegg to Mr. Nichols, discloses that the Bureau received 61 copies of a Greek newspaper, "ΕΘΝΟΣ" ("The Nation"), printed in the Greek language. These newspapers, which have been retained as a bulky enclosure to this serial, were presented to the Bureau by Achilles Kryiasis, owner of that newspaper, who was then on a tour of the U. S. Each of the 61 editions carries an installment of a favorable story concerning the Bureau written by the wife of a member of the Greek Ministry of Justice who had toured the Bureau in the Fall of 1949.

RECOMMENDATION:

A review of this material discloses that its retention is no longer justified and it is recommended that this bulky enclosure be destroyed.

INTERNAL SECURITY - C
SMITH ACT OF 1940

In connection with the Hellman trial under the Smith Act presently in progress at Butte, Special Agent Norbert S. Donahue of Butte (Agent assigned to sit at counsel table) telephonically furnished the following information at 3:00 p.m. today.

b6
b7D

Under the Jencks law, Trial Judge Murray has been furnished for review, memoranda and portions of investigative reports covering interviews with Government witnesses [redacted] At this morning's session of the trial, Judge Murray requested to be furnished the handwritten notes of the Agents who conducted the interviews from which the memoranda and investigative reports were prepared. The judge indicated he desired these notes for comparison with the memoranda and investigative reports already furnished to him. Judge Murray stated that if the notes have been destroyed and are not available he desires to be so advised together with the reason for their destruction OF BUREAU RECORDS

Special Agent Donahue stated that the Government attorneys feel the judge is completely out of line but that since some action must be taken, they, the Government attorneys, have suggested the following four alternatives.

1) They will confer with Judge Murray and advise him, if such is the fact, that the files of the pertinent offices have been searched and the interviewing Agents contacted and that the notes are not available, having been destroyed in accordance with established Bureau procedure.

2) Exhibit portions of the memoranda and investigative reports to the witnesses for a statement as to the accuracy of the Agents' accounts of the interviews.

3) Have a Bureau official who is custodian of records testify that the notes are not available and further testify as to Bureau policy regarding destruction of notes after dictation.

4) Have each Agent who conducted the pertinent interviews testify that his handwritten notes were destroyed after dictation in accordance with established procedure.

Special Agent Donahue stated that the court had recessed for lunch and the matter would probably have to be resolved at the afternoon session. I instructed Special Agent Donahue to follow this matter very closely, promptly transmit all necessary requests from Government attorneys to auxiliary offices and to keep the Bureau advised of developments.

Following Special Agent Donahue's call two teletypes were received at the Bureau from Butte, instructing the Chicago, New York and Washington Field Offices to review pertinent files relating to witnesses [redacted] and [redacted] to ascertain if pertinent handwritten notes are available and to immediately contact the interviewing Agents (3 of whom are involved at this point) to determine if notes were taken by the Agents and, if so, the Agents' recollection of their disposition. b6 b7C b7D

At 3:40 p.m. Department Attorney [redacted] telephonically advised that he had just discussed this situation with Government attorneys at Butte. [redacted] also stated that Judge Murray is far out of bounds in holding a hearing within the trial to establish the good faith of the Government. [redacted] stated he had instructed the Government attorneys at Butte to further discuss this situation with Judge Murray to see what could be worked out. [redacted] stated that no further action is necessary by the Bureau at this time and he feels the situation may resolve itself during the afternoon session. b6 b7C

There is maintained in the Personnel Records Unit a file entitled "SAC School" (67-021). This file, consisting of 46 serials, was opened in 1935 and has not been used since July of 1942. The file for the most part contains comments concerning the speaking ability of Special Agents in Charge who were attending SAC conferences being held at the Seat of Government. Copies of these memorandums were placed in the personnel files of the SAC's to whom they related.

In view of the fact that copies of this material have been placed in the individual personnel files and the fact that the material appears to be completely obsolete and valueless to the Bureau today, it is recommended that this file be destroyed in line with our records management program designed to eliminate such material from the Bureau's records.

Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of administrative type material of this nature.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Administrative Division and to the Training and Inspection Division for consideration as to the destruction of the file entitled "SAC School" which is attached.

SUBJECT: MEMOIRS OF GEORGE PERCZEL
FOREIGN MISCELLANEOUS - HU

Records Section memo of 5/15/58 requested review of bulky enclosure in captioned matter which consists of a photographic copy (372 pages) of a portion of a rough draft manuscript in the Hungarian language prepared by one George Perczel, a Hungarian displaced person. The enclosure also contains a roll of film by which the original document was copied.

The original document was furnished the Cincinnati Office on 10/8/52 by an acquaintance of Perczel, also a resident of Cincinnati. The document purportedly outlined the background and experiences of Perczel who allegedly spent many years in the European underground and in Russian internment camps. It was submitted for possible Bureau interest. Perczel was described as a "physical wreck" because of his ordeals and was further described as "simple, but not simple-minded."

A review of the document was subsequently made by SA Alex G. Nagy, familiar with the Hungarian language and by letter dated 2/13/53, WFO advised that the material contained no items of security interest to the Bureau.

It is noted that the original document was returned by the Cincinnati Office to the individual (Mrs. [redacted] who made it available.

RECOMMENDATION:

Since this bulky enclosure contains no data of security significance to the Bureau and no future use for it can be anticipated, it is recommended that the contents of this bulky exhibit be destroyed by the Records Branch.

We are presently in the process of reviewing all bulky exhibits presently on hand, in order that we may weed out those which will serve no useful purpose by being retained. A notation as to the decision rendered should be placed on this memorandum, and it should be returned to the Filing Unit of the Records Branch, Room 1113, Identification Building. By memo of 5-26-58, from Mr. Eames to Mr. Nease, it was noted that bulky exhibit number 65-12411-1 contains a homemade Nazi flag and it was recommended that a decision be reached as to whether this bulky exhibit should be retained or disposition thereof made.

The homemade Nazi flag was furnished to the Bureau on 5-17-1940 by the auditor of the University of North Carolina who advised that the flag had been placed on the water tower belonging to the University by some unknown individual.

No reason exists to maintain the bulky exhibit in Bufiles and no request was made that the homemade flag be returned to the individual who turned it over to the Bureau.

The bulky exhibit in question, in Bin Number 50, consists of photographs of an instruction book, apparently concerning the radio equipment in the communications room of the yacht which was once owned by Hitler, and the negatives of the photographs of the pages of the instruction book. Information relating to the equipment in the radio room of the yacht was obtained in September, 1949, at the request of Colonel Carter Clark of Arlington Hall and is of no interest to the Bureau. Copies of the appropriate photographs in this connection were furnished to Colonel Clark in 1949.

There appears to be no reason why the film and the prints contained in the bulky exhibit should be retained since there is no current interest in this matter either by the Bureau or the Army. Photos were obtained surreptitiously by Bureau agents. Destruction of Property

SUBJECT: MS "ODENWALD" SALVAGE - MISCELLANEOUS
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GEN'L

By memorandum W. G. Eames to Mr. Nease dated 4-21-58, it was recommended bulky Exhibit 2-452-104 be reviewed and a decision rendered as to the retention or disposition of the material therein.

The German motor ship "Odenwald" was captured by the United States Navy on 11-6-41 after it was sighted in the South Atlantic disguised as the SS "Willmoto" of Philadelphia flying the United States flag and after attempts were made by the crew to scuttle the ship when it was challenged by the Navy. The United States Attorney (USA) at San Juan filed a libel for common-law salvage against the vessel and its cargo on 11-18-41, and the USA requested the Bureau to assist in the investigation to develop evidence to support the libel action. Numerous items and documents taken from the ship were forwarded to the Laboratory for examination, and many original items were retained in the Laboratory file which on 7-24-46 was transferred to the Records Section to be maintained as an enclosure behind file and is the exhibit in question. After our entry into the war, the responsibility for the "Odenwald" and its cargo was transferred to the Alien Property Custodian, and the USA advised the salvage trial would not commence until after the war. San Juan on 6-8-45 advised its bulky exhibits were turned over to the USA, San Juan.

By letter dated 4-25-58, we instructed San Juan consult with the USA and determine if final disposition had been made of the case and ascertain from him what disposition, if any, could be made from the items being retained by the Bureau. By letter dated 6-27-58, San Juan advised that final action in the case was taken by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, First Circuit, on 6-14-48, and the USA, San Juan, advised all exhibits in this case maintained by the Bureau should be disposed of. He advised his office also has retained a large volume of exhibits and they will be disposed of.

Reference is made to the suggestion of Inspector L. O. Teague that the so-called "Old German" index cards in this office be eliminated.

There are about 5,000 "Old German" cards. These relate to files which were originally transferred to this office from the Paris Office and subsequently destroyed per Bureau instructions in connection with the establishment of the over-all policy of periodic file destruction in this office. These files pertain to information gathered by Bureau operations in the years immediately following World War II.

Bureau authority is requested to destroy these cards.

Destruction of Bureau Property

Reference is made to memorandum from L. E. Short to Mr. Nease dated 6/18/58, recommending that Bulky Exhibit File Number 9-30629-35 be reviewed and a decision rendered as to the retention or disposition of the material contained therein.

This exhibit is a tape recording of two telephonic contacts between subject [redacted] and Mrs. [redacted] who was impersonating Mrs. Morris Weinberger in instant case. Tape recording was obtained to compare voice of subject [redacted] with those recorded by the New York Office during their investigation of the kidnaping of Peter Weinberger. Instant tape has no evidentiary value. The Laboratory Division has previously advised that they were not interested in this recording, but the Training and Inspection Division in 11/56, expressed an interest in obtaining same for review and consideration as to its possible use in their training program. The Charlotte Office by letter dated 12/12/56, sent instant tape recording to the Bureau marked for the attention of the Training and Inspection Division.

RECOMMENDATION:

Inasmuch as instant tape has no evidentiary value and the Training and Inspection Division previously expressed an interest in the tape for consideration in its training program, it is recommended that they review this exhibit to determine whether it should be retained or disposed of in accordance with referenced memorandum.

In a memorandum dated 5/27/44, Supervisor Strickland to Mr. Ladd, reference was made to a Bureau survey of the Japanese Relocation Centers. It was stated a number of copies of the survey were retained and were being forwarded to the Records Section. The survey was prepared in two sections. Part I includes the recommendations with summarized supporting data and consists of 96 mimeographed pages. Part II contains notes taken during the interviews with War Relocation Authority (WRA) personnel at the centers and consists of 384 mimeographed pages. The approximate weight of the two sections is five pounds. The Records Section has advised there are presently twenty copies of Part I and fifteen copies of Part II available in the files. The Records Section has recommended that the material be reviewed and a decision made as to whether the material should be retained or destroyed. (62-69030-535)

OBSERVATIONS:

This survey was made at the request of Dillion Meyer, Director of WRA, for the purpose of submitting recommendations that would be of assistance to the WRA in maintaining law and order within the centers. This matter was discussed with the Liaison Section, as it has the responsibility for Bureau defense planning and the survey is of no present value to that Section with regard to defense planning. The survey is likewise of no present value to the Nationalities Intelligence Section.

By SAC Letter 56-51, we instructed our field divisions to discontinue conducting the FBI Employees Consolidated Charity Fund Campaign in view of the fact that the Federal Policy which was issued by the White House in 1956 prohibited us from conducting a one-package campaign.

We have received some inquiries from our field offices concerning the destruction of bank statements, cancelled checks, etc., and it is felt that we should send an SAC Letter out to advise all field divisions that there is no objection to destroying all of the old FBI Employees Consolidated Charity Fund records. We have not had an FBI Employees Consolidated Charity Fund since 1956 and there does not appear to be any reason for field divisions to retain such records because our records at the SOG are complete with regard to solicitations and contributions for the years that the FBI Employees Consolidated Charity Fund was in existence.

There is maintained on the seventh floor of the Identification Building editions of the Official Catholic Directory for the years 1936, 1939, 1941, 1943, and 1946. This material was previously maintained in the Bureau Library and it has been determined that the Bureau Library maintains the current issues of this publication.

This material is not used and is occupying one drawer of a file cabinet which could be used for the storage of current material. Accordingly, in line with our Records ~~Branch~~ Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is felt that this material should be destroyed. Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of this material inasmuch as it is "library" type material.

RECOMMENDATION:

All conscientious objector investigations conducted by the Bureau under the 1940 Act resulted in the accumulation of bulky packages of Photostats of the registrant's selective service file.

All of selective service files under the 1940 Act have been destroyed by all of the local draft boards. These same reports and Photostats have been sent to Archives by the Conscientious Objector Unit of the Department of Justice.

There does not appear to be any need for the Bureau to retain these bulky Photostats.

(2) If recommendation No. 1 approved, this memorandum should be referred to Records Division for handling and destruction.

The Executives Conference on 7/21/58, with Messrs. Tolson, Holloman, Mohr, Trotter, Parsons, Clayton, Belmont, Rosen, Nease and Tamm being present, considered a suggestion submitted by Inspector Lee O. Teague that Legal Attaches be permitted to destroy SAC Letters after office personnel have read the SAC Letter and it does not apply to foreign work or general Bureau policy.

It was pointed out that present requirements are that SAC Letters be retained for a period of three years. It is further noted that many of the SAC Letters do not apply to work in the foreign offices. While it is important that each Legal Attache receive the SAC Letters so that he and his personnel may keep abreast of Bureau instructions and regulations, because of limited space, they should not have to retain them. Of course, proper accountability for receipt and destruction of SAC Letters would have to be made.

The Conference unanimously recommends that Legal Attaches be permitted to destroy SAC Letters after office personnel have read the SAC Letter and the SAC Letter does not apply to foreign work or general Bureau policy. If you approve appropriate instructions will be issued.

RE: FBI LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS PLEDGE (Bufile 66-10584)

There are maintained on the Seventh Floor of the Identification Building, 2 five-drawer cabinets containing pledges captioned, "FBI Law Enforcement Officers Mobilization Plan For National Defense." In addition, a number of these pledges are maintained in the file relating to this matter. These pledges were made during World War II by law enforcement officers throughout the country. A sample of the pledge is attached. These pledges are not used and they occupy space and equipment which could be used for other more essential records. It is felt that consideration should be given to the destruction of these pledges.

By memorandum from Mr. Eames to Mr. Nichols dated 2-21-55, (66-10584-364), it was recommended that this material be destroyed. The Training and Inspection Division agreed; however, Mr. Nichols did not feel that the pledges should be destroyed inasmuch as there was wide-spread publicity at the time these pledges were put out and the Bureau said it would maintain these pledges for all time.

The Records Branch feels that this matter should be reconsidered consistent with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records.

SUBJECT: DISPOSAL OF ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION (AEC) COVER LETTERS PRESENTLY BEING MAINTAINED IN DIVISION VI MAIL ROOM (4637)

There are presently being maintained in the Division VI mail room Atomic Energy Commission cover letters which date back to the date when the Bureau began to be reimbursed by Atomic Energy Commission for investigations conducted for that agency.

The Atomic Energy Commission cover letters list the names of the individuals who were to be investigated for Atomic Energy Commission and transmitted to the Bureau the Personnel Security Questionnaires of the individuals listed on the cover letters.

Unless it is required that the Bureau for record purposes maintain these cover letters, it is suggested that only the cover letters for the past fiscal year be maintained and the remainder of the cover letters be destroyed.

SUBJECT: JOSEPH (JUPP) BENEDICT LIEBLEIN, et al
ESPIONAGE - GERMANY

Case is closed and no prosecutive aspect pending. Records and Communications Division has on 7/11/58 furnished certain photographs and film in case which had been held in Administrative Division per instructions of Mr. Nichols. Advice was requested as to disposition.

Research in this extensive file reveals Bulet 6/4/45 (serial 700) which requested motion pictures and still photos be forwarded by NY to Bureau for study as to possible training use and approved destruction of other material. NY forwarded voluminous film and photos 8/2/45 (serial 704X) indicating it could be disposed of as seen fit by Bureau. Memo L. L. Tyler to D. M. Ladd 2/1/46 (serial 714X) said film not of value for training and recommended disposal. Notation thereon indicates it was not to be destroyed until Mr. Nichols has personally reviewed.

Photographic material in point here consists of few still photos and negatives and one roll of film taken in connection with this case apparently through X-ray mirror set up similar to that used in Duquesne case. It is of no current interest, is by no means entire group of material sent in with NY letter 8/2/45, and was apparently retained for Mr. Nichols as matter of personal interest. It bears no Bureau file recording notations.

RECOMMENDATION:

Recommend material be destroyed. Material has been returned to Crime Records Section for disposition.

From: SA GORDON B. PLAYMAN GS-13 Division of assignment: Minneapolis

SUGGESTION: It is suggested that in the future, when reports are prepared on security subjects and organizations, the reporting agent also prepare a memorandum listing the serial number of each channelizing memorandum which contains information obtained from security informants, is pertinent to the subject of the report, and is included in the report. He will not list channelizing memoranda which contain other information which may be of future value in the investigation of the subject, or which contain material which has been indexed. He will direct the Chief Clerk to destroy the serials listed. After completion of the report and upon receipt of this memo, the Chief Clerk will destroy each serial listed, since the pertinent information is now duplicated in the completed report, and the informant is clearly shown in the report's cover letter, which also contains the location of the informant's original report, should this info be needed for review in the future.

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts): Part II, Section 3, page 12, Manual of Rules and Regulations, provides that in 65, 100 and 105 classifications, the office of origin may destroy all copies except one of each serial after the files have been closed 10 years.

Advantages of suggestion: Chief advantage would be a reduction in the increasing number of file cabinets necessary in the storage of the ever expanding files of the closed 100 classification. It is estimated that with the Bureau's increased informant coverage and the consequent increase in channelizing memos, these memos constitute over 75% of the total bulk of serials now going into 100 case files. Of this amount, 80% of all channelizing memos could be destroyed each year in accordance with this suggestions. This would means a 60% reduction in future space required for storage of these files.

Disadvantages of suggestion: Chief disadvantage would appear to be the unavailability in the case file of a separate memorandum for each item of information furnished by each informant. However, the information is duplicated in the current report and can be located easily by a review of the report. Moreover, the original info in the informant's file, rather than that set out in the channelizing memo, is the proper place to recheck the accuracy of the information.

The use by the United States of my suggestion shall not form the basis of a further claim of any nature by me, my heirs, or assigns upon the United States.

RE: IDENTIFICATION ORDERS

There are maintained on the Seventh Floor of the Identification Building two drawers of files containing Identification Orders, (I. O.), Nos. 1 through 975, which orders were issued during the 1920's and early 1930's. Subsequent to the issuance of Identification Order No. 975, all I. O's. are filed in the appropriate case files.

These Identification Orders are not used and in view of this inactivity and the age of the material, it would appear that this material is obsolete and could be destroyed in accordance with our Records Branch Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records. Archival authority would be necessary for the destruction of this material.

There is maintained on the seventh floor of the Identification Building two cabinets of investigative files pertaining to the investigations conducted in connection with the examination of judicial offices during 1935, 1936, and 1937. The files concerning these investigations (sample attached) are not used and occupy space and equipment which can be used for the filing of current material. While these files cannot be destroyed due to the fact that they are reports of actual investigations conducted of judicial offices, they are suitable for microfilming. It is requested that consideration be given to the microfilming of these files and the subsequent destruction of the original material.

Archival authority has been previously secured for the microfilming and subsequent destruction of the original material falling in this category.

RECOMMENDATION:

That consideration be given to the microfilming of two cabinets of material presently stored on the seventh floor of the Identification Building relating to investigations conducted regarding the examinations of judicial offices during the 1930's.

Destruction of Bureau Property

Memo from L. E. Short to Mr. Nease dated 8-14-58 requests the bulky exhibit of serial one of captioned matter be reviewed and a decision rendered as to its retention or destruction.

Bufiles reflect the receipt of numerous communications from captioned individual furnishing information of little or no value to the Bureau. He has, on several occasions, offered his services to the Bureau; however, his services have never been utilized. He has been afforded cordial acknowledgments.

The above bulky exhibit consists of two 8" x 32" negatives of pictures Allen submitted to the Bureau with a letter dated 2-5-44. These pictures are panoramic photographs of persons attending an outing of the Yokohama Specie Bank Club on 5-24-41, Queens, New York. None of the numerous persons in the pictures are identified. Allen does not describe the club or the reasons for furnishing the negatives but does state that a Japanese takes care of the clubhouse and the president of the bank had a chauffeur of German extraction. His letter transmitting the negatives to the Bureau was acknowledged 2-26-44 and the negatives have been retained since their receipt.

RECOMMENDATION:

The information forwarded by Allen in the above letter was nonspecific and of no value when received and no action was taken by the Bureau. The negatives described above are completely worthless to the Bureau. It is recommended that this bulky ~~exhibit be destroyed~~. If you approve, this memo should be routed to the Filing Unit of the Records Branch, Room 1113 Ident Building, for destruction of this bulky exhibit.

MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING (Nationalities Intelligence)
Destruction of Bureau Property

In connection with the Records Section's project of destroying those bulky exhibits for which there is now no need, the index cards reflecting the names of the interviewees in this case have been considered. These cards (approximately 3000) are an enclosure to serial 5188 and were prepared during the investigation of Lattimore for ready reference in the event the question came up as to whether a particular person had been interviewed. It was felt such an index would be most helpful during the preparation for the trial of the subject and during the trial itself.

The Lattimore case is closed and it does not appear that this index will be of use in the future. No good reason remains for its existence.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the index in the Lattimore file (enclosure to serial 5188) be destroyed.

SUBJECT: OBSOLETE MATERIAL MAINTAINED ON 7th FLOOR IDENTIFICATION BUILDING

There is maintained on the seventh floor of the Identification Building two drawers of material consisting of copies of the transcript record relating to the Kurt Fredrick Ludwig and Hermann Lang testimony. This material was forwarded to the Records Branch for storage purposes by memoranda from Jones to Nichols dated February 4, 1949, (65-33780-2696) and February 4, 1949, (60-42520-162). This material is not used, is occupying space and equipment which could be used to better advantage, and it is felt that the material should be considered for destruction in line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records. It is pointed out that the files concerning these two cases are very complete as to the investigation and subsequent trial.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Crime Records Section and that consideration be given to destroying the transcript record relating to the Kurt Fredrick Ludwig and Hermann Lang testimony.

Records and Communications Division requests advice re disposition of bulky exhibit (100-25208-1302) consisting of Nazi Party membership records. These records were put out in pamphlet form by the Committee on Military Affairs of the U. S. Senate (Kilgore Committee) in 1946 and printed by U. S. Government Printing Office. Pamphlets are in four parts plus a supplement and up to seven copies of each are maintained in bulky exhibit. The source for the compilation of the names listed in the pamphlets were microfilms which had previously been furnished Bureau by the War Department and subsequently made available by War Department to Senate Committee. We have occasionally had inquiry concerning names on these lists by members of Congress.

That the originals of Part I, II, III, IV and the supplement be retained and the copies destroyed. Material has been returned to Records Branch for disposition.

SUBJECT: OBSOLETE MATERIAL MAINTAINED ON 7th FLOOR IDENTIFICATION BUILDING

Destruction of Bureau Property

There are maintained on the seventh floor of the Identification Building 30 cabinets of material pertaining to War Fraud Cases during the period 1922 to 1924 which material was originally handled by the Department of Justice and in 1924 was turned over to the FBI for further investigation.

By memorandum from the Director to Mr. Nichols dated May 30, 1945, (67-80000-766) it was pointed out that as a result of an inspection by Inspector Egan it was determined that this material was not used and instructions were issued that the Records Branch should confer with any division interested in the material for the purpose of determining if the material could be destroyed.

A memorandum from Mr. Cartwright to Mr. Nichols dated June 30, 1945, (66-3286-184, item 13) reflects that Mr. Rosen advised that these records are original, must be retained and cannot be destroyed.

This material is not used. Because of the age of the material, it is difficult to maintain properly and is occupying space and equipment which could be used to better advantage with more current material. Accordingly, it is recommended that this material be re-evaluated and consideration be given to the destruction of the material in line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records. If the destruction of this material is approved, archival authority will be required prior to destruction.

Check of the Tolson Unit indicates material destroyed per Arch. Auth 66-19087-38 X mcw 8/23/67

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Investigative Division and that consideration be given to the destruction of this material. If destruction is authorized, the Records Branch will take the necessary steps to secure archival authority.

By memorandum 7-20-46 J. C. Although there is no identifying information concerning the individuals named in the list, the names were indexed and made a part of our general indices. The list contains 1,038 names and because of the lack of pertinent identifying information are referred to frequently in connection with File Review projects.

In view of the lack of identifying data concerning individuals mentioned in the list, it is believed that consideration should be given to de-indexing the list and removing the index cards from the general index.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENL

Re memorandum 8/18/58 from Mr. L. E. Short to Mr. Nease referring to bulky exhibit file 64-175-233-8 and requesting its review for a determination as to the retention or disposition of this material.

This bulky exhibit consists of two reels of motion picture film which were received as enclosures to a memorandum of 1/5/45 from the Bureau's representative at Rome, Italy, advising the film had been furnished to him by G-2. The memorandum stated the film was believed to have been obtained from the Office of Giuseppe Frediani, former inspector for the Fasci-All' Estero. One of the reels is described as a film of a demonstration held at Pavia, Italy, and replete with scenes of Mussolini. The other film is described as a record of the Balilla Movement in Italy. They were forwarded by the Bureau's representative inasmuch as they were considered to be of historical interest.

RECOMMENDATION:

Inasmuch as the material in this bulky exhibit is no longer of any apparent value to the Bureau, it should be destroyed.

By memorandum to you dated 1-9-58 it was recommended that consideration be given to the destruction of more than seven million loyalty forms now on hand. It was indicated that the estimated annual cost of maintaining this material amounted to $35,774.54. The Executives Conference considered this matter on 1-15-58 and by memorandum 1-16-58 it was indicated that the Bureau should continue to maintain these forms and that the matter be reconsidered after the current session of Congress. It was pointed out that Congress might conceivably pass another loyalty bill of some kind which would have a bearing upon the need for these forms. The attached clipping, taken from the Washington Post - Times Herald, August 25 edition, reflects that Congress failed to take any action with respect to loyalty-security program. The clipping further indicates that the President plans to recommend his own security program next year and the bill under consideration by the recent Congress would have been a temporary measure effective until June 30, 1959.

RECOMMENDATION:

That consideration again be given to the destruction of no-record loyalty forms which will effect a substantial monetary savings to the Bureau.

In connection with the current purging of obsolete 3x5 index cards from the Bureau indices the file entitled Carrier Pigeons (62-54553) was reviewed. This is a five section file opened in July, 1939, and contains numerous index cards on racing pigeon leg bands. For the most part, the file contains correspondence from individuals who found leg bands or pigeons with leg bands and forwarded the information to the Bureau. The Bureau then would forward the information to various Pigeon Fanciers Associations.

It has been determined the life expectancy of a pigeon is from 8 to 10 years and it is believed the indexing of the band is of no value to the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. That index cards and non-pertinent mail on pigeon leg bands be destroyed through 1948.

2. That this memorandum be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division to determine if there is any objection to the destruction of these records.

3. If approved, Archival authority will be obtained to destroy these records.

Reference is made to the memorandum from Mr. Short to Mr. Nease, dated 9/8/58, concerning bulky exhibit 100-39313-13, which requested that a determination be made as to whether this bulky exhibit should be retained or destroyed.

This bulky exhibit consists of a roll of 35-millimeter film submitted by the Legat, London in January, 1944, and prints which have been made from this film. The documents which are photographed on this film are the United States Embassy file on one Joseph Berman and consists of miscellaneous correspondence of the Embassy, and reports and investigation conducted by New Scotland Yard, concerning Berman. (2)U

The British authorities at first had a security interest in Berman upon his arrival in England in 1941. They later decided he was merely a crook and that his trip to England was for one of two purposes, either in furtherance of some confidence trick which had been perpetrated by him in the United States, or alternatively to recover the proceeds of some old crime. Berman was arrested shortly after his arrival in England on the charge of offenses against the Aliens (movements) Restriction Order, and after a few months was deported to the United States. It was alleged that Berman had $500,000 in bonds in a safe deposit box in London, which were the proceeds of a mail fraud, for which he was convicted in 1928. However, when the box was opened in the presence of the American Vice-Consul and the Metropolitan Police Department, the box was found to be empty. (2)U

SUBJECT: OBSOLETE MATERIAL MAINTAINED ON SEVENTH FLOOR Identification Building

There is maintained on the seventh floor of the Identification Building one drawer of exhibits relating to investigations conducted in connection with the case entitled "Report of Subcommittee on Publicity and Propaganda to the Committee on Expenditures in the Executive Departments, House of Representatives; re Socialized Medicine - Miscellaneous - Special Inquiry", (62-84363).

Memorandum from Pennington to Rosen dated 5-17-49, (62-84363-168), indicates that the Department had returned to the Bureau numerous exhibits in connection with this investigation. This memorandum suggested that these exhibits be retained in the Bureau for the present in view of the possibility that the Bureau may be called on by the Department or members of Congress for information or further investigation. This investigation was closed in December, 1947, and there has been no activity since that time. These exhibits are not used and are occupying space and equipment which could be used to better advantage for maintaining current material, and in view of the period of time that has elapsed since the investigation was closed, it is felt that the exhibits should be destroyed in line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records.

Upon receipt of the attached memorandum, the material referred to therein, located in the Identification Building, was examined on September 5, 1958. The three cabinets contained records pertaining to SIS Operations, specifically check stubs, vouchers, payroll records, blue slips, and related items. Under the present regulations, the majority of this material must be maintained inasmuch as it represents the original accounting documents. The Voucher Unit now maintains all records in connection with the offices of the Legal Attaches', and most of the financial records in connection with SIS activities. At present, there is sufficient space for housing the records, and since none of them can be destroyed, it is believed the records should be located in the Voucher Unit.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - 9 ENCL

In 1945 the Smyth Report was issued by the War Department under the title "Atomic Energy for Military Purposes." This report prepared by Professor Smyth of Princeton University included most of the basic physical knowledge of atomic fission available at that time.

During May, 1946, the Bureau instituted investigation of former employees of the Manhattan Engineering District (MED) Project who through their official duties had firsthand knowledge of data not contained in the Smyth Report regardless of whether there were any allegations of communist affiliations on the part of these persons. To assist the field, the Bureau at that time requested from MED the names and identifying data of these persons so that their names could be checked through Bufiles and the data contained therein furnished the field. In reply, MED furnished only the names without any identifying data explaining that the MED staff had been so drastically cut it could not fully comply with our request. This memo Strickland to Ladd 7-20-46 recommended no further attempt be made to conduct file reviews on these persons in view of the incompleteness of the information. These names were, however, indexed.

The Records and Communications Division has requested the views of the Domestic Intelligence Division as to the retention of these index cards. (Memo Short to Nease, 9-5-58)

RECOMMENDATION:

The list furnished by MED serves only to name the individuals who had access to classified data at MED in 1946. Without further identifying information, it appears to be of no use in file reviews. Accordingly, should the Records and Communications Division desire to destroy the index cards relating to the names on this list, the Domestic Intelligence Division would have no objections.

By memorandum dated 8-21-58 (66-3286-787), it was recommended that consideration be given to the destruction of material pertaining to War Fraud Cases during the period 1922 to 1924, which material was originally handled by the Department of Justice and in 1924 was turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for further investigation. I indicated that if destruction was approved, [redacted] Archival authority would be required.

Referenced memorandum was referred to the Investigative Division who have reviewed this material and recommend that it be destroyed.

There is attached hereto a memorandum to the Department of Justice transmitting the required number of copies of Standard Form 115 (Request for Authority to Dispose of Records) with the request that these forms be transmitted to the National Archives for the purpose of securing the necessary Archival authority.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached memorandum to the Department of Justice enclosing the required number of copies of SF-115 (Request for Authority to Dispose of Records) be approved and forwarded to the Department.

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

On 9-8-58 the Executives Conference again considered the suggestion of Mr. Nease that 7,500,408 "no record" Loyalty of Government Employees and Security of Government Employees forms maintained by the Records Branch be destroyed. This matter was last considered by the conference on 1-15-58 at which time they were of the opinion that we should continue to maintain these forms pending the adjournment of Congress. It was pointed out that Congress might conceivably pass another Loyalty Bill which would have a bearing upon the need for these forms. Congress adjourned without passing a new Loyalty measure.

Under the provisions of Executive Order 9835, 3-21-47, superseded by Executive Order 10450 effective 5-27-53, the Bureau receives copies of Security of Government Employees forms for the purpose of conducting name searches. Two copies of each form are forwarded by the Civil Service Commission. Upon completion of the file search, one copy is stamped "No Derogatory Data" if there is no identifiable data and returned to the Civil Service Commission for subsequent forwarding to the submitting agency. It is understood most of the agencies retain these in the personnel folders of the employees involved. The remaining copy is retained by the Bureau and filed in alphabetical sequence. The estimated cost for retention of this material is $35,774.54 annually plus the cost of approximately 150 file cabinets housing the existing accumulation and the file room space occupied by them. Infrequent searches are made of these forms to check on former submissions. Very few identifications of any value are made. We are currently receiving an average of 22,726 forms per month.

There is no legal requirement for the Bureau to maintain these "no record" forms. The retention of the material is based upon interpretation of the Executive Order 9835 by former Attorney General Tom C. Clark who in June, 1948, noted, "Edgar, I think we should insist that an index be kept of Government employees. Then when a new organization is placed on list, you could check its membership--if you do not have membership lists, we could secure same through subpoena." The Attorney General had in mind checking the "No Record" Loyalty Forms against membership lists of organizations then being added periodically to the Attorney General's list of designated organizations. As a practical matter, membership lists of newly designated organizations have never been subpoenaed for this purpose.

Section Two, Executive Order 10450, provides that "the head of each department and agency of the Government shall be responsible for establishing and maintaining within his department or agency an effective program to insure that the employment and retention in employment of any civilian officer or employee within the department or agency is clearly consistent with the interests of national security." It is clear from this terminology that responsibility is definitely fixed with each department or agency to insure suitability of personnel for employment. "Suitability" under this second order was also broadened to encompass not only membership in designated organizations but also to include such factors as dishonesty, immorality, habitual use of intoxicants, drug addiction, etc. On our initial name and fingerprint check we appropriately cover all these matters, but there is no continuing responsibility under either Executive Order to maintain an index of Government employees and applicants in order to periodically check it for this type of information.

It was the unanimous opinion of the Conference that these "no record" Loyalty of Government Employees and Security of Government Employees forms be destroyed. However, inasmuch as retention of this material is based on a decision by former Attorney General Clark, it is believed that written permission for destruction should be obtained from the present Attorney General. Accordingly, a proposed memorandum for the Attorney General is attached.

There is maintained on the seventh floor of the Identification Building two cabinets of material consisting of maps, photographs, monographs and miscellaneous material relating to the SIS Program during World War II. This material was previously maintained in the Bureau library and was forwarded to the Records Branch for storage by memoranda from Jones to Nichols dated September 9, 1949, (66-818-2729) and May 5, 1950, (62-22444-1226). This material does not relate to any Bureau files, and apparently is supplementary material maintained in connection with the SIS Program.

This material is not used, is occupying space and equipment which could be used for the housing of more current and valuable material, and accordingly, in line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is felt that a re-evaluation of this material should be made to determine if the material can be destroyed. Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of "library" type material.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Crime Records Section and that consideration be given to the destruction of the material relating to the SIS Program which was previously maintained in the Bureau library.

SUBJECT: OBSOLETE MATERIAL MAINTAINED ON SEVENTH FLOOR Identification Building

There is maintained on the seventh floor of the Identification Building one index cabinet containing approximately 27,000 index cards relating to the Custodial Detention Index which was prepared during World War II. This index relates to those individuals in the United States, who, just prior to World War II, were considered to be a menace to the public peace and safety of the United States Government.

By memorandum from Mr. Nichols to Mr. Fletcher dated 10-11-49 (66-16304-43) it was recommended that this index be destroyed in view of the fact that it appeared to be obsolete and of no value. On 10-22-49 (66-16304-41), the Executives Conference considered the destruction of this and other material. It recommended that we include this material in the program of microfilming and that it would be most inadvisable to destroy any of the material.

By memorandum from Mr. Waikart to Mr. Nichols dated 10-5-50 (66-3286-445) it was recommended that this be reconsidered and that the Custodial Detention Index be destroyed. By memorandum from Mr. Henrich to Mr. Belmont dated 12-5-50 (66-3286-444) it was recommended that this index be retained. A routing slip attached to this memorandum indicates that these records are the only records collected in one place, of the identities of people considered under the Custodial Detention Program.

This index is not used, the information contained in the index is of no value to the Bureau today nor is it felt to be of any future value to the Bureau, and the material is occupying space and equipment which could be used to better advantage for more current material. Accordingly, in line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is recommended that the destruction of this material be reconsidered.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division and that consideration be given to the destruction of the Custodial Detention Index presently being maintained on the seventh floor of the Identification Building.

Reference is made to a memorandum from Mr. Short to Mr. Nease, 9-17-58, concerning the captioned matter.

There are maintained on the seventh floor (the "attic") of the Identification Building several cabinets of bulky exhibits which pertain to investigations conducted by the Bureau's predecessor organizations. These investigations, conducted during World War I period, are known as the Old German Files. The bulky exhibits have not been indexed. The files were indexed at one time but the cards have been withdrawn from the indices and microfilmed. The files have also been microfilmed. The only way one can get a reference to this material, while checking the indices, is to specifically request a check of the Old German Files. As a result, the Records Branch advises, these bulky exhibits are never used.

The Records Branch has recommended, unless the Domestic Intelligence Division objects, that they be permitted to review this material and destroy that which is of no value to the Bureau.

In this regard a spot check reflects that in some cases the paper in these exhibits is so fragile, because of age, that merely opening the package to examine the contents results in it shattering to bits. A spot check of six items picked at random from the cabinets reflects that in one instance there is nothing on the exhibit to indicate what file it belongs to nor what it purports to be. It appears to be the investigating agent's work papers, copies of signed statements and miscellaneous papers relating to an investigation in 1918-19 concerning the election campaign of Truman H. Newberry as Republican candidate for U. S. Senator from Michigan. Another exhibit consists of several copies of a newspaper published in 1918; another of photographs of the Theosophical Institute, and the Raja Yoga Academy taken in 1912-17; still another of eight issues of a magazine published in 1909-10-12-14; and still another consists of numerous pieces of paper, each bearing a name and address, and a scale drawing of the arrangement of a ship.

A separate memorandum concerning [redacted] five exhibits examined is attached.

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. L. E. Short to Mr. Nease dated 8-20-58 captioned as above in which it was indicated six record cabinets containing various records and tape recordings are maintained on the 7th floor of the Identification Division and the records are not frequently used. It was recommended and approved by you that these records be reviewed for the purpose of eliminating any material which is obsolete and valueless to the Bureau in line with the Records Branch Management Program designed to eliminate such material from the Bureau's records.

The records and tape recordings are indexed. The index cards set forth the name of the speaker or speakers, the time and event, as well as the size of the record, the speed at which the record should be played and the filing number for each particular record.

The index to the recordings has been reviewed by SA Malmfeldt of the Crime Records Section. Index cards to recordings dealing with lectures, speeches and other matters relating to the FBI National Academy were forwarded to the Training and Inspection Division. SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #322-59
RECORDS BRANCH STREAMLINING COMMITTEE

b6
b7C

SUGGESTION: Miss [redacted] a GS-5 employee assigned to the Classifying Unit of the Records Branch, has suggested through the Streamlining Committee that a survey be made of the mail ready for filing to determine the advisability of destroying extra copies of letters, reports, and other correspondence.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: Miss [redacted] advised that at the present time many copies of correspondence are filed and never used for dissemination or review purposes. It should be pointed out that Miss [redacted] statement of the existing procedure is not accurate in that copies of letters and teletypes are destroyed in the Checking Unit before mail is sent to file. In addition, the Bureau authorized a Copy Destruction Program which permits us to destroy copies of reports after reviewing files. This is being done with the old files first.

b7C

ADVANTAGES: She related that the primary advantage of her suggestion would be the savings realized in connection with the space problem.

DISADVANTAGES: Miss [redacted] concedes that a disadvantage would occur if it were determined at a later date that a copy of a report or other correspondence, which had been destroyed, was needed for dissemination.

b6
b7C

CONCLUSIONS: The Records Branch has surveyed mail ready for file on numerous occasions and the copies of a portion of our correspondence are destroyed before the mail is sent to file. A solution to the problem of deferred dissemination has not yet been found and accordingly, it is not possible to destroy copies of all investigative reports before the original goes to file until this problem can be resolved.

Reference is made to a memorandum from Mr. Short to Mr. Nease dated 7-24-58 concerning bulky exhibit 102-1-226 X 1.

This bulky enclosure was sent the Bureau 6-23-43 by the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) and consists of several hundred "analysis sheets" concerning the principal Bund newspapers. The analysis covers roughly the period from January, 1934, to December, 1941, and was prepared for use in denaturalization proceedings. It appears from the file that the Bureau requested this material from INS after it was learned that such a project had been started by INS. The material has not been indexed and does not serve any purpose in the Bureau files at the present time. INS has indicated that complete sets of these analysis sheets were furnished the Criminal Division of the Department, at whose request the project was undertaken, and to each of the United States Attorneys in whose districts denaturalization proceedings were to be held.

SYNOPSIS:

Photographic negatives of original Laboratory and Latent Fingerprint evidence dating back to 1932 maintained by Mechanical Section in 167 file cabinets. Less active negatives stored GAO Building in approximately 130 file cabinets. Previous destruction photographs based on preservation these negatives. Due to storage problem, policy should be formulated for destruction old negatives. Of course, destruction of these negatives would involve a calculated risk. Approval previously granted for destruction Physics and Chemistry Section photographic plates after ten years of inactivity. Old negatives referred to only on rare occasions. Recommend dating all additions to negative folders for systematic and periodic future destruction of negatives based on ten years inactivity after case closed as reflected by abstracts in Records Section. Certain exceptions should be made in major kidnaping cases, cases of national interest and cases where a life sentence was imposed.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the Mechanical Section should henceforth date all additions to the negative folders on Laboratory cases to facilitate future destruction.

3. That this list be searched by the Records Section against the abstracts for each file number listed. Notations should be placed opposite each file number listed by Records Section as to the date the investigation was closed and the date of the last activity in the file. If the case was of national interest, a major kidnaping or a life sentence was imposed, a notation as to this effect should be placed opposite the file number.

4. That this list of file numbers be routed to the substantive supervisor for his recommendation as to destruction of negatives in major kidnaping, national interest or life sentence cases as indicated on list by Records Section. After review by substantive supervisor this list should be routed to Laboratory and Latent Fingerprint Section for review of those cases the substantive supervisor recommended for destruction and the Laboratory and Latent Fingerprint Section recommendations noted on the list.

5. That when this list is received back from Records Section, substantive supervisor, Laboratory and Latent Fingerprint Section, the Mechanical Section destroy all Laboratory and Latent Fingerprint negatives on those cases where there has been no activity in the last ten years and where substantive supervisor, Laboratory and Latent Fingerprint Section have approved the destruction of negatives in the excepted cases. Where there has been activity in the past ten years a notation as to the date of the last activity should be placed on the negative folder to facilitate future review and destruction.

6. That each year the Mechanical Section destroy old negatives in Laboratory and Latent Fingerprint cases as determined by the procedure set forth above. If there is a date on the negative folder within the last ten years the negatives in that folder need not be considered for destruction that year.

7. That this memorandum be routed through the Records and Communications, Identification, Administrative, Investigative and Domestic Intelligence Divisions and Crime Records Section for their observations and be considered by the Executive Conference.

DETAILS:

Problem: Mechanical Section presently has approximately 130 file cabinets containing the less active photographic negatives which are stored in Bureau space at the GAO Building. Most negatives pertain to Laboratory and Latent Fingerprint matters and date back to 1932. No provision has been made for the reduction in volume of these negatives. It is believed that a policy for the periodic destruction of old photographic negatives should be formulated. It should be emphasized that the destruction of Laboratory photographs in the past to save storage space in the Records Section was based on the retention of these photographic negatives. Photographs of evidence in Latent Fingerprint cases are currently maintained in the case file in the Records Section. None of these have been destroyed.

Background: The great bulk of Laboratory negatives concern evidence in cases handled by the Document Section. A small portion concerns cases handled in the Physics and Chemistry and Cryptanalysis Sections. Up to eighteen months ago negatives in Latent Fingerprint cases were filed in the negative folders with Laboratory negatives when the evidence involved both Sections. For the last eighteen months negatives in Latent Fingerprint cases have been filed in the Identification Division and not in the Mechanical Section.

These negatives have accumulated for over twenty-five years. The storage space needed for negatives in the future will be considerably less than in the past since the majority of the evidence is now photographed on 35 mm and 70 mm film which requires considerably less storage space.

Memorandum to Mr. Parsons
Re: Destruction of old Photographic Negatives

In 1944 authority was granted for the destruction of photographs of evidence when Laboratory files are closed (66-3286-130). In 1946 destruction of photographs in bulky enclosures in Records Section was approved (66-3286-216). This approval was granted on condition the photographic negatives were available if needed.

It is the concensus of the Laboratory and Latent Fingerprint examiners that there would be little need to retain photographic negatives in any case where the investigation has been closed and there has been no activity for ten years with the exception of major kidnaping cases, cases of national interest or cases where a life sentence has been imposed. The substantive supervisor should make the decision as to whether the negatives should be destroyed in these cases. The recommendations of the substantive supervisors should be reviewed by the Laboratory and Latent Fingerprint Section to determine whether they agree with these recommendations.

If extensive file reviews are needed for the destruction of these negatives, it would be more economical to retain the negatives in their present state.

In 1957 approval was granted for the destruction of photographic plates over ten years old. These plates pertain to certain types of cases handled in the Physics and Chemistry Section.

Only on rare occasions in the past has there been any need to refer to negatives where there has been no activity in ten years. Recently the negatives on the Urschel Kidnaping case (1933) were referred to in connection with an appeal for new trial by Mrs. Kathryn Kelly. This is an isolated case but it is felt a calculated risk must be borne in the interest of saving space and reducing the number of file cabinets.

If the negative folders are dated each time negatives are added to the folder, the review problem in the future will be simplified. Unfortunately, the negative folders have not been dated in the past.

If the procedure outlined above is adopted, a considerable number of photographic negatives can be eliminated.

The Congressional Record is substantially a verbatim report of proceedings of the House of Representatives and Senate and related legislative matters. Because of limitation of space we maintain in Room 5525 only Congressional Records covering the last two or three months of the current session of Congress and prior Congressional Records are filed for two years on the 7th floor of Records Branch in the Identification Building. Under the existing policy Congressional Records are retained by Records Branch for two years. These records are filed in 12 cabinets of 4 drawer size which require considerable space.

Since few requests are received for Congressional Records which are over a year old and the need to conserve space, it is believed desirable only to maintain Congressional Records for current session of Congress and prior session of Congress. This in effect will mean that Records Branch will retain Congressional Records for one year, as an example, during year 1958 the Records Branch will destroy all Congressional Records prior to 1957.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Congressional Records be retained only for the current session and prior session of Congress.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF OLD PHOTOGRAPHIC NEGATIVES

Re memorandum Griffith to Parsons, 8/14/58, which proposes destruction of certain photographic negatives of Laboratory and Latent Fingerprint evidence after cases have been inactive for ten years as reflected by abstracts in Records Section. Exceptions are proposed in kidnaping cases, cases of national interest and cases involving life sentence of subject. Negatives in these cases would be referred to substantive supervisor for recommendation as to destruction.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. It is recommended that the exception to the destruction procedure be expanded to include cases handled by the Domestic Intelligence Division, so that photographic negatives in such cases cannot be destroyed without the recommendation of the substantive supervisor.

2. It is further recommended that this be forwarded to Assistant Director Parsons.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF OLD PHOTOGRAPHIC NEGATIVES

Reference is made to Mr. Griffith's memorandum to Mr. Parsons dated August 14, 1958, which recommends that the Records Branch review case file abstracts on a list of file numbers which refer to old photographic negatives maintained in the Mechanical Section. Although this will require considerable employee time it appears to be a worthwhile project which should be done.

Recommendation number three on referenced memorandum suggests that a notation be placed opposite the file number providing a case is (1) "of national interest" (2) "a major kidnapping," or (3) "a life sentence was imposed." It is doubtful whether our Numbering Unit employees, who are in grade GS-3, are in position to determine this information from the abstracts, and it is suggested that the Laboratory note this information on the folders if possible.

Considerable time can be saved on this project if the list of file numbers is furnished in numerical order, and it is requested that they be so arranged when the list is prepared.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this be furnished to the Laboratory and the Mechanical Section for information and appropriate action.

SUBJECT: INCENTIVE AWARDS
DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS - General Bureau

During the course of the recent inspection of the Administrative Division a memorandum was prepared by Inspector Malone in which reference was made to the necessity for maintaining certain index cards for an indefinite period of time.

At the time the program was inaugurated, 11/30/54, the Bureau's over-all Incentive Awards Plan was submitted and approved by the Department and in turn by the Civil Service Commission. The Commission requested that the Bureau maintain two indices reflecting pertinent information regarding employees approved for incentive awards. The first was a master card, by award, which was to be maintained on a fiscal-year basis in proper numerical order. The second index is maintained by award subject matter and is cross-indexed to the first index. These latter cards are filed according to the subject matter on which the award was based, such as performance ratings, bank robbery investigations, etc. We also maintain a third index which is kept in alphabetical order by the employees' names and from this index we can obtain the number of times an employee has received an incentive award.

Inspector Malone pointed out that with regard to the first two afore-mentioned master record indices no immediate problem existed with regard to the space necessary to maintain these indices. However, it was suggested that a space problem might arise at some time in the future and therefore when the opportunity presents itself in discussing the Incentive Awards Program with the Civil Service Commission or the Department of Justice it should be determined if the first two mentioned indices could be destroyed on a periodical basis.

Miss [redacted] in the Incentive Awards Headquarters Office at Civil Service Commission, who has been a personal contact of SA C. R. Davidson for several years, advised that under the over-all Incentive Awards Program there would be no objection whatsoever to destroying these records after two fiscal years had transpired. Therefore, all records for the 1955 and 1956 fiscal years could be destroyed.

Inasmuch as we currently maintain a complete running record of all approved incentive awards, both in a master file in the Records Section which contains authorization memo prepared for each incentive award given, and in the alphabetical indices maintained in the Commendation Unit, the maintenance of the two separate indices heretofore mentioned for over a two-year period would be of no benefit to the Bureau.

Destruction of Bureau Property

By memorandum dated 3-11-53, (66-3286-514), I recommended that consideration be given to the disposal of "Dr. Albert's Papers." Mr. Nichols stated that in view of their historic value, they should be kept.

Dr. Henrich F. Albert was the German Commercial Attache in New York City during World War I. There are many references to him in the Old German files which are now on microfilm.

It appears that during World War I, the Alien Property Custodian seized the contents of Dr. Albert's office consisting of bank statements, cancelled checks, expense accounts, personal letters to his wife in Germany, other personal correspondence and ledger and office books. Also included were personal photographs, military decorations and a strong box containing untranslated letters in German dating back to 1906. A report dated November 4, 1921, at Washington, D. C., reflects that all of this material was turned over to the Bureau by a George B. Williams, Managing Director, Alien Property Custodian's Office.

This material is not used, is occupying space and equipment which could be more advantageously used for current material and in line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is felt that the value of this material to the Bureau should be re-evaluated and consideration should be given to the disposal of this material. If disposal of the material is authorized, Archival authority will be necessary for the destruction of the material. Before we destroy the material, however, it is felt that we should determine if the Alien Property Custodian has any further interest in this material. In the event they have, the material should be returned to them.

It is noted that the book, "The FBI Story" contains some references to Dr. Albert.

RECOMMENDATION:

That consideration be given to the disposal of "Dr. Albert's Papers". If disposal is authorized, it is recommended that the Alien Property Custodian be asked by letter if they have any further interest in these papers and if they have, the material should be returned to them. If they have no further interest in the papers, the Records Branch will secure the necessary Archival authority for the destruction of this material.

ADDENDUM: 10/22/58

"Dr. Albert's Papers" are contained in approximately five or six file cabinets and largely concern German efforts (1914-1916) to prevent British and French from obtaining munitions from the United States through the means of buying up the products themselves. The value, if any, of this material would appear to be historical regarding World War I records. The Domestic Intelligence Division knows of no occasion in the recent years of referral to these records or is there a foreseeable need for reference to this material.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - genl
"Dr. Albert's Papers"

By memorandum dated 10-16-58, I recommended that consideration be given to the disposal of "Dr. Albert's Papers". As you recall, Dr. Henrich F. Albert was the German Commercial Attache in New York City during World War I, and the Alien Property Custodian seized the contents of Dr. Albert's office and turned this material over to the Bureau on 11-4-21. Referenced memorandum indicated that if disposal is authorized, that an inquiry be made of the Alien Property Custodian to see if they have any further interest in these papers prior to their disposal.

Bureau has approved the disposal of this material and in accordance with referenced memorandum, there is attached hereto a letter to the Assistant Attorney General, Office of Alien Property, Department of Justice, inquiring if they are interested in this material.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter to the Department of Justice be approved and appropriately forwarded.

SUBJECT: PURGE OF GENERAL INDICES
Bufile 66-3286

File 100-3-4-A (The Daily Worker 1-13-44) which contains approximately 2,500 names is a listing of those who congratulated The Daily Worker on its twentieth anniversary. The list of names is not in alphabetical order.

In reviewing the reference, which is attached, it is noted there is little identifying information. In many instances, there is only a first name; a last name; or a last name and first initial. In view of the limited identifying data, the Records Branch believes the names could be de-indexed and the index cards purged from the general index.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be routed to the Domestic Intelligence Division for their views to determine if serial 100-3-4-A, The Daily Worker of 1-13-44, can be de-indexed.

ADDENDUM: 10-21-58

Inasmuch as the information referred to above constitutes information of a subversive nature and in view of the fact that the names of those individuals who congratulated the "Daily Worker" are listed according to geographical location, the Domestic Intelligence Division recommends that the purge of the general indices concerning those 2500 names be confined to common names and incomplete names. It is further recommended this memorandum be referred to the Special Inquiry and ~~Government~~ Employees Security Sections of the Investigative Division as well as to the Personnel Section of the Administrative Division for their consideration and comments.

SUGGESTION

SAC LETTER NO. 58-29(F) ENCLOSED FILES - DESTRUCTION OF COPIES OF SERIALS instructs the office of origin to destroy all copies except one of each serial in the files which are over ten years old in certain security-type classifications and that the remaining copy of each serial destroyed be dated and initialed by the employee handling destruction. I suggest that the top serial only be dated and initialed by employee destroying the serial. I would not suggest the file cover itself be initialed in lieu of initialing each serial being destroyed inasmuch as the Bureau may later decide to consolidate these security files in similar manner as criminal files are now consolidated.

EXP PROC
OCT 29 1958

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

The practice now is to put the date and initial of employee destroying duplicate serial on EACH serial where duplicate is destroyed.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

This would save approximately 80% of time consumed in destroying duplicate serials where destroying office is office of origin. The serial where date and initial have been placed would indicate that all duplicate serials beyond initialed serial have been destroyed. The Birmingham Office has 5,582 security files in which approximately 4,430 are ten years old. As determined from experience, approximately 100 files can be handled per day, per employee; therefore, it would take approximately 44.3 days to destroy duplicate serials and to date and initial all duplicate serials where Birmingham is office of origin. It is noted that approximately 50% of security files in the Birmingham Office are office of origin here. Calculation shows that

Disadvantages of suggestion

None known, as all remaining copies of serials would remain in file underneath the initialed top serial, except in instances where serial may be transferred to another file for pertinent reasons. If done, then a charge-out is placed in file to show disposition of serial being removed permanently.

17.7 days could be saved in the Birmingham Office annually. Of the 53 FBI offices, 938.1 days could be saved annually and a savings of $12,582.00 based on GS-3 salary. This is a minimum estimate, as there are some very large offices, where the number of cases possibly would be 3 or 4 times greater than in the smaller offices.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-6-82 BY SP4ELW/CLC

In connection with the current copy destruction project, spot checks are being made in advance of files being processed to determine if the files contain sufficient copies to make the project fruitful. During such a check, it was discovered there are several thousand 100 classification main files which contain only one serial. This serial is a small photostat strip stapled to a piece of paper. The source of the material is from [redacted] (100-769) and the information contained therein is a number; one name with no other identifying data; and a second name and address. b7D

Although from reviewing the one serial in these main files, it cannot be determined just what the information pertains to, it was determined by a review of the [redacted] file that this serial was probably a part of a list of Prisoners of War who were corresponding with residents of the United States.

A survey was made of several of the files and it was found in most instances the only references to the individual was the main file mentioned above. In some cases, several main files as described above were found on the same individual and in other cases additional references were located in file 100-2555, which is the Prisoner of War main file. The following background was located which indicates the handling of Prisoner of War lists in the past:

1. By memorandum dated 10-29-43 from O. H. Patterson to Mr. Nichols, it was recommended and approved that Prisoner of War lists be filed unindexed, (100-2555-656).

2. By memorandum dated 11-11-43 from J. C. Strickland to Mr. Ladd, it was pointed out that a list of United States residents corresponding with enemy Prisoners of War would not have sufficient value to warrant their continued receipt from Censorship and Censorship was advised that they should no longer furnish the FBI with the list. On this memorandum, Mr. Nichols noted there was no need to keep unfiled or unrecorded lists and they can be torn up, (100-2555-657).

3. By memorandum dated 12-21-55 from Mr. Branigan to Mr. Belmont, it was approved that Prisoner of War lists could be de-indexed unless one of the following conditions existed:

1. An indication of subversive sentiment appears on the list.

2. The list has been disseminated to other Government agencies.

3. The Bureau conducted an investigation to identify correspondents.
(66-3286-703)

As a result of the above authority, the vast majority of Prisoners of War lists have been de-indexed and index cards destroyed.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. Since information contained in the above mentioned files, samples of which are attached, is of little or no value to the Bureau, it is recommended the index cards as well as the files be destroyed in line with the above mentioned policy.

2. It is recommended that this memorandum be forwarded to the Domestic Intelligence Division for their views and to determine if they concur that these files can be destroyed.

3. Archival authority will be necessary to destroy these files, and if approved, this authority will be obtained and the files destroyed.

Not necessary as original is filed in 100-769 in some cases, approval being obtained in other cases.

Reference is made to a memorandum from Mr. L. E. Short to Mr. Nease dated 10-16-58, captioned as above.

Reference memo advises that there are several thousand main files bearing a 100 classification which contain only one serial. This serial is a small Photostat strip stapled to a larger sheet of paper. The Photostat strip contains a number; a name with no identifying data; and another name with an address. Occasionally both names will have an address and occasionally there is a series of figures which appear to be a date. It is indicated that this material was received from [redacted] and referenced memo indicates that these serials probably were a part of a list of Prisoners of War who were corresponding with residents of the U. S.

b7D

Reference memo points out that Bureau policy was that Prisoner of War lists may be filed unindexed (10-29-43); that unfiled or unrecorded lists of U. S. residents who corresponded with enemy Prisoners of War could be torn up (11-11-43); and, unless there was an indication of (1) subversive sentiment appearing on the list, (2) list had been disseminated to other Government agencies, or (3) Bureau had conducted investigation to identify correspondents, that Prisoner of War lists could be de-indexed (12-21-55).

Reference memo also states that a search of the indices was made concerning the subject of several of the files in question and it was noted that in most instances the only reference to the individual was the file involved. In some cases, several files of this type on the same individual were located, and in some cases references were located in file 100-2555, which is the Prisoner of War main file.

66-3286-810

EX-124 REC-85

Reference memo recommends that these files be destroyed, and has been referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division for the Division's views. Archival authority will be necessary to destroy these files. Reference memo states that if approval to destroy these files is given, the necessary authority will be obtained and the files destroyed.

While collectively these files may make up a list or lists of Prisoners of War and their correspondents in the U. S., individually, as they now stand, they have no source indicated other than [redacted] Any of these files which might be referred to in an indices search would be of no value to the reviewer since there is nothing to indicate the nature of the information contained therein and no source, other than [redacted] The mere fact that a Prisoner of War wrote to a resident of the U. S., or that a resident of the U. S. received a letter from a Prisoner of War is of no particular value without the contents of such letters being available.

There would seem to be two possible courses of action to take with regard to these files. One such course would be to actually determine the exact source of each of the Photostat strips in these files and place this information in each individual file. This action, of course, would be prohibitively expensive in view of the number of files involved and that even if such action were taken the information in the files would be of little, if indeed any, value to the Bureau, especially since other lists of apparent similar nature have been de-indexed or destroyed. The second possible course of action would be to destroy both the index cards and the files as recommended in reference memo.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the above, it is recommended that the files, samples of which are attached, referred to in the reference memo, be destroyed.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF "NO RECORD" LOYALTY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES AND SECURITY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES FORMS

As indicated on the enclosed copy of Departmental memorandum of October 27, 1958, Records and Communications Division is considering destruction of approximately 7,500,000 copies of Name Check Forms (Standard Forms 85 and 86) which have been retained by the Bureau after the Civil Service Commission (CSC) has been advised that no derogatory data was found in each instance. On October 29, 1958, Records and Communications Division requested that CSC be contacted by Liaison, in line with the desire of the Department, to solicit CSC's views regarding the proposed destruction and our proposal not to retain copies of these forms submitted by CSC in the future. The Department also pointed out that CSC may wish to make administrative adjustments including revision of the number of copies submitted to the Bureau in the future.

On October 29, 1958, this matter was taken up with Mr. [redacted] of CSC who in turn discussed it with his superior, Mr. Kimbell Johnson, chief of Investigations Division at CSC. Mr. [redacted] stated that CSC would have no objection to our destruction of the accumulated forms and to the initiation by us of the practice of not retaining copies of future copies. He said that some years back when the loyalty program started, CSC began the practice of submitting two copies of the forms for name check purposes at our request in order that the Bureau could retain a copy in its files. [redacted] said that in the event the Bureau goes through with the idea of disposing of the forms on hand and of not retaining a copy in the future, CSC will take steps to issue instructions to agencies in the Executive Branch to reduce the number of copies of these forms. He said that CSC will not take any action in this matter until it is informed by letter of the Bureau's final decision.

[redacted] further stated that in the case of standard Form 85 (covering nonsensitive positions in Executive Branch) the forms are made out in quadruplet in a fan-fold arrangement by each Executive Agency. The signed original is retained by the employing agency in the event it is needed for prosecutive purposes arising from fraud. The copy which is returned by the Bureau to CSC with our stamp indicating no derogatory data found is kept in the CSC file. If nothing is developed by CSC concerning the individual of material significance on loyalty or suitability, the file is destroyed by the CSC Regional Office after 90 days. However, a record is maintained in the Security Investigations Division of CSC at Washington showing what name checks were made. This card is destroyed after 10 years. If anything of material significance from any source is developed in any of these nonsensitive cases, the file is never destroyed. In every instance, a copy of the Name Check Form is sent back by CSC to the employing agency with an endorsement showing what checks were made by CSC and this becomes a permanent part of the person's personnel folder. b6 b7C

Standard Form 86, according to [redacted] is used regarding persons holding sensitive positions and the same number of copies is originally made up by the employing agency. The copy used for requesting the Bureau name check is retained by CSC in the investigative file at Washington and it is never destroyed. A copy of the Form 86 is sent back to the agency with endorsements by CSC showing what name checks were made. This is retained in the permanent personnel folder on the individual.

ACTION: This memorandum should be routed to the Records and Communications Division, Records Branch, for its information.

PERJURY; IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. Short to Mr. Nease dated 10-20-58 requesting that bulky exhibit file number 61-7594-40 be reviewed for determination as to disposition or retention. This bulky exhibit has been reviewed and consists of Photostats from magazines and newspapers, some of which are in the German language and some in English, which were furnished Bureau in 1939. The translations appear in report form to show how closely U.S.-German publications followed propaganda material published in Germany. Fritz Kuhn, according to masthead of newspaper, assumed full responsibility for statements appearing therein.

This case is closed as it is of no further investigative interest to Bureau. The bulky exhibit is of no present value.

SUBJECT: SURVEY OF CHINESE COMMUNIST ACTIVITIES IN THE UNITED STATES IS - CH

Re memo Short to Nease dated 10/6/58 entitled "Communist Party - China" concerning bulky exhibit file number 64-200-246-401. This bulky exhibit consists of Photostats of a large pamphlet. This pamphlet which was returned to its source was originally obtained 5/21/51 by the San Francisco Office from a confidential informant. It had been received by the "Chinese Nationalist Daily," San Francisco, California, during week of 5/14/51 from an undisclosed source on Formosa. A Photostat of the pamphlet was made and forwarded to the Bureau where a translation of the Chinese characters appearing therein was obtained. The translation disclosed the pamphlet consisted of a series of charts showing the organizational structure of the Chinese Communist Government, Party and Army. Bufiles reveal that Photostats of the pamphlet were disseminated to interest Government agencies and that small size copies are actually available in Bufile 100-40-167.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the availability of copies in Bufiles, it is recommended that this bulky exhibit be destroyed.

SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES

Re memo 10-20-58 from Mr. Short to Mr. Nease requesting a review of bulky exhibit 61-7602-192 for a determination as to the retention or disposition of the material contained therein.

This exhibit contains five Photostats each of the first four issues of the "Blackshirt" dated February, March, April 7 and May, 1939, at New York City; five Photostats of a circular captioned "Portrait of a Leader"; and five Photostats of a circular bearing the name "American Fascists (Incorporated)." This material was voluntarily furnished to the New York Office by Paul Castorina on 10-26-39. Castorina described himself as the one real Fascist in the U. S. He was the national leader of the American Fascists, Incorporated, and editor of its publication, "Blackshirt."

The March, 1939, issue carried the "Blackshirt's Policy" on its editorial page. This policy is quoted on page 3 of the report of SA George J. Starr dated 11-1-39 at New York City under the above caption. The material in the exhibit contains no indexing whatsoever and appears to be of no further value to the Bureau.

Reference is made to my memorandum to the Attorney General dated September 15, 1958, and to your memorandum in response dated October 27, 1958, concerning the captioned matter.

Representatives of the Civil Service Commission have no objection to the destruction of copies of these forms retained by the FBI. They point out that the Civil Service Commission keeps copies of these same forms for varying periods of time while the employing agency keeps a copy as a permanent part of the person's personnel folder with appropriate endorsements on the copy indicating what checks were made. Also, as surmised by you, the representatives of the Civil Service Commission stated that when and if the FBI destroys copies in its possession, they will make certain administrative changes such as reducing the number of copies of the form when originally prepared.

It is hoped that this information will facilitate a favorable decision by the Department at the earliest opportunity on the destruction of the copies in the possession of this Bureau.

Destruction of Bureau Property

Reference is made to your memorandum to the Attorney General of September 15 last proposing destruction of approximately 7,500,000 copies of Loyalty of Government Employees and Security of Government Employees forms, parenthetically identified as Standard Forms 85 or 86, presently maintained by the Bureau. You also advise that your Bureau does not propose to retain a copy of future submissions of said forms.

It is to be noted the stated forms, as well as the related but discontinued Standard Form 84, were promulgated by the Civil Service Commission in implementation of Executive Order Nos. 9835 and 10450. Accordingly, pending further consideration it would be appreciated if the Bureau would solicit the views of the Commission regarding the proposed destruction and your proposal not to retain copies of future submissions. As to the latter the Commission may wish to revise the number of copies called for in the instructions on the 85 and 86 or possibly make other administrative adjustments.

The Liaison Agent, Joseph M. Fitzgerald, advised that in a conversation with Mr. Robert F. Keller, General Counsel of the General Accounting Office, (GAO) on 11-5-58, Keller stated that GAO would like very much to be able to destroy rather than return FBI applicant-type reports in GAO's possession on GAO personnel that have died, retired, or otherwise left GAO. Keller wondered if the Bureau would write a letter to the Comptroller General, Attention Mr. T. A. Flynn, giving GAO the authority to destroy such FBI reports in the future when they have been determined to be of no further use to GAO.

It is the current practice for GAO to return to the Bureau copies of FBI reports we have previously disseminated to them after the need no longer exists in their agency for the retention of these reports. The Records Branch is authorized to destroy, when received, copies of Bureau reports returned to the Bureau by agencies to whom we previously disseminated the reports. Proper notations reflecting return and destruction of copies of reports disseminated are made on the original of each report (66-2435-2094).

When similar inquiries have been received in the past, it has been the determination of the Bureau that the Bureau would rather have the respective agency destroy the reports by burning instead of returning same. Through Liaison, some of the larger agencies (such as Army, Navy, and Air Force) have been informed that it is not necessary to return these reports provided they are destroyed in accordance with the provisions of Executive Order 10501. This order provides that Defense Information marked "Top Secret," "Secret," or "Confidential," shall be destroyed by burning or an equally complete method of destruction, and that a record of the destruction shall be maintained by the destroying agency.

Reference is made to memorandum dated November 13, 1958, entitled "Destruction of FBI Applicant-type Reports by the General Accounting Office," in which you were advised that this Bureau interposes no objection to the destruction of FBI applicant-type reports furnished to you which you have determined to be of no further use to your agency provided the destruction is carried out in accordance with the provisions of Executive Order 10501. Provided the method of destruction outlined in paragraph one is followed, this Bureau has no objection to the destruction of any FBI reports which the General Accounting Office finds are of no further use.

Note on Yellow:

Destruction of FBI applicant-type reports by the General Accounting Office (GAO) was authorized on the basis of memorandum Eames to Nease dated November 10, 1958. Previously GAO had followed the practice of returning these reports to us after the employee's connection with GAO was terminated. Current authorization to GAO to destroy all types of Bureau reports found to be of no further use is in line with previous policy whereby the Bureau has authorized other agencies to destroy our reports rather than return them. This matter was discussed with the Records Section, Records and Communications Division, prior to the preparation of instant memorandum.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #584-59
SUBMITTED BY MR. [redacted]
BIRMINGHAM DIVISION Destruction of Bureau Property

PRESENT PROCEDURE: SAC Letter 58-29(F) dated 5/6/58 instructed that the office of origin may destroy all copies except one of each serial in files which are over 10 years old in the following security-type classifications: Espionage (65); Internal Security and Security Matter (100); and Internal Security - Nationalistic Tendency (105). Referenced SAC Letter pointed out that files in these categories were not to be consolidated. When copies of serials were destroyed, employee must place date of destruction and his initials on each serial of which copies have been destroyed.

SUGGESTION: That the original of each serial not be dated and initialed when the copies are destroyed but that the date of destruction and the employee's initials be placed on the top serial only in the file.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Suggester stated that suggetion would save 80% of time now consumed in destroying the serials. Initials and date placed on top serial in file would indicate that all duplicate serials beyond initialed serial have been destroyed. Suggester calculated savings of this suggestion at $12,582.00 annually on field-wide basis.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC C. M. Kelley, Birmingham, recommended suggestion be adopted as it appears to have merit.

Similar suggestion submitted by SAC, Los Angeles 7/2/58 (Bureau file 66-16306-1310) which was not adopted per Bureau letter to SAC, Los Angeles 7/9/58. Suggestion was that authority be granted to stamp and initial the inside file cover "Duplicate Serials Removed." Authority to stamp file cover not granted as Executives Conference on 4/28/58 specifically recommended the requirement that date of destruction and initials of employee destroying copies be placed on each serial when copies are destroyed.

Training and Inspection Division has considered the suggestion of Mr. [redacted] and his savings claim. It is believed that his estimate of annual savings is grossly exaggerated. The employee destroying the serials must handle each individual serial in the file to be destroyed and it only takes a few seconds to affix his initials and date of

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU TRIPLICATE MATERIAL

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. Short to Mr. Nease dated 10-8-58 requesting that bulky exhibit file number 100-25208-1394 be reviewed for a determination as to disposition or retention. This bulky exhibit has been reviewed and consists of a mimeograph copy of the official transcript of American Military Tribunal at Nurnberg, Germany, in the matter of the "United States of America against Ernst von Weizsaecker, et al." This Tribunal started handing down its decision in April, 1949. This material was furnished to the Bureau by Dr. Robert M. W. Kempner, a former employee of the Philadelphia Office who was then the Deputy Chief of Counsel for War Crimes, Nurnberg, Germany. The decision reflects the judgment of the Tribunal and the names of the defendants and their sentences have been incorporated in a Bureau memorandum and the names have been indexed. There has been no indexing in the transcript of the proceedings which make up the bulky exhibit.

RECOMMENDATION:

This mimeograph of the transcript of the proceedings in this case is of no present value to the Bureau. If we ever had occasion to refer to the records of these proceedings we could always check the original documents in possession of the military. It is recommended that this bulky exhibit be destroyed.

RECORDS BRANCH STREAMLINING COMMITTEE

SUGGESTION: Mrs. [redacted] a GS-6 employee assigned to the Consolidation Unit of the Records Branch, has suggested through the Streamlining Committee that employees assigned to the Consolidation Unit be permitted to destroy all copies of field office reports, blocked enclosures, letterhead memoranda from field offices and outgoing yellows during the course of the regular work when the material is either five or ten years old.

CONCLUSIONS: The Records Branch currently has a copy destruction program in operation. This program is destroying excess copies of communications in Bureau files. The destruction of these copies is controlled in one unit within the Records Branch and it is believed that we should not extend this copy destruction program to other units within the Records Branch.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

I have received your letter of December 9, 1958, in which you request continuing authority to destroy your copies of FBI investigative reports on employees of, and unsuccessful applicants to, the International Cooperation Administration. You point out that the destruction would be accomplished under the provisions of Executive Order 10501.

NOTE: This reply follows the requirements of Executive Order 10501 and is in accordance with Bureau policy on such requests as shown in the letter of November 13, 1958, from the Director to the Comptroller General of the U. S. authorizing the latter official to destroy copies of FBI reports in the same manner as indicated in the current outgoing. Bufile 66-3286-811. It should also be noted that during the time these reports are deposited in the Federal Records Center they will be granted the security required by their classification.

INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION

Washington 25, D. C.

December 9, 1958

Honorable J. Edgar Hoover, Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Department of Justice
Washington 25, D.C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

ICA is planning to retire to the Federal Records Center security investigation folders of ICA employees and folders of unsuccessfull applicants who have not been employed by ICA for the past four years. Each year in the future we plan to retire another group of folders on the same basis. We also plan to seek authority under provisions of the Records Disposal Act of 1943 to permit destruction of those records 10 years after employees have separated from ICA or, in effect, 6 years after the folders have been placed in GSA storage.

Included in these folders are copies of FBI investigative reports. As your organization has the originals of these reports we request continuing authority to destroy our copies under provisions of Executive Order 10501 on the same basis as the rest of the material in these folders. This will make it possible to dispose of complete folders rather than piecemeal destruction of folders.

Sincerely yours,

Charles N. Keating
Director
Office of Personnel, Security and Integrity

Reference is made to conversation between Mr. [redacted] of the Commission and Mr. Joseph M. Fitzgerald of this Bureau on October 29, 1958, concerning the proposed destruction of Standard Forms 85 and 86 (Security Investigative Data for Nonsensitive and Sensitive Positions) presently being maintained by the Bureau. At that time, Mr. [redacted] stated that the Commission had no objection to the destruction of these forms. Further, it was indicated that in the event the Bureau received approval to dispose of the forms, the Commission would take the necessary steps to issue instructions to Agencies in the Executive Branch of the Government to reduce the number of copies submitted.

Approval has now been received for the disposal of these forms. Accordingly, it is requested that the Commission take the necessary steps to reduce by one the number of copies of Standard Forms 85 and 86 submitted to this Bureau for necessary action.

DESTRUCTION OF "NO RECORD"
LOYALTY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES AND SECURITY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES FORMS
Destruction of Bureau Property

By memorandum dated 11-25-58, the Attorney General approved the destruction of Standard Forms 85 and 86 ("No Record" Loyalty of Government Employees and Security of Government Employees forms) maintained in the Records Branch. By memorandum dated 12-2-58, I transmitted to the Department the necessary forms for the purpose of securing Archival authority for the destruction of this material.

There is attached hereto a memorandum to all Bureau Officials and Supervisors setting forth this information and advising that it will no longer be possible to conduct a search of the "No Record" Loyalty of Government Employees and Security of Government Employees forms.

As a result of the disposal of this material, in the future it will only be necessary for the Civil Service Commission (CSC) to submit one copy of these forms to the Bureau for name check purposes instead of the two copies presently being submitted. The Liaison Section has discussed this matter previously with a representative of the CSC who advised that in the event the Bureau received authority to dispose of the forms on hand and of not retaining a copy in the future, CSC would take steps to issue instructions to Agencies in the Executive Branch of the Government to reduce the number of copies of these forms. He indicated that CSC would not take any action in this matter until it is informed by letter of the Bureau's final decision.

There is attached hereto a proposed letter to CSC confirming the previous discussion with them, advising of the Bureau's action in this matter and requesting them to issue the necessary instructions to reduce the number of copies of these forms submitted to the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the attached memorandum to Bureau Officials and Supervisors be approved. (Appropriate changes for Supervisors' Manual attached.)

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DEINDEXING OF THE NAMES OF OFFICIAL REPRESENTATIVES FOR THE PROGRAM OF EMERGENCY AID TO CHINESE STUDENTS

Destruction of Bureau Property

Re memorandum Short to Nease November 21, 1958.

General

Re memorandum recommended Domestic Intelligence consider deindexing lists (33 pages, 493 names) of officials for administering Program of Emergency Aid to Chinese Students.

This is a list of official college representatives on various college campuses throughout the U. S. In most institutions these men were the foreign student advisors and in many of the larger institutions the field had already contacted them at the time the list was received at the Bureau in 1950.

List furnished as enclosure to Washington Field Office letter to Bureau December 22, 1950. List not furnished field but retained SOG for supervising security cases involving Chinese students.

List now thoroughly outdated. By now many of the individuals listed have advanced academically or have transferred to other schools or private industry. Even if the list was current, we no longer have a substantial Chinese student population. Those Chinese who were students in 1950 have for the most part completed their studies and have returned to China or Formosa; are now assimilated into U.S. private industry or are now themselves on the faculties of institutions of learning and field offices have established sources in most universities and colleges. This list no longer of assistance for SOG supervision.

RECOMMENDATION:

Deindex list and destroy.

SUBJECT: UNKNOWN SUBJECTS;

ILLINOIS PRIMARY ELECTION,

ELECTION LAWS

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

The exhibits in this matter consist of Photostats of statements of votes in the primary election in Precinct #12, East St. Louis, Illinois, and Photostats of tally sheets from Precinct #12, East St. Louis, Illinois, for the primary election 4-13-48.

Fourteen individuals were indicted for violations of Sections 51 and 52 of Title 18 (now Sections 241 and 242 of Title 18) in that illegal ballots had been cast and registration cards were found to have been falsified. The indictment was returned on 5-6-49. On 4-19-50 the county clerk, who was supervisor of the county election machinery entered a plea of nolo contendere on each of three indictments and the counts as to all other defendants were dismissed. The Department by memorandum of 4-20-51 advised that no further action would be taken in this case at that time.

In view of the fact that prosecution in this matter has been completed and as the statute of limitations would be a bar to any further action in this case and, further, inasmuch as the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois did, in 1950, confirm a decision of the court of appeals removing certain officials from office, the election judges and the election clerks, it is recommended that the Photostats be destroyed.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF OLD PHOTOGRAPHIC NEGATIVES

My memorandum dated 8/14/58, advised of a storage problem in the Photographic Laboratory and recommended that photographic negatives of original Laboratory and Latent Fingerprint evidence be considered for destruction after ten years of inactivity. Domestic Intelligence, Administrative, Records and Communications, Investigative and Identification Divisions have reviewed the 8/14/58, memorandum and are generally in agreement.

It was recommended with certain exceptions that all negatives be destroyed without further supervisory review after ten years inactivity, based on review of abstracts by Records Section employees. Cases of national interest, major kidnaping or those in which life sentences imposed were excepted. Such files would be reviewed by substantive supervisors and Latent Fingerprint and/or Laboratory personnel for decision regarding destruction.

Domestic Intelligence memorandum (Mr. Branigan to Mr. Belmont, 8/29/58) recommended all Domestic Intelligence cases be subject to supervisory reviews prior to destruction of negatives. Records Section memorandum (Mr. Eames to Mr. Nease, 9/5/58) requested the "exception" cases be specifically marked by Photographic Laboratory for benefit of clerical personnel reviewing abstracts.

For this plan to be workable the recommendations regarding the "exception" cases, subject to supervisory review, must be refined. The "exception" cases must be identifiable by classification rather than by individual case.

Memorandum to Mr. Parsons
Re: Destruction of Old Photographic Negatives

Supervisor D. J. Dalbey, Inspection and Training Division, has surveyed U. S. Code book regarding federal crimes penalty for which may be life imprisonment. Such crimes within Bureau jurisdiction plus all Domestic Intelligence Division cases should provide necessary supervisory review of important cases (see list attached).

RECOMMENDATION: That lists of photographic negative file numbers of cases ten years old or older be sent by Photographic Laboratory to Records Section for review of abstracts. If no activity in ten years, files on "exception" cases should then be forwarded to the substantive supervisor and thereafter to Latent Fingerprint or Laboratory supervisors for review regarding destruction of negatives. Negatives of "non-exception" cases will be destroyed automatically by Photographic Laboratory if Records Section advises there was no activity in past ten years.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #727-59
RECORDS BRANCH STREAMLINING COMMITTEE
Made by Mrs. [redacted] Personnel Records Unit
Destruction of Bureau Property

Comments of Administrative Division have been requested on suggestion that field personnel files be destroyed immediately after field employee, either clerk or agent, has been transferred to Seat of Government (SOG). Prior to destruction, pertinent information not in SOG personnel file would be removed for filing in SOG file. Two alternate suggestions were made: (1) that only clerical field files be so destroyed or (2) that field file be placed in SOG personnel file as one unit rather than being filed separately in Personnel Records Branch.

PRESENT PROCEDURE:

Field personnel files on employees transferred to SOG are permanently retained in Personnel Records Branch. Separate set of cabinets are used to house these files. In addition, field files on employees who have resigned are retained for 30 days; thereafter, files of separated field employees are destroyed after pertinent material not found in SOG file is removed and filed in SOG file. If former field employee assigned at SOG is returned to field, his field file is sent to new office and letter summarizing his services at SOG is also forwarded to field.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-5-82 BY SP4CLW

COMMENTS OF ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISION:

It is desirable for SACs to possess complete resume of an agent's background in order for SAC to determine best assignment for agent. Field files contain copies of performance ratings which include narrative comments which describe type of cases agent handled in past, and other related material. In the event these files were destroyed, it would be necessary for SOG to summarize this information for SAC. It is felt that it would be more economical to retain file than to make lengthy summaries from SOG personnel file since there are only about 475 agents files retained, including field files of SACs.

NOT RECORDED
REC- 10 66-32867-816
JAN 9 1959

On other hand, an SAC seldom needs to know background of clerical employee since employee is transferred to field to handle a specific assignment such as typing, stenographic or clerical duties. It is felt that field files of clerical employees can be immediately destroyed after such employees are transferred to SOG. There are very few clerical employees transferred to field so that no great problem would be encountered in preparing the summary of employee's prior record such as EOD date, salaries, censures, commendations, etc.

THREE

It is not felt that Records Branch would experience any benefits by filing field file and SOG file as one unit since this would require the same amount of filing space and SOG files would merely be bulkier.

RECOMMENDATION OF ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISION:

That Records Branch suggestion be adopted with following modifications:

1. That field files of agents transferred to SOG be permanently retained until they are transferred back to field.

2. That field files on clerical employees transferred to SOG be destroyed immediately after receipt in Bureau. Files should only be destroyed after pertinent material is removed for inclusion in SOG file.

SUGGESTION: Mrs. [redacted] a GS-4 employee assigned to the General Index Unit of the Records Branch, submitted two separate suggestions to the Streamlining Committee suggesting certain changes in the handling of Navy Department Form F-103 (Notification of Return of Deserter to Military Custody). (1) She suggested that form F-103 be searched in the general indices of the Records Branch prior to being indexed. She suggested that if a main ident deserter file is found pertaining to any of the names contained on F-103 that the name not be indexed. She further suggested that the F-103 be destroyed by the Deserter Desk if there are no names indexed on it. She noted that if there is no indexing the form will not receive a serial number, and accordingly, will be of no use in future file reviews. (2) She also suggested that all sections of the file 42-0 (Deserters - General) be reviewed and all names that are indexed on the F-103 be purged if a main ident deserter file is found on the individual. Accordingly, she suggested that after purging the names on these forms that the forms be destroyed if there is no indexing remaining.

ADVANTAGES: Employee advised that the adoption of her suggestion would eliminate the indexing of approximately 80 percent of the names contained on form F-103. Her suggestion would also save some time in conducting searches of the indices. The suggestion would eliminate some cards in the index and through the destruction of old material would save some valuable space.

CONCLUSIONS: Form F-103 is received by the Bureau to notify the Bureau of the return to military custody of a deserter. The form is searched through the deserter index in the Investigative Division. The Investigative Division maintains index cards on all deserters for a period of 30 days after their date of apprehension. If a card is found in the deserter index which is identical with a name listed on F-103 the Investigative Division places a notation beside the name indicating the date that the case was closed. On those individuals where a card is not found the Investigative Division places a notation beside the name "NRDI" indicating no record deserter index. These forms are thereafter forwarded to the Records Branch where they are processed and all names bearing the notation "NRDI" are indexed indicating that an index card is prepared and the form is filed in 42-0. The Records Branch conducted a survey and determined that 59.6 percent of the names indexed on form F-103 also had a main 42 file. Thus, on many individuals we currently have a main 42 file and also an index card reflecting a reference to 42-0. This matter was discussed with the Investigative Division and the only disadvantage noted to the suggestion would be the rare possibility of a request for investigation being received from the Navy Department subsequent to the date of the receipt of the F-103 in the Bureau. This would arise when the request for Bureau assistance was delayed through processing of the various forms through Navy channels and the request for investigation did not clear the Navy Department until after the individual had been apprehended. The Investigative Division advised that they maintain an index card in their index for a period of 60 days on any individual who has been apprehended and the Bureau has not received a request for assistance. These cards would enable the Deserter Index to determine that an individual had been apprehended if a request for investigation was requested subsequently. The second objection would arise in cases of habitual deserters. It is possible that a main 42 file would be in existance on an individual, however, he may subsequently desert and be apprehended by military authorities prior to the Bureau's assistance being requested. If this situation existed we would have no information in our files to indicate that the individual deserted other than the desertion contained in his main file; however, this information would be obtained in any subsequent Bureau investigation from the individuals service file. The Records Branch considers the suggestion worth while, and if the Investigative Division concurs, necessary action will be taken to have the names listed on the F-103 searched through the general indices prior to being processed through the Records Branch and index cards prepared.

With regard to Mrs. [redacted] suggestion concerning the purging of old index cards and destroying F-103's which do not have indexing, the purging of the 42-0 cards on which there is a main file will be handled in connection with the general rehabilitation of the Records Branch indices at some future date when employees can be assigned to this type of work. Regarding the destroying of F-103, it is noted that this is the only notification which the Bureau receives from the Navy Department indicating that a deserter has been returned to military custody. The Investigative Division should comment concerning the destruction of these forms which do not have indexing.

b7C

SAVINGS: The adoption of the afore-mentioned suggestion will undoubtedly result in some monetary savings within the Records Branch. If the suggestion is approved and adopted, a separate memorandum will be submitted with appropriate recommendations concerning any incentive award.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. For referral to the Investigative Division for their review and comments. Rcvd 10-30-58

2. For referral to the Training and Inspection Division for appropriate acknowledgment.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #504-59
RECORDS BRANCH STREAMLINING COMMITTEE
Destruction of Property

Reference is made to my memorandum dated October 27, 1958, captioned as above. Referenced memorandum set forth two suggestions of Mrs. [redacted], a GS-4 employee assigned to the General Index Unit of the Records Branch. Mrs. [redacted] suggestions concerned the handling of Navy Department form F-103, "Notification of Return of Deserter to Military Custody." The Records Branch favored Mrs. [redacted] suggestions and the views of the Investigative Division were requested. The Investigative Division had no objections to the suggestions and recommended the adoption of both suggestions. b6 b7C

A survey was conducted within the Records Branch and it was determined that the adoption of Mrs. [redacted] suggestions will eliminate the preparation of 305 index cards during one year. It has previously been determined that the cost of preparing and filing an index card is $.1914. Accordingly, the suggestion will result, through the elimination of these index cards, in a savings of $58.38 during the first year. b6 b7C

It is noted that the adoption of Mrs. [redacted] suggestion will create an additional expense in the Name Check Unit through searching certain names to determine if a main identical file is in existence on the individuals concerned. However, these expenses will be negligible and offset by the space saved and through the savings which will result in eliminating the filing of certain of these forms. These additional expenses will also be offset through a more efficient operation and more efficient utilization of the general indices of the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Mrs. [redacted] be granted a cash award of $10 based on the savings of $58.38 during the first year.

SUGGESTION: Mrs. [redacted] suggested that Navy Department Form F-103 (Notification of Return of Deserter to Military Custody) be searched in the Bureau's general indices prior to being indexed; if a main deserter file is found, the name should not be indexed and the Deserter Desk of Investigative Division should destroy such a form when no longer needed. She also suggested that all sections of the 42-0 file (Deserters - General) be reviewed and all names that are indexed on the F-103 forms previously received, be purged if we have a main deserter file on the individual. After purging such names, the forms could be destroyed if no indexing remains.

ADVANTAGES STATED: Mrs. [redacted] stated that the adoption of her suggestion would eliminate the indexing of approximately 80% of the names appearing on Navy Form F-103 received at the Bureau and would also save some time in conducting searches of the indices. It would eliminate some index cards in the index and would save space through the destruction of old forms now in file.

OBSERVATIONS: The Investigative Division recommends adoption of both parts of the suggestion, as does the Records Branch.

A survey was conducted within the Records Branch and it was determined that the adoption of Mrs. [redacted] suggestion will eliminate the preparation of 305 index cards during one year. It has previously been determined that the cost of preparing and filing an index card is $.1914. SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #791-59
RECORDS BRANCH STREAMLINING COMMITTEE
Destruction of Bureau Property

Our views have been requested by Training and Inspection Division concerning a suggestion made by [redacted] Personnel Records Unit, Records Branch. She suggests that all mail received from field offices captioned (1) Field Eligibility List, (2) Stenographic Needs, and (3) Clerical Needs, be kept in the Administrative Division until its purpose has been served and that it then be destroyed. She advised that yellow file copies of letters acknowledging these items could still be filed. She estimates this would save processing and filing about 5500 pieces of mail a year and save space and the necessity to prepare some autostats. The present procedure is to file such mail in the field office general administrative file of the submitting office and placing a copy in the personnel file of each employee mentioned. She advised that it would be disadvantageous for the Administrative Division to retain such mail until it had served its purpose.

It would be most disadvantageous for the Administrative Division to retain such mail until its purpose has been served. When the Placement Office and Applicant Recruitment Unit respectively evaluate a field office's request for authority to recruit or hire someone from its clerical eligibility list it frequently becomes necessary to compare it current staffing needs with staffing factors existing a year ago. For example, applicant briefs must contain a paragraph to justify hiring a named individual and in preparing such paragraph must refer to prior correspondence some times dating back as far as a year. The same need applies for the Placement Office in preparing memoranda recommending authority be granted the field office to recruit a candidate. There are times when these two units must show efforts made to keep an office sufficiently staffed and to also show what recommendations SACs have made in the same respect, requiring reference to prior correspondence as far back as a year. Also these two units do not have the space or staff to maintain 5500 pieces of mail a year and Mrs. [redacted] suggestion in effect would be to transfer the filing function and for the Administrative Division to act as custodian of records. Mrs. [redacted] was apprised of these facts 1/7/59. She now agrees that such mail should be filed. Although her suggestion does not mention this, she explained that her suggestion was confined solely to the 53 field office general administrative files and was not intended to pertain to individual applicant or personnel files.

It was suggested to Mrs. [redacted] as an alternate solution to save space and time to record such mail that it be purged from the field office general administrative files after its obsolescence one year from its date. She stated that it is more economical to purge unrecorded than recorded mail. The question of recording or not recording the three categories has been discussed between the Placement Office and the Applicant Recruitment Unit. We are agreeable to have such mail not be recorded for a 60-day trial experiment to see if there are any difficulties encountered. If we find no serious difficulties arise, a recommendation will be made that such mail continue to be sent by the Routing Unit directly to the Placement Office and Applicant Recruitment Unit without being recorded and be purged after it becomes one year old.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. - That the suggestion made by Mrs. [redacted] not be adopted.

2. - That for the next 60 days mail captioned (1) Field Eligibility List, (2) Stenographic Needs, and (3) Clerical Needs, not be recorded and be sent directly to Administrative Division Front Office by Routing Unit. The situation will be re-evaluated after 60 days.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #791-59
RECORDS BRANCH STREAMLINING COMMITTEE
Destruction of Bureau Property

SUGGESTION: Mrs. [redacted] a GS-8 employee assigned to the Personnel Records Unit of the Records Branch has suggested through the Streamlining Committee that mail received from field offices captioned; (1) Field Eligibility List, (2) Stenographic Needs, and (3) Clerical Needs, be retained at the Administrative Division until the mail has served its purpose and then be destroyed. Copies of yellow outgoing designated for either Applicant or Out-of-Service personnel files could be sent to the Personnel Records Unit of the Records Branch for appropriate filing if necessary.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: Any mail received captioned as above is filed in the field office file of the field office submitting same and a copy is prepared and placed in the personnel file of each individual employee mentioned.

ADVANTAGES: Mrs. [redacted] advised that the adoption of her suggestion would save processing and filing of approximately 5500 pieces of mail per year. The adoption of the suggestion would also save some space in the file cabinets. It is also noted that many times it is necessary to prepare autostat copies of mail captioned as above for filing in the individual files. This would be an additional expense which could be eliminated.

b6
b7C

DISADVANTAGES: Mrs. [redacted] advised that a disadvantage to her suggestion would be the necessity of the Administrative Division retaining the mail until it had served its purpose.

CONCLUSIONS: The Records Branch favors adoption of the suggestion based on the savings in processing and filing mail which would result. The views of the Administrative Division should be obtained.

SUGGESTION: That all field office inspection files over five years old be reviewed for the purpose of purging administrative memoranda contained herein. Suggester cited as examples of administrative memoranda physical maintenance of the office, condition and maintenance of firearms, automobiles and other supplies, pending work, errors of form, dictation ability of Special Agents and numerous other headings as set out in individual inspections. Suggested as an alternative that all inspection reports over ten years old be destroyed. If necessary the summaries of the reports could be retained.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: At the present time the only material in the field office inspection files which is destroyed are inspection write-ups. These are destroyed after a period of five years.

ADVANTAGES: Mrs. [redacted] advised that the adoption of her suggestion would save considerable space in the Personnel Records Unit.

OBSERVATIONS: The Records Branch believes that the material cited by Mrs. [redacted] could be destroyed after a period of five years and after a period of ten years all inspection reports could be destroyed. In destroying the entire inspection report, the summary of the inspection could be retained. Authority was previously given the Records Branch to destroy inspection write-ups by memorandum dated May 26, 1958, (66-818-4545 & 4546). SUBJECT: DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
REQUEST REGARDING DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU REPORTS AND MEMORANDA

On January 14, 1959, while discussing other matters with Liaison Agent Fields, Mr. Cordell Moore, Director of Security, Interior, advised his office is in possession of numerous informational-type reports and memoranda furnished by the Bureau since 1952, pertaining particularly to Nationalist Party of Puerto Rico activities. He mentioned as example extensive data furnished concerning the attempted assassination of President Truman and the shooting incident which took place in Congress.

Mr. Moore stated much of this data is now outdated for Interior's purposes and asked if there would be any objection to his having this material destroyed, on a selective basis where such material is over two years old. He added this would assist in making room in the classified files for more current data. He stated most of the pertinent material is classified "confidential" or unclassified, but some of it is classified up to "secret." According to Mr. Moore, Interior Department desires greatly to continue to receive such information, which has been very helpful, and no monograph-type material would be destroyed.

This matter was checked with the Processing and Research Section. It is noted the question has arisen several times in the past, and it has been the Bureau's policy to allow such destruction of our reports provided the provisions of Executive Order 10501, concerning the handling of such destruction, are adhered to. Accordingly, Mr. Moore was advised that there would be no objection to his having above-mentioned reports and memoranda destroyed provided provisions of the Executive Order are followed. Mr. Moore said this would be done and that mail personnel authorized to handle classified data would personally take the material to the incinerator and insure that it is completely burned. Moore also stated that a list of the items destroyed would be made and maintained in the files for future reference.

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Reference is made to my memorandum dated 12-19-58 concerning the communist album. This album is a collection of photographs of individuals active in certain categories of Party activities. It was established in 1953 at which time the Party's underground activities were at the maximum. Duplicate copies of this album were maintained in each field office in order to facilitate the investigation of underground activities. Inasmuch as the primary purpose for which this album was established has disappeared with the severe contraction of the Party's underground apparatus, my memorandum recommended that the album be discontinued. An appropriate SAC letter was attached recommending this discontinuance. This SAC letter has now been published under date of 12-30-58 and is designated as SAC Letter Number 58-82 (G).

In considering the disposition of the photographs of the 244 individuals who are included in this album, Supervisor [redacted] has discussed this matter with Supervisor F. W. Waikart of the Records Section. Inasmuch as the photographs in this album are merely duplicates of photographs which are already in the main files of these individuals, Supervisors [redacted] and Waikart agreed that the most desirable course of action from an economical standpoint would be to merely destroy these photographs rather than attempt to return them to their appropriate files.

This case involved the senatorial election in the State of Maryland on 11-7-50 when Senator Millard E. Tydings, Democrat, was defeated by John Marshall Butler, Republican candidate. The Bureau conducted a full investigation in this matter upon the specific request of Assistant Attorney General James M. McInerney, Criminal Division of the Department. Following the election, Senator Tydings presented written and oral charges to the chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Privileges and Elections of the Committee of Rules and Administration, U. S. Senate, alleging unfair election practices. The perjury phase of the investigation concerned testimony given in the hearings held by the Senate Subcommittee.

Bulky Exhibit File #56-975-186 consists of Photostats of election campaign publications; Photostats of accounts and statements of expenditures in connection with the election; Photostats of newspaper articles, etc., as well as Photostats of letters to former Special Agent Donald A. Surine concerning his dismissal from the Bureau.

The Department by memorandum dated 10-16-53 advised that a review of the matter had been completed and it was the Department's conclusion that the evidence failed to establish the commission of any criminal offense. In view of this and since the statute of limitations has run, it appears that the bulky exhibits as listed above are of no further use and should be destroyed.

Mrs. [redacted] the supervisor of the Personnel Records Unit, has suggested that the above-captioned file be destroyed. A review of this file reflects that it contains lists of Bureau employees together with the names of prominent individuals who sponsored them. The last serial in this file is dated December 24, 1935. You will recall, that the Endorsement File which consisted of indices of prominent endorsers was destroyed with the Director's approval in August of 1958 (File 67-80000-2183). It is not believed that archival authority is necessary to destroy the material contained in this file.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the above file be destroyed.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #727-59
RECORDS BRANCH STREAMLINING COMMITTEE

6444

SUGGESTION: Mrs. [redacted] a GS-8 employee assigned to the Personnel Records Unit of the Records Branch, has suggested through the Streamlining Committee that the field personnel files of employees who have transferred to the Seat of Government be reviewed and pertinent material filed in their Seat of Government file immediately upon receipt. The material that Mrs. [redacted] refers to is any type of information of a personnel nature of which the original or copy has not been previously filed in the Seat of Government file, including memoranda concerning Moot Court Training, information concerning the employee's possession of a driver's license for a particular state, Field Firearms Training Records, and Duplicate Property Records. She suggested that all remaining material be destroyed. As an alternative she proposed that the suggestion be applicable only to clerical personnel instead of all personnel. As a second alternative she suggested that all material contained in the field personnel file be placed in the Seat of Government file as one unit rather than being filed separately in the field personnel file cabinets.

b7C

PRESENT PROCEDURE: Field personnel files on employees who have either resigned or transferred to the Seat of Government are sent to the Bureau and filed in alphabetical order in the field personnel file cabinets in the Personnel Records Unit. They are retained in these cabinets for 30 days in resignation cases at which time all material other than that set forth in the original suggestion is destroyed. Field personnel files on employees who have transferred to the Seat of Government are retained in the field personnel file cabinets until the employee again is transferred to the field or resigns.

ADVANTAGES: Mrs. [redacted] advised that if her first suggestion were adopted it would release 26 file cabinet drawers for use in the Personnel Records Unit. It would also eliminate locates for

SUBJECT: DOCUMENTS ISSUED BY THE STATE DEPARTMENT FOR THE UNCIO; GOLDEN

During the United Nations Conference on International Organization held in San Francisco in 1945 the State Department issued publications regarding the work of the various committees, the agendas, the resolutions presented, the draft proposals, etc. By letter 5/16/45 San Francisco sent the Bureau a great number of these documents prepared prior to 5/16/45 by State.

Memo Short to Nease 11/5/58 recommended that these documents be reviewed and a determination made as to their retention or disposition.

RECOMMENDATION:

Since these documents appear to have no security significance or value to this section, and since State, which prepared them, undoubtedly has copies available for perusal, there is no need for us to retain them. They should be destroyed.

SUBJECT: LOTHER WOLFGANG NORDHEIM
THEFT OF GOVERNMENT PROPERTY
ATOMIC ENERGY ACT

Subject, a scientist, on 7/9/47 resigned from his employment at the Monsanto Chemical Company, Oak Ridge, Tennessee. When he left he placed in boxes all his personal effects for removal from Oak Ridge. AEC examined these boxes and found therein AEC documents classified "Restricted" and "Secret," which subject was authorized to have prior to his resignation but which he should have turned in at the time he quit. The Department on 11/3/47 declined prosecution. Two rolls of exposed photo record film comprising photographs of the unclassified as well as the classified documents in the afore-mentioned boxes were sent to the Bureau on 7/11/47 by Knoxville for the Bureau's information. The originals remained in AEC's possession (Serial 9). Since these were unreadable Knoxville on 7/17/47 sent eleven packs of exposed speed graphic film to the Bureau which reflected the same data (Serial 34).

Memo Short to Nease 11/17/58 recommended that the documents be reviewed and a determination made as to their retention or destruction of Bureau Property

RECOMMENDATION:

There appears to be no good reason either from an evidential, intelligence, or historical viewpoint to retain these photographs and film; hence, they should be destroyed.

On 2-19-58 the Executives Conference unanimously agreed with a recommendation of the Records Branch that extra copies of investigative reports in file be destroyed.

Since that time employees have been assigned to copy destruction as the condition of the regular work permitted. To date we have processed the file material contained in 2,047 file cabinet drawers. Sufficient material has been destroyed to permit the re-use of 921 drawers or 230 four-drawer file cabinets. These figures show that extra copies represented 45% of the total filing space.

The copy destruction rehabilitation program has produced excellent results and will be continued to provide filing space for new records material received each day.

Destruction of Bureau Property

Re memoranda Mr. Short to Mr. McGuire, both dated 1-30-59, which recommended that bulky exhibits 100-47760-115 and 100-47760-191 be reviewed and a decision rendered as to the retention or disposition of the material.

Bulky exhibit 100-47760-191 consists of nine rolls of film taken by two Agents of Miami Office on 8-30-49 of four-volume diary and other personal papers of subject which were stored in two foot lockers of subject and photographed by above Agents while foot lockers were enroute Key West, Florida, from France. The above nine rolls of film were submitted to the Bureau via Miami letter 8-31-49. The above film was developed at the Bureau and prints were sent to New Orleans (office of origin) 2-21-51 for review. Bulky exhibit 100-47760-115 consists of prints of the above nine rolls of film.

Subject is an American citizen who has resided in England since 1952. He was identified as a member of the Communist Party in Los Angeles prior to World War II and was formerly a writer for the "People's World," West Coast communist newspaper. An informant who has furnished both reliable and unreliable information advised that subject, while in Paris in 1948, worked with French communists preparing himself to better serve Soviet Union. Subject removed from Security Index in June, 1955. Legal Attache, London, has been periodically following this case in order that the Bureau may be advised if subject plans to return to U. S.

New Orleans report 6-3-58 reflects a review of the above-mentioned prints indicated Cullen admitted being homosexual and admitted spending much time in company of other homosexuals during previous period of residence abroad. New Orleans report further reflects the above review had been completed and no logicial investigative leads were found. It is believed that the above-mentioned nine rolls of film (bulky exhibit 100-47760-191) should be retained in view of their value as future reference material and in view of our continuing interest in Cullen and his activities. Prints of the above-mentioned film (bulky exhibit 100-47760-115) are available in the files of New Orleans Office and it is believed that there is no longer a need to retain copies in Bureau files.

RECOMMENDATION:

That bulky exhibit file number 100-47760-191 be retained and bulky exhibit file number 100-47760-115 be destroyed.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL
Destruction of Certain Type of Memoranda without filing
SUGGESTION #951-59

On occasion, memoranda for the Director's use are prepared strictly on abstracts. It is felt that these memoranda are not complete and may be misleading in the future in view of the fact that abstracts were used in the preparation rather than calling all files involved. Furthermore, after the memoranda are filed, someone might depend upon the same at some future date. If such memoranda are destroyed rather than placing them in file, it would decrease the work of the Records Section and preclude possible error and embarrassment in the future. (Two examples of the type memorandum referred to above are attached.)

The Committee feels the above should be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for consideration.

SUBJECT: PAUL HARVEY AURANDT, wa., et al.
AEA
Destruction of Bureau Property

Harvey, as subject Aurandt is more commonly known, is a radio and television news commentator. On 2-6-51 for the purpose of testing security, he, along with two other individuals, entered an exclusion area at the Argonne National Laboratory, Chicago, where they were apprehended by AEC guards. The USA, Chicago, presented this case to a Federal Grand Jury as a possible violation of Section 793 (d) and (g), Title 18, U.S.C. A "no bill" as to all three defendants was returned on 4-4-51.

On 2-9-51, the Chicago Office received info from AEC that subject's newscast scheduled for 2-11-51 would contain data re the above incident. Mr. Nichols instructed SAC, Chicago, to make a recording of this broadcast. A dub of this recording was sent to the Bureau by Chicago let 2-13-51 and pertinent excerpts from the newscast were set out in Chicago report 2-13-51. Subject during the newscast mentioned the Argonne Laboratory incident only once when he stated he had entered the grounds uninvited. The rest of the newscast is devoted to a recital of Harvey's efforts to combat communism and his concern over security weaknesses. No action was taken by the Bureau as a result of the broadcast.

Memo Short to Nease 1-28-59 requested that with reference to the dub of the recording of subject's 2-11-51 newscast, a decision be rendered as to its retention or disposition.

RECOMMENDATION:

There appears to be no security or evidentiary significance in this exhibit and no reason exists for its retention. It should be destroyed.

On March 4, 1959, the Executives Conference, consisting of Associate Director Tolson, Messrs. Belmont, Mohr, Rosen, Trotter, DeLoach, McGuire, Holloman, Clayton, and J. F. Malone, considered a suggestion made by the Streamlining Committee of the Director's Office recommending that memoranda for the Director's use which are prepared strictly on abstracts be destroyed rather than being placed in file.

Mr. McGuire and Mr. Holloman were in favor of adopting the suggestion because they felt that these memoranda were not complete and that they could be misleading in the future in view of the fact that they were based solely on information contained in abstracts and the files involved were not reviewed. Furthermore, if such memoranda were destroyed rather than being placed in the file it would decrease the work of the Records Branch and preclude possible error and embarrassment in the future.

Associate Director Tolson, Messrs. Belmont, Mohr, Rosen, Trotter, DeLoach, Clayton, and Malone were not in favor of the suggestion because it would mean destroying memoranda which could prove dangerous. It was felt that if the memoranda clearly indicated that they were based solely on abstracts only that any danger of embarrassment or possible error in the future would be reduced to a minimum, if not entirely eliminated.

RECOMMENDATION:

If you approve, it is recommended that the suggestion as set forth above not be adopted.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION NUMBER 960-59

Routing

It has been suggested that in connection with letters going out to Boy Scouts and Scoutmasters concerning the Fingerprint Merit Badge Program, no yellows be prepared or placed in files. It was pointed out that the main disadvantage would be the fact that there would be no record in the event of future correspondence with the boy.

Crime Records presently handles several different types of letters in this way (this procedure has been officially approved for certain types of letters). The original incomings of such letters are returned to Crime Records and held for 90 days, and this, to a large extent, overcomes the stated disadvantage of captioned suggestion. Accordingly, we are very much in favor of this suggestion as it would reduce the volume of mail going to the file and would expedite the handling of the Fingerprint Merit Badge letters.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this suggestion be adopted.

The Training and Inspection Division has requested your views on the attached suggestion which was submitted by Miss [redacted] of the Director's Office. Miss [redacted] has proposed that no yellows be prepared or filed on letters directed to Boy Scouts and their Scoutmasters in connection with the requirements for the Fingerprinting Merit Badge.

b6
b7C

I have served as a Fingerprinting Merit Badge Counselor for several years and have noted that it is difficult for young boys to take properly inked prints and it is often necessary for them to make several submissions. Mrs. [redacted] of the Identification Division, who handles this matter, advised me that they retain ticklers of each letter for a period of six months and that she anticipates no problem on subsequent correspondence since most applicants for the Merit Badge would submit additional prints within that period. Accordingly, it will save time and space in the Records Branch and apparently will not create any problem in the Identification Division.

Favorable.

Re memo Mr. Short to Mr. Nease 10-8-58 which recommended that Bulky Exhibit 64-20083-741 be reviewed and a decision rendered as to the retention or disposition of the above bulky exhibit.

Bufile in this matter reflects that material in bulky exhibit had been retained in FBI Lab until 6-5-48 when memo from Mr. Parsons to Mr. Harbo recommended that material be removed from Lab and filed as enclosure behind file.

The above bulky exhibit consists of two parts. Part one contains FBI Lab work sheets regarding subject case and also miscellaneous business correspondence in German language. The latter material has not been indexed and there is no indication in bulky from whence it was received. Part two contains thirteen envelopes, each bearing FBI Lab work sheet. The contents of these thirteen envelopes were submitted by various field offices in 1943 and 1944 for Lab examination in connection with subject case.

Subject case involved Hermann Heinrich Bullhusen Spalthoff, German espionage agent who was apprehended in Colombia, South America, and turned over to custody of U.S. Government for internment. While in Colombia, he operated a clandestine radio and sent messages to Germany by means of secret ink and elaborate code system.

Referenced memo bears notation by Lab that duplicate Lab material has been destroyed and Lab indicated remaining material of no further value to Lab and recommended it be destroyed if substantive supervisor agrees.

It is believed there is no longer any need to retain the above-mentioned bulky exhibit as case no longer in pending status, and in view of above notation by Lab.

bm Destruction of Bureau Property

Re memo Mr. Short to Mr. Nease 10-8-58 which recommended that bulky exhibit 64-20083-743 be reviewed and a decision rendered as to the retention or disposition of the above bulky exhibit.

The above bulky exhibit consists of letters and miscellaneous correspondence between subject Hermann Heinrich Rullhusen Stalhuth and various business concerns in New York City; Rullhusen Stalhuth and various business concerns in New York City; Havana, Cuba; Dallas, Texas; Bogota, Colombia; and several other cities. Bulky exhibit also contains correspondence between subject Rullhusen and Johannes Bischoff, Ludwig Bischoff, Giovanno Grimo and Hans Holl. [Bufile in this matter indicates that the above letters and correspondence were seized by Colombian Police at Bogota, Colombia, 2-7-44, in search of Rullhusen's residence at Bogota and submitted to Bureau by Legat, Bogota, in 1944.] The above letters and correspondence were written in both Spanish and German languages and translations were made at Bureau and these translations comprise part of above bulky exhibit. The above letters and miscellaneous correspondence and translations thereof were not indexed.

Bufile in this matter indicates Rullhusen was German espionage agent who was apprehended in Colombia and turned over to custody of U.S. Government for internment. He conducted his operation under the above-mentioned Johannes Bischoff. The above-mentioned Giovanno Grimo and Hans Holl also worked for Johannes Bischoff. The above-mentioned Ludwig Bischoff was later indicted for conspiracy to violate peace-time espionage statute.

As material in bulky exhibit was never indexed and as this case is no longer in pending status, it is believed there is no longer a need to retain above bulky exhibit. Ref memo indicates Lab recommended bulky exhibit be destroyed if substantive supervisor concurs.

Re memorandum Mr. Short to Mr. Nease 2/12/59 which recommended that bulky exhibit 100-338974-57 be reviewed and a decision rendered as to the retention or disposition of the material contained in the above bulky exhibit.

Bulky exhibit consists of 228 pages of Photostats, mainly in French language and English translation thereof. This material submitted to Bureau on film via Chicago letter 3/1/45 which reflects that contents of brief case of subject Madame Etiennette Benichon contained on this film. Above Photostats and translation thereof indicate subject Benichon's brief case contained typewritten and handwritten articles chiefly in French but occasionally in English apparently for publication, extensive series of cables to all Toulouse newspapers which Benichon represented, calendar pad, printed matter, portraits of Hollywood stars who are French and other miscellaneous papers. Bufile on this matter reflects Madame Etiennette Benichon was one of two French communists who toured U. S. and Canada with six other French journalists under auspices of the Office of War Information in 1945. Bufile reflects Madame Etiennette Benichon returned to France approximately 5/45. Bureau covered Benichon and subject Viollis, other French communist, during their stay in this country. Certain names appearing in English translation of above Photostats have been indexed. Chicago letter 3/1/45 contains penciled notation "Nothing to assist WFO. LW." (u)

A review of summary translation of material contained in subject Benichon's case reveals no material contained therein bearing on any Communist Party activity on part of subjects Viollis or Benichon. (u)

As this case no longer in pending status and in view of above notation re nothing of assistance to office of origin contained in material in subject Benichon's brief case, it is believed there is no longer a need to retain bulky exhibit in this matter. (u)

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. Short to Mr. Nease dated November 14, 1958, which recommended that bulky exhibit 64-23119-326 be reviewed and decision rendered as to retention or disposition of material contained therein.

Bulky consists of roll of film and photographs of 44 pages of material apparently in the Spanish language, and photographs of three envelopes. These photographs were prepared from three envelopes of reports of the Basque Intelligence Organization in Buenos Aires, Argentina, addressed to Sr. Don Jose Antonio de Aguirre, 30 Fifth Avenue, New York City, and were submitted to the Bureau by Legat, Buenos Aires 5-9-46 with request that Bureau deliver the three envelopes to Aguirre at the Basque Delegation in New York in accordance with previous arrangements made with the Basque group in the United States. (S)(U)

The Laboratory translated the material, pertinent data was summarized, indexed, and retained in the main case file. The Laboratory, by letter to Legat, Buenos Aires 6-3-46, advised that non-staining treatment revealed no secret ink on specimens and cryptanalytic examination of specimens revealed no code or cipher. The Laboratory indicated the material would be delivered to the Basque Delegation in New York per Legat's request. (S)(U)

The exhibit itself was never indexed, there is no obligation to return, and of no foreseeable use to the Bureau.

Since 1946 the destruction of files in field divisions after they become 25 years old has been authorized. The time element involved is one arbitrarily selected, having in mind the maintenance of file material for ready reference. The expansion of closed files sections in field offices is creating requests for more space, more filing equipment, changes in filing equipment, and is causing makeshift space utilization such as the placing of closed files in corridor or dead storage space.

Expansion in field files began in late 1941 and early 1942. Since 1943 cases have been closed in rate corresponding to total received. Under 25-year rule, requests for more space and more equipment will be continuing until 1967 and 1968, when rate of destruction will be comparable to additions to closed files sections.

If destruction of files were permitted after they became 20 years old, potentially pertinent file material would be available for ready reference in a degree comparable to the present. Most offices would not require additional space for file maintenance now or in the future. There should be a substantial reduction (estimated minimum 50%) in requisitions for additional filing equipment in the next 3 years with only replacement equipment necessary by 1963 and thereafter.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the field be authorized to destroy files after they become 20 years old provided that files representing cases of an important nature or cases having many ramifications should not be destroyed merely because they are 20 years old. If approved, manual changes will be prepared. The original of these files & material contained therein are maintained at the Seat of Government and, of course, would not be destroyed.

ADDENDUM: 4/30/59. The Executives Conference on 4/29/59, Messrs. Tolson, McGuire, Rosen, Sizoo, Clayton, Conrad, Trotter, Holloman, Mohr, Edwards & Tamm present, unanimously recommended approval of the above change in the destruction of files. QT:hd

MAY 14 1959

MAY 18 1959 EX-113

DETAILS

Present regulations provide that "files and records in field divisions may be destroyed after they become 25 years old.... When files over 25 years old are destroyed, signed statements in these files may also be destroyed. However, files representing cases of an important nature or cases having many ramifications should not be destroyed merely because they are 25 years old. If there is any doubt, consult the Bureau." (Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, D, 8a) This regulation was first placed into effect as a result of Executives Conference action, March 13, 1946.

From time to time suggestions to destroy closed files after ten and fifteen years have elapsed and to microfilm and microtape closed files have been made which were not adopted. Field offices also have written to the Bureau concerning their need for additional space or need with reference to additional filing equipment or need to modify their filing equipment, changing from file cases to open-shelf filing to adjust available space to meet the expansion taking place in the closed file sections of the offices. The field personnel of the Bureau has not been increased for several years, yet the space needs of the offices are constantly increasing because of the closed files problem. It is recalled that in the recent past the Oklahoma City Office was given additional space because the closed files had expanded to the point that it was essential that additional space be obtained. Other offices have put in open-shelf filing systems which cause closed files to be maintained on open shelves, the upper shelves having to be reached by ladders. It creates problems of cleanliness, neatness, to a degree increases the safety hazard and its only real advantage is that it saves space.

The Washington Field Office now has a large number of file cases in the fifth-floor corridors of the office whereas at the time the office was moved into the Old Post Office Building, all of the closed files were set up in rooms as contrasted to corridor space. The room space was such that it was believed that it was sufficient to handle expansion in the section devoted to closed files for a minimum of 5 years. Actually, the space was adequate to handle the 5-year expansion, but following this period, it has been necessary to take care of the expansion in the closed file section by setting up blocks of closed file sections in the corridors immediately adjacent to the closed file section of the Chief Clerk's Office.

Recent inspections of the Minneapolis and Milwaukee Offices reflect space problems created by closed file expansion. The Minneapolis Office space problem created by continuing closed file expansion is such that the office space is critical. Milwaukee Office space problem can be presently handled by making a major move of the Chief Clerk's Office into the office space across the public corridor from the office of the SAC and the ASAC which would be undesirable.

The big expansion in the files of the Bureau began in late 1941 and early 1942, with approximate balance in cases opened and closed per year existing 1943 to date. This is reflected in the following tabulation reflecting number of cases closed fiscal years 1940 through 1958 for all offices:

	TOTAL INVESTIGATIVE MATTERS
Fiscal Year	Received	Closed
1940	64,127	79,444
1941	243,426	157,699
1942	436,494	385,722
1943	510,485	525,833
1944	458,991	489,303
1945	390,557	432,771
1946	279,604	284,758
1947	308,342	317,383
1948	547,523	528,464
1949	457,240	466,770
1950	423,761	427,235
1951	775,660	709,055
1952	835,000	832,635
1953	676,232	694,829
1954	609,348	617,566
1955	536,006	550,970
1956	508,511	509,276
1957	527,217	524,694
1958	522,487	518,281

It is believed that beginning in 1967 or 1968 that the 25-year rule for the destruction of files will cause files to be destroyed at about the same rate they are being placed in the closed section and the space problems of most offices (offices open or opened as of 1941) will become static by 1968. If we were now to approve destruction of closed files after they have become 20 years old, we would probably be able to achieve a static condition now rather than 8 or 9 years hence.

Savings would be effected in that we would not have to rent additional floor space or otherwise acquire additional space. Also, we would not have to consider the purchase of open-shelf filing equipment to replace our present filing equipment simply to gain space. Purchases of file cases would be sharply reduced.

The Chief Clerks of both the Minneapolis and Milwaukee Offices were of the opinion that if they could now destroy files in their closed files section after they had become 20 years old, they would now be able to solve their problems with reference to closed filing space.

A survey was made of the closed file section of the Minneapolis Office to be certain that this suggestion would have the effect desired. It was ascertained that the expansion rate in the Minneapolis Office was equivalent to almost 11 five-drawer letter size filing cabinets per year. If they were permitted to destroy files that had become 20 years old, they would actually gain immediately 10 - 11 five-drawer file cases. Having in mind that in 1961 and 1962 a greater volume of files would become 20 years old and thus could be destroyed, the opinion was reached that the office would not require additional office space, and there was a good possibility that no additional filing equipment would be needed for the present. It could be anticipated no additional file cases would be needed during fiscal year 1960 and not more than 5 or 6 additional file cases would be requested in each of the fiscal years 1961 and 1962. Thereafter, file cases would be necessary only as replacements for equipment that had become unserviceable.

The 25-year rule is arbitrary in character; it envisions that pertinent file material will be available for ready reference with rare exceptions. The suggested 20-year rule for destruction will not cause any substantial volume of pertinent file references to become immediately unavailable. If they are of particular pertinence and had any importance and value when recorded, they will be duplicated in the headquarters file. It is believed that the number of pertinent file references of pertinent character more than 20 years old will not be substantially greater than those under the 25-year rule.

Re memoranda Short to McGuire dated 4/2/59 in captioned matter.

Reference memoranda recommended bulky exhibits 105-16173-1 and 2 be reviewed and a decision rendered as to their retention.

Bulky exhibits are identical. They are Photostats of information pertaining to discussions of the 1952 World Tin Situation between W. Stuart Symington, former Director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and a representative of the Indonesian Embassy as well as information which could have come from public sources in this matter. Originals of Photostats were found in a Washington, D.C., taxical 11/9/51. On 1/11/52 Symington, after reviewing these documents, advised they contained no classified material. No further investigation was conducted.

In view of the fact that bulky exhibits are unclassified and outdated material, it is recommended they be destroyed.

RE: FILE ENTITLED
"LISTS OF POLICE OFFICERS"
Bufile 62-385

There is maintained in the Records Branch a file entitled "Lists of Police Officers" (62-385). This file consists of 42 sections, 7,143 serials. The file was opened in 1921 and the last serial is dated in 1925. The file contains correspondence to Police Officers during this period relating to the investigative jurisdiction of the Bureau and numerous lists of Police Officers throughout the country during the early 1920's. The first 2,183 serials consist of a form letter addressed to Police Officers throughout the United States explaining to them the jurisdiction of the Bureau and requesting their support and cooperation.

This material is not used, is obsolete and appears to be of no value to the Bureau today. Accordingly, in line with our records management program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, it is being recommended that this file be considered for destruction.

Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of administrative-type material of this nature.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division and that consideration be given to the destruction of this file in line with our records management program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records. There are attached four sections of this file to illustrate the type of material contained therein.

Destruction of Part I, Page 33 of the Agent's Handbook be amended to authorize the field to destroy the extra copies of reports by the office of origin at the time the file is consolidated rather than at the time the case is closed.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

At the time the office of origin closes a case, the extra copies of reports received by it from auxiliary offices to be dispatched to the Bureau later, if considered necessary, are destroyed.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

It will eliminate the necessity of reviewing the file at the time the case is closed for the sole purpose of destroying extra copies of reports. The files are consolidated at the end of six months at which time all extra serials are removed except for one for the file anyway.

Reference is made to the memorandum from J. P. Parker to S. B. Donahoe dated 3-17-59 in which it was suggested that the rule be revised to eliminate retention of Stenographers' and Typists' Daily Reports (Form 0-33) for 120 days and to make rules for Seat of Government and for field offices consistent, thus permitting destruction when they have served purpose for which prepared.

The Domestic Intelligence Streamlining Committee on 3-25-59 considered this matter and recommends adoption of the suggestion. After the end of month production figures are compiled, there is no foreseeable need for retention for 120 days.

Material contained in the bulky exhibit consists of two boxes of obsolete miscellaneous items with reference to location of motor and serial numbers on passenger cars and trucks dating back to the 1920's and 1930's. These items are no longer of any value with regard to the identification of automobiles.

The bulky exhibit consists of automobile number charts showing the location of confidential automobile numbers from 1940 to 1952 automobiles. These are no longer needed since the Confidential Automobile Identification Numbers book was revised in 1958 and brought up to date. The revisions were subsequently furnished to the field.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be routed to the Filing Unit of the Records Section, Room 1113 Ident Building, instructing that the bulky exhibit be destroyed as it is no longer of any value to the Bureau.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #1025-57
DESTRUCTION OF FORM 0-33 (Stenographers' and Typists' Daily Report)
Destruction of Bureau Property

Mrs. [redacted], Stenographic Unit Supervisor, GCI, Nationalities Intelligence Section, suggests that rule be revised to eliminate retention of Stenographers' and Typists' Daily Reports (Form 0-33) for 120 days. She suggests revision so that rules for Seat of Government and for field offices are consistent thus permitting destruction when they have served purpose for which prepared. She also suggests that whatever period of retention is decided upon be included in Manual of Rules and Regulations along with other rules for destruction of records noting that present rule exists only in a 1952 memorandum.

Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 15, permits destruction in field of Stenographers' Daily Reports (FD-70) when they have served purpose for which prepared.

At Seat of Government a memorandum to officials and supervisors, 3-24-52, requires Stenographers' and Typists' Daily Reports be retained for period of 120 days and thereafter destroyed on monthly basis. As soon as first report of any month is 120 days old all reports for that month should be destroyed. (66-02-1165)

Streamlining Committee of Nationalities Intelligence Section considered this matter on 3-17-59 and recommends adoption of the suggestion. In this Section these reports are used as a current and daily basis for supervisory purposes and at end of month production figures are compiled therefrom. After this they have served their purpose and there is no foreseeable need for retention for any [illegible]. Elimination of unnecessary retention will save cabinet space.

In conjunction with the compiling of statistics regarding the above testimony and in order to assist in the location of particular items of testimony, index cards have been prepared and are maintained by the testimony desk concerning each volume of testimony and the witnesses testifying before the subcommittee. To date, all of these cards have been retained.

In view of the large number of these index cards and since the information described by the cards can be located by a review of indices, it appears desirable to destroy these cards after they become three years old.

If you approve, all index cards bearing a date of 1955 or earlier will be destroyed and hereafter on January 1, each year, these index cards will be reviewed and all cards three years old will be destroyed.

On 6-16-55 the Executives Conference approved the recommendation of the Records Branch that Bureau Applicant personnel files over ten years of age wherein unfavorable recommendation concerning the applicant had been made and no investigation conducted be destroyed. Since that date over 139,000 files have been destroyed. This has enabled us to save a large amount of valuable filing equipment and has made available to us expansion space for current applicant files. On each file destroyed we have retained an index card on the name of the applicant indicating that the file has been destroyed.

We are presently making plans to go through our applicant personnel files again in order to destroy those that have now become ten years of age in order to secure necessary expansion space and equipment. The question is raised as to whether or not we should continue to retain an index card on each of the files destroyed. It is our considered opinion that such cards are unnecessary, clutter up our personnel files indices, and have never been utilized since this program started.

Our personnel files indices contains 588,000 index cards. When our current purge program is completed during the summer, it is estimated that approximately 160,000 of these cards will relate to destroyed applicant personnel files. In other words, 27.21% of the indices will be of no value except to show that an applicant file has been destroyed. As indicated, we have no recollection of these cards having been utilized even for this negative purpose since the institution of the destruction program in 1955. Assuming such a query does come up at some time in the future, it would be self-evident if we had no record, that a file of this type had in fact been destroyed. Of more importance is the fact that in making current searches through this indices we are constantly confronted with the practical problem of thumbing through a large number of cards that are valueless and only serve to delay a searching and identification of current material.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION PERTAINING TO DESTRUCTION OF EXTRA COPIES OF REPORTS AND MEMORANDA PRIOR TO INITIAL FILING

Suggestion # 1282-57

SUGGESTION: Form FD 252, attached, contains suggestion from SA [redacted] Internal Security Section, that any copies of investigative reports received at the Bureau which are not needed for dissemination be destroyed by the reviewing supervisor at the time he initials the reports for filing rather than being sent to file with the originals. Likewise, any copies of letterhead memoranda prepared by the Field for dissemination at the Bureau and not used for dissemination should be destroyed by the supervisor at the time he sends the original to file. The supervisor should record on the original the number of copies destroyed in addition to recording the copies disseminated so that all copies may be accounted for when the reports or letterhead memoranda are checked for filing by the Records Branch.

b6

CURRENT PRACTICES: At present all copies of investigative reports and letterhead memoranda not disseminated are filed with the originals.

ADVANTAGES: According to SA [redacted] this suggested practice would effect an immediate savings in the space required by the Records Branch for filing new material. It would also assist in keeping files at a minimun size and easier to handle by the employees using them. Further, it would eliminate the filing of copies of reports and letterhead memoranda and a subsequent need to remove these copies from the file and destroy them under the copies destruction program. Although the number of copies of investigative reports sent to the Bureau has been reduced to a minimum dissemination varies from case to case in the same classification, particularily in the security field where four to six or more copies are received. In many cases copies of reports or letterhead memoranda which could be destroyed under this new system are retained. SA [redacted] is not in a position to compute an estimated annual savings from this suggestion, however, the Records Branch might be able to compute such a figure.

Destruction of Bureau Property

Memo to Mr. Belmont
Re: SUGGESTION PERTAINING TO DESTRUCTION
OF EXTRA COPIES OF REPORTS AND MEMORANDA
PRIOR TO INITIAL FILING

b6
b7C

OBSERVATIONS: The Streamlining Committee of the Internal Security Section has carefully reviewed the suggestion of SA [redacted] and has conducted considerable inquiry into this matter. Since 1955 various suggestions and studies have been made as to the best procedure for reducing files thereby making available badly needed filing space. Pertinent information in this connection is recorded in file 66-2435 serials 1807-1810, 1817, 2010, 2030, 2031, 2078-2083. By memorandum dated February 21, 1958, (66-2435-2082) the plan was placed in operation to purge all cases which are ten years or older of all extra copies of reports retaining only the original in file. The Records Branch advised that in addition to the original report the first page of an extra clean copy of a report is retained for duplication purposes which does not carry Bureau markings. The remaining pages of the original are used for any necessary duplicating work. This purge program involving cases ten years or older is working out very well and valuable filing space is being made available. The Records Branch would like to see the purge of extra reports expanded to cover all cases including reports currently being received from the Field. According to previous surveys approximately one third of all file drawer space could be saved if extra copies of reports were not retained.

The principal opposition to the destruction of all extra copies of reports comes from the Name Check section of the Domestic Intelligence Division which disseminates approximately 40,000 pages of investigative reports a month. The cost and quality of reproduction and time involved are the deterrent factors. When extra copies of reports are readily available, the dissemination is a simple and rapid procedure. When extra copies are not available, they must be reproduced from the original by the relatively slow and expensive Photostat process. The new autostat machine in the Records Branch which can duplicate at a cheaper and faster rate than the Photostat process however, is not adequate to handle the increased load of reproducing all the reports used by the Name Check section in its daily dissemination in those instances where original copies of reports only are available. The Name Check section therefore opposes the destruction of the extra copies of reports in those cases less than ten years old (most disseminations are within that period) until a cheaper, faster, and simpler process of reproduction becomes available to handle the large volume of work. The Name Check section has pointed out however that very rarely is it necessary to disseminate a report on an organization or group subject type case. The vast majority of reports disseminated are reports on individuals.

b7C

In view of the foregoing the Streamlining Committee of the Internal Security Section feels that SA [redacted] suggestion has a somewhat new approach over the previous suggestions in that he is not recommending a purge of extra copies of the reports already filed but recommends that beginning now the Seat of Government supervisors will file only the original, disseminate or destroy all other copies received. The Stream-

Memo to Mr. Belmont
Re; SUGGESTION PERTAINING TO DESTRUCTION
OF EXTRA COPIES OF REPORTS AND MEMORANDA
PRIOR TO INITIAL FILING.

OBSERVATIONS - Con't:

lining Committee recommends that SA [redacted] suggestion be partially adopted: Supervisors handling organization cases, infiltration of union and other group subject type cases be instructed to file only the original reports and letterhead memoranda in these categories and disseminate or destroy all extra copies. When adequate reproduction equipment is installed which would handle the volume of report duplicating necessary in an expeditious manner at a nominal cost then consideration should be given to adopting the balance of SA [redacted] suggestion. Namely: file only the original report and letterhead memoranda in all type cases including individual cases and disseminate or destroy all extra copies. Under the current reporting system now in operation the first page of the original report being disseminated does not receive Bureau markings as these are placed on a cover page to the report. The reproduction of reports from the original now do not involve the additional problem of removal of Bureau markings. If adequate reproducing machines are installed then consideration could be given to purging the files of all extra copies of reports including those cases less than ten years old.

b6
b7C

RECOMMENDATION: It is recommended that SA [redacted] suggestion as modified above be adopted. If you approve, this memorandum should be routed to the Training and Inspection Division for further consideration and acknowledgment.

RECOMMENDATION INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION:

The problem of excessive copies of reports and memoranda is negligible within the Investigative Division. Except in rare cases the field submits only enough copies required in accordance with existing Bureau regulations. Therefore, other than the fact the suggestion places additional responsibility of a clerical nature upon the supervisory staff at the Bureau, no objection would be interposed to its acceptance by this division.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

At present all copies of investigative reports and letterhead memoranda not disseminated are filed with the originals.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

This suggested practice would effect an immediate savings in the space required by the Records Branch for filing new material. It would also assist in keeping files at a minimum size and easier to handle by the employees using them. Further, it would eliminate the filing of copies of reports and letterhead memoranda and the subsequent need to remove these copies from file and destroy them under the copy destruction program. Although the number of copies of investigative reports sent to the Bureau has been reduced to a minimum, dissemination varies from case to case in the same classification, particularly in the security field, and in many cases copies of reports or letterhead memoranda are received which could be destroyed under this system. No basis is known to the writer for computing an estimated annual savings.

Disadvantages of suggestion

Instances will arise in which dissemination not originally contemplated will be necessary at a later date. This will require the reproduction of copies from originals on an infrequent basis, as is now done when copies are exhausted.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #1282-59
DESTRUCTION OF EXTRA COPIES
OF REPORTS AND MEMORANDA

Reference is made to suggestion submitted by SA [redacted] Domestic Intelligence Division, wherein SA [redacted] suggested that any copies of investigative reports received at the Bureau which are not needed for dissemination be destroyed by the reviewing supervisor at the time he initials the reports for filing, rather than filing these copies of reports. He also proposes that any copies of letterhead memoranda prepared by the Field for dissemination at the Bureau and not used for dissemination should also be destroyed by the supervisor. SA [redacted] suggests that the supervisor record on the original report, the number of copies destroyed and the copies disseminated in order that all copies may be accounted for when the report or letterhead memorandum is checked for filing by the Records Branch. SA [redacted] feels that this suggestion would effect an immediate savings in the space required in the Records Branch for filing new material and would simplify the maintenance and servicing of the Bureau's files. This suggestion has been referred to the Records Branch for your comments and recommendations.

OBSERVATIONS:

As you are aware, the Records Branch has been engaged in the copy destruction program since February, 1958, when based on a plan instigated and submitted by the Records Branch, in line with our records management program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from the Bureau's records, authorization was received to purge all extra copies of reports pertaining to cases ten years old or older. In addition to the original report, we retain the first page of a copy of the report, which is free of Bureau markings, to be used if subsequent reproduction is necessary.

Destruction of Bureau Property

Memo W. G. Eames to Mr. McGuire 6-16-59
Re: Suggestion #1282-59
Destruction of Extra Copies
of Reports and Memoranda

This program has proven to be extremely beneficial to the Records Branch and has resulted in the savings of valuable filing space (since program's inception, 1,172 drawers, which is equivalent to 234½ five-drawer cabinets, have been destroyed even though we have been unable to operate the program on a full-time basis due to unavailability of personnel) and many other intangible benefits.

The Records Branch is very much in favor of the adoption of SA [redacted] suggestion and feels that the suggestion should be implemented to the greatest degree possible consistent with the dissemination requirements of the various supervisory desks. We feel that the adoption of this suggestion will further minimize our maintenance and service problems created as a result of the constant growth and expansion of the Bureau's records. Records management experts agree that the most efficient records management programs attempt to control the creation of records and once created strive to keep the filing of these records to a minimum on the proven theory that records once created and filed are extremely expensive to maintain and are even more expensive to dispose of. SA [redacted] suggestion is consistent with the idea that if possible records should be eliminated prior to being filed and is certainly a step in the right direction from a sound records management standpoint. b6 b7C

Inasmuch as the Records Branch is responsible for an accounting of all copies, if this suggestion is adopted, it will be incumbent upon the substantive supervisors to make proper notations reflecting the disposition of copies and accounting for all copies submitted. ~~The Records Branch also desires that in addition to retaining the original report, that the first page of one copy of the report be retained to conform with our present copy destruction procedure, this copy to be used for reproduction purposes in the event future dissemination is necessary.~~

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division in accordance with their request.

REC-51 66-3286-134

Subject: DESTRUCTION OF UNNECESSARY COPIES OF INVESTIGATIVE REPORTS REGARDING ORGANIZATIONS

EX-113

The Manual for Bureau Supervisors carries the following instruction on page 25a: "Supervisors should be alert to cases in which the number of copies of reports required by the Bureau will be larger or smaller than provided for by Bureau regulations. When such situations are anticipated, the supervisor may direct the field to submit a larger or smaller number of copies."

A suggestion has been made which has been approved that if copies of investigative reports dealing with organizations are received at the Bureau which are not needed for dissemination, such extra copies are to be destroyed by the supervisor when he initials the original report for filing. A notation must be made on the original regarding the number of copies destroyed, which notation should be initialed by the supervisor. This applies only to reports regarding organizations and does not extend to reports on individuals.

The practice of destroying these unnecessary copies of organizational-type reports should be placed in effect immediately.

SUGGESTION: That copies of reports and letterhead memoranda not needed for dissemination be destroyed by Seat of Government supervisors and only originals be filed. Note on original number of copies disseminated and number destroyed.

PRESENT PRACTICE: All copies not disseminated are filed with originals.

ADVANTAGES: Saving of file space. Reduction of need for later purging of unneeded copies from files.

DISADVANTAGES: Copies needed for dissemination at later date would have to be mechanically reproduced, incurring both expense and delay.

OBSERVATIONS: Divisions primarily concerned are Domestic Intelligence Division and Records Branch. Investigative Division has no objection as problem is rare in their cases. Records Branch recommends favorably as suggested procedure will minimize maintenance and service problems with files. Domestic Intelligence Division recommends modification: Name Check Section opposes destruction of extra copies until cheaper, faster and simpler process of reproducing is available. Present Auto-Stat machine is too slow to handle volume of reproducing reports needed on daily basis, and Photostat process is slow and expensive. Name Check Section now disseminates about 40,000 pages of reports monthly, and the more we have to reproduce mechanically the slower and more expensive the process becomes. Vast majority of disseminations are made in cases on individuals and not on organizations, and the Domestic Intelligence Division recommends that extra copies be destroyed only in organizations cases but that extra copies be filed as at present in cases on individuals to provide for future dissemination. If and when better, faster and cheaper reproducing equipment becomes available, extension of process to cases on individuals can be considered.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #15-60
SUBMITTED BY SA H. EDWARD MC NULTY
SEATTLE OFFICE

SUGGESTION: That in security matter cases in the 100 classification the office of origin be permitted to destroy extra copies of serials in a case where the subject's death has been verified.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, 6, b, (1), page 11b provides that in security type files (65, 100 and 105 classifications)* the office of origin may destroy all copies except one of each serial after file has been closed for 10 years. Current rules also permit the destruction of extra copies of all serials in Applicant, Selective Service, Criminal and several other specified classifications of files at the time the files are consolidated which is when they have been closed six months.

ADVANTAGES STATED: SA McNulty states adoption of this suggestion will help to reduce cabinet space now occupied by files relating to deceased security subjects.

OBSERVATIONS: Domestic Intelligence Division favors adoption of this suggestion and feels it should include classifications 65 and 105 also; however, the field should be instructed that no special project is to be undertaken to purge files but they should be handled as cases come to their attention.

Training and Inspection Division agrees with views of Domestic Intelligence Division.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That this suggestion be adopted and be extended to also cover similar cases in the 65 and 105 classifications.

Re memorandum Mr. Short to Mr. McGuire dated April 3, 1959, which recommended that bulky exhibit 62-77787-1023 be reviewed and a decision rendered as to retention or disposition of the material. During the United Nations Conference on International Organization held in San Francisco in 1945, the State Department Document Division issued various publications regarding the proposals by different delegations, the agenda for different meetings, and the reports of various committees, etc. San Francisco letter 6-25-45 forwarded to the Bureau approximately 275 of the above-mentioned publications.

None of these publications has been indexed and there is no indication as to what purpose they served. Since the publications appear to have no security significance or value to the Bureau and as State undoubtedly has copies of these publications, it is believed there is no longer any need to retain them.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that bulky exhibit 62-77787-1023 be destroyed.

Suggestion #15-60

While conducting a seminar in the Seattle Office recently, W. C. Sullivan was given for the consideration of the Bureau the following suggestion offered by SA H. Edward McNulty.

21-13 DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

SUGGESTION:

It is suggested that in security matter cases in 100 classification the office of origin be permitted to destroy extra copies of reports and memoranda contained in the particular case upon the verified death of the subject involved. This suggestion is made with a view toward reducing cabinet space now occupied by old duplicate correspondence and reports of deceased subjects.

Current Bureau Rules:

Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, paragraph 6, (b), (1), states that the office of origin in 65, 100, and 105 classifications may destroy all copies except one of each serial after the case file has been closed for ten years.

Example:

William Jonathan Pennock, aka., IS - C, SA of 1940, Seattle file 100-1203, Bufile 100-9856.

This case file consists of 27 volumes and now occupies space of one and a portion drawers in the Seattle Office closed file section. Subject died in 1953.

This case file contains 24 separate reports concerning the deceased subject and copies of these reports vary from 2 copies to 5 copies each.

Re: SEATTLE FIELD DIVISION

A review of this case file indicates that 54 extra report copies amounting to 1,003 pages could be destroyed without reducing the information contained in the case file. It is believed that with the destruction of these extra report copies approximately 6 to 8 inches of drawer space could be saved immediately upon the death of the subject rather than wait for the 10-year period to lapse.

An additional amount of space could be saved by the immediate destruction of extra copies of memoranda contained in this particular case file.

In the event following destruction of report copies there arose the need for an extra copy of a report, it could be easily reproduced by any duplicating method.

Within the past year 2 additional Security Index subjects have died and 1 case file contains 13 volumes and the other contains 8 volumes. It is believed that similar savings in space could be had with the destruction of extra report copies and memorandum copies in these case files.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this suggestion be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for consideration and action.

This bulky exhibit consists of approximately 19 photographs of examples of literature emanating from the Carter Print Shop in Cleveland. In 1942 the Carter Print Shop printed most of the literature for the Communist Party of Ohio. There is nothing in the file to reflect the source of these photographs and they do not appear to have any evidentiary value. Copies of these photographs were also forwarded to the New York Office by Cleveland, New York, having been office of origin in this Voorhis Act case.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this bulky exhibit, file number 102-4-12-6, be destroyed.

In 1950 the Bureau received from various sources thousands of pages of IPR documents (letters, memos, brochures, etc.) which we used in our investigation of the organization. Since daily recourse was had to these documents, copies were made and maintained in the room of the supervisor handling the case. Memo 5-5-53 returned these documents to the file as a bulky enclosure to serial 1139. A separate index of these documents was also made a part of this exhibit. The documents in the exhibit in question are copies of bulky enclosures to serials 271, 488, 530 and 615 of this file.

Memo Eames to McGuire 6-5-59 requested that the bulky exhibit to serial 1139 be reviewed to determine whether it should be retained.

RECOMMENDATION:

There is no need for copies of IPR documents at this time and those comprising the bulky exhibit to serial 1139 should be destroyed. The index cards in this exhibit (serial 1139) should also be destroyed since they duplicate those in the main index.

ADDENDUM - DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION - JULY 9, 1959

This bulky exhibit consists of (1) three Photostats of a letter dated 4/25/47 to James B. Burns, president of the American Federation of Government Employees, reporting on a meeting of the United Public Workers of America (UPWA) on 4/24/47 enclosing literature passed out at this meeting and (2) three Photostats each of the February and March, 1947, issues of "The Public Record," a publication of the UPWA. One Photostat of the letter of 4/25/47 and its enclosures should be retained for future reference and one Photostat of each issue of "The Public Record" should be maintained in Publication Files. The additional Photostats appear to be of no future value.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that one Photostat of the letter of 4/25/47 and its enclosures be placed in this file as a part of Serial 137, that one Photostat each of the February and March, 1947, issues of "The Public Record" be filed in Publication Files and that the balance of this bulky exhibit be destroyed. By so doing, one Photostat of each document will be retained permanently and the extra copies destroyed.

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that the Alien Enemy Registration Index Cards in the Field Office Main Indices be destroyed. The New York office has approximately 300,303 cards.

After World War II correspondence in the AER files was reviewed and that which was of value was placed in the individual case file, if one existed. If no file existed, it was placed in a general file and indexed to that file. Where the information was of no value, the AER file was destroyed.

These cards contain little information; in some instances, the name, address, and AER number appear; in others, only the name. Since the

A saving of time would result in not listing these references in searching. Would be a saving of time for Agents endeavoring to locate these references when listed for them on Indices search slips and mail. Would also be a saving of approximately 10 Indices cabinets in New York Office.

File Reviewers and Agents are not able to check these references, they serve only as a flag to the Agent indicating than an individual by that name registered as an alien. A great deal of time is consumed in listing these references and considerable space is utilized for the maintenance of these cards. Many of these individuals are now deceased, have been relocated or have become citizens.

All aliens are required to register at the beginning of each year and if an Agent desires to check on a specific alien or determine if an individual is an alien, he can check this at Immigration.

CURRENT PRACTICE OR RULE

SAC letter #98, Series 1951, dated 10/31/51 (F) instructs that Alien Registration Index cards should be retained in the indices as at present. These cards relate to Alien Registration Files which have been destroyed. These references are listed on all Indices searches.

(A) RECORDS MANAGEMENT - DESTRUCTION OF COPIES -- As a result of several suggestions submitted in line with strengthening the Bureau's Records Management Program, the substantive supervisors are hereby authorized to destroy all surplus copies of reports, letters, teletypes, memoranda, etc., prior to sending the original document to file. This procedure will eliminate unnecessary filing of a considerable volume of copies of documents for which no further need exists. In destroying these copies, it will be incumbent upon the supervisor to make a notation on the original document reflecting the disposition of copies and accounting for all copies submitted. This notation is necessary for control purposes.

Reference is made to memorandum Mr. Conroy to Mr. Rosen dated July 24, 1959, whereby it was proposed to eliminate unnecessary Photostats in Conscientious Objector cases. It was recommended and approved that the Bureau no longer receive from the field Photostat copies of the selective service file in Conscientious Objector cases.

Since it has been determined that it is unnecessary to receive this material in the future, it should follow that it is no longer necessary to retain such items in the Records Branch of the Files and Communications Division. There are numerous Photostats of selective service files filed in the Records Branch which have been obtained over the years in the investigation of Conscientious Objector cases. If these Photostats could be destroyed, a great deal of filing space could be recouped for future expansion.

Attached hereto are samples of the material referred to above.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the Files and Communications Division be permitted to destroy all Photostat copies of selective service files retained in the selective service cases in conjunction with their Copy Destruction Program. Archival authority will not be required if destruction of this material is approved.

2. That this memorandum be routed to the Investigative Division for their views.

RECORDS MANAGEMENT
Buffile 66-16966
Suggestion #122-60

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43, C, wherein we requested suggestions and observations to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management Program.

By memorandum from Donahoe to Belmont dated July 20, 1959, SA V. D. Stewart, Domestic Intelligence Division, recommended that (1) copies of investigative reports regarding individuals now retained in the main file on an individual be destroyed if the main file contains a summary report which incorporates all pertinent information appearing in previously submitted investigative reports. He further recommended that (2) at such time as a summary report is disseminated, the clerk, with the supervisor's approval, be permitted to destroy copies of investigative reports submitted prior to each summary dissemination. SA Stewart stated that the original investigative report would remain in file bearing the notation that the copies were destroyed. He feels that this procedure would assist in reducing our files during the daily course of our work.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS:

Records Branch of Bureau Records has in operation and has had since February, 1958, a copy destruction program designed to remove unnecessary copies of material from Bureau files. In the interest of efficiency and economy, this is being done in an orderly fashion by classification (consistent with availability of personnel) and eventually will result in destruction of unnecessary copies in all Bureau files. However, in the event a Bureau supervisor through the normal course of his work uncovers a file which appears to contain a large volume of copies, instructions could be issued to refer this file to the Records Branch for review as to possible destruction of copies. Because of our complex records operation, the Records Branch should handle the destruction of any material being removed from file. SA Stewart's suggestion as such is not recommended for adoption; however, Records Branch feels that instructions could be issued to Supervisors at Seat of Government to refer any files to the Records Branch which appear to contain a large volume of excess copies. If this proposal is approved, Records Branch will issue such instructions.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review and acknowledgment if deemed necessary. If the Records Branch proposal is approved, these instructions will be issued to supervisors at the Seat of Government.

ADDENDUM BY TRAINING AND INSPECTION DIVISION: AGG:jmp 9-2-59

Training and Inspection Division concurs in the recommendatio of Files and Communications Division that SA Stewart's suggestion not b adopted since Records Branch already has an established procedure for removing unnecessary copies of material from Bureau files and it would be undesirable to permit other than Records Branch employees to remove material from files and destroy it. If approved, no communication to SA Stewart is necessary since his suggestion was submitted in response to specific request for records management ideas and per memo Q. Tamm to Mr. Tolson dated 7-23-59, such suggestions are not acknowledged unless adopted.

It is recommended that Records Branch be authorized to issue appropriate instructions to alert Bureau supervisors to watch for files containing a large number of copies of communications which should be reviewed for possible destruction.

RECORDS MANAGEMENT
(66-18966)

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested observations and suggestions to strengthen Bureau's Records Management program.

By memorandum from Conroy to Rosen dated 7-28-59, the Fugitive Section of the Investigative Division suggested that the following letters no longer be filed: (1) monthly letters received from the field concerning missed fugitive dead lines and (2) monthly letters submitted by each office setting forth the number of unlawful flight complaints filed during the previous month. The Fugitive Section pointed out that these letters, which are captioned, "Unlawful Flight Cases, _____ Division," are now filed in file 88-85. The Fugitive Section points out that these communications, which are submitted by each office on a monthly basis, serve as important tools in the supervision of fugitive matters. However, since administrative folders are maintained on each office, the originals of these letters could be retained in these folders on a temporary basis, such as on a fiscal year basis and then destroyed rather than maintained as a permanent part of the Bureau's records. The Fugitive Section recommends that these two items no longer be filed, but be routed directly to the General Fugitive Unit, Fugitive Section, for handling. They also recommend that the necessary steps be taken to obtain authority for the destruction of letters in these two categories which have already been placed in file.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

From records management standpoint, the above suggestions have considerable merit in that records which are of temporary value only will not be maintained as a permanent part of Bureau records. As a result of these suggestions, the Records Branch will take the necessary steps to route these types of letters directly to the Investigative Division for handling and will not put them on record. Upon a determination by the Investigative Division as to how long these types of records should be maintained, the Records Branch will then proceed with the destruction of those letters already in file. Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of records of this type since the records are prepared for administrative purposes only.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review.

2. That this memorandum be referred to the Investigative Division for information and that the Investigative Division, upon determining the retention period of this type of material, advise the Records Branch in order that appropriate steps can be taken to dispose of the material already in file.

Re: Discontinuing of Parole Reports

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested observations and suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management program.

By letter dated 8-17-59, the SAC, Memphis, recommended that the Bureau give consideration to discontinuing the preparation of parole reports.

The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 4, page 25, requires that the office of prosecution must submit promptly a parole report after a subject has been sentenced in a Bureau case to imprisonment for more than 180 days or given an indeterminate sentence under the provisions of the Federal Youth Corrections Act. A separate parole report is required on each subject. The original and two copies of this report are sent to the Bureau, one copy is prepared for the office of origin, and one copy for the reporting office.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

Inasmuch as this suggestion relates to investigative matters supervised by the Investigative Division, the comments of that division should be secured regarding the adoption of this suggestion.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) This memorandum be referred to the Investigative Division for comments regarding the adoption of the above suggestion.

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested observations and suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management program.

Two suggestions have been received relating to the destruction of 67-0 (Bureau applicant general) files in the field. They are as follows:

(1) By letter dated 8-12-59, the SAC, Atlanta, suggested that these files be destroyed after five years. He pointed out that these files contained numerous rejected applications and correspondence with applicants which is of little value.

(2) By letter dated 8-18-59, the SAC, Charlotte, suggested that the Bureau might reconsider the suggestion submitted by Assistant Chief Clerk, [redacted], on 12-13-57, who suggested that serials in file 67-0 over ten years old be destroyed.

b6
b7C

PREVIOUS BACKGROUND

Memorandum from Tamm to Tolson dated 3-4-58, relates to the suggestion previously submitted by [redacted]. When this suggestion was submitted, the Administrative Division expressed the opinion that applications and other communications over ten years old, which appear in 67-0 files, are of doubtful value as reference material. They observed that this type of material is destroyed at the Bureau and as the material is of doubtful reference value, it would appear that the advantages of destroying such material outweighs the disadvantages in view of the space savings. The Training and Inspection Division conducted a survey of ten offices regarding this suggestion. Eight of the ten were in favor of adopting the suggestion and two were opposed to the adoption of the suggestion. The Training and Inspection Division concluded that it was better to keep a uniform rule as to destruction of files in the investigative categories rather than to make a few exceptions. The present rule permits field offices to destroy investigative files after twenty years. Mr. [redacted] suggestion was not adopted.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

In light of the Bureau's intensified records management program designed to eliminate obsolete and valueless material from Bureau's records both at the Seat of Government and in the field, Records Branch feels that the previous decision regarding the destruction of this material should be re-evaluated at the present time. The Records Branch feels that this material is of little value to the field and could be destroyed after a reasonable period of time. The current comments of the Administrative Division and the Training and Inspection Division should be secured prior to the final consideration of these suggestions.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the comments of the Administrative Division and the Training and Inspection Division be secured regarding the above suggestions prior to the final consideration of these suggestions for adoption.

Destroying Bureau Records

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested observations and suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management program.

To date, several suggestions have been received regarding the consolidation and stripping of files in the field offices. These suggestions are as follows.

(1) By letter dated 8-4-59, the SAC, Washington Field Office, suggested that they be given the authority to consolidate criminal type cases in the same manner that they consolidate applicant type cases. The SAC indicated Bulet, dated 4-21-53, authorized the Washington Field Office to consolidate applicant files as rapidly as they are closed and as rapidly as they can be put together in groups of twenty-five consecutive numbers. The SAC pointed out that if they could follow this procedure in criminal files it would not be necessary to make a special project each six months to consolidate these files.

(2) By letter dated 8-5-59, the SAC, Newark, suggested that consideration be given to consolidating security type files (65-Espionage, 100-Internal Security, and 105-Internal Security Nationalistic Tendencies) after the case has been closed for a period of five years, and at that time extra copies of serials could also be destroyed. The SAC advised that the adoption of this suggestion would effect a space saving.

The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, provides that in security type files the office of origin may destroy all extra copies of serials after the cases have been closed for ten years.

(3) By the same letter, the SAC, Newark, suggested that the field be permitted to consolidate certain control type files, for example the General Investigative Intelligence file, similar to the procedure wherein the criminal cases are consolidated after they have been closed for a period of six months. The SAC points out that consolidation of these types of files would save considerable space.

(4) By letter dated 8-18-59, the SAC, Charlotte, suggested that the Bureau permit consolidation of security type files as allowed in other types of files. The SAC suggested that those files into which current information is being channeled and those files on current organizations be exempt from this rule. The SAC estimates that at least ten file drawers of space could be saved in the Charlotte Office if this consolidation is permitted.

(5) By letter dated 8-21-59, the SAC, Los Angeles, suggested that consideration be given to consolidation of files in the 105 (Internal Security-Nationalistic Tendencies) classification, in the interest of saving space.

(6) By letter dated 8-26-59, the SAC, St. Louis, suggested that security type files be consolidated. They also suggested that the office of origin be permitted to destroy extra copies of each serial in security type files at an earlier date than the present ten year requirement.

(7) By letter dated 8-31-59, the SAC, Seattle, suggested that the office of origin be authorized to strip security type files (65, 100, and 105) of all copies, except one of each serial after the file has been closed for five years, instead of the present ten year retention period.

(8) In the same letter, the SAC, Seattle, suggested that in any type of Bureau case, at the time a report is prepared, the file be purged of all but one copy of office memoranda as the reason for preparation of more than one copy has been fulfilled.

(9) In the same letter the SAC, Seattle, suggested that authority be granted for the stripping of criminal files to a single copy of each serial immediately after the statute of limitations has run.

(10) In the same letter, the SAC, Seattle, suggested that in connection with files opened on subjects of an Identification Order, that in those instances where there have been no leads from within a division, that upon receipt of information from the office of origin that the I.O. fugitive has been apprehended, the file on that subject be stripped and nothing be retained except the I.O. The SAC points out that in the event this is done it may be advisable to retain, in addition to the I.O, the first sheet of the summary report which contains the synopsis. He feels that if an investigation has been conducted in the I.O. case by an auxiliary office that the suggested stripping should not be done.

(11) In the same letter the SAC, Seattle, suggested that the Bureau consider authorizing the field offices to strip any criminal file to a single copy of each serial at the time the file is closed in the office of origin. He points out that stripping the files in this manner would effect an immediate savings of space, permit the disposal of extra serials at a time when the file is being worked on, and eliminate the necessity of pulling the file at the end of six months, when under the current rules, it can be stripped and consolidated.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

Suggestions have merit from records management standpoint and would undoubtedly result in a substantial savings of space throughout the field. Inasmuch as suggestions relate solely to field operations, they should be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for consideration.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for consideration of the above suggestions relating to the consolidation and stripping of field office files.

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested observations and suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Record Management program.

To date, several suggestions have been received relating to the Selective Service (SSA-25) classification for consideration.

(1) By letter dated 8-10-59, the SAC, Savannah, suggested that in SSA cases only one copy of reports be submitted to the Bureau, except for the initial report, which states the delinquency and the closing report which indicates the manner in which the delinquency is cleared. The SAC states that if a report contains information which would have a bearing on the selective service status of the subject, (physical or mental disability, criminal record, etc.) an additional copy could be submitted for dissemination at the Seat of Government. He also pointed out that this would generally occur under the present procedure wherein a copy of this type of report is submitted to the United States Attorney. The SAC pointed out that the majority of the reports submitted in SSA cases primarily concern efforts to locate the subject and appear to be of no particular value to agencies outside the Bureau.

The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 9, page 2, requires the field to submit two copies of reports to the Bureau in all SSA cases with the exception of SSA--1940 (one report required) and Public Law 414, 82nd Congress and Public Law 431, 78th Congress (five copies required).

(2) By letter dated 8-14-59, SAC, Philadelphia, suggested that the Bureau consider having the field handle SSA--1948 cases without submitting a report to the Bureau. The SAC indicated that while his office is aware that the Bureau disseminates these reports to the National Selective Service headquarters, he feels that they are probably basicly interested in statistical data only, which the field office could furnish to the Bureau at regular intervals and eliminate the necessity of congesting the Bureau's files with reports in these cases. The SAC indicated that if adopted, an exception should be made to SSA fugitive cases and Conscientious Objectors.

(3) By letter dated 8-18-59, the SAC, Charlotte, suggested that the Bureau might reconsider the suggestions submitted by Assistant Chief Clerk, [redacted] 12-12-59, that all 25-0 serials over ten years old be destroyed and that the majority of 25 cases consisting mainly of cases where investigation disclosed that the delinquency was not wilful, that those files over ten years old be destroyed.

(4) By letter dated 8-21-59, the SAC, Los Angeles, recommended that all 25-0 files be destroyed prior to 1948. The SAC pointed out that this would save nine feet and eleven inches of space in the Los Angeles Office.

(5) By the same letter the SAC, Los Angeles, suggested that all SSA files prior to 1948 be destroyed in "No Card" cases. The SAC pointed out that in the majority of cases of this type the individual has registered and the information, once checked out, appears to have no permanent value. This material occupies 32 feet and 7 inches of space in the Los Angeles Office.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

From a records management standpoint all of these suggestions have merit in that they would effect a reduction in the volume of permanent records being retained in the field and at the Seat of Government. Inasmuch as these suggestions relate to a classification supervised by the Investigative Division, the comments of that division should be secured concerning each suggestion prior to final consideration of the suggestions. The comments of the Domestic Intelligence Division should also be secured inasmuch as some of the suggestions, if adopted would effect the availability of information in SSA cases for dissemination.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the comments of the Investigative Division and the Domestic Intelligence Division be secured concerning the merits of these suggestions prior to final consideration of the suggestions.

(2) That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review.

INTERNAL SECURITY - X

On March 8, 1948, information was received from the mother-in-law of the subject to the effect that the subject had made many statements that she had obtained enough information to sell to the Russians at a high price; that her father had been a Russian spy; that she and her mother made a lot of money during the war by spying. The mother-in-law also advised that the subject was corresponding with somebody in a foreign language. In addition, the mother-in-law charged that the subject was avaricious, immoral and a heavy drinker. Subject is a native of Poland who in 194[redacted] married [redacted] who was stationed at the Army Post, Frankfurt, Germany. They left Germany on [redacted] with their baby daughter. b6 b7C Investigation indicated that the mother-in-law and the subject were battling over the custody of the child and it appeared that the charges made against the subject which were never substantiated were based on the dislike of the mother-in-law for the subject. During the course of the investigation, the mother-in-law turned over to the Bureau a letter written in the Polish language directed to the subject's husband from an individual in Canada. From the translation of this letter it was apparent that it was meant for the subject and its contents were purely social in nature. The Norfolk Office furnished to the Bureau a film pack containing a photograph of this letter and the developed film forms the bulky exhibit to serial 2 of instant file. The film pack is also a part of this exhibit. The Norfolk Office was furnished a copy of the translation of this letter which has been indexed in the Bureau file. There is no obligation to furnish this instant exhibit to anyone and there appears to be no foreseeable use for the exhibit if retained. Its destruction would not eliminate from the Bureau files data to which we might have to refer in the future. It appears to have no evidentiary value.

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST ACTIVITIES IN GERMANY
INTERNAL SECURITY - GERMANY

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENL.

By memo from Short to McGuire dated 4-14-59 it was requested bulky exhibit 64-200-232-410 be reviewed for decision as to its retention or disposition.

In connection with captured German Document Program, WFO reviewed German documents in possession of Army and submitted pertinent ones to Bureau for review. Copies of these documents were made and the originals returned to Army authorities. The documents in this exhibit were furnished to Bureau in May, 1949, and contained names, background data and photographs of a number of persons reportedly active in the Communist movement in Germany. This material is in the German language. It has been translated into English and the English translation thereof is in the case file and all indexing was made on the translation. There appears to be no reason why the photographic copies of instant documents in the German language should be maintained since we have the translation thereof in the Bureau files.

That this exhibit be destroyed.

During the period January, 194[illegible], to August 15, 1945, a running memorandum was prepared setting forth the salient facts concerning submarine activity off the coasts of the United States. The data contained in this memorandum was taken from the different files on the individual cases relating to submarine activities as well as from the control file in which were placed incidents not worthy of investigation. This information was received from various private individuals and Government agencies. The running memorandum was prepared for the use of the Director but it is not indicated whether it was ever used by him or any other Bureau official. It was not indexed; however, the various documents from which the information in the running memorandum was taken were indexed.

Memo Short to McGuire 4-22-59 recommended that this running memorandum, which is serial 486 of the instant file, be reviewed and a decision rendered as to the retention or disposition of the material. It does not appear that the destruction of this exhibit will eliminate from the Bureau files data to which we might have to refer in the future. The information contained therein at this time appears to have no security significance but it may be of historical value.

RECOMMENDATION:

Since there appears to be no foreseeable use of this document in the future, it is recommended that it be destroyed despite the remote possibility that it may be of value from the historical viewpoint.

On 12-29-39, Captain E. B. Nixon, U.S.N. requested of the Bureau five copies of a set of numerous photographic exhibits of a group of Japanese documents which were photographed by Naval Intelligence. Bureau on 1-6-40 furnished Naval Intelligence the requested number of copies and returned the negatives from which the copies were made. The Bureau maintained a set of the exhibits (which is instant bulky exhibit) for possible future reference. Naval Intelligence did not advise Bureau as to the source of photographs or as to their contents. The entire set is written in Japanese and as a result of a summary translation of the material made by Michael M. Miyatake on 8-20-59 it was determined the material consists of a sectional map of China (four copies) and, the now defunct Japanese Imperial Navy's Officers' Register, undated. The bulky exhibit has not been indexed and has no security classification.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the contents of instant bulky exhibit, fact it has no security classification and since there appears to be no useful purpose for Bureau's retention, it is recommended it be destroyed.

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43, Paragraph C, wherein we requested suggestions and observations to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management Program.

By memorandum from Mr. Donahoe to Mr. Belmont dated July 20, 1959, a suggestion was submitted by SA W. D. Stewart, Domestic Intelligence Division, who suggested that upon receipt of information regarding the death of the subject of an investigation, authority be granted to destroy extra copies of reports in the file relating to this individual or microfilm the entire file or very old sections of the file. He stated that this suggestion may also be of interest to the field to assist them in reducing files.

SA H. Edward McNulty, Seattle Office, recently submitted a suggestion along the same lines, that in security matter cases in the 100 classification, the office of origin be permitted to destroy extra copies of serials in cases where the subject's death has been verified. The Domestic Intelligence Division recommended SA McNulty's suggestion be adopted and felt that it should also include classification 65 (Espionage) and classification 105 (Internal Security-Nationalistic Tendency). By memorandum from Mr. Tamm to Mr. Tolson dated July 21, 1959, (66-3286-835) it was recommended that SA McNulty's suggestion be adopted to include the 65 and 105 classifications. An SAC Letter was sent to the field advising them of the adoption of this suggestion.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS RE SA STEWART'S SUGGESTION:

In regard to SA Stewart's suggestion as it relates to investigative files maintained at the Seat of Government, Records Branch has presently in effect a copy destruction program designed to remove all unnecessary copies of material from Bureau files. This program has been in effect since 1958 and to date approximately 250 five-drawer letter size file cabinets of material has been destroyed in spite of the fact that the program has been operating on a part-time basis consistent with the availability of personnel. In regard to SA Stewart's suggestion that the file be microfilmed, it is not feasible to microfilm individual files because of the many problems which would be created if this were done. In order to maintain our files system sequence, we microfilm large blocks of files, these files being microfilmed in a systematic numerical order.

In regard to SA Stewart's suggestion as it relates to the field office files, the suggestion has already been adopted pertaining to the 65, 100 and 105 classifications. Records Branch feels that this suggestion could possibly be extended to include all of the field office files in the interest of strengthening the Bureau's overall Records Management Program and conserving space throughout the field.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review and that consideration be given to adopting SA Stewart's suggestion to permit destruction of copies of reports in the field in all files where subject's death has been verified.

ADDENDUM BY TRAINING AND INSPECTION DIVISION: AGG:jmp, 8-28-59

Training and Inspection Division concurs in the recommendation that the field be permitted to destroy extra copies of serials in all cases where the death of the subject has been verified.

If approved, the enclosed letter should be sent commending SA Stewart for his suggestion.

If approved, Training and Inspection Division will adjust the wording in Bureau manuals to set forth this rule which now applies only to certain classifications.

Re memorandum Mr. Short to Mr. McGuire dated 4/14/59 which recommended that bulky exhibit 65-52127-79 be reviewed and a decision rendered as to retention or disposition of the material. Bulky consists of Photostats of material submitted by Legat, Lisbon, Portugal, 5/3/44. Legat indicated he had obtained this material, consisting of summaries on various allied intelligence services prepared before the Italian armistice, through the cooperation of Dr. Romeo Foselli, head of the Italian "SIM" (Servizio Informazioni Militari), Counterintelligence, Lisbon, Portugal. Pursuant to Legat's request, material was translated and copies of the translation were made available to him. There is no translation of the material in the bulky. A recent translation of the table of contents prepared by the Laboratory indicates that the material pertains to intelligence service centers in Portugal, intelligence service and communism, intelligence service and Jewish problem, intelligence service and the DeGaullist movement, intelligence service and sabotage, information services of other nations collaborating with the intelligence service, and particular directions of the activity of the intelligence service. A review of the bulky reveals that all this material relates to the years 1941-1942.

None of this material has been indexed and there is no indication as to what purpose it has served. Material appears to be of no current or foreseeable use to Bureau and there is no indication that this material is to be returned to source.

Laboratory has indicated that the bulky is of no value to the Laboratory and, likewise, it is of no value to the Domestic Intelligence Division.

SUBJECT: FILING SYSTEM - RECORDS MANAGEMENT REDUCTION OF NUMBER OF COPIES OF REPORTS AND LETTERHEAD MEMORANDA
FILED IN SECURITY CASES

In connection with the records management survey being conducted pursuant SAC letter number 59-43, consideration has been given to any possible reduction in the number of reports and letterhead memoranda which are submitted and filed in security cases. It is noted that at present only the original of any other type of communication is filed in any one file; however, all five copies of letterhead memoranda and all four to six copies of reports which are submitted to the Bureau are filed with the exception of those which may be disseminated. It has been concluded that no change in the number of letterhead memoranda and reports being submitted is desirable since it has been found that any attempt to reduce the number would be subject to so many contingencies and qualifications that the regulations concerning them would necessarily become overly complicated. It has been concluded, however, that in many instances it does not appear necessary to file all of the copies which are received, since it cannot be anticipated from a practical standpoint that there will be any future need for such copies. The largest group consists of those letterhead memoranda and reports which contain no derogatory information concerning the subject. There appears to be no reason why excess copies should not be destroyed by the supervisor prior to filing.

By memo 4-15-59, from Short to McGuire, it was requested that bulky exhibit 61-7560-11690 be reviewed for decision as to its retention or disposition.

This exhibit has been reviewed and consists of Photostats of the publication entitled "Deutscher Reichsanzeiger und Preussischer Staatsanzeiger" which were made by the Mechanical Section of the Laboratory from originals obtained by the WFO from the Library of Congress. The Photostats of this publication cover the year 1939 and contain lists of names of German citizens who were expatriated. These Photostats were furnished Bureau on October 11, 1940. The names appearing on the Photostats have not been indexed. There appears to be no present use for this exhibit and there is no future foreseeable use to Bureau of this exhibit.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this exhibit be destroyed.

By airtel 5-25-55 New York Office sent to the Bureau a tape recording of an interview with Oppenheimer by Edward R. Murrow during his 1-4-55 television program "See It Now." This conversation was reduced to a memo, a copy of which was sent to AEC on 6-16-55. This memo is appropriately indexed. The transcript indicated that conversation covered the work and personnel at the Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, New Jersey, of which Oppenheimer then was and still is director. There was nothing of a security nature discussed.

Memo Short to McGuire 7-29-59 requested that this tape recording be reviewed and a decision rendered as to its retention or disposition. It is noted the New York Office made this recording from a film furnished it by the television station. The film was returned to the television station and there is no need to return the tape recording to the New York Office. There appears to be no foreseeable use for this recording if it is retained. Neither does it appear that destruction of this tape recording will eliminate from our files data to which we might have to refer in the future.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the tape recording which is the bulky exhibit to serial 2189 of this file be destroyed.

Re memorandum Mr. Short to Mr. McGuire 4/14/59 which recommended that bulky exhibit 65-21187-17 be reviewed and a decision rendered as to retention or disposition of the [illegible] photographic copies of two [illegible] issued to Johanna Christine Bushmann, and the [illegible] to Joseph Piel. These were furnished to the Bureau through the Italian Central Office of International Criminal Police in December 1949. We were advised that these resulted through the [illegible] of a group of forgers of passports in Milan. These data, [illegible] with photographic reproductions of the passports, were furnished to the Department of State on 1/16/50 and, at the same time, we advised the Italian police of this reference. On 3/9/50 we were advised by State that the data that we furnished to State had also been communicated to that Department through the American Consulate General at Milan, Italy; that an investigation instituted by the Department was then under way; and that appropriate information would be communicated to the Italian authorities through the Consulate General at Milan when the investigation was completed. This information was relayed by us on March 21, 1950, to the Italian police. (S)(W)

No investigation concerning this matter was conducted by the Bureau; there appears to be no obligation to return bulky to original source; data relating to the passports are contained in the main case file and names appearing on passports have been indexed. There appears to be no foreseeable use of this material by the Bureau and it is believed there is no longer any reason to retain material.

1. UNSUB cases where no suspects are developed.
2. Loss of property involved is less than $5,000, and Files and records in field division may be destroyed after they become 20 years old (Part II, Section 3, Page 13, Manual of R & R).

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Provides more space for records.

Approximately 120 drawers are now utilized by the Seattle Division for storing closed cases in the above classifications. It is estimated that at least 8 drawers would be available immediately if files were destroyed under these rules, and at least 4 drawers per year would be available each year thereafter.

It is believed that if this project were confined to the limitations outlined a great deal of good could be accomplished in the way of space-saving, with little likelihood of anything being destroyed of real or material value.

It is observed that only UNSUB. cases are involved where the Statute of Limitations has already run and where the loss of property is less than $5000.

Suggestion #139-60

As a result of SAC Letter 59-43, C, wherein we requested suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management Program, several similar suggestions have been received suggesting that substantive supervisors destroy surplus copies of documents prior to sending the original material to file. In addition, SA W. D. Stewart, Domestic Intelligence Division, has suggested that the second copy of the cover page (FD-263) of reports be destroyed. Details of these suggestions are set forth in the attached memorandum from Short to me dated September 2, 1959.

Records Branch is very much in favor of adoption of this procedure and feels it should be implemented to the greatest possible degree. The suggestion is consistent with sound records management procedures which attempt to keep filing of records at a minimum. The Domestic Intelligence Division, the Investigative Division and the Training and Inspection Division are in agreement with the adoption of this suggestion. This procedure is already being followed in the Administrative Division in the handling of Bureau applicant reports (two copies received, one of these copies is used for work purposes and is subsequently destroyed).

In regard to SA Stewart's suggestion, the preparation of the second copy of the cover page of a report by the field is necessary and is used in many instances where multiple files are involved. Of course, this cannot be predetermined and in those instances where the copy is not needed, it could be destroyed.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That substantive supervisors be authorized to destroy all surplus copies of material prior to sending the original material to file. If approved, there is attached a proposed memorandum to all Bureau Officials and Supervisors.

2. If approved, the enclosed letter should be sent to SA W. Donald Stewart advising of the adoption of his suggestion that the second copy of cover page (FD-263) of reports be destroyed before filing.

RE: Submission of Copies of Reports

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested observations and suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management Program.

By memorandum from Donahoe to Belmont dated 7-20-59, SA W. D. Stewart, Domestic Intelligence Division, suggested that a printed form be utilized, similar to SF-64 (Office Memorandum) in heading, and having a single printed sentence as follows: "The Bureau desires that it be furnished ____ copies of reports in captioned matter." He further proposed that a few inches below this sentence could appear in capital letters printed or typed the words "Copy Change." SA Stewart feels that the above described form could be used to give the Bureau greater flexibility in decreasing the number of copies of reports required for appropriate dissemination. He suggests that one copy of the form would be maintained in the main file of the subject and one copy would be forwarded to each interested field office for retention in its main file for guidance in submitting future reports in that particular case. He points out that this suggestion would bring about a savings in the preparation of a dictated letter to the field and would reduce the bulk of unnecessary copies of reports in Bureau files. He also feels that some savings would be effected in mailing costs. It is SA Stewart's idea that this form would be used only for the purpose of reducing the number of copies of reports being designated for the Bureau and not for the purpose of requesting more copies of reports than required by the Manual of Rules and Regulations.

The Streamlining Committee of the Nationalities Intelligence Section, Domestic Intelligence Division, considered that suggestion and recommended its adoption.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

The Manual of Rules and Regulations specifies the number of copies of reports the field is required to submit in all investigative classifications. Undoubtedly there are many instances where the field in compliance with these Manual requirements submits copies which are not used. The substantive supervisor supervising the investigation at the Seat of Government knows how many copies are needed for dissemination in each case. The use of a form as suggested by SA Stewart would permit the supervisor to decrease the number of copies submitted if the need for these copies did not exist. The Records Branch believes that this form could also be used to increase the number of copies submitted if necessary in a particular investigation.

The Records Branch recommends adoption of suggestion.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the comments of the Investigative Division be secured prior to final consideration of this suggestion.

(2) That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review.

ADDENDUM BY TRAINING AND INSPECTION DIVISION: AGG:jmp 9-15-59

The Investigative Division advises it will have no use for the proposed form since the number of copies of reports being submitted by the field has been very carefully analyzed on a number of occasions and the minimum number of reports are being received in all classifications supervised by that Division at the present time. In view of the limited use to be made of the proposed form, Training and Inspection Division is opposed to adoption of it for general use. It is doubtful that Domestic Intelligence Division would have sufficient use for the form to justify adoption as a division form in view of the fact dissemination to be made of many security-type reports is rather definitely pre-determined and has been considered in deciding how many copies should be prepared by the field.

RECOMMENDATION: That this suggestion not be adopted. If approved, no further action is necessary.

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. Eames to Mr. McGuire, dated 5/22/59, which recommended that bulky exhibit 64-20986-61 be reviewed and a decision rendered as to retention or disposition of the material. Bulky consists of Photostats of various communications in the Spanish language, together with copies of the translation, between Spanish Legation in Quito, Ecuador, and the Spanish Government in Madrid, relating to work of routine nature pertaining to Spanish affairs, as well as accepted duties of Spanish Legation in Quito to be custodian of German, Italian, and Japanese nationals in Ecuador, pertaining to years 1942 and 1943. Material was obtained through source [redacted] b7D

Material was translated from the Spanish to English language and copies of translation furnished to Legat, Quito, and to State Department. Pursuant to Bureau instructions, Legat incorporated into report form pertinent data contained therein which is maintained in substantive case file.

There is no obligation to return material to original source; material in bulky was never indexed; and there is no foreseeable use of this material if retained.

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested ideas to strengthen the Bureau's Record Management program.

By letter dated 8-13-59, the SAC, New Orleans, pointed out the negative contacts with criminal informants and potential criminal informants are presently recorded on form FD-209. The originals of this form are filed in the informant file and copies are routed to the various files on which the informant was contacted. These copies are then made inserts in the file and routed to the Agent to whom the case is assigned. They are subsequently destroyed when the negative data is incorporated in a report or other communication. The SAC pointed out that the original FD-209 filed in the informant file then serves no useful purpose other than to record a contact with the informant.

The SAC suggests that a sheet be placed in the informant files to record the date and identity of Agent making negative contact and that such contacts be reported by routing slip, which after being recorded in the informant file, would be routed to the Agent to whom the case is assigned. The SAC proposes that the routing slip be destroyed after the information has been incorporated in a report or other communication. The SAC points out that this would relieve the Chief Clerk's Office of the necessity of serializing and filing negative FD-209's, as well as the necessity of making inserts of the copies and forwarding them to the Agent to whom the substantive case is assigned. He pointed out that this would also eliminate the retention of unnecessary negative type material in the informant files.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

Records Branch feels suggestion has merit from records management standpoint in that negative type information would not be permanently filed. Use of form as recommended would permanently record informant contacts and at same time would eliminate filing of a piece of mail each time a contact is made, thus effecting savings of time in the Chief Clerk's Office and a savings of filing space. Inasmuch as the criminal informant program is administered by the Investigative Division, comments of that division should be secured prior to final consideration of suggestion. Inasmuch as it is possible that this same type of procedure might be applied to contacts with security informants, the observations of the Domestic Intelligence Division should be secured.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the comments of the Investigative Division and the Domestic Intelligence Division be secured concerning the merits of this suggestion.

2. That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review.

ADDENDUM BY TRAINING AND INSPECTION DIVISION:

The views of the Domestic Intelligence and Investigative Divisions have been obtained and both divisions recommend the suggestion not be adopted. Neither division can see any advantage to using a "floating serial" in each informant's file for recording instances of negative contacts with the informant. The Bureau has always been opposed to "floating serials" because of the careful handling required, the chance for mistake and the extra work incident thereto. It is important that our informants be used to full advantage; our present procedure helps assure this; the suggested procedure would not be as effective.

RECOMMENDATION: That this suggestion not be adopted. If approved, no further action is necessary.

FD-209 is record maintained in the administrative file of the informant on which is recorded the date and file numbers of cases involved when contacts with informants prove negative and the date only when contacts result in positive information. Results of positive information are recorded by memoranda in the informant's subfile. By means of this form there is maintained, in a convenient manner, the identities of the cases concerning which a specific informant has been contacted.

When an Agent desires a security informant questioned, the practice is to set forth the information desired on a routing slip and submit it to the Agent who is assigned to contact the informant. If inquiry with informant proves negative, the routing slip is returned to the inquiring Agent with notation. The inquiring Agent then incorporates this information in the substantive case file by report or other communication and destroys the routing slip. The contacting Agent in turn indicates the negative contact on the FD-209 and places it in the informant's administrative file. Instructions in Section 107F of the Manual of Instructions pertaining to security informants permits FD-209 to be used for several contacts.

SAC New Orleans notes negative contacts with criminal informants are presently recorded on FD-209. This form is thereafter filed in informant's file and copies are forwarded to the case Agent. SAC points out that after the case Agent has incorporated the negative information in a report or other communication it is then destroyed. In place of FD-209 he suggests that a sheet be placed in informant's file to compile such negative contacts and that negative results be handled by routing slip to be later destroyed when incorporated in a report or other communication by case Agent.

There appears to be no advantage in substituting a sheet of paper in lieu of the present practice of the field in using FD-209 in security cases involving negative contacts with informants. A similar suggestion re handling of FD-209 was set forth in Baumgardner to Belmont memorandum 4-14-59 captioned "Suggestion Number 1095-59, Special Agent [redacted] Norfolk Office." It was recommended and approved that no change be made in the use of form FD-209.

b6
b7C

RECOMMENDATION:

The practice of administering negative security informant contacts through use of FD-209 has proven efficient, practical, and simple and no change in its current use insofar as it concerns security informants is recommended.

ADDENDUM: INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION HJM:swb September 11, 1959

The suggestion from the New Orleans Office recommends the FD-209 not be utilized in negative contacts but that a sheet be placed in the informant's file to compile such negative contacts. The SAC said that this would eliminate the retention of unnecessary negative-type material in the informant's file.

The Investigative Division recommends that the present use of FD-209 for recording of negative contacts with criminal informants be continued for the following reasons:

(1) One of the important things in contacts with our informants is to make certain that the Agents are utilizing the full potential of informants in criminal cases. The only way we can actually know whether our informants are being contacted is to list the cases concerning which a contact is made. This is done by the use of FD-209.

(2) To have a sheet of paper on top of the informant's file to record negative contacts would be in the nature of a "floating serial." The Bureau has consistently opposed the use of "floating serials."

(66-18966)

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested observations and suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Record Management program.

By letter dated 8-5-59, the SAC, Newark pointed out that security type cases, especially in the 100 (internal security) classification, contain numerous memoranda which are prepared for the purpose of disseminating information furnished by informants. The SAC stated that since the original copy of this memoranda is maintained in the informant's file in all instances, it is suggested that the duplicate copies which are maintained in various substantive files be destroyed after the pertinent information is included in a report.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

From a records management standpoint the suggested procedure is desirable in that permanent retention of copies of documents of this type are eliminated. Even though a copy of the informant's report would be destroyed (original copy available in informant file), the report prepared on the subject would contain information furnished by the informant. The comments of the Domestic Intelligence Division should be secured prior to final consideration of this suggestion.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That this memorandum be referred to Domestic Intelligence Division for comments prior to the final consideration of this suggestion.

2. That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review.

ADDENDUM DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION 9-9-59

In considering the suggestion by SAC, Newark, for destruction of duplicate copies of channelizing memoranda after pertinent information is included in a report, Domestic Intelligence Division (DID) finds this proposal has a major disadvantage which militates against its adoption. It is true the original of a channelizing memorandum, retained in the informant's file, contains a notation showing a copy was designated for a particular investigative file. However, unless such copy is kept permanently in the investigative file, there can always be a reasonable doubt that the copy designated never reached the case file if subsequent inquiry develops that pertinent information from an informant or source was not included in report form. Presence of a copy of the channelizing memorandum in the investigative case file precludes rise of such doubt. It is the final proof that the informant's information did get into the proper file and that its inclusion or omission in subsequent reports is a matter resting solely on the Agent handling the particular case subject involved.

In view of the above, and because the importance of an informant's information sometimes cannot be truly evaluated except in light of future events, DID does not feel any loophole should be left - as it could through destruction of copies of channelizing memoranda - and recommends against adoption of Newark's suggestion.

Training and Inspection Division concurs in recommendation this suggestion not be adopted. If approved, no further action is necessary.

Suggestion #1142-10

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested observations and suggestions to strengthen the Records Management program of the Bureau.

By letter dated 8-13-59, the SAC, Indianapolis, submitted a suggestion by Chief Clerk [redacted] who suggested that consideration be given to discontinuing the maintenance and filing of newspaper clippings pertaining to the Crimdel program. The SAC, Indianapolis, indicated that that office maintains an individual file containing newspaper clippings which are used as basis for information set out in the Crimdel airtels to the Bureau, and also maintains an individual file for resident agencies. It is the SAC's opinion that all field offices maintain these newspaper clippings in a similar fashion. The SAC points out that at the present time the Indianapolis Office has approximately twenty-seven to twenty-eight volumes of this material which take up considerable space and also require much clerical work to maintain.

The SAC recommends that newspaper clippings that are the basis for the Crimdel airtels not be maintained but be destroyed immediately upon the pertinent information being incorporated in the Crimdel airtel and that the Crimdel airtel reflect the source of the pertinent information contained therein. The SAC indicated that this can be done by placing at the beginning or end of a paragraph, the source (newspaper, date, etc.).

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

Records Branch feels that this suggestion has merit from records management standpoint and would result in considerable saving of space throughout the field. However, since administration of the Crimdel program is handled by the Central Research Section, Domestic Intelligence Division, their comments should be secured prior to final consideration of this suggestion.

ADDENDUM: 9/9/59 CGC:mst

Field offices have never been instructed by the Bureau to maintain a file which would contain newspaper clippings for Crimdel purposes. If the need should ever arise to locate the original source of a questioned item it is believed the office involved could readily obtain the information desired by going to the newspaper morgue, local library, or in extreme cases to the Congressional Library. In addition, the office can always go to the police agency which, in the vast majority of cases, is the newspaper's original source. Occasionally, it might be necessary for an office to maintain a newspaper clipping when the source might be questionable or documentation might be difficult to secure at a future date.

Central Research Section feels that these records should be destroyed if the original source is available.

benefits. We are proceeding as rapidly as possible with this program consistent with the availability of personnel.

The Records Branch is very much in favor of the several suggestions advanced by the various divisions that surplus copies of all documents not needed be destroyed by substantive supervisory employees and feels that this suggestion should be implemented to the greatest possible degree. This approach of destroying surplus copies of material prior to being filed is consistent with efficient records management which attempts to control creation of records and once created strive to keep the filing of these records to a minimum. Records Branch feels that the substantive supervisor supervising the investigation is in the best position to know whether copies will be of any future value for dissemination purposes or otherwise.

Inasmuch as the Records Branch is responsible for an accounting of all copies, if suggestion is adopted it will be incumbent on supervisory employees destroying copies to make proper notation on original reflecting disposition of copies accounting for all copies submitted.

Records Branch recommends that substantive supervisors be authorized to destroy all surplus copies of documents prior to sending the original material to file. If approved, there is attached "Memorandum To All Bureau Officials and Supervisors" concerning this matter.

OTHER SUGGESTIONS RECEIVED CONCERNING DESTRUCTION OF COPIES:

As a result of SAC Letter 59-43, C, a number of other suggestions have been received suggesting that copies be purged from existing files. These suggestions we received from the following sources: (1) Memorandum from Tamm to Tolson dated 7-15-59, page 2, paragraph 2; (2) memorandum from Donahoe to Belmont dated 7-20-59, suggestion submitted by SA W. D. Stewart; (3) memorandum from Donahoe to Belmont dated 7-20-59, items 3, 5 and 6; memorandum from Conroy to Rosen dated 7-28-59, items 2, 3, 4 and 5. As previously set forth, the Records Branch already has authority to purge copies from existing files and has been engaged in this operation since February, 1958, and we are progressing as rapidly as possible consistent with the availability of personnel. Inasmuch as we already have in operation this procedure, no further action is necessary in regard to the suggestions listed above.

Suggestion #139-60

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43, C, wherein we requested observations and suggestions regarding ways to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management Program.

We have received several similar suggestions relating to the destruction of surplus copies of documents by the substantive supervisors. These suggestions are as follows: (1) By memorandum from Conroy to Rosen dated July 18, the Accounting and Fraud Section, Investigative Division, suggested that instructions be issued to supervisors at the Seat of Government (SOG) to send only one copy of teletypes, airtels and memoranda to file. (2) In the same memorandum, the Employees Security Section pointed out that in the handling of Security of Government Employees and United Nations loyalty cases, for various reasons, it is sometimes not necessary to disseminate all copies of a report in a particular case and suggested that the supervisors be permitted to destroy any excess or surplus copies of reports at the time the mail is assembled for transmittal to the Records Branch. (3) In the same memorandum, the Special Inquiry Section proposed that all copies of airtels, letters, etc., be destroyed before the serials are placed in file. (4) By memorandum from Donahoe to Belmont dated July 20, 1959, SA W. D. Stewart, Domestic Intelligence Division, proposed that the second copy of the cover page (FD-263) of reports be destroyed. (5) By memorandum from Branigan to Belmont dated August 10, 1959, the Domestic Intelligence Division proposed that supervisors be given authority on a permissive basis to destroy excess copies of letterhead memoranda and reports in any case where they contain no derogatory information or where there is no other reason to anticipate any future need for such copies.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS:

As you know, the Records Branch has been engaged in a Copy Destruction Program since February, 1958, when we were given authority to purge all extra copies of reports and correspondence from Bureau files pertaining to cases ten years old or older. This program has been of considerable benefit to the Records Branch already resulting in a substantial savings in filing space and many other intangible

DESTROY COPY AFTER FILING

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That substantive supervisors be authorized to destroy all surplus copies of material prior to sending the original material to file, in line with our Records Management Program designed to eliminate valueless and obsolete material from the Bureau's files. If approved, there is attached a proposed Memorandum to all Bureau Officials and Supervisors.

2. That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review and acknowledgment if necessary.
Training and Inspection Division concurs in above recommendation.

3. If approved, enclosed letter should be sent to SA W. Donald Stewart advising of the adoption of his suggestion that second copy of cover page (FD-263) of reports be destroyed before filing.

(66-18966)

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested observations and suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management program.

By a letter dated 8-14-59, the SAC, Boston, suggested that routine correspondence maintained in the speech files be destroyed one year after date of same rather than three years as is done at the present. The SAC indicated that this would save two file drawers of space in the Boston Office.

The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 14, permits destruction of this type of material after three years.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

This suggestion is desirable from a records management standpoint in that the period of retention of correspondence of temporary value only is decreased, and it would result in a savings of filing space in the field. However, inasmuch as this program is supervised by the Crime Records Division, comments of that division should be secured prior to the final consideration of this suggestion.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That this memorandum be referred to the Crime Records Division for comment in connection with the above listed suggestion.

2. This memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review.

The routine correspondence to various law enforcement officials which the Boston office wants to destroy after one year appears to be that relating to police training schools and is maintained in a separate file from correspondence relating to cooperation or difficulties with a police agency. Training and Inspection Division has no objection if this routine police school correspondence is destroyed after one year but since the newspaper clippings are needed for two years, perhaps the same rule should apply to the routine correspondence. This would eliminate some duplication of effort in removing material for destruction and would assure coverage of an adequate period of time for checking during field inspections.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the field be authorized to destroy when two years old, the routine correspondence and newspaper clippings relative to police training schools. If approved, Training and Inspection Division will list these items in appropriate section of Manual of Rules and Regulations. Destruction of Bureau Records

SUGGESTION: That Alien Enemy Registration Index Cards in Field Office Indices be destroyed. These cards originally referred to Alien Enemy Registration files maintained in our offices, but which were destroyed after World War II; any data of importance or value was placed in an individual case file or indexed in a general file and the rest was destroyed.

BACKGROUND: SAC Letter 78, Series 1947, dated 6-24-47, advised the field that the Bureau had received authority from National Archives for the destruction of all Alien Enemy Registration Files in the field offices of the FBI. It was instructed that the index cards concerning these files should remain in the general indices since the notation on these cards that the subject was involved in Alien Enemy Registration would serve as notice that further information could be obtained by contacting the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

On 12-5-52 the Executives Conference considered and recommended unfavorably the suggestion that the Alien Enemy Registration Index Cards in the San Francisco Office (some 60,000 to 70,000 of them) be destroyed as no longer needed. (Bufile 100-200-332) It was estimated that these cards in the San Francisco Office were occupying cabinet space costing approximately $675. At that time the New York Office, which had approximately 300,000 such Alien Registration Index Cards, was opposed to destruction of the cards since they provided a lead and a flag to search Immigration and Naturalization Service files when necessary. The current suggestion is from the New York Office and has the approval of the office streamlining committee, the ASAC conference of that office, and the SAC.

Executives Conference Memorandum
Re: Suggestion #35-60
Submitted by Mrs. [redacted] b6 b7C
New York Office

ADVANTAGES STATED: The suggester points out that with all these Alien Enemy Registration Index Cards in the office indices, it is necessary each time an indices search is made to list any of these which might be on the same name. This means considerable work on the part of the Chief Clerk's Office in listing such references and time on the part of the agents and file reviewers. Many of these former alien enemies are now deceased, have been relocated or have become citizens, and the bare information that subject was once an alien enemy is of little help. All aliens are now required to register annually and current records can be checked if it is desired to determine whether or not a given person is an alien. Destruction of these cards would save about 10 indices cabinets in the New York Office alone.

RECOMMENDATION: The Training and Inspection Division favors destruction of these Alien Enemy Registration Index Cards in all field offices at this time; the Bureau already has Archival authority to destroy them. (100-200-319)

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION: On 9/14/59 the Executives Conference, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, McGuire, Rosen, Clayton, Trotter, Parsons, Callahan, Wick and Tamm, unanimously recommended the adoption of the above suggestion. RECORDS MANAGEMENT
(66-18966)

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested observations and suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management Program.

By memorandum from Donahoe to Belmont dated 7-31-59, SA W. D. Stewart, Domestic Intelligence Division, suggested (Suggestion #72-60) that the field be permitted to exercise good judgment and reduce the number of copies for itself in pending inactive cases from two or three copies to one copy when it has no need for the additional copy or copies and the only reason for their preparation is to comply with Manual instructions (Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 9, Pages 1-15, specifies the number of copies the field is required to prepare in each classification).

SA Stewart points out that if the field is authorized and encouraged to reduce the number of copies designated for itself in particular cases, where good judgment dictates and where it is obvious that additional copies are not needed, a savings in file space can be made. He feels that it would be impractical to issue instructions to the field to submit a particular number of copies of a report for individual situations, however, the objective could be accomplished if the field had authority to reduce copies for itself where practical. He points out that the field could, if deemed necessary, set forth a statement on the cover page of the report as to why it is deviating from the required number of copies of reports prepared for itself.

The Streamlining Committee, Nationalities Intelligence Section and the Espionage Section, recommended that this suggestion be adopted. The Subversive Control Section is opposed to the extension of this suggestion to security cases of subjects who may be subject to apprehension/detention under the emergency detention program on the basis that the copies required by the Manual would be needed in the event of a national emergency.

Several similar type suggestions have been received from the field concerning the preparation of copies. These suggestions are as follows:

(1) By letter dated 8-5-59, the SAC Albuquerque, suggested that in most cases where the only leads set out are in the headquarters city, one copy of a report for the submitting office would be sufficient instead of the two copies presently required by the Manual. The SAC recommends that the preparation of two copies of a pending report for the submitting office be made optional with a second copy being prepared only when the dictating Agent feels it is necessary.

(2) By letter dated 8-14-59, the SAC Philadelphia, suggested that the Bureau modify the regulations which require that the office of origin be furnished with two copies of all reports unless otherwise indicated. The SAC points out that one copy of the report would be sufficient in those instances where leads are not set out in a report and even though it might be necessary at times to charge out the only copy of the report to the Agent handling the case, the space savings that would accrue would overcome this drawback.

(3) By letter dated 8-21-59, the SAC Los Angeles, indicated that in security type cases in which Los Angeles is the office of origin, two copies of the report are considered sufficient and suggested that the preparation of a third copy be discontinued inasmuch as the second copy is available for dissemination when necessary.

(4) By letter dated 8-20-59, the SAC St. Louis, suggested that the necessity of preparing multiple copies for office of origin in security cases should be re-evaluated and feels that the office of origin copies could be reduced from three to two or even one copy.

(5) By letter dated 8-28-59, the SAC Baltimore submitted a suggestion by SA [redacted] who suggested that the number of copies of reports prepared for the office of origin in Security Matter - C cases be reduced from three to two copies. He pointed out that a large volume of these reports are prepared and that three copies are retained in the event of hostility, with one copy to go to the U. S. Attorney and one copy to the Hearings Board. SA [redacted] feels that the copy forwarded to the U. S. Attorney could be furnished to the Hearings Board if necessary. b6 b7C

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS:

While suggestions do not relate to Records Branch operations at the Seat of Government, they do relate to strengthening the Records Management Program throughout the field in that the number of copies of reports prepared for field office files could be reduced based upon the judgment of the dictator. This would result in a savings of both space and materials needed in the field. Undoubtedly, there are many instances where preparation of additional copies of reports for the field are unnecessary. The dictator is in the best position to determine this and be having some latitude in the preparation of copies could effect substantial savings to the Bureau. From a records management standpoint, the Records Branch feels these suggestions have considerable merit and should be adopted.

Comments are being requested from the Investigative Division and the Domestic Intelligence Division prior to final consideration of these suggestions.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the observations of the Investigative Division and the observations of the Domestic Intelligence Division as relates to the suggestions received from the field be secured prior to the final consideration of these proposals.

2. That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review and acknowledgment if adopted.

The SAC pointed out that the preparation of this register is no longer required, however, the existing rules set out in the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 15, states that this register will be retained for a period of three years.

The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 15, authorizes destruction of number one registers, number three cards, and daily reports, when these records are three years old.

RECORD BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

These suggestions have merit from the Records ~~Branch~~ MANAGEMENT standpoint in that the period for retention of records of temporary value only would be decreased. Destruction of these files would undoubtedly make available a substantial amount of filing space. SUBJECT: DISPOSAL OF TIME AND ATTENDANCE RECORDS

Destruction of Bureau Property

Reference is made to the memorandum from Mr. Short to Mr. McGuire dated 9/1/59 entitled "Records Management," in which he reviews several suggestions from SACs for destroying number three cards, daily reports, and number one registers. Since these records are also construed to be primary or basic accounting documents from which salary costs are computed, and since the writer in the past has had occasion to deal with similar suggestions on the same subject, Mrs. [redacted] in the Personnel Section, asked me for my views in the matter. b6 b7C

This whole question boils down to the necessity for getting a clear perspective of the basic functions of the mentioned documents. With respect to time and attendance and salary cost computations, under General Accounting Office (GAO) Regulation 102, none of the documents mentioned above are prescribed and agencies are required to have employees initial the Time and Attendance Cards (Standard Form 1130) for any absences. This card thus constitutes the primary and basic attendance and leave record. Under GAO regulation it must be kept for a period of three years before being destroyed, and in the event of resignation, the final card is kept for a period of ten years. Under this procedure in the event of a dispute concerning an employee's attendance or absence, the only document that need be consulted is the Time and Attendance Card (SF-1130).

At the time Regulation 102 originally went into effect, the Bureau, with respect to Special Agents, requested and received from GAO permission to substitute for Standard Form 1130 the number three cards, the daily reports, and the number one registers (which are also used by clerical employees), together with a posting on Standard Form 1130 of the information derived from those records of the data relating to (1) the carry forward of leave, (2) the accrued leave, (3) the leave taken, and (4) the leave remaining to be credited an employee at the beginning of the next pay period. Thus, under the Bureau's procedure, all four of the mentioned documents go to make up the primary or basic documents from which the information is taken as to an employee's attendance or leave and on which salary computations are based. Thus, in case of a dispute concerning an employee's attendance or

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43, Paragraph C, wherein we requested suggestions and observations to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management Program.

By memorandum from Mr. Donahoe to Mr. Belmont dated July 20, 1959, a suggestion was submitted by SA W. D. Stewart, Domestic Intelligence Division, who suggested that upon receipt of information regarding the death of the subject of an investigation, authority be granted to destroy extra copies of reports in the file relating to this individual or microfilm the entire file or very old sections of the file. He stated that this suggestion may also be of interest to the field to assist them in reducing files.

SA H. Edward McNulty, Seattle Office, recently submitted a suggestion along the same lines, that in security matter cases in the 100 classification, the office of origin be permitted to destroy extra copies of serials in cases where the subject's death has been verified. The Domestic Intelligence Division recommended SA McNulty's suggestion be adopted and felt that it should also include classification 65 (Espionage) and classification 105 (Internal Security-Nationalistic Tendency). By memorandum from Mr. Tamm to Mr. Tolson dated July 21, 1959, (66-3286-835) it was recommended that SA McNulty's suggestion be adopted to include the 65 and 105 classifications. An SAC Letter was sent to the field advising them of the adoption of this suggestion.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS RE SA STEWART'S SUGGESTION:

In regard to SA Stewart's suggestion as it relates to investigative files maintained at the Seat of Government, Records Branch has presently in effect a copy destruction program designed to remove all unnecessary copies of material from Bureau files. This program has been in effect since 1958 and to date approximately 250 five-drawer letter size file cabinets of material has been destroyed in spite of the fact that the program has been operating on a part-time basis consistent with the availability of personnel. In regard to SA Stewart's suggestion that the file be microfilmed, it is not feasible to microfilm individual files because of the many problems which would be created if this were done. In order to maintain our files system sequence, we microfilm large blocks of files, these files being microfilmed in a systematic numerical order.

In regard to SA Stewart's suggestion as it relates to the field office files, the suggestion has already been adopted pertaining to the 65, 100 and 105 classifications. Records Branch feels that this suggestion could possibly be extended to include all of the field office files in the interest of strengthening the Bureau's overall Records Management Program and conserving space throughout the field.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review and that consideration be given to adopting SA Stewart's suggestion to permit destruction of copies of reports in the field in all files where subject's death has been verified.

ADDENDUM BY TRAINING AND INSPECTION DIVISION: AGG:jmp 8-28-59

Training and Inspection Division concurs in the recommendation that the field be permitted to destroy extra copies of serials in all cases where the death of the subject has been verified.

If approved, the enclosed letter should be sent commending SA Stewart for his suggestion.

If approved, Training and Inspection Division will adjust the wording in Bureau manuals to set forth this rule which now applies only to certain classifications.

By memo from Short to McGuire dated 4-17-59 it was requested bulky exhibit 65-51317-610 be reviewed for decision as to its retention or disposition.

This exhibit has been reviewed and consists of a set of index cards reflecting messages prepared or cleared by the Joint Chiefs of Staff. These index cards were prepared by the supervisor at the SOG who was handling this case in 1945 and they were maintained by him as a ready reference as this was the only way the deceptive messages sent could be readily grouped. This case is closed. It involved a double agent operation involving radio contact with Germany. All messages are duplicated in files, both in reports and radio logs.

RECOMMENDATION:

There appears to be no present use for this exhibit and no future foreseeable use to Bureau. Recommend this exhibit be destroyed.

Re memorandum Mr. Eames to Mr. McGuire dated June 10, 1959, which recommended that bulky exhibit 65-31442-59 be reviewed and a decision rendered as to retention or disposition of the material. Musa was the subject of an extensive investigation which resulted in an indictment being returned against him in the Southern District of New York charging him with acting as an unnotified agent of the French Government. A naturalized citizen of Swiss birth, Musa was accused specifically of having been paid by French Ambassador Gaston Henry-Haye for disseminating Vichy Government propaganda. On September 22, 1942, Musa, through his attorney, filed a demurrer to this indictment claiming that it charged insufficient allegations to enable Musa to properly defend himself. Although the U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of New York indicated that he would reindict Musa, he subsequently advised that no further prosecutive action would be taken against this individual.

The bulky consists of a roll of film and translation from French of items relating to captioned matter. Most of the material was dated in 1940 and 1941, related to both personnel and official items of Musa, some of which were on stationery of the French Embassy, Washington, D. C., and translations were furnished to the New York Office with instructions to incorporate pertinent material in investigative report.

SUBJECT: RECORDS MANAGEMENT - FILING SYSTEM SUGGESTION CONCERNING Suggestion #131-60

Special Agent Bernard L. Huelskamp, Liaison Section, Domestic Intelligence Division, submitted a suggestion concerning above-captioned matter which is set forth in the enclosed memorandum.

Briefly the suggestion deals with the setting up of a filing and records destruction system for administrative, informative, and similar-type materials.

The Liaison Section Streamlining Committee, after consideration, concluded that the determination of the suggestion's merit lies within the prerogative of the Records Branch, Files and Communications Division.

Incoming mail of this type from field offices; i.e, Results of Bureau-instituted field office surveys or evaluation of field programs, could be similarly flagged by the submitting office and upon receipt at the Bureau handled accordingly.

Recording and Filing

The material sent to file marked for later destruction would be filed separately. Abstracts would be destroyed. The recording of the article for file would be by destruction date rather than character number. For example, a piece of mail whose value is estimated to not exceed October 15, 1960, would be recorded as follows:

60 - 10 - 15 - 6
(Year) (Month) (Day) (Serial Number)

It is recognized that two (or more) items dealing with the same subject matter, but with different dates, would not be filed together. However, the over-all advantage gained by the system should outweigh this limitation. At any time prior to the destruction of the item, if its value were reassessed, it could be removed from the destruction file and refiled for a later destruction date or for permanent retention.

Destruction of Article and Index Cards

The location of material for destruction then becomes a simple matter since the destruction dates are arranged [illegible].

As a further refinement, index cards concerning these items could be periodically purged from indices by using colored [illegible] i.e., file destruction system set up on 2-year [illegible] when every 3 months a new colored card would be used [illegible]. After 2 years the first colored index card used [illegible] pulled and destroyed, after 2 years and 3 months, the [illegible] etc. This system could be altered to fit the need.

Personnel

It is recognized that this plan as all plans, has [illegible] limitations. However, the system basically should afford [illegible] possibility of files without any increase in personnel. [illegible] material is not handled in this fashion, it [illegible] be handled in the normal manner which would require at least an [illegible] work load with the same number of employees [illegible] functions. Present employees engaged in the [illegible] destruction of obsolete material of this type, [illegible] required.

Memorandum to all Bureau officials and supervisors dated 9-14-59 authorized substantive supervisors to destroy all surplus copies of reports, letters, teletypes, memoranda, etc., prior to sending the original document to file. In destroying these copies, it is incumbent upon the supervisor to make a notation on the original document reflecting the disposition of copies and accounting for copies submitted. Notation necessary for control purposes.

SA Daniel F. X. Callahan * ON 9-21-59 has suggested obtaining a stamp for each substantive supervisor which shows:

"___ cc( ) destroyed _____ by _____." The second space for date and last space for initials.

The Streamlining Committee of the Nationalities Intelligence Section has considered the suggestion and has voted against it. It is the opinion of the Committee that the use of the stamp would involve more time i.e., obtain stamp, stamp pad, placing impression on the serial and then filling in the spaces than it would take to make a penciled notation, "1 d JJM," which is all that is required according to Wendell G. Eames, Files and Communications Division.

DATE 8-10-82 BY SP4ELL/rc

It has been suggested that the field be permitted to destroy files in classifications 15, 26, 45, 52, 70, 103 and 149 when all of the following conditions exist:

1. Unknown Subject case where no suspects are developed.
2. Loss of property involved is less than $5000.
3. Statute of Limitations has run (5 years).

The Bureau has been advised that approval of this suggestion will result in the recovery of sufficient filing space to justify the work involved in destroying applicable files. Each office receiving copies of this letter is requested to give thought to this proposal and advise the Bureau within ten days of the receipt of this letter on the following points:

1. Do you recommend adoption of the suggestion?
2. If approved, will savings in filing space justify time involved in destroying these files now and on annual basis?
3. How do you suggest these files be identified for future destruction? Suggestor proposes notation on file cover when case is closed but under consolidation program, file covers are discarded six months after closing.

File entitled "Communist Party Activities" contains a letter (100-3-14-1108) from the SAC, Chicago, dated 12-22-42 which letter enclosed a 52 page list of names of individuals who were alleged to be Communist labor organizers.

By memo from F. W. Warner to R. W. Wall dated 3-13-48 (100-3-14-3149) it was pointed out the informant who furnished the list of names was discontinued because it had been found his reports were not reliable. It was recommended and approved that the list be disregarded in connection with the Loyalty Program.

This list comes up frequently in connection with name search work in the Records Branch. It is the opinion of the Files and Communications Division that since this list is not reliable and the information not utilized it should be deindexed.

Destruction of Bureau Records

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management program.

Two similar suggestions have been received to date suggesting the destruction of files in routine type criminal cases. These suggestions are as follows:

(1) By letter dated 8-10-59, the SAC, Savannah, submitted a suggestion by SA Johnnie W. Dyer, who suggested that in routine type criminal cases, when the case is closed or the appeal has expired, the office of origin could summarize the case, execute a form similar to the attached form, and forward copies to each auxiliary office. SA Dyer suggests that the form be retained and the file be destroyed.

The SAC points out that this suggestion does not appear feasible since the office would lose the value of the background information and the sources of the various type of information appearing in these files.

(2) By letter dated 9-24-59, the SAC, Denver, suggested that a review be made of files in criminal categories which were not prosecuted. He points out that as an example, in Unknown Subject Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle cases, no apparent purpose is served in retaining these files past the running of the statute of limitations. He further points out that in instances where prosecution was declined, it would appear feasible to destroy all serials but perhaps the first and last serial which would set out the narrative of the offense and the basis for declining prosecution.

The Manual of Rules and Regulations permits destruction of files in the field after twenty years.

OBSERVATIONS OF INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

The Investigative Division does not feel that it is practical to destroy criminal files prior to expiration of the present (or proposed) retention period for the following reasons:

(1) The so-called "routine type criminal cases" cannot be accurately defined so as to clearly establish policy for destruction of files in these cases, ie. an unknown subject ITSMV case is a "routine" case only so long as the subject remains unidentified. Even though the subject may not be identified before the statute of limitations runs, the background information in the file may become important in the identification of vehicles handled by a professional car theft ring which is broken after the statute expired. Similar situations can exist with other types of cases.

(2) The above observations also hold true for the second suggestion. In addition, it must be realized that a declination by a United States Attorney is not a bar to further prosecution. Additional facts or repeated offenses by the subject may call for a re-consideration of the prosecutive merits of the case.

For these reasons the Investigative Division does not feel the suggestions can be adopted at this time.

Memo: Mr. Short to Mr. McGuire 10-14-59
Re: Records Management
(66-18966)

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

Several suggestions have been received to date relating to the destruction of files in the field. By memorandum to you dated 9-16-59, I set forth several suggestions submitted by the field regarding the destruction of files by auxiliary offices prior to the present twenty year retention period. By memorandum dated 10-5-59, I set forth a suggestion that the retention period of all field files be reduced from twenty years to ten years. These suggestions are presently receiving consideration and if adopted, will substantially alleviate space problems throughout the field.

Records Branch feels that the suggestions regarding destruction of routine type criminal cases in the field have merit and offer further possibilities for destruction of files. While not practical in all cases, there are many criminal files, such as unknown subject cases and simple cases where no prosecution results, which contain little or no background information and which could be destroyed with no material effect on the operations of a field office. The Records Branch feels that serious consideration should be given to the destruction of these types of files completely after the statute of limitations has run in the interest of sound records management and in the interest of eliminating material maintained throughout the field, the retention of which is not essential to the efficient operations of the Bureau. Inasmuch as these suggestions related to the destruction of files in the criminal category maintained in the field, the views of the Investigative Division and the Training and Inspection Division should be secured regarding the merits of these suggestions.

RECOMMENDATION:

(1) That this memorandum be referred to the Investigative Division for comments regarding the merits of these suggestions.

(2) That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for comments, review, and acknowledgement if deemed necessary.

-2-

ADDENDUM BY TRAINING AND INSPECTION DIVISION:
(MW) - 10/21/59)

Savannah office suggests that in routine-type criminal cases where case is closed or appeal has expired that office of origin summarize case and destroy file. Training and Inspection Division concurs with the observations of the Investigative Division and recommends that suggestion not be adopted for the same reasons as indicated by the Investigative Division.

SAC, Denver, recommends that review be made of files in criminal categories which were not prosecuted and then destroy all serials but the first and last. Training and Inspection Division again concurs with Investigative Division that suggestion should not be adopted for the same reasons as indicated by the Investigative Division.

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management Program.

By memorandum from Tamm to Tolson dated 7-15-59, the Training and Inspection Division indicated that there seems to be no need to retain for more than a year the monthly memoranda prepared on "Law Review Articles." These are prepared to advise each division of articles of possible interest. The Training and Inspection Division indicates that perhaps the rule should be that as each new volume of memoranda is opened the old volume be thrown away.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS:

This proposal has merit from a records management standpoint in that it would permit the destruction of material of temporary value.

The law review memoranda are filed in Bufile 62-105083 containing 12 serials. The material dates back to 10-27-58. Apparently the purpose of the "Law Review Articles" is served after it has been seen by interested divisions. Accordingly, it would seem feasible to return each memorandum to the Training and Inspection Division where it would be destroyed after preparation of the next monthly memorandum. In addition to saving filing space, this procedure would also save the cost of processing such memoranda through the Records Branch.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-23 (C) wherein we requested suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management Program.

The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 11b, item 6c authorizes the office of origin in 65 (Espionage), 100 (Internal Security), and 105 (Internal Security Nationalistic Tendencies) classifications to destroy all copies except one of each serial after the files have been closed for ten years or upon verification of death of the subject. Auxiliary offices are authorized to destroy all copies except one of each serial before placing the file in the closed file section.

By letter dated 8-31-59, the SAC, Seattle, suggested that these files be stripped further and retain only a single copy of reports and other correspondence, destroying copies of channelizing memorandums and other serials such as FD 154's (verification of information on Security Index cards) informant contact memorandums, criminal records, office memorandums setting out leads, etc. The SAC feels that the only information necessary for retention regarding a deceased security subject would be contained in reports and correspondence between field offices or with agencies or organizations outside the Bureau. The SAC points out that if the information in other types of serials was not of sufficient significance to be incorporated into a report, letter, or dissemination memorandum, it would not be important enough to retain permanently on a deceased subject. The SAC states that if files on deceased subjects contain serials subsequent to the last written report, one copy of each serial could be retained if the Bureau feels it desirable inasmuch as information in such serials would not be evaluated for inclusion in a report.

The SAC feels that the adoption of this suggestion would reduce the size of files on deceased subjects to a fraction of their present size without sacrificing any information which is currently useful.

Re: Records Management

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

This suggestion has merit from a records management standpoint inasmuch as it would result in the destruction of material containing information which has been placed in a report or other correspondence. Inasmuch as the subject of the file is deceased, it would not seem necessary to retain this type of material. Inasmuch as this suggestion relates to field office files the comments of the Domestic Intelligence Division and the Training and Inspection Division should be secured concerning the merits of the suggestion.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the memorandum be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division and the Training and Inspection Division for comments concerning the merits of the above suggestion.

ADDENDUM: DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION 10-9-59

With respect to cases which have been closed for ten years, the Domestic Intelligence Division definitely opposes the suggestion made by Seattle. There is no way to determine with accuracy that cases of this type may not be necessarily reopened upon the receipt of new information and in that event all available information concerning the subject should be available in the file. As to cases involving deceased persons, it is believed that the relatively small savings in space to be achieved is overbalanced by the administrative effort which would be needed in purging, handling of indexing, and other necessary procedures. It is also impossible to say that the information which would be lost by this suggestion, particularly information which would refer to contacts with other persons, is valueless and may not be needed in the future.

Re: Destruction of Administrative Control Files

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43, C, wherein we requested observations and suggestions for strengthening the Bureau's Records Management Program.

To date, several similar suggestions have been submitted regarding the destruction of material maintained in administrative control files. These suggestions are as follows: (1) By letter dated August 14, 1959, the SAC, Philadelphia pointed out that it is the Bureau's policy in many instances to provide that administrative control files of various types be maintained for a period of three years. The SAC referred to recent SAC Letter 59-43 dated July 7, 1959, which informed the field that the control file having to do with dissemination of criminal information to other agencies be maintained for the three-year period. The SAC pointed out that administrative type control files are already building up in a voluminous manner and from statistics recently provided by the Bureau, it appears that some of the offices are placing as many as two or three hundred items a month in these files. The SAC feels that these files should not be retained for more than one year since statistical data regarding dissemination is submitted to the Bureau regularly and if any question arises as to a particular dissemination it can always be located in the regular case file. The SAC suggested that the Bureau analyze this requirement to determine if it is necessary to retain such files for a three-year period. (2) By letter dated September 4, 1959, the SAC, Louisville suggested that the Bureau authorize that the administrative control file on dissemination of criminal information be purged monthly of items 30, 60 or 90 days old as deemed advisable by the Bureau. The SAC pointed out that if the purpose of the control file is to facilitate the preparation of the monthly report to the Bureau on dissemination and offer an administrative check on the accuracy of the monthly report, it would appear that the retention of the copies of this administrative file would not be necessary beyond one month and at the most not more than three months. (3) By letter dated 8-28-59, the SAC, Houston pointed out that in connection with SAC Letter 59-30, E, and 59-43, I, dealing with "the dissemination of criminal information to other agencies" a separate control file was established in each office. Placed in this control file are communications reflecting the dissemination of criminal information to other agencies. Also placed in this file are the monthly letters submitted to the Bureau summarizing the number of criminal matters disseminated to other agencies. The SAC proposes that following the inspection of a field office, that office be permitted to destroy all copies of communications which have been used as a basis for the preparation of the monthly summary letter. The SAC points out that in this way the administrative control file would be limited in volume to the monthly summary letters to the Bureau plus any material which has accumulated since the last inspection.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS:

These suggestions have merit from a records management standpoint in that the retention period of administrative control files would be decreased, resulting in a substantial savings in space throughout the field. The comments of the Investigative Division and the Domestic Intelligence Division should be secured prior to the final consideration of these suggestions.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the comments of the Investigative Division and the Domestic Intelligence Division be secured prior to the final consideration of these suggestions.

2. That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review.

General Record Schedule Number 2, dated 10/8/57, provides that leave record cards (Time and Attendance Reports), where such reports were used for both time and attendance and leave record purposes, may be destroyed according to the following schedule:

1. Final cards showing accumulation of leave on separation - ten years after date of last entry on cards.

2. All other cards - three years after audit of related pay records.

The information on all our Time and Attendance Records prior to the 1955 leave year have been posted to Standard Form 1137 and filed in the personnel file of each employee. These records show the accumulated leave on separation. It is, therefore, believed we can destroy all Time and Attendance Records prior to the 1955 calendar year.

Beginning with 1955 and thereafter, all Time and Attendance Cards are, in effect, tabulating cards. It is, therefore, possible for us to separate from these cards, without any appreciable cost, the final cards showing accumulated leave on separation. Since the 1955 payroll records were audited early in 1956, we can now destroy Time and Attendance Cards for 1955, except the final card for resigned employees.

It is desired to point out that the space required to store these cards is critically needed in this Section.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That all Time and Attendance Cards prior to 1955 be destroyed.

2. That all 1955 Time and Attendance Cards, with the exception of the last card for employees who resigned during the 1955 leave year, be destroyed.

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested observations to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management Program.

By letter dated 8-12-59, SAC, Atlanta, pointed out that frequently a reporting office will furnish to another office five or six copies of a report for the purpose of covering widely scattered leads. The SAC proposes that when these leads have been completed the office, at its discretion, be allowed to destroy all but two copies of the report until the appropriate time comes to retain only one copy.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS:

From a records management standpoint, the above proposal is desirable in that it would permit the destruction of extra copies of reports in the field. The Records Branch feels that the suggestion has merit and that the field offices should have some latitude in being able to destroy surplus copies that are not needed. By Memorandum to All Bureau Officials and Supervisors dated 9-14-59 the Seat of Government supervisors were authorized to destroy all surplus copies of reports, letters, teletypes, memoranda, etc., prior to sending the original document to file. The Records Branch feels that this same procedure might be extended to the field permitting the field to destroy any copies of any documents which are not needed. Inasmuch as this suggestion relates solely to field operations, the comments of the Training and Inspection Division should be secured prior to final consideration of the suggestion.

Re: Suggestion #124-60

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-13 (C) wherein we requested suggestions and observations to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management program.

By letter dated 8-28-59, the SAC, Baltimore, submitted a suggestion made by supervisor James C. Dunlap, who pointed out that the Baltimore Office received from the Second Army Headquarters, Fort Meade, Maryland, a list of absentees who have returned to military control. Dunlap stated that until 1952 upon receipt of such a list, a teletype was sent to the Bureau concerning each absentee with the contents of the teletype as follows: [redacted] b6 b7C FUDE. Provost Marshal, Headquarters, Second Army, Fort Meade, Maryland, advised subject returned to military control 8-29-51, Fort Knox, Kentucky. Indices negative. Information only." Dunlap pointed out the teletype was indexed and filed in 42-0, and he presumed the other offices that cover Army Headquarters might follow the same procedure as the Baltimore Office. Dunlap suggests that such serials and index cards be removed and destroyed since they are of no value. He pointed out that the Baltimore Office could destroy approximately twenty-five sections of the 42-0 file.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS:

This suggestion has merit from a records management standpoint inasmuch as it would involve a destruction of material of no value to the Baltimore Office and possibly to other field offices, thus saving space and gaining the use of file equipment. Inasmuch as this suggestion relates to a matter supervised by the Investigative Division the comments of that division should be secured prior to further consideration of this suggestion for adoption.

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43, C, wherein we requested suggestions and observations for strengthening the Bureau's Records Management Program.

By letter dated August 18, 1959, the SAC, Charlotte suggested that the Bureau might consider the destruction of files in the 18 (May Act) classification and files in the 82 (War Risk Insurance) classification when they become ten years old. The SAC estimates that approximately ten file drawers of space would be saved in the Charlotte Office alone if this suggestion is adopted.

The Manual of Rules and Regulations Part 2, Section 3, page 13 permits the field to destroy all files after they become 20 years old.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS:

This suggestion has merit from a records management standpoint in that the period of retention of files in these categories would be reduced. that in many cases multiple copies of long mimeographed reports in involved cases are filed in the main file as well as in related cases, particularly in Bank Robbery investigations. He points out that the Agent upon closing the case could send a routing slip to the Chief Clerk as to the copies that are not necessary with the recommendation that they be destroyed.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

These suggestions have merit from a records management standpoint in that they would curtail the preparation, distribution, and retention of voluminous type reports. This concerns copies of the report which have been placed in related files. This seems to be entirely a field office administrative matter and can be handled within the framework of existing rules relative to destruction of extra copies of documents. Several suggestions have been received to date, regarding the preparation, distribution, and destruction of voluminous reports. These suggestions are as follows:

(1) By letter dated 8-12-59, the SAC, Atlanta, suggested in connection with the preparation of voluminous reports that vast amounts of negative information generally accumulated in Unknown Subject Bank Robbery cases not be inserted in reports, and that reports be confined to the initial elements of the violation and such data as the Bureau requires concerning protective devices, etc, with negative information on neighborhood investigations, file checks, suspects readily eliminated, etc, being confined to memos for the file.

(2) In the same letter the SAC suggests the elimination of the distribution of voluminous reports. The SAC points out that this would apply to practices that have grown up rather than the requirements of rules in general. He makes the observation that in Bank Robbery cases and in similar cases, voluminous reports are frequently disseminated widely throughout the Bureau, even after leads had already been set out by Airtel or other communication and the report merely restates the leads. He points out that these reports are rarely of any value to the receiving office and are rarely read inasmuch as they contain a great number of pages of negative information involving neighborhood investigations, suspects, etc, of no interest to the receiving office. The SAC feels that this practice might be discouraged by rquiring the disseminating office to state the reason for disseminating reports over twenty-five pages in length.

COMMENTS OF INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION:

The retention beyond 10 years of files in May Act (18 classification) cases, which were a police type case, would not seem to serve any practical purpose which would justify the space occupied.

While these type cases were handled in only a limited number of offices, the affected offices would be able to save space if destruction after 10 years was authorized.

All material relating to instructions as to the handling of the classification should, of course, be retained.

As pertains to War Risk Insurance cases (82 classification) here again there does not appear to be any particular reason for maintaining in the field a particular case file in excess of 10 years after completion of investigation. In the event information in the field is needed, we would be able to furnish it at the Bureau.

As noted above, although there would appear to be no objection to destruction of files after 10 years in these two classifications, in the event approval was granted, we would then have exceptions in these two classifications to the general rule providing for the retention of investigative files for 20 years before destruction.

ADDENDUM: JWM:llb 11-9-59

Suggestion presently being considered to lower retention period of all files in field from twenty to fifteen or ten years. Pending outcome of this suggestion, no further consideration is recommended at this time regarding above suggestion.

SUBJECT: SUGGESTION #167-60
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

b6
b7C

The Training and Inspection Division has requested your views on the attached suggestion which was submitted by Mrs. [redacted] of the Investigative Division.

Mrs. [redacted] has proposed that hand stamps be provided for all Bureau Officials and Supervisors who destroy copies of reports and other correspondence to read as follows:

_____ Copies Destroyed at Bureau.

It is not believed that we should adopt this suggestion since a notation 1D followed by the initials, or 2D followed by the initials, is sufficient to indicate the fact that a copy or copies were destroyed by a particular Supervisor or Bureau Official. Since most Officials and Supervisors will destroy copies at irregular intervals, it is believed that more time would be necessary to use a hand stamp than to make the above brief notation.

RECOMMENDATION:

Unfavorable.

RE: Destruction of Security Patrol Reports

Reference is made to SAC Letter, 59-43, C, wherein we requested suggestions and observations for strengthening the Bureau's Records Management Program.

b6
b7C

Two suggestions have been received to date regarding the retention of Security Patrol reports. These suggestions are as follows: (1) By letter dated 9-8-59, the SAC, Jacksonville, submitted a suggestion by [redacted], Clerk, GS-4, who suggested that form FD-215 (Security Patrol Daily Report) be eliminated. Mrs. [redacted] pointed out that at the present time, the Security Patrol Clerks make certain prescribed checks of the entire office during the time when the office is not open for business, and thereafter, they are required to prepare form FD-215 showing the exact time these checks were made. These reports are initialed by the Chief Clerk and a supervising official and are filed and retained for a period of six months prior to destruction. Mrs. [redacted] feels that each Security Patrol Clerk is aware of his duties, has responsibility for the security of the office during his tour of duty and that the preparation of these reports and their subsequent retention is unnecessary.

b6
b7C

The SAC agrees with Mrs. [redacted] and indicated that the responsibility for the security of any field office can be readily placed on the Security Patrol Clerk on duty at any given time without the necessity of preparing and filing this particular form.

(2) By letter dated 9-10-59, the SAC, San Juan, suggested that the retention period for Security Patrol reports be lowered from six months to one month.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS:

These suggestions have merit from a records management standpoint in that suggestion number one would eliminate the preparation and subsequent retention of Security Patrol reports and suggestion number two would lower the retention period from six months to one month. Inasmuch as the supervision of these matters is the responsibility of the Administrative Division, the comments of that Division should be secured

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the comments of the Administrative Division be secured relative to the merits of these suggestions.

2. That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for review.

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested observations and suggestions to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management program.

By letter dated 8-14-59, the SAC, Boston, suggested that the field be given authority to destroy sub-files containing newspaper clippings when the case is of a criminal or security nature and has been closed for a period of one year. The SAC states that this would conserve two five-drawer file cabinets in the Boston Office.

RECORDS BRANCH OBSERVATIONS

Records Branch feels this is a good idea from a records management standpoint and would result in a considerable savings of filing space and equipment throughout the field. Normally the fields sends into the Bureau pertinent newspaper clippings reflecting publicity concerning the Bureau's investigation and these newspaper clippings are filed in the related case file here at the Seat of Government. It is felt that newspaper clippings maintained in the field would be of very little value from a reference standpoint, are probably infrequently referred to, and could be destroyed after a reasonable period of time. Inasmuch as this matter relates solely to field operations, the comments of the Training and Inspection Division should be secured relative to this proposal prior to final consideration of the suggestion.

RECOMMENDATION:

This memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for comments prior to final consideration of suggestion.

ADDENDUM DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION OCTOBER 9, 1959

The consensus of opinion of the Domestic Intelligence Division is that broad authority for SACs to destroy the sub-A files containing newspaper clippings in security cases after they have been closed one year should not be established. The adoption of such a broad rule could give the impression that it is the Bureau's desire that all such sub-A files be destroyed. Of course, there is no objection for sub-A newspaper clipping files to be purged of all duplications and articles of a similar type nature. However, there is often a need in security cases to have public source material on the subject, and newspaper clippings are sometimes our best source. Newspaper clippings are often extremely valuable adjuncts to case files. This often develops many years after security cases have been closed. We should handle the destruction of newspaper clippings on an individual case basis, and if the newspaper clipping sub-A file in a particular case contains no information of pertinence to the case, it should be destroyed. However, this disposal should be on an intelligent selective case basis, and should not be based primarily or merely on a desire to obtain file drawer space.

HOB:djw

Views of Investigative Division

The destruction of newspaper clippings should be handled by a field office on a case to case basis. There should be no general rule with regard to the destruction of all newspaper clippings. In most cases newspaper clippings can probable be destroyed. However, in other cases the clippings may have a real value. It is only by a review of each case where the clippings may have become voluminous that an accurate determination may be made as to the advisability of destroying the clippings. In this connection no reliance can be placed by a field office on the adequacy of clippings in the Bureau's file because clippings retained at the Bureau are usually very limited.

ADDENDUM:JRH/td CRIME RECORDS DIVISION OCTOBER 12, 1959

The Crime Records Division feels that sub-A files containing newspaper clippings in security and criminal cases should not be destroyed by field offices unless a critical space problem exists in a particular office and then only on a very selective basis. It has been the frequent experience in attempting to secure old background data to locate much of the desired data in old newspaper clippings. The availability of such material in the field office has saved the Bureau considerable investigative effort which would be required to verify old arrests, convictions, confinements, etc., from official documents or other appropriate sources of information. It is the recommendation of the Crime Records Division that the suggestion of the Boston Office not be adopted.

[redacted]

ADDENDUM: TRAINING AND INSPECTION DIVISION
(DER:mbk 10-23-59)

Boston suggested field be given authority to destroy subfiles containing newspaper clippings, when the case is of a criminal or security nature, and has been closed for one year. Domestic Intelligence Division feels that broad authority for field to destroy such subfiles in security cases should not be established, (but points out there is no objection to such subfiles to be purged of duplications), also suggests nonpertinent newspaper clippings could be disposed of on a selective case basis. Investigative Division feels destruction of newspaper clippings be handled on a case-to-case basis, but that there should be no general rule regarding such destruction because in many cases the clippings may have real value.

Crime Records Division feels subfiles containing newspaper clippings should not be destroyed by field unless critical space problem exists and then only on very selective case basis.

The Training and Inspection Division notes we have existing rules which permit destruction of duplicate serials or newsclippings, but feels field should not be authorized to destroy newspaper clipping subfiles, even on a selective case basis, because of the difficulty of establishing necessary criteria for destruction; destruction would be performed on basis of judgment of individual file reviewers, which would result in dangerous lack of uniformity. Recommend suggestion not be adopted.

Re: Destruction of Files by Auxiliary Offices

Reference is made to SAC Letter 59-43 (C) wherein we requested suggestions and observations to strengthen the Bureau's Records Management program.

Several similar suggestions have been received to date regarding the destruction of files by auxiliary offices prior to the present twenty year retention period. These suggestions are as follows:

(1) By letter dated 8-4-59, the SAC, Washington Field Office, suggested that all files in the criminal and applicant categories be destroyed by auxiliary offices after the files become ten years old. The SAC points out that this would create a substantial savings in space, particularly in the larger field offices. The SAC informed that from a practical standpoint in criminal cases, the information in files over ten years old is of no value inasmuch as the auxiliary office must communicate with either the office of origin or the Bureau for current information anyway. The SAC points out the destruction of these files would not fall within the category of "Destruction of Files" since both the Bureau and the office of origin would retain complete copies of such files.

(2) By letter dated 8-5-59, the SAC, Albuquerque, suggested that in all cases, except security type cases, the auxiliary office be permitted to destroy an entire file five years after the file has been closed, with the exception of the cover page of the last report or other communication in the file which would show the title, office of origin, and the file number of the office of origin. The SAC points out that auxiliary offices seldom need information from this file after five years and if such information is needed it could be obtained from the office of origin with little effort.

(3) By letter dated 8-12-59, the SAC, Atlanta, suggested that auxiliary offices be permitted to destroy applicant files after one year, criminal files after five years, and security files after ten years since the auxiliary file is a duplicate of the same matter maintained by the office of origin. The SAC proposes that index cards could be made to reflect the office of origin by appropriate symbol number, and the destruction of these files would save a large amount of filing space. The SAC pointed out that in a recent review of files in the Atlanta Office, it was observed that whole cabinets of files appeared to have been untouched for long periods of time.

(4) By letter dated 8-26-59, the SAC, Phoenix, suggested that while destroying and consolidating files that a project be considered whereby auxiliary offices would scrutinize the fugitive classification so that all material of a negative nature might be destroyed and that only sufficient data which will positively identify an individual in the future or which might be of some help in apprehending him in the future, if he becomes a fugitive and the information pertains to that territory, be saved. The SAC feels that this would eliminate records which have no value.

(5) By letter dated 9-2-59, the SAC, Dallas, suggested that the Bureau and auxiliary offices continue to place more dependence on the office of origin as the repository of all the information in a case and as the source of all details regarding the investigation. The SAC indicates that if additional information is needed by other offices it could be obtained from the office of origin. The SAC suggested that all auxiliary office files with the exception of security classification, which have been closed for a period of five years, be destroyed. The SAC states that inasmuch as original evidence cannot be destroyed, it should be transmitted to the office of origin at the time the case is RUC'd. Thus the office of origin would then become the central repository for all evidentiary items. The SAC further proposes that at the time the auxiliary office file is destroyed a notation could be placed on the index card for that file, on a file jacket, or in a central file indicating the office of origin, and in the event information is desired from the field, it could be obtained from the office of origin.
